Chapter 771: The Truth about the Bizarre Space-Time, and the Way Back!

The ten Galaxy Warriors were shocked, and thus, they took a long time to respond to Su Yu's question.

Because Su Yu asked them what they thought the "truth" was.

But this "truth" involved too many things, such as what this space was, why they had crossed dimensions, why Su Yu became the Supreme Commander of Azure Star...

They couldn't even confirm if what Su Yu said was true or false.

How should they answer this?

Although the Galaxy Warriors were all elite, with rapid thinking and wisdom beyond ordinary people, it was still difficult for them to answer Su Yu's question right away.

Su Yu smiled slightly and said, "It seems you don't have an answer for the moment, so why not listen to my guesses?"

Upon hearing this, those Galaxy Warriors immediately perked up!

They had been trapped here for a long time, always seeking the truth but with little success. Now, with Su Yu, this "lord," undoubtedly offering to clarify their confusion, they were naturally delighted.

Even though Su Yu called it a guess, these Galaxy Warriors were eagerly anticipating what kind of guess this "lord" would present.

So Su Yu began to speak: "I suspect that this place is actually a fragment of space-time, a certain [possibility]..."

In fact, Su Yu had had his suspicions for a long time.

He had previously been unable to sense the exact location of the Mechanical City, and even his own Subspace Domain was somewhat imperceptible.

This was highly unusual.

It's like a normal person not being able to find their own hands and feet.

Clearly, there's still a sensation regarding the limbs, but just unable to locate them, very strange.

At that time, Su Yu speculated that he and the Mechanical City were probably no longer in the same space-time.

It's [space-time], not just a matter of spatial distance.

Su Yu had gained the ability to become Quantumized and foresee the future before defeating the Demon of Hatred.

After going to the Manifestation Space, using the power of the Mechanical God, this ability evolved again, enabling him to directly observe the river of time in the Manifestation Space and even influence it specifically.

The river of time in the Manifestation Space included the past [history], the current [reality], and future [possibilities].

According to Su Yu's observations and the knowledge imparted to him by the Mechanical God, the past is unchangeable, but the future is uncertain, with endless possibilities.

However, no matter how the future changes unpredictably, it will ultimately collapse into a determined [reality].

The current [reality] is singular.

There are no parallel spaces, no multiverses.

Under normal circumstances, there is only one reality, and Su Yu is also only one.

Before collapsing into [reality], the endless future possibilities are essentially false.

But with the power of the Mechanical God, Su Yu can specifically transform the desired future into the sole reality.

Thus achieving a result akin to wish fulfillment, changing the destiny of reality.

However, this is limited to the Manifestation Space, and the effects have a limit, not omnipotent.

Once outside the Manifestation Space, Su Yu no longer has such power.

He cannot see the river of time in the Real Universe, let alone influence it, and even the Mechanical God cannot achieve this.

But does the Real Universe have a river of time? Does it have a past and future, does it have branches of future space-time possibilities?

They surely exist!

Moreover, the future possibilities of the Real Universe seem not so false, but to some extent real.

The crossing of the Galaxy Battle Armor can prove this point.

It returned from a future possibility, but it is not fictitious, it exists in a very real way.

Not to mention the God of Pain who has not yet been born.

That God of Pain, though not yet born, can actually influence the current [reality], proving that even though not born, he also truly exists.

Now, Su Yu suspects he was sent by the Ghost Emperor to a certain future [possibility] in the Real Universe.

The reason Su Yu believes it is the [future] is that, according to the knowledge he possesses, both the [past] and the [present] are singular.

Only the [future] holds infinite possibilities, which can explain the situation Su Yu now faces.

Of course, it could also be that the knowledge Su Yu possesses is incorrect, but without new evidence, Su Yu still first assumes his speculation is correct.

And in this possible future where Su Yu is, Azure Star is destroyed due to a great war, with even the entire Star System or Universe.

Due to some disaster, it is plunged into darkness and silence.

Because Su Yu is in the [future], the Mechanical City and Subspace Domain belong to the [present].

Separated by the distance of space-time, no wonder he cannot sense the location of the Mechanical City.

The Ghost Emperor, who knows by what means, sent Su Yu here, clearly intending to trap him here to his death.

This is very effective!

If not for Su Yu being strong enough and his research on Time-Space Mysteries deep enough, he would likely have never known what happened until his death.

He has even become disconnected from the Mechanical City due to the distance across space-time. If that were the case, what consequences would there be, Su Yu isn't sure.

"So it's like this, we actually crossed into the [future]..."

And those Galaxy Warriors, after hearing Su Yu's explanation, were all shaken in their hearts.

Previously, after hearing about the experiences of the Galaxy Battle Armor, they suspected they might have crossed into past space-time like that piece of armor.

But now it seems, that's not the case at all, these Galaxy Warriors have come to another [future].

These Galaxy Warriors themselves came from a certain [future].

They crossed into this space-time, equivalent to jumping from one [possibility] to another [possibility].

It's somewhat different from the situation with the Galaxy Battle Armor.

Chapter 772: The Truth about the Bizarre Space-Time, and the Way Back! _2

"Lord Su Yu, are we real or illusionary now?"

The leading Galaxy Warrior pondered for a moment and then suddenly asked a crucial question.

Su Yu looked at him appreciatively, "That's a great question."

"The biggest threat we face now is whether we are real or illusionary?"

According to the temporal knowledge Su Yu possesses, the infinite possibilities of the [future], before collapsing into the [present], are essentially illusory.

For example, if someone dies at twenty due to some reason, all the possibilities of that person living a long life are naturally illusory and non-existent.

This is the situation Su Yu and the others are facing now.

The space-time they inhabit is essentially a possibility, which should also be illusory and non-existent.

In reality, the entire Azure Star has not been destroyed, and the entire universe continues to exist intact.

So are they living here truly or falsely?

And this space-time, what is it considered? Real or illusory?

Su Yu continued, "This space-time is essentially illusory and should naturally disappear under certain space-time principles."

"The strange disappearing in the dark happens because of this space-time principle at work."

"Hiding inside the planet should be borrowing the planet's [existence] to temporarily evade the fate of disappearing."

"After all, planets are much stronger than you and have more resistance to such space-time principles."

"But this is only temporary. If we don't find a way out, eventually the entire space-time will disappear completely, and then we will all cease to exist!"

After listening to Su Yu's words, the Galaxy Warriors took a deep breath and respectfully said, "Lord Su Yu, what should we do?"

Su Yu chuckled lightly, "No rush, let's see first. Although this space-time is doomed to disappear, there should still be time left for us, so there's no need to be too anxious."

Facing such a desperate situation, Su Yu seemed not too worried. His relaxed attitude influenced the Galaxy Warriors, making them feel relieved.

Inwardly, they sighed, not surprised that someone with Star Tower authorization is extraordinary, vastly different from us ordinary warriors.

Although Su Yu previously said he was not the Supreme Commander of Azure Star, these Galaxy Warriors still dared not be negligent, addressing him continuously as "Lord."

Because Su Yu was holding that Navigation Disk, which is not something an ordinary person can possess, the person using it must indeed be someone significant.

"Show me around this place first,"

Su Yu added.

Hearing this, the Galaxy Warriors snapped back to reality and quickly replied, "Yes! Lord! Please follow us!"

The Galaxy Warriors respectfully guided Su Yu, heading towards the distance.

Not long after, as they led Su Yu through an invisible barrier, a city appeared before his eyes.

This city, completely mismatched beside the mushroom-style landscape, was a modern steel jungle.

Within the city, residents operated various mechanical devices, walking around, even flying back and forth.

The mechanization level of the entire city was not inferior to Su Yu's Mechanical City, perhaps even higher!

Earlier, with Su Yu's strength, he couldn't sense the details of this city at all.

It can be seen that the city must have extremely advanced shielding equipment.

"Lord Su Yu, this city was built by us, integrating the entire population after we arrived here,"

"Before we arrived, the civilization here had almost regressed to the tribal era..."

The Galaxy Warriors pointed at the city, introducing it to Su Yu.

Before the arrival of the Galaxy Warriors, the people in this underground cavity had almost forgotten the Empire's glory. With such a small number, many factions were split, fighting each other.

Later, ruled by a genius, many were slaughtered, causing the civilization here to almost regress to primitive society.

After the arrival of these Galaxy Warriors, they naturally could not stand by.

While investigating the truth of this space-time, they helped these humans build a civilization.

Now it seems the results are very significant.

These Galaxy Warriors are all powerful and knowledgeable. Drop any onto a Primitive Planet, and they could lead it to an advanced technological civilization.

It's no surprise they could build such a city. If not for the bizarre environment on this planet, the civilization's scale would certainly be larger.

Su Yu carefully observed the city, inwardly noting that this is indeed the Empire's elite warriors, not only skilled in combat but also seeds of civilization...

After observing for a while, Su Yu seemed to be pondering something, then nodded in satisfaction and praised, "You've done well."

Upon hearing this, the Galaxy Warriors promptly chimed, "All for the Empire's glory!"

Having said this, they seemed to breathe a sigh of relief, completely treating Su Yu as a visiting "leader" for inspection work.

Now receiving the leader's acknowledgment, they naturally felt relieved.

Next, the Galaxy Warriors led Su Yu down to the tallest building in the city's center.

This building looked somewhat peculiar, not like a residential skyscraper but more like some drilling apparatus.

Moreover, as soon as Su Yu entered, he felt an unusual energy.

This time, the Galaxy Warriors introduced, "Lord Su Yu, this is the Shield Tower we built based on the remnants of technical data here. It can extract a certain underground energy to form a protective shield."

"In recent years, the weird forces in the dark have been infiltrating underground. Every year, a few people disappear into the darkness."

"So we have been researching shielding methods."

"The survivors here, although their civilization has regressed, still retain some old technical data."

"We found the technical data of this Energy Tower within those data, so we built it."

"Since this Shield Tower was built, no one has disappeared into the darkness again."

It seems the device that shielded Su Yu's senses was indeed this tower.

Upon learning that the tower could extract a certain energy underground to implement shielding, Su Yu's heart skipped a beat.

"Is this... planetary energy?"

He thought for a moment, then said, "Let me see those technical data."

The Galaxy Warriors quickly handed Su Yu a chip.

Su Yu took the chip and rapidly read the information within it.

Sure enough, as he expected, the tower extracts planetary energy.

Which means... the planetary energy required to advance to the Fifth Rank!

Not long ago, Su Yu had just learned about the concept of planetary energy from the Ghost Emperor.

He knew that only by completely mastering a planet's energy could one advance to the Fifth Rank.

A planet naturally has energy, such as geothermal, wind, and water energy.

However, the planetary energy needed for Fifth Rank advancement is actually different from these natural energies.

Transcendent matters naturally relate to Spiritual Energy.

Mastering planetary energy naturally means controlling the planet's Spiritual Energy.

Does a planet itself have Spiritual Energy? Naturally, it does.

The entire planet also has a projection in Subspace, and it is very massive.

Earlier, during Su Yu's battle with the City Lord of Heavenly Punishment City, he had witnessed the Subspace projection of the Ruins Star.

However, a planet itself does not have consciousness. Its Subspace projection brings Spiritual Energy that is very thin and concealed, like air.

People in air cannot see it, only by reaching the outer atmosphere can they see its existence.

Previously, Su Yu, in the Subspace fissure, could see the Subspace projection of the Ruins Star but never saw it again after leaving that fissure space.

To master planetary energy, one must first be able to sense it, which is a huge challenge in itself.

And the location of the Giant God Soldier Camp is an energy node where planetary energy is exceptionally abundant, which is why the Ghost Emperor sought to seize it.

In fact, if Su Yu weren't in such a place as the Giant God Soldier Camp, with his current realm, it would also be difficult to sense and manipulate planetary energy.

But now, this Shield Tower can actually extract planetary energy to form a shield?

Su Yu had long been considering how to traverse back when trapped in this bizarre space-time!

One way is indeed to master planetary energy and advance to the Fifth Rank!

Chapter 773: Planetary Energy! A New Plan!

Su Yu had witnessed the power of a Fifth-Order Expert and understood that at that level, even without being in the Time System, one had a powerful mastery over their own destiny.

Although it wasn't that reaching the Fifth Rank meant one could traverse time and change destiny at will, there surely were significant limitations.

But at least, if Su Yu really advanced to the Fifth Rank, leveraging his connection with the Mechanical City, returning to his original time and space would surely not be a problem.

After all, even the Ghost Emperor, a Fourth-Order Top, could send Su Yu here. If Su Yu broke through to the Fifth Rank and still couldn't return, advancing would be in vain.

However, Su Yu also knew that trying to break through to the Fifth Rank was extraordinarily difficult, almost sheer wishful thinking.

He only knew that breaking through to the Fifth Rank required mastery over all the energy of the planet, but for further details, he basically knew nothing.

Relying on just this bit of knowledge to think of advancing was too fantastical.

So earlier, Su Yu had just thought about it casually.

But now, seeing this Energy Tower and the related technical data, Su Yu couldn't help but have his thoughts stirred again.

The technology used in this tower could actually extract planetary energy!

Even Su Yu didn't have such a skill!

If he utilized this technology, could he achieve his idea of advancing to the Fifth Rank and returning to his original time and space?

With this in mind, Su Yu hurriedly read and studied those technical data carefully.

After a long time, he sighed softly in his heart. It wasn't that the technical data weren't detailed enough; in fact, the technical data provided a detailed introduction to planetary energy.

According to the data, not every planet has planetary energy.

It's like among humans, there are ordinary people and Transcendents.

Planets that have planetary energy are like Transcendents among humans, actually quite rare.

Such planets are suitable for human survival and reproduction, and the probability of Transcendents being born on these planets is also greater.

And on different planets, the energy strength also varies.

On a barren planet like this, the planetary energy is very weak. According to the classification in the data, the energy strength of this planet is only equivalent to Fourth-Order Top.

This Fourth Rank refers to the planet's rank and is different from a human's Fourth Rank.

This Fourth Rank means the planet can only nurture up to a Fourth-Order Transcendent and cannot produce a Fifth-Order Expert.

If Su Yu wanted to rely on it to advance to the Fifth Rank, that was impossible.

However, it was not entirely hopeless.

Planetary energy is not static; it can be cultivated to become stronger, just like humans can enhance their Transcendent Rank through meditation and cultivation.

So can planets!

However, planets themselves don't practice meditation.

For a planet to advance, what it needs is a large number of lives, a large number of Transcendents, to reproduce, survive, and evolve on the planet.

These lives will draw energy from Subspace, some of which will accumulate and sediment, to be absorbed by the planet. This is equivalent to the planet's "meditation".

The transformation of the planet by life not only pertains to the natural environment but is also effective for its Subspace projection and planetary energy.

But this process is extremely slow.

If the planet where Su Yu was now had tens of millions to billions of people, and they developed and reproduced for thousands to tens of thousands of years, it would advance to a Fifth-Order planet capable of nurturing Fifth-Order Transcendents.

For a planet, geological changes are millions or even hundreds of millions of years.

With just a few thousand years, it can advance to the Fifth Rank; in fact, that's quite fast.

But such a thing is equally distant for Su Yu now.

Where would he get billions of people, and have them reproduce for thousands or tens of thousands of years?

"I can't give up; maybe there's another way."

Su Yu wasn't too disappointed in his heart.

If advancing to the Fifth Rank were that easy, Fifth-Order Experts would be everywhere.

This little setback is nothing.

Moreover, in this space, there is another gravitational source, which is also a planet.

Su Yu hadn't looked at that planet yet; maybe it had sufficient planetary energy?

Besides, Su Yu wasn't putting all his hope on advancing to the Fifth Rank.

He had other plans, that is...

[Time Mechanic]!

Su Yu had always been studying the mysteries of time and space, long wanting to create the [Time Mechanic], a Time System profession.

Su Yu's concept of this profession was to create a time machine and achieve time travel.

If he could complete the development of this profession and successfully take up the role, creating a time machine, then he wouldn't need to advance to the Fifth Rank to return to his original time and space.

Time Mechanic was always meant for this.

And developing the Time Mechanic was evidently much simpler than advancing to the Fifth Rank.

Su Yu had previously gained the memories of the Vengeance Demon, which contained extensive data on third-rank professions and the Vengeance Demon's research records on the Power of Time.

Later, Su Yu obtained the data of the Subspace Analyzer and the technical legacy of the Mechanical God.

After that, he acquired the Radiant Blueprint.

Such a wealth of Transcendent and technological knowledge gave Su Yu's knowledge far beyond that of an average Fourth-Order expert.

He might even surpass ordinary Fifth-Order experts.

This gave him enough accumulation to create his own profession, [Time Mechanic]!

"This profession had better use planetary energy as well..."

Su Yu thought to himself.

Time Mechanic is not just a time profession; it's also a Mechanic.

As a Mechanic, what he's best at is utilizing various external forces and energies.

Directly creating a time machine, to be honest, may not be much easier than advancing to the Fifth Rank.

Chapter 774: Planetary Energy! New Plan! _2

But if we harness planetary energy, it should be much simpler!

Planetary energy and human spiritual energy are fundamentally different.

So Su Yu memorized the technical data related to planetary energy, preparing to digest and assimilate it into the design of the Time Mechanic.

After noting down these materials, Su Yu continued to ask the Galaxy Warriors for more information.

The Galaxy Warriors organized various materials and handed them to Su Yu.

Among those materials, there was not only information about this tower, but also various mechanical technologies and some other records, which are the history of this time and space.

Su Yu saw that in the records, the Planet Governor of Azure Star was addressed as Lord Su Yu...

"I actually became a governor..."

Su Yu looked at those records, somewhat speechless.

Although there was only a written record without any image data, the Su Yu in the record might not be this Su Yu.

But given the bizarre situation now, who can tell?

Could it be in some future where Su Yu successfully advanced to the Fifth Rank, broke through the blockade, reconnected with the Empire, and got recognized by the Empire, allowing him to govern Ruins Star, becoming the Planet Governor?

Later, a formidable enemy invaded, and the planet was shattered...

No one knows where that Planet Governor Su Yu is now or what happened to him.

Thinking of these matters, Su Yu looked up and asked the Galaxy Warriors: "In this time space, is there another planet? Have you gone to see it?"

The Galaxy Warriors quickly replied: "It should be a gaseous planet three hundred million kilometers away. We tried to investigate earlier, but halfway there, we almost disappeared into the darkness, so we reluctantly returned."

Su Yu nodded. A few Galaxy Warriors do not possess Su Yu's capability to traverse billions of kilometers of dark vacuum safely.

However, Su Yu might not have vanished crossing the darkness previously, not only due to his formidable power but because of his Sunshine Transformation, illuminating his entire body, leaving no room for any darkness.

"If that's the case, then I shall take a look. Would you like to join?"

Su Yu said.

Hearing this, the Galaxy Warriors exchanged glances, and five of them said, "Lord, we wish to go!"

The remaining five said, "We will stay behind."

This is a matter concerning their lives, so naturally, they want to follow and see.

However, being cautious, they left half of the group to safeguard against unforeseen circumstances.

Su Yu nodded in agreement with their arrangement: "Then follow me."

Then Su Yu moved upwards swiftly.

Initially, Su Yu intended to visit the area, hoping to have some exchanges with the city's residents, and experience the local culture and customs.

But now, a more crucial matter needs attention, the other can wait for later.

The five Galaxy Warriors quickly followed suit.

They soon reached the top of the vast underground cavity.

The Galaxy Warriors were about to inquire if they should start digging.

After all, this vast underground cavity had been completely sealed by mushrooms, so even if they wanted to exit, it would take quite an effort.

But Su Yu moved, transforming into a semi-transparent Body of Data.

Upon seeing this, the Galaxy Warriors were startled, realizing at that moment, Su Yu wasn't a real body but a data avatar!

And they hadn't noticed at all!

"Lord Su Yu is indeed an extraordinary figure, just a data avatar is this powerful, who knows what the real body is like? Fortunately, we weren't disrespectful to him earlier..."

The Galaxy Warriors couldn't help but think.

After reverting to a data body, Su Yu looked at the Galaxy Warriors: "Enter my Manifestation Space; I'll take you out."

The Galaxy Warriors replied, "Yes! Lord Su Yu!"

Su Yu nodded slightly, and then his power extended, bringing these people into the Manifestation Space.

Those Galaxy Warriors offered no resistance.

Su Yu sighed slightly in his heart; these Galaxy Warriors were not as cunning as the Galaxy Battle Armor; upon mere acquaintance, they had such trust in Su Yu.

Su Yu knew they were not truly placing their trust in him but in that New Recruit Navigator with Star Tower permissions!

All these Galaxy Warriors were immensely loyal to the Empire, firmly believing that with Su Yu possessing such a Navigation Device, he must be a significant figure of the Empire, their superior, to whom orders must be followed!

Faced with this trust, Su Yu was somewhat helpless.

This New Recruit Navigator was something Su Yu found! Who knew why it recognized his identity, allowing him access to such an advanced Star Tower navigation function.

Perhaps this Navigation Device was malfunctioning?

However, records in this time space note Su Yu as a Planet Governor; could it be this reason?

This New Recruit Navigator, and that novice back in the day, what is the mystery?

Thinking about these things, Su Yu blended his form into the mushroom-laden rock wall.

Given that his body was a data body, its speed was incredibly fast, and in no time, it returned to the main body.

The targeted planet was too far this time; he needn't retrieve this avatar. But with a distance of three hundred million kilometers, far exceeding Su Yu's "signal" range, the avatar would naturally dissipate when the main body ventured too far, needing a prior retrieval.

After recovering the avatar, Su Yu's main body moved, vaporizing the surrounding rock to ascend.

Much like when he descended, his colossal, grand form ascended swiftly, soon traversing over a thousand kilometers of earth and rock, returning to the surface.

Then, Su Yu used his ability to release the five Galaxy Warriors from the Manifestation Space.

As soon as they emerged, the five Galaxy Warriors instinctively looked up at the towering giant, hundreds of meters high beside them.

They couldn't help but show joy: "Giant God Soldier Mecha! And... this is the legendary power of the Radiant Imperial Guard!"

Being Empire Soldiers, they were naturally aware of some high-end powers within the Empire.

Hence, they instantly recognized the source of Su Yu's power.

The Giant God Soldier Mecha was awe-inspiring on its own, but the Radiant Imperial Guard had even greater significance!

The Radiant Imperial Guard represents the will of the Radiant Emperor. To these incredibly loyal Galaxy Warriors, witnessing the Power of Sunshine was akin to a believer seeing a deity; the excitement was beyond description.

Had they not been aware of their mission, they might have immediately performed a grand salute to Su Yu.

"It is said that the Radiant Imperial Guard rarely leaves the side of the Radiant Emperor. In the external world, it is said that only Officer Zhang Chenfeng has walked outside!"

"Could it be that Lord Su Yu is another Radiant Imperial Guard? Or is he Zhang Chenfeng of another time-space?"

The Galaxy Warriors couldn't help but let their thoughts run wild!

Su Yu somewhat guessed their thoughts and even began to wonder if he had a connection with Zhang Chenfeng?

Of course, he was convinced he wasn't some reincarnation or revival of Zhang Chenfeng.

"Let's go."

Su Yu ignored the excited eyes of the Galaxy Warriors, reaching out to hold them in his hand and then activated the mech power to fly upwards.

In a short period, he accelerated to a thousand times the speed of sound, breaking free of the planet's gravity and entering outer space.

Then he continued to accelerate, reaching ten thousand times the speed of sound, heading towards another gravitational source in the dark deep space.

In the cosmic vacuum, it was extremely dark, yet Su Yu was still in the Sunshine Transformation state, glowing entirely, so he wouldn't disappear due to the surrounding darkness.

Speaking of which, he couldn't grasp the principles behind disappearing into darkness, only guessing it might be some kind of time-space mechanism.

Light represents "existence," while darkness signifies illusion.

This space was inherently less real, so if one were to fall into darkness, they would completely lose a "sense of existence," erased by the time-space mechanism.

All this was Su Yu's speculation; the details and principles behind it were truly beyond his comprehension, leaving him with mere guesses.

"Would it really disappear?"

This thought couldn't help but surface in Su Yu's mind.

Sinking into darkness and being erased by the time-space mechanism—did it represent true disappearance, death, or a passage to an unknown new place?

Su Yu even had the impulse to undo the Sunshine Transformation, testing what would happen if he plunged into darkness.

Chapter 775: Gaseous Planet, Mysterious Core, 10 Years of Research!

Just like an ordinary person reaching a high place, despite the fear, weak knees, and racing heart, there is still a strange urge to jump off.

Su Yu felt similarly at this moment. Though he knew there was unfathomable danger in the darkness, he still wanted to give it a try.

Once this thought emerged, it became unstoppable, but Su Yu forcibly restrained it.

"It seems that the force in this darkness has the ability to tempt the heart, it might even be conscious and has already set its sights on me."

Su Yu thought to himself.

With his strength, he had an extremely strong control over his own thoughts, but that impulse just now came suddenly, making it almost impossible for him to control himself, which was abnormal.

It must have been that force in the darkness affecting him.

Although Su Yu previously speculated that the force within the darkness was some kind of space-time mechanism specifically designed to eliminate these "false" beings and objects.

But this space-time mechanism might not just be an unconscious natural phenomenon; it might be conscious.

In fact, according to the information Su Yu obtained, those who disappeared in the darkness would "send dreams" to the living, allowing them to dream of those who vanished suffering and wailing in Hell.

Su Yu suspected whether the force within this darkness was related to that God of Pain?

If that's the case, this thing is surely targeting Su Yu now.

After all, Su Yu's strength in this Dark Space-Time was the strongest, and he was shining all over; such a big beacon, it was hard not to be noticed.

Su Yu remained vigilant, constantly on guard against an attack.

That thing was hidden in the shadows, its strength unknown, and Su Yu dared not be careless.

Next, Su Yu, along with those Galaxy Warriors, flew for over thirty hours, crossing a distance of more than three hundred million kilometers.

This was indeed a long journey; Su Yu had never traveled such a long distance in his life. Luckily, nothing dangerous happened along the way, and the force in the darkness did not attack. Su Yu didn't know if it had given up or if it lacked the strength.

Su Yu suppressed his thoughts and looked at his target.

It was a giant gas planet, with a diameter more than ten times that of the previous planet, nearly two hundred thousand kilometers wide.

The entire planet was composed of a large amount of yellow-green gas, continuously rotating, forming massive storms each as large as a planet, very magnificent.

The whole planet emitted a faint light, which was the planet's gas generating countless lightning due to high-speed friction, illuminating the entire planet.

Even though there was no star, this gas giant planet, relying on its intense activities, emitted strong energy, preventing itself from freezing in the extreme cold of the Universe.

"What powerful energy this planet has!"

Upon seeing this planet, Su Yu knew he had arrived at the right place, as the energy of this planet was extremely strong.

According to the planetary energy knowledge he had previously acquired, he assessed the energy level of this planet and quickly concluded: Fifth Rank!

Indeed, this was a planet capable of nurturing Fifth Rank Transcendents!

As long as all the energy of this planet could be fully grasped, one could break through to the Fifth Rank!

"However, this energy is so violent, it's basically impossible to achieve a breakthrough to the Fifth Rank by utilizing this planet, right?"

In Su Yu's vision, the material part of the gas planet had already receded, leaving only the energy landscape.

In that energy landscape, the planetary energy of the gas giant was also frantically spinning, rubbing, and exploding, even more violent and chaotic than on the material level.

Considering the massive size of this planet, trying to control all of its energy was simply impossible.

"Come to think of it, if such a large planet's energy could only be partially controlled, could that still achieve Fifth Rank?"

A thought emerged in Su Yu's mind.

On the surface of this gas planet, even a large storm vortex was bigger than an ordinary planet.

Controlling just a portion of the planet's energy might actually be more and stronger than a whole ordinary planet.

"Probably not."

After pondering for a moment, Su Yu dismissed the idea.

To advance to the Fifth Rank, one must completely grasp all the energy of a planet, and this "all energy" should be extremely crucial.

No matter how large this planet was, only controlling half of it was equivalent to hundreds of times an ordinary planet.

But that still wasn't the "all energy" of a planet and wasn't complete.

It was unlikely to be usable for breaking through to the Fifth Rank.

However, if gaining the ability to break through by controlling all the energy of such a giant gas planet, shouldn't it be much stronger than an ordinary Fifth Rank?

Surely there are variations among the Fifth Rank...

Su Yu gazed at this planet, silent for a long time; the five Galaxy Warriors dared not interrupt and quietly waited.

After a while, Su Yu softly said, "Let's go over and take a look."

Then, Su Yu's massive figure transformed into a streak of light, flying toward the planet.

As he approached, the planet grew larger in Su Yu's view until it filled his entire field of vision.

Finally, Su Yu descended into the atmosphere of the gas giant.

The storms here were extremely violent, and a normal person wouldn't survive a second, but for Su Yu, it was no big deal.

He descended into it and quickly disappeared from sight.

Su Yu first circled in the yellow-green storm, exploring a range of tens of thousands of kilometers, finding nothing but storm gases.

Then he started to descend.

The inner depths of this gas giant must contain a liquid or even solid core, and he wanted to see if there was anything there.

Su Yu soon descended over ten thousand kilometers deep, where the pressure and temperature were already at levels that no ordinary life could survive.

Chapter 776: Gaseous Planet, Mysterious Core, 10 Years of Research!_2

Continuing to submerge, finally, he saw a "planet".

Inside the gaseous giant, there was another planet, which was the core of the gaseous giant.

Su Yu saw that the core was even larger than the Ruins Star, its surface covered with yellow-green liquid, which was liquid hydrogen mixed with other substances, forming an ocean.

Under the violent storms, waves hundreds of kilometers high swept across this ocean, and beneath them, he could faintly see its solid core.

Su Yu saw inside that solid core... a mechanical device!

Inside the core of this giant liquid planet, there was actually some kind of mechanical device!

Though he only glimpsed for a moment, Su Yu saw clearly that the core was completely mechanized.

The entire core was composed of complex and precise mechanical devices!

Various mechanical components were slowly operating, each component measuring thousands of kilometers, and they emitted mysterious flashes as they functioned.

To know that this core was several times larger than the entire Ruins Star, and it had all been transformed into a mechanical device, what great power that must be!

Su Yu only took one look and was instantly horrified, not daring to linger, and hurriedly flew upwards.

Quickly, Su Yu left the atmosphere of this planet, broke free of its orbit, and then flew away without looking back.

Su Yu was fleeing.

There was no other way; the mechanical device inside that core was too terrifying!

Su Yu actually sensed no energy flow, aura, or anything from that mechanical device in the core; it seemed to be lifeless.

But anyone with half a brain would know that such a core was transformed into a mechanical device and was apparently still operating, suggesting that its rank was at least Fifth Rank, possibly even higher.

Su Yu feared that if he lingered a bit longer and startled that thing, any casual attack could kill him outright.

So he fled quickly.

He even worried that he had already alarmed that unknown mechanical device, and its weapon systems might have targeted him.

After flying for more than ten hours and over a billion kilometers, Su Yu finally felt somewhat at ease, as it seemed that the device hadn't targeted him or had no intention of attacking.

Su Yu continued flying back, frowning and pondering: "What is that thing? Some kind of Imperial planet-destroying weapon? But it doesn't seem like it..."

Su Yu knew that the Empire was technologically advanced back then and possessed planet-destroying weaponry.

It wouldn't be strange for the Empire to have built such a mechanical planet.

However, the mechanical style of the thing he just saw was completely different from any mechanics Su Yu had seen before.

Su Yu was an expert in mechanics, not only having inherited the Empire's Mechanic knowledge but also that of the Mechanical God, giving him a unique understanding of various mechanical structures and styles.

To the untrained eye, it all looked like a bunch of metal parts, but Su Yu could see the "style," an abstract quality.

Su Yu determined that the style of that mechanical star core was entirely different from the style of the Mechanical God and the Empire.

Thus, Su Yu suspected that the mechanical star core was not of Imperial origin.

Of course, it could also be that the powerful mechanic who built this planet had an eccentric personality and unique style, who knows.

After all, this place is some sort of "future possibility," the future is endless, and anything could happen. Who knows who built this mechanical star core, for what purpose or what function.

This bizarre space-time has too many unknowns.

This exploration yielded no clues but raised even more questions.

If Su Yu were at the Fifth Rank level, he might figure out a way to explore that mechanical star core closely, which could potentially be hugely beneficial.

But with his current strength, going there is just seeking death.

So Su Yu wisely decided to stay far away, not to provoke that mechanical star core, and quickly find a way to leave this desolate place.

"Lord Su Yu, that was..."

The five Galaxy Warriors were also startled and were even afraid to breathe too heavily.

Experienced as Galaxy Warriors, they knew the depths of the universe held many terrifying dangers; that mechanical star core might be one of them.

Now that they had distanced themselves, they dared to speak out.

Hearing this, Su Yu responded, "It should be controlling the absorption of the planet's energy."

Although he didn't know the function of that mechanical star core, he guessed that since it was inside the planet, it was probably related to the planet's energy.

Su Yu had just pondered how powerful it would be to use the energy from that gigantic gaseous planet to break through to the Fifth Rank, only to find a true entity moments later.

"Then... what should we do?"

Upon hearing this, the Galaxy Warriors were even more shocked. They had some knowledge about planetary energy and knew this energy is extremely powerful, crucial for nurturing Transcendents.

Now that the mechanical star core was absorbing the energy of such a massive planet, how powerful was it?

"Don't bother with it."

Su Yu said calmly.

Seeing Su Yu's calmness, the Galaxy Warriors felt much more at ease.

They even speculated whether the mechanical star core was some secret Imperial weapon. Lord Su Yu was so calm, did he already have a method to control and utilize that mechanical star core?

These guys were wildly speculating, unaware that what Su Yu really meant by "don't bother" was that it's useless to intervene.

If that thing moves, even ten times stronger Su Yu would still be instantly killed, so what's the use?

However, Su Yu estimated that the thing wouldn't move easily; controlling and absorbing planetary energy is complicated. Seeing the violent energy of the gaseous planet, the object likely hadn't succeeded yet and probably didn't have time for a passing human like Su Yu.

"Better to return first, quickly complete the research on the Time Mechanic, I'm desperate to leave this damned place..."

Su Yu thought to himself.

Twenty more hours later, Su Yu returned to the previous planet, then submerged again to the great underground cavern over a thousand kilometers down.

This time, Su Yu directly deactivated the Sunshine Transformation and entered with his true form.

Upon returning, he immediately instructed the Galaxy Warriors: "I need to seclude myself to research a way to leave here. Manage the population well and don't disturb me."

The Galaxy Warriors, being extremely loyal, immediately complied upon hearing Su Yu's order.

Su Yu locked himself in the Energy Tower, starting his dedicated research.

This research lasted a full ten years!

To create a profession, especially one in the Time System, is no easy task. This was the longest research Su Yu ever conducted.

Since acquiring the Profession Panel, it was the first time Su Yu had so much free time.

Fortunately, this mysterious space-time was a fragment of future time.

No matter how much time Su Yu wasted here, upon returning, maybe only a few seconds passed in reality, or perhaps he'd go back to a past time point, not only not wasting time but gaining it.

So Su Yu wasn't afraid of wasting time; he could research slowly.

Su Yu worried more about the dark, eerie power in the shadows, which, over time, might erode the area more.

And whether that mysterious mechanical star core inside the gaseous planet would suddenly act one day, swallowing both Su Yu and this entire planet.

Fortunately, over these ten years, the dark power's erosion was present but not severe, likely blocked by the planet's energy.

The mechanical star core also hadn't appeared; with hundreds of millions of kilometers between them, Su Yu couldn't observe the situation there and could only comfort himself that the thing was still silently absorbing and controlling the gaseous planet's energy without any disturbance.

During these ten years, Su Yu wasn't cooped up in the energy tower's laboratory the whole time; he occasionally went out, building new energy towers and various strange mechanical devices across the planet.

Today, his research seemed to reach a stage conclusion, and he summoned ten Galaxy Warriors, stating solemnly: "Today, it's time to start the formal experiment!"

Chapter 777: Time Travel! The experiment was a success!

Su Yu finished speaking and sighed inwardly, "Finally, the day has come."

In the past ten years, Su Yu had thoroughly studied the knowledge he acquired, such as the memories of the demon, the data from the Subspace Analyzer, the inheritance from the Mechanical God, the technology from the Radiant Blueprint, and so on.

By combining them with his understanding of the Path of Space-Time, he finally had a preliminary result with the Time Mechanic and created the Time Machine.

If this experiment is successful, it means his creation of the Time Mechanic can be considered a success.

Those Galaxy Warriors, upon hearing this, looked serious yet slightly excited in their hearts.

During the past decade, they had communicated frequently with Su Yu and knew that he was exploring time-space mysteries, aiming to create a Time Machine.

Once successful, they could escape this bizarre time-space fragment and head to the real world.

They had been waiting for this moment for ten years.

"Lord Su Yu, what do you need us to do?"

The leading Galaxy Warrior quickly asked respectfully.

This Galaxy Warrior was named Qi Feihang, a nine-star top-level warrior, just a ceremony away from advancing to the Fourth Rank.

Among the ten Galaxy Warriors, regardless of strength or experience, he was the top, considered their leader.

He naturally knew that Su Yu, who had always been conducting research alone, suddenly calling them meant he needed them to assist with the experiment.

Su Yu nodded approvingly and said, "Indeed, I need your cooperation."

Then, Su Yu told them the details of the experiment.

Su Yu detected that in three days, the planet's energy would have a major fluctuation.

The material part of the planet would experience volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, and similar activities would occur in the energy part.

Simply put, it's like a "volcanic eruption" on the energy level of the planet.

Such energy eruptions also, like volcanoes, have fixed locations and erupt periodically.

Su Yu had built mechanical devices at the eruption nodes ahead of time.

When the planet's energy fluctuates, he'll use technical means to enhance these fluctuations.

The planet's energy is closely related to Subspace; such violent energy fluctuations will inevitably affect Subspace.

Historically, such eruptions have occurred many times.

Based on calculations, Su Yu determined that the last intense eruption was a hundred years ago.

Within the chaos of Subspace, energy eruptions from two different time points will have a resonance on the space-time level.

Su Yu plans to use this resonance to send a Galaxy Warrior back to a past time point through the Time Machine.

Thus achieving time travel!

However, Su Yu's technology is not yet mature; he himself is too strong to achieve such travel at the moment.

That's why he needs the cooperation of these Galaxy Warriors.

"Lord Su Yu, I am willing to go!"

"I am willing too!"

"Me too..."

Hearing this, these Galaxy Warriors immediately expressed their willingness to cooperate without asking about any dangers.

They are indeed the most loyal warriors of the Empire.

Su Yu was very pleased with their performance, but for this experiment, only one person was needed.

Su Yu chose the strongest, Qi Feihang.

For this experiment, the stronger the person who can travel through time, the better. It's best if one can reach the Fourth Rank to also send Su Yu back.

Now, besides Su Yu, Qi Feihang is the strongest here, so he was naturally chosen.

Qi Feihang had no objections to this.

Thus Su Yu immediately started the experiment, leading Qi Feihang into the Time Machine.

This Time Machine was not in an underground cavern but on the surface of the ice field.

It was a mechanical tower hundreds of meters high, originally an energy collection tower, modified to extract the planet's energy and achieve resonance.

This mechanical high tower looked majestic from the outside, but the inside was somewhat chaotic, filled with all sorts of strange mechanical devices.

Many of these mechanical devices did not appear to be human-made; they were technologies from the Subspace Analyzer and the inheritance of the Mechanical God.

Among the jumbled set of mechanical devices, there was a device similar to a hibernation chamber, where Su Yu instructed Qi Feihang to remove his armor and lay down.

Qi Feihang immediately took off his heavy Galaxy Battle Armor.

These Galaxy Warriors always wore their armor, even while eating and sleeping. This was the first time in ten years Su Yu saw him without his armor.

He was a tall, muscular man, about two meters in height, wearing only a pair of boxer shorts.

No wonder he always wore his armor; apart from it, he didn't even have a pair of pants.

His physique was mighty, but he had a young-looking baby face, which seemed a bit incongruous.

Su Yu glanced at him twice, making a mental note, then instructed him to lie down in the mechanical chamber.

Qi Feihang seemed a bit uncomfortable without his armor but said nothing and obediently lay in the mechanical chamber.

Various mechanical data interfaces had been implanted into different parts of his body to better control the armor and pre-set interfaces.

This made it convenient, as Su Yu didn't have to make any modifications.

As he lay down, some mechanical arms inside the chamber automatically engaged and connected with those interfaces.

Various physical data of Qi Feihang were transmitted through those interfaces.

Su Yu looked at the transmitted data, silently calculated, then turned to look at Qi Feihang:

"This Time Machine has previously conducted some live experiments with ordinary animals. This is the first time for human trials."

"There are certain dangers involved, which I must tell you."

Su Yu looked at Qi Feihang with a serious expression.

Qi Feihang lay in the device and said, "Please speak, Lord Su Yu."

Chapter 778: Time Travel! Experiment Successful! _2

"This experiment is not about physical travel, but memory travel."

"This Memory Resonance Chamber utilizes memory resonance technology. With the fluctuations of planetary energy, it will establish a connection between you and yourself from a hundred years ago."

"If it fails, probably nothing will happen."

"If it succeeds, your consciousness will travel back a hundred years. Then you need to pay attention..."

As Su Yu said this, his expression became more serious:

"Time travel, until now, I've only grasped a bit of theory, without actual successful experimental data. Those animal experiments only lasted a moment, providing a bit of vague data, then the test subjects died."

"So if you actually travel, I can't even tell what might happen."

"I'll just share a few guesses."

"First guess: This time travel essentially utilizes the chaos of Subspace. So when you travel, your consciousness will enter the unknowns of Subspace, which might suffer unpredictable contamination."

"Second guess: If you succeed in traveling, and your consciousness returns to the past, then there will be two of you in the same time and space. What will happen then? This is not physical travel but memory travel. Your memories and the memories from a hundred years ago will share one body, which might devour each other, leaving only one or even leading to mutual annihilation."

"Three more guesses..."

"In any case, this experiment is very dangerous, so you need to think it through."

Su Yu hid nothing and explained all sorts of dangers clearly.

Qi Feihang, after listening carefully, said carelessly, "This experiment was meant to save our own lives. If we want to survive, we must fight for it, nothing much about it. I just hope Lord Su Yu can gather enough data from this."

These Galaxy Warriors, stranded in this Dark Space-Time, were originally just waiting for death. Now, having hope to return to normal space-time, they naturally wouldn't back down.

Su Yu nodded and spoke again.

This time, it wasn't about the dangers but to instruct Qi Feihang on what he needs to do if the experiment succeeds and he truly travels back to the past.

Qi Feihang listened carefully and memorized it in his heart.

After Su Yu finished speaking, he said no more and focused on tinkering with various mechanical devices, adjusting their states.

This adjustment lasted a full three days.

Qi Feihang, lying in the Memory Resonance Chamber, almost fell asleep from waiting.

Suddenly, he jolted awake because various machines around him started roaring into action!

Various energy sparks and currents raged around the Memory Resonance Chamber; the energy strength skyrocketed, quickly reaching the nine-star level, and still rising.

Some of the energy even seeped into the Resonance Chamber, and even with Qi Feihang's nine-star top-level body strength, he felt a tingling sensation.

Qi Feihang was secretly alarmed; the intensity of these energies, if fully unleashed, could probably blow him to bits.

How Su Yu controlled it, without blowing up these mechanical devices, was unknown.

It's known that the materials for those devices were sourced from this planet. Because of the planet's barrenness, the materials are quite ordinary. They should logically not withstand these energies.

Actually, Su Yu had Nuonuo integrate these mechanical devices, forcibly elevating them to the Fourth Rank, otherwise, they would've exploded long ago.

Among Su Yu's four Mechanical Apostles, Nuonuo and Fear Intelligence were always with him. Mechanical God and Mechanical City were one entity, left on Ruins Star.

With Nuonuo's enhancement, Su Yu's newly developed time machine had the potential for success.

Otherwise, this time machine, starting at the Fourth Rank level, this planet being destitute, even creating Third Rank machines would be difficult, where would Su Yu find enough materials?

Bang!

As the mechanical devices operated, the energy sparks and lightning became more and more explosive.

Around the entire time machine, wildly rotating, forming a massive energy pillar, straight into the cosmic orbit hundreds of kilometers above.

Seen from space, there appeared a twinkling "needle" on this planet.

After a moment, the light pillar suddenly disappeared. Not knowing where that horrifying energy went, only a mechanical high tower remained at the scene, corroded and in ruins by that energy.

This time machine, however, was a one-time thing. Anyway, with Nuonuo, Su Yu could craft another one anytime using a bit of scrap metal.

Inside that Memory Resonance Chamber, Qi Feihang had already quietly disappeared.

Su Yu hurried to the Resonance Chamber, looking at the empty chamber, his face indecisive.

Nearby, the remaining nine Galaxy Warriors were somewhat worried: "Lord, wasn't it said to be memory travel? Why has the person disappeared?"

Hearing this, Su Yu did not answer, seemingly contemplating and sensing something.

A moment later, he finally spoke: "It should have worked, now we wait."

Su Yu didn't specify what to wait for, just quietly stood in the tower.

The nine Galaxy Warriors, heeding his words, dared not ask more and waited quietly.

After a while, Su Yu's expression shifted, looking outside the tower, and sure enough, a figure flew rapidly over, precisely Qi Feihang.

He wasn't wearing battle armor, just flying bare-chested in extreme cold.

Once he arrived, he excitedly exclaimed: "Lord, it worked!"

Upon hearing this, Su Yu was also a bit excited internally, but still remained calm, asking quietly, "What happened?"

"Lord, it's like this..."

Qi Feihang quickly recounted in detail what had just happened.

Of course, for Su Yu, these were events that just took place.

But for Qi Feihang, it was an old story from a hundred years ago!

Originally, at the final moment of the energy outburst, Qi Feihang felt like he was about to be melted by that energy.

Just then, he suddenly felt "himself".

He felt his body and consciousness, having duplicates!

One in the present, and one in the "past" a hundred years ago.

This feeling was very peculiar, a never-before-experienced marvel for Qi Feihang.

The two Qi Feihangs resonated, crossing a century.

There was no imagined scramble for control, no devouring or conflict occurred.

In fact, there were not really two people; at the moment of resonance, they merged into one.

They were one person, only situated in two different times and spaces, now connected, immediately aligning their wills, merging into one person.

Thus, the Qi Feihang from a century ago acquired the memories of the Qi Feihang from a hundred years later.

He learned of Su Yu's existence and plans a century in advance.

However, he stayed nonchalant for that century, and only ten years ago, after Su Yu arrived, he quietly shared everything with "Su Yu".

This was also Su Yu's instruction before the experiment.

When the Su Yu from ten years ago learned about everything, he was quite surprised, then instructed Qi Feihang to continue operating as per the original history without leaking the information.

Until just now, Su Yu "once again" had him conduct the experiment.

However, he secretly made an escape!

This escape had been premeditated by Qi Feihang for a long time, with the help of another Su Yu.

Thus, under Su Yu's nose, he left from the Resonance Chamber.

He didn't flee far, only a hundred kilometers away, then returned once things settled down.

Hearing this, Su Yu was silent for a long time.

After waiting for a bit, Qi Feihang cautiously asked: "Lord Su Yu, what do you think?"

Hearing this, Su Yu looked at him, then suddenly smiled, saying, "I now have two sets of memories!"

"My memories are now twofold: one where you underwent the experiment normally, and another where the experiment hadn't started and you ran away."

"These two sets of memories represent two [histories]. It seems, the experiment truly succeeded; you achieved time travel and changed history!"

Upon hearing this, Qi Feihang also smiled: "That's good! That's good!"

However, he curiously asked, "Lord Su Yu, currently, which one are you considered to be?"

Chapter 779: Time-Space Mysteries, Split?

Qi Feihang's question was a bit strange, he actually asked which Su Yu he was?

But Su Yu understood.

In Qi Feihang's previous account, there were two Su Yus.

One was right in front of him, and the other was the one he encountered after traveling back a hundred years.

The two Su Yus existed in two different timelines, with no interconnected memories.

So Qi Feihang asked, after all, which Su Yu was he?

Su Yu heard this, glanced at him, and didn't answer directly, instead he asked, "Then which one are you?"

Qi Feihang was taken aback: "Naturally, there is only one of me..."

Before he finished speaking, he understood and laughed: "I see! Lord Su Yu, naturally, there's only one too!"

Su Yu also laughed but didn't elaborate.

Then Su Yu took out a Memory Resonance Chamber, allowing Nuonuo to fuse and enhance to the Fourth Rank, before letting Qi Feihang lie inside.

He then spent three days using that Memory Resonance Chamber to meticulously re-examine Qi Feihang, gathering sufficient data.

This Memory Resonance Chamber can extract memories with the other party's permission.

Su Yu extracted all of Qi Feihang's memories during this time for research purposes.

Only then did Su Yu let him out and instructed: "This experiment has succeeded, you should go back first, we will need you for the next experiment."

"This experiment has its dangers, but also its benefits. Since you traveled through time, you should have improved."

Qi Feihang was slightly stunned by these words and only then realized that his own aura had become significantly stronger.

Originally, he was at the Nine-star Top Level, just short of a ceremony. Before advancing to the Fourth Rank, theoretically, no amount of meditation or training would further enhance his strength.

But now, his strength had increased by more than thirty percent once again.

For a Nine-star Top Level to improve another thirty percent, this boost was nearly equivalent to the full power of an ordinary Nine-star strongman.

This kind of enhancement was already incredibly significant.

Qi Feihang suddenly looked pleased; he didn't expect such a benefit!

However, Qi Feihang was puzzled about when this strength increased; he didn't feel anything at all.

In a moment, he figured it out, the increase in power happened just now when the experiment succeeded!

He then looked at Su Yu curiously, wondering if Su Yu's strength had also improved.

Su Yu's strength was too high, so Qi Feihang couldn't tell and dared not ask much.

He only dared to ask himself: "Lord Su Yu, so will there be such an improvement in the next experiment? Could my brothers also try it?"

He thought of his comrades when he had something good.

Su Yu shook his head and did not answer directly, instead saying, "Let's talk about the next experiment next time."

Qi Feihang didn't press further, so he called out, put on his battle armor, and led the remaining nine Galaxy Warriors away, returning to the Underground Shelter.

Over these ten years, the strange dark powers grew ever stronger, and they weren't Su Yu, so they dared not stay on the planet's surface for too long. Otherwise, at some point, they might be eroded by the Dark Power and vanish silently.

The remaining nine Galaxy Warriors, having watched the entire process, were utterly confused, completely unclear about what happened earlier.

Now that they had some free time, they all gathered around Qi Feihang to inquire.

However, the matter was complex and left Qi Feihang at a loss to explain; he could only brush it off.

Watching their departing figures, Su Yu shifted his vision; he could see that Qi Feihang's figure wasn't clear, but two overlapping silhouettes.

This overlap was invisible on the surface, even Qi Feihang himself couldn't see it.

Only Su Yu on the entire planet possessed such sight.

When Su Yu looked at himself again, it was the same, like two photos stacked together but not perfectly aligned, appearing somewhat blurry.

Fortunately, this blur was gradually disappearing.

"The mysteries of time and space are truly miraculous..."

Su Yu sorted through the two completely different sets of memories in his mind, marveling in his heart.

At this moment, he indeed was the overlap of two people.

There were two Su Yus in total.

One had been researching the mysteries of time and space for ten years.

The other Su Yu was the one Qi Feihang encountered after traveling back.

The two Su Yus bore different memories and experiences.

However, just a moment ago, these two Su Yus had already merged into one; now, there was only one Su Yu left.

But this merger wasn't fully completed yet, which is why Su Yu saw this overlapping image.

Due to this fusion, Su Yu's strength had also increased, even more than Qi Feihang's, approaching nearly double!

[Gained 100,000 Professional Experience...]

The Profession Panel popped up with a notification that Su Yu gained a massive amount of experience; the Giant God Soldier Mechanic leveled up by nearly thirty levels in an instant.

Over these ten years, aside from research, Su Yu had been persistently engaged in meditation and training.

However, advancing in a Fourth Rank profession wasn't easy. He lacked the Mechanical God's ability to adjust fate and had lost touch with the Believers; his progress had been slow, only advancing one or two levels, which was fast for him.

But now, this instantaneous advancement surpassed his ten years of training progress by dozens of times!

The gains from this experiment were indeed tremendous.

That was why Su Yu made such an exclamation, marveling at the wonders of the time-space mysteries.

Of course, his marvel was not just about the benefits.

There was also the immense danger contained within.

Initially, Su Yu was worried that if Qi Feihang's consciousness traveled back, it would cause two Qi Feihangs to exist concurrently, conflicting with each other.

Chapter 780: Time-Space Mysteries, Split?_2

It was only later that he understood, such worries were unnecessary.

When the two Qi Feihang's memories resonated and connected across time and space, there was only one Qi Feihang.

In that instant, Qi Feihang was like a peculiar higher-dimensional being.

At that time, Qi Feihang had two bodies simultaneously.

One body was a hundred years ago, and one body was a hundred years later.

The two bodies spanned time and space, sharing one consciousness, sharing all memories.

So there was no conflict of consciousness.

However, this does not mean that this time travel had no hidden dangers.

The hidden danger lies in the fact that history has been changed!

Qi Feihang's consciousness brought memories from a hundred years later back in time, altering history.

Even if he did nothing, he was already completely different from the Qi Feihang in the original history.

Thus, in the "past," there existed two histories and two different Qi Feihangs.

Of course, these two Qi Feihangs were in different parts of history and would not meet or conflict.

And Su Yu instructed Qi Feihang, after traveling back, not to make any unnecessary moves, letting everything unfold according to the original historical trajectory.

This way, the only one affected by the changed history would be Qi Feihang himself, without impacting others.

Then, ten years ago, after Su Yu descended on this planet, Qi Feihang quietly contacted him and told him everything.

Thus, Su Yu's history was also changed, adding another version of Su Yu's history.

This version of Su Yu also went through history step by step, trying not to change anyone else's past.

Until just now, both strands of history reached the "now," to the point of the experiment.

The other Su Yu, however, made a completely different choice and had Qi Feihang escape before the experiment.

This arranged escape was also a time-space experiment.

Previously, Qi Feihang traveling back had changed history.

But during the experiment, Qi Feihang's escape changed the "now," altering reality.

Su Yu wanted to see, if "history" reached the "now" and was altered afterward, which version would prevail?

Now there was only one, at least before Su Yu, there was only one choice, surely only one would be affirmed.

Qi Feihang's escape made the experiment impossible to proceed.

Was it that his escape succeeded, or the experiment succeeded?

The result was that the experiment succeeded, but within the resonance chamber, there was no trace of Qi Feihang.

This is because the two histories had fused.

Allowing Qi Feihang's escape to succeed, and also Su Yu's experiment to succeed.

The two different histories converged at the "now."

The two Su Yu's also fused, acquiring all the memories.

Even their strength increased.

Su Yu, through this experiment, gained entirely new data, confirming some hypotheses, it was indeed a huge success.

However, Su Yu felt not only joy but also some gloominess.

Because the mysteries of time and space were beyond his expectations.

Although time travel was achieved, it harbored great risks.

"It seems that within one timeline, the same person is actually a unity. They form a line in time and there is no conflict..."

Su Yu mused to himself.

According to Qi Feihang's experience, even if he traveled back and contacted his past self, it was still only him, there would not be an extra Qi Feihang.

Qi Feihang from a hundred years ago and now are the same person, the same consciousness.

The two bodies at different points in time are like a person's two limbs, slightly different, but governed by one consciousness.

If Qi Feihang were stronger, contacting his self from ten years ago, twenty years ago...

Even every point in time.

Countless Qi Feihangs forming a line in time, sharing consciousness, would make him a peerless being fully mastering the Power of Time.

Almost detaching from the timeline, fully grasping past and future.

However, that realm is only theoretically feasible, even Su Yu is far from it, let alone Qi Feihang.

Moreover, to achieve that realm, freely traveling through time and space, one must solve an important hidden danger.

That is altering history!

If Su Yu also conducted the experiment, sending his consciousness back in time, there wouldn't be consciousness conflict, no two Su Yu's fighting.

But sending consciousness back would inevitably change history.

Even if Su Yu performed intentionally, trying not to change history, it couldn't be perfect.

There would definitely be changes.

Even a tiny bit, a single cell, a molecular change, still counts as a change.

This results in two different histories, two different timelines.

In these two histories, there are two Su Yu's.

These two Su Yu's do not meet in history, like parallel lines that do not intersect.

But when reaching the "now," the two histories would merge, the two Su Yu's would become one again, thus possessing two sets of memories.

Both histories are the "past," and the "now" is singular, needing to merge into one.

This leads to a huge risk.

Su Yu slightly altering history caused a slight difference and vagueness during the merge of the two Su Yu's.

What if the two Su Yu's were too different, unable to merge?

For instance, if one Su Yu from either history was tainted by something, his nature drastically changed.

Or what if one of the Su Yu's from a history perished?

Then, at the "now," could the two Su Yu's still merge?

Or would there be a complete split?

These various possibilities made Su Yu couldn't help but have a headache, finding it difficult to discern clearly.

Now he could already achieve time travel, only needing some technological improvements to go back himself as well.

But each time he travels, history will be altered, causing a split in history.

When merging, these changes and splits will increase the difficulty of merging.

This fusion was smooth, even benefiting from it.

The next time might not be so.

Perhaps it would really split into two Su Yu's.

Even...

"It may have already split! For example... how did this timeline's Planet Governor Su Yu come to be?"

Su Yu's expression was very grim.

He remembered that there was also a Su Yu in this timeline, who was the Planet Governor.

Originally, Su Yu wondered if it was the same name.

Now Su Yu suspected if it might be from some time-space history fusion that didn't succeed, leading to the splitting of another one?

Although this was Su Yu's first time performing a time experiment.

Others or other things, however, might not be the same.

If others or some other thing also conduct time experiments, heavily alter history, it would also result in two Su Yu's, or even more.

If these Su Yu's were too different, it could lead to a split!

This kind of thing is totally indefensible.

Su Yu didn't even know how many times he had split? How many Su Yu's there were?

And at this moment, Su Yu recalled another matter, which was the Galaxy Battle Armor!

When the Galaxy Battle Armor traveled back initially, there were two of them! They even met each other.

Now, Su Yu had to face such a situation too.

Perhaps one day, he would meet another version of himself, such as that Planet Governor Su Yu.

Although the Galaxy Battle Armor crossed back from the "future," causing a split.

Su Yu's situation was due to historical changes, somewhat different from the Galaxy Battle Armor.

But there were many similarities involved in the mysteries of time-space.

When Su Yu achieved time travel, he imagined it to be wonderfully perfect, freely changing the past, almost god-like.

But now that it was finally realized, Su Yu discovered that this matter wasn't as wonderful at all, rather full of eerie danger.

"In any case, the experiment must continue, the mysteries of time-space must be thoroughly studied."

Su Yu made up his mind.

This matter, although extremely risky with numerous hidden dangers, must be done.

Moreover, precisely because of its danger, Su Yu must do it, must grasp its mysteries.

Otherwise, next time he faces such power, he wouldn't be able to resist at all, not even knowing what happened.
