Chapter 851: Rebuilding Civilization, 7-Star Army!

When Su Yu spoke, it left everyone astounded.

Although they had a vague suspicion they had died once and been resurrected, after all, none of them were fools and each had their own guesses.

Yet hearing it confirmed by Su Yu himself gave them a different feeling, making them feel a chill down their spines.

They had actually died once!

Even the loyal generals of the Ghost Emperor secretly wondered if Su Yu's so-called advancement to the Fifth Rank, "needing their help," was actually a euphemism for making them die again, sacrificing them?

After all, the Ghost Emperor had done the same thing before.

But Su Yu ignored their varied expressions and continued speaking, explaining everything that had happened earlier.

Simultaneously, Su Yu used informational methods to infuse some visual information into their consciousness, allowing them to truly see what had happened.

Su Yu began narrating from the time he agreed to duel with the Ghost Emperor.

Then he talked about the Dark Space-Time, his study of the Time Mechanic, his return through time, and his great battle with the Ghost Emperor.

Moving on to when the explosive divinity occurred, the Pain Evil God was about to descend, and the Brutal Evil God was unsealed.

Further on, it was about how Su Yu's avatar schemed, how the Mechanical Council opened fire, killing millions in the city to trigger Su Yu's humanity and prevent the Pain Evil God's arrival...

Until finally, the Evil God Soldier Mecha was forged, and Su Yu altered history to resurrect everyone, bringing everything to an end.

Although he wouldn't detail intelligence regarding his own abilities, it was enough for everyone to have a sufficient understanding of the situation at that time.

Finally, Su Yu concluded:

"So, it's like I killed you all once with my own hands, for that, I apologize, but I had no choice."

"If given another chance, I would do the same."

Su Yu's scheme was to kill everyone once, even if he resurrected them, that fact cannot be changed.

Su Yu had no intention of hiding it; he told them directly.

After speaking, Su Yu watched them silently, waiting for their reaction.

In fact, if Su Yu wished, using the Power of Time to glimpse into the future, he would immediately know what everyone would say, how they would react.

But Su Yu did not use the Power of Time; he just watched.

He had learned from the past; using the Power of Time to observe the future, though convenient, would bring him further away from "humanity."

If everything was known in advance, what would be the meaning?

For critical events, he could use the Power of Time to foresee the future, but for trivial matters like this, it wasn't needed.

Su Yu was a little curious; after learning the truth, knowing it was Su Yu who had killed them once, how would they react?

But after listening, there was a dead silence in the room, with no one speaking for a while.

They were still immersed in the shock.

The information Su Yu had just shared with them was too astonishing, involving powers too advanced.

The Power of Time, the Pain Evil God, future space-time battles, Evil God Soldier Mecha, reversing history and resurrection...

It was like listening to a myth.

Even as Seven-star Transcendents, it was hard for them to accept it all at once.

With their strength above Seven-stars, in the eyes of ordinary people, they were like gods, their stories akin to mythological tales.

Yet now, these mighty Seven-star Transcendents realized a profound truth in front of Su Yu: they were ordinary people after all.

They were shocked and frightened by this.

Some felt an infinite yearning for power, an immense reverence for Su Yu.

Moreover, Su Yu, in his narrative, unveiled many secrets about the Fourth and Fifth Ranks, information invaluable to them.

As for Su Yu killing them once, no one minded at all.

They were not foolish to have reached the level of Seven-star Transcendents.

They all understood that given the situation at the time, they were doomed to die even if Su Yu hadn't killed them. If not dead, they would end up worse than death, being controlled and toyed with by the Evil Gods.

Su Yu's act of killing them once made use of their death to turn the tide in their favor.

In the end, bringing them back to life was a win-win scenario.

After a moment, Tie Long, one of Su Yu's faithful believers, was the first to recover from the shock and spoke:

"Congratulations Mr. Su Yu on forging the Evil God Soldier Mecha and acquiring the power of the Fifth Rank, successfully driving away the Brutal Evil God! Mr. Su Yu, there's no need to apologize; it is our honor to have been part of this!"

Tie Long's first words were nothing but lavish praise.

He was a believer of Su Yu's, and as Su Yu's power grew, his faith became more devout.

His words at this moment were truly heartfelt.

As he spoke, his partly mechanical face flushed with excitement.

Tie Long truly felt honored and thus was so thrilled.

The others, upon hearing this, couldn't help but have strange expressions.

Although they didn't mind Su Yu killing them once, feeling "honored" seemed a bit exaggerated?

However, when they thought about it, in such an earth-shattering battle, they would only have had the fate of waiting to die under normal circumstances, not even qualifying as spectators.

Now, because of their death, they successfully triggered Su Yu's human nature eruptions, directly influencing the outcome of the battle.

In other words, forging the Evil God Soldier Mecha and defeating the Brutal Evil God, they had a part to play in it.

Thinking this way, it really felt... like an honor!

So, everyone also became excited and started speaking up:

"Yes, I never thought I would have the qualification to participate in such a grand battle; it truly is an honor! Thanks to Mr. Su Yu's incredible planning, we had this chance."

"Haha, being a corpse in such a significant matter, that's something to be proud of too!"

Chapter 852: Rebuilding Civilization, Seven-Star Army! (Part 2)

"Don't say it, there are benefits too. Mr. Su Yu said that the fusion of the two historical timelines has made us all stronger. Tsk tsk, I feel like dying one more time now..."

"Mr. Su Yu, next time there's such a 'good thing,' remember to call us again, don't be polite, just kill..."

Everyone was in great spirits, and the conversation became increasingly absurd.

Su Yu listened to their words, unexpectedly surprised in his heart.

He thought that even if people didn't care about being killed, there would at least be some resentment.

Or that it might instill some fear of power.

After all, their life and death were controlled by Su Yu at will.

Coming back to life with no power to resist, shouldn't there be some emotions in such a situation?

However, listening to them now, not only did they not care about these things.

Instead, they felt honored and excited to be part of this plan.

Such a reaction, Su Yu could not predict, even without observing the future.

Although it was Tie Long who led everyone astray, it was because they agreed with such a concept that they could be led astray.

"So that's it, it's nothing more than making the best use of everything..."

Su Yu thought of the words of the Ghost Emperor before he died.

Just before the Ghost Emperor's death, to "make the best use of everything," he used his own life to resurrect the million inhabitants of the Radiation Ghost City.

And now, these seven-star strong people, actually share the same concept: making the best use of everything.

Faced with a fifth-ranking doomsday disaster, they were powerless, incapable of fighting even if they wanted to, too weak, too humble.

Their life was of no use at all.

They were actually afraid of death, but even more afraid that their death would be useless, a death in vain.

Living in this cruel world, they all had the determination to take a bite out of the enemy even in death.

The greatest fear was dying in vain, not landing that final bite.

However, upon hearing that their death helped Su Yu and decided the outcome of the battle.

They did not die in vain, their lives were put to great use, "making the best use of everything," so each one of them was very satisfied.

Su Yu then chuckled and said: "You have not mastered the power of time, changing history and revival will cause a time rebound, which I cannot change."

"You can only bear revival two or three more times at most."

Su Yu was reminding them not to think that since they could be revived, they should take life lightly.

Upon hearing this, everyone became excited again: "What? We can die two or three more times?"

They began to discuss excitedly how to "maximize the benefits" of their remaining two or three lives, figuring out the best ways to die...

Seeing this, Su Yu thought to himself: "Was the Human Empire also like this back then? No wonder it could conquer the Galaxy."

"What kind of development will these people achieve?"

Seeing the excited crowd, Su Yu couldn't help but ponder what kind of development this group would achieve in the future.

Su Yu wanted to advance to the fifth level and had to promote the development of civilization and resonate with the energy of the planet.

And civilization and civilization are different.

Su Yu himself didn't manage affairs much, and the ideas of these seven-star strongmen can actually represent the future direction and style of civilization development.

It seems that as this civilization develops, it will be very fierce.

This is a good thing, as the style of civilization is also related to the power after ascending to the fifth level; the more ferocious and powerful the civilization is, the stronger the power after ascension will be.

Of course, it can't be all ferocity, losing humanity; otherwise, it would not ascend to the fifth level but rather to become an Evil God.

And these people, although fierce in concept, still retained their humanity, which made Su Yu very satisfied.

Considering internally, Su Yu slightly retracted his smile, seeing this, everyone stopped talking and respectfully waited for Su Yu to speak.

Su Yu glanced at everyone and said: "Next, I will focus on preparing for the fifth-order ceremony."

"I will manipulate planetary energy to adjust the planet's ecology."

"You need to lead the people of the Mechanical City to develop civilization across the entire planet, the more prosperous the development, the better!"

"Remember! It's civilization, not the settlements or cities you previously knew!"

Upon hearing this, everyone murmured the word "civilization," inexplicably, a surge of passion arose in their hearts.

A passion not felt for ten thousand years!

They looked at each other, seeing the four words in each other's eyes: Human Empire!

Not a settlement, not a city, but a civilization!

Isn't that the legendary Human Empire?

Back when humans set out from the mother planet, embarked on a distant expedition through the Galaxy, and established a brilliant human civilization.

The settlements and cities they had lived in previously couldn't dare to claim themselves as a civilization, not even a nation.

But now, Mr. Su Yu was asking them to develop a civilization!

Mr. Su Yu was aiming to rebuild the Human Empire, to revive the glory of humanity? It must be!

Although it's still confined to the Ruins Star now, they all believed that with Mr. Su Yu's power, he would sooner or later step into the universe again and conquer the Galaxy!

Everyone's blood surged with enthusiasm and excitement.

Even the subordinates of the Ghost Emperor, who had just joined Su Yu's command and had little loyalty to Su Yu, were deeply stirred by the words "civilization."

Su Yu waited for everyone's mood to calm down a bit before continuing: "To develop a civilization, combat power is paramount!"

"I will open the exchange system for the rituals and Meditation Techniques of third-level professions."

"At the same time, the Seven-Star Battle Armor is ready for mass production, along with Sunshine Transformation, Mechanization Transformation..."

Su Yu announced a series of "benefits."

He had previously obtained a lot of third-level profession information, especially from the Demon of Strife, which was fused from dozens of seven-star strongmen, Su Yu obtained dozens of third-level professions from it.

Su Yu chose to publish part of these professions; in the future, there will surely be many new seven-star strongmen in the Mechanical City!

Previously, he didn't publish them because Su Yu was advancing too quickly, leaving no time to train his subordinates.

Now it's time to start.

And there was also the seven-star battle armor army he had long wanted to establish, which could now be started!

With the Evil God Soldier Mecha, Su Yu gained the power of fifth rank, making the manufacture of seven-star battle armor much easier than before.

Normal Seven-Star Mechanical Creations also require the conduct of rituals to transform their subspace projections into indelible imprints.

As an Extraordinary Mechanic, he could share his subspace projections so that mechanical creations could achieve seven-star status without rituals.

But even as a fourth-rank strong person, this sharing has a limit on quantity.

As a fourth-rank strong person, Su Yu could share only about a hundred seven-star projections.

This number is still too small for building a "large army" of seven-star battle armor.

However, at the fifth rank, this quantity limitation has almost disappeared.

Because... the subspace projections of fifth-order experts have undergone multiple evolutions.

From a projection to an imprint, then from an imprint to a domain.

Finally, it transforms from a Subspace Domain into a complete independent Subspace Planet!

This Subspace Planet is capable of nurturing life.

However, the life nurtured on this planet is not the flesh and blood life of the material world, but rather naturally born subspace life.

Previously, Su Yu encountered a demon in the subspace, which was a similar existence.

The minions of the Brutal Evil God: Ghost Demons, are actually the same kind of existence.

These subspace lives are essentially natural subspace imprints.

All you need to do is to invest them into the Mechanical Creations, integrate them, and naturally, you can produce a large number of seven-stars!

Su Yu, having control over the Evil God Soldier Mecha, consequentially controlled its Subspace Domain Planet.

He could use this to nurture subspace life and mass-produce seven-star beings!

However, having just obtained the Evil God Soldier Mecha, Su Yu had not yet tried this and was temporarily unaware of the "yield."

Furthermore, he was uncertain about whether the Seven-Star Mechanical Creations produced this way would retain traces of Erosion by the Pain Evil God.

These issues need to be resolved.

No matter what, the long-anticipated seven-star army of Su Yu can truly begin formation!

Even an even stronger Extraordinary Machine army could be envisaged.

Chapter 853: Gourmet... Mechanic?!

"What? Mr. Su Yu is going to announce the third-tier profession?"

"Seven-Star Mechanical Creation exchange?"

"Is there a fourth-tier one?"

Everyone was naturally overjoyed when they heard Su Yu's words.

Some even began to think about exchanging for a fourth-tier Mechanical Creation, how ambitious.

But to be honest, once Su Yu becomes familiar with the various traits of the Evil God Soldier Mecha, the fourth-tier exchange may not be impossible!

Next, Su Yu assigned tasks to everyone, instructing them to lead the residents of Mechanical City to develop worldwide.

Finally, after the meeting ended and everyone received their tasks, they departed separately.

Although Su Yu assigned tasks, for the next month, the whole Mechanical City was in a rest phase, with no one going out.

Having just experienced a life-and-death battle, they definitely needed some rest.

Moreover, the entire planet hadn't yet recovered from the previous disaster.

High-temperature storms, earthquakes, and tsunamis were everywhere, making it unsuitable to go out.

Many newcomers had also joined Mechanical City and needed to get familiar with the environment and integrate into the city.

During the following month, everyone in Mechanical City lived a god-like life.

Because... everything in the exchange system was heavily discounted!

All sorts of Mechanical Creations, weapons, transformations, technical materials, Meditation Techniques, temporary battle armors, Manifestation Spaces... prices dropped to less than a third of the original.

These dramatic price cuts included the originally exorbitant temporary Seven-Star Battle Armor!

Some exchange items even dropped to as low as one-tenth!

Su Yu's strength has surged, and he's wealthy now, so there's no need to set prices too high.

Now Su Yu's main goal is to develop civilization, and these exchanges are only to stimulate everyone to work hard; it's not really about earning energy coins from the residents.

And even if prices are cut to a third, Su Yu won't lose out as the entire city belongs to him, how could he lose?

Faced with this unprecedented price drop, everyone in Mechanical City was dazzled.

After Su Yu revived everyone, their personal terminals, along with the assets in their accounts, naturally came back with them.

However, the millions in Mechanical City were not wealthy in their accounts.

Before, they could only drool over the various exchange items in the system.

They would go through great lengths to gather some energy coins; exchanging even a small thing would drain their resources, so they were reluctant to use it.

Now, with Su Yu's direct discount, it's as if their wealth has multiplied several times over, even tenfold.

Things they couldn't afford before can now be exchanged twice over, using one and tossing the other.

How could they hold back?

Praising Su Yu's generosity, they went on a buying spree.

In no time, millions in the city practiced Meditation Techniques, wore temporary battle armor, carried fine weapons, and were served by Mechanical Creations... feeling ecstatic.

Su Yu's previous Mechanical Creations, like Cavalry and Azure Oath Battle Armor, and even Assault Tanks, were also exchanged by some.

Those guys would flaunt them all day after exchanging, showing off to acquaintances.

Although these battle machines were temporarily unused in the city, since products by Mr. Su Yu were surely excellent, why not buy them?

Especially the Assault Tank!

It's priced just below the Seven-Star Battle Armor, and many exchanged it just for its domineering appearance, strong power, and rich features, driving it was prestigious.

This Assault Tank, after Su Yu developed it, wasn't used much, only participating in battles during the rise as a War Mechanic.

After that battle, as Su Yu's strength skyrocketed, these tanks were no longer much use.

And not to mention the Cavalry that Su Yu often used before.

Therefore, Su Yu placed many of his previous Mechanical Creations into the exchange system, allowing them to be exchanged; better than letting them idle.

Thus, on the streets of Mechanical City, once in a while, you'd see Cavalry and Assault Tanks roaming, causing people to marvel, take photos, after all, Mr. Su Yu's creations are quite a spectacle!

Residents who couldn't afford Cavalry and Assault Tanks weren't envious; they swapped for some good items themselves and were quite satisfied.

Many of Mechanical City's residents originally came from ordinary settlements, accustomed to hard living.

Their hardships weren't just about lacking food and clothing but about insufficient strength, at risk of dying to Radiation Beasts any moment.

To them, strength was the greatest wealth.

So when Su Yu slashed prices, they instinctively converted all their wealth into personal strength.

The energy coins in their accounts were quickly drained, yet their hearts were abundantly satisfied.

That was the security brought by strength.

Especially after just experiencing the apocalypse, their craving for strength only increased.

The other survivors in the Dark Space-Time and Ghost Emperor's subordinates were quite similar; they shared common traits.

However, in Mechanical City, there were some outliers, those descended from Mechanics Su Yu brought back from the Manifestation Space.

This group exchanged most of their wealth for... food!

These guys, having eaten synthetic food in the Manifestation Space for thousands of years, only had normal food after meeting Su Yu, and couldn't stop since.

Their obsession with food was so intense it bordered on faith.

So while others were boosting strength, they were indulging in feasts.

Chapter 854: Gourmet... Mechanic?! (Part 2)

Su Yu naturally noticed this point too. Initially, he was somewhat worried that these descendants of the Mechanics would become indulgent and wasteful.

But after some observation, he realized that these people were indeed worthy of being the descendants of the Ancient Mechanics.

Within the past year, they surprisingly developed a new profession: Gourmet Mechanic!

When Su Yu learned about this new profession, he was a bit taken aback.

Gourmet, and Mechanic?

What kind of thing is this, how does it sound like a glutton profession?

The key is, how does gourmet connect to Mechanics?

However, after reading the materials on Gourmet Mechanics submitted by those descendants of Mechanics, Su Yu finally understood that this profession turned out to be a powerful combat profession! Moreover, it balances both combat and production extensively.

This matter, to be honest, was related to Su Yu.

Su Yu, in order to solve the food problem of the Mechanical City, initiated a food synthesis research project.

He entrusted this task to the subordinates of the Mechanical Race under the [King].

Those Mechanical Race beings, due to the [King]'s plot, were consumed by the Hell Furnace, becoming miniature nano-mechanical life forms.

Su Yu utilized their miniature form to conduct molecular-level food synthesis.

The synthesized food not only had to be edible but also delicious and tasty.

This project involved the "food enthusiasts" among the descendants of the Mechanics.

At the time, they quickly researched and developed delicious normal food, so Su Yu didn't pay much more attention to this matter.

Later, Su Yu traversed into Dark Space-Time, disappearing for over a year.

During this year, the food research project, in fact, had never stopped.

However, in this year, the focus of the descendants of the Mechanics had shifted away from the food itself.

They were studying the bodies of those miniaturized Mechanical Race beings, investigating the principles of their molecular control and food synthesis.

Eventually, these descendants of the Mechanics developed a new profession, which is—the Gourmet Mechanic!

This profession can construct and control nano machines for precise molecular synthesis and decomposition.

The synthesis ability can be used for mechanical manufacturing, food synthesis, and so on.

The decomposition ability can be deployed in combat; once a battle starts, a wave of the hand unleashes a cloud of nano machines, decomposing enemies into pieces.

They can even replace part of their organic cells with nano machines, thus achieving tremendous physical strength that allows for close combat.

This is a form of mechanization transformation, but the precision level is extremely high, reaching cellular depth.

After replacing part of their organic cells with nano machines, these gourmet mechanics' bodies also possess molecular synthesis capabilities, enabling autonomous synthesis of various delicious foods, never to be troubled by hunger.

Moreover, because they are biological cells, these nano machines can also taste delicious food, named by those individuals as: Mechanical Gourmet Cells.

By leveraging this joyful emotion from tasting food, these Mechanical Gourmet Cells can even draw a peculiar Spiritual Energy from the depths of Subspace.

The better they eat and the more satisfied they are, the stronger these nano machines' power becomes!

Theoretically, this profession can even advance to the Third Rank.

Once advanced, possessing the Subspace Imprint allows one to completely materialize that peculiar Spiritual Energy, which they have dubbed: Mechanical Food Power!

Then, they will be considered the true Gourmet Mechanic!

However, this profession has just been created for less than a year, and no one has been able to conduct the ceremony to advance to the Third Rank.

Concrete ceremonies are still under experimentation, not yet confirmed.

In the past year, most of these descendants of the Mechanics have already taken on this profession, acquiring the Mechanical Gourmet Cells.

Therefore, now these Mechanics' descendants aren't doing much else after the significant sale in the exchange system but are just busy eating.

Eating and tasting gourmet is cultivation and strength enhancement for them.

However, since they are already Gourmet Mechanics, why would they spend wealth to exchange for gourmet if they can synthesize their own?

That's because, out of these millions of Mechanics' descendants, each excels at different specialties, and the synthesized foods vary uniquely.

They exchange their uniquely synthesized gourmet in the system, bartering for variety.

The stronger their power, the more intricate and delicious their synthesized food is and the more precious.

Those two-star and three-star Gourmet Mechanics trying to taste the delicacies synthesized by seven-star and eight-star Elders would have to spend a fortune.

Sometimes, there is even a shortage.

"Tsk tsk, it really is very delicious."

Su Yu also casually traded for some gourmet created by these Mechanics' descendants, tasting it; it was indeed extraordinarily delicious, something he had never tasted before.

A million Transcendent foodies, who spent a whole year researching fervently, even Su Yu had to admit that it was truly a rare pleasure.

And for Gourmet Mechanics, tasting these delicacies is not only an enjoyment but also a way to enhance strength, therefore they are tireless in doing so.

Some gourmet are even unique items that even the Creators can't reproduce, acquired by chance, with extremely complex and variable components, exceptionally tasty, and priced on the exchange system comparable to Seven-Star Battle Armor, opening Su Yu's eyes.

"These guys..."

Su Yu faced with this new profession created by the Mechanics' descendants, found himself speechless too.

It can be anticipated that these descendants of the Mechanics will embark on a completely different path from others.

This so-called power of gourmet, who knows what its upper limit is.

Even if this power of gourmet falls short, Su Yu knows the potential of the miniature nano machines, and the Gourmet Mechanics, as they develop, can certainly become very strong!

This so-called Gourmet Mechanic can actually be renamed: Nanomechanic! Or Molecular Mechanic.

Su Yu silently increased the attention level of the information related to Gourmet Mechanics in his mind.

He wanted to see what these food enthusiasts would come up with in the future.

Actually, Su Yu could use future vision to get an early glimpse of their future and see what they could come up with.

But since it's not a crucial moment now, he didn't want to spend the Power of Time to view it, as it would be more of a surprise this way.

Thinking of this, Su Yu shifted history once again, saving those miniature Mechanical Race beings.

These miniature Mechanical Race beings perished entirely along with the destruction of the Mechanical City earlier.

And since the existence of the Gourmet Mechanics, Mechanical City no longer needed them to synthesize food.

So earlier, Su Yu didn't bother to resurrect them, except for a few friends with Galaxy Battle Armor, like G7, the rest perished entirely.

After all, resurrecting those guys would carry a backlash; Su Yu surely prioritized reviving humans. The Mechanical Race were previously adversaries, so this time, they could remain dead.

During the earlier meeting, the Galaxy Battle Armor was hesitant to speak, but ultimately didn't.

But now, after thoroughly understanding the Gourmet Mechanics, Su Yu realized that the Mechanical Race beings were quite useful, hence resurrecting them all.

After all, the Ghost Emperor in his final moments diverted quite a bit of Time Rebound, resurrecting these miniature mechanics wasn't too damaging.

He casually gave these miniatures to the Gourmet Mechanics, then Su Yu didn't bother with the matter anymore.

Of course, he remained alert in his heart; with the precedent of the Pain Evil God, he was cautious these Gourmet Mechanics might create some kind of Gourmet Evil God later, which would be troublesome.

Fortunately, there are no such signs now.

The so-called power of gourmet is just that group's strong emotions over food, which through fusion in Subspace, formed a new kind of Spiritual Energy devoid of any sinister feeling.

If someone eventually advances to the Third Rank and becomes a Seven-Star Gourmet Mechanic, then it's time to reevaluate the situation.

Thinking about this, Su Yu couldn't help but sigh: "This is civilization... a million people in one year can explore a new path."

A complete civilization should be rich and colorful.

These Gourmet Mechanics are a new path, a new landscape that makes Su Yu extremely satisfied.

He secretly looked forward to seeing how this movement of ten million people spreads across the entire planet, becoming a hundred million, a billion people, and what they would develop in the future.

Chapter 855: New Exchange List! New Missions!

Thinking of this, Su Yu smiled slightly and added some "substance" to the exchange system of the Mechanical City.

In the past month, Su Yu only made a major price cut on the original exchange list, without adding many "new products."

At most, he "put on the shelves" things like Cavalry and Assault Tanks, which were temporarily useless, to let everyone have a taste.

And at this moment, Su Yu finally added the Third Rank Professional Ceremony and Meditation Technique, a large quantity of Third Rank Battle Armor, Sunshine Transformation...

...and other heavyweight exchange items, as promised during the previous meeting.

That's right, not just the original Seven-Star Battle Armor, but Third Rank!

From Seven-Star to Nine-Star Top-Level, complete Third Rank Battle Armor available!

Of course, Eight-Star and Nine-Star Battle Armor are much more expensive than Seven-Star Battle Armor.

But under the premise of major price cuts, the price of Nine-Star Battle Armor is actually only a little higher than that of Seven-Star Battle Armor!

It even supports upgrading by trading in old items, if you originally exchanged for the Seven-Star Battle Armor, you can "cash in" to offset part of the Energy Currency!

As long as you grit your teeth and take a loan, even a Six-Star Top-Level Transcendent has a chance to get a set.

After hesitating for a moment, Su Yu even added... pre-ordering for Fourth Rank Mechanical Battle Armor!

Fourth Rank Mechanical Battle Armor is specially prepared for those who are originally Third Rank powers, but it is temporarily in stock, and Su Yu needs to study it further.

And the people in the Mechanical City have been celebrating for a month, and few have spent Energy Currency to exchange for various items.

Recently, few have even opened their personal terminals in the past two days.

For no other reason, they are broke, without money.

They can't just open and stare at the exchange list, teasing themselves, can they?

Just then, the personal terminal suddenly sent a prompt, and they all knew that such a prompt meant something big was happening.

So everyone quickly opened their personal terminals.

As soon as they opened it, everyone was stunned by the newly added exchange items.

An array of items, with dozens of Third Rank career information, Eight-Star, Nine-Star Battle Armor exchanges, Sunshine Transformation...

Even... even pre-ordering for Fourth Rank Mechanical Battle Armor?

Everyone could hardly believe their eyes.

Mr. Su Yu, is he really this generous?

He actually brought out such precious items, so many of them?!

And at such a cheap price, all of them are at the post-discount price!

The prices of these Third Rank careers are not exactly cheap, but not very expensive either. They have hope to exchange them if they work hard.

Everyone was extremely excited, then sighed one after another: "But... I'm out of Energy Currency!"

The major price cut in the previous month had everyone unable to resist spending all their Energy Currency.

Besides the price cut being so severe, making people feel like not exchanging is a loss, there were also rumors in the city that the price cut was only temporary, a timed benefit released by Mr. Su Yu to celebrate the victory in battle.

Originally, some people were still considering observing, but with these rumors, how could anyone still hold back?

Within a few short days, they spent all the Energy Currency they had.

But who would have thought, a month later, the price cut has not ended, and new "products" are put on the shelves instead.

Looking at the dazzling exchange list and comparing it with their bare account, tens of thousands sighed in unison.

However, sighs aside, everyone was still joyfully surprised, eagerly eyeing that long list of Third Rank career directories along with other various new items.

They couldn't quite believe that these items were actually available for everyone to freely exchange!

In fact, the Eight-Star and Nine-Star Battle Armor had been somewhat anticipated by everyone.

After all, there was already the Seven-Star before, and now Mr. Su Yu's power has surged, adding Eight-Star and Nine-Star isn't surprising.

Of course, even if not unexpected, when these precious Battle Armors really appeared on the exchange list, everyone's eyes lit up. If only they could get a set...

As for the Third Rank careers, they were things that everyone couldn't even imagine before.

Third Rank careers, for most of the millions of Mechanical City inhabitants, are an unattainable existence.

Completing the ceremony to achieve Seven Star, opening the Subspace Gate, practically makes them a different species from ordinary humans.

Seven Star strong people have immense power, long lifespans, and with a wave of their hands, they can easily kill thousands upon thousands of ordinary people.

Achieving Seven Star is ample enough to anchor a city of millions, protecting them from Radiation Beast attacks.

They can even dub themselves as gods, accepting the faith of millions.

Moreover, beyond Seven Star, there are Eight and Nine Stars.

And to become a Seven-Star strong person, the most crucial thing is the related professional's ceremony and Meditation Technique.

These pieces of information are the most precious, common Transcendents simply cannot obtain them.

Those Third Rank strong people, and occasionally the lucky ones who obtained Third Rank professional information, all keep this information secret.

Even individuals like Xie Yitian and Xiao Shengyin, who have relatively good temperaments, wouldn't easily disclose their power secrets.

Living in such a brutal world, no one is strictly good. Everyone has some selfish and self-serving nature.

Completely selfless saints, their bodies are all long decayed.

Those who would hand over their greatest secrets would only be fools or madmen.

If this professional information was taken by an enemy and they successfully ascended, the one dying might be themselves.

Moreover, ordinary Transcendents don't even meet the threshold to perform the ceremony.

Wanting to ascend to Third Rank starts at Six-Star Top Level, not even having a few among millions.

Without reaching Six-Star Top Level, gaining Third Rank professional information is of little use, and instead could invite the greed of others.

Chapter 856: New Exchange List! New Missions!_2

If you recklessly practice the Third Rank Meditation Technique, it is almost equivalent to seeking death.

Furthermore, to acquire information on Third Rank professions, many engage in various bloody conflicts and vendettas, too numerous to count.

Some even go to the extent of conducting mass sacrifices in misguided attempts at rituals, which is not uncommon.

Therefore, those Seven-Star powerhouses only cultivate a few successors at most and do not widely spread profession information.

However, even if these Seven-Star powerhouses cultivate for a hundred years, it is difficult to produce another new Seven-Star powerhouse.

After all, achieving Seven Stars is not guaranteed just by acquiring Third Rank profession information.

To succeed, talent, luck, resources, and conditions for rituals are indispensable.

Moreover, possessing talent alone is insufficient; one's innate abilities must also align with the acquired Third Rank profession.

If a Transcendent skilled in mechanics obtains Third Rank profession information in the Spiritual Domain, it is futile.

Among those Third Rank powerhouses in the Mechanical City, only a few were trained by the previous generation of Third Rank powerhouses.

The rest acquired profession information through various fortuitous encounters and succeeded through immense hardships, finally taking up the Third Rank.

Others without such luck and opportunities can only look on enviously.

They aim to become Third Rank powerhouses, primarily targeting the battle armor and other mechanical creations, while some seek this level of power through mechanical transformation and other means.

This is why people are so enthusiastic about Seven-Star Battle Armor.

Although the Third Rank power obtained through such means differs slightly from a genuine Third Rank, there is no alternative.

As for advancing to the Third Rank through one's own meditation and rituals? Most people dare not dream such dreams.

Now, with Su Yu making so much Third Rank profession information available in the exchange system all at once, everyone is naturally astonished and even dumbfounded.

Their hearts surge with excitement and longing: Could it be that I also have a chance to advance to the Third Rank? To become a Seven-Star powerhouse like those adults? Or even higher?

If they advance to the Third Rank, undergo Sunshine Transformation, and wear the Nine-Star Battle Armor, then their strength...

As they imagine this, their mouths almost water.

Their desire grows, and their lamentations become louder: "Mr. Su Yu, we really don't have a single energy coin left..."

Originally, they lived comfortably and would have preferred to never leave the city.

But now, a strong desire arises within them.

They want to leave the city, undertake tasks, and earn energy coins!

Such is the voice of most ordinary city residents.

Moreover, the Third Rank powerhouses were equally shocked.

The Third Rank powerhouses had previously attended Su Yu's meeting and knew there would be Third Rank profession information available for exchange.

But they never expected there would be so much!

Even they were somewhat tempted, having heard that one reason Mr. Su Yu is so powerful is his practice of multiple professions.

Could they possibly exchange for one or two new Third Rank professions to try...

Most thrilling of all, Su Yu even made Four-Rank mechas available for pre-order!

These Third Rank powerhouses naturally yearn for Fourth Rank power.

However, advancing to the Fourth Rank is as elusive to them as the Third Rank is to ordinary people.

It's said that when Mr. Su Yu advanced to the Fourth Rank, it was a matter of life and death, so what about them?

Now, with Mr. Su Yu making Fourth Rank Battle Armor available for pre-order!

This means they too have a chance to obtain Fourth Rank level power! Although it's not their own strength but an external force, it's better than nothing.

However, after their excitement, they too lament, as their energy coins, though more than ordinary city residents', are still far from enough for Fourth Rank Battle Armor pre-orders, not even covering the deposit, let alone the "down payment."

As Su Yu listens to their laments, he smiles slightly and makes no response, quietly waiting for three days.

During those three days, some in the city, because of their remarkable restraint, saved enough energy coins to exchange for new Third Rank profession information, and even Seven-Star and Eight-Star Battle Armor!

With millions of inhabitants, there are always some exceptions.

After exchanging for these items, these people did not stay low-key; instead, they publicized it widely.

If in the past, someone in a city or settlement had acquired such treasures, they would have certainly kept it tightly hidden.

But now, they are in the Mechanical City, with Mr. Su Yu's rule, so what do they have to fear? Of course, they should flaunt it.

Previously, for a month, these people endured and didn't spend their energy coins, laughed at by others as stingy, but now they finally can hold their heads high.

Moreover, after exchanging for a Third Rank profession, these individuals received personal guidance from Mr. Su Yu.

Su Yu personally guided them in choosing Third Rank professions suitable for them, custom tailoring the rituals and Meditation Technique, precisely fine-tuning and modifying them to better suit their physique and talent.

Not everyone can successfully take on a Third Rank profession.

But with Su Yu, a powerhouse with the Power of Time, helping them by using this power to assist in deductions and adjustments, it's akin to a custom-tailored profession.

In that case, the success rate is naturally greatly enhanced!

Su Yu is immensely powerful, knowledgeable, and already has experience in self-creating professions, allowing him to transform a profession to better suit the exchanger's physique.

Additionally, with his Power of Time, he can even predict and rectify issues in advance.

He can even revive someone if they were to die during training.

Those who completed the exchange for Third Rank professions are basically Six-Star Transcendents, and in the resource-rich Mechanical City, such Transcendents are quite numerous and steadily increasing.

After the exchange and under Su Yu's guidance, they quickly grasped the basics of the Meditation Technique, undergoing notable changes.

They only need to prepare for the ritual to begin advancement!

If they're willing to spend money, they can even have Su Yu arrange the ritual for them.

For Su Yu now, organizing a Third Rank ritual is nothing.

Nevertheless, Su Yu still suggests they find their own way to conduct the ritual, not due to any risks, but because they truly cannot afford Su Yu...

The previously challenging Third Rank profession somehow seems so "simple" under Su Yu's guidance!

Although no one has successfully advanced yet, seeing the state of those who exchanged, their power surge already inspires much envy.

As a result, the last doubts in people's hearts vanished!

Initially, they worried that even if they exchanged for a Third Rank profession, the chance of successful employment would be extremely low.

Now it seems they were overthinking; Mr. Su Yu has already arranged everything, and as long as they have money, they are guaranteed advancement to the Third Rank!

Although claims of such guaranteed advancement might be exaggerated, in people's eyes, it's indeed a guaranteed pass!

However... they still lack money! Without energy coins, they can only look on helplessly!

At that moment, Su Yu quietly added a series of tasks to the system network.

These tasks included traveling across the planet, transforming environments, establishing settlements, and developing civilization.

Conducting research to optimize Transcendent professions or develop new machinery.

Exploring various planetary regions to discover resources...

And so on.

The number of these tasks is not many, and each task is difficult.

Given the planet's current environment, even just stepping outside to breathe the air poses a life threat.

Earlier, Su Yu's battle with Brutality and the others devastated the planetary ecology, leaving the entire planet covered in volcanoes, tsunamis, and toxic high-temperature air.

Some areas even experience energy unrest, posing life-threatening risks even to Third Rank powerhouses, akin to forbidden zones.

The former Ruins Star had several dangerous forbidden zones, all destroyed in previous battles of Destruction.

In their place are new, more perilous and terrifying forbidden zones.

Embarking on tasks in such an environment is incredibly challenging.

Nonetheless, people were delighted upon seeing these tasks.

They couldn't care less about the dangers as they were already driven to desperation; they accepted the tasks!

And so, many quickly accepted tasks and left the Mechanical City, heading to various parts of the planet!

Chapter 857: Moving Mountains and Filling Seas, Changing Heaven and Earth

This time, the mission outside for the people of Mechanical City is a brand-new adventure.

The entire planet has changed dramatically; considering it a new planet entirely is not an exaggeration.

Some fragments of the planet have been knocked into orbit by previous fierce battles, becoming miniature satellites.

The tasks assigned by Su Yu even include exploration of these satellites.

This is unprecedented for the people of Mechanical City.

Moreover, through future observation, Su Yu can see the power of the Brutal Evil God seeping from the depths of the Subspace, polluting planetary energy and breeding many Radiation Beasts, Ghost Demons, Rotten Meat Eyes, and other evil creatures.

This is bound to happen; the Brutal Evil God will not let Su Yu control the planetary energy peacefully and will definitely interfere.

Even if the Brutal Evil God's main body does not appear, just a little release of power can pollute the planet and interfere with Su Yu's progress.

Fortunately, as long as the Brutal Evil God does not act personally, for Su Yu, only some derivative evil gods are not a big deal, at most a bit troublesome.

Su Yu does not need to act personally; once those evil creatures appear, he will directly put the task of clearing pollution on the task list.

Naturally, someone will take the task to clear them.

In Mechanical City, at this moment, apart from some of the elderly and weak, most have already gone out.

Even Tie Long, Xiao Shengyin, and others have gone out excitedly.

They are eager to earn energy coins for the Fourth Rank Battle Armor.

Those survivors that Su Yu brought back from Dark Space-Time have, in just one month's time, become familiar with life in Mechanical City.

They also participated in this mission.

In fact, these survivors are more enthusiastic about participating in the mission than others.

No way, these survivors were previously trapped in the dark underground in such a limited space.

Now, coming to a normal planet with an entire planet to explore, they are eager and impatiently excited.

Su Yu's recently returned Galaxy Warriors, and also his old friend Galaxy Battle Armor, took this opportunity to go out.

They also want Su Yu to help upgrade the bodies of their armor.

In the entire Mechanical City, at this moment, only one with Transcendent above seven stars is left, Su Yu, along with several of his Mechanical Apostles.

With Su Yu sitting in command, there's no need to worry about external attacks, so others can go on their missions with peace of mind.

"Next is to adjust the planet's ecology through planetary energy, to smoothly control planetary energy, and prepare for ascending to the Fifth Rank..."

Seeing everyone has left, Su Yu's heart stirred, and he immediately began adjusting the planetary environment.

To promote civilization development, the current planetary environment is inadequate.

To prevent the energy of the Pain Evil God from polluting the planet, Su Yu can only rely on his own strength.

He descended from Mechanical City to the ground, releasing powerful spiritual power, quietly sensing.

Soon, in his perception, the material part of the planet had faded away, leaving only a giant virtual planet made of energy.

With a thought, Su Yu tried to control a stream of planetary energy beneath him.

Bang!

Beneath his feet, a hundred-meter-high mound, or rather, a small mountain, instantly rose.

"It's still far from truly moving mountains and filling seas as the real Fifth Rank can."

Looking at the mound beneath him, Su Yu knew he was still far off.

Not even as capable as the Ghost Emperor at the time.

Back then, the Ghost Emperor removed all the surrounding mountains of Mechanical City, turning the mountainous area into a plain.

Those were giant mountains thousands of meters high.

Now Su Yu could only make a small mound a hundred meters high, really a world apart, let alone needing to control the entire planet's energy for ascending to the Fifth Rank, which is even further afield.

There's no choice; after all, Su Yu hasn't trained in this aspect.

Previously, Su Yu's research on planetary energy was aimed at becoming a Time Mechanic.

He practically never tried to directly control planetary energy with his main body.

Now trying, it's completely unfamiliar!

However, Su Yu is not in a rush; he still has time. According to the Mechanical Council's intelligence, the Subspace Spirit Power Tide's outbreak is about a century away.

In the next month, Su Yu focused on controlling planetary energy.

With his previous experience in studying as a Time Mechanic and the intelligence left by the Ghost Emperor, he progressed rapidly.

In just a month, he progressed from only being able to make hundred-meter mounds to being able to create mountains two thousand meters high.

Although still not as capable as the Ghost Emperor back then, it already counts as having the power to "move mountains and fill seas."

With this power, he can already begin attempting to adjust the ecology.

Su Yu looked into the distance at a violently erupting volcano, ready to fly over and suppress it.

That volcano was created during the earlier battle between Su Yu and the Brutal Evil God, with an altitude of more than five thousand meters, and its energy far exceeds typical volcanoes of the same level.

It resulted from a single attack during Su Yu and the Brutal Evil God's battle directly impacting the Earth Core, bringing out the most core billion-year-old Earth Core Magma.

This effectively punched a hole in the entire planet, with spewing Earth Core magma and volcanic ash almost reaching outer space.

This is a veritable "supervolcano."

If a normal Life Planet had such a supervolcano, it would certainly cause devastating impacts on global ecology.

But now this volcano, on Ruins Star, is merely a commonplace "scenery."

There are dozens more volcanoes of this scale on the entire planet!

Chapter 858: Moving Mountains and Filling Seas, Changing Heaven and Earth (Part 2)

There are even more terrifying geological disasters, many more.

Su Yu flew to the side of the volcano, looking at the terrifying disaster he had caused with his own hands, he couldn't help but sigh. The destructive power of a Fifth-Order Expert is truly terrifying.

At this moment, Ruins Star really is a wasteland, almost like the scene when this planet first formed billions of years ago.

And all of this was just the result of the short battle between Su Yu and the Brutal Evil God, truly earth-shattering.

To be honest, looking at this scene, Su Yu felt a bit strange, wondering how Zhang Chenfeng managed to seal the Brutal Evil God while preserving the planet's ecology.

It was quite a wonder that Zhang Chenfeng and the Brutal Evil God didn't blow up the planet or cause human extinction.

Thinking of this, he used the Power of Time to look back into the past.

He wanted to see how the battle from ten thousand years ago was fought specifically.

One year, ten years, a hundred years, a thousand years...

After seeing the scenes from a thousand years ago, Su Yu reluctantly stopped his sight.

The further away from "now," the more the Power of Time was consumed, and the more severe the rebound.

He calmly concluded that he couldn't do it for now and would have to accumulate more of the Power of Time later.

Then, Su Yu looked at the nearby super volcano, intending to use his mind to control the planet's energy and close the breach on this planet.

However, on second thought, Su Yu gave up on the idea.

He placed a new exchange into the exchange system.

In just an instant, people all over the planet from the Mechanical City received a notification on their personal devices.

With Su Yu's current strength, the "signal" of the Mechanical City covered the entire globe.

The people of the Mechanical City were busy, and upon hearing the notification from their personal devices, they quickly opened them and immediately showed expressions of joy!

"Mr. Su Yu has opened a new exchange! You can actually adjust the planet's energy to restore the planet's environment and ecology?"

"Great! We've suffered so much from this terrifying environment for a month. Just going out is a life-threatening risk!"

"Yes, this environment is so terrible that even with the Seven-Star Battle Armor, sometimes we're nearly killed by sudden energy blasts!"

"Trying to establish civilization in this environment is simply impossible. Fortunately, Mr. Su Yu can transform the ecology!"

"But the price is so high!"

"For an exchange that involves moving mountains and filling seas, being expensive is normal. However, Mr. Su Yu noted that collective funding is possible; many people can pool money together for the exchange!"

"We have so many people here. Pooling a little will not be a problem. Hurry up, let's get started!"

Everyone was incredibly excited.

They had suffered enough in the planet's harsh environment for a month, almost losing their lives.

These people, about 100,000 in a team divided into 100 teams, had traveled across the planet for a month, preparing to establish cities, develop civilizations, and complete Su Yu's tasks.

When they first came out, they were full of passion, but on the first day, many were nearly seriously injured or killed.

The planet's environment at that moment was extremely harsh.

Not only was the physical environment harsh, but even the planet's energy was turbulent, with some residual violent energy from the previous battles between Su Yu and the Brutal Evil God.

In certain dangerous areas, even a Seventh-Star Strong Person could get injured or die if not careful.

So for this entire month, they couldn't accomplish anything and were merely trying to "survive," not to mention establishing cities.

If it weren't for the powerful gear they obtained through exchanges, many would probably have died.

Now with the new exchange Su Yu opened, they were naturally relieved from dire circumstances.

Moreover, the exchange is not expensive, especially since Su Yu specifically noted that it allows for "collective funding."

Pooling resources will be enough to have Su Yu take action once.

When Su Yu takes action, at least around them, a "Safe Zone" can be opened, allowing them to catch their breath.

If they had enough funds, they could even have Su Yu restore the environment within thousands of kilometers around them, but no one has that kind of money.

Though, in theory, this harsh environment was caused by Su Yu himself, and now that he's taking action, it seems unfair to ask for money.

However, Su Yu's prestige is currently at the highest in the hearts of the people, so naturally, no one dares to complain.

They only blame themselves for not being strong enough, unable to adapt to the environment.

So soon, people began pooling funds for the exchange and applied to Su Yu for ecological restoration.

The first to complete the funding was a team of 100,000 people led by Tie Long, located over 17,000 kilometers from Su Yu.

Their surrounding environment was extremely harsh, with seven super volcanoes, an atmospheric hole in the sky, a giant abyss underground, and turbulent planet energy all around, filled with energy residues from various battles...

Initially, Tie Long led these 100,000 people here to challenge themselves, choosing the harshest environment possible.

After a month, Tie Long had no choice but to admit defeat as he had found himself in danger several times despite his strength.

If not for his strength, he might have lost his life; that's why he was the first to apply for ecological restoration.

Then, Tie Long and his 100,000 subordinates eagerly awaited Su Yu's arrival.

Tie Long was Su Yu's Believer, as were most of his subordinates who worshiped Su Yu like a God.

Although Su Yu didn't want a bunch of fanatics as citizens, among millions of people, there would always be some fanatics; it was their free will, and Su Yu didn't want to interfere.

If Su Yu didn't allow them to worship him, they might start worshipping some other Evil God.

This was also a reason why Tie Long's group was the first to apply for the exchange; they mainly wanted to see their "God" in action.

However, instead of Su Yu, they welcomed...

Tie Long suddenly noticed a change around him.

The material world in front of him became semi-transparent, revealing the surging energy beneath it!

This energy was everywhere, surging violently.

"Is this... the planet energy Mr. Su Yu referred to?"

Tie Long was also a strong person; after the initial shock, he quickly realized what it was!

Planet energy! The most crucial energy for advancing to the Fifth Rank!

Until now, Tie Long had remained at the eight-star level, barely achieving nine-star strength with the Sunshine Transformation.

Planet energy is energy that only a Fourth-rank Strong Person can control, and Tie Long was utterly unable to sense it.

And now, he was seeing it!

No! Not just seeing it, but he had a clear perception of that planet energy.

In fact, planet energy cannot be seen with the naked eye and relies entirely on spiritual perception.

And being able to "see" it means the spirit can perceive it, thus can control it!

"Could this be Mr. Su Yu's method for restoring the environment?"

Tie Long felt somewhat incredulous.

He tried to use his mind to manipulate a portion of the planet energy before him.

Sure enough, that portion of planet energy moved with his mind.

And with the movement of the planet energy, the rock on that piece of ground also rippled like water!

"Indeed!"

Tie Long was overjoyed!

Mr. Su Yu was actually helping them restore the ecology this way!

It turned out to be borrowing the ability to control planet energy to them, letting them do it themselves!

This is simply... an immense benefit!

With the ordinary Transcendent's strength, there would never be a chance in a lifetime to encounter high-level energy like planet energy!

Now by spending a little energy coin, they could borrow such powerful power! Personally experience the ability to move mountains and drain seas!

Among them, there are naturally countless benefits!

After just manipulating the planet energy once, Tie Long felt his Spiritual Energy seemed to become a bit more active.

It seemed to strengthen him a bit from the interaction with planet energy!

Meanwhile, thousands of kilometers away, Su Yu also smiled.

"Sure enough, it can be transferred!"

Originally, Su Yu had used a technique from the Pain Evil God to transfer Time Rebound and modified it to transfer planet energy.

In this way, ordinary Transcendents could also have the ability to control planet energy.

They exchanged for this ability themselves, personally moving mountains and filling seas, changing heaven and earth.

Chapter 859: Shared Abilities, Planetary Transformation, and Civilizational Development!

Moreover, that's not all.

"Iron Dragon Commander, what happened to you?"

At this time, the subordinates of Iron Dragon saw his shocked and happy expression and quickly asked.

In their mouths, Iron Dragon was still addressed as "Commander."

These people were uniformly dressed, resembling an army, though it's unknown what kind of army it was, probably a cult-like legion.

Iron Dragon glanced at his subordinates and told them what had just happened.

Upon hearing this, everyone was equally overjoyed and immediately tried to sense the planetary energy.

Indeed, under their sensing, the material in their field of vision faded away, revealing the hidden planetary energy!

That's right, Su Yu did not just lend his ability to Iron Dragon alone, but to all members of this ten thousand-strong team!

Everyone could borrow Su Yu's ability to manipulate planetary energy and transform the environment!

Under Iron Dragon's guidance, they soon also mastered the method to control planetary energy.

Although their control power was weak, the advantage was that everyone had it.

With a single thought, they could change the terrain, channel planetary energy, and restore the environment!

Moreover, in the process, by coming into contact with such high-level energy, they unknowingly got influenced, and their strength improved, reaping considerable benefits.

Planetary energy is extremely high-level energy, starting at the Fourth Rank.

Just like magma deep within the Earth's core, under normal circumstances, these people couldn't touch or absorb it.

Unless there was a planetary energy outburst, like a volcanic eruption revealing itself directly, they wouldn't be able to reach it.

But that would be like standing at the crater of a volcano, incredibly dangerous, let alone gaining benefits.

Now it was Su Yu who lent his ability to everyone, giving them this opportunity.

After a brief attempt, everyone cheered, loudly praying to and praising Su Yu.

This earned Su Yu quite a bit of Faith Power and a lot of Professional Experience.

Then, everyone immediately started working, with ten thousand people utilizing the newly acquired ability to control planetary energy and transform their environment.

With ten thousand people working together, moving mountains and filling seas would not be difficult.

Even though their surrounding environment was extremely harsh, with seven super volcanoes, they believed that with Mr. Su Yu's power, transforming these super volcanoes into plains was just around the corner!

While working, they also recorded videos on their personal terminals and shared their experiences with others afar.

The personal terminals were globally connected, and although the millions of residents of the Mechanical City were scattered across the world, communication was unhindered.

Other teams, with environments not as harsh, were initially hesitant, unsure if they should exchange for the environment transformation ability.

After all, it was too expensive; individuals couldn't afford it alone and had to pool resources.

Now seeing the videos shared by Iron Dragon and his team, all doubts were dispelled.

They could actually borrow Mr. Su Yu's power to transform the environment and even absorb the legendary planetary energy for benefits!

Where else could you find such a good opportunity?

Previously, they had no idea what planetary energy was; it was only when Su Yu educated them that they understood this energy was related to Fifth Rank advancement.

This was definitely extremely high-level energy; they considered it myth and legend, and now, with just a few energy coins, they could gain the ability to control planetary energy!

In this light, Su Yu's exchange price was not only reasonable but too cheap!

Everyone hurriedly pooled resources for exchange.

But most teams were too late; they soon saw the exchange system displaying "Out of Stock" and "Please Queue".

There was no other way; despite Su Yu's immense power, sharing it with three million people and thirty teams was his limit.

Among the tens of millions of population, over a hundred teams, only thirty teams managed to seize the chance.

The remaining people could only wait.

Those who secured the opportunity were extremely excited and quickly began attempting to control planetary energy, transforming their surroundings, and boasting about it online.

Those who missed out could only beat their chests and stamp their feet, regretting their slow actions and feeling remorse for ever doubting Mr. Su Yu's pricing, which was truly unwarranted.

These teams who had not exchanged could only rely on themselves to transform their environment and establish civilization.

At this time, Su Yu felt his ability being borrowed by three million people and nodded silently.

This technique of lending one's ability to others came from the Pain Evil God and was incredibly ingenious.

When Su Yu lent these abilities to others and they used them, it was as if Su Yu himself was using them, and the effect was even better than if he did it himself!

Su Yu now essentially split his focus among three million, controlling planetary energy globally.

He could even use this to accumulate experience, greatly advancing his grasp of planetary energy!

This was also a way of cultivation, sharing his ability to let others help him train and practice!

"Using all three methods together, I should reach Fourth-Order Top before the Subspace tide breaks out, qualifying for the Fifth Rank ritual..."

Su Yu mused to himself as notifications from his Profession Panel continued to pop up:

[Gained 100000 Professional Experience...]

Seeing these prompts, Su Yu felt even more satisfied.

He was never one to quietly meditate and cultivate.

Before the Third Rank, he had rapidly gained experience by killing Radiation Beasts, upgrading at lightning speed.

After reaching the Third Rank, it was no longer feasible to rely on killing Radiation Beasts for upgrades; after all, where could he find so many Third Rank Radiation Beasts?

Chapter 860: Shared Abilities, Planetary Transformation, and Civilizational Development! (2)

If you rely solely on meditation, it might take a hundred years to gain just one star.

So later, Su Yu developed the Faith Upgrade.

By gathering believers and using their faith, he quickly accumulated experience.

Later on, Su Yu encountered the Mechanical God and developed the Destiny Upgrade Method.

Utilizing the ability of the River of Destiny from the Mechanical God, he altered his own fate, keeping himself always in the best possible destiny, constantly in a state of "Enlightenment," thereby rapidly cultivating.

Now, Su Yu has another "Shared Upgrade."

This involves lending his own abilities to others, allowing them to cultivate on his behalf, which accelerates Su Yu's cultivation.

This shared cultivation method was something Su Yu had never considered before, even if he had, he couldn't have used it.

This is a true Fifth Rank ability! It may even be unique to the Pain Evil God.

Su Yu has the potential to become the Pain Evil God in the future, which is why he can use it; it's as if the Pain Evil God shared this ability with him.

Just like before, when the Pain Evil God gave Su Yu the extraordinary talent of the Pain Domain, transforming Su Yu into a genius, it also belonged to a form of ability sharing.

However, because Su Yu and the Pain Evil God are essentially one entity, and now that the Pain Evil God has been transformed into the Evil God Soldier Mecha, this ability-sharing skill has essentially been freely given to Su Yu by the Pain Evil God, and it can't be taken back.

After all, both are essentially the same person.

For other Fourth Orders, this method of sharing, even if they wanted to use it, they couldn't, and they couldn't learn it even if they tried.

At this moment, Su Yu shared his own abilities with three million people, who helped him cultivate, speeding up progress remarkably.

Although the combined strength of three million people still doesn't match that of Su Yu alone.

Su Yu is simply too powerful.

But each of them has independent consciousness, independent fate, independent potential, and independent wisdom; such uniqueness cannot be measured by mere power.

Furthermore, at this moment, Su Yu is using all three accelerated cultivation methods simultaneously.

This is the only way to rapidly advance in a profession that would originally progress extremely slowly at the Fourth Order.

Otherwise, to reach the Fourth-Order Top might take at least a thousand years, where would he find so much time?

"Rotating once a year, in three to four years, I can transform the planet once, not slow at all..."

Su Yu calculated in his mind, thinking to himself.

With three million people working together to transform the planet, no matter how harsh the environment, it won't take too long.

All Su Yu needs to do next is wait patiently.

Across the planet, those three million individuals fervently transforming the environment are exuding a unique aura, or perhaps a faith.

That kind of faith is a bold ambition to change the world.

And Su Yu quickly felt this faith as well.

"Changing the world, never succumbing to the environment, is this human civilization?"

"It seems this move was the right one..."

Su Yu reflected.

In the following four years, Su Yu stayed in the Mechanical City, not venturing out again.

Throughout the planet, over a hundred teams of a hundred thousand people each had already borrowed Su Yu's ability once.

They had basically transformed the environment globally.

The entire planet was no longer as harsh as before, and ordinary people could survive for extended periods.

In the Mechanical City, there were long no ordinary people, starting from the Transcendent.

So now, the environment of the Ruins Star essentially had no impact on their survival.

Only some absolute zones of planetary energy explosion remained untouchable, but they were already part of the plan.

Over these years, they not only utilized the abilities Su Yu lent them.

They also developed specific Mechanical Creations to cooperate more effectively with Su Yu's Shared Upgrade to transform the planet and improve the environment.

The wisdom of millions, combined with Su Yu's abilities, had in just a few years transformed a chaotic planet significantly.

Seeing these results filled everyone with immense pride.

Moreover, they established over a hundred new cities across the planet!

And achieved many of Su Yu's goals, earning a hefty reward of energy coins.

Many have already gathered enough for the down payment on the Seven-Star Battle Armor, and others exchanged for information on Third Rank professions, letting Su Yu custom-tailor and optimize their professions and rituals.

Several people even held ceremonies over these years, completing their promotions to become new Seven Stars!

Su Yu felt that unique aura grow even stronger.

It was the aura of civilization!

The ambition to change the world, the instinct engraved in humanity's genes since its inception!

The energy of the whole planet had subtly transformed as a result.

It seemed to become more suitable for human survival and development, more conducive to the awakening of the Transcendent.

Su Yu gained new insights as well.

In the Fifth Rank ceremony, the so-called development of civilization and resonance with planetary energy might have another explanation.

That is to develop civilization and transform the planet's energy.

Not resonance, but forced transformation!

Transforming the planet's energy to align it with human civilization naturally achieves resonance!

This is the true meaning of developing civilization!

After understanding all of this, Su Yu once again opened new exchanges, lending new abilities to everyone.

Previously, the abilities Su Yu lent them could be used to transform the environment.

This time, they could be used to restore the ecosystem!

The environment of the Ruins Star had almost recovered, but it lacked life. The ground was barren, the air low in oxygen, and the ocean had not a single fish, not even algae.

Over the years, Su Yu had gained a better grasp of the planet's energy, allowing him to catalyze life using planetary energy!

Although he could not yet catalyze intelligent life or create life ex nihilo.

But catalyzing some plants, algae, microorganisms, and fungi was easy.

With these basics of plants, algae, microorganisms, and fungi, he could gradually catalyze various animals, filling the planet with the breath of life.

Only such a planet is suitable for developing civilization.

However, Su Yu still did not act himself but, as before, lent these abilities to others, allowing them to restore the planet's ecosystem.

The people throughout the Mechanical City across the planet were excited when they saw Su Yu's new exchange.

They had already transformed their surroundings and had nothing to do; now, with the new exchange, they were naturally delighted.

After all, Su Yu's task included restoring the ecosystem.

They were fretting over how to develop the ecosystem to complete the task, and Su Yu's new exchange just solved their immediate concern.

Therefore, more than a million quickly exchanged for new abilities and began transforming the planet's ecosystem.

Su Yu's abilities had significantly improved over these four years, allowing him to directly lend abilities to millions without any queueing.

Next, they just had to wait patiently for the million to restore the planet's ecosystem.

Actually, over these four years, there were already more than a million.

After all, they all knew that Su Yu wanted to develop civilization, so besides working over these four years, they also got married and had children, increasing the population.

Otherwise, with only a million people, what kind of civilization would that be?

These people were mostly Transcendents and had no energy shortage. The children born were all strong, likely to awaken in a few years and become Transcendent children.

Now those children are still young; in another ten or eight years, they will become the foundation of civilization's development.

"Tsk tsk, developing so quickly, now counting the children, it's close to twenty million already..."

Su Yu naturally knew about everyone's situation; every new person was registered in the Mechanical City's database, receiving an ID number and personal terminal.

According to statistics, the population of the entire Mechanical City was already over 19 million, close to 20 million.

At this growth rate, it might reach a billion in decades.

Resources are abundant, and there's no need to worry about the threat of Radiation Beasts, so civilization develops quickly.

"Seems like I need to hurry too, lest civilization develops completely while I haven't reached the Fourth-Order Top, that would be awkward..."

Su Yu felt the pressure from the speed of civilization's development.

"Hmm?"

Just as he was about to concentrate on meditation and cultivation, he suddenly sensed something.

He felt something was being nurtured in the subspace projection planet of the Pain Evil God.
