Chapter 861: Subspace Domain Planet! Customized Spiritual Life!

As a Fifth-tier Evil God, the Pain Evil God's Subspace Domain had long been sealed, becoming an independent Subspace "planet," and it could even be said to be another miniaturized Subspace.

In this miniaturized Subspace, it is possible to nurture life, similar to the planets in the material world.

Of course, it's not a normal flesh and blood life, but a pure Spiritual Energy life form similar to Subspace Demons.

However, the origin of the Pain Evil God is too peculiar, and before the great war, He didn't even belong to reality.

His Subspace Domain was naturally even more illusory, so it naturally couldn't nurture any life. It only attracted that rotten meat eye, which "settled" on the planet and became a subordinate of the Pain Evil God, though it later betrayed Him.

And after the Pain Evil God was transformed into the Evil God Soldier Mecha, although it couldn't be considered completely real, as Su Yu hadn't completely merged with Him and didn't really become one.

But in this state, the Pain Evil God had already partially attained reality.

His Subspace Domain also gained reality.

This planet, after gaining reality, was like a normal planet in reality, undergoing various geological changes, vicissitudes of life.

However, its various changes were much faster than those of a material planet in reality.

In just four years, it completed the journey that a material planet would take billions of years to birth, and is now starting to nurture life!

Then, it was sensed by Su Yu.

"It seems to be just some primitive life, not even considered actual life, just some Spiritual Groups that possess instincts..."

Su Yu linked his spirit with the Evil God Soldier Mecha, carefully sensing the state of the Subspace Domain Planet.

That "planet" actually looked quite similar to the current Ruins Star, perhaps influenced by some sort of effect.

This Subspace Planet had extremely concentrated Spiritual Energy, forming "land."

The extremely concentrated Spiritual Energy formed something akin to matter within the Subspace.

And slightly thinner Spiritual Energy formed the "ocean."

There was even an "atmosphere."

The originally ethereal Spiritual Energy, on this Subspace Domain Planet, became tangible matter!

Actually, Su Yu had already encountered Subspace Material when he defeated [King] and studied the Hell Furnace.

Back then, Su Yu used Hellfire to transform the Hell Furnace into the new body of the Mechanical God.

After the Mechanical God transferred His consciousness to the Hell Furnace's transformed body, a strange transformation occurred, and He even gained Spiritual Energy.

"This Hell Furnace, its material is somewhat strange, it... seems to have no real material components, but is purely a Subspace creation. Moreover, the level of this Subspace Material is extremely high."

"And I am made of pure real material..."

"When my consciousness resonated and transferred to this Hell Furnace, the interaction of two completely opposite materials caused a strange transformation."

"Because of this transformation, I was finally able to sense the Subspace, gaining the so-called Spiritual Energy."

According to the Mechanical God at the time, the Hell Furnace was a pure Subspace creation, with no real material components.

And now, this Pain Evil God's Subspace Domain Planet is made of this peculiar "Subspace Material."

Su Yu suspected that [King]'s Hell Furnace was actually forged from the material of this Subspace Domain Planet.

The Hell Furnace is essentially a part of the Pain Evil God.

No wonder that thing has Fifth-tier essence and could even use it to drive the Radiant Mecha, allowing [King] to possess Fifth-tier power for a short time.

And the Mechanical God's experience in controlling and transforming the Pain Evil God using the Hell Furnace gave Him some experience in advance.

This enabled the Pain Evil God to be transformed into the Evil God Soldier Mecha at the final juncture, turning this terrifying Evil God into a controllable force.

The Pain Evil God in the future would refine part of the Subspace Domain Planet into the Hell Furnace, granting it to the past [King], likely with ill intentions in mind.

In the end, He still ended up smashing His own foot with the rock He picked up.

This does carry a sense of "fate," "destiny."

It's also puzzling how the originally ethereal Pain Evil God managed to forge the Hell Furnace from the even more ethereal Subspace Domain Planet and, after several millennia, grant it to the [King] of the past.

Did the letter that [King] wrote to the future really reach the future Pain Evil God? Why would the Pain Evil God respond to [King]?

Su Yu thought even further.

The future holds infinite possibilities; why did only the Pain Evil God appear?

If there were several other temporal Su Yus, Mechanic Su Yus, Radiant Su Yus, all of Fifth-tier, traveling back from the future, with a combined effort, they could defeat the Brutal Evil God completely.

Why did only one Pain Evil God Su Yu appear, and no others?

The birth of the Pain Evil God must hold deeper secrets; unfortunately, Su Yu could not access the Pain Evil God's memories.

The Evil God Soldier Mecha could only control the Pain Evil God's power, not His spirit and memories.

After all, it's a Fifth-tier Evil God; it's not so easily controlled. If even the spirit and memories could be controlled, it would mean this Evil God was already dead, completely a puppet, and clearly that level hasn't been achieved yet.

However, Su Yu is not in a hurry; as long as he advances to Fifth-tier himself, at the same level as the Pain Evil God, he will find a way to completely control this Great Evil God and obtain His memories.

Chapter 862: Subspace Domain Planet! Customized Spiritual Life!

At that time, Su Yu would be able to unravel the mystery of the birth of the Pain Evil God.

This is very important; without understanding it, Su Yu worries that something else might appear in the future, which would be a headache.

Fighting one Pain Evil God has already been enough, the price paid was substantial. Although he gained great power, Su Yu did not want to go through it a second time.

With these thoughts turning in his mind, Su Yu once again focused his attention on the Subspace Domain Planet.

With the connection to the Evil God Soldier Mecha, Su Yu's spirit quickly scanned over this Subspace Planet, soon following his intuition to the ocean.

And in that ocean composed of spiritual energy, some tiny "life forms" were quietly being born, rapidly developing and evolving.

These so-called life forms were very tiny, not even as large as a single cell of a normal creature, merely small spiritual groups.

These spiritual groups had just been born, but due to the incredibly fast evolution speed of the Subspace Domain Planet, they have already formed a massive population numbering in the billions, swimming, hunting, and reproducing in the spiritual energy sea...

This thing could not have any intelligence, yet its life behavior was clearly observable.

They were true creatures, just very primitive ones.

Pure spiritual beings, Su Yu had truly seen very few of them.

Especially such extremely primitive spiritual beings, he had never seen even once before; it truly opened his eyes.

Su Yu discovered that the structure of these spiritual beings was extremely simple, just a few spiritual vortices intertwined and connected, displaying clear biological activities, truly miraculous.

These things resembled the primitive micro-life on material planets, the origin of life, the beginning of everything.

In the material world, for primitive microorganisms to evolve into higher intelligent life forms, it would take billions of years.

However, with the evolution speed of this Subspace Domain Planet, Su Yu estimated that it would take at most a few months to evolve higher intelligent spiritual life forms!

And this is the Subspace Domain Planet of the Pain Evil God, the life that ultimately evolves here would surely be infused with a large amount of the Power of Pain, turning them into Subspace Demons... Pain Demons!

These demons are born with immeasurable power of pain, thus always living in agony.

This causes them to fill with hatred toward the world, swearing to drag everything into hell, sharing their pain.

The Pain Evil God, being of the fifth rank, its Subspace Domain Planet can nurture demons of the third and even fourth rank!

These entities are truly wicked, devoid of any benevolence, devoid of any humanity, only pain, only despair!

Under normal circumstances, they could not even achieve death; even if they died, they would be reborn on the Subspace Domain Planet, experiencing boundless pain once again, making them even more ferocious.

If the Pain Evil God had been born normally, these Pain Demons would become its claws to conquer the material universe.

Countless lives would be ravaged by these demons, countless civilizations dragged into hell, unable to escape for eternity.

Fortunately, the Pain Evil God has become an Evil God Soldier Mecha, so none of that will happen.

"Pain Demons? I'm not interested in cultivating such things."

Looking at the spiritual microorganisms just born in the Subspace Domain Planet, Su Yu secretly said to himself.

In fact, if he wanted, once these Pain Demons were born, they would become his thugs, waging wars for him.

Su Yu could even capture these demons, seal them in mechanical creations, providing energy for the machines, mass-producing Painful Mechas rated seven stars and above.

However, these demons, once born, are already deeply rooted in endless hell, forever unable to be relieved, desiring only to destroy, massacre, and torment everything.

Su Yu sees no meaningful reason to let these beings be born.

Liken it to scoundrels like [Wang], who commit heinous crimes; throwing them into hell to suffer is justifiable.

Whereas these Subspace life forms are trapped in hell from birth.

They endure their suffering, yet would bring pain to the universe, unable to live or die as they wish.

So... why bother, just prevent them from being born at all.

Of course, Su Yu would not let this Subspace Domain Planet go to waste.

After all, he wants to massively create third or even fourth-class machines, relying entirely on this Domain Planet.

So...

Su Yu intends to adjust the lifeform on this planet, to "customize" spiritual life!

Under normal circumstances, this Subspace Domain Planet would only evolve into Subspace Demons.

But now is an abnormal situation, after all, the Pain Evil God is under the control of a rational person like Su Yu.

Su Yu can specifically adjust the evolutionary process of these Subspace spiritual life forms, allowing them to evolve into something else.

This is somewhat difficult for Su Yu, but not impossible.

After all, the entire Evil God Soldier Mecha is in his hands.

First, Su Yu has to purify the Power of Pain from these beings.

This cannot be done with the power of the Evil God Soldier Mecha because any power from the Pain Evil God carries the erosion of the Power of Pain.

This is determined by its essence of being an Evil God; without it, what kind of Evil God would it be called?

Unless the Pain Evil God cooperates sincerely, it's possible to eliminate the innate pain erosion.

But in doing so, it would mean the Pain Evil God has turned from evil to good, becoming a positive god Su Yu, which is equally unlikely.

To let a fifth-rank Great Evil God turn good? Su Yu is not that delusional.

So, to purify the Power of Pain from these creatures, Su Yu has to do it himself, which is a bit troublesome.

But fortunately, Su Yu has also trained in the Power of Pain, so it's not impossible.

After all, the creatures nurtured on this Subspace Domain Planet only reach up to the fourth rank, which Su Yu can handle.

After purification, the next step is to adjust the planetary energy to allow these spiritual lives to develop and evolve according to Su Yu's vision.

To become the beings he desires, "Customized Spiritual Beings".

Indeed, the Subspace Domain Planet has its own planet energy!

Perhaps this is why ascending to the fifth rank requires complete mastery of planet energy.

First mastering planet energy in the material universe, then constructing planet energy in the Subspace Domain Planet is considered successful.

In this Subspace Domain Planet, like planets in the material universe, manipulating subspace planet energy can similarly adjust the environment and ecosystem.

By adjusting these subspace planet energies, these subspace beings can evolve in the direction Su Yu wants.

This is also somewhat troublesome, but Su Yu can still manage it.

Su Yu can take this opportunity to test the differences between the energies of a Subspace Planet and those of planets in the material universe.

However, this time, he cannot use the previous method of transferring abilities to let the people of the Mechanical City handle it for him; he must do it himself.

Su Yu immediately focused his spirit, beginning to control the energies of the Subspace Domain Planet, trying to influence those primitive spiritual microorganisms.

This is not easy.

The various traits of these primitive spiritual microorganisms are completely different from organisms in the material world, very fragile; a slight mistake by Su Yu could lead to mass extinction, wiping out all the populations.

Luckily, the Subspace Domain Planet evolves extremely fast; even if there's extinction, a new primitive population would evolve by the next day.

After Su Yu caused the extinction of these primitive creatures more than ten times, he finally discovered the knack, allowing them to begin evolving.

And the evolutionary direction for the spiritual beings customized by Su Yu is... Machinery! Data!

The purpose of Su Yu wanting to customize spiritual beings is to manufacture a large number of third-class and above mech suits, battle armors, and other mechanical creations.

The customized spiritual beings he wants are naturally geared towards this aspect.

Perhaps because the Evil God Soldier Mecha has been transformed by the Mechanical God, with the infiltration of the Mechanical God's power, Su Yu's customization was highly successful.

In a short time, those primitive microorganisms already had a bit of mechanical structure.

They could even emit data signals, exchanging primitive communications with each other!

"Once these creatures evolve completely, they can be used for mechanical manufacturing!"

"Then, let's name them..."

"Mech Spirits!"

Chapter 863: Mechanical Soul! Mass-Produced Tier 3 Battle Armor!

Mechanical Soul, this is the name Su Yu gave to the customized beings.

The meaning is the Soul of the Machine, they are the souls of Mechanical Creation!

Since it's named "Soul," Mechanical Souls have no physical form and are entirely composed of energy.

Although, on this Subspace Domain Planet, the highly concentrated Spiritual Energy can form solids or liquids.

Su Yu could fully customize Spiritual Life forms with physical entities, or even directly semi-mechanical beings.

Just like the Hell Furnace was forged from materials here; if the Pain Evil God could create the Hell Furnace here, Su Yu naturally could too.

If so, Su Yu would skip the mechanical creation process and directly customize Spiritual Mechanical Battle Armor, Mecha.

But Su Yu did not do that.

Mainly these customized beings are born to fuse with Mechanical Creation, if they have physical forms, fusion becomes challenging.

Moreover, forming entities from Spiritual Energy, to be honest, presents some difficulty.

To this day, no entity of Spiritual Microorganisms has evolved on the entire Subspace Domain Planet.

Because such beings would be too strong, starting from Second-tier Top, or even Third Rank and Fourth Rank.

Su Yu couldn't create them immediately.

Pure energy beings don't have such limitations.

Furthermore, Su Yu's control over these customized beings isn't considered strong.

Originally, the power of the Pain Evil God could erode them, granting great control over them, making existence unbearable yet escape impossible.

But Su Yu purified the Power of Pain within them, greatly weakening the Pain Evil God's control over them.

Su Yu's control over them was weakened as well.

If he directly customizes powerful entities of Mechanical Spiritual Power but cannot control them, what's the point?

Of course, Su Yu does have control over these Mechanical Souls.

When customizing them, Su Yu embedded loyalty genes within their life sources.

They are naturally predisposed to obey Su Yu's commands, to revere Su Yu as a God.

But this is not absolutely foolproof; there is still a possibility of rebellion.

After all, if Su Yu's future can turn into the Pain Evil God rebelling, how can these customized Spiritual Life forms be any different?

Su Yu does not trust these aliens, even if they are creations of his own design.

And pure energy beings, when fused with Mechanical Creation, would be further constrained; controlling the machinery would mean controlling them.

Su Yu has significant control over Mechanical Creation.

Combined with the loyalty embedded in these customized life's genes provides an extra layer of control, making it much safer.

At present, these customized Spiritual Beings appear to be mere clusters of energy with no physical entity.

However, upon close examination, one can find various mechanical configurations within them.

Mechanical structures formed entirely by Spiritual Energy!

However, embodying complete energy, those mechanical structures are mere shadows, unable to perform functions of actual mechanical structures, seemingly just ornamental.

In truth, these mechanical structures are not just for viewing but are ingeniously designed to genuinely function mechanically.

Yet, as they lack physical form, these well-designed mechanical structures are left idle, not functional.

Those mechanical structures are essentially "Mechanical Blueprints," requiring material universe's physical materials to function.

These beings have innate defects; some of their essential functions cannot be performed.

This naturally compels them to seek fusion with Mechanical Creation.

Only through fusion with Mechanical Creation can they be complete, can they perform their innate functions.

This is Su Yu's design purpose; this is the origin of the term "Mechanical Soul."

They are indeed the souls of Mechanical Creation, inherently carrying Mechanical Blueprints, innately resonating with Mechanical Creation.

In Su Yu's design, the intelligence of these Mechanical Souls is not high, akin to animals.

This is also for safety, preventing them from becoming masters rather than subordinates once merging with Mechanical Creation.

"Next, it's time for their evolution..."

After setting his thoughts, Su Yu's progress accelerated.

Those "Mechanical Souls," under Su Yu's push, rapidly evolved.

On the Subspace Spirit Planet, they proliferate, develop, battle, and evolve...

However, once these Mechanical Souls reached a certain strength, their evolution speed slowed.

In the microorganism phase, they could proliferate a generation in one or two minutes, quickly evolving.

But once their size increased, it was no longer so easy, and the speed plummeted.

This didn't stump Su Yu; he directly lent part of the Power of Time from the Evil God Soldier Mecha to these Mechanical Souls, accelerating their evolution using Fifth-tier's Power of Time!

Fifth-tier's Power of Time, even stronger than Su Yu's own Power of Time, capable of many functions, time acceleration being one of them.

This is a new function Su Yu developed during these years, becoming familiar with Evil God Soldier Mecha.

In no time, just two months passed, and a batch of Mechanical Souls reached Second-tier Top.

Simply accelerating evolution to Second-tier Top, the level of time rebound was not severe.

At most, their ceremony failure rate was slightly higher upon advancing to Third Rank.

But Su Yu never intended for them to advance to Third Rank using conventional methods.

Next is the critical moment: can these Spiritual Beings ascend to Third Rank?

The answer: Yes!

Chapter 864: Mechanical Soul! Mass-Produced Tier 3 Battle Armor!

However, they do not rely on sharing Su Yu's Subspace Domain to upgrade like Nuonuo and the Mechanical Spirit.

The ascension of these Mechanical Souls also requires completing rituals!

And their rituals come in two forms.

One is quite troublesome, requiring them to perform complex rituals and endure arduous battles on the Subspace Domain Planet.

Just like when Su Yu was ascending to the Third Rank, it was a life-and-death situation.

Moreover, it's even more difficult than when Su Yu ascended to the Third Rank!

Back then, Su Yu's ritual required a month-long battle with the Brutal Split Mind.

The ascension ritual of these Mechanical Souls is even harder!

Because their evolution is the result of the Power of Time catalysis, they inherently carry backlash.

To normally ascend to the Third Rank is more difficult than the earlier Su Yu, nearly impossible.

Additionally, there is another type of ritual, which is... to fuse with a sufficiently powerful Mechanical Creation from the Real Universe to complete themselves, thereby ascending to the Third Rank!

This ritual is, in a sense, equally challenging.

After all, on this Subspace Domain Planet, where not even an atom can be found, where can one find a sufficiently strong Mechanical Creation for fusion?

They can't leave anyway, considering this is the Subspace Domain Planet of a Fifth Rank Evil God; without Su Yu's permission, who can get out?

The two ascension rituals of these Mechanical Souls were meticulously designed by Su Yu for this very step!

Over the years, Su Yu has been assisting the people of the Mechanical City, custom tailoring rituals to help them ascend to the Third Rank.

Therefore, he has gained enough experience in creating Third Rank professions and designing rituals.

However, when Su Yu helped design rituals for the residents of the Mechanical City, he was improving upon the existing Third Rank profession, making the profession more suited to those people.

It wasn't Creation from Nothing, creating a new profession.

But now, with the rituals Su Yu designed for these Mechanical Souls, it's truly creating a new "profession" from nothing, and it's an inherent profession born with the race.

This naturally increases the difficulty.

Furthermore, these Mechanical Souls are not even humans, nor are they material entities of the Material Universe, but pure Spiritual Beings of the Subspace.

Fortunately, these Mechanical Souls are all customized by Su Yu, with whom he is well-acquainted, making it much easier to help them design professions and rituals.

Looking at the Subspace Domain Planet, those eager to ascend to the Third Rank Mechanical Souls, Su Yu nodded in satisfaction.

He designed two routes for these Mechanical Souls, both of which are useful.

The complicated ritual, although difficult, enables the Mechanical Souls to be stronger upon completion.

This complex ritual is actually prepared for the Fourth Rank.

They hold the ritual themselves and ascend to the Third Rank, then, the difficulty of ascending to the Fourth Rank increases once more.

And their desire for material mechanisms will become stronger.

Therefore, they will basically choose the second route, which is to fuse with Mechanical Creation in order to become Fourth Rank.

In this way, Su Yu will have both Third and Fourth Rank Mechanical Souls.

In the future, he will be able to mass-produce Third and Fourth Rank Mechanical Creations!

Producing Third Rank machines is easy because it only requires Second-tier Top Mechanical Souls to fuse with a mechanical creation of sufficient strength, considered complete, to ascend to the Third Rank.

The Fourth Rank is somewhat difficult, requiring the Mechanical Soul to ascend to the Third Rank itself, and then fuse with Third Rank level Mechanical Creation to ascend.

However, as long as there are enough Mechanical Souls, Third Rank Mechanical Souls will eventually emerge, so it's not a big problem, at most just fewer in number.

And in any case, few can afford Fourth Rank Mechanical Creations; less is less.

Su Yu also plans to develop new technology, which is to allow a Mechanical Creation to fuse with more Mechanical Souls, thereby enhancing its power to ascend from the Third Rank to the Fourth Rank.

This will be explored in future research.

For now, let's try using Mechanical Souls to forge Third Rank Mechanical Creations!

Su Yu's spirit returned to reality.

He opened the network of the Mechanical City and looked at the "orders" on it.

In the past three or four years, some people have already earned enough energy coins to exchange for a complete Third Rank Battle Armor.

However, Su Yu did not deliver immediately but informed them that time is needed for forging.

How precious are Third Rank Battle Armors? Naturally, those people are willing to wait.

Now is the time for "delivery"!

With a thought, Su Yu made a Mechanical Battle Armor appear beside him! Its appearance was similar to Azure Oath, but in terms of functionality, it was even more powerful than the prototype!

Because this Mechanical Battle Armor was forged by Su Yu when he was in the Fourth Rank using precious materials, much stronger than what was forged back in the Second Rank.

This Mechanical Battle Armor, although only a Second-tier Top in classification, had combat power nearing the Third Rank!

However, this Mechanical Battle Armor was merely a "husk," as Su Yu had no intention of using it right away.

There are many more "husks" of the same level lying quietly in Su Yu's Manifestation Space.

Yes, these husks are intended for fusion with Mechanical Souls to ascend to the Third Rank!

Su Yu took out one of these husks, glanced to ensure there were no issues, and with another thought, he grabbed a Six-star Top Mechanical Soul from the Subspace Domain Planet!

Its form was indistinct, looking like a mass of semi-transparent mist, almost invisible, with phantasmal mechanics slowly operating within the mist.

This was from Su Yu's perspective; if one's ability was inadequate, one couldn't even see it.

This Mechanical Soul was previously on the Subspace Domain Planet, eating, sleeping, and then repeating, now suddenly caught, it became a bit bewildered.

However, it soon noticed Su Yu beside it, and its body, composed of spiritual energy mist, quivered, emitting a series of data signals, all expressing excitement, joy, and reverence.

It was created by Su Yu, and its life source bore reverence for Su Yu.

Much like the world Su Yu traveled from, where humans tamed animals so that animals become genetically predisposed to be close to humans.

And that was just taming; Su Yu's control over these Mechanical Souls is far stronger than taming.

This Mechanical Soul's reverence and closeness to Su Yu were innate, akin to a human's need for food and water, a supreme demand.

Seeing this, Su Yu casually patted the Mechanical Soul, feeling like he was touching a ball of cotton.

The Mechanical Soul then grew even happier, joyfully flitting around Su Yu; if it had a tail like a dog, it would have likely wagged it into a propeller.

Although this Mechanical Soul possessed Second-tier Top and Six-star strength, its intelligence level was about that of an animal, very simple, and its emotional changes were also very straightforward.

This was for the best, as a Mechanical Soul didn't need very high intelligence; otherwise, it would become more scheming and hard to control.

After flying around Su Yu for a while, this little fellow then noticed the Mechanical Battle Armor beside Su Yu.

Initially, it did not recognize what it was, but it quickly sensed an instinctive call.

After a while, it became excited again, sending an incredibly eager signal to Su Yu.

It longed for this Mechanical Battle Armor, craving to fuse with it to complete itself!

This longing surpassed everything.

Seeing this, Su Yu smiled slightly, immediately grabbing the Mechanical Soul and pressing it toward the Mechanical Battle Armor husk.

Yes, it was that crude, simply pressing the Mechanical Soul into it.

Once the Mechanical Soul was pressed in, it didn't need Su Yu's guidance; it instinctively began merging its inherent mechanical structure with the Mecha!

This Fusion made it indistinguishable from the machine, greatly strengthening both, leading to immense satisfaction!

Crack!

Su Yu heard the sound of spatial fracturing and opened his eyes to see that within the Mechanical Battle Armor, a Space Gate had opened!

A continuous rush of Spiritual Energy poured forth, soaking into the interior of the Mecha, inducing a fundamental transformation!

Meanwhile, within the Subspace, the projection of a Mechanical Battle Armor became solid, forming a sturdy mark!

A daunting momentum surged into the sky! That was the momentum of the Third Rank! Seven-star momentum!

This momentum was extremely powerful, even comparable to when Su Yu had just ascended to Seven Stars!

This Mechanical Soul, through fusion with the Mechanical Battle Armor, completed the ritual and ascended to the Third Rank!

"It's indeed feasible!"

All of this was meticulously planned by Su Yu, already confirmed viable through the Power of Time.

Yet after its actual success, joy still welled up in Su Yu's heart.

Because this meant he could finally mass-produce Third Rank Mechanical Creations!

Chapter 865: 8-Star Mechanical Soul Battle Armor!

After a brief period of adaptation, the newly ascended Mechanical Soul controlled the battle armor and bowed to Su Yu:

"Master!"

After the fusion ascension, its intelligence had increased, and the information it conveyed was no longer just straightforward emotion, but clear language.

However, its intelligence was still not very high, at most similar to Nuonuo from before, like a child, but not mischievous, instead very obedient.

Moreover, low intelligence does not mean it is a fool.

On the contrary, its computational power is very high! The Mechanical Soul can calculate very complex situations during combat, choosing the optimal solutions to exert the strongest combat power.

Computational power and intelligence are two different things.

The Intelligent Chip Su Yu originally created only had computational power, with no intelligence.

At this point, this Mechanical Soul has computational power as well as intelligence, just slightly lower intelligence.

The mechanical battle armor needs strong computational power to exert powerful combat capabilities and to control the machine effortlessly.

In combat, various ballistics, mechanics, and spiritual energy output require strong computational power for precise calculations.

Especially in Third Rank-level high-speed combat, which involves speeds multiple times, even tens or hundreds of times the speed of sound. If the computational power is insufficient, even a slight deviation can make the attack veer off in the wrong direction.

No matter how strong the energy, random attacks are useless if they don't hit the target, and you're left to take hits passively.

If the battle armor itself lacks computational power, the user needs to make up for it with their own will.

Like the Brutal Battle Armor in the past, which only had a Superior Level chip, it was sometimes insufficient in later battles.

Su Yu relied on his own will, combined with Third Rank-level terrifying intelligence, to accumulate enough computational power to bring out the battle power of the Brutal Battle Armor.

But now, with this fusion Mechanical Soul battle armor, there's no need for such hassle. Even if the user is an ordinary person, it can fully exert its power!

Because Su Yu endowed it with extraordinarily powerful computational power when designing the Mechanical Soul.

This Mechanical Soul's computational power is also of Third Rank, equivalent to a Legendary Rank Intelligent Chip!

When it comes to Intelligent Chips, at Third Rank or Legendary Rank, obtaining them is virtually impossible, since chips of this rank also require a ceremony to ascend. Where could Su Yu possibly get one?

To this day, Su Yu doesn't have a single Third Rank Legendary Chip.

Even his Giant God Soldier Mecha hasn't installed an Intelligent Chip, because there isn't one!

And the Mechanical Soul is the alternative he came up with, performing even better than a mere chip.

The Mechanical Soul not only has Third Rank computational power, but also innate combat power and comes with

Additionally, when Su Yu designed the Mechanical Souls, he wrote combat programs into their consciousness, allowing them to naturally utilize their immense computational power to control the battle armor and assist their master in battle without needing to learn.

The Mechanical Soul race was born for combat!

"Holographic Perception!"

Su Yu watched this battle armor activate the Profession Panel.

[Mechanical Battle Armor (Unnamed)]

[Manufacturer: Su Yu]

[Grade: Legendary Level]

[Trait 1: Defense (Crafted entirely from tungsten alloy and nickel crystal ore, providing powerful physical defense. Additionally, with the fusion of the Mechanical Soul, it comes with a Spiritual Barrier, capable of defending against top-level seven-star spiritual and physical attacks, providing strong survival assurance for the wearer.)]

[Trait 2: Amplification (When wearing this battle armor, the Mechanical Soul and battle armor enhance the user simultaneously, greatly enhancing physical strength, raising it by at least one star level.)]

[Trait 3: Endurance (This battle armor ascended to Third Rank through Mechanical Soul fusion, equivalent to a Third Rank Transcendent, requires no charging, and can fight indefinitely until completely damaged.)]

[Trait 4: Flight (This battle armor comes with a Spiritual Energy Flying System driven by the Mechanical Soul, capable of flying at nine times the speed of sound within the atmosphere. When conditions permit, it can fly out of the atmosphere and into outer space.)]

[Trait 5: Intelligence (With Mechanical Soul fusion, this battle armor comes with intelligence and powerful Legendary Level computational abilities, equipped with combat programs personally designed by Su Yu, allowing it to fully exert its strength in intense battles. It can fight autonomously even without a pilot.)]

[Trait 6: Repair (The Mechanical Soul comes with a Mechanical Blueprint. Once it merges with the battle armor, the blueprint becomes identical to the battle armor, allowing the Mechanical Soul to absorb materials and repair the armor if it incurs damage!)]

[Trait 7: Upgrade (This battle armor is designed with upgrade potential for future maintenance and upgrades, able to ascend to higher ranks and enhance combat power.)]

[Equipment:]

[Melee Weapon: Legendary Level Tungsten Alloy High-frequency Chain Blade·Mechanical Soul Enhanced]

[Long-range Weapon: Heavy Spiritual Energy Turret·Mechanical Soul Enhanced]

[Skills:]

[Invisibility: Consumes energy to project the Mechanical Soul externally, allowing the battle armor to enter an invisible state. This state can be maintained indefinitely but will reduce energy output to other systems.]

[Overload: Overloads the Mechanical Soul to maximize energy output, greatly boosting attack and defense for fifteen minutes.]

[Self-destruct: Fully overloads the Mechanical Soul to launch an all-out strike, severely damaging the Mechanical Soul. It cannot continue to be used until it recovers.]

[Comprehensive Attack Power Assessment: Base eight-star elementary level, achieving eight-star advanced in Overload state!]

[Comprehensive Defense Power Assessment: Base eight-star elementary level, achieving eight-star advanced in Overload state!]

Chapter 866: 8-Star Mechanical Soul Battle Armor! (Part 2)

This is the attribute panel of the third-tier armor!

Seven traits, three skills, two weapons.

The two weapons are basically Brutal Battle Armor's weapons, then recreated with ordinary materials. Although there's no Evil God's Bone or similar materials, with Su Yu's current technology combined with the fusion of the Mechanical Soul, the power of these two weapons is not bad.

The remaining traits and skills are mostly related to the Mechanical Soul, which are inherent abilities of the Mechanical Soul.

Or rather, it is the innate ability of the "Mechanical Soul" profession.

For instance, computing power, invisibility, flight, defense, etc., are all capabilities of the Mechanical Soul.

Of course, the armor itself also possesses these functions, only not very strong due to material reasons.

With the fusion enhancement of the Mechanical Soul, these functions can play a significant role in third-rank level combat, becoming powerful traits and skills!

Su Yu initially designed these abilities when creating the Mechanical Soul race.

To ensure that after mechanical fusion, it could exert powerful combat strength.

Moreover, the Mechanical Soul is both a race and an Extraordinary Profession.

The Mechanical Soul can keep cultivating; this armor fused with the Mechanical Soul, even if left alone, can slowly become stronger by itself!

If someone has a wild thought, they could employ themselves as a Mechanical Soul profession using human physiology.

However, this profession is not designed for humans, and surviving after employment is uncertain.

If someone is lucky, doesn't train themselves to death, and successfully gets employed and promoted to the third rank, they themselves can have these abilities—they become the Mechanical Soul.

Most importantly, this armor with integrated Mechanical Soul isn't Seven-Star; it's Eight-Star!

It is almost as strong as the Brutal Battle Armor when it was initially cast!

And this armor doesn't have any Brutal Split Mind or Evil God's Bone; it's just ordinary materials fused with the Mechanical Soul to achieve such strength!

This is quite normal.

Su Yu is already fourth rank; his strength and technology far surpass his earlier self.

This third-rank armor, although it only uses some relatively common materials, its combat power in the "mold" stage was already approaching Seven-Star.

But after fusing with the Mechanical Soul, it directly elevated to the Eight-Star level!

This is not in vain, as Su Yu meticulously nurtured the Mechanical Soul race.

This way, only waiting for the Mechanical Soul to cultivate for a period, or Su Yu discovering a technology for integrating multiple Mechanical Souls, this armor could upgrade to Nine-Star, becoming a top-tier third-rank armor!

"However, the guys bought the armor only for Seven-Star, isn't this a bargain for them?"

Su Yu looked at the Eight-Star armor before him, somewhat amusingly thinking it's too strong, also being a "problem."

But this couldn't stump Su Yu. As he thought for a moment, he set a "lock" on this armor, restricting its power to Seven-Star level only.

To utilize full power, they have to pay more!

This isn't because Su Yu has an eye for money, but because the rules he set cannot be changed casually; otherwise, spending Seven-Star energy coins to buy Eight-Star armor would collapse the economic system, wouldn't it?

Su Yu created this energy coin system to stimulate Mechanical City residents, letting them strive for it.

Su Yu decided that future third-rank armors produced would come with a lock, and could only be unlocked with extra payment.

Otherwise, these armors are too strong and cheap, buying an Eight-Star armor with Seven-Star payment, isn't beneficial for those guys to "struggle."

"Tsk tsk, I am indeed a great evil person."

Su Yu joked self-deprecatingly.

Actually, even if the armor is locked, the buyers still get a bargain. Defense power is harder to lock than combat strength; the armor still holds Eight-Star level defense, advantageously.

Although if Su Yu wishes, he could lock the armor's defense power, but that would risk lowering the defense to a level where it's easy to destroy the armor and kill the user, which is unnecessary.

After securely locking the armor, Su Yu casually tossed it into the Manifestation Space; through the transfer in the Manifestation Space, the armor quickly arrived at the hands of its true owner, the guy who took out a "War Armor Loan" a hundred years ago.

Nine thousand kilometers away, in a small city of over ten thousand people.

This city was established by a team of ten thousand people separating from Mechanical City.

This small city has no Seven-Star experts, only a few top-tier Six-Star ones.

Among them, the "City Lord" is the strongest, already approaching Seven-Star.

In a few years, he could prepare for the Meditation Technique and ceremony to exchange for a third-rank profession.

But it's not urgent now; rather, he's anxious about when the Seven-Star armor, exchanged a year ago, will be delivered?

With the Seven-Star armor, the speed of earning energy coins would greatly increase, no wonder he's anxious.

Just then, his personal terminal suddenly sent out a notification.

He rejoiced inwardly and quickly opened the personal terminal.

"Your custom Seven-Star armor has been delivered, please check!"

A notification appeared in his vision!

Now, the personal terminal in Mechanical City is very advanced, all holographic displays directly projecting into the user's vision, invisible to outsiders.

Seeing this, the Six-Star transcendent was overjoyed.

He hurriedly opened the "Personal Space" in his personal terminal.

The personal space has long been a standard for Mechanical City residents; everyone has it, and after buying something in the energy coin exchange system, they can receive it directly in their personal space.

This Six-Star transcendent's personal space isn't too big or small, with a capacity of at least a hundred cubic meters.

He projected his thoughts into the personal space and immediately saw a delicate mechanical armor standing quietly there.

He quickly took it out, placed it in front of him for careful observation.

The armor is 2.3 meters tall, all silver-white, shimmering with metallic luster; the mechanical components have distinct edges, though without complex decorative patterns, it emits the unique harmonious aesthetic of machinery, clearly designed and manufactured by a master.

It's motionless but emits strong spiritual energy waves from the armor.

Sensing that presence, the Six-Star transcendent felt suffocated, quickly stepping back a few steps.

Too strong; he's somewhat unable to bear it.

He's both surprised and delighted; is this armor so strong? It seems even stronger than the Seven-Star experts seen before!

He was prepared for the mass-produced Seven-Star armor likely to be weaker than standard Seven-Star transcendents.

But now, it appears not only not weaker but indeed stronger!

"Mr. Su Yu is indeed generous! It's genuinely as advertised, saying it's Seven-Star, it's Seven-Star, no exaggeration!"

This Six-Star transcendent sincerely praised Su Yu's generosity in his heart.

Then, he cautiously moved forward two steps.

Then, he retreated two more steps.

The armor's strength is too overpowering; he cannot approach!

The person was momentarily dumbfounded, not expecting such a situation to occur.

"Apologies, master!"

The armor seemed to notice the Six-Star transcendent's discomfort, quickly retracting its powerful aura.

Simultaneously, it opened the armor, revealing an easy-to-wear appearance.

"Ah? You have intelligence?"

The Six-Star transcendent was greatly astonished, also secretly wary.

A mechanical creation with Seven-Star level also possessing intelligence made him cautious.

"Yes, according to the naming by Lord Su Yu, I am Mechanical Soul Number one."

"I have already recorded your aura and DNA data."

"From now on, you will be my master."

The Mechanical Soul gently replied.

Its voice sounded like a child.

Hearing this, the Six-Star transcendent let down his guard; after all, it was taken from the Manifestation Space, and Mr. Su Yu wouldn't harm him.

"Then I am about to wear you..."

"Please do, master!"

The Six-Star transcendent cautiously stepped forward, entering the open armor.

The next moment, the armor closed.

Various neural connection devices pierced into this Six-Star transcendent's body, instantly fusing his consciousness with the armor, becoming indistinguishable.

An immensely powerful force enveloped him; at this moment, he was the armor, the armor was him!

Eight-Star level's powerful force, legendary computing power, at his disposal.

Various data and parameters flowed into his consciousness, making him comprehend everything around him clearly.

The world has never been so clear!

This is the third rank! This is power! This is the feeling of controlling everything!

He felt like he could annihilate the ten thousand population small city beside him with just a thought.

Even if the city was ten times larger, it would be the same!

Although he wouldn't act that way, such a powerful feeling filled him with immense enjoyment! His hard work so far was indeed worthwhile!

Yet, after a moment, he noticed something amiss; armor's information displayed, why is it Eight-Star?

"This armor level is Eight-Star advanced, limited-time experience countdown 10, 9, 8..."

Chapter 867: The Secret of Mass-Producing Third Rank, the Harsh Subspace Environment!

"Time-limited experience?"

The person was a bit stunned upon seeing this prompt.

Before he could react, a mere ten seconds had already passed.

Then he felt the power in his body flowing away like water, weakening the entire battle armor considerably.

Although still powerful, it was far inferior to before.

"Time-limited experience ended!"

The armor's prompt appeared.

"So that feeling just now was the power of eight-star level, and now it's the normal seven-star level..."

The person felt a little lost.

Under normal circumstances, the seven-star level power would have been enough to excite him.

But now, having experienced the power of the eight-star level, he suddenly felt the seven-star power wasn't as appealing.

"What was that just now? Such strong momentum!"

"That was Wang Yun, he exchanged for a third-rank battle armor a year ago, has it been delivered now?"

"Let's go take a look!"

The guy, named Wang Yun, was wearing an eight-star battle armor, and the powerful momentum it radiated had already attracted the attention of others in the city.

This person was powerful and had a good personality, with many acquaintances who gathered around and marveled at the battle armor on him.

Seeing this, Wang Yun couldn't help but tell them about the time-limited experience with the eight-star armor.

Upon hearing this, everyone exclaimed, "So the real level of this armor is eight stars! Mr. Su Yu is so generous, we only need to pay with seven-star energy currency to get an eight-star armor?"

These people found it unbelievably generous of Su Yu to offer an eight-star armor for the price of seven stars, considering it a huge gain.

At this point, Wang Yun also realized his luck and felt much better.

"So this is a benefit from Mr. Su Yu, but since I don't have enough energy currency, I can only unlock up to seven stars! But at least now the armor in my hands has the essence of an eight-star level; its performance in battle is definitely stronger than seven-star! At least it's more durable than a seven-star battle armor!"

"I've decided, I'm going to work hard to earn energy currency to unlock eight stars!"

He quickly regained his fighting spirit.

...

Everything happening in the distance was seen by Su Yu.

He smiled slightly, knowing that this time-limited eight-star experience was something he had orchestrated deliberately.

Undoubtedly, it would greatly inspire those people's enthusiasm for striving.

After all, knowing that their armor had eight-star strength but was unable to be unlocked, even Su Yu himself couldn't bear it, let alone them?

Next, Su Yu tirelessly captured over twenty top-tier six-star Mechanical Souls from the Subspace Domain Planet, fused them into a new eight-star Mechanical Soul Battle Armor, and delivered them.

Over the past three or four years, a total of 27 people exchanged for third-rank battle armor, and among them, 4 even exchanged for eight-star armor, although no one had exchanged for nine-star yet.

As time progressed, more and more people would make exchanges.

Fortunately, Su Yu had now cultivated the Mechanical Spirits, no longer worried about not being able to deliver the armor.

After delivering these 27 sets of battle armor, Su Yu continued to manufacture battle armor "stock," preparing a full 50 sets of Mechanical Soul Battle Armor before stopping.

It's not that Su Yu didn't want to continue, but because the top-tier six-star Mechanical Souls in the Subspace Domain Planet had all been captured by him.

But it's fine, as the Mechanical Souls evolve quickly with the blessing of the Pain Evil God's Power of Time, and soon more top-tier six-star Mechanical Souls will appear.

There might even be naturally ascending seven-star Mechanical Souls, enabling the attempt to create fourth-rank mechanical battle armor!

In ten years or so, the entire Mechanical City could establish a seven-star and eight-star army! A true army!

A large number of third-rank strong individuals, if their powers were combined using some technology, might play a role even in Fifth Rank battles.

Even if they don't, those with the combat power of the third rank can still significantly promote the advancement of civilization.

Combat power is inherently a part of civilization's progress.

After preparing these 50 Mechanical Soul Battle Armors, Su Yu stored them all in the Manifestation Space.

Once the Mechanical Soul Battle Armors were put into the Manifestation Space, they became motionless, falling into a dormant and meditative state, quietly waiting to be awakened by their owner one day.

The Mechanical Soul was a newly designed species by Su Yu, created specifically to fuse with Mechanical Creations.

It naturally prefers tranquility over movement, and after fusing with the battle armor, it stays quietly inside the armor. Without the owner's command, it does nothing extra and experiences no boredom or loneliness.

It also has no excessive curiosity or desire to explore external things.

When idle, the Mechanical Soul is like a dead object, completely still.

But as long as the owner gives a command, it will loyally execute it without any discount.

Especially in battles, they will evoke their deeply ingrained combat instincts, unleashing their potential to the maximum for victory.

This was designed deliberately by Su Yu.

When Su Yu was still weaker, he created Nuonuo, whose personality had some flaws, occasionally throwing tantrums.

But back then, Su Yu treated Nuonuo as an electronic pet, teasing it from time to time. And since Nuonuo's personality was quite good and reliable in work, Su Yu didn't mind.

However, since the Mechanical Soul was intended for mass production of combat mechs, any significant personality flaws were naturally unacceptable.

Hence, Su Yu carefully designed and cultivated them with such a personality.

Thinking of this, Su Yu's heart suddenly stirred, a serious expression crossing his face.

The Mechanical Soul species was created entirely by Su Yu, including their physical structure, thoughts, personalities, abilities, and professions—all wholly under his control.

Chapter 868: The Secret of Mass-Producing Tier 3, the Harsh Subspace Environment! (Part 2)

This seems a bit cruel to them.

But Su Yu's expression was grave, not because of this.

Su Yu knew that the so-called cruelty was a laughable concept.

The so-called cruelty is seen from a human perspective, but in the minds of machine spirits, there is no such concept at all.

What truly made Su Yu's expression grave was because he thought of a possibility.

That is, if he could create a whole new race like the machine spirits out of thin air, then... what about humans?

Could humans also have a Creator?

Are human bodies, minds, personalities, abilities... all carefully cultivated by some existence?

Is everything about humanity also controlled by that existence to achieve a certain purpose?

But this question is something Su Yu can only think about, without finding an answer.

"If there really is such a Creator, I wonder what kind of existence it would be, for better or worse..."

Su Yu pondered for a while, then suppressed this question deep in his heart, leaving it for future exploration.

Then, he thought of another question.

And that is...

"I originally thought that after the subspace tide, with its extreme chaos, achieving the level of a seven-star would be nearly impossible."

"Now it seems, it might not be that difficult?"

Su Yu remembered that according to the information he obtained before, a thousand years ago, the Human Empire had the technology to mass-produce seven-star Transcendents, and even higher level Transcendents.

There were even "assembly lines" automatically holding rituals, completing them swiftly with mechanical power, achieving automatic mass production of seven-star Transcendents.

However, since the subspace tide, subspace became extraordinarily chaotic, making it incredibly difficult to conduct rituals and leave solid imprints within subspace.

Throughout these millennia on the Ruins Star, it's estimated that only about a hundred seven-star Transcendents have been born.

Besides the loss of knowledge and sparse population, the changes in subspace are the true reason.

Otherwise, even without the relevant knowledge, it's estimated many people would self-create third-rank professions over these millennia, instead of only about a hundred able to advance.

Yet now, in a short time, Su Yu has already forged nearly a hundred pieces of Mechanical Soul Battle Armor, which translates to nearly a hundred eight-star Transcendents.

These machine spirits didn't advance by sharing subspace domains, but genuinely conducted a ritual to complete the advancement.

Although the ritual was very simple, just merging with a Battle Armor to complete it.

Yet even such a simple ritual, the subspace imprint of the machine spirits is extremely solid.

This is a bit strange; why is it so "easy"?

Su Yu was prepared for more than half to fail, yet only four failed, with four machine spirits failing to merge, and the Battle Armors were scrapped.

Moreover, these machine spirits didn't die after failing, they were just severely injured and could not advance in the future.

Considering this, the success rate for machine spirits merging with Battle Armors to advance to third rank is over 90%.

Is third rank really this simple?

When Su Yu advanced to third rank, he battled with the Brutal Split Mind for a month, narrowly surviving death, forming a solid imprint of his subspace projection.

And now, for these machine spirits, their rituals seem like a joke, completing effortlessly.

Even though the machine spirits were meticulously designed by Su Yu and the ritual was conducted by him personally, and the ritual itself was a simplified version designed specifically for this purpose... it shouldn't be this easy, should it? Not a single failure?

Su Yu took out a piece of Mechanical Soul Battle Armor and carefully sensed its subspace imprint.

In Su Yu's perception, subspace was as chaotic and distorted as before, even more severely so.

Yet, amid this chaos and distortion, there was an area even more chaotic than other places.

But within this chaos, a new order faintly formed, hinting at a certain mechanical structure.

This chaotic region was the subspace imprint of this piece of Mechanical Soul Battle Armor.

This imprint is the foundation of its status as a third-rank Transcendent, enabling it to open the Subspace Gate, directly drawing Spiritual Energy from subspace.

Su Yu also had a similar subspace imprint when he first advanced to seven-star.

But Su Yu noticed something wrong.

This imprint was even more chaotic than subspace itself?

Su Yu carefully observed and pondered for a while before he placed this piece of Mechanical Soul Battle Armor back into the Manifestation Space.

Through observation, he reached a conclusion.

These machine spirits were born from the subspace planet of the Pain Evil God, inherently carrying factors of chaos and distortion.

Though Su Yu meticulously nurtured them, purifying the inherent Evil God pollution in the machine spirits, making them appear normal on the surface.

This makes them not only safe but also very obedient and secure.

But the essence of a machine spirit does not change.

In essence, they are the same as the Ghost Demons created by the Brutal Evil God.

Such machine spirits are fundamentally chaotic and distorted.

Perhaps their true name should be "Mechanical Demon" or "Machine Demon."

In this way, the subspace imprints they form after advancing to third rank are also chaotic and distorted, even more so than the subspace environment itself.

As a result, the machine spirits integrate seamlessly with the current subspace environment, making their advancement very easy, without imagined difficulties.

"It can be said that the environment after the subspace tide is more suitable for evil gods, demons, and those innately chaotic entities to advance."

"For normal humans and Mechanical Creations, advancement becomes much more difficult."

Thinking of this, Su Yu's heart sank.

He originally thought that the difficulty in advancement caused by the subspace tide was indiscriminate, but now it seems, it's not the case at all.

Human advancement is difficult.

But for those like evil gods and demons, advancement becomes simpler. Although not as nearly guaranteed like with machine spirits, the success rate is still much higher than on the human side.

The High Priest of the Ghost Tribe back then, if it weren't for Su Yu's interference, would probably have long advanced to seven-stars, wreaking havoc all around.

The emergence of the Pain Evil God might also have reasons related to this?

Su Yu's main body still has a long way to go before reaching the fifth rank.

The possible future of the Pain Evil God advanced to fifth rank first, wanting to devour the main body in return, is somewhat unbelievable no matter how you think about it.

Now it seems, it was also caused by the subspace environment.

This is really bad news.

"Fortunately, the Pain Evil God has already turned into an Evil God Soldier Mecha, and its subspace domain planet can cultivate machine spirits for me; otherwise, it would be really tricky..."

Su Yu thought to himself.

If it weren't for the Evil God Soldier Mecha, his plan to mass-produce third rank would probably never succeed.

Relying on the power of the evil god is indeed necessary.

"This world is really..."

Thinking of this, Su Yu shook his head inwardly.

Righteous paths seem blocked, while the ways of the evil gods are wide open.

Luckily, most evil gods are chaotic and twisted, Subspace Demons lack intelligence, and as for those Radiation Beasts, they are mostly beasts without wisdom.

It's still not that easy for them to advance.

The situation isn't that bad after all.

But Su Yu must be prepared to advance to the fifth rank before the next subspace Spiritual Energy tide erupts.

Otherwise, the environment will become more adverse, making advancement even harder.

That would be troublesome!

Su Yu resolved in his heart, then quickly resumed meditation training.

At this moment, over the past four years, he has made significant progress in controlling the planet's energy with the help of the Mechanical City's millions of inhabitants through the method of ability transfers.

For energy on the planetary surface, he can almost control it 100%. Just a thought and he can easily move mountains and fill seas.

However, his control over the energy within the planet's core still lacks proficiency.

Su Yu flew out of the Mechanical City, landed on the ground, and with a thought, the earth split open, turning into a bottomless chasm.

He then flew into this chasm, diving rapidly.

Back in the dark space-time, entering the underground required expending energy to evaporate and melt rock and soil. Now there's no such need, the rocks and soil automatically move aside, allowing his descent.

Soon, Su Yu reached the earth's core without any hindrance, immersed in the core's magma while extending his spirit to sense the planet's core energy.

Just then, he suddenly sensed familiar auras appearing on the planet's surface.

The aura of brutality!

"Has the Brutal Evil God finally lost patience?"

Chapter 869: The Strange City

Su Yu had long known that the Brutal Evil God wouldn't allow him to complete the control over the planet's energy and finish the ascension ritual to the Fifth Rank.

This Evil God is very insidious and will definitely come out to make trouble.

Sure enough, after just over four years, the brutal aura appeared again.

Su Yu chuckled coldly in his heart.

"It would be best if the main body appeared..."

Su Yu thought to himself.

The main body of the Brutal Evil God is hidden deep in Subspace, really hard to find.

If it were the main body appearing now, that would be great, Su Yu would immediately summon the Evil God Soldier Mecha to start a battle. Even if the planet were destroyed, even if the Mechanical City were obliterated again, he would still completely kill and suppress it!

At worst, we'd let the Mechanical City resurrect once more.

Over the years, Su Yu became more familiar with the Evil God Soldier Mecha, certainly able to exert stronger power in battle. If the brutal main body appeared and its injuries hadn't healed, there would be a high probability of it being truly killed or suppressed by Su Yu in battle, unable to escape.

However, Su Yu knew that such a thing could only be imagined.

The Brutal Evil God is not foolish and certainly wouldn't easily appear in its main body, probably just sending some minions to make trouble.

Thinking of this, Su Yu felt somewhat bored.

The minions of brutality are at most Fourth Rank, or not even Fourth Rank, so for Su Yu, who possesses the Evil God Soldier Mecha, they could be eliminated with a flick of the wrist.

Su Yu had already secretly summoned the Evil God Soldier Mecha in his mind, preparing to annihilate all the brutal aura that suddenly appeared!

Su Yu's mind was extremely fast, these thoughts all occurred in the flash of an instant.

At this moment, another idea occurred to him:

The Brutal Evil God surely knows that merely sending ordinary minions is absolutely unable to stop Su Yu.

Then why is He this time...

While Su Yu was puzzled, he had already used the Power of Time to observe the future to check the situation of the brutal aura.

Cautiousness is the priority.

Faced with formidable enemies like the Brutal Evil God, Su Yu wouldn't easily mobilize his main body, instead first probing with the Power of Time.

Soon, through the time perspective, Su Yu saw an unexpected scene.

Su Yu saw...

A city! A city composed of humans!

In the city, there are as many as hundreds of thousands of people, bustling about.

At this time, on the Ruins Star, there are over a hundred human cities.

These hundreds of cities were all established by millions from the Mechanical City spreading out across the planet.

These cities are the civilization Su Yu wants to develop.

Su Yu is completely familiar with the locations, situation, population, combat power, and other information of these cities.

But now, this city was beyond Su Yu's knowledge.

Su Yu didn't recognize a single person in this city.

The location of this city is also very remote, with no other city existing within thousands of kilometers.

This is because the environment here is too harsh, the planet's energy often riots, and even a Third Rank individual could get hurt accidentally, so naturally, no one is willing to establish a city here.

Otherwise, on some night the planet's energy might riot, and the entire city would be annihilated, never waking up again.

Yet now, a new city has just appeared out of nowhere.

And the brutal aura that Su Yu previously sensed was emanating from this city.

"The Brutal Evil God knows that sending minions is just sending them to their deaths, so He conjured up some humans?"

Su Yu wondered inwardly, continuing to observe the city using the Power of Time.

It must be said, this move by the Brutal Evil God really worked. If he threw in a bunch of Radiation Beasts or Ghost Demons, Su Yu would have just wiped them out. Now seeing a human city, Su Yu naturally wouldn't strike rashly, deciding to take a closer look first.

Of course, Su Yu's look wasn't just any ordinary look. Observing with the Power of Time is essentially traveling to a certain future, personally experiencing a possible future, thereby conducting an incredibly detailed and accurate observation.

So Su Yu wasn't just able to look; his figure had already descended above the city in this future.

In a certain future, Su Yu flies above the city, scanning everything below with spiritual power.

"Modernized city, area of 856 square kilometers, population of 780,154 people. The city seems to have appeared out of thin air, the foundation doesn't quite fit with the original land, was it dropped from the sky? That's quite similar to the Mechanical City."

"The city is divided into multiple areas, such as residential, production, administrative, commercial, farming, pastoral, military zones..."

With a sweep of his spirit, Su Yu had already assessed all aspects of the city in his mind.

To be fair, this city is well constructed.

The inhabitants inside, on the surface, also appear very normal. At a glance, their mental outlook is not inferior to that of the residents of the Mechanical City.

Nonetheless, the brutal aura could not be ignored by Su Yu.

Throughout the city, the brutal aura was incredibly dense, unbelievably so.

Although this aura's intensity was far surpassed by the main body of the Brutal Evil God, it was also much stronger than the Brutal Split Mind from before!

If measured by levels, the brutal aura in this city is at least of Fourth Rank!

The brutal aura is exceedingly terrifying; merely making contact with it can erode human minds, filling their hearts with the desire for brutality and destruction.

If it were slightly stronger, it would turn people into madmen recklessly attacking and destroying everything. Even Mechanical Creations would not be spared, becoming berserk and uncontrollable under the erosion of the brutal aura.

A bit stronger would be even more terrifying, like when Su Yu faced the Brutal Split Mind before, sacrificing ten thousand people from the Ghost Tribe just to let the Brutal Split Mind descend.

Chapter 870: Strange City (Part 2)

The power contained within the Split Mind could easily kill ten or a hundred times the population of spectral beings.

However, the Brutal Aura in this city is much stronger than the Brutal Split Mind. What does that mean?

Such a strong Brutal Aura, if it were ordinary humans, even millions of them, just a touch would mean either instant death or a horrific mutation, turning them into twisted monsters, essentially wiping them out.

Yet now, the nearly one million people in this city seem quite normal.

Among them are ordinary people, Transcendents, and even a City Lord of the seven-star level.

Their words and deeds are normal, continuing their production, life, and combat.

There are conflicts, disputes, and deaths in the city as well, but all within normal bounds.

But the more normal things are, the stranger it feels.

That Brutal Aura is no illusion; everyone in this city being madmen and monsters would be normal. This situation is somewhat bizarre.

Su Yu pondered for a moment, refraining from rash actions, and instead continued to quietly observe.

Earlier, Su Yu merely used his spirit to roughly scan the city, tallying the population count and other information.

This time, Su Yu observed more deeply.

He delved his spirit into the entire city, monitoring everyone's words and actions.

If he found nothing more, he would invade their thoughts and memories for clues.

However, before Su Yu got to that point, he had already discovered a clue.

He found that everyone in this city had faith.

While living and working, they would occasionally draw a symbol on their chests with their hands and pray in murmurs:

"Great God of Brutal, Master of War, Dark King! You are the source of hope, the savior of humanity, please give your people a revelation..."

These prayers were very secretive; even when Su Yu previously scanned with his spirit, he hadn't heard them.

Even now, Su Yu couldn't hear them, because these people never vocalized; it was by observing their facial muscle movements and reading their lip movements that Su Yu interpreted this information.

"So they are all believers of Brutality..."

Su Yu sneered, feeling a sense of "as expected" in his heart.

Since these guys are all believers of Brutality.

Then they could all be monsters in human skin; their apparent normality could just be a disguise.

In that case, Su Yu didn't hold back, and with a mental move, he invaded their spirits, intending to gather intel on the Brutal Evil God's true form from their memories.

Soon, all the memories of hundreds of thousands of people were obtained by Su Yu.

With his current powerful thinking capacity and computational ability, even such a vast amount of memory was nothing to him.

In a short time, he had already browsed through all these memories.

However, no! No information about the Brutal real form.

Although these people believed in the Brutal Evil God, they had never seen its true form, which made sense; if they had seen that terrifying Evil God, they would have long been dead.

The memories of these humans were completely of normal birth and life.

They didn't seem to be Subspace Demons in human disguise, just pure humans.

Except, the place they previously lived was not Ruins Star, but a twisted, chaotic planet.

That planet was even more chaotic than the previous Ruins Star.

Previously, during the battle between Su Yu and the Brutal Evil God, the entire eco-environment of Ruins Star was destroyed, with super volcanoes, earthquakes, tsunamis, typhoons, and planetary energy riots spreading across the surface, which was already bad enough.

However, the planet these people were on was even worse.

Even the physical rules like gravity and spacetime were extremely twisted and chaotic.

A person could be fine one moment and in the next crushed into a meat patty by suddenly increased gravity.

Or they could be teleported by chaotic spacetime to a dangerous place, dying miserably.

The planet was also populated by various twisted monsters who bore intense hatred towards humans, constantly wanting to exterminate humanity.

On that planet, human survival was extremely difficult, and only by worshipping the great God of Brutal, the Dark King, could they survive.

According to these people's memories, the "great Dark King" was exceedingly kind.

As long as one was willing to worship it, it would offer its blessing, allowing people to be immune to many of the planet's catastrophes.

This God did not seek anything in return, requiring not even a sacrifice, only recitation of its name in one's heart was sufficient.

With the protection power of the great God of Brutal, these people established this city and have thrived to this day.

According to their memories, this city has a history of over a thousand years.

Throughout this millennium, the city experienced various terrifying disasters but always survived.

Until today, when the entire city was suddenly moved to this strange environment, where the people in the city were not even surprised.

Compared to the various dangers they had encountered before, this kind of change is nothing.

As long as they sincerely recitate the name of God of Brutal, surely there would be no danger.

After scanning through these memories, Su Yu had only one thought in his mind: what nonsense is this?

The great Brutal Evil God, Dark King?

Exceedingly kind, protecting humans, and seeking nothing in return?

What a joke, who would believe it?

Su Yu's first reaction was disbelief, thinking this must be a conspiracy by the Brutal Evil God.

These humans' memories might have been altered, which led Su Yu to obtain such absurd information.

To modify the memories of hundreds of thousands of people would be quite a task.

"What a pointless game, what's the use?"

Su Yu thought to himself.

Then, he activated the Power of Time once again to observe the city.

This time, however, Su Yu was not observing the future, but the "past."

He wanted to see what the past of this city truly was like.

Even if the Brutal Evil God could modify these people's memories, surely it couldn't alter history too?

And the Power of Time Su Yu used wasn't his own, but the power of the Evil God Soldier Mecha, Fifth Rank's Power of Time!

Although the Brutal Evil God had some power in the Time Domain, ultimately it wasn't the God of Time.

Even if the Brutal Evil God had really modified the history of this city, Su Yu was confident that with the power of the Evil God Soldier Mecha, he could see through it.

Using the Fifth Rank Power of Time, Su Yu's vision penetrated spacetime, seeing the past of this city.

He saw that a second ago, this city was on a dark and twisted land.

And then, the spacetime around the entire city suddenly warped, and the city along with its people disappeared from where it was.

When it reappeared, it was on Ruins Star.

This is how this city came to Ruins Star.

From the moment the city appeared to when Su Yu began observing it, less than a second had passed.

Su Yu's speed was just that fast; his previous thoughts and observations didn't consume any time.

"There really is such a planet..."

Su Yu thought inwardly, then continued looking further.

Ten seconds ago, a minute ago, an hour ago, a day ago, a month ago...

Su Yu's vision continuously traced back over a thousand years, seeing the initial circumstances of the city's establishment.

Some believers of the Brutal Evil God, under divine guidance, built this city in the Dark Wilderness.

The city was nameless, as these people wanted the God to grant it a name, but they had received no response.

After seeing all of this, Su Yu's confusion reached its peak.

It seemed that these humans' memories had indeed not been altered; they truly had survived until now with the blessing of the Brutal Evil God.

With the Power of Time, Su Yu could clearly sense that over the past millennia, the city encountered numerous dangers.

Each time, it was the city's residents devoutly calling upon the name of God of Brutal, which summoned the Divine Power and eliminated the dangers.

Assisting them was truly the power of the Brutal Evil God, without any deceit; Su Yu was sure he couldn't be mistaken.

The power of the Brutal Evil God removed the danger and then disappeared, indeed being "incredibly kind" and seeking nothing in return.

In the eyes of these people, the God of Brutal is a true benevolent god, the savior of humanity.

It truly was a ghostly occurrence!
