Chapter 198: Chapter 117 First Mechanical Apostle·Superpower Nuonuo, Mechanical Fusion

A surge of Spiritual Energy emerged from Su Yu's body, quickly enveloping Nuonuo entirely.

Unlike the Spiritual Energy Su Yu usually used, this energy flowed like a stream, pouring into Nuonuo's body, gently caressing every component.

"Master, what a strange feeling." Nuonuo seemed confused, as if unable to comprehend what was happening.

At the same time, Su Yu noticed that on the transition panel, the single vacancy for the Steel Spirit was now occupied by Nuonuo.

"Nuonuo, don't worry. Just think about what kind of robot you want to become, then follow your instincts and change yourself accordingly."

"You need to think carefully about what you want to become."

Through the Spiritual Energy, Su Yu keenly detected that within Nuonuo's mechanical body, a kind of Spiritual Energy with a sense of spirituality seemed to be emerging.

This special ability, Steel Spirit, is essentially used by Mechanical Warriors to cultivate Mechanical Weapons, giving their personal Mechanical Weapons a sense of spirituality.

However, Su Yu applied this ability to Nuonuo.

Nuonuo's intelligence level was already high, possessing the cognitive abilities of a human child.

And at this moment, the enlightenment effect brought by Su Yu's Steel Spirit was bound to bring Nuonuo an entirely new transformation.

Soon, Su Yu discovered that the special Spiritual Energy within Nuonuo's mechanical body also started to expand at this moment.

The small expression on Nuonuo's electronic screen appeared extremely bewildered.

"(5~5)"

This was its first time contemplating such a complex issue.

Previously, although Nuonuo was much smarter than ordinary intelligent mechanics, and even had some small emotions that normal intelligent mechanics couldn't have.

But essentially, it was just a slightly special intelligent mechanic. However, at this moment, under the enlightenment of Su Yu's Steel Spirit, the special Spiritual Energy within Nuonuo gradually formed into a Spiritual Group as Nuonuo thought.

And within this Spiritual Group, it seemed that something was being nurtured.

"I want to become an excellent repair robot." After a moment's hesitation, Nuonuo gave its answer, but it always felt that something was missing in this response.

Just like its current mechanical body, which Nuonuo also deemed unsuitable for itself.

"Master, I want to try modifying myself. I feel like I can find the form I truly desire."

Su Yu didn't put too much pressure on Nuonuo; he gently patted its head and said, "Nuonuo, don't feel too pressured. If you feel something is missing, just use it. All the materials here are at your disposal."

With Su Yu's permission, Nuonuo quickly went over to the piles of materials, starting to select those that its instincts craved.

Although Nuonuo didn't know what was happening, at this moment, under the enlightenment effect of the Steel Spirit, Nuonuo instinctively wanted to perfect its body.

Nuonuo first approached the Sea Blue Source Crystals, using its mechanical arms to pick up a large amount and stack them aside.

The ten or so mechanical arms, modified by Su Yu, were grabbing a significant quantity of Sea Blue Source Crystals at this moment.

In Su Yu's view, it amounted to several dozen pounds.

However, Nuonuo didn't stop and continued selecting materials that its instincts required from the piles.

Other materials were okay, but especially the Sea Blue Source Crystals, Nuonuo took in large quantities.

In just a short while, Nuonuo had taken nearly 800 pounds of Sea Blue Source Crystals.

Seeing this, Su Yu felt a bit of heartache, even though the production of Sea Blue Source Crystals was stable now, and they wouldn't be in short supply in the short term. The refined product Sea Blue Source Crystal's weekly output wouldn't be less than a thousand pounds.

But out of that one thousand pounds of Sea Blue Source Crystals, Su Yu hadn't used a single one, and now Nuonuo had taken 800 pounds.

"Oh well, it's my own kid, so it's okay to take more."

Su Yu quickly calmed his heartache and looked towards Nuonuo.

Nuonuo, having seemingly finished its selection, walked over to Su Yu, looking at him with some hesitation, and asked, "Master, can I choose from all the materials in this courtyard?"

Su Yu nodded, as if the person who was heartbroken over the Sea Blue Source Crystals earlier wasn't him.

With Su Yu's confirmation.

Nuonuo moved even faster, quickly heading to a corner of the courtyard where Su Yu had placed the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic for an upgrade.

The power of the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic was now somewhat insufficient for Su Yu, as his current physical body power had reached a five-star beginner level.

And the power of the mechanical arms of the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic was also at a five-star beginner level. Due to being an External Prosthetic, it couldn't fully harness Su Yu's physical body power. Although it was Su Yu's first half-finished excellent creation, it had become a bit redundant now.

Therefore, when the number of Sea Blue Source Crystals was sufficient, Su Yu had long decided to further upgrade the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic, or even replace it with armor form.

Seeing Nuonuo approaching the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic, Su Yu was a bit puzzled, thinking to himself, "Could it be that there's something on the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic that Nuonuo needs?"

"But all the materials of the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic, except the Electron Furnace, are all piled up in this courtyard..."

While Su Yu was pondering.

The next moment, Nuonuo used its mechanical arms to pick up the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic.

Then, effortlessly detached the Electron Furnace from the center of the Thousand-Handed Prosthetic.
