Chapter 171: Chapter 108 Start of Artificial Body Transformation, Mechanical Warrior LV10! The Rebirth of the Sanctuary!

The column of rangers split the dark crowd in front of the Ninth Squad's station into two.

The originally somewhat chaotic sanctuary residents quietly watched the figure in the center of the crowd, surrounded by five black mechanical creations.

The previously menacing twenty-four mechanical arms now seemed so reassuring in the eyes of the sanctuary residents.

Seeing the residents' gazes directed at him, Su Yu's smile appeared even more strained, as if hiding an indescribable sadness.

"In that battle, not only did the administrators make sacrifices, but the wolves participating in the fight and the vice-captains of the Shan Lan Team also made significant sacrifices, losing their left arms in the battle."

As Su Yu spoke, he used the mechanical arms to elevate his position slightly.

He pointed to the two vice-captains in the queue of disabled fighters.

Residents followed Su Yu's pointing direction. The two vice-captains, just recuperating from serious injuries and having lost an arm, became disabled, appeared somewhat pitiful in the residents' eyes due to their confusion about the future.

The shelter residents were not very familiar with Su Yu, the repairman who became an administrator in less than two months, but they were quite familiar with the vice-captains of the old teams, the wolves and Shan Lan.

Seeing the misery of the two, the residents further believed Su Yu's words.

A thought arose in the residents' hearts: It turns out that so many people have sacrificed for us without us knowing.

Seeing the now calm residents, Su Yu silently breathed a sigh of relief while maintaining a stoic expression.

The recounting of the Night Slayer's events seemed to have had an effect.

Although he spoke truthfully, to gain initial recognition from the residents, he inevitably added a touch of artistic embellishment.

Now, it seemed to have worked well.

"The sanctuary has been established for years, and during this time, countless fighters have made efforts and sacrifices for its development."

"Like the old administrators, they are people I admire."

"They even gave their lives for the sanctuary. Many who were fortunate to survive also suffered severe injuries, leaving them disabled."

"The lost cannot be reclaimed, but for those alive, I will do my utmost to help them."

"Only by doing so can we be worthy of their sacrifices."

With that, Su Yu activated the Steel Meditation Technique.

Invisible spiritual energy instantly enveloped everyone present.

After breaking through the initial four-star level, Su Yu's spiritual energy range had already undergone a qualitative change. Now, the normal range of Su Yu's spiritual energy covered as much as a five hundred-meter radius.

Under conditions of unconstrained expenditure, Su Yu's spiritual energy could extend to a radius of two kilometers.

Accompanying the commencement of spiritual energy, the materials and parts for artificial body creation, previously prepared at the Ninth Squad's station, rose into the air.

Enough materials and parts to create over a hundred artificial bodies, numbering in the thousands.

Yet, Su Yu seemingly effortlessly used spiritual energy to control and levitate them in the air.

The sanctuary residents stood dazed, watching the scene.

Although Shelter No. 73 had spiritual transcendents like Li He before, due to Li He's unique meditation technique and the conduct of the Night Slayer Team, the residents knew spiritual transcendents were powerful but didn't understand the specifics.

However, seeing the thousands of parts floating in the air now, the residents were left with only awe.

"Oh my, is this the power of our administrator? No wonder the old administrator handed him the position," the woman who spoke earlier didn't know how to describe what she felt.

At this moment, Lang Yun and Hu Wen were far more shocked than the residents.

The residents didn't understand Su Yu, but they did. The speed at which Su Yu grew stronger was too fast and astonishing.

This terrifying ability to control thousands of parts at once left them with no other thoughts about Su Yu.

Su Yu observed all the expressions of the sanctuary people.

For Su Yu, this was merely the beginning.

There were over a hundred disabled personnel in the sanctuary, and Su Yu had already noted their states and injuries.

Su Yu spoke slowly to the combat personnel on the ground: "You all were once the pillars of the sanctuary. Just because you fought for it, you lost part of your bodies, making it impossible to fight again."

"I acknowledge both your sacrifices for the sanctuary and your capabilities, so I asked Captain Zhang Xiao to invite you here for me to build artificial bodies for you, so you can regain your combat abilities."

At this point, the disabled combat personnel looked at the thousands of floating materials and parts, feeling only shock and excitement.

Upon seeing those thousands of parts floating in the air, no one dared to question Su Yu anymore.

Su Yu extended his left hand, lightly clasping the floating parts and materials.

The next moment.

The thousands of floating materials and parts rapidly began to change.

Countless materials were spontaneously elongated and reshaped under the influence of spiritual energy into shapes most suitable for artificial body creation.

Chapter 172: Chapter 108 Start of Artificial Body Transformation, Mechanical Warrior LV10! The Rebirth of the Sanctuary!_2

Under Su Yu's control, the parts began to assemble.

"Click click click—"

The people in the Sanctuary were silent, watching the scene before them in shock.

Even Lang Yun and the others were no exception.

"This ability... is it really possible for a human?" Lang Yun and Hu Wen watched the astonishing scene, filled with only amazement.

"This mechanical technique, this extraordinary spiritual power, this is the true Mechanic, the pursuit of my life." At this moment, Old Mo was also at the Ninth Squad's base.

Su Yu's previous instructions had mostly been arranged, and now more than a dozen Mechanics were by Old Mo's side, staring blankly at the scene before them, like a miracle.

Old Mo looked at Su Yu, surrounded by many Mechanical Creations, the Su Yu who was the focus of everyone's attention.

In his heart, there was only one thought: If I could stay by the manager's side and learn a bit of mechanical technology, I would die without regret in this lifetime.

Soon, after a few minutes.

Thousands of parts assembled together.

Over a hundred prosthetics of different parts and shapes appeared before everyone.

For the other residents of the Sanctuary, they were already shocked enough by Su Yu's previous actions.

But for those injured soldiers, those hundred prosthetics were undoubtedly new hope for rebirth!

Seeing the longing in the eyes of the injured soldiers, Su Yu didn't say much.

Instead, he gently waved his hand.

Over a hundred prosthetics landed on those soldiers.

Under Su Yu's control of spiritual energy, they cut open their already healed areas and connected to their nerves.

As the nerves were connected, cries of pain came from the soldiers one by one.

"Ah, it hurts, I can finally feel my left hand again! Finally!"

"I... I can finally stand up! After three years, I can finally walk again!"

"It hurts, it hurts! Hahaha, I can finally feel pain again!"

But amidst their cries of pain, there was no sadness, only immense joy.

They had finally recovered, no longer destined to slowly die in the Sanctuary.

Su Yu's actions were nothing short of giving them new life!

And the residents of the Sanctuary nearby, at this moment, also looked at those injured soldiers, no, they were now fully soldiers.

"The manager truly, as he said, would offer help to those who sacrificed for the Sanctuary."

The residents of the Sanctuary were filled with thoughts, but most had completely accepted Su Yu becoming their new manager, even feeling some joy.

Su Yu's previous mechanical troops had shown enough strength to guard the Sanctuary.

Later, using spiritual energy to control thousands of parts and create hundreds of prosthetics, demonstrated Su Yu's own power.

On top of that, Su Yu had previously resolved the Nosferatu crisis for the Sanctuary.

With these three aspects combined, the Sanctuary's residents, who initially did not recognize Su Yu, now wholeheartedly accepted him as their manager.

Su Yu watched everyone's reactions, knowing that with this, no one in the Sanctuary would oppose him as manager, choosing to strike while the iron was hot.

"Residents of the Sanctuary, you have seen for yourselves, the Sanctuary will never abandon those who sacrificed for it, not just the soldiers, but you as well."

"As long as everyone works hard for the Sanctuary, even if injured on the job, or if radiation sickness leads to necessary amputations causing disability, the Sanctuary will provide you with basic prosthetics!"

"Giving you the means to survive, to return to work, to live again in the Sanctuary! This is one of the few things I can do for you after assuming the position of manager."

With these words, the crowds were even more jubilant.

On this Ruins Star, the most dangerous threat is radiation sickness, and in the past decades of the Sanctuary, countless people had to amputate because of contagion, losing work and being abandoned in the wilderness.

And now, Su Yu's promise, especially with the real example just seen in the soldiers, appeared particularly effective.

This made everyone incredibly joyful and excited!

At that moment, to the people of the Sanctuary, Su Yu was already close to being the Savior.

And because of this joyfulness, they overlooked that Su Yu mentioned the provision of basic prosthetics but did not include the word "free," instead showering him with praise.

"Manager, please don't say that, you've already done so much."

"Yes, in my view, even the previous manager couldn't have done as well as you."

Bai Hong in the crowd witnessed the scene, looking at Su Yu with a hint of reminiscence.

"Old manager, you have a successor, Su Yu will undoubtedly lead the Sanctuary to a better future."

Old Mo and the Mechanics admired Su Yu immensely, saying such actions would be unmatched, not only in the Sanctuary but possibly across the entire Ruins Star.

Only Lang Yun and Hu Wen could inwardly smile bitterly.

With Su Yu taking such actions, not even the old manager, if resurrected, could regain control of the Sanctuary.

Moreover, looking at the fervent residents of the Sanctuary, even if Su Yu lacked any power, as long as the prosthetic creation method persisted, the residents would still support Su Yu as their manager.

Chapter 173: Chapter 108: Artificial Body Transformation Begins, Mechanical Warrior LV10! Rebirth of the Sanctuary!_3

"However, having the Hunting Team Leader is already enough. With Lord Su Yu around, the Sanctuary can become better, which isn't a bad outcome either."

Lang Yun and Hu Wen exchanged a glance; both were unambitious and felt that the position of Hunting Team Leader was sufficient. Besides, they didn't have the courage to harbor thoughts of opposing Su Yu.

Su Yu waved his hand, signaling the crowd to disperse.

The system's notification sound had been ringing ever since Su Yu had crafted hundreds of artificial bodies.

Su Yu also noticed that his level seemed to have increased significantly, and even his physical body had upgraded considerably.

After the people left, Su Yu found Zhang Xiao and Old Mo, entrusted some precautions, and asked them to meet him the next day.

He then returned alone to the repair shop with the mechanical legion. Although his earlier display was impressive, it had also drained a significant amount of spiritual energy, and Su Yu needed to rest.

The residence of the Ninth Squad was still the administrator's quarters, making it uncomfortable for Su Yu to stay.

Su Yu directed the Cavalry and Defender to guard outside as he planned to upgrade the repair shop and designate a two-hundred-meter radius around it as his residence, prohibiting any outsiders from entering.

"With the completion of artificial body creation, the Sanctuary can now operate regularly."

"Speaking of which, the artificial bodies I provided are not free; they are compensation for those who became disabled due to hunting or working for the Sanctuary." Su Yu was somewhat exhausted after today's events. "Back on Blue Star, this would be normal compensation for work-related injuries, still paid service. But on this Ruins Star, such action is practically saintly."

"In reality, it's not that I'm kind-hearted; it's just that the other settlements on this Ruins Star and other people are too inadequate."

"No more thinking about that, let's check the system panel and see how the upgrades have progressed."

Su Yu shook his head, clearing his mind of distractions.

Then, Su Yu willed it.

"Open panel."

Su Yu opened the profession panel, looking at his newly refreshed attribute section and feeling a hint of joy in his eyes.

[Name: Su Yu]

[Profession: Mechanical Warrior lv 10]

[Current Profession: Mechanical Warrior]

[Skills: ...]

[Core Abilities: ...]

[Heart of Steel lv10]

[Extraordinary Level]

[Spiritual Power Star Level: Four-star Beginner]

[Physical Body Star Level: Four-star Elite]

"Hiss, how did my physical body strength already reach four-star elite?" Upon seeing the panel, Su Yu gasped.

After a brief moment of surprise.

Su Yu wasn't too surprised; the name 'Mechanical Warrior' suggests it's more focused on physical enhancement, and it's clear that the strengthening of spiritual power is not as emphasized as in other types of Extraordinary Mechanic professions.

"Speaking of which, as a Mechanic, my physical body star level has always been significantly higher than my spiritual power, what's going on?" Su Yu was somewhat helpless; he clearly wanted to be a Mechanic who commands thousands of mechanical creations. "If my predictions are correct, my physical body star level might reach five-star beginner once the Mechanical Warrior is maxed out."

"The Sanctuary's current mechanical materials and ores should be completely depleted. The next batch of materials will likely need the hunting team to collect from the wilderness."

"But no problem, Mechanical Warrior is also a combat profession, and the newly created Defender hasn't been properly tested yet."

"Just in time to upgrade and test the Defender's combat abilities."

Su Yu sat on the small bed in the repair shop, pondering as he pulled out the map left by the administrator once more.

"The previous ores for the Sanctuary mostly came from mining operations in two caves located just a few kilometers from the Sanctuary, requiring the hunting team's protection for each operation."

"As the years have passed, those two caves are nearly depleted. Other caves are either too far or too dangerous."

"However, the danger was for the past Sanctuary. For me, it's not dangerous, and five kilometers away from the Sanctuary, this mine contains a lot of Tungsten Blood Steel Ore."

Su Yu looked at the map symbols marking the caves, with a scorpion symbol next to it.

Below the scorpion, four stars were marked, representing that this irradiated Steel Giant Scorpion had reached the four-star level.

"This Steel Giant Scorpion is unmanageable for the original Sanctuary. Lang Yun Hu Wen and the formerly damaged artificial body administrator couldn't handle it."

"But for me, dealing with this Steel Giant Scorpion is easy."

"Moreover, several resource points around the Sanctuary could be brought under the Sanctuary's control."

"By eliminating this Steel Giant Scorpion, I can occupy this Tungsten Blood Steel Mine, have the hunting team handle the mining and guarding, allowing me to have plenty of Tungsten Blood Steel. By then, the level of mechanical creations can also be elevated."

Su Yu reviewed the map again, discovering that beyond the Tungsten Blood Steel Mine, many resource points around the Sanctuary could be better utilized.

"Furthermore, small chip manufacturing equipment requires both Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystal, which is manageable as collecting them is just a matter of time. However, finding this vital Source Core Crystal is another matter entirely; I've never even heard of such an ore."

"But no matter, there are small gathering points in this wilderness besides the Sanctuary. The hunting team can be dispatched to search for this crystal."

"Why not create an exchange list, listing the ores and materials I need, and let the hunting team collect them for me while I provide contributions and offer the artificial body upgrades in return for consuming contributions."

This was Su Yu's initial idea.

With that in mind, Su Yu immediately sat up and started designing the exchange list.

"Sea Blue Source Crystal Ore, Tungsten Blood Steel Ore, Intelligent Chip Set, Source Core Crystal..."

The night quickly passed.

Outside the repair shop, the voices of Old Mo and Zhang Xiao could be heard calling out.

"Administrator, are you awake?"

"Your mechanical creations are guarding here, and we don't dare to go in."

Chapter 174: Chapter 109: Crafting Personal Terminals, Exploring Resource Points! Mechanical Maintenance Department!

Outside the repair shop, five Defenders along with eighty Cavalry were quietly standing there.

Yet, even if these cold mechanical creations didn't make any movement.

Zhang Xiao and Old Mo didn't dare to step into the range of the repair shop.

They only dared to shout from afar.

And Su Yu, at this moment, also walked out of the repair shop.

He looked at the two of them, and with a slight thought, those mechanical creations guarding the repair shop opened a path for the two.

Only then did Zhang Xiao and Old Mo dare to come in.

Old Mo walked while meticulously observing the construction of these mechanical creations. When he saw the intricate mechanical design on the five Defenders, his eyes showed a hint of fascination.

As a former mechanic of the Sanctuary, Old Mo's skills were considered good within the Sanctuary, but compared to Su Yu, he was entirely outclassed.

Soon, the two arrived in front of the repair shop.

Seeing Su Yu, Old Mo respectfully spoke, "Manager, I've informed all the mechanics in the Sanctuary about your intention to establish the mechanical repair department."

"Currently, there are fifteen mechanics in the Sanctuary, and they have no objection to this move. Previously, the bases of the Night Slayer Team and the teams merged by Night Slayer are now vacant."

"Therefore, I've already started to establish the mechanical repair department, placing it in the Night Slayer Team's base, which was originally very close to the entrance of the Sanctuary. This way, when the hunting teams return, they can better go to the mechanical repair department for prosthetics and weapon repairs."

Su Yu nodded upon hearing this, feeling satisfied with Old Mo's efficiency. Su Yu didn't plan to personally handle the conventional repairs and prosthetics maintenance for the Sanctuary, as these repair activities couldn't provide him with much experience or benefits now.

So, the establishment of the mechanical repair department was imperative. Regular maintenance of prosthetics and the manufacture of basic weapons could all be assigned to the ordinary mechanics in the Sanctuary.

"However, Manager, we mechanics don't understand the prosthetics you've created, nor do we have the technical level, so..." Old Mo paused, deeply admiring Su Yu's ability to instantly create hundreds of prosthetics.

Old Mo had also found those wounded fighters to carefully observe those prosthetics, discovering that even though Su Yu simultaneously created hundreds of prosthetics, the quality and technical level of each prosthetic far exceeded Old Mo's imagination.

"Hmm, I've already prepared it. In the future, the mechanical repair department will not only be responsible for repairing prosthetics and weapons, but also for manufacturing some basic prosthetics and basic weapons, which will be entrusted to you," Su Yu nodded and then tossed Old Mo a palm-sized mechanical card.

This card was a personal terminal designed by Su Yu by back-engineering the technology contained in the personal terminal left in Dawn City by the manager.

Within Su Yu's plan, these personal terminals were to record various data from the wilderness and eventually all be input into the core terminal located in the Sanctuary, which would naturally be controlled by Su Yu alone.

Su Yu could also issue tasks to the Sanctuary's hunting teams anytime through the personal terminal and provide a contribution exchange list to better make use of the Sanctuary's hunting teams.

The functions of these personal terminals were simple—recording data and the Sanctuary's contributions. Su Yu planned to make this new personal terminal a tool everyone in the Sanctuary would have in the future.

"In this personal terminal, I have entered the technology for manufacturing basic prosthetics and the upcoming tasks of the mechanical repair department. Moreover, the difficulty of manufacturing this personal terminal is not high, and the blueprint is already inside. You need to create a batch of new personal terminals as quickly as possible so that the Sanctuary's hunting teams can use them."

Old Mo took the personal terminal, filled with excitement. For Su Yu, this was merely some basic technology thrown out to facilitate things, but for ordinary mechanics like Old Mo, this was mechanical technology they had never seen before.

"Yes, Manager, I will do my best to complete this task and manufacture enough personal terminals for the hunting team members in the shortest time," Old Mo bowed respectfully to Su Yu, his tone utterly reverent.

"I will go and do it now." After speaking, Old Mo took his leave from Su Yu and left the repair shop.

Su Yu watched Old Mo's departing figure, silently pondering in his heart.

"The function of the mechanical repair department is to help me reduce those repetitive tasks with low yield. Apart from the daily maintenance of prosthetics for the Sanctuary members, rough processes like the quality control of generic parts, the crude refining of ores, and the recycling of discarded mechanical creations can all be handed over to the mechanical repair department."

"And what I offer is just some rudimentary mechanical technology, allowing these mechanics in the Sanctuary to treat it like a treasure. It could be feasible to make some less important mechanical technologies public, letting these mechanics exchange them through work contributions, stimulating their work enthusiasm. This could indeed be added to the exchange list."

Then, Su Yu turned his gaze to Zhang Xiao and asked, "Captain Zhang Xiao, how is the hunting team formation going?"

Zhang Xiao immediately responded, "Manager, the three major hunting teams have been completed. Not many new members have been added to the teams led by Captains Lang Yun and Hu Wen. They have mostly restored their combat capabilities."

Chapter 175: Chapter 109: Crafting Personal Terminals, Exploring Resource Points! Mechanical Maintenance Department!_2

"It will only take two more days before we can start hunting in the wilderness."

"However, Master Administrator, the third hunting team under my command consists of injured veteran fighters who haven't fought in a long time. Although they have replaced their prosthetics, they still need some time to adapt before they can go hunting in the wilderness."

Su Yu nodded, not surprised by this. The development of the Sanctuary is a gradual process. Although Su Yu's abilities can speed up this process significantly, it still takes some time.

"Alright." With that, Su Yu handed another personal terminal to Zhang Xiao, "This is also a personal terminal, containing information about the resource points around the Sanctuary. Since you want to train your team, take them to the wilderness to explore the information on these resource points."

"No need to rush. Just roughly explore the information to see if there are any discrepancies with the data on the personal terminal."

The map obtained by Su Yu originated from the remnants of the Administrator, a result of cross-referencing maps from the Sanctuary and Dawn City from over a century ago.

However, whether it is the Sanctuary or Dawn City, the records of resource points like tungsten blood steel and sea blue source crystal within a 20-kilometer radius of the Sanctuary are quite dated.

All exploitable resource points within a 20-kilometer radius of the Sanctuary have already been mined, and the remaining ones are often inhabited by powerful Radiation Beasts or even herds of them.

Typically, the hunting teams of the Sanctuary do not venture close to these areas, so the map information might be inaccurate.

This is why Su Yu instructed Zhang Xiao to lead a reconnaissance team.

"Yes, Master Administrator, I will lead the team to explore immediately." Zhang Xiao nodded, promptly bid farewell to Su Yu, and went to organize the members of the third hunting team.

After they left, Su Yu turned to look at the repair shop behind him.

The repair shop was originally not at the center of the Sanctuary but in a relatively remote area, close to the hunting squads' stations.

As Nightshade's actions swallowed up the hunting squads, many areas around the repair shop were cleared.

"The repair shop is still too small; it needs to be expanded."

With that, Su Yu activated his spiritual energy, controlling all the mechanical creations present.

He conducted extensive transformations on the repair shop and within a two-hundred-meter radius around it.

Old Mo had returned to the former Nightshade base, now known as the Mechanical Repair Department.

He opened the personal terminal created by Su Yu, which immediately displayed blueprints and mechanical technology related to basic prosthetics with light and shadow.

Old Mo called the mechanics from the Mechanical Repair Department, who watched, mesmerized.

"So this is what mechanical creations can be like! Such technology, such design, truly befitting of Master Administrator, the Extraordinary Mechanic!"

"Mechanical prosthetics, personal terminal..." one mechanic said in disbelief, looking at the blueprints displayed by the light and shadow, "Master Administrator is so generous to give us these blueprints?"

"Indeed, these blueprints and designs were the prized possessions for mechanics in the old Sanctuary..."

The mechanics of the Mechanical Repair Department were full of admiration for Su Yu.

In their opinion, the blueprints of the personal terminal or mechanical prosthetics were advanced technology, hard to master, if not for Su Yu's annotations and guidance on the relevant technology, the blueprints would be difficult to build.

Moreover, these two blueprints themselves are extremely rare, in the old Sanctuary, the mechanics who obtained these often kept them as personal treasures rather than sharing with others.

"Master Administrator is simply beyond our comparison." Old Mo said with some emotion after skimming through the information recorded in the personal terminal.

"These technologies and blueprints are enough to improve our mechanical abilities by leaps and bounds."

"Yes, Master Administrator is truly an Extraordinary Mechanic."

After reviewing all the information recorded in the personal terminal, everyone started discussing.

Although these blueprints and basic technologies seemed trivial to Su Yu, they were foundational technology.

Su Yu provided these only so that the Mechanical Repair Department could better assist him.

But in the eyes of the Mechanical Repair Department personnel, this was not the case. These designs, even if casually made by Su Yu, allowed the mechanics to elevate their skills to another level.

"Alright, don't worry about other technologies and blueprints for now. The Master Administrator has instructed us to prioritize manufacturing personal terminals during this time." Old Mo interrupted the group's intent to study more mechanical technology and switched the light and shadow to the personal terminal design page, "The Master Administrator has given us these precious technologies, and we must complete his task."

"Prioritize mastering the manufacturing method of personal terminals and rushing a batch for the hunting teams."

Under Old Mo's instructions, the mechanics awoke as if from a dream, began studying carefully, and tried to manufacture personal terminals.

...

At the sanctuary gates.

Zhang Xiao gathered the members of the third hunting team here.

He looked at the team members equipped with the prosthetics provided by Su Yu, took a deep breath, and shouted, "The prosthetics on everyone were gifted by Master Administrator."

Chapter 176: Chapter 109: Crafting Personal Terminals, Exploring Resource Points! Mechanical Maintenance Department!_3

"It is also because the Administrator granted us new life, and exploring resource points outside is the first task given to us by the Administrator, as well as the first task since the formation of the third hunting team."

"We must fulfill the Administrator's instructions!"

"Yes!" Answered the members of the third hunting team in unison.

"Not only should we do it well, but we should also do it beautifully to satisfy the Administrator!"

"Now, follow me!"

Saying this, Zhang Xiao waved his hand, opened the heavy door, and stepped out first, followed closely by the members of the third hunting team.

Unlike the now formalized Sanctuary.

Su Yu here was, for once, idly at ease.

After upgrading the repair shop.

The original repair shop expanded several times over, relying on the astounding work efficiency of Spiritual Energy and Mechanical Creation, it no longer looked like the original repair shop from the outside.

The repair shop at the moment—no, it could no longer be called a repair shop.

But rather the new Administrator's abode; a small three-story building covered in heavy metal on the outside.

Be it in security or comfort, it far surpassed the original repair shop by a significant margin.

Su Yu was now standing alone on the third floor of the expanded residence, gazing at the nearby Sanctuary people, who exuded newfound vitality.

"Now the Sanctuary has gradually settled into a proper order. Once Lang Yun and Hu Wen are fully recovered, I will have three hundred-man hunting teams at my disposal. Moreover, in terms of strength or numbers, they far surpass the previous ninth squadron."

"The gains they bring can also hardly be matched by the past ninth squadron."

Su Yu quietly thought to himself. He did not plan to continue working these two days, as the ore and mechanical parts within the Sanctuary had almost been depleted, and he had to wait for the hunting teams to begin their hunts, or for the Sanctuary to occupy new resource points to achieve a stable yield.

Even if Su Yu wanted to create more Mechanical Creations these two days, he had no materials to use.

"However, I might as well manufacture the Core Terminal first."

Relying on reverse engineering the individual terminals from Dawn City, Su Yu had long understood the contained designs.

Manufacturing a Core Terminal belonging to the Sanctuary was not difficult.

After all, the Sanctuary only had a few thousand people, so the data load it needed to bear wasn't large.

As soon as he decided, Su Yu started the manufacturing right away.

"The Core Terminal's functions don't need to be overly complex; it just needs to receive data from individual terminals within the Sanctuary's range, compile and organize it, and manage the contributions of the nuclear Sanctuary's individual terminals."

Su Yu soon formulated his thoughts.

Then, after instructing the Defenders and Cavalry to guard around the small building, he began manufacturing.

Soon, a bathtub-sized mechanical device was made by Su Yu.

This Core Terminal was covered with a series of antennas, all crafted by Su Yu to receive data from the individual terminals and to further extend the data reception range of the Core Terminal.

For this mechanical device, Su Yu installed nearly twenty non-combat Intelligent Chips to handle the data volume from the Sanctuary's other individual terminals.

These Intelligent Chips were previously spoils of war, totaling fifty, but not geared for combat purposes. If used to make Cavalry, it would waste a large portion of combat power, so Su Yu had not used them until now.

At present, they fit perfectly for the Core Terminal.

"With this, the contribution exchange of the Sanctuary and the data recording of the surrounding environment won't need manpower, allowing me to get first-hand information."

Su Yu, satisfied, looked at the Core Terminal in front of him, and the next moment, the Core Terminal's information surfaced in Su Yu's vision.

[Sanctuary Core Terminal]

[Creator: Su Yu]

[Grade: Superior]

[Trait: Data Processing (Equipped with twenty Intelligent Chips, capable of handling various data from individual terminals, current limit of three thousand individual terminals)]

"Capable of supporting three thousand individual terminals' data volume, that's certainly enough. In the short term, individual terminals only need to support hunting team members."

"As for the Sanctuary residents, there's no hurry for now."

"These past two months have been very busy, but now with resources provided by the Sanctuary, there's no need to rush. I can take a good rest these two days."

Then, after finishing the individual terminals, Su Yu freshened up and lay on the soft big bed, resting.

Just like that, two days passed.

Su Yu was resting when he was interrupted by the notification tone of the special edition Administrator personal terminal he made himself.

Opening the personal terminal, Su Yu immediately saw the messages from Old Mo and Zhang Xiao.

"Administrator, the mechanical repair department has completed your request, three hundred individual terminals have been manufactured and are now being equipped for the hunting team."

"Captain Zhang Xiao's third hunting team has also returned with information about the resource points around the Sanctuary."

Seeing this, Su Yu nodded with satisfaction at Old Mo's work efficiency.

Then, Su Yu opened the message from Zhang Xiao.

"Administrator, we have explored the information of five resource points within a twenty-kilometer radius of the Sanctuary, where two resource points have already been completely mined out, and three other resource points have Radiation Beasts living there."

"Among them, two resource points are ordinary mines with Radiation Beast groups of only three-star level, which I have led the team to eliminate, and personnel can be sent for mining at any time. However, the ore reserves at these two resource points are not abundant."

"But the last remaining resource point is home to a terrifying four-star level Radiation Beast group. We didn't dare venture in, but we did gather information about this resource point; it's a twin production site for Tungsten Blood Steel Ore and Sea Blue Source Crystal."

"Moreover, based on preliminary observations, the Sea Blue Source Crystal has a fatal attraction to this four-star Radiation Beast group, and the number of Radiation Beasts there is over a dozen. Subordinates speculate that the quantity of Sea Blue Source Crystal there is extremely high!"

Chapter 177: Chapter 110: Exchange List Released, Sanctuary in Turmoil! The Hunt Begins!

Seeing Zhang Xiao's words, a look of surprise flashed in Su Yu's eyes.

The trait of Sea Blue Source Crystal is to enhance the conduction of energy. The stock in the Sanctuary was already scarce, and with Su Yu's few uses, it was long depleted.

"This kind of ore, Sea Blue Source Crystal, can be used to further repair the Electron Furnace left by the former manager, thereby further improving the quality of the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic." Su Yu's current Thousand-Handed Prosthetic is not a finished product because the Electron Furnace's repair is insufficient, and the material of the prosthetic itself is not exceptional.

It can only be regarded as an excellent-level semi-finished product.

Not only that, the Electric Sniper Rifle in Su Yu's hand is also an excellent-level semi-finished creation with too many side effects.

"Previously, it couldn't be repaired because the quantity of Sea Blue Source Crystal was so low that it had to be used sparingly, whether for the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic or repairing the Electric Sniper Rifle."

"And now, if that mine is really as Zhang Xiao's exploration results suggest, with both Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystal, and in significant amounts, then this mine must be occupied by me."

The more Su Yu thought about it, the more excited he became. He immediately sent a message through his personal terminal.

He called for the three Hunting Team Leaders, as well as Sanctuary's senior members like Bai Hong and Yang Lie, to proceed to the council hall.

Before long, Su Yu arrived at the council hall.

By then, the senior members of the Sanctuary were already present.

Upon seeing Su Yu's arrival, everyone greeted in unison: "Lord Administrator."

Su Yu just nodded slightly in response.

Then, he took the central seat in the council hall.

Looking at the crowd, he began, "Lao Mo, let's have your Mechanical Repair Department start first."

"Yes, Lord Administrator." Lao Mo nodded and began reporting on the Mechanical Repair Department's situation.

"Based on the technology granted by the Administrator and the blueprints bestowed upon us, the Mechanics in the Mechanical Repair Department have already mastered the manufacturing of personal terminals. Recently, the produced personal terminals have been delivered to members of the three major Hunting Teams for use."

"Also, regarding the manufacturing of Basic Prosthetics, we have mastered a part of it. Although it's still early to manufacture Basic Prosthetics, most Mechanics can already maintain Basic Prosthetics independently."

As he spoke, Lao Mo pointed to Zhang Xiao, saying, "The prosthetics of the members of the third Hunting Team led by Captain Zhang Xiao were maintained by the Mechanical Repair Department after their return this time."

After speaking, Lao Mo sat down.

At this time, Zhang Xiao stood up.

"Lord Administrator, I've explored all resource points within a twenty-mile radius of the Sanctuary based on the map locations you provided."

"The resource point with a four-star Radiation Beasts group originally didn't produce Sea Blue Source Crystal, only Tungsten Blood Steel. Previously, the Radiation Beast living there was just a four-star level Steel Giant Scorpion, not the current Crystal Giant Scorpion Radiation Beasts group."

Zhang Xiao's words surprised Su Yu as well.

Although, through the personal terminal, Su Yu had grasped the general situation of this exploration.

But Zhang Xiao hadn't described the details through the personal terminal.

Only now, hearing Zhang Xiao's description, did Su Yu understand, thinking: "No wonder the Sanctuary's map didn't record this as a resource point producing Sea Blue Source Crystal."

Previously, this resource point was marked only five kilometers away from the Sanctuary on the map, but it only produced Tungsten Blood Steel, with no Sea Blue Source Crystal.

Moreover, it was inhabited by only a Steel Giant Scorpion that fed on Metal Ore, not the current Crystal Giant Scorpion Radiation group.

This is too strange.

In the common knowledge of Su Yu and the people of the Sanctuary, Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystal were not produced in the same mine; Sea Blue Source Crystal is relatively fragile, only having excellent energy conductivity.

While Tungsten Blood Steel is hard in texture, the birth environment of the two minerals is entirely different, fundamentally not producible in the same mine.

"There must be some reason causing a change in that resource point, perhaps due to the Crystal Giant Scorpion Radiation group." Su Yu pondered silently, maintaining a calm face.

Then Zhang Xiao continued, "According to my exploration this time, the Crystal Giant Scorpions residing there appear to feed on Sea Blue Source Crystal, forming a symbiotic relationship to some extent, and this group of Crystal Giant Scorpions are tough to deal with."

Zhang Xiao paused, with a trace of fear in his eyes, saying, "I tried to confront a Crystal Giant Scorpion that was relatively far from the group, only to find that the Crystal Giant Scorpion has a completely transparent shell, and through prolonged consumption of Sea Blue Source Crystal, gained special abilities to refract light through its shell, achieving complete invisibility."

"Moreover, the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan has as many as a dozen scorpions, four of which have reached a four-star level, and the strength of one of them made me feel fearful; it's at least a four-star high-grade Radiation Beast, and that's just the number observed on the surface. There will be more Crystal Giant Scorpions in the mine."

"Lord Administrator, with the current strength of the Sanctuary, dealing with this group of Radiation Beasts may result in significant casualties."

"However, if the Lord Administrator intends to clear the Crystal Giant Scorpions, I will do my utmost to serve."

Zhang Xiao's meaning was clear, entirely advising Su Yu not to attack the Crystal Giant Scorpions for the time being. However, it was just advice; with Zhang Xiao's loyalty, if Su Yu decided to proceed, he would obey.

Chapter 178: Chapter 110: Release of Exchange List, The Boiling Sanctuary! The Hunt Begins!_2

Lang Yun, who was beside him, also stood up and said, "Yes, Administrator, the Sanctuary is in dire need of revival. It's not worth provoking the Crystal Giant Scorpions now, especially given their terrifying power."

"Administrator, the four-star Radiation Beasts clan is too terrifying to handle," Hu Wen also stood up and advised.

Su Yu nodded, indicating he understood, and then quietly looked at everyone present.

Even though they hadn't spoken, from their expressions, it was clear they didn't want to confront the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan.

It's understandable why they feel this way. To everyone, the Sanctuary ostensibly only has four four-star combat strengths, of which three are at the primary level. Although Su Yu is strong, he defeated Li He just a few days ago, and in the eyes of everyone, Su Yu might still be far from reaching a high-level four-star.

"Whether it is the Sea Blue Source Crystal or the Tungsten Blood Steel, they are both things I am determined to acquire," Su Yu also stood up from his seat, "Not only that, but the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan is only five kilometers away from the Sanctuary. Even if we don't clear them out, they pose an invisible threat to the Sanctuary."

"Moreover, I am confident in dealing with those four-star Crystal Giant Scorpions, and you only need to assist from the sidelines."

"Captain Zhang Xiao, your third hunting team was just established. Stay and defend the Sanctuary, and work with Captain Yang Lie and Bai Hong to protect the Sanctuary well."

"As for Captain Lang Yun and Captain Hu Wen, immediately lead the first and second hunting teams, and follow me into the wilderness to hunt the Crystal Giant Scorpions."

Having said that, Su Yu paid no heed to the reactions of the crowd and started walking towards the door of the council hall.

To Su Yu, the Sanctuary is a resource supply base, a cradle for his development.

If Su Yu needed the hunting team to act, they had to act and not shirk from danger.

If not, what is the point of Su Yu being the administrator?

"It seems that my strength and prestige in the Sanctuary are still lacking, even though the various actions I took before have earned me recognition from most residents of the Sanctuary."

"Ultimately, it's the lack of strength-based prestige."

Su Yu saw through Lang Yun and Hu Wen's reluctance and knew the reason why.

After all, the old administrator's prestige was built over tens of years and a superior four-star top-level strength by day and night.

Though Su Yu's physical level has now reached the four-star top level, since the suppression of Li He, Su Yu hasn't acted again.

The strength he displayed during Li He's elimination was powerful, but not yet at the four-star top level.

People in the Sanctuary haven't realized Su Yu's physical strength reached this level, only Zhang Xiao, who had clashed with Su Yu, realized Su Yu's horror, hence his loyalty.

"Taking on the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan, with my current strength and the mechanical army, wouldn't be difficult, and it just happens to be a chance to elevate the mechanical warriors' level," Su Yu thought as he walked, "Furthermore, after eliminating the Crystal Giant Scorpions, I can obtain a stable supply of Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystals, consequently ensuring a steady growth in my strength."

"By bringing Lang Yun and Hu Wen, they can assist from the sides, and it's a good chance to knock some sense into them and establish authority."

Su Yu wasn't surprised at Lang Yun and Hu Wen's actions, after all, even in the previous Sanctuary, Su Yu knew that although these two had some strength, their personalities were indecisive and lacked boldness. When facing danger, their first reaction was to shirk responsibility, otherwise, how else could the Nightshade have developed to such a level?

Lang Yun and Hu Wen exchanged a glance, with some bitterness in their hearts.

They never expected Su Yu to be so decisive.

"Taking on a four-star Radiation Beast clan like the Crystal Giant Scorpions is really tough. Alright, let's follow the Administrator's orders. Once the Administrator hits a wall, he should choose to give up, right?" Lang Yun thought as he began using his personal terminal to contact the members of the first squad, intending to organize the first hunting team to follow Su Yu.

Hu Wen did the same.

At this time.

Su Yu had already reached the door of the council hall, pushed it open, and walked out.

Just outside the council hall, Su Yu took out his Administrator version personal terminal and operated a few commands on it.

He then sent out the contribution exchange list that had been designed earlier.

Additionally, he issued ten thousand contributions to both Zhang Xiao and Old Mo.

At this time, everyone in the council hall, including the members of the three major hunting teams, simultaneously received the message from their personal terminals.

Opening it, they immediately saw the exchange list.

"Exchange list, what is this?" Zhang Xiao was momentarily stunned.

He instinctively opened it.

A light projection was emitted from the personal terminal, displaying rows of items available for exchange.

"Remote Mechanical Prosthetic · Thermal Arm: Equipped with thermal rays, high-energy battery, additional lethality can reach three-star primary."

"Exchange Contribution: Five thousand points. Current available quantity: 10"

"Close-Combat Mechanical Prosthetic · Chainsaw Arm Armor: Equipped with an electromagnetic chainsaw, high-energy battery, additional lethality can reach three-star primary."

...

Looking at the series of prosthetics, Zhang Xiao's heart surged with excitement.

Scrolling down through the exchange list, he discovered that aside from the prosthetics, there were numerous mechanical creations and mechanical weapons available for exchange. He even noticed that, with enough contributions, a full set of prosthetic suits could be exchanged.

Chapter 179: Chapter 110 List of Exchanges Released, Boiling Sanctuary! The Hunt Begins!_3

Although the comprehensive strength of the prosthetic suit is only three-star top level, this set of prosthetics can be used by ordinary people, but the contribution required is extremely high, as much as three hundred thousand points, or can be exchanged with Source Core Crystal.

Zhang Xiao skipped over these. The three-star level prosthetic, although it brings additional lethality without affecting the performance of one's own strength, is still too weak for the current four-star junior Zhang Xiao.

As Zhang Xiao carefully browsed the list, he quickly found one of the few four-star level mechanical prosthetics available on the list.

"Advanced Close Combat Prosthesis-Powerful Arm: Equipped with an electric transmission device, it can amplify the user's own strength, with a comprehensive rating of four-star junior."

"Exchange contribution: twenty thousand points. Available quantity for exchange: 1"

Zhang Xiao was overjoyed when he saw the powerful arm; it was the prosthetic most suitable for him.

"Suitable as it may be, this contribution requirement is somewhat too much."

Zhang Xiao subconsciously checked his own contribution and found that his current contribution already had more than thirteen thousand points. As the captain of the third hunting team, he could quickly accumulate enough contribution to redeem it by accepting a few more missions from the Sanctuary and hunting a few more times.

This discovery undoubtedly made Zhang Xiao extremely delighted.

"But, where did the extra ten thousand contribution come from?" Zhang Xiao was a bit puzzled and quickly realized that the ten thousand contribution was a reward for exploring resource points.

Meanwhile, Lang Yun and Hu Wen, upon seeing the rare mechanical weapons on the exchange list, were also tempted.

Many of the mechanical weapons could even boost their strength to a higher level!

But looking at their own contribution, only a pitiful one or two thousand points,

And then looking at Zhang Xiao's more than ten thousand contributions, they immediately felt some regret, regretting their previous evasions.

Their previous evasion attempts did not succeed but resulted in being asked to participate in hunting.

Now that the exchange list is out, they also realized that even if they did not want to go, the members of the first and second hunting teams would probably be envious of the contribution.

Moreover, in their view, Su Yu's ability to create so many mechanical weapons probably indicated an increase in his own strength as well.

In this light, the talk of hunting the Crystal Giant Scorpion is probably not just words.

Lang Yun and Hu Wen deeply regretted their actions earlier, as they no doubt lowered their standing in the eyes of the Administrator.

...

The excitement wasn't limited to the upper echelon of the council hall.

At the same time, the bases of the three main hunting teams were already in an uproar.

Especially the third hunting team, they found that the contribution from this exploration was exceptionally large, and if they could hunt a few more times, they could probably save enough to upgrade their prosthetics!

"Great, these prosthetics are too suitable for us. Although we cannot become Transcendents, equipping prosthetics can also make us stronger!"

"Indeed, the contribution from this resource point exploration is quite substantial. If there were a few more explorations like this, I could upgrade all my prosthetics."

"Damn, there's even a prosthetic suit; wouldn't that make me as strong as a three-star Transcendent?"

"Not only that but even exchanging a few prosthetics would significantly boost my combat strength!"

The other two hunting teams, although they didn't participate in this operation and couldn't gain much contribution, looking at the lavish equipment on the exchange list and the limited exchange quantities, their eyes turned red with envy, eager to leave the Sanctuary for hunting right away.

...

Over at the mechanical repair department, they also saw the exchange list. However, what they cared about were not the prosthetics, but the mechanical technologies provided by Su Yu on the exchange list, each making them envious beyond measure.

Old Mo was determined to work hard for the Sanctuary to earn enough contribution to exchange for those coveted mechanical technologies.

At this time, Su Yu returned to his residence, accompanied by Nuonuo and the mechanical legion, heading towards the entrance of the Sanctuary.

Lang Yun and Hu Wen, upon seeing the exchange list, realized that Su Yu's strength had grown, and were also deeply envious of those mechanical weapons.

They thought only of performing well in front of Su Yu, attempting to recuperate their recently diminished standing.

They had already assembled early at the entrance of the Sanctuary.

Su Yu was wearing the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic, arriving under the escort of the mechanical legion.

"Administrator, the first hunting team is fully assembled, awaiting the Administrator's orders," Lang Yun announced loudly, standing at the front of the first team's lineup.

Hu Wen, also standing at the front of the second team, announced, "The second hunting team is fully assembled, awaiting the Administrator's orders!"

"Awaiting the Administrator's orders," the first and second teams chimed in with anticipation driven by the contribution and the exchange list.

Watching Lang Yun and Hu Wen performing earnestly, Su Yu chuckled inwardly: "If they had known this earlier, they wouldn't have done what they did."

"But speaking of which, I haven't even begun manufacturing the items on the exchange list. The prosthetics and weapons listed are, for now, just pie in the sky," Su Yu thought to himself. "However, it doesn't matter, since they'll need time to accumulate enough contributions, manufacturing when they've saved up enough is fine."

In essence, the exchange list is part of Su Yu's incentive mechanism to enhance the work efficiency of the Sanctuary personnel.

Judging by the reactions so far, the results were undoubtedly favorable.

Then, Su Yu looked at Lang Yun and Hu Wen, waved his hand, and declared, "Captains Lang Yun and Hu Wen, listen to orders, lead your teams and depart!"

"Target location, the Crystal Giant Scorpion Radiation Beast Cluster Mines."

"Yes, Administrator!" They responded in unison.

And Su Yu, meanwhile, commanded the mechanical legion to follow behind the two hunting teams.

"This time, hunting the Crystal Giant Scorpion should yield quite a harvest in experience points, enough for the Mechanical Warrior to reach max level," Su Yu thought with anticipation.

"Not only that, but with the Mechanical Warrior reaching max level, it should unlock the second-tier Extraordinary Profession. Moreover, with the stable supply of Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystal, this period will be one of rapid development in my strength."

"Therefore, the Crystal Giant Scorpion must be eradicated, and this resource point must be taken!"

Chapter 180: Chapter 111: Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan, First Battle, The Mighty Firepower of the Cavalry!

Outside the Sanctuary gate.

The members of the first and second hunting teams, led by Captains Lang Yun and Hu Wen, headed towards the direction of the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan.

The members of the first and second hunting teams were filled with confidence and anticipation for this hunt of the four-star Radiation Beasts clan.

After the exchange list was released, seeing those powerful prosthetics and Mechanical Creations on the list, everyone realized that Su Yu, who could manufacture four-star beginner-level mechanical prosthetics and weapons, must be even more powerful.

Not to mention, the mechanical legion formed by the eighty cavalry and five Defenders following behind the team.

Su Yu was also observing the first and second hunting teams at this moment.

Although this was not his first wilderness hunt, this time, both the opponents he faced and the strength of his team were far beyond any previous experience.

Even the ordinary members of the first and second hunting squads had upgraded to stronger mechanical weapons or prosthetics, and the overall strength had increased by several levels compared to before.

The mine where the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan resided was only five kilometers away from the Sanctuary.

The group advanced all the way and quickly reached their destination.

At this moment, Su Yu stood on a small slope, right in front of the living area of the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan.

In front of the slope was a huge mine cave, emitting specks of blue fluorescence that Su Yu was so familiar with—a light emanating from the Sea Blue Source Crystal.

Furthermore, under the illumination of the blue fluorescence, the metallic luster of the ore with a scarlet hue in the mine cave was also exposed before Su Yu's eyes.

"As expected, the amounts of Tungsten Blood Steel and Sea Blue Source Crystal in this mine are considerable." Su Yu was pleasantly surprised, but also a bit puzzled.

"However, according to the map left by the Sanctuary or the words of the hunting team members, this mine originally only contained Tungsten Blood Steel, not Sea Blue Source Crystal."

"The Sea Blue Source Crystal and Crystal Giant Scorpions both appeared suddenly, there must be a reason."

At that moment, Su Yu noticed a Crystal Giant Scorpion the size of a car appearing at the entrance of the mine.

This Crystal Giant Scorpion's body was transparent, looking magnificent under the fluorescence, its entire body resembling blue crystal. But judging from the pincers the size of two wheels and the scorpion tail emitting a deep blue hue, no one would underestimate the danger of this Crystal Giant Scorpion.

The Crystal Giant Scorpion was completely unaware of Su Yu and the others' presence, using its giant pincers to break off a piece of ore containing Sea Blue Source Crystal, slowly consuming it.

Su Yu also noticed that the crystal sheen on the Crystal Giant Scorpion became brighter as it consumed the crystal.

The color also became closer to the color of the Sea Blue Source Crystal.

Lang Yun and Hu Wen were standing on both sides of Su Yu at this moment, observing the activities of the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan.

"Administrator sir, that should be the Crystal Giant Scorpion. I vaguely remember this type of Radiation Beast. The hunting team encountered a similar Radiation Beast in earlier years, except it wasn't crystal-colored but had a black metallic sheen instead," Lang Yun reported eagerly.

"However, the Crystal Giant Scorpion I discovered was in an iron mine, and its strength was only at the beginner three-star level."

Hearing Lang Yun's words,

Su Yu suddenly had a guess in his mind.

Perhaps this Crystal Giant Scorpion and the black scorpion Lang Yun encountered before, as well as the Steel Giant Scorpion previously mapped on the Sanctuary's map, were all the same kind of Radiation Beast. It's just that the crystal shell of this Crystal Giant Scorpion alters specially according to the color and properties of the ore it consumes.

Relating to the Crystal Giant Scorpion's prior consumption of Sea Blue Source Crystal ore and the subsequent change in its carapace, Su Yu felt his hypothesis was probably right.

"So, this Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan in the mine is originally the Steel Giant Scorpion Clan. The Crystal Giant Scorpions are not outsiders; the anomaly of this mine is due to something stimulating the birth of Sea Blue Source Crystal, causing the characteristics of the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan to change."

Su Yu was aware, and then wanted to test the strength of this Crystal Giant Scorpion.

Even with Su Yu's current strength, donning the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic, he could battle even a five-star Radiation Beast Lord. But now, with the hunting teams so numerous, it was natural to leverage the advantage of numbers.

Su Yu then instructed Lang Yun and Hu Wen, "Captain Lang Yun, Captain Hu Wen, we are unfamiliar with the environment inside the mine, so we must lure the Crystal Giant Scorpions to the surface."

"Then, the cavalry and hunting team warriors can use long-range firepower to kill them, which is the most secure method."

"The strength of the Crystal Giant Scorpion Clan is not all four-star level; you only need to deal with those below four-star level."

Lang Yun and Hu Wen nodded as well, having already suppressed their fear of the Crystal Giant Scorpions in hopes of earning more contributions to exchange for four-star level weapons later.

After all, in Su Yu's carefully designed exchange list, those four-star mechanical weapons and prosthetics were very limited in quantity and only available once, which was deliberately done by Su Yu to motivate these hunting captains from the Sanctuary.

"Administrator sir, just give the orders, and we'll certainly comply," Lang Yun responded.

"Good, Captain Lang Yun, with Captain Hu Wen cooperating, lead them out of the mine and guide them down the slope."
