

It's Too Late To Get A Divorce by Coreal White Chapter 94

Chapter 94

please open the door? I can't hold it any longer. The person outside couldn't take it anymore and knocked on

"Who's inside?

Can you plea

the door

It sounded like Karen.

"What should we do?" Alita lowered her voice and looked at Jaydon. Www.n(ove/Wo(r)@.cx.m

"It's me! Please wait a moment:

I'll be done soon," Jaydon said calmly

almly with a smi

a smile on his face WW@.nove1w0rm.0e@

"Mr. Lewis. I'm Karen. Can you hurry up? I can't hold it in anymore." Karen twisted her legs outside the door, her pretty face scrunched up. She blamed herself for having a few too many glasses of wine earlier.

Jaydon shouted again, I'll be done soon. Please bear with it."

Alita rolled her eyes at him. If he hadn't come in, she would have been able to leave already and wouldn't have ended up in this embarrassing situation. Now she wondered what to do. Not opening the door was not an option, but if she did open it, Karen would definitely see her, and then she wouldn't clear herself.

She couldn't make herself invisible or jump out of a window. What drove her crazy was that she was still sitting on the toilet, and he was still standing in front of her.

"Stand up first," Jaydon whispered into her ear.

"Turn your head first. Alita pushed his head away, not letting his mouth get too close to hers. She felt disgusted at the thought of the kiss he had just given Evelyn.

Jaydon turned around and held her hands. "Stand up in front of me. Perhaps you want me to help you wipe it?" He glanced at her butt, and evil flashed across his eyes.

"Crazy, go o to hell!" • Alita was not a woman who li liked to curse. However, she was really angered now.

"If you don't want me to help you, then do it yourself. I won't turn my head away." Jaydon let go of her hand and looked at the sweater that was buttoned up on her body. He thought how good it would be if it wasn't buttoned up.

Karen, who was outside, was about to reach her limit. She knocked on the door and said, "Mr. Lewis, are you done? I'm about to pee my pants." She was really about to cry.

"It'll be done soon, Jaydon said lightly to the door, completely ignoring how much pain Karen was in. He looked at Alita leisurely. "It depends on you whether your employee will wet her pants."

Alita thought about Karen outside. Determined, she clenched her teeth and wiped herself with a tissue. Then, she flushed the toilet, stood up while holding onto the sink, and put on a jumpsuit.

Jaydon's brain had been stuck in its previous state.

His wicked thoughts, accompanied by his lustful gaze, made Alita feel uneasy. She wondered what filthy things he was imagining in his mind.

"Stop thinking about it. What should we do now?" Alita nudged him.

1/4

Chapter 94

Jaydon looked at her hand and suddenly said, "You haven't washed your hands yet, right?"

Alita's face suddenly turned red. She lowered her head and said, "I'm sorry" She walked over to the faucet, turned it on, and washed her face. Then, she approached him again and whispered, "What should we do?"

"Nothing much. Just stand behind me and don't come out, Jaydon replied easily.

Karen, who was outside the door, pounded on the door crazily and roared, "Mr. Lewis, are you done yet?"

Jaydon went over and opened the d door. Alits had no choice but to hide behind him.

The moment the door opened, Karen pushed Jaydon open. She did not care about anything else and rushed to the toilet. Alita also took the opportunity to quickly slip out.

The sanitary door was closed, Karen sat there and heaved a sigh of relief.

Alita returned to the cabin, Jaydon sat back in the seat at next to hers and smiled brightly at her. It made her hair stand on end!

She couldn't be bothered with him. She put on the blindfold and continued sleeping.

Feeling a sudden rush of hot breath approaching, she immediately became alert and turned her face to the side. However, she still felt a kiss on her cheek.

She took off her blindfold angrily, but she could not scold him loudly for fear of waking up the two sleeping girls on her. She could only express her indignation with her eyes and actions.

Just as they were entangled, Karen returned.

From afar, he saw Jaydon leaning against Alita's seat. Was he looking for something?

"Mr. Lewis, what are y you doing?" Karen walked over and asked in confusion.

Alito's nerves immediately tensed up. He even had the urge to kill Jaydon Jaydon stood up calmly. "Miss Thompson's blindfold is broken. I'm helping her tie the rubber band." He looked down at Alita and said with a smile, "Miss Thompson, you can sleep in peace now"

"In peace?! With a demon like you by my side, how can I be in peace? It's already good enough that I'm not scared to death; she thought.

Karen had no doubt in her mind about Jaydon's words. "I didn't expect Mr. Lewis to be such an affable person. I'm really sorry for what happened earlier," she said. She felt a bit sweaty at the thought of how she had just yelled at him

"Don't worry about it. Rest well, Jaydon said very gently.

"Oh, okay." Karen walked past him and sat down directly opposite Alita. Seeing that she was wearing an eye mask and not moving, she thought that Alita had fallen asleep again so quickly?!

Alita stiffened her body and tried her best not to let Karen see through her flaws

Jaydon held back his laughter. When he saw Alita pretending to be asleep, he pressed his lips and went next seat

In the following period of time, Karen also went to sleep, but Alita did not dare to sleep anymore.

Chapter 94

The plane slowly landed at the airport.

The sky began to brighten.

After they got off the plane, a private car immediately came to pick them up and they went straight to the resort hotel near the forest.

Aimonton was a country with incredibly beautiful scenery. Vast expanses of green meadows could be seen everywhere, and the greenery was particularly abundant. Just looking at it alone brought a sense of comfort and tranquility to people.

"Miss Thompson, it's quite easy to find a venue for holding a wedding here. The natural scenery serves as a beautiful backdrop," Crystal said. She had organized several weddings before, but this was her first time organizing one in a foreign country. Money certainly made things easier.

Karen and Sabina were busy taking taking photos as if they were on a holiday.

"Yes, it's great news for us. But it would be even better if we could have a forest, a hotel, and the wedding venue all integrated and located close to each other," Alita said. She already had a perfect plan in her mind.

Even if this was Jaydon's wedding, it was just work for her. Her work attitude was to either not do it or do it with all her might.

Crystal nodded. "It's quite difficult to combine these."

"Don't worry, be confident. We can definitely y overcome it." Alita encouraged her. She rarely lost her temper and scolded people. Although she was very strict, she had always encouraged her employees positively.

"With you leading the way, I'm very confident." Crystal admired Alita. She was independent, confident, and beautiful.

Jaydon sat in front, listening to the conversation behind him. There was no doubt about Alita's abilities. She was decisive and cautious, having been with the Lewis Group for several years, she had already proven herself capable of handling things independently, WwW.novèQWorm.0oM

His grandpa's disciples couldn't be bad.

The car drove through a small grove of trees and arrived at a five-star resort hotel with a wide-open view. The greatest highlight of this place was its clean air and delightful scenery. With the combination of natural resources and carefully arranged artificial elements, it became even more beautiful and refined.

After getting out of the car, someone immediately came forward to serve them. They took them to the tour bus and went to the TOW house that they had booked in advance. There were separate rooms and villa style row houses. The entire row of houses was a single-family house.

Crystal, Karen, and Sabina couldn't contain their excitement and were on the verge of screaming. They couldn't believe the amazing treatment they were receiving on this trip. Even if they had wanted to go somewhere themselves, there would always be expenses to consider.

Indeed, the lives of the wealthy could often appear luxurious and idyllic,

Alita was no lon longer fascinated by this lavish lifestyle. In her previous 14 years, she had experienced all the wealth and glamour that existed in that world. It was beautiful, luxurious, exquisite, and dazzling, almost like a dream. However, what was lacking was the freedom to breathe fresh air and the warmth of the sun. Everyone's heart was cold, as if their blood had turned to ice. They resembled a group of glamorous vampires, captivating at first glance, but once they opened their mouths, sharp teeth and ugly true nature would be revealed.

3/4

Chapter 94

In comparison, she preferred to live a peaceful life.

life. At th wWV.n(o)Vel@oP.M.cx.m

the very least, she could live well.

"Miss Thompson, why didn't you take a look? Did you come here before?" Karen approached her. Wasn't it rumored that Alita used to be the wife of a big boss?

"I've never been here before. It's not easy for me to earn money, little girl." Alita smiled and pushed her head away.

Jaydon turned around and leaned his arm back. "She isn't bothered by such things."

"You're right! I'm not bothered. Mr. Lewis' guess is quite accurate," Alita admitted readily.

"Miss Thompson, maybe you're tired of that kind of life? I heard that you're very rich." Crystal couldn't help but probe.

Jaydon gave a half-smile.

Alita turned her head outside and said contentedly. "The sun is so bright today today. She changed the topic and did not answer.

Seeing that she was deliberately avoiding the topic, Crystal and the others did not say anything else.

Jaydon turned around and felt a little disappointed.

Upon reaching the villa, everyone went to their respective rooms to rest. Alita hadn't slept well on the plane, so as soon as she lay her head on the pillow, she fell into a deep slumber. However, Karen and the others were full of energy and had a lively morning.

After sleeping until noon, Alita woke up feeling refreshed. She washed her face and brushed her teeth, and then realized she really wanted to take a shower and change into fresh clothes. However, she realized that she had forgotten to bring extra clothes with her.

Just as she was thinking this, there was a turn of the door outside. She walked out vigilantly. "Who is it?"

A waitress came in with a few sets of clothes and underwear. "Miss Thompson, Mr. Lewis asked me to send these to you. He said that you should wear them after taking a shower. Also, they're waiting for you in the backyard for lunch,"

"Thank you!" Alita took it over. After the waiter left, she looked at the clothes and pink underwear in her hand.

'Damn it, the sizes are all o e all correct!' she wondered.

4/4