Chapter 111 Rules Of The Miraculous Doctor

Isabella was disgusted by the way Patriarch Crawford addressed her.

Isabella widened her eyes slightly and looked at Patriarch Crawford with a strange expression. This old man was shameless! Previously, he picked on her. And now he dared to ask her to check on him. Did he think that the Miraculous Doctor was like ordinary doctors who could be found easily on the streets?

Apart from the people she cared about, Isabella really didn't have much patience for others. She ignored Patriarch Crawford. Anyway, Harold had already taken over the position of president. She had nothing else to do here.

So, she said to Draxton, "Is there anything else you wanna do here? If there's nothing else, let's go home. It's fine if you still have something to deal with here. Betty and I will go home first."

She did not mention Patriarch and Madame Lockwood. Their identities were too intimidating. If the people noticed them, it would be troublesome.

That was why Patriarch and Madame Lockwood were wearing big masks. Isabella wondered how they and Betty got in.

Did they tell their guards to kidnap all the security guards of the Traditional Medicine Association?

Draxton handed Betty to Isabella with amusement gleaming in his eyes and said, "Admiral Sanders and I still have something to deal with. You can take Betty and head home first."

Betty crawled into her mother's arms and wrapped her soft arms around Isabella's neck. Her little face rubbed against Isabella's neck. She looked very cute. She had hidden the pink butterfly, and it was nowhere to be seen.

Isabella's gaze softened. She carried Betty and left the stage. She headed to the exit.

When the crowd in the hall saw that Isabella was about to leave, they instinctively moved to the sides to make way for her.

Isabella walked past the crowd with Betty in her arms.

Patriarch Crawford watched as Isabella passed by him without even looking at him. His expression suddenly darkened.

He was so angry that the muscles on his face trembled. He widened his eyes and looked at Draxton. "Draxton, your wife is insensible. Are you insensible too? Is this how you treat your elders?"

Who wasn't afraid of death?

Patriarch Crawford knew that Isabella had good medical skills, but she would not easily use artificially cultured poisonous bugs to harm others

However, the problem was that although the Miraculous Doctor was right in front of Patriarch Crawford and could save his life, he had offended her, causing her to be unwilling to treat him.

When Isabella said he would not live for long, Patriarch Crawford was even more terrified and indignant. The opportunity to survive was right in front of him, but he was not able to seize it. How could he relax?

Unable to calm down, Patriarch Crawford's vision blurred, and he fainted from anger.

The Crawford family hurriedly checked on Patriarch Crawford. A few of them even looked in the direction of Isabella resentfully.

However, Isabella did not even glance at them. She turned around and left.

Even if Patriarch Crawford had fainted from anger, he would not die. Isabella was not an indecisive person. If she said she would not save Patriarch Crawford, she would not change her mind. Hence, she left without any hesitation.

When she walked past Patriarch and Madame Lockwood, she gave them a look. They immediately followed her. There was a gleam in their eyes.

"Bella, should we go through the back door?" Madame Lockwood whispered.

Isabella paused. She immediately realized how they got into the hall just now. It turned out that they had sneaked in through the back door.

But weren't there security guards blocking the back door?

When Isabella walked out of the back door and saw the row of security guards kneeling on the ground with their hands tied behind their backs, she immediately understood what happened.

She was speechless.

The Lockwood family's guards, led by Martin Gates, guarded the security guards like hawks, preventing them from making any moves.

Those pitiful security guards' faces were pale. They wanted to resist, but they couldn't beat the Lockwood family's guards. They looked disgruntled.

Cynthia looked at Draxton in a daze. Was this smug man who was showing off really the cold-hearted and ruthless chieftain of the Lockwood family?

Cynthia's face was blank, but she was cursing Draxton in her heart.

Her eyes reddened as she silently lowered her head.

Draxton frowned. Bella did not like this woman. How could this woman act like this in front of him, Bella's husband? How shameless!

Draxton's face darkened again, and he said coldly, "Give up. Bella won't like you. She will only love me. Don't let me see you approach her in the future, or I'll make your life a living hell!"

Cynthia's eyes turned red as she stared at Draxton in shock. She opened her mouth but said nothing in the end.

Draxton ignored her and closed the window. The driver drove the car away.

Cynthia stood rooted to the ground. She was a mess. After a while, she stomped her feet angrily and left reluctantly.

Isabella had just reached home and was changing her clothes when Draxton came in.

The man appeared at the door with a gloomy expression, Isabella was in the middle of changing her clothes. What Draxton saw was tempting. Draxton was already scowling. When he saw the half-naked Isabella, his face immediately hardened.

He strode toward Isabella without saying a word. He was tall and could give the people around him a sense of oppression. However, this was also why he was attractive and irresistible.

Draxton suddenly pinned Isabella down on the bed.

"Draxton, what are you doing?" She tried to push him away.

Draxton grabbed her hands and pinned them onto the bed above her head. His handsome face kept getting closer and closer.

"Ugh..." Isabella was about to say something when her lips were sealed by his.

After the kiss ended, Draxton stared deeply into Isabella's eyes. His sexy thin lips spat out a word, "You."

Isabella teased Draxton on purpose, "I'm not afraid of exposing my identity. I have you"

She gave him an exceptionally trusting look.

Draxton was stunned. His ears immediately turned red.

Draxton was indeed pleased. He gave her an approving look and said, "That's right. That's what I wanted to tell you. It doesn't matter if your identity is exposed. With the Lockwood family protecting you, no one will dare to do anything to you!"

Draxton said that because he knew that although the Miraculous Doctor had saved many people, she had also offended many people.

Some people died because Isabella refused to save them. Their families would hate her. Now that they knew Isabella was the Miraculous Doctor, they might take revenge.

Other than that, some people regarded the existence of the Miraculous Doctor as a thorn in their flesh. The Miraculous Doctor's reputation and methods were too extraordinary. No one could ignore her. Isabella now had a clear target on her back. Who knew how many people wanted to hurt her?

At that moment, Cooper, who had left just now, returned. He said respectfully, "Mr and Mrs Lockwood, the Crawford family has arrived. They're outside the estate. They won't leave no matter what Timothy and Callum Crawford are kneeling at the entrance now."

After Cooper finished speaking, he looked in the direction of Isabella. His eyes were still filled with shock. Draxton and Isabella looked at each other. Isabella said, "Tell them that I, Isabella, have never made an exception for anyone. If I say I won't save someone, I won't change my mind. If they want to kneel, go ahead."

There were too many people who begged her to save their lives. If they all knelt down and asked her to compromise, wouldn't her rules become a joke?

Cooper was shocked, but he still left without hesitation.

Isabella smiled as she watched Cooper leave. Cooper was really cute.

"What are you looking at?" Draxton asked.

"I'm looking at Cooper." She could tell that although Cooper was shocked by her rejection and was not sure if she was right, he still did not hesitate to carry out her orders.

Such a butler undoubtedly made his boss comfortable.

This was also because Cooper was confident in the Lockwood family's power and was not afraid of offending others.

Chapter 115 Draxton Being Despised

Draxton and Isabella both stared at Ricky. Draxton could not help but feel relieved that his son was so considerate!

On the other hand, Isabella was all smiles but she was counting to three in her heart for something to happen.

As expected, when she counted to three, Betty started to protest. "No, this is Ricky's robot. I won't snatch his toy away."

"Daddy, Mommy, this robot is originally for Ricky. Daddy, just make me another that looks like Ricky. I can wait!"

She puffed out her chest proudly and suppressed her love for the robot. She was trying to act like an elder sister.

Draxton was stunned. He had no idea that his daughter could be that sensible. After all, she did not show any mercy when she pranked him!

He quickly looked at Ricky and instinctively had a bad feeling. Ricky, who had been obedient and sensible, was frowning. He looked at Betty helplessly and said, "Betty, it's okay. I'll give you this robot. I'll get Daddy to make another one."

Betty immediately pouted when she heard that. She frowned and said unhappily, "Ricky, listen to me!"

"Betty, it's okay. I want to give it to you," Ricky said gently.

"Hmph!" Betty snorted and said, "Ricky, be a good boy. You should listen to me!"

Ricky was extremely distressed, but he still said patiently. "Betty, this robot looks just like you. You like it too. I'll give it to you first."

Betty's eyes were filled with dissatisfaction. "No, this belongs to you. I won't take away your things. That's not something a sister should do."

Ricky retorted, "I want you to have it."

Betty said, "I want you to have it."

Draxton immediately stared at the subordinate coldly.

His expression was a little stiff. He was clearly a little frustrated. "If I remember correctly, you're Aaron Lockwood, am I right?"

The captain of the guards trembled slightly. Without batting an eyelid, he said. "Yes, that's me. I was just giving a suggestion but after thinking about it, I don't think there's any problem with what you said."

Even though he was expressionless, he was actually intimidated.

Isabella looked at this young man and laughed in her heart.

She could guarantee that Aaron must be cursing Draxton in his heart.

Isabella could not suppress the smile on her face.

She had never seen such an interesting subordinate before.

Moreover, she felt that Aaron was right.

Draxton's face darkened. Deep down, he had already memorized Aaron in his heart.

The other guards looked at their captain sympathetically. Aaron was good at everything, but he had a bad habit of talking too much.

Now that Aaron had offended the chieftain, they would surely suffer in the future.

Just as everyone was holding back their laughter, the robot suddenly made an electronic beep. Then, its blue eyes lit up with a gentle light.

The robot blinked its eyes and looked at Betty. "Hello, Master. I'm M295. Please give me a nice name!" Betty and Ricky's eyes widened when they heard the robot's gentle voice. They were both excited. Betty rubbed her hands animatedly. She was about to speak up but she thought of something and turned to look at Ricky.

Ricky immediately understood what was going on and said, "Betty, you can name it. It looks just like you."

This time, Betty did not hold back. She blurted out happily, "M295, you look the same as me. In the future, I'll be Big Betty and you can be Little Betty. I'll be the elder sister and you'll be the younger sister!"

After saying that, she rubbed her hands and waited for the robot to respond. Her eyes were filled with nervousness and excitement.

The little robot did not disappoint her. It blinked and smiled happily. Then, it clapped its hands and said happily, "Thank you, big sister!"

The repeated rejection of the Crawford family made the Dawton City dignitaries who were secretly watching realize that it was not so easy to meet the Miraculous Doctor

She had no problem ignoring those who offended her and those she disliked. She really wasn't afraid of offending anyone.

This unyielding attitude made some of the restless nobles restrain their thoughts.

"Isabella Thompson is really a ruthless character!" Patriarch Riker said with a sigh.

"Before this, I always thought that Bridget will end up becoming the wife of the Lockwood family's chieftain. No one expected Isabella Thompson to appear out of nowhere. Now, it turns out that she's the Miraculous Doctor. No wonder the Lockwood family accepted her. They must have known her identity beforehand."

The other members of the Riker family were furious

Ricky and Betty were not satisfied after playing with the little robot for the entire day. They were still excited at night.

After dinner, Isabella let them play for a while more before bringing the two children back to the house to wash up and sleep.

However, as the night went on after Isabella and Draxton had fallen asleep, the door of the room next door opened silently.

Two small heads peeked out from inside. They looked around and confirmed that everyone in the house was asleep. Then, they opened the door and walked out.

After Betty came out, the little robot followed behind her.

Little Betty's midnight blue eyes flashed with a mechanical electronic light. It scanned the surroundings and whispered, "Big Betty, Ricky, don't worry. Daddy, Mommy, and Mr Cooper are all asleep."

The three little ones were extremely excited. They secretly went downstairs, opened the door, and ran to the courtyard.

"That's great. We're finally out. Little Betty, quick! Turn on your astronomical telescope. We'll look at the stars here."

Betty urged Little Betty impatiently.

During the day, Little Betty mentioned that it had this particular function which could help them discover a lot of stars that they usually could not see under normal circumstances.

Chapter 118 Scared To Tears

The man looked like he was a foreigner. He had perfect facial features, deep eyes, a high nose bridge, and he was dashing.

He looked at the silver needles on his body and then at the little snake that was sticking out its tongue in front of his chest. His entire body could not help but tremble.

“You, you, you, you, you...”

His teeth were chattering, and he could not even utter a complete sentence.

At this moment, Ricky and Little Betty also surrounded him. The man could only lie on the ground like a helpless fawn. He was trembling uncontrollably. He had a frightened and shattered look in his eyes which made him look miserable.

“Be good. Open your mouth. I’ll look at your teeth. My mommy said that it’s easy to hurt yourself by hiding hidden weapons in your mouth. It’s unscientific to do so.”

Little Betty said seriously.

In the man’s ears, that childish voice was no different from a demon’s threat.

Looking at the three little ones in front of him, an image appeared in the man’s mind.

Two years ago in the tropical rainforest, he was being hunted by a killer code-named ‘Butterfly’. At that time, he was tortured to death by Butterfly who used golden needles.

When he was pierced with the golden needles, it was painful and itchy which made him feel like killing himself. However, he could not move at all and could only endure the torture.

That was not the end. Butterfly continued torturing him by catching various venomous insects and snakes. When he thought of the memories of being drowned by them, the man could not help but started shedding tears.

“Boohoo...”

He began to sob.

Betty patted his face. “Be good. Don’t cry. As long as you listen to us, we won’t hurt you!”

Betty said in a sincere tone.

“Then, then can you take it away...”

He was deeply traumatized by needles and snakes.

Betty stroked the little snake and said, “Little Flower here is very obedient. As long as you don’t attack me, it won’t enter your stomach.”

Draxton stared at the young man in front of him and asked in a deep voice, “Can you tell who did this?”

A strange look appeared on the young man’s face. He hesitated for a moment and said uncertainly, “It could be the Azure Dragon.”

Hearing the name, Isabella raised her head and looked at the young man.

Draxton’s eyes lit up. “Azure Dragon?”

If the Azure Dragon was the one who hacked their system, it would make sense!

Harry Lockwood was the most skilled hacker in the Lockwood family. He was even ranked top five in the world. For someone to be able to hack and disable the defense system that he had set up for Northernville Manor showed that the attacker was even more skilled than Harry.

The Azure Dragon was a dark horse that appeared out of nowhere three years ago. As soon as he appeared, he had a showdown with the Black Kirin, the top hacker in the world. The two of them had encountered each other twice before, and each time, they were on par.

Currently, in the hacker world, the Azure Dragon and the Black Kirin were the top two and they were far ahead of the rest of the pack.

Some people guessed that both the Azure Dragon and the Black Kirin were both from Lucsia as they were both mythical beasts in the Lucsia legends.

No one knew exactly who the Azure Dragon was, but most people believed that he was a man.

As for the identity of the Black Kirin, some people guessed that he was a member of the Lockwood family, or perhaps he was Draxton himself.

Draxton said, “How dare he hack Northernville Manor and hire an assassin to attack us? The Azure Dragon has certainly gone overboard this time!”

Fortunately, the assassin this time was Zolo. If it were any other assassin, Ricky and Betty would have been in danger.

Both Draxton and the Azure Dragon were evenly matched. After the previous two confrontations, he even felt that they both were enjoying the friendly rivalry. However, he certainly did not expect the Azure Dragon to violate his bottom line this time.

His eyes were filled with bloodlust.

That's right, he was the Black Kirin. He had never admitted nor concealed it.

Chapter 120 Take Advantage

The other party quickly fled in a sorry state.

Draxton followed the traces of the hacker's invasion and launched a counterattack. An intense battle broke out and after a few minutes, he managed to beat the hacker.

Draxton repaired the server and immediately reactivated the defense system. At the same time, all the robots returned to normal.

Isabella looked at Draxton silently. She had already recognized that he was the Black Kirin. She was wondering if she should tell him that she was the Azure Dragon. Would he beat her up if he knew? She remembered that during the last confrontation, she defeated the Black Kirin.

"You managed to fix it so quickly. You're really amazing." Isabella said dryly while feeling guilty.

Draxton stood up and his midnight blue eyes were fixed on her, making Isabella's heart skip a beat. Was he suspecting her?

It can't be, right?

"Mr. Langley is also a hacker. You've also learned how to hack, right?"

Isabella smiled sheepishly. "Ha, haha... I did learn a little bit."

Draxton strode towards her and looked down at her. "Do you have a code name?"

"Code name..."

Isabella gulped. Should she say it?

Draxton looked at her deeply "No?"

Isabella did not know what to do.

"Ugh..."

Isabella was conflicted.

Draxton thought that she did not have a code name, so he did not dwell on this question. Instead, he turned to look at the two children.

“Stupid Daddy, we’ve already admitted our mistake to Mommy. You can’t scold us anymore!”

Betty said warily.

“Did you just call me stupid?” He hugged his daughter lovingly. “Since you know your mistake, I won’t criticize you this time. Don’t take such risks next time, understand?”
