Chapter 681: The Peculiar Power of Sunshine, Die Smiling or Live in Agony? _2

In fact, it can't be blamed; it's constantly enduring Hell's Pain, and it's really difficult to maintain rationality.

But no matter how difficult, it must do it!

[King]'s face immediately retracted its look of painful madness, and the wisdom and majesty that originally belonged to it once again prevailed.

Although Su Yu is the enemy, it also feels that it should learn from Su Yu to stay rational in battle and not be affected by pain.

Under its control, the pain, despair, and madness in its consciousness dissipated considerably.

However, this state didn't last even a thousandth of a second before Su Yu broke it, "Haha, are you stupid?"

"I can maintain rationality because rationality can enhance my power."

"But your Power of Pain, the more frenzied and painful it is, the stronger it becomes!"

"Look at yourself; aren't you weakening now?"

Upon hearing Su Yu's words, [King]'s face changed immediately, becoming twisted once again.

Because it indeed felt that with the return of rationality, its power was weakening!

It turns out, even if it wanted to learn from Su Yu, it couldn't do it! Its fate is to endure endless Hell's Pain!

Realizing this fact, the pain surged in its heart again, and the power in its body also strengthened accordingly.

Seeing this, Su Yu laughed, "That's right!"

"Very good, keep it up; I'm going to take action now!"

"Your Power of Pain would leave me in agony and despair, but my Power of Sunshine can make you comfortable and rational; this is your benefit, enjoy it!"

Amid Su Yu's laughter, the light on his body exploded, condensing into a beam of energy and blasting towards [King].

While conversing with [King], he was actually gathering power all along and purging the Power of Hell that had just invaded his body.

Now that he felt the accumulation was sufficient, he launched a fierce attack!

Boom boom boom boom!

The sound and light of explosions merged into one, and the entire Manifestation Space was shrouded in the glow of explosions.

Only the vague shadows of Su Yu and [King] could be seen.

Behind Su Yu, nine light spheres rose.

Each light sphere was formed of extremely condensed Power of Sunshine.

Each one was firing energy beams at [King] at a rate of a hundred thousand times per second.

[King] was battered and forced to retreat by these terrifying beams.

At this moment, Su Yu had an endless supply of Power of Sunshine, unlike before when he used his fists in such primitive ways.

Now Su Yu directly used energy condensed into beams, bombarding relentlessly!

Each beam Su Yu fired was immensely powerful, capable of killing a Seven-star Transcendent!

Moreover, at a frequency of seventy thousand times per second.

This kind of power is simply unbelievable!

If there were an army composed of Seven-star Transcendents, they would likely be wiped out by Su Yu in an instant, leaving no one behind.

At this moment, Su Yu was indeed extremely powerful.

Just like a heavy machine gun facing a charge of ordinary soldiers; as long as there are bullets and barrels, it is an endless massacre.

In the face of absolute power, numbers seem meaningless.

After all, Su Yu's power now was close to the Fifth Rank, close to Planet-Level!

The higher the rank of a Transcendent, the greater the gap.

Even a large number of Seven-star Transcendents would be helpless against the current Su Yu, only to be endlessly blasted to death by the beams!

[King] already had Fourth-Order Top power, and after fusing with the Power of Pain, its power increased further, nearing Fifth Rank.

And Su Yu could suppress it, naturally making him Fourth-Order Top, close to Fifth Rank.

Having such terrifying power is not surprising.

Of course, if there really was an army of powerful Seven-star beings, they surely wouldn't charge mindlessly in thousands but rather like the Fusion People, form formations, and merge powers, not allowing Su Yu to slaughter them at will.

There are certainly more than one way to merge the powers of many Spiritual Users.

Even the Mechanical Race earlier could form the Pain Domain, and if there were enough, even Su Yu would find it troublesome.

But now [King] is alone, naturally unable to form any military formation.

Under Su Yu's terrifying onslaught, in a short period, the body of [King] was bombarded beyond recognition.

And strangely enough, there wasn't a painful look on [King]'s face; instead, it was as if it was bathed in the spring breeze, seemingly very comfortable.

This was because, although Su Yu's Power of Sunshine hit its body, injuring it, there was no pain at all.

Instead, it felt like the sunlight of spring shining on its body, making it feel comfortable all over, and filling its heart with courage and conviction.

With this courage and conviction, [King] suppressed the endless pain, temporarily escaping from Hell's Pain.

So facing Su Yu's attack, not only did it not resist, but rather enjoyed it.

This was similar to when Su Yu was previously invaded by the Power of Pain.

At that time, Su Yu's body was filled with pain, so numb that he couldn't move.

Now, [King] was not unable to move but unwilling to move.

Too comfortable, too enjoyable!

One was pain, the other was enjoyment.

In such enjoyment, the momentary rationality that [King] just maintained was thrown beyond the clouds.

It felt that if it could continue like this, even being beaten to death by Su Yu wouldn't matter.

"Hehe, this Power of Sunshine is quite wicked, making it willing to take a beating!"

"Look at how much it's enjoying it; it's getting off easy!"

Seeing this, Su Yu felt a bit speechless inside.

This Power of Sunshine looked upright but was actually quite a bit of an evil energy.

To make an enemy enjoy smilingly to death, if this isn't wicked, what is?

And because [King] was enjoying Su Yu's attack, its pain weakened, and as a result, its power also declined, so naturally, the injuries grew worse.

In a brief period, most of [King]'s body was annihilated.

Meanwhile, Su Yu felt his Power of Sunshine growing stronger!

It seems this Power of Sunshine can also erode the enemy, gaining energy replenishment from the enemy's enjoyment.

This is similar to, yet opposite of, the Power of Hell.

The Power of Hell draws other lives into hell to share pain and thus gains strength.

But Su Yu's Power of Sunshine draws people into "heaven," sharing "happiness," and can also gain strength.

In fact, the Power of Sunshine Su Yu used initially was also obtained from others.

Su Yu helped many humans before, and those humans sincerely appreciated and thanked Su Yu, with this force of genuine faith turning into Su Yu's original reserve of Power of Sunshine.

It was like a gift given to Su Yu by others.

Now, as Su Yu bombarded [King] with the Power of Sunshine, gaining strength from it was actually a forced invasion, altering [King]'s mental state.

This was much more domineering, much more wicked, not a gift at all but a forcible robbery.

"Is this the true use of the Power of Sunshine? This way, I don't need to constantly maintain a disruptive mental state; I only need to control the erosion of enemies."

"Indeed, it's one and the same with the Power of Hell, both equally wicked!"

Although Su Yu's power was increasing, he felt a slight chill inside.

Because with the enhancement of the Power of Sunshine, Su Yu even felt an impulse to pull more life into the Power of Sunshine, letting them gain endless pleasure in the heaven constructed by the Power of Sunshine, while providing Su Yu with endless power!

In this way, Su Yu might really gain the power of the Fifth Rank, breaking through restrictions and heading into the vast universe.

But soon, Su Yu suppressed this impulse.

This Power of Sunshine was too wicked, able to make strong enemies willingly die, enjoying death!

Previously thinking there were righteous gods in this world, but now it seems if there truly were a Power of Sunshine, it wouldn't be all that righteous either.

At this time, [King] had been bombarded by Su Yu into just half a head left.

At this rate, it would inevitably die.

But at this moment, [King] seemed to sense the danger and suddenly opened its eyes, "No! I don't want to die!"

"Pain, I need more pain!"

[King] awakened at the last moment, shouting.

Various painful memories flashed through its consciousness, forcibly suppressing the comfort and enjoyment.

It let itself fall into hell once again.

Its power began to recover, resisting Su Yu's attacks.

Compared to dying with a smile, it chose to live in pain!

Chapter 682: The Ultimate Contest of Wills!

At this moment, the [King] genuinely accepted Hell and embraced pain for the first time.

Previously, when it fused with the Power of Hell, it was somewhat reluctant.

But now it actively embraced it.

It had no choice; if it didn't accept, Su Yu would kill it.

The current [King], in order to escape the influence of the Power of Sunshine, willingly descended into Hell, much like Su Yu before.

However, at that time, Su Yu descended into Hell to face death and then revive, first entering Hell and then awakening the Power of Sunshine, breaking free and greatly increasing his strength.

But now, the [King] is different.

This time, it willingly descended into Hell eternally, with no possibility of escape.

Because this time, it actively accepted and fused even deeper with the Power of Hellish Suffering.

Even the Power of Sunshine from Su Yu couldn't liberate it now.

As it completely merged with the Power of Pain, the [King]'s damaged mecha instantly began to recover.

Because...the body is the vessel of pain!

With a body, more pain can be generated.

Conversely, even without a body, as long as there is enough pain, a body can be formed!

This newly born body is specifically for the [King] to experience even more intense pain!

This new body is ten to a hundred times more sensitive to any pain than its previous form!

Correspondingly, such intense pain will naturally also enhance the [King]'s power!

"Tsk tsk, truly ruthless!"

Seeing this, Su Yu nodded slightly in admiration.

He could also see how tragic the [King]'s current state was.

And then...

Boom!

Behind Su Yu, the nine spheres condensed from the Power of Sunshine suddenly merged, releasing a blazing beam.

This beam moved at a frequency slower than all previous attacks.

Su Yu utilized a technique of ultimate energy efficiency to condense all the Power of Sunshine into one powerful burst!

This strike required charging, taking approximately one-hundredth of a second.

With Su Yu's current surge in power, his mastery of ultimate efficiency far surpassed before.

However, it still required one-hundredth of a second to charge up, and the previous battle rhythm was too fast to allow for any charging time.

But anyway, the [King] was concentrating on forming a new body, too busy to evade, so Su Yu could safely gather energy, determined to destroy the [King] with one strike!

In the next moment, Su Yu's sunlight beam had already hit the [King]'s mecha!

This strike, due to its ultimate efficiency, had almost no energy leakage or wastage; all the energy was focused on the [King]'s mecha.

There was no explosion, only the sight of the [King]'s mecha melting rapidly under the sunlight, like snow meeting fire, dissipating.

Its mecha had not yet been fully rebuilt and was completely incapable of resisting Su Yu's attack.

"Ah..."

Facing Su Yu's attack, it let out an earth-shattering scream!

As if after fully accepting the Power of Pain, the Power of Sunshine could no longer provide comfort, only endless suffering!

After the scream, the [King]'s mecha completely vanished!

Su Yu looked at the empty space before him, a little confused. Is this the end? Has the [King] been killed by him?

But...where is the [King]'s mecha remains? Did it die so completely?

Crucially, Su Yu's ritual required the remnants of the [King]'s mecha to create his own Giant God Soldier Mecha. Now there is nothing left; how is the ritual supposed to be completed?

Just as Su Yu was at a loss for words, a wisp of black smoke suddenly emerged from the empty void before him.

"Is the [King] not thoroughly dead yet?..."

Instead of fear, Su Yu was pleased!

Sure enough, that wisp of black smoke quickly expanded, in no time condensing into a cloud of black mist.

The black mist swiftly solidified, turning into the [King]'s mecha.

"Su Yu! You can't kill me! I have now truly fused with Hell. As long as there is pain in this world, I will never die, hahahah..."

The resurrected [King] let out a burst of laughter.

"You mean, you can't even release yourself now?"

With a smile, Su Yu spoke softly.

The [King]'s laughter immediately froze.

Indeed, the former king still had the option of dying if it could not withstand the torment of Hell.

But now, it seems that option is gone.

It's actually immortal; Su Yu confirmed earlier that all of the [King]'s aura had vanished, yet it could still be reborn, and its memory was intact.

This means it can never escape this endless torment of Hell.

In such a situation, the [King] could still laugh, and Su Yu couldn't help but feel a bit of respect.

However, upon hearing Su Yu's words, it was evident that the [King] also realized the sorrow of this situation and could no longer laugh.

"...Su Yu! I am immortal, rest assured, I will have plenty of time to slowly torment you..."

Enraged by Su Yu's smile, the [King] gritted its teeth.

Boom!

Before it finished speaking, a black beam already pierced through Su Yu!

"This..."

Su Yu looked down at the large hole in his chest, a bit stunned.

That black beam just now, he could barely react to it!

The [King] has become even stronger!

Now every attack of Su Yu, every taunt, gives it greater pain, greater power, and greater vitality!

Thus, it stands in an unbeatable position!

However, how could Su Yu possibly be afraid?

"Nothing is immortal, even the Universe has a day of demise!"

Chapter 683: The Ultimate Contest of Wills!_2

Su Yu whispered.

Facing such a powerful [King], an infinite fighting spirit surged in Su Yu's heart.

His Power of Sunshine increased endlessly along with it! The large hole in his chest was rapidly repairing!

Then, without waiting for it to fully heal, Su Yu suddenly pounced towards the [King].

A man and a machine, crazily entwined in combat.

This time their battle was far more intense than before.

Punches, kicks, and energy beams flew wildly, each attack tearing the opponent's body to shreds, only to quickly regenerate again!

However, in comparison, the [King] was still stronger; its Power of Pain was truly endless. Every time it was attacked, it grew more painful and more powerful.

In contrast, Su Yu could only muster his courage and fighting spirit with all his might to continuously generate the Power of Sunshine, barely able to contend with the [King].

Though at a disadvantage, Su Yu managed to persist without falling, seeming as if he could keep holding out!

Boom!

It was unclear how much time had passed.

All the buildings, mountains, and rivers in the Manifestation Space were already destroyed by the aftermath of the battle between the [King] and Su Yu. The entire Manifestation Space was empty, only a pale desolation remained.

Because in this Manifestation Space, almost all the buildings, mountains, and rivers were products of data manifestation. These things had just been shattered in the shocking battle between Su Yu and the [King].

Su Yu and the [King] both possessed Fourth-Order Top strength. After such a battle, what could withstand it?

At this moment, the Manifestation Space was like a game scene without properly rendered textures, vast and empty.

In this desolation, Su Yu and the [King] stood facing each other.

At this point, the [King]'s mech had grown close to a kilometer high, approaching the prior Radiant Mecha!

Its entire body emanated a terrifying, majestic aura, along with boundless Hellish pain.

The Light-Cast Giant that Su Yu had transformed into was much smaller in comparison to the [King], and from the outside, much more battered.

Much of the flesh on Su Yu's body had already disappeared, nearly reduced to a skeleton by the [King]!

This skeleton, though light-cast, was now stained with deep black.

On the skeleton, strands of light-cast flesh were slowly regenerating, but the speed was slow; it was unclear when it would return to its original state.

Evidently, Su Yu was gravely injured, his skeleton wavering, struggling even to stand.

"Su Yu, you are not my opponent! Your Power of Sunshine requires faith for support, how long can you hold out?"

The [King] spoke with a majestic voice, looking down from above.

Su Yu had been fighting with the [King] solely relying on his willpower.

Each time he was about to be defeated by the [King], Su Yu would muster faith and fighting spirit, transforming it into the Power of Sunshine to heal wounds and replenish strength.

But faith and fighting spirit aren't endless. Su Yu ultimately is human; his mind will tire, and his will weaken.

Su Yu was clearly beginning to weaken, unable even to fully heal his injuries.

Yet the [King]'s Power of Pain indeed seemed endless, growing stronger as the battle continued! With not even a scratch!

Su Yu, hearing this, without much flesh on his head that resembled a light-cast skeleton, let out a laugh:

"Haha, what about you?"

"Your Power of Pain, although growing as the battle goes on, also means you suffer more the longer it drags on. How long can you manage?"

Su Yu could see it too. At this moment, though the [King] was exceedingly powerful, its mech strength possibly approaching the Fifth Rank.

But its mech was subtly trembling.

Because for the [King], every ounce of power was exchanged for pain.

The stronger it became, the more painful it was.

It was also relying on its will to fight this extreme pain!

"Certainly longer than you!"

Having been exposed by Su Yu, the [King] was instantly enraged, possibly due to the pain.

With a flicker of its form, Su Yu didn't even see where the attack came from before being blasted away!

Su Yu's body was hurled into the Boundary of the Manifestation Space, his light-cast skeleton covered in cracks.

This strike from the [King] dealt significant damage to him!

And it wasn't just one strike!

In an instant, the [King] had already pursued to the boundary, launching a torrential storm of attacks upon Su Yu!

Striking harder and harder! Su Yu couldn't even keep up with the [King]'s speed at this point, let alone fight back!

Yet Su Yu was still laughing: "Good hit! Let's see just how long you can hold on!"

In Su Yu's heart, there was only one belief; he must endure longer than [King]!

He absolutely could not fall before [King]!

Supported by this belief, each time Su Yu's skeleton was about to shatter, it would regenerate a bit. Though just a small amount, it could never completely break.

On the [King]'s end, although its strength continued to grow, its trembling intensified.

Evidently enduring too much pain, it was becoming unbearable.

They weren't competing in strength any longer, but in willpower!

To see who would give in first!

After an indeterminate amount of time, Su Yu suddenly felt that the [King]'s increasingly powerful attacks actually began to weaken.

Su Yu burst into laughter: "You can't hold on anymore!"

And the [King] didn't even respond. It was in such pain that it had no spare energy to speak, only mechanically launching attacks at Su Yu.

"Had enough beating yet? Now it's my turn!"

Su Yu's skeleton-like body suddenly exploded with a blinding light!

This was the power Su Yu had been secretly accumulating earlier, waiting for this moment to launch a counterattack!

Under this light, the [King] screamed again, its entire body convulsing fiercely.

Su Yu's charged attack actually did limited damage to it.

But the pain brought by the Power of Sunshine caused it great damage.

It had already reached its limit, and now stimulated by Su Yu's charged Power of Sunshine, under such immense pain, it could no longer withstand!

With a roar, its kilometer-high body crashed down, collapsing heavily into the data torrents outside the Boundary of the Manifestation Space.

Collapsed, it continued to tremble uncontrollably, clearly in unbearable pain, close to writhing on the ground.

"I won..."

Su Yu looked at the fallen [King], a joyful smile emerging.

In the end, this battle was his victory! He fought and won against this millennia-old Mechanical Race with sheer willpower!

Will is something related to age, yet unrelated as well.

Though the [King] lived for millennia, Su Yu was young and vigorous, when it comes to willpower, who was afraid of whom?

Having directly defeated such a formidable enemy, Su Yu couldn't help but look up at the sky, once again feeling that extreme joy of victory.

Su Yu had felt this joy before when defeating the Brutal Split Mind and during the trials with the Giant God Soldier Mecha.

Now, this feeling was even clearer.

Because those were memories, but this moment was real.

"Truly exhilarating!"

Su Yu sighed in satisfaction, and in this victorious joy, he felt all the previous hardships and dangers were worth it.

How many times in a lifetime can one engage in such all-out battles, and how many times can one feel such post-victory joy?

However, just as Su Yu was savoring the joy of victory, the fallen [King]'s mech continued to grow stronger!

Because its pain had not stopped!

The stronger, the more painful, the more painful, the stronger!

"Not good, it's going to explode!"

Su Yu immediately noticed the situation's danger.

[King] had already been overwhelmed by endless Hellish Pain, incapable of controlling this power.

And this power was still growing uncontrollably. At this rate, an enormous explosion was bound to happen!

Equivalent to a Fourth-Order Top strong individual, fully self-destructing, the power of that...

Su Yu dared not delay, quickly waving his hand to release a large number of materials, metals, minerals, and even ready-made components.

"What are you trying to do, Su Yu? No..."

Though [King] had lost the ability to act, its consciousness remained clear, noticing Su Yu's actions, it managed to ask.

But why would Su Yu bother paying attention to it? He casually fired another Radiant Beam to silence it.

Then Su Yu activated the Mechanic ability on his own.

All the materials, metals, minerals, and components around him automatically levitated, orbiting and rotating around Su Yu, each melting and transforming into complete parts, structures, and systems.

These parts and structures subtly formed a tall mech!

Giant God Soldier Mecha!

Chapter 684: Research on Hell Furnace, Hell Prototype

This Giant God Soldier Mecha looks different on the outside from the ones Su Yu had encountered before.

It actually resembles the Radiant Mecha that appeared earlier!

In fact, this is what Su Yu crafted according to the blueprint of the Radiant Mecha, with some modifications to the details.

"You... what are you trying to... do..."

Beside him, the King, who was writhing in agony on the ground, managed to focus a bit of consciousness on Su Yu's actions.

"Of course, to complete the Fourth-Order Ceremony using you!"

Su Yu casually responded, then unleashed another blast of Power of Sunshine onto the King.

The King screamed in agony and could no longer speak.

Then Su Yu continued to focus on crafting the mecha and finishing the ceremony!

His ceremony required defeating a Fourth-Order Transcendent head-on, and then crafting a mecha from the enemy's remains.

Now he was halfway done, but the rest had to be completed quickly, or else the King might explode.

Whether or not the King would die in the explosion, Su Yu did not know, but in his current state, he feared he could not withstand the power of the self-destruction.

So it had to be fast!

Su Yu's plan was to use the King as the Energy Core of the Giant God Soldier Mecha, similar to the Hell Furnace from before.

With the mecha absorbing and channeling the King's Pain Energy, it should prevent an explosion from happening.

Instead, this massive energy could greatly enhance the battle power of the Giant God Soldier Mecha!

It's important to know that the King was a Fourth-Order Top existence, close to Fifth Rank, and now had so much energy it was nearly exploding.

Using it as the Energy Core, how strong would the new mecha be?

Such a powerful mecha required more than just a standard Giant God Soldier Mecha model, so Su Yu directly used the newly acquired Radiant Blueprint!

This was a blueprint for a Fifth Rank Mecha, surely capable of handling all the King's power.

However, Su Yu made some modifications to the Radiant Blueprint.

Of course, it's not an improvement, he doesn't have that ability yet, but he simplified the Radiant Blueprint.

Because many of the components in the Radiant Blueprint required too high demands on technology, energy, and materials.

Su Yu couldn't fully meet those requirements and couldn't even understand them.

So he simplified as much as possible, skipping over what he couldn't understand or meet, replacing them with parts from ordinary Giant God Soldier Mechas.

Despite possible dissonance, it could be optimized slowly later.

The key now was to craft the mecha as quickly as possible!

Su Yu pushed his abilities and thoughts to the limit, with various materials spinning rapidly around him, quickly forming into various components.

For the past few days, he had been practicing mecha forging, becoming very skilled.

At the same time, he employed the ability of the Manifestation Mechanic as an aid.

First, he used Data Manifestation to manifest the framework, then filled it with materials to form parts.

This way, the speed increased even further.

In just a few minutes, a five-hundred-meter giant mecha prototype was already crafted!

This speed was simply incredible!

Su Yu was also going all out, with his mind and Spiritual Energy running at high speed, his entire body emitted a solar-like heat.

This was running his own limits, the load too great. Even during the fight with the King, he hadn't reached such intensity.

In the earlier battle with the King, it was mainly a contest of will and faith, but now it's about strong cognitive computing and Spiritual Energy, racing against time.

Even so, without Su Yu currently being in the Light-Cast Giant state with Fourth-Order power, it wouldn't be possible to be this fast!

As soon as the mecha prototype was completed, Su Yu immediately glanced at the King.

Finding that it needed a few more minutes before self-detonating, Su Yu felt slightly relieved, and with a gesture, summoned something nearby: the Hell Furnace.

This item, also a Fifth Rank Mechanical Creation, had not been destroyed in the aftermath of the recent battle.

However, it had long been ruined by the Radiant Mecha and no longer had its original function.

Su Yu brought it over to study its principles.

After all, this thing could be used to drive the Radiant Mecha with the Power of Pain.

Su Yu intended to use the King to drive the Giant God Soldier Mecha, naturally using the Hell Furnace as a reference.

This was another daunting task, analyzing the principles of a Fifth Rank Mechanical Creation in a short time is no easy feat.

Yet Su Yu had a way, his thoughts shifted, and the Radiant Blueprint in his mind faded, transforming into the structural information of the Subspace Analyzer.

His form became somewhat flickering, this was a sign of being quantumized.

Su Yu had previously obtained the complete blueprint of the Subspace Analyzer from the Mechanical God, and now, with his power and cognitive capacity greatly increased, he could actively enter a quantumized state without the special environment within the Subspace Analyzer!

Within the Subspace Analyzer, there's a mechanical device specifically for constructing a quantum environment.

Now having acquired the blueprint for that device, Su Yu could use Data Manifestation to create a simplified version to generate a quantum environment to enter quantumization.

Su Yu intended to use the state of quantumization, the capability of the Subspace Analyzer, extreme computational power, and Future Vision to analyze the Hell Furnace.

The analytical ability in a quantum state was extremely strong and almost did not consume time, making it perfect for the current situation.

In fact, using the Power of Machine God to view future destiny would be easier.

Chapter 685: Researching Hell Furnace, Hell Prototype_2

But since the beginning of the great battle, the Mechanical God has been stabilizing the Manifestation Space, and it's likely reached its limit by now.

Moreover, Su Yu is completing a ritual right now, and using the Power of Machine God might affect the outcome of the ritual, so he can only rely on himself.

His quantumization relies on the knowledge in his mind and his own energy, which shouldn't be considered as borrowing external power.

After completing quantumization, Su Yu didn't immediately analyze the Hell Furnace; instead, he looked at his own body with some curiosity.

Because he discovered that he was still in the form of the Light-Cast Giant, which was quite peculiar.

When he transformed into the Light-Cast Giant, it was by relying on the blueprint of the Radiant Mecha in his mind, using the power of that blueprint to successfully transform.

But now, Su Yu's mind was filled with the diagrams of the Subspace Analyzer.

Logically, Su Yu should have transformed into the Subspace Analyzer, yet he did not.

Su Yu couldn't figure out what was happening.

He could only speculate that transforming into the Light-Cast Giant and transforming into the Subspace Analyzer were not based on the same principle.

Su Yu could transform into the Subspace Analyzer because after becoming quantumized, he needed to maintain his state through [Self Observation].

In other words, whatever he subconsciously believed he was, his Probability Cloud would collapse into that form.

And his mind was filled with data from the Subspace Analyzer, which made him subconsciously believe he was the Subspace Analyzer, so he transformed into the Subspace Analyzer.

As for the transformation into the Light-Cast Giant, that was an unsolved mystery.

A myriad of analyses flashed through Su Yu's mind, and he just put the problem aside for now.

He needed to quickly analyze the Hell Furnace; the matter of the Light-Cast Giant could wait for later.

Su Yu immediately turned his gaze towards the Hell Furnace.

At first glance, Su Yu couldn't help but turn his head away, but in the next instant, he forcibly turned his head back.

A look of twisted pain appeared on his face, but he remained steadfast, refusing to look away.

Although outwardly still the Light-Cast Giant, Su Yu was essentially already the Subspace Analyzer.

Thus, his analytical and observational abilities had greatly increased.

Now, when he looked at the Hell Furnace, he could see beyond its exterior and perceive deeper elements, including Hell's geology and the essence of pain.

Just by looking, he experienced intense and extreme pain, far more severe than when invaded by the power of the [King]!

After all, the Hell Furnace is a fifth rank creation, and in terms of the Power of Pain's intensity, it surpasses the [King]!

In just an instant, Su Yu's mind seemed to split into thousands of personalities, each tasting various tortures in Hell.

His body trembled, yet his mind still operated quickly, struggling to analyze the principles of the Hell Furnace.

Thanks to his ability to foresee the future, his computational power was terrifying.

In just a moment, he analyzed billions of times, and merely analyzing data would not cause his Probability Cloud to spread and turn him into a quantum madman.

This allowed him to analyze and study freely.

However, the more he calculated and analyzed, the more he sensed Hell's Pain.

Fortunately, by remaining in the form of the Light-Cast Giant, he could resist the pain with the Power of Sunshine. Otherwise, he would not have been able to hold on.

Hu!

In just a minute, Su Yu let out a sharp breath and shifted his gaze away.

The Hell's Pain was too intense, and even the Power of Sunshine couldn't withstand it, forcing him to cease.

Fortunately, within that minute, Su Yu, through the ability to foresee the future, had already deciphered part of the fundamental principles of the Hell Furnace.

Now, he could use these principles to craft the Mecha's Energy Core.

"These insights should be enough!"

Su Yu murmured to himself and then de-quantumized, looking at the [King] lying beside him.

"First, a [Hell] needs to be constructed."

Su Yu's gaze turned heavy, and he reached out his Light-Cast Giant hand towards the [King].

The Power of Sunshine burst forth, enveloping the [King].

"Ah!"

The [King]'s scream rang out once more.

The [King]'s will was originally strong enough, but now it had been tortured to the point where it could no longer move and had to rely on its will to barely hold on without making a sound.

However, Su Yu's Power of Sunshine was too intense a stimulus for it to endure.

As the [King] screamed, the strength of the Power of Pain upon it grew rapidly, and in less than a minute, it might explode!

And Su Yu, right beside it, naturally couldn't withstand the power of the explosion.

Yet Su Yu ignored such a risk and continued to stimulate the [King] with the Power of Sunshine, causing it even more pain.

At the same time, Su Yu adjusted his mindset to fill his heart with sadistic desire.

He wanted to derive pleasure and joy from the [King]'s painful struggle.

This was the theory Su Yu had learned from the [Hell Furnace].

To utilize the Power of Pain without allowing it to explode, one must first be able to control it.

The key to controlling the Power of Pain is to awaken the [Heart of Pain].

The so-called Heart of Pain is a special type of emotional desire.

It requires a cruel mindset to torture other life forms and gain a morbid pleasure from their pain and despair.

In other words, Su Yu had to first cultivate the Power of Pain himself to control and utilize it.

Based on the information he obtained from the Hell Furnace, this cultivation of the Power of Pain seemed not to require any specific professional foundation.

As long as one is a Spiritual User, there's a chance to cultivate it.

However, it seems to depend on one's [aptitude].

If one lacks aptitude and cannot awaken the Heart of Pain, they can never master this power.

Honestly, this kind of cultivation is extremely twisted, and if it weren't absolutely necessary, Su Yu wouldn't try it.

But there's no other choice, the [King] is about to explode, and being twisted is better than getting blown up.

Moreover, with a malicious being like the [King], Su Yu felt no psychological burden torturing it.

In fact, Su Yu was quite willing to torment it.

So in just a short time, Su Yu entered the right state of mind.

Originally, Su Yu found the [King]'s screams a bit noisy, but now they suddenly seemed... somewhat pleasant to the ears?

Su Yu instinctively wanted to apply more force, making it scream even louder.

As this mindset emerged, a strange power began to coalesce within Su Yu.

A black sphere appeared out of nowhere in front of Su Yu.

"This is the Hell Prototype..."

Su Yu looked at this black sphere and knew that he had succeeded.

This black sphere was formed by using the Heart of Pain to contain the Power of Pain, thereby creating a [Hell Prototype].

With this Hell Prototype, he could accommodate the Power of Pain without being corroded by it.

Within a few seconds, Su Yu succeeded, yet he didn't feel any joy; instead, he wore a peculiar expression.

Looks like his aptitude for the Power of Pain is exceptionally high...

One could say he's a peerless talent.

"Calm down, calm down..."

Su Yu used the Power of Nihilism to slightly quell his sadistic desires, then looked at the [King] on the ground.

He understood that the [King] was likely close to the Hell Prototype's bursting point, unable to contain so much Power of Pain.

Now, Su Yu's task was to use his own Hell Prototype to accommodate the excess pain, preventing an explosion from occurring.

Meanwhile, he couldn't let the [King] truly be relieved; it must remain teetering on the edge of pain and death.

The difficulty of this task was extremely high.

Su Yu needed to be more advanced than the [King] in his cultivation of the Power of Pain, with a Hell Prototype more capacious and resilient!

Only this way could he completely suppress the [King], ensuring it could never rise again.

But the [King] had studied the Power of Pain for thousands of years; how could Su Yu, who just obtained the method, be more formidable?

Yet Su Yu had a feeling he could indeed be stronger than the [King]!

"Why? Why do I feel that as long as I'm willing, I can surpass the [King] in the path of Pain?"

"Could it be that I'm a genius in this aspect?"

"Being a genius in such a sinister power is certainly not a good thing..."

Chapter 686: You Have No Talent! Giant God Soldier Mecha: Hell!

Su Yu knew that no matter the domain, geniuses always exist.

In the Transcendent domain, naturally, there are also geniuses.

Previously, Su Yu used the Power of Machine God to accelerate training, allowing himself to rise from eight-star to nine-star peak in just a few days.

This accelerated training is essentially adjusting destiny, putting oneself into a state of "enlightenment."

In this state of enlightenment, training for an hour can be equivalent to a month, or even a year, ten years, or a century.

Some people may not need any assistance from the Power of Machine God to enter this state of enlightenment on their own.

Such individuals are the so-called geniuses of the ages.

Su Yu originally thought he didn't have such talent, but now he realizes he didn't lack it; he just didn't find the right domain.

He seems to be a genius in the domain of the Power of Hellish Suffering.

[Kong] has studied the Power of Pain for ten thousand years, so what?

Su Yu, having just started, can be stronger than him!

This strength is not in power, but in essence.

Although Su Yu has not tried it yet, he has a strong feeling that with a single thought, in less than a minute, the Hell Prototype he forms could accommodate [Kong]'s power.

If this efficiency doesn't qualify as genius, what does?

"So, there's another reason for the prophecy of my guaranteed victory."

"If I were completely eroded by [Kong]'s Power of Pain, I might instantly become the Hell Pain Demon God and devour him instead."

At the same time, Su Yu realized something else.

In the prophecy Su Yu received earlier, this battle was destined for his victory.

But in the recent battle, it required a contest of will, using willpower to gather the Power of Sunshine and clash with Kong.

Yet willpower is such an uncontrollable thing with a vast range of fluctuations.

If Su Yu showed weakness and couldn't withstand the pain, he could completely sink into the Hell's Pain, with no chance of rising again.

The human will is a very unstable thing.

Although Su Yu was confident in his willpower, no one could say for sure, and he could potentially fail.

This made the prophecy seem somewhat unreliable.

It couldn't simply mean that even if [Kong] won, he would let Su Yu go? That seemed impossible.

Or perhaps the prophecy could be changed, and Su Yu's victory wasn't truly guaranteed?

Now, Su Yu finally understood.

Even if he really sank into Hell, he wouldn't lose; he would become stronger instead.

Because Su Yu is a peerless genius in the Path of Hellish Suffering!

So he is destined to win, having nothing to do with willpower.

However, regarding this talent, Su Yu didn't feel any joy, but rather a sense of speechlessness.

It was like a regular person who was ordinary all their life, suddenly discovering one day that they were born to be a serial killer.

Having outstanding talent in becoming a serial killer... one can imagine that such a person's mood wouldn't be positive.

Before this, Su Yu's talent in Spiritual Energy was actually quite average.

His ability to quickly enhance his strength mainly relied on the Profession Panel and various opportunities.

If he relied solely on his meditation training, Su Yu might not have even broken through four stars by now.

So, in terms of Spiritual Energy talent, Su Yu could be considered an "ordinary person."

But in this twisted and perverse domain of Hell's Pain, Su Yu's talent far surpassed [Kong], who had studied for ten thousand years.

"Forget it, having talent isn't my fault either."

Su Yu pondered for a moment, slightly shook his head, and decided not to dwell on this matter.

At this moment, because of Su Yu's contemplation, his torment of [Kong] slightly eased.

[Kong] barely managed to split a thread of consciousness, and seeing Su Yu shaking his head, suddenly laughed loudly: "Su Yu, you indeed have some skill to have obtained the formation aspect of the Hell Prototype from the Hell Furnace."

"But you dream of forming the Hell Prototype to accommodate my Power of Pain? You're dreaming!"

"I have walked this path for ten thousand years, and you have just started. How could you possibly surpass me?"

"Ha ha, just wait, I will soon self-destruct! I am immortal, and you, can you withstand it?"

"Ha..."

[Kong], although tortured by pain, still deciphered Su Yu's intentions.

Seeing Su Yu shake his head, he naturally assumed Su Yu was at a loss, so he loudly mocked to retaliate against Su Yu and alleviate his own pain.

[Kong] thought he would see the look of pain and despair in Su Yu's eyes, but he was disappointed.

In pain and despair, it was still himself.

A moment later, he could no longer laugh.

Because Su Yu's expression darkened, his gaze exuding a fiercely cruel, dark aura.

The Hell Prototype in front of Su Yu rapidly expanded, growing larger than [Kong] in a short time.

This Hell Prototype is essentially not the Power of Pain but a condensation of dark and cruel emotions.

Only when such emotions are strong enough can it produce and accommodate more powerful pain.

And Su Yu had enough talent in such emotions to casually form the Hell Prototype, allowing it to rapidly intensify.

Then this Hell Prototype began to envelop [Kong].

Seeing this scene, [Kong], who had just been laughing wildly, suddenly widened his eyes in astonishment.

As Su Yu's Hell Prototype was about to encase him, he finally reacted, shouting in panic: "Impossible, how can it be? How can your Hell Prototype be this strong? It's actually stronger than mine!"

"Clearly, you've just started, so how can this be happening?"

Upon hearing this, Su Yu's eyes grew even darker with cruelty, and he smiled slightly, appearing somewhat sinister: "What's so impossible about this?"

Chapter 687: You Have No Talent! Giant God Soldier Mecha: Hell!_2

"The reason is simple, you don't have talent."

As soon as this was said, the [King], who was frantically screaming, immediately fell silent.

In fact, with its intelligence, it should have instantly thought of this possibility. Su Yu is a genius, so even at the beginner level, he is stronger.

But it simply couldn't believe it, nor did it want to believe it.

It has delved into the Path of Hell for ten thousand years, at great cost, even going as far as to willingly accept the Power of Pain, completely fusing with Hell, never able to escape.

Having paid so much, yet still being inferior to Su Yu, who just started a minute or two ago, how could it possibly accept and believe that?

Yet, Su Yu's sentence, "You don't have talent," completely shattered the [King]'s struggle, pulling it back to reality.

Yes, it doesn't have talent, in the Path of Hellish Suffering, it lacks talent, no matter what it sacrifices, love abandoned, cruelly torturing its own kind, fusing with Hell, living a fate worse than death.

But no talent means no talent, it cannot compare to Su Yu.

It's a villain, yet it lacks the talent to be a villain, which is the most pathetic thing.

After realizing this fact, the pain in the [King]'s heart suddenly surged, this reality seemed more cruel than any torture.

And Su Yu, looking at the suffering [King], showed a sense of pleasure deep in his eyes.

But he quickly stretched out his hand, rubbed his face, concealing that twisted pleasure.

Su Yu chuckled bitterly in his heart; after all, he was a righteous person. Yet, he ridiculed the [King], the great villain, for lacking the talent to be a villain.

And he succeeded in mocking him; what even is this?

The [King]'s pain surged, but Su Yu's Hell Prototype also surged and directly covered him completely.

No longer could the [King] be seen in place, only a black ball filled with unlimited Power of Hellish Suffering.

This black ball is very powerful in containing the Power of Pain; once the [King] was enveloped, there was no longer any movement, and the earlier explosive risk disappeared.

This meant that Su Yu's plan succeeded, and the crisis was resolved.

And this Hell Prototype black ball, containing the [King]'s complete strength, could become the Energy Core of the Giant God Soldier Mecha, truly completing the creation of this mecha!

Su Yu gazed at this black ball as it quickly shrank, soon becoming only a few dozen meters in diameter.

Then the black ball gently flew up and embedded itself into the chest of the Giant God Soldier Mecha framework that Su Yu had forged.

Boom!

As the Hell Prototype black ball fused with the Giant God Soldier Mecha, the newly created mecha immediately vibrated violently!

Terrifying energy flowed throughout the mecha.

Countless parts generated out of thin air, completing the mecha.

Originally, due to time constraints, Su Yu had only created a framework for the mecha, with most parts unfinished, even the shell having multiple gaps, revealing internal components.

But now, with the Energy Core, it was actually completing itself!

This did not indicate the mecha had self-awareness but emphasized the Power of Pain's nature, which can condense a body from nothing.

Pain, as an entity, needs a body as a carrier to maximize its effects.

Hence, in the absence of a body, if the pain is strong enough, it will self-complete the body, thereby maximizing the pain's effect.

This differs from the principle of Data Manifestation, seemingly superior and more advanced.

For this completion almost doesn't consume energy but rather pain.

And pain seems to be endless!

In the blink of an eye, the newly born Giant God Soldier Mecha became complete.

The originally silver-white metal body, filled with Power of Hellish Suffering, became covered with black markings.

The completed Giant God Soldier Mecha trembled once more, and all surrounding manifestation spaces shattered!

This was caused by the energy overflow, shattering space!

This aura, even stronger than the [King] at its peak!

After all, the Fourth-Order Top [King] had now been sealed into the mecha, becoming part of the mech's strength!

Currently, this Giant God Soldier Mecha, just from its aura, is approaching the previously seen Fifth Rank Radiant Mecha!

"It's finally done!"

Su Yu raised his head and looked at this Fourth Rank mecha he personally created, his heart filled with joy.

[You may name your first Giant God Soldier Mecha!]

At this point, a prompt appeared on the Profession Panel.

"Hell."

Su Yu said casually.

Since this mecha utilizes the Power of Hellish Suffering as its energy source, this name is fitting.

[Naming completed]

[Giant God Soldier Mecha·Hell]

[Creator: Su Yu]

[Grade: Planet Legend]

[Trait 1: Giant God (As a Giant God Soldier Mecha, it possesses the general features of a Giant God Soldier Mecha, with extremely strong defense and attack power. And because it adopted the blueprint of a Radiant Mecha, its performance is superior to ordinary Giant God Soldier Mechas, allowing it to exceed Fourth-Order Top-level defense and strength!)]

[Trait 2: Radiant (Having partially adopted the blueprint of the Radiant Mecha, it gained some abilities of the Radiant Mecha, able to obtain the Power of Sunshine from other life's wills! It can thus vastly increase its power, with a strong extra destructive power against any darkness and twisted enemies.)]

[Trait 3: Hell (This mecha uses the Power of Hellish Suffering as its core energy, while the core is sealed with a Fourth-Order Top mechanical life, granting it near infinite Hell power, never exhausting its energy. Also, each attack carries a strong pain effect, significantly increasing damage against any rational enemy. It can gain power from others' pain, while also sealing other lives into its core to enhance the mecha's power.)]

[Trait 4: Self-repair (This mecha possesses the ability to self-repair. If damaged, it will automatically collect surrounding materials to repair itself. With the Power of Hellish Suffering, it can consume minimal materials, or even no materials, to achieve fast repair. The body repaired using the Power of Pain becomes stronger than before; the stronger the Power of Pain, the faster the repair, and the stronger the repaired body!])

[Trait 6: Light and Dark (This mecha possesses both the Power of Sunshine and the Power of Hell, which are opposing traits, causing some self-conflict. This conflict, as time progresses, may lead to unknown changes, possibly reducing its performance or possibly a significant boost.)]

[Trait 7: Legend (This mecha is already powerful enough that its existence involves some essence. Its fame will spread in Subspace and the Material Universe, and certain powerful beings may take interest in it, while some weaker beings may worship it as a deity.)]

[Trait 8: Fusion (As a mecha, its main purpose is still to be used by a pilot. It can fuse with the pilot as their second body for perfect control. If the pilot abandons their flesh, they can completely merge with this mecha, becoming a Fourth-Order Top mechanical life form.)]

[Trait 9: Space Flight (Although the Giant God Soldier Mecha is a mecha, due to its immense size, it also has space flight capabilities, and can be used as a spacecraft. Note: For light-year scale long-range navigation, additional Subspace jump engines and navigation functions are needed.)]

[Trait 10: Intelligence (This mecha currently lacks intelligence, but has a reserved module, ready for installation of planet-level intelligent life. If successfully installed, it can autonomously combat without a pilot. Note: According to Empire security protocols, mechanical creations above Fourth Rank require strict safety review during autonomous combat to prevent mechanical rebellion.)]

[Equipment:]

[Melee Weapon: None]

[Long-range Weapon: None]

[Skill: None]

Chapter 688: Promotion! Fourth Rank Su Yu!

As Su Yu successfully named this Giant God Soldier Mecha, a flood of notifications from the Profession Panel popped up, detailing various attributes of the mecha!

This indicates that Su Yu has truly completed the creation of this Fourth-Order Giant God Soldier Mecha, recognized by the Profession Panel!

"Not only is it Fourth-Order, but it's Fourth-Order top level!"

Su Yu looked at the various attributes of the Hell Mecha in the Profession Panel with great joy!

Because this mecha, just newly crafted, already reached Fourth-Order top level! Twelve-star top level!

Fourth Order, like Third Order, is further divided into three star levels.

Twelve stars is the Fourth-Order top level, above which is Fifth Order.

And this Hell Mecha of Su Yu's, just freshly made, already stands at twelve stars top level, arguably the strongest within the Fourth Order.

After all, this mecha was created after Su Yu defeated a Fourth-Order top-level "King", sealed it, and crafted it, possessing all the power of the "King".

Moreover, not only does this mecha contain the power of the "King", it also incorporates parts of the Radiant Blueprint's power, making it a fusion of light and dark, with numerous transformations.

However, due to the hurried crafting, Su Yu didn't have time to equip this mecha with weapons or other subsidiary devices. Nor did he design any skills for it, or even equip it with artificial intelligence.

As a result, this Hell Mecha is bare, only having basic traits and functions.

Even with just basic traits, seeing this long list, boasting ten major traits, Su Yu was still very satisfied.

Even without skills and weapons, relying solely on these numerous powerful traits and its Fourth-Order top-level attack and defense, Su Yu is confident in using this mecha to confront any Fourth-Order formidable foe.

If he had this powerful mecha during the previous battle with the "King", Su Yu wouldn't have struggled so much; he might have easily defeated the "King" earlier.

Furthermore, Su Yu can slowly optimize this mecha in the future, loading it with more weapons and skills to further enhance its power.

Of course, there's no time for that now because...

[Job Ceremony: Personally defeat and slay a Fourth-Order Transcendent Life, and use its body as material to craft a Fourth-Order Giant God Soldier Mecha! (Completed)]

[Ceremony complete, would you like to take the job?]

With the completion of the Giant God Soldier Mecha, Su Yu's ceremony was naturally completed, and the Profession Panel popped up a prompt.

Su Yu did not hesitate, immediately declaring in his mind, "Take the job!"

Immediately, Su Yu's body swiftly shrunk.

From the hundreds of meters tall Light-Cast Giant, he reverted back to his original human form.

His transformation naturally had to revert to his original form to avoid any interference.

As Su Yu ceased control over the Power of Sunshine, he naturally couldn't maintain the state of the Light-Cast Giant, reverting back to his true form.

The Light-Cast Giant form Su Yu had assumed earlier was eroded by the "King's" power, leaving only a skeleton.

Yet upon reverting to his original form, his body was still intact, an unknown principle at work.

In reality, Su Yu still couldn't understand what exactly happened with the previous transformation or whether it could be replicated.

However, Su Yu didn't have the time to ponder because he had already begun his ascension!

At this moment, Su Yu's cognitive capacity, computational power, spirit, and wisdom were all rapidly increasing.

In his consciousness, countless novel ideas for mechanical design and manufacturing emerged.

This is the essence of him as a Mechanic, rising.

Su Yu felt that his mastery of mechanics and related knowledge had become an innate instinct.

It felt as if he was no longer human, but belonged to a race called "Mechanic".

The grasp of mechanical knowledge had been etched deep into his genes, deep into his subconscious, as natural as eating or drinking.

Simultaneously, Su Yu's mind was inexplicably filled with more mechanical knowledge.

Previously, his understanding of the mechanical domain had only been enhanced; now, related knowledge was being directly elevated.

In a short period, Su Yu had accumulated an abundance of knowledge, as if he had been engaged in hundreds or thousands of years of mechanical research.

This knowledge did not appear magically; rather, Su Yu acquired it from Subspace.

Subspace inherently harbored countless knowledge and information.

However, this knowledge was in a chaotic and distorted state, difficult for the previous Su Yu to interpret.

Now, with Su Yu's ascension to Fourth-Order Mechanic, his essence had elevated, and this knowledge naturally integrated into his thinking along with Spiritual Energy.

He could comprehend it naturally without decoding, even innovate!

This allowed him to amass vast knowledge in the mechanical domain effortlessly.

This is the difference between a Spiritual Energy profession and a regular profession.

Regular professions require learning knowledge first before taking exams to ascend and gain recognition.

Spiritual Energy professions ascend first, and then gain knowledge, a wonder far beyond ordinary imagination.

Simultaneously, Su Yu's mark and domain in Subspace were rapidly strengthening.

Upon initially reaching Third Order, Su Yu's mark in Subspace hadn't taken form.

Later, as his strength increased, the mark became a Subspace Domain, evolving into a city.

Now, this city began expanding constantly, and the space surrounding it began to distort, curl, and enclose.

It seemed this domain was to separate from Subspace, becoming another small Subspace!

It resembled an independent planet, slowly rotating in the "Universe" of Subspace, absorbing cosmic energy to strengthen itself.

Su Yu felt that at this moment, this domain was truly his own, seemingly no longer part of Subspace, but rather part of him!

Chapter 689: Promotion! Su Yu, Fourth Rank!_2

This domain seems not entirely in the subspace, but within Su Yu's body!

However, this transformation is only half-completed and not truly finished.

The edge of the subspace domain is not fully closed and still maintains contact and energy exchange with the subspace.

This change appears to be just a prototype, a beginning.

Even though it's just a prototype, it has given Su Yu immense feedback.

Su Yu feels that his subspace domain is already partially "self-sufficient."

It can independently produce a large amount of powerful spiritual energy without relying on the subspace itself!

The spiritual energy Su Yu originally acquired was actually "produced" in the subspace.

The emotions, wills, knowledge, desires of living beings... such abstract concepts merge and transform in the subspace into subspace spiritual power that can affect real matter, which is then absorbed and utilized by spiritual users like Su Yu.

But now, Su Yu's domain can partially replace the original function of the subspace, independently generating spiritual energy for Su Yu's use!

The significance of this is indeed too great!

This means that even if Su Yu falls into hardship, is sealed up, or even cut off from the subspace, he may not run out of energy.

Just like... the Brutal Evil God!

"I see, after Fourth Rank, the subspace domain can already be partially self-sufficient..."

"I reckon after advancing to Fifth Rank, the subspace domain will be completely closed, becoming independent from the subspace, forming a small subspace that can independently produce powerful spiritual energy."

"Even if truly separated from the subspace, energy will never be exhausted!"

"No wonder those evil entities, even when sealed for tens of thousands of years, don't die and can even continuously produce an endless stream of evil energy."

"No wonder the previous [King], when controlling the Radiant Mecha, was so powerful, as if merely by changing emotions, they could affect reality."

Su Yu, at this moment, had an epiphany.

He recalled the abilities displayed by the previous [King] while controlling the Radiant Mecha, which seemed to influence real matter directly without subspace transformation, relying solely on their own emotions.

[King] changed gravity and air pressure in a fit of anger.

This might be because after reaching Fifth Rank, the subspace domain becomes completely closed and self-sufficient, allowing one to convert emotions into spiritual energy without needing the subspace, enabling such extraordinary feats.

Similarly, the endless energy of those evil gods can be explained.

These Great Evil Gods, such as Brutality, probably have their subspace domains completely sealed and independent from the subspace long ago.

Or perhaps they themselves are the domain, allowing these evil gods to be self-sufficient and have limitless energy.

However, such powerful abilities are only available after reaching the Fifth Rank.

Su Yu cannot achieve this for now.

His subspace domain is only half-closed and has not completely separated from the subspace.

His self-sufficiency is still limited and probably won't last long.

But even if it can't last, this self-sufficiency still brings great benefits!

Moreover, because the spiritual energy produced in the domain is highly compatible with Su Yu, or rather, it is originally the energy "secreted" by himself.

The moment it is generated, it directly integrates with Su Yu's body and spirit without any digestion or absorption process.

Furthermore, Su Yu feels that his utilization efficiency of this spiritual energy is far beyond what it used to be.

One unit of energy can unleash twice or even more power than before!

Previously, Su Yu thought he had achieved the optimal efficiency in the utilization of spiritual energy by learning the extreme efficient use of energy.

Now it seems he was still far from it!

This newly produced spiritual energy, when used, is the truly optimized efficiency, surprisingly increasing by several times beyond 100% efficiency!

This utilization efficiency seems to be tapping into the deep potential of spiritual energy.

Doubling or even tripling the efficiency is still far from reaching the limit of this exploitation.

Previously, Su Yu treated spiritual energy as fuel, but even with 100% combustion, energy actually has its limits.

But now, after advancing to Fourth Rank, Su Yu seems to find that this spiritual energy can, besides burning, perform a "nuclear reaction," naturally boosting the energy exponentially!

This spiritual energy flows through Su Yu's body like blood, continuously making him stronger!

This made Su Yu eagerly anticipate how powerful he would become if he truly reached Fifth Rank and all energy was self-sufficient!

In fact, even if the subspace domain isn't closed, he can directly convert emotional will into energy, achieving true self-sufficiency.

For instance, the Power of Sunshine and the Power of Pain don't require subspace conversion, as long as there is enough will and pain, these two forces are endless.

This is the special feature of these two forces; they possess part of the capabilities of Fifth Rank before reaching it, no wonder they are so powerful!

However, these two forces have quite a few limitations and are not as versatile as spiritual energy.

Moreover, Su Yu feels that through this subspace prototype, he can vaguely sense the flow of time and the fluctuations of his destiny!

Even a slight sense makes Su Yu extremely excited.

Because right now, he hasn't borrowed the power of the Mechanical God or become quantumized, yet he can vaguely sense the secrets of fate and time!

This is because his domain is half-closed, almost like a semi-completed small subspace.

As the owner of this small subspace, Su Yu naturally has a profound sense of the various changes within it.

And in the subspace, time and destiny changes are inherently included, allowing Su Yu to have a faint sense of these aspects!

If he reaches Fifth Rank and the subspace domain is completely closed, he might directly and clearly sense his own destiny!

No wonder the previous [King], when controlling the Radiant Mecha, could counteract Su Yu's destiny observation.

"It seems that after advancing to Fourth Rank, developing a time-based occupation is highly promising!"

Su Yu recalled his long-held desire to create a time-based occupation himself.

With this half-closed subspace domain, he is even more confident in developing a new occupation!

At this moment, Su Yu's wounds from past battles are healing rapidly.

Simultaneously, the strength of his physical body, energy, and spiritual power is continuously expanding and growing stronger!

One fold, two folds, three folds, four folds...

In a short time, his power has increased by seven or eight times, yet it seems to have no end!

Originally, Su Yu's strength was already very close to Fourth Rank.

Now, on the original basis, increasing by seven or eight times, he has completely and thoroughly entered the domain of Fourth Rank.

All these changes are due to the inherent enhancements provided by his advancement to Fourth Rank.

Additionally, as a Giant God Soldier Mechanic, Su Yu also receives extra enhancements from his occupation!

Moreover, a steady stream of powerful energy is rushing at him from the void, being absorbed by his body, continuously making him stronger.

Su Yu feels that this powerful energy doesn't come from the subspace or his domain, but from that Fourth-Order Top Hell Mecha.

It's not that Su Yu directly absorbed the energy of the Hell Mecha, because using the Power of Hellish Suffering as energy, direct absorption could cause problems for Su Yu.

Instead, as an enhanced Giant God Soldier Mechanic, Su Yu can receive feedback and power from the Giant God Soldier Mecha he personally crafted.

The stronger the mecha, the stronger his own body.

Much like how Su Yu previously received professional experience through the prayers of believers.

The Hell Giant God Soldier Mecha may not pray, but its existence itself provides Su Yu as the owner with powerful strength feedback.

This is the essential ability of Su Yu as a Giant God Soldier Mechanic.

And this Hell Mecha is a Fourth-Order Top machine, providing Su Yu with an uncertain amount of feedback.

Anyway, his power continues to rise, seemingly without end!

"Could it be that I'll suddenly rise to the same level of strength as this mecha? Directly jumping to Fourth-Order Top in one step?"

Su Yu, feeling the explosion of his own power, couldn't help but entertain a bold idea.

Chapter 690: After Promotion, Su Yu's Rank?

Su Yu's advancement to the fourth tier this time brought such a tremendous improvement to himself that he couldn't help but let the thought of ascending to the top of the fourth tier in a single leap cross his mind.

However, the specifics remain to be seen after the advancement is complete and his power stabilizes.

After a while, the enhancement of Su Yu's power finally stopped, and Su Yu felt that his state had also stabilized.

[Ten-Star Top!]

On the profession panel, various attributes, skills, abilities, and tiers of Su Yu were all displayed one by one.

This included the new abilities he acquired after becoming a Giant God Soldier Mechanic, such as Legendary Mechanical Manufacturing, and... the core ability of a Giant God Mechanic: Mechanical Descent!

"Ten stars?"

Looking at his attributes on the profession panel, Su Yu was not in a hurry to study his new abilities but was slightly disappointed. Why only ten stars?

True fourth-tier top should be twelve-star pinnacle.

It seems that Su Yu still has a long way to go.

Ten stars is merely the level of entering the fourth tier.

However, Su Yu sensed his terrifying strength and quickly realized.

His ten stars are different from a normal ten stars.

Before advancing to the fourth tier, his strength was already very close to ten stars due to the accumulation of various professions, Evil God Origin, and expanded mindset... and so on.

Upon advancing to the fourth tier, his strength increased more than tenfold.

Coupled with the powerful feedback from the Hell Mecha, now, his strength is estimated to be incomparable to a normal eleven or even twelve stars.

However, even in the standards of the profession panel, no matter how strong Su Yu is, he is still a ten-star, just entered the fourth tier.

"The determination of star level is not just about strength but involves subspace domain and other aspects, with another set of standards."

"My subspace domain is just beginning to close, and can only preliminarily self-sustain. According to the standards, I am just ten stars."

Su Yu pondered in his heart.

The determination of star level is not just about strength but involves another set of standards.

If the standards are not met, no matter how strong the power is, the star level will not increase.

It's like a regular person's age, generally correlated with strength.

The strength of an eight-year-old child certainly cannot compare with adults.

However, some extraordinarily gifted people can grow as tall and strong as ordinary adults at the age of eight.

But such a person's height and build, according to standards, are still considered a minor child.

Similarly, Su Yu now is this gifted "child."

Though Su Yu is just entering the fourth tier, he is comparable in strength to eleven or even twelve stars.

But no matter how strong he is, he is still a ten-star.

However, compared to other ten-stars, he has a huge potential for progress.

When he truly reaches twelve stars, the peak of fourth tier, who knows how powerful he will be then.

Perhaps... he might clash with the fifth tier?

At this thought, Su Yu could not help but feel an impulse.

He wants to find a strong adversary to battle a thousand rounds, to test his newly surging power.

But Su Yu can only entertain the thought in his mind. Where could he find such a strong enemy now?

The strongest enemy, [King], has already been turned into parts by him in the mecha.

Thus, Su Yu had to refocus himself, thinking of testing his power when another foolish enemy comes to attack.

"Just nine and a half minutes, not bad, didn't break the time..."

Inspired by the thought, Su Yu suddenly chuckled.

He recalled making a bold claim earlier when facing [King], that he would settle it within ten minutes.

Now, it turned out he kept his word, successfully dealing with [King] within ten minutes.

In fact, the actual time Su Yu spent battling [King] was less than a minute.

The pace of their combat was extremely fast, enough for many things to happen in a second, let alone a minute? That felt almost as long as a year.

The remaining time, Su Yu mainly spent on constructing his Giant God Soldier Mecha and completing the ceremony, which took the rest of the time.

"Buzz..."

The Hell Mecha suddenly emitted a buzzing sound, as if the energy output increased slightly.

"It seems [King] is in good condition within the mecha,"

Su Yu knew this was because the [King] inside the mecha, having heard his words, was provoked and thus unleashed more Power of Pain.

Su Yu had deliberately transmitted that sentence to the Hell Prototype in the mecha's chest, letting [King] hear it.

[King] hearing that Su Yu truly settled it within ten minutes ignited a fury within, feeling incredibly angry and miserable.

Hence the energy [King] supplied to the mecha increased.

However, no matter how angry and miserable [King] was, the power couldn't breach the Hell Prototype crafted by Su Yu.

If not for Su Yu deliberately leaving a slight part of the Hell Prototype's seal open, even this little commotion wouldn't have been possible.

[King] has been completely subdued by Su Yu, destined to eternally serve as an energy source for the Hell Mecha, forever tormented by pain.

[King] tormented other members of the Mechanical Race for millennia, now being tormented by Su Yu is simply karma.

Though this world might not have a concept of karma, there is indeed Subspace backlash, but it's unrelated to karma or such.

In seeking karma, one ought to rely on one's own power to defeat, kill, and even torment enemies - seeking revenge for grievances and settling scores for enmities.
