

Infinite 306

Chapter 306: War City's Regard, Extending Goodwill_3

"Deputy Corps Commander, there's a large lake ahead. The armored vehicle might not be able to pass through, and there seem to be people cleaning up the battlefield around the lake," said the driver of the armored vehicle.

A large lake? In the Dead Silence Wilderness, how could there suddenly be a lake?

Yue Cheng was slightly taken aback, but soon realized that this might be a remnant of that war.

With the armored vehicle coming to a halt, everyone onboard disembarked as well.

Looking at the cratered lake before him created by powerful forces, Yue Cheng's steps halted in place.

Yue Cheng was well aware of how this large lake came into existence.

Staring at the gigantic 'artificial' lake in front of him, Yue Cheng fell into silence.

"This large lake..."

"Could... could a human really achieve this?"

After a brief pause, Yue Cheng's slightly trembling voice suddenly broke the silence.

There was a hint of fear in Yue Cheng's eyes as he gazed at the 'artificial' lake.

As the leader of the caravan, Yue Cheng was himself quite a capable Transcendent, but he knew that achieving this feat would be impossible for him.

Not just for him; even a hundred of himself here might not suffice.

"Perhaps... the Commander could achieve this?"

Beside him, Li Changfeng looked slightly dazed as well, and there was a tinge of uncertainty in his voice.

Evidently, even Li Changfeng wasn't sure if his Commander could pull off such a scene.

Yue Cheng and Li Changfeng exchanged a glance, both seeing the bitterness in each other's eyes.

"It seems... the Commander's decision was indeed correct!" said Li Changfeng.

If all of this was really orchestrated by the owner of the so-called Mechanical City, then extending goodwill to Mechanical City was imperative.

In a world like Ruins Star, where rules have broken down, unless your strength surpasses everyone on the planet...

Otherwise...

Foolishly provoking enemies could easily lead to your demise on Ruins Star.

At this moment, he suddenly realized the wisdom of his Commander's foresight.

After a brief exchange of glances, just as Li Changfeng was about to approach the people from Mechanical City cleaning up the battlefield, he was startled to find that as they had approached the lake, they had already been discovered and surrounded.

With Mechanical City thriving after dealing with the Ghost Tribe that once enveloped the Dead Silence Wilderness, the people of Mechanical City had already reached a peak in their sense of belonging.

Whether ordinary residents or those with combat capabilities, everyone was raring to make Mechanical City even better.

And these two sudden armored vehicles had surely long been noticed by the people of Mechanical City.

"The people of Mechanical City are so vigilant!"

Li Changfeng was somewhat surprised, but seeing the people of Mechanical City surrounding them, he, though a six-star Transcendent, slightly twitched the corner of his mouth and clearly stated the purpose of their arrival.

Although these people were nothing much in Li Changfeng's eyes, he had come to extend the goodwill from War City.

"War City? What's that place?"

Someone scratched their head, clearly unaware of what War City was.

After all, most people who joined Mechanical City came from small settlements, and their knowledge was limited to knowing a few nearby small settlements at best.

Not to mention War City, far beyond the Dead Silence Wilderness.

"War City? I know that place!!"

Suddenly, a loud voice came from the back.

After seeing the newcomer, everyone quickly said,

"Clan Leader Tie Xin!"

The newcomer was none other than Clan Leader Tie Xin.

Before the blockade of the Dead Silence Wilderness, Tie Xin had always maintained trade with other settlements through caravans.

The trading caravan from War City was the main trading partner of the Iron Heart Tribe.

Chapter 307: Evil God Undying, But You Cannot

"The envoy group from War City?"

Inside the Mechanical Space, Su Yu looked at the screen on the Core Terminal, where the Mechanical Spirit was displaying footage of the artificial lake.

In recent days, since the Mechanical Spirit AI became a true digital lifeform, the development of the Mechanical City has accelerated several times compared to before.

At this moment, the entire Dead Silence Wilderness had already been equipped with numerous signal stations, along with scattered surveillance probes, and the thousand cavalry Su Yu had sent out to clean up the battlefield.

It could be said that every trace of movement within the entire Dead Silence Wilderness was now under Su Yu's observation.

The footage shown by the Mechanical Spirit was captured by a basic cavalry unit stationed around the artificial lake.

Watching the interaction between Clan Leader Tie Xin and the people from War City on the screen, after learning of War City's intentions, Su Yu thought to himself, "Do they want to visit my Mechanical City?"

"It's not surprising, given the previous battle's duration and the noise were so significant; it probably wasn't just War City who took notice of my Mechanical City."

"Rather than a visit, it's more like War City wanting to gauge the reality of my Mechanical City."

"In that case, let them come," Su Yu said, instructing the Mechanical Spirit.

The Mechanical Spirit immediately transmitted Su Yu's command through the signal station to the cavalry unit by the lake.

The eyes of the basic cavalry unit lit up and then moved next to Clan Leader Tie Xin, emitting a cold electronic voice, "Tie Xin, the administrator has approved War City's visit."

"The envoy group from War City can proceed to the Mechanical City."

Clan Leader Tie Xin, looking at the cavalry unit before him, felt a slight shock in his heart. Even though this wasn't his first time witnessing Su Yu's methods, seeing this agile basic cavalry unit again,

Tie Xin couldn't help but admire inwardly, "The administrator's mechanical technology has improved again. This basic cavalry unit, despite having an appearance identical to before, exhibits such agility that it resembles true life."

"And it's not just this cavalry unit; it seems the administrator has updated the programs of all mechanical creations in the Mechanical City. The level of intelligence is significantly stronger."

Tie Xin nodded and said, "Yes, administrator, I will take them to the Mechanical City."

The cavalry unit made a humanlike gesture and shook its head, saying, "No need, I will take them to the Mechanical City. As for cleaning the battlefield, Tie Xin, you must handle that."

Upon finishing, the basic cavalry unit approached the envoy group from War City, signaling them to follow.

Watching the envoy group from War City being guided towards the Mechanical City on the screen,

Su Yu nodded and said to the Mechanical Spirit, "Thank you, Mechanical Spirit."

In these days, Su Yu had already copied the Mechanical Spirit itself into every cavalry unit. As a digital lifeform, a replicated part of the Mechanical Spirit is equivalent to its main body.

In a way, as long as any mechanical device contains data of the Mechanical Spirit, it wouldn't perish, making it a form of immortality.

Moreover, with its replication, these cavalry units utilized computational power to the fullest, achieving a combat capability stronger than before, which enhanced the overall coordination and development of the Mechanical City.

"No trouble, master, I actually find this experience quite interesting," the Mechanical Spirit's voice came from the Core Terminal, this time sounding a bit more excited than before.

Clearly, over these days, the Mechanical Spirit had gained a lot of information from the intelligent mechanical creations across the Dead Silence Wilderness, resulting in some personal changes.

The previous actions of the basic cavalry unit were evidently the Mechanical Spirit imitating human movements.

For these changes, Su Yu naturally approved.

As the Second Mechanical Apostle, the Mechanical Spirit, like Nuonuo, is deeply linked with Su Yu.

The envoy group from War City still had some time before reaching the Mechanical City.

Su Yu pulled out the half-designed blueprint of the Brutal Battle Armor again.

"Previously, I was too naive; brutality is ultimately an Evil God. Although the Brutal clone I sealed is just a thought from the Brutal entity's descent, it's still difficult to handle."

"Sealing it isn't hard. I could wear away at this thought of Brutality with the Flame of Truth over time, but using Brutality isn't easy."

Su Yu glanced at the newly constructed room on the east side of the Mechanical Space, where the sealed Brutal clone was housed.

The Brutal clone, the mass of Ghost Energy Fog, constantly emitted angry roars, "Humans, you cannot bind me; as an Evil God, I am undying."

"As long as humans have emotions, I cannot perish. What's more, I'm just a thought, a clone. You possess great potential; if you become my believer, I can forgive your past mistakes."

"I could even grant you strength to transcend to a seven-star or even nine-star level, becoming the ruler of the entire Ruins Star."

The Brutal clone, having been sealed by Su Yu for days, gradually recovered slightly and attempted once again to tempt Su Yu unwillingly.

However, Su Yu showed no concern whatsoever for the enticements of the Brutal clone.

Chapter 308: Evil God Undying, But You Cannot

"So noisy." Su Yu activated his Spiritual Energy, controlling the large amount of Flame of Truth stored in the room, scorching the Malevolent Avatar.

The Malevolent Avatar immediately let out a painful howl, "No... human, I won't let you go..."

As the Flame of Truth burned, the mass of Ghost Energy Fog that was the Malevolent Avatar shrank significantly, becoming listless.

However, Su Yu didn't really want to eliminate the Malevolent Avatar and stopped the burning of the Flame of Truth.

With the cessation of the Flame of Truth's burning, the Ghost Energy Fog of the Malevolent Avatar began to gradually grow larger again.

"As expected, the existence of the Evil God relies on human emotions? And judging by the Malevolent's words, there are obviously quite a few Evil Gods..."

"The true form of Malevolence is likely the cloud enveloping the entire Ruins Star, but clearly, its state isn't good."

"An undying Evil God, as long as human emotions of Malevolence exist, Malevolence can continue to exist, which is probably why Zhang Chenfeng chose to quarantine the entire Ruins Star back then."

Su Yu had, over these days, deduced quite a lot from the Malevolent Avatar's words and existence.

The Malevolent Avatar was extremely chaotic, and the words it spoke often allowed Su Yu to glean much information.

"Evil Gods originate from Subspace, originating from human emotions."

After sealing the Malevolent Avatar once more, Su Yu began to speculate on the truth of the past based on the current situation.

"The Subspace in a calm state is like the calm sea surface, which was the Subspace used during the Great Expedition of the Human Empire. However, as time passed and more humans entered Subspace, Subspace underwent some change."

"Thus, Evil Gods were born, emerging from human emotions, with the tides of Subspace starting alongside their birth."

"With the terrifying control abilities of the Evil Gods, once someone becomes their believer or is controlled by them, they might become lifelong slaves. During the Human Empire's Great Expedition, those Transcendents were likely influenced by the Evil Gods, leading to the fall of the Human Empire."

"Transcendents of the Great Expedition period often had intense interactions with Subspace, making them the easiest targets for Evil God temptation."

Su Yu felt that his speculations were quite close to the truth, at least in the general direction.

"Evil Gods are born from human emotions, hence they need to control the human population. They cannot allow the extinction of humans, but at the same time, they dare not let the human population grow too large."

"On one hand, it's to avoid too large a human population becoming uncontrollable, and on the other hand, it might be to prevent the birth of new Evil Gods."

"Likewise, among the Evil Gods, there cannot be complete unity; there must be conflict among them. Otherwise, due to their unique traits, humanity would have long become the pasture of the Evil Gods."

Thinking of this, Su Yu still had doubts in his heart, wondering, "However, if that's the case, Zhang Chenfeng's action of sealing the entire Ruins Star back then seems a bit strange."

"He sealed the Ruins Star, clearly aware of the existence of Malevolence, aware of the Evil Gods. But likewise, Zhang Chenfeng should have known that Malevolence is a product of human emotions. Sealing the Ruins Star and not allowing its humans to escape seems meaningless, as the Evil God's true form should reside in Subspace."

"Unless..."

"Unless the true form of Malevolence is on this Ruins Star, and Malevolence descended upon this Ruins Star ten thousand years ago!"

"Zhang Chenfeng, as the strongest Apostle Level Mechanic, probably tried to deal with the true form of Malevolence and heavily injured it, but due to the undying trait of Evil Gods, could not destroy the true form. Therefore, he sealed the entire Ruins Star to prevent the escape of the Malevolence's true form."

A flash of insight crossed Su Yu's eyes, yet he still harbored a doubt.

"But if what Malevolence says is true, that Evil Gods are undying, then why didn't the Malevolence's true form that arrived on the Ruins Star ten thousand years ago choose to commit suicide to revive in Subspace and gain freedom?"

"Instead, it chose to be bound by Zhang Chenfeng on this Ruins Star, unable to escape."

"This means, the Evil God..."

Su Yu thought of this and quickly walked to the room where the Malevolent Avatar was sealed, looking at the listless form of the Malevolent Avatar.

Su Yu spoke, "I'm very curious, you say you're just a thought, a fragment of Malevolence, not the true form, and observing your previous actions, it's clear you have the ability to end yourself and dissipate this form."

"Yet, you would rather be bound by me than dissipate this thought or this form, choosing instead to be tortured by me. It doesn't make sense."

Upon hearing Su Yu's words, the trembling Ghost Energy Fog suddenly halted.

And Su Yu, observing the Malevolence's actions, became even more certain of his conjectures, saying, "So, it's not that you can't, but you don't want to."

"If I'm not mistaken, your true form must be in a poor state, and even this thought was likely successfully nurtured through the sacrifice of the Ghost Soul High Priest before death."

"Back in the battle with Zhang Chenfeng, coupled with the Ghost Emperor's betrayal, left you bound on this planet for ten thousand years, am I right?"

Su Yu, using the partial information he had, tested the Malevolent Avatar.

The Ghost Soul Fog began to tremble bizarrely, quivering violently.

After a long while, it calmed down, without making any sound, completely different from the previously noisy Malevolence.

But Su Yu knew he guessed right.

After a long silence, the Malevolent Avatar finally spoke.

"Who... are you? Human, how do you know these things? How do you know Zhang Chenfeng?"

"And how do you know so much?"

Upon hearing Malevolence's words, Su Yu didn't answer, instead confirming his previous conjectures based on Malevolence's words.

Su Yu thought to himself, "So, my doubts have dwindled to the last one, which is why the true form of Malevolence wouldn't choose to commit suicide and thus be reborn in Subspace reliant on human emotions."

"As expected, your true form is in such poor condition that even the nurturing of this thought is likely among its few strengths left. So, you dare not easily commit suicide or easily dissipate."

Malevolence seemed to realize, saying, "Human, you tricked me?"

But Su Yu ignored Malevolence's words and continued, "You're afraid to dissipate because once this thought dissipates, the combat scenario and information can't be relayed back to the true form."

"You're scared, you fear me."

"Although you keep saying you're undying, you still fear that another figure like Zhang Chenfeng will appear on the Ruins Star."

"Even your true form probably dares not to die, because once dissipated, for your true form, it's also death," Su Yu said calmly.

Malevolence seemed to be touched on a sore point, saying, "Human, what nonsense are you speaking, you don't understand anything, Evil Gods are undying..."

Malevolence seemed like it wanted to say more, but Su Yu used his grasp of Ghost Energy to firmly seal it, now making even suicide a luxury for the Malevolent Avatar.

"Evil Gods are undying and the emotions of Malevolence will also persist as long as humans exist, but you, you're not undying!"

"Your true form, the Malevolent Evil God, was born in Subspace relying on accumulated human Malevolence emotions, possessing its own thinking ability and memory. And once your true form perishes, the newly born Malevolent Evil God in Subspace probably cannot inherit your true form's memories and thoughts, becoming a brand-new individual born from the accumulated human Malevolence emotions over thousands of years."

Su Yu opened the door and walked toward the completely restrained Malevolent Avatar.

Su Yu articulated, "The Malevolent Evil God is indeed undying. However, you are not."

"Therefore, you dare not die, nor can you die, only to be sealed and shackled on this Ruins Star for ten thousand years."

"Just like this thought of yours sealed by me, once you die, it means true annihilation."

Chapter 309: Brutal Battle Armor Design Blueprint, The Living Mechanical City

"The concept of being undying and unperishable applies to the Emotion Evil Gods, but for each of you who have become individual Evil Gods, the Evil God reborn after death is no longer you." Su Yu said.

"Undying and unperishable Evil Gods? Such a grandiose claim." Su Yu's tone was sarcastic. "The moment you developed thoughts and possessed human emotions, death also became a fear for you. Essentially, you are no different from humans."

"No, to be precise, you, who are born from human emotions, are even less than humans." After saying this, Su Yu spoke no more.

At this moment, the sealed violent fog began to tremble violently, as if it wanted to speak, but under Su Yu's mastery of Ghost Energy, it had long lost the ability to struggle.

The violent doppelganger, thoroughly sealed and controlled by Su Yu, could not move.

Su Yu, through the continuously trembling Ghost Soul Fog of Brutality, had obtained the true answer.

"So, it's indeed like this. In that case, the main body of Brutality is still on this Ruins Star, unable to escape, and in very poor condition, so it is not impossible to handle."

Thinking this, Su Yu reinforced the seal on Brutality again. After ensuring that Brutality couldn't even commit suicide, Su Yu returned to the Core Terminal.

He called up the partially designed blueprint of the Brutal Battle Armor.

"The design of the Brutal Battle Armor can be prioritized. An Evil God like Brutality, even if it's just a doppelganger, should be treated with utmost caution."

Although Su Yu appeared extremely calm and indifferent in front of the Brutal doppelganger before, that was merely to bluff Brutality in order to extract information from it.

For Brutality, which even Apostle-level Mechanic Zhang Chenfeng couldn't solve, Su Yu naturally did not have any disdain.

"Currently, the Brutal doppelganger is completely sealed by my mastery of Ghost Energy and the Flame of Truth. Once the Brutal Battle Armor is manufactured, I can further restrain the Brutal doppelganger with it, thereby turning the Brutal doppelganger into the core energy source of the armor."

"As a Mechanic, my control over Mechanical Creations will also be enhanced, and transforming the Brutal doppelganger into a core energy source will allow me to continuously extract energy from it, thereby restraining the Brutal doppelganger far more effectively than merely sealing it."

With this in mind, Su Yu enlarged the blueprint of the Brutal Battle Armor, summoned the Mechanical Spirit, and said, "Mechanical Spirit, how did your calculations for the material data of the Brutal Battle Armor go?"

In Su Yu's blueprint design, the level of the Brutal Battle Armor far surpasses the excellent grade, and the battle power it can provide is at least as high as the seven-star level.

Given Su Yu's current mechanical technology, designing such a Brutal Battle Armor is ultimately somewhat challenging.

If not for the existence of the Mechanical Spirit, which can assist Su Yu in calculating numerous complex processes, it would likely be impossible for Su Yu to design this Brutal Battle Armor.

"Master, the core of the Brutal Battle Armor is utilizing the Brutal doppelganger, and the main framework can also use the Evil God's Bone left by Brutality. After purification with the Flame of Truth, the material hardness and Ghost Energy compatibility of the Evil God's Bone can perfectly bear Brutality's power."

"However, it's difficult to find materials for other parts of the armor."

Hearing the Mechanical Spirit's words, Su Yu nodded.

The Evil God's Bone is originally part of Brutality's body and can naturally perfectly bear Brutality's power, but in forging the armor, relying solely on those few pieces of Evil God's Bone left by Brutality is ultimately insufficient.

"Mechanical Spirit, bring up the material data from those days I had you test."

"Yes, Master."

The next moment, the projected light and shadows on Su Yu's Core Terminal changed.

A large amount of material data was pulled out one by one by the Mechanical Spirit.

"Master, the special pollution activity of Brutality, ordinary materials might not withstand the energy output from the Brutal Core."

"In terms of materials for other parts of the armor, from the current test data, the best effect comes from the bones of Radiation Beasts above four-star level. Additionally, the carapaces of the Crystal Giant Scorpion and Steel Giant Scorpion can also carry a certain Brutality energy output."

Looking at the test data of various materials projected by the Mechanical Spirit, Su Yu thought inwardly, "Indeed, ordinary materials can't bear the energy output of Brutality, not even Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystal are nearly enough."

"That Radiation Beasts can bear Brutality's energy output is not surprising. After all, the radiation that's been leaking in the Radiation Land over the years has always contained the Ghost Energy of the Ghost Emperor, which has caused the Radiation Beasts to evolve into a form somewhat suitable for Ghost Energy over time."

"Given that, the exploration of Radiation Land needs to be prioritized," Su Yu thought.

"The high-star-level Radiation Beasts living in the Radiation Land are the best materials for forging the Brutal Battle Armor for me. Moreover, now that I've been appointed as a Ghost Shadow Blade, I already have strong resistance to the radiation and Ghost Energy of the Radiation Land; entering the Radiation Land now poses no danger to me, as long as I don't delve into the core areas of the Radiation Ghost City."

At this moment, the Mechanical Spirit issued a prompt: "Master, the envoy group from the War City has arrived at the Mechanical City."

...

Outside the Mechanical City, the envoy group from the War City was awe-struck by the grand steel giant city in front of them.

A large number of transport vehicles continuously moved in and out of various areas of the Mechanical City, and many Cavalry units were expanding the defenses of the Mechanical City along the city walls.

Chapter 310: Brutal Battle Armor Design Blueprint, The Living Mechanical City_2

After the Mechanical Spirit became a true Mechanical Life, the Mechanical City had already undergone a completely new upgrade and transformation by the Mechanical Spirit. In terms of both size and defensive capability, it was several times greater than before.

Yue Cheng stood before the steel gate of the Mechanical City, his heart filled with unparalleled awe.

What shocked him wasn't the magnificence of the Mechanical City. After all, as a large settlement, the War City was already constructed quite grandiose.

"Is this the Mechanical City? In my impression, wasn't this supposed to be the location of Shelter No. 73? How long has it been? Two or three months, and such a gigantic Mechanical City could be built on this Dead Silence Wilderness?"

In Yue Cheng's memory, the current location of the Mechanical City was originally just a small Shelter No. 73, not even the strongest among small settlements.

But now, the Mechanical City before his eyes had replaced the former Shelter No. 73.

Li Changfeng also looked at the Mechanical City before him with a gaze full of incredulity.

As a top-tier six-star Extraordinary of Physical Body, Li Changfeng's vision perceived far more than Yue Cheng did.

"The newly emerged seven-star Transcendent, Su Yu, I suppose this Mechanical City was also constructed by Su Yu alone."

This terrifying speed of construction, coupled with the continuously rotating radars and numerous weapons mounted on the city walls, was sufficient to prove that the Mechanical City before them was by no means just for show.

Li Changfeng pondered: "Such a terrifying Mechanical City, combined with the leftover mechanical creation remnants on the battlefield ruins, all point to the fact that the manager of this Mechanical City, Su Yu, holds extremely strong mechanical technology."

"A seven-star Transcendent possessing such mechanical technology means there are no limits to the expansion or development of the entire Mechanical City."

Li Changfeng could even foresee that the rise of the Mechanical City would be unstoppable.

This Dead Silence Wilderness would soon see the birth of a truly large-scale power.

Shortly, after confirming everyone's identities, the steel gate of the Mechanical City opened.

The envoy group from the War City followed the leading junior cavalry thereafter.

Li Changfeng scrutinized the leading junior cavalry. All the way, Li Changfeng felt this junior cavalry had an extremely high level of intelligence, almost to the point where, in Li Changfeng's view, it seemed hardly distinguishable from a real person.

"With such intelligence, the chip that builds this cavalry must at least be an advanced chip."

"Such mechanical creations are surely rare throughout the whole Mechanical City."

Thinking about this, Li Changfeng followed this junior cavalry all the way forward.

Soon, everyone passed the heavy gate tunnel of the Mechanical City and arrived inside, the view suddenly opened up.

The scene before them immediately left Li Changfeng utterly shocked.

Inside the Mechanical City at this moment, a large number of cavalry were cooperating with the residents of the Mechanical City to implement a brand-new transformation and upgrade on the entire Mechanical City.

The metallic forged ground and numerous steel buildings made from metal, countless conveyors sorting and melting various ores, ultimately transforming them into new blocks of steel metal.

They were then transported throughout the Mechanical City via conveyors, turned into various shapes of metal parts through the cavalry's modifications, and integrated into the transformation of the Mechanical City.

Everything was under the control of the Mechanical Spirit, showing an orderly manner.

After becoming a true Mechanical Life, the Mechanical Spirit had long been able to perfectly coordinate every part of the Mechanical City. Coupled with 1,600 intermediate cavalry manufactured these days, the entire Mechanical City was reviving.

This distinctive scenery is completely different from the War City.

But what truly shocked Li Changfeng wasn't this.

Instead, it was the cavalry who were helping the residents of the Mechanical City construct houses at this moment.

Li Changfeng could easily see that those cavaliers repairing houses had a quality and dexterity several times stronger than the junior cavalry before him.

Even, as observed by Li Changfeng, those intermediate cavalry could perfectly understand the requests of the residents of the Mechanical City—utterly unlike intelligent machines.

On the contrary, they were more like living Mechanical Life!

The Mechanical Spirit had long replicated itself into every cavalry, enhancing each cavalry's computing power to the theoretical limit because of the existence of the Mechanical Spirit.

Li Changfeng remained silent. Originally, he thought that the intelligent level of this leading junior cavalry counted as exceptional within the Mechanical City.

But now, it seemed that such mechanical creations were nothing extraordinary in the entire Mechanical City.

"The Mechanical City truly lives up to its name." Li Changfeng murmured to himself.

Upon hearing Li Changfeng's words, Yue Cheng nodded in agreement: "Indeed, these mechanical creations and the planning of the entire Mechanical City are very perfect."

"I suppose the design of the whole Mechanical City was personally done by that seven-star Transcendent, sir."

However, Li Changfeng was not really convinced by Yue Cheng's words.

Because in Li Changfeng's view, the design of the entire Mechanical City carried a cold mechanical aesthetic, not like human design at all. Instead, it was so perfect that it seemed like the optimal design derived from countless calculations.

Li Changfeng even subconsciously turned back to look at the city walls of the Mechanical City behind, seeing many detection devices on the walls already targeting their envoy group from the War City, seemingly observing and learning from their actions.

From the perspective of Li Changfeng, a six-star Transcendent, the whole Mechanical City hardly seemed like a dead object.

On the contrary, the whole Mechanical City was alive.

Thinking of this, Li Changfeng felt a bit trembling inside, but he quickly dispelled this frightening thought.

At this time, Su Yu inside the Mechanical Space also saw the appearance of Li Changfeng and others through the image projected by the Mechanical Spirit.

"Mechanical Spirit, it seems he has seen you."

Su Yu teased, "Interesting, there is actually such a capable person among this envoy group of War City."

...

"No wonder Commander asked us to establish friendly relations with the Mechanical City." Yue Cheng said to Li Changfeng with emotion.

Li Changfeng hesitated, that strange feeling from before constantly surrounded him. After a moment, he finally said: "Establishing friendly relations may not be enough. If possible, this time we must strive to make the Mechanical City an ally of our War City."

"Even if it means paying some price, it's worth it. The things we brought this time are probably not enough."

Li Changfeng quickly realized that since the rise of the Mechanical City was unstoppable, it would be better to establish friendly relations rather than offending a seven-star Transcendent and a promising Mechanical City.

It would be better to turn the Mechanical City into an ally of the War City.

Hearing Li Changfeng's words, Yue Cheng was a bit stunned, hardly believing it: "Deputy Commander, the things we brought this time should be sufficient for the Mechanical City."

"Two Cultivation Methods, although not the core cultivation methods of War City, are suitable for the public to temper the physical body. Even for large powers, they are exceedingly precious."

To Yue Cheng, the Cultivation Methods brought by War City were already a gesture of great sincerity.

After all, for a newly emerged power like the Mechanical City, Cultivation Methods were usually the most scarce resource.

However, upon hearing Yue Cheng's words, Li Changfeng shook his head.

He said, "Yue Cheng, as the person responsible for the caravan, have you seen such a power in previous transactions? Such mechanical technology?"

"War City possesses abundant resources and a large population, with trading caravans spread across the entire Ruins Star."

"And the Mechanical City before us, with everything to be renewed, probably needs a large amount of resources for development. The mechanical technology possessed by the Mechanical City, along with those mechanical creations, completely qualify it to be an ally of the War City."