Chapter 137: Effort

Seeing her daughter so sensible, the Marchioness couldn't help but feel heartache, "It was originally yours, how you decide to share is up to you, Mother supports you!"

"Then it's settled for the Detoxification Pill. As for the Beautifying Pills, I've counted them, there are twelve. Eldest sister-in-law, second sister-in-law, Mother, Grandma, and eldest sister each get two, and I'll keep two for myself, that way, they're all divided up. Mother, you mustn't tell maternal grandfather and maternal grandmother about them, alright?"

The Marchioness tapped Dai Hanmi's forehead, "You, I'll listen to you!"

As for jewelry and hairpins, both daughters-in-law have plenty, and the desire for beauty is common to all; naturally, the Beautifying Pills are coveted treasures.

The Detoxification Pill is a necessity for the son and husband when they are away from home, not fearing a hundred but the what if's.

How rare it is for a daughter to be so considerate!

"You go deliver them, and tell your brother and sister-in-law they should eat dinner in the dining hall tonight, we just got some fresh vegetables!"

"Mhm Mhm!"

Dai Hanmi went off happily to deliver the things.

The Crown Princess and the second young mistress were extremely fond of their kind-hearted and good-natured little sister-in-law.

The next day

Yun Jinnian made another visit to the Zhuangyong Marquis Residence to re-examine the Old Lady and performed acupuncture again, letting some blood, after which the Old Lady drank her medicine and went to sleep.

Yun Jinnian slightly modified the prescription, "Take the medicine according to this prescription for the next few days, I'll come back for a follow-up visit on the tenth day of the month!"

The Marchioness treated Yun Jinnian with great warmth, insisting that she stay for lunch at the Marquis Residence before leaving.

"I can't today, I need to go back to accompany my mother!"

"If that's the case, then be careful on your way back!"

Yun Jinnian nodded and returned to the Han Residence.

Spending time with Mrs. Han, one reading Medical Books, the other doing needlework, and incidentally instructing Hemei, Henuan, and the other three, with Hongxiu's exceptional needlework skills, the flowers she embroidered looked almost real. Mrs. Han didn't ask Yun Jinnian whether she could do embroidery; her daughter, even if she couldn't, it didn't matter, as there were plenty of others to help her embroider.

She just needed to do what she loved.

Han Xuzi left early and returned late each day, it was unknown what he was up to. After checking on Yun Jinnian's progress and seeing how well she was doing, Han Xuzi was even more eager to take Yun Jinnian out to make an impression, to let the world of great heroes know he had such a granddaughter. In case someone couldn't ask him for a favor, they could come to ask his granddaughter. If these heroes owed Yun Jinnian a favor, she would have plenty of people to run errands for her in case she ever needed anything.

In case of any unforeseen event, there would be someone to save her.

In the blink of an eye, the tenth day arrived, and Yun Jinnian made another trip to the Zhuangyong Marquis Residence.

"The Old Lady has detoxified, with gradual care, I will perform acupuncture on the Old Lady once every half month. Have a maid who knows massage give the Old Lady a massage every day, and by the time the weather warms up, the Old Lady should be able to walk!" Yun Jinnian said leisurely.

Everything was in good order.

The Marchioness quickly nodded, tears of joy in her eyes.

Both the Crown Princess and second young mistress also had tears in their eyes.

Dai Hanmi took Yun Jinnian outside, where they ran into Dai Hanbo, "Third brother!"

Yun Jinnian bowed, "I've seen the Third Master!"

"There's no need for such formalities, Fourth Miss!" Dai Hanbo said, sneakily glancing at Yun Jinnian before turning to Dai Hanmi, "How is Grandmother doing?"

"She's taken her medicine and gone to sleep, so Third Brother, don't go in for now. Wait until Grandmother wakes up before coming over to pay your respects!"

Dai Hanbo nodded.

Dai Hanmi then said, "Third Brother, I heard you acquired a set of Medical Books a while ago, could you give them to me?"

"Sure, I have no use for them anyway!"

Dai Hanmi stuck out her tongue.

You've no use for them, yet you went through so much trouble to find them?

Now, not even a beginning has been made, yet if the future brings good news, well, well, well...
