

Chapter 16

Valeria was confused when she heard what he said, "What do you mean?"

William puffed out a ring of smoke and said, "Don't be silly. Things are much more complicated than you expected."

William stopped talking before Valeria was about to explode.

Valeria didn't catch William's words. She was quite sure that she had no feeling for Mason anymore since he had cheated on her. It was impossible to share her boyfriend with Ashley.

What's more, she won't tangle with Mason anymore. But Valeria couldn't figure out what else Ashley wanted since she had been with Mason.

"She won't have to go too far if she just wants your boyfriend. Let me remind you, your so-called best friend must have other purposes."

William reminded her as if he could read Valeria's mind.

"What else purposes does she have?" Valeria really couldn't figure it out.

"You are really..." William sighed, "Think about her relationship with you. Now that you've suddenly got a sibling, doesn't it worry you?"

"Of course, I'm mad, but what can I do?" Valeria stopped and looked at William surprisingly, "How did you know? Did you investigate me?"

William shook his head when he saw the wary look on her face, "Your best friend called your father 'Daddy' last night. If she isn't your sister, why would she call him daddy?"

Valeria blushed after she heard what William said. "Is this man a devil?"

She thought that this devil took her virginity away. Besides, he knew her boyfriend cheated on her and saw her cry in embarrassment.

What's worse, he even knew that her bank card was frozen and saw her being bullied by others. Now he even knew the most disgusting and the most disturbing thing in her family.

Valeria felt that she was like a naked baby in front of William. He knew every single secret about her.

She was overwhelmed with shame and vexation, "How could you know everything about me?"

After saying that, Valeria opened the door and left angrily.

William didn't understand why Valeria was angry with him. He wasn't a gossip and he just felt pity for her. That was why he said those to her.

But she didn't appreciate it at all, "Such an ingrate!" 🙄

Nobody dared to treat him like this before. William got so worked up. He put one foot on the gas and drove off quickly.

In the Central South Building, Ronald was sitting at his office with a sullen face while Ashley and Mason were sitting on the sofa in the office.

"Where is Valeria?" Ronald asked impatiently.

"Valeria left with that strange man." Ashley looked at Ronald and answered discreetly.

"Ridiculous!" Ronald said with a long face, "Do you know who that man is?"

"I don't know. Maybe someone that Valeria met in the nightclub." Ashley peeked at Mason and said.

"Nightclub?" Ronald was hopping mad and he was about to lose his temper.

However, thinking of the way the man dressed, Ronald was incredulous about Ashley's words.

"How do you know that?"

"Well..." Ashley faltered and thought that Ronald would be furious when he heard the word "nightclub". But she did not expect that Ronald would not trust her.

Meanwhile, Mason said, "I saw that guy in the nightclub. He seems to be the No.1 pimp in Climax Space!" 🗨️

Ashley felt relieved when she heard Mason's words. In the beginning, Ronald was suspicious about that.

However, when he heard Mason's words, he changed his attitude and became furious, "Bad girl! I should teach her a lesson tonight!" 🗨️
