

I Regained 31

Chapter 31

Arranged Marriage

Gu Ming absolutely despised Gu Zhi in his mind, but now he could only force Gu Zhi to apologize. In a low voice, he said, "Apologize quickly, otherwise, I will force you into arranged marriage."

Gu Zhi didn't understand why everything turned wrong. After she heard Gu Ming's threatening words, her face turned pale, and she had to bow her head and say, "I'm sorry!"

However, as the words came out, tears welled up in Gu Zhi's eyes. She felt as if she could already hear the laughter of many people whom she had previously looked down upon, all mocking her now.

Gu Dai had no intention of pushing Gu Zhi to a dead end either. Although she had already seen the hatred hidden deep in her pupils, she had no intention of arguing with her at this moment.

After all, if they start arguing now, it wouldn't be fun in the future.

"Fine, I'll reluctantly accept the apology." Gu Dai said, with indifference in her tone, and then she continued, "By the way, it's getting late, you should leave."

Liu Min's face stiffened again when she heard Gu Dai's words. She remembered the limited-edition items she had just thrown on the ground. Even if she sold them now, they could fetch a good price.

Not to mention, Gu Ming needed to transfer funds and it would take some time. If she sold those things, they might be able to tide over this period.

Liu Min thought that since she had already lost face, why would it matter if she asked for her things back and lost face again?

However, it only took Gu Dai one glance at Liu Min to understand what she was thinking by the changes in her expression.

Since she had already guessed it, there was even less of a chance that Liu Min would get her way.

Therefore, Gu Dai spoke first, not even giving Liu Min a chance to respond.

“Uncle Wu, how did you deal with the trash I asked you to handle earlier?” When Gu Dai mentioned the word trash, she casually glanced at Liu Min.

However, Liu Min was entirely focused on Wu Zhen’s answer and did not notice this.

Wu Zhen said, “Miss, those things should have already arrived at the dump by now.”

“That fast?!” Liu Min could hardly believe it.

At this time, Gu Dai also spoke with a smile, “Does aunt also think that Uncle Wu arranged it well?”

Liu Min’s face darkened when she heard Gu Dai’s question, but she had to reluctantly say, “Of course.”

“If aunt also thinks it’s good, then I’m relieved. After all, I was helping you handle the trash.” Gu Dai paused warmly to give Liu Min some time, then continued, “By the way, if aunt and uncle don’t have anything else to do, you should go home. After all, everything is dusty now, and you’ll need to clean up.”

Gu Dai’s intention to dismiss them was crystal clear. They had no choice but to leave dejectedly.

He gritted his teeth and swore in his mind that once he had transferred all the funds of the Gu Group, he would never let Gu Dai off the hook.

Once the Gu Ming family left, the onlookers, who had been enjoying the spectacle, also left satisfied.

Gu Ming once had power and influence, acting high and mighty every day. Seeing them down on their luck now, people were overjoyed. Their only wish was that they could celebrate on the spot.

After everyone left, Gu Dai looked at Wu Zhen, her eyes slightly red, in a hoarse voice, she said, "Uncle Wu, you've been treated unfairly for the past three years."

By rights, Uncle Wu could have left long ago. When her parents signed a contract with him, they did not place any restrictions on him, and even considered him as part of the family. However, they never thought he would be treated this way one day.

Despite Wu Zhen's words, Gu Dai's mood did not improve.

Seeing this, Wu Zhen quickly changed the topic, "It's alright, Miss, don't cry. By the way, many of your parents' belongings were hidden by me in a secret room. Would you like to take a look?"

Chapter 32

Trending

"My parents' belongings?" Gu Dai took a moment to process the information, then quickly responded, "Yes!"

Gu Dai had given up hope for anything else after seeing the surroundings changed, but she didn't expect that there would still be surprises.

However, when she saw the familiar figures of her parents in the photos again, she couldn't help herself. Memories with them flashed in her mind, and tears began to fall.

Her parents had died in a car accident, and even though so much time had passed, Gu Dai could still remember their mangled bodies, their faces hardly recognizable.

Gu Dai had suppressed these memories deep inside her for all this time, not allowing herself to recall them.

She had concealed her pain, but because of this, when she thought of them now, the pain was overwhelming.

Gu Dai slowly regained her composure after the emotional rollercoaster, and her eyes became even more determined. She was determined to find out who had hurt her parents!

On the other side, Song Ling, who had just left the Song family villa, received a call from the company saying that there were many documents he needed to handle.

After Song Ling hung up, he became increasingly irritated.

They are all useless. I'm only away for just a while, and they still couldn't handle it!

After Zhao Xuan helped Song Ling into the car, he hurried to the passenger seat, trembling throughout the journey.

He didn't know why, but ever since Song Ling's divorce with his wife, he had become extremely irritable, like a bomb that could explode at any moment.

Frightened, Zhao Xuan tried to make himself as inconspicuous as possible, hoping not to attract Song Ling's attention.

Just as Zhao Xuan was praying in his mind that Song Ling would not notice him, he heard Song Ling's voice, "I asked you to investigate Gu Dai's background from three years ago, how did that go?"

Zhao Xuan took a second to process the question. He cautiously glanced back, only to meet Song Ling's gaze directly.

He was frightened, his heart shivered for a second, then he worked up the courage to speak, "All I found was that madam suddenly appeared in Haicheng three years ago, I couldn't find anything else..."

Song Ling chuckled lightly, but his smile gradually faded.

Zhao Xuan's heart pounded faster immediately. He knew a storm was brewing.

Sure enough, in the next second, he heard Song Ling coldly say, "Do you think I don't know these things? Is it necessary for you to look them up? If you can't do this job, you might as well get out of the company now!"

Zhao Xuan quickly responded, "Mr. Song, I have a family to take care of. Please give me another chance. I'll speed up my investigation!"

At this moment, Song Ling's features were icy, suppressing the anger in his heart, he followed-up, "How has the Gu family been doing recently?"

Zhao Xuan knew that he was willing to give him another chance, so he immediately started to report.

"After the new chairman of the Gu family took over, a major reshuffling took place yesterday. Many relationships were severed, many bad projects were cancelled, and the stock is now steadily rising. It seems to be moving in a good direction."

Then there was silence. Zhao Xuan didn't dare to ask any questions, so the silence continued. After a few minutes, Song Ling spoke again, "Help me get in touch with her."

Her

? Zhao Xuan instinctively wanted to ask Song Ling who "she" was, but he held back.

After pondering for a while, he guessed that it should be the new chairwoman of the Gu family, so he immediately agreed, "Okay."

After agreeing, Zhao Xuan quickly took out his phone to send a message to the Gu family.

However, just as he was about to turn off his phone, Zhao Xuan saw the trending news pushed to him, he was shocked and immediately reported to Song Ling, "Mr. Song, the news about your divorce with your wife is trending!"

Chapter 33

Gold-digger

After Zhao Xuan finished, he paused for a moment before he immediately said, "There are also photos of you and Miss Jiang. They are online now."

Song Ling took out his phone and glanced at it, then frowned. In a cold tone, he said, "It must be Gu Dai who released the news!"

Zhao Xuan disagreed with what Song Ling had said.

He thought that with Gu Dai's current character, she wouldn't do such a thing, and besides, these trending topics, no matter how you look at them, seemed like blessings for Mr. Song and Miss Jiang to be together.

Although Zhao Xuan disagreed, he only dared to grumble in his heart and didn't dare to speak out. However, he didn't want to falsely accuse the madam, so he could only stay silent.

Song Ling didn't care whether Zhao Xuan spoke or not, he continued, "Go arrange for someone to bring Gu Dai over from the villa. I want to see what she's up to!"

Zhao Xuan's head started to ache when he heard the order, but he had to muster the strength to reply, "Mr. Song, according to the surveillance in the villa, madam hasn't been home recently..."

As he spoke, his voice got lower and lower because he noticed Song Ling's face gradually turning gloomier. He even felt Song Ling emitting a continuous icy aura, scaring him to the point he could barely articulate.

Song Ling gritted his teeth and muttered under his breathe, "Hmm, she's really growing capable. She's indeed a gold-digger. It's only been a few days since our divorce, and she's already cozying up with a few wealthy men! I really want to see when she'll come home!"

At this moment, Zhao Xuan was so scared that he didn't dare to move, wishing he could disappear on the spot. However, as the assistant, for the sake of the company's interests and his future salary, he still had to speak up, "Mr. Song, do we want to suppress the trending topic? Otherwise, it might impact the company's stock."

Song Ling frowned, saying irritably, "Since you already have an idea, why don't you get to it?"

Zhao Xuan's mouth opened slightly, then closed again. He silently started arranging the trending topic to be suppressed.

Jiang Yue in the hospital was constantly looking at her phone, so she was the first to know when the trending topic disappeared.

The paparazzi also immediately called to explain, "We did as you asked and dominated the top ten trending topics with this news. However, it disappeared clean in just a few minutes. It must have been someone influential who did it. We did our best."

Jiang Yue replied casually, "I know, you don't need to worry. You did very well, I'll send you the balance later."

Jiang Yue had thought that the trending topic would be removed in a few minutes, she didn't expect it to last more than ten minutes.

In this fast-paced era, a news item published for a few minutes was entirely enough. As long as one person learned the news, it won't be long before it reached hundreds or thousands of people... By then, everyone would learn that she and Song Ling are together, and that they're getting married!

She had already dealt with Gu Dai to make her a non-threat, and now the news had spread by her as well. The position of Mrs. Song would inevitably be hers.

With the thought in her mind, Jiang Yue looked at her agile hands and couldn't help but smile smugly.

When Gu Dai and Su Ting came out of the villa, they found that it was still early, and there was still a while before lunch.

So Gu Dai proposed to Su Ting, "Since the company is quite close, why don't we go there now and sign the contract?"

Su Ting had no objections, and he replied with a bright smile, "Alright, I'll follow your lead, sister."

As soon as Gu Dai and Su Ting arrived at the company, they ran into Chu Min who was in a hurry.

“Boss! I was just going to find you. Have you checked your phone?” Without waiting for their response, Chu Min continued, “Never mind, judging by your current state, I can tell you haven’t. Hurry up, let’s go to the office.”

Not knowing what was going on, Gu Dai led Su Ting to the office with a puzzled look.

Once in the office, Chu Min took out his phone, quickly tapped several times on the screen, and then showed it to her.

As Gu Dai looked at the phone, Chu Min blurted out angrily, “ Song Ling is actually now together with Jiang Yue, and they are going to get married soon!”

Chapter 34

No

Compared to Chu Min’s anger, Gu Dai seemed extraordinarily calm.

She had put her phone down after just a glance, she said, nonchalantly, “So it’s just about this? Seeing how rushed you were moments ago, I thought it was something serious.”

Gu Dai’s words stunned Chu Min.

He blinked a few times, confused, then asked, “Isn’t this a big deal?”

Seeing Chu Min so worked up, Gu Dai looked at him as if he were a child, she said earnestly, “People should always take things lightly. Besides, I don’t like Song Ling now. Why would I get angry over him?”

Chu Min was still upset. He said quietly, “But it’s not about liking or not. The point is, Song Ling ignored you, a beautiful and capable woman, and chose that green tea bitch, Jiang Yue!”

Su Ting, who had been standing by the side without speaking, finally said something, "That's because Song Ling has no taste, and he doesn't deserve you, sister!"

Although Gu Dai felt that agreeing with Su Ting's words would make her seem narcissistic, she still couldn't help but say, "That's right, Su Ting is correct!"

Chu Min looked at Gu Dai and Su Ting, who were in the middle of signing the contract, he finally confirmed that Gu Dai really didn't care and wasn't affected. He let go of his worries.

Suddenly, Chu Min thought of something interesting and said with a laugh, "I don't know why, but when I answered the phone to go back to the bar last night, I saw Song Ling lying on the ground, unable to stand up. Hahaha, I couldn't stop myself, so I kicked him. After that, I quickly ran away! I don't know who knocked him down, but if I knew who it was, I would have to thank them. It was a job beautifully done!"

Su Ting said lightly, "I kicked him."

Chu Min's eyes widened, and it was as if a switch had been flipped in him. He started to blurt words out like a machine gun, "It was you who kicked him! You kicked him so well, I've always wanted to do that. How did you kick him, what was your posture, was it cool? If it was cool, teach me quickly. The next time I meet Song Ling..."

Su Ting's gaze, however, was always on Gu Dai. Because of this, he noticed first that Gu Dai's complexion wasn't very normal. The expression on her face changed several times.

Su Ting noticed this and his face turned pale, and he asked nervously, "Sister, are you unhappy that I kicked Song Ling?"

Gu Dai shook her head and said softly, "I'm not upset, you guys did well!" After all, she also wanted to kick Song Ling.

Su Ting pursed his lips, then said, "But your complexion isn't very good."

Chu Min quickly nodded, agreeing with him.

"Complexion?" Gu Dai subconsciously touched her own face, but she quickly put her hand down and said, "I just thought of something else, that's why my complexion isn't good."

As for what it was, Gu Dai didn't really want to tell them.

Because just now, when she heard Chu Min talk about last night, her drunken memories slowly returned. Gu Dai didn't expect that she would get drunk one day, and she was so childish after getting drunk, even asking Su Ting to hold her!

Just thinking about what she did last night made her feel complicated, and she felt her cheeks heating up.

Fortunately, after hearing her words, Su Ting and Chu Min didn't ask any more questions, and Gu Dai let out a sigh of relief.

Then her phone vibrated. It was a message from the company's secretary. Gu Dai quickly picked up her phone, trying to pull her thoughts out of last night's memories.

Secretary: President Gu, President Song of Song Corporation wants to arrange a time with you to discuss future cooperation. When are you available?

President Song from Song Corporation?

Gu Dai: Song Ling?

Secretary: Yes, President Gu.

Gu Dai: No.

Chapter 35

Ordering Her Favorites Dishes

No?

The secretary could hardly believe it. After she checked the message several times, she still saw the same word. Song Corporation was a company with influence both domestically and globally, but President Gu actually refused to meet!

This is not possible. President Gu must not fully understand the current business world because she just took over the company.

Considering the potential benefits that cooperating with Song Corporation could bring to the company, the secretary decided to accept Song's invitation on her own after some thought.

After the cooperation takes effect and President Gu sees the thriving company, President Gu might remember me for my smart decision today, and maybe she would even give me a promotion and raise!

Gu Dai didn't know that the secretary had made such a decision on her own. If she did, she would have fired her on the spot.

Gu Dai checked the time, and it was almost time for lunch, so she asked Su Ting and Chu Min, "Where should we go for lunch today?"

Su Ting immediately replied, "Sister, I know a really good restaurant. I go there every time I come back to the country. The best part is, they have many dishes that you like."

Gu Dai was also started to have expectations based on how Su Ting described the place, so she quickly nodded, "Okay!"

After the nod, Gu Dai noticed that Chu Min seemed hesitant, so she asked him, “What’s the matter?”

Chu Min hesitated, then he added, “Boss, I have a family gathering at noon. I have to attend, so I may not be able to join you guys.”

Gu Dai followed Su Ting to the restaurant. As soon as they stepped in, they were surrounded by a classic Chinese style, as if they had entered a palace. A single glance would amaze you with its exquisite details.

When the two entered, it caused a big stir, attracting many people’s attention. Their attractive appearances made people unable to help but look over, and they inwardly admired their good looks.

Su Ting had already reserved a seat, so after they entered, a dedicated waiter led them to the best private room.

“Sister, I ordered a few dishes you love while we were on the car. They should be ready now. If you’re hungry, you can start eating first, and then look at the menu to see if there’s anything else you like that I haven’t ordered yet.” While he explained, he thoughtfully handed the menu to Gu Dai.

Gu Dai glanced at the menu and then shook her head gently, smiling as she said, “No, you’ve ordered all the dishes I love. But won’t it be too much for us to finish?”

Looking at the long list of dishes ordered by Su Ting, Gu Dai fell into contemplation.

Su Ting wasn’t worried when he heard this. After all, he had thought about this when ordering, “Don’t worry, sister. If we can’t finish, I’ll take the leftovers home. We definitely won’t waste anything!”

She suddenly thought of something she had overlooked. She looked at Su Ting with confusion and asked, “How do you know what I like to eat?”

Su Ting carefully looked up, then he met Gu Dai's gaze and he quickly looked away again. He lowered his head and said, "Because you've been so supportive of me in the past, I've been very grateful, so I've been secretly finding out what you like to eat, then remembering it and learning to make it."

Gu Dai was a bit taken aback when she heard Su Ting's words. She hadn't expected that reason. She quickly composed herself again from her own thoughts, then said, "You don't have to do that, I was the one who bumped into you first."

Su Ting shook his head, "No, I still want to thank you, sister. After all, it was an accident on your part, and I wasn't hurt. Besides, I wanted to remember what you like and cook it for you myself."

As Su Ting spoke, his voice gradually became quieter. If she wasn't paying close attention, she could barely make out what he said.

Gu Dai's heart started to throb uncontrollably. She coughed lightly, as a way to suppress the feeling inside her.

"Miss Gu, may we join your table?"

Chapter 36

She just praised me for being handsome

When Gu Dai heard the voice that had been haunting her like a nightmare and etched into her bones for three years, her movements subconsciously halted for a moment.

Then she lifted her head to look at Jiang Yue, and refused outright, "No."

"Gu Dai, why are you so petty? You won't even share a table?" After Song Ling heard that Jiang Yue was rejected, he comforted her by patting her head, then spoke out.

Su Ting's eyes turned deadly. He looked up at Song Ling and said, "What, now the generous CEO Song can't even afford to book a private room, and wants to leech off others? Moreover, this is my sister's table. She has the right to refuse you, and yet you're blaming her. Thinking about it this way, CEO Song, you're the one that's being petty. The title of being petty should be given to you."

Gu Dai praised Su Ting for his eloquent speech in her mind, and she gave him a thumbs-up.

Song Ling did not expect Su Ting to be so articulate. Agitated by the words, his face turned red, and he said, flustered, "If it weren't for the restaurant being full, why would we possibly come to share a table with you?"

Gu Dai laughed at how flustered Song Ling looked. She crossed her arms, and spoke in a light yet assertive voice, "If that's the case, then you can leave! Or pay me a million dollars, and I'll agree to let you sit here."

Song Ling had no choice but to pay the million, because this was the restaurant Jiang Yue wanted to eat at. However, as he paid, he couldn't help but say, "Gu Dai, I see you've been obsessed with money. Not only did you split away several billion from me during the divorce, but you've also found a rich man after divorcing me."

As soon as Song Ling uttered the first word, Gu Dai's eyebrows furrowed. She could hardly stand it and wanted to speak, but at that moment, Su Ting held her back and softly said to her, "Sister, let me handle this."

Gu Dai was taken aback, then subconsciously agreed to him, "Okay."

When Su Ting faced Song Ling, his entire demeanor changed. He was no longer the little lamb he seemed to be in front of Gu Dai.

He said coldly, "I don't think I'm a rich man. Moreover, I remember telling you that I willingly stayed by my sister's side. I don't know if it's because you have a bad memory, or because you've stood up and forgotten the pain, wanting to experience what happened last night again?"

Song Ling, who was already seriously injured, was in a wheelchair this morning because he had just come out of the hospital and needed to rest. But now, hearing Su Ting's words, the shameful scene from last night seemed to resurface in his mind.

A trace of hatred surfaced in Song Ling's eyes, but he was also afraid to experience what happened last night again, especially in front of Yueyue.

He subconsciously looked up at Gu Dai, and saw that she was just staring blankly at Su Ting, her eyes seemingly sparkling with stars. Song Ling's hand slowly clenched into a fist at the scene.

Gu Dai, on the other hand, was surprised by the huge change in Su Ting in such a short time.

Although she knew that Su Ting was not as obedient as he appeared in front of her, she was still shocked by the way he acted now.

When Su Ting saw Gu Dai's reaction, he became uneasy. He resumed his lamb-like demeanor, nervously asking, "Sister, did I scare you..."

Gu Dai felt that if she said she was scared, Su Ting might immediately burst into tears.

And wouldn't Su Ting crying be a sight to behold?

Although Gu Dai had such a "perverse" thought, she had no intention of making it happen. Besides, she was not scared at all, and actually found him exceptionally handsome!

Since Gu Dai felt this way, she directly shared her thoughts, "I thought you were incredibly handsome just now!"

When Su Ting heard Gu Dai's words, he was astonished. The single sentence kept repeating in his mind: Sister just praised me for being handsome...

With that sentence playing over and over in his mind, Su Ting's ears grew redder and redder, slowly spreading to his face.

His eyes became misty from the heat, and he appeared dazed and confused, like a little deer lost in the forest.

Chapter 37

Can't Eat Spicy

Gu Dai was shocked by the scene in front of her, but she quickly recovered and took out her phone to take a series of pictures of Su Ting. At the same time, she couldn't help exclaiming in her mind:

So cute, so cute, so cute, I have to capture it all down!

In contrast to the warm atmosphere between Gu Dai and Su Ting,

Song Ling, on the side, was staring at Gu Dai with a cold gaze. His face was getting gloomier by the second, and he was thinking:

What a shameless woman, taking photos of a man in public!

As Song Ling had this thought in her mind, his heart was also filled with bitterness.

She was shaking with anger, but quickly composed herself, and then gently shook Song Ling's sleeve, softly calling out, "Song Ling, Song Ling."

"Hmm?" Song Ling was startled by the sound and felt somewhat guilty when he turned to look at Jiang Yue.

But he quickly suppressed his emotions and asked her, with warmth in his tone, "What's the matter, Yueyue?"

Jiang Yue finally relaxed when she heard Song Ling's familiar gentle voice, and then said, "Brother Song Ling, let's order food."

"Okay, we'll do as you say," Song Ling hurriedly agreed.

Then Song Ling kept watching Jiang Yue order food, simultaneously breathing a sigh of relief in his mind.

After all, Yueyue was the person he truly liked. As for the fact that he was looking Gu Dai just now, he was surely just provoked by her!

The restaurant served food quickly, and in just a moment, all the dishes Jiang Yue had ordered arrived.

After glancing at the dishes on the table, Song Ling quickly said to Jiang Yue, "Yueyue, did you forget that you're on your period now? You can't eat too much spicy food."

Jiang Yue shyly lowered her head and spoke softly, "Sorry, I forgot, and I ordered so much spicy food. Why don't we share it with Sister Gu Dai?"

Song Ling laughed and said, "Good, Yueyue, you're so kind."

Then Song Ling's smile faded a bit and he turned to Gu Dai, bluntly saying, "Yueyue can't finish it, so you have it."

Song Ling frowned and asked, with disbelief in his voice, "How can she not eat spicy food? Whenever she used to cook for me, she always made spicy food, and she ate it herself!"

Song Ling was somewhat emotional when he said this, his voice especially loud.

This nearly ear-piercing voice made Gu Dai particularly irritated. She couldn't understand why there was so much fuss just for a meal.

Unable to bear it any longer, Gu Dai directly responded, "The reason the Gu Dai before made spicy food in the past was because you liked it. She liked you, so she forced herself to eat it too, hoping to develop a common interest with you so that you might like her a little. But after each meal, she would have stomach-aches for several days! Are you satisfied with this answer?"

Yes, that was the Gu Dai from before, the Gu Dai who lost her memory!

The current Gu Dai would never like Song Ling, and would not harm her own body over him!

Song Ling was dazed by Gu Dai's words, he didn't even notice the odd phrasing in her speech.

Jiang Yue had been paying attention to Song Ling all along, so when she saw his dazed look, she panicked.

Jiang Yue was afraid that Gu Dai's words would soften Song Ling's heart.

Gritting her teeth, she walked over to Gu Dai and said as she walked, "Sister Gu Dai, it's also your fault for never telling Brother Song Ling that you don't eat spicy food, or else he would have known."

Gu Dai was somewhat disgusted. She admitted that she was not thinking straight when she had lost her memory, but now Jiang Yue was blaming it all on her, which was quite interesting. And since when did Jiang Yue dare to call her as a sister?

Gu Dai realized this and spoke up without any hesitation, "I remember you're one year older than me, aren't you? How can you have the face to act like the younger sister?"

Watching Jiang Yue approach her, Gu Dai felt a bit irritated. She reached out her hand, intending to push her away a little, to keep her from getting too close.

However, Gu Dai didn't expect that her hand was still in mid-air, without even touching Jiang Yue, when Jiang Yue had already fallen to the ground.

After Jiang Yue fell to the ground, she cried out, "Brother Song Ling, my leg hurts so much!"

Chapter 38

What a real kick looks like

Song Ling snapped back to reality, quickly walking over to Jiang Yue and helping her up, then he asked softly, "Yueyue, what happened?"

Leaning on Song Ling, Jiang Yue buried her face into his chest and cried, "Gu Dai just kicked me. My leg hurts so much now. Brother Song Ling, will I not be able to dance in the future? Wuu wuu..."

When Song Ling heard the word "kicked", his expression seemed lost for a brief second. He remembered his own experience of being kicked to the ground by Su Ting the night before.

His eyes turned fierce, then he looked at Gu Dai and asked, "Why did you push Yueyue? Are you jealous of her?"

"Jealous of her?" Gu Dai opened her eyes wide, as she was baffled by his words, then he asked, "What does Jiang Yue have that I should be jealous of?"

"Heh, you're jealous that she can be with me, otherwise why would you push her?" As Song Ling said this, he looked at Gu Dai with disgust.

Gu Dai fell silent. After a long while, she managed to find her voice, "Mr. Song, if you have delusions, you'd better get them treated early. Otherwise, once it has corroded your mind, you will be incurable."

Gu Dai really didn't want to spend more time with Song Ling. So, seeing the anger on his face, she didn't wait for him to speak and directly said, "By the way, I didn't kick Jiang Yue."

Song Ling was already having difficulty breathing with his pent-up anger, and Gu Dai finished the sentence, he exploded, "If you didn't push her, did Yueyue fall to the ground by herself?"

"Yes." Su Ting answered firmly, then pulled out his phone to show the video he had just taken, "You see for yourself."

With that, Su Ting played the video.

The video clearly proved that Gu Dai did not push Jiang Yue, yet Jiang Yue suddenly fell to the ground.

Jiang Yue's face turned pale, she didn't expect that Su Ting would have recorded it. Her eyes flashed with a bit of gloom, and when she looked up at Song Ling again, her innocent eyes were filled with tears.

She kept shaking her head and helplessly said, "I don't know what's going on with the video. It was Gu Dai who pushed me just now, Brother Song Ling, my leg hurts so much now. Can we hurry up and leave?"

Initially, Song Ling had his doubts, but with Jiang Yue's current state and her pleading words, he negated his doubts in his mind.

How could Yue Yue possibly lie?

She is so pure and kind, she even risked her life to save me back then!

Song Ling softly reassured Jiang Yue, "Hang on a little longer, Yueyue. I'll warn them and then we'll leave."

Jiang Yue's eyes widened slightly. She was afraid that if they didn't leave now, she might expose herself. She reached out and lightly tugged at Song Ling's clothes, but he ignored her.

At this moment, Song Ling looked at Su Ting and said coldly, "The angle of your video must be misaligned, with the purpose of making me misunderstand Yueyue. But unfortunately, I won't fall for your trick!"

Song Ling then turned to Gu Dai, "I originally thought you were just a gold-digger, but I didn't expect you to be so vicious. You hurt Yue Yue and still want to keep yourself out of this!"

Gu Dai couldn't understand how Song Ling's brain worked, he couldn't even tell the truth when it was right in front of him.

The more she thought about it, the angrier she became. Gu Dai couldn't bear it anymore and walked to Jiang Yue. She raised her foot and kicked her.

Seeing Jiang Yue fall to the ground, her eyebrows furrowed in pain, Gu Dai's mood improved significantly. She laughed and said, "Since you said I kicked her, then let me prove it and show you what a real kick looks like!"

Song Ling didn't expect Gu Dai to suddenly make this move and was taken aback for a moment. Only after hearing Jiang Yue's cry of pain again did he snap back to reality and quickly picked up Jiang Yue.

This time, Jiang Yue was genuinely panicking. She kept saying, "My leg hurts so much, take me to the hospital, quickly!"

At this point, Jiang Yue's voice was not soft and pitiful, but extremely sharp.

Song Ling was dumbfounded, but he still quickly picked up Jiang Yue and rushed to the hospital.

Gu Dai watched the backs of the two disappear, the look on her face also grew increasingly serious.

Seeing this, Su Ting thought that Gu Dai was heartbroken again and quickly comforted her, "Don't be sad, sister. It's his poor taste that can't appreciate your beauty."

Chapter 39

Resign and Get Lost

Not sad?

Su Ting was overjoyed by the answer.

He couldn't help but smile, but he was still puzzled, he asked, "Then why are you always staring at their backs and looking so serious?"

Gu Dai didn't expect that one of her expressions would cause such a big misunderstanding in Su Ting, and just thinking about this misunderstanding made her uncomfortable.

She quickly explained, "Because I'm very curious, with his IQ, how does he manage the Song Corporation."

Su Ting really thought about Gu Dai's question too, he added, "Maybe his intelligence in other aspects compensates for his work."

Gu Dai nodded, thinking that what Su Ting said made a lot of sense.

On the way to the hospital, Jiang Yue kept yelling in pain, causing Song Ling to sweat in worry. He ordered the driver, "Can't you drive faster? If you can do it, do it. If not, go and resign with Zhao Xuan tomorrow, then get lost!"

The driver gritted his teeth and drove the car as fast as he could, following Song Ling's order.

In no time, they arrived at the hospital. Song Ling, holding Jiang Yue between his arms, pushed open the door and coldly said to the doctor, "She has injured her leg, examine her carefully!"

The doctor was taken aback, "Sir, we treat patients in order, there are still people waiting in line..."

Song Ling didn't care about that, he interrupted the doctor, speaking directly, "I don't care how you treat patients, but let me tell you, I am Song Ling, the CEO of Song Corporation! If you don't cooperate, then I will acquire this hospital tomorrow, by which time you will not only be dismissed, but you will also disappear from the medical field!"

The doctor had no choice but to compromise. He took a glance at Jiang Yue's leg and knew that there wasn't a serious problem, it was just a bruise. If they took slightly longer to get here, it might already be healed. He couldn't help but curse Song Ling in his mind.

After the doctor adjusted his mood, he finally said, "Don't worry, it's not a big problem. She'll be fine in a couple of days."

"Why does it hurt her so much then?" Song Ling was still unsatisfied with the doctor's words and asked angrily.

However, Jiang Yue, being the one directly involved, knew there was no excessive pain. Even though she was kicked to the ground by Gu Dai, it was just a light fall.

She just wanted to make Song Ling feel sorry for her and make Gu Dai look worse in his eyes, so she pretended to be in severe pain.

If she insisted on saying it hurts now, she would likely expose herself in front of the doctor. Jiang Yue quickly stopped Song Ling from talking further and said sympathetically, "It's okay, Brother Song Ling, the doctor must be right, he's professional. I should be fine in a couple of days. Let's go home."

While Jiang Yue said this, Song Ling disagreed. He gently shook his head at Jiang Yue and said, "Let's have him check your hand, see how this place treats you."

Jiang Yue trembled and immediately refused, "Brother Song Ling, no need to check, the last place treated me quite well."

Song Ling said seriously, "No, the last place treated you for several days, but they didn't completely cure the internal injury."

At this point, Jiang Yue deeply regretted her decision. She wished she hadn't let the doctor describe her hand injury as so severe at first.

Now, there was no one she knew in this place. If the doctor checked her, she would definitely be exposed.

Jiang Yue looked down, and when she looked up again, they were full of tears. She said softly, "Brother Song Ling, are you annoyed because my hands can't get better? Do you not want to be with me anymore?"

Song Ling couldn't understand the relationship between the two, but he still subconsciously said, "No! Yue Yue, I never thought like that, I want to be with you."

Jiang Yue seized the opportunity after she heard what Song Ling say, "Then if you're willing to be with me, can you marry me now? You've always said you want to marry me. Now that I'm back, shouldn't we arrange this promise?"

Song Ling couldn't help but think of Gu Dai.

He remembered the sparkling eyes she used to look at him with when they were still married, and how she would always take care of everything for him immediately whenever something happened.

The thought of this made Song Ling even forget that Jiang Yue was still waiting for his answer.

Seeing that Song Ling didn't respond, Jiang Yue's eyes turned dim, and they were full of anger, but her voice remained weak and sweet, "Brother Song Ling, if you don't want to, it's fine. I won't blame you."

Song Ling brushed away the image of Gu Dai in his mind and quickly said, "Yes, I'm willing!"

Chapter 40

Something is Wrong

Song Ling couldn't figure out why he kept thinking of Gu Dai these past few days, so he decided not to think about the reason. He looked at Jiang Yue again and said, "I am willing."

It seemed as if saying it a few more times could make up for the fact that he was suddenly thinking about Gu Dai.

Jiang Yue's eyes brightened as Song Ling emphasized on his promise, "Since Brother Song Ling doesn't mind, then let's go home."

Song Ling responded absentmindedly. It was only when he got into the car from the hospital that he realized something was wrong.

Upon realization, he said to Jiang Yue earnestly, "Yueyue, I don't mind about your hand. It's just that you love playing the piano so much, I don't want you to have any regrets. Don't worry, I will definitely find a skilled doctor to treat you."

Jiang Yue, whose mood had just improved, felt a headache again after she heard what Song Ling said. She had already refused once, and if she refused again, it might arouse suspicion.

Therefore, she could only pretend to be happy and said, "Okay, thank you Brother Song Ling!"

It was hard to find a skilled doctor, and she didn't believe that Song Ling can find one, so Jiang Yue didn't take it too seriously. She planned to think about solutions later.

Fearing that Song Ling might say something she'd find hard to respond to, Jiang Yue quickly asked, "Brother Song Ling, are you tired? Do you want to rest?"

Song Ling originally didn't feel tired, but after Jiang Yue reminded him, he started to yawn, feeling fatigued, "Okay, I'll take a nap

Not long after he finished speaking, Song Ling fell asleep.

Seeing this, Jiang Yue also breathed a sigh of relief. Then she leaned against Song Ling, took out her phone, took a photo, and sent it to her contact, Gu Dai.

And added a sentence: Song Ling has agreed to marry me.

In the past, when she was abroad, she would send photos of her interactions with Song Ling to Gu Dai like this.

At first, she was afraid, but after finding out that Gu Dai was a pushover and wouldn't tell Song Ling, she sent more and more.

However, she felt it was pointless after Gu Dai never responded.

The last time she sent a message was a few months ago. Today, she suddenly sent a message because Jiang Yue felt a sense of crisis. She didn't miss the fact that Song Ling was becoming more and more absent-minded with her.

Jiang Yue realized the seriousness of this, her gaze focused on Song Ling turned dark, she also decided to speed up and marry him sooner.

Suddenly, Jiang Yue's phone vibrated. She saw that it was a message from Gu Dai.

Gu Dai: I don't like Song Ling, a waste of a human being. Since you like recycling trash so much, I'll give him to you. And, I advise you not to provoke me, or I'll expose the fact that your hand isn't injured.

Jiang Yue started to worry when she read the message, but quickly calmed down. After all, Gu Dai had no evidence. Even if she spoke out, who would believe her?

With this in mind, Jiang Yue replied.

Jiang Yue: Even if you say it, but you have no evidence, no one will believe you. Even if you do have evidence, Song Ling will definitely believe me more! Just like today!

Jiang Yue looked at the message she typed, nodded in satisfaction, and then sent it out.

That bitch Gu Dai, she actually blocked me!

Jiang Yue was so angry that her face was distorted, and she subconsciously pounded the car seat.

She hurriedly looked at Song Ling and seeing that he was still asleep and hadn’t opened his eyes, she breathed a sigh of relief and softly replied, “It’s nothing. I just moved a bit too much accidentally. You can keep sleeping.”

“Okay.” Song Ling responded, but he couldn’t sleep at all. He felt as if he had seen Jiang Yue’s frightening expression, and her terrifying face emerged in his mind.

But as soon as he thought about it, Song Ling suppressed it, constantly denying it in his heart.

No, no, no, no, it’s impossible. I must have been drowsy. Yueyue is so gentle and cute, she couldn’t possibly look like that.

In the following days, Gu Dai was busy dealing with company matters. As for Jiang Yue’s messages, she didn’t let them impact her mood.

At the time, she just felt that Jiang Yue was as disgusting as a bug, so she warned her, hoping that Jiang Yue would stop bothering her in the future.

Suddenly, Chu Min rushed into the office, saying in a panic, "Boss, something is wrong. Someone has been frantically investigating your identity as a fabled doctor these days! And they also found my picture!"
