Chapter 151 Draxton Arrived

"Hey, Mr. Riker, sorry that I'm late. Please don't blame me," the old man said with a laugh.

"Mr. Crawford!" Patriarch Riker's eyes lit up and his smile went ear to ear.

"I didn't expect you to come. What an honor!" Patriarch Riker hurried toward the old man excitedly.

Isabella and Jake exchanged a knowing look.

The old man was in his seventies. He was Patriarch Crawford's son, Timothy and Callum's father, and Cynthia and Tiffany's grandpa.

In the Crawford family, Mike Crawford was almost an invisible person. Everything in the family was decided by Patriarch Crawford, and Mike rarely made an appearance.

However, Isabella knew that Mike was the last person to be underestimated in the Crawford family.

He was the director of Lucsia Biological Research Institute.

His status in Lucsia was self-evident. The young man behind him was the most outstanding genius of the Institute, Bruce Mellman.

Bridget walked downstairs and caught sight of Bruce. A trace of excitement flashed across her eyes, but she quickly regained composure.

Bruce saw Bridget too, but he turned around and fixed his gaze on Isabella who was at the edge of the crowd. He was wearing a pair of silver-rimmed glasses. At this moment, the eyes behind the glasses were glistening with great interest.

After exchanging pleasantries with Mike, Patriarch Riker led him to take seats. As they walked, Patriarch Riker said, "Mr. Crawford, I wonder if Patriarch Crawford has gotten any better."

Mike shook his head. "My family has been through some things recently that are too much for my father to take. He's been ill and his condition has got worse."

Isabella looked at Sophia in amusement. "You haven't given up yet? Let me tell you, this man is mine. Who do you think you are?"

"Miss Hart, I advise you to go home now. Otherwise, you will regret coming here today."

As she spoke, Isabella gently stepped on that poison bug and crushed it to death.

Sophia looked at Isabella with a pale face, too scared by Draxton to get any word out. Amelia's face darkened. "Miss Thompson, it's not smart to act so arrogantly because you've found favor with the patriarch.

You...

Draxton furrowed his brows. Without even lifting his eyelids, he said emotionlessly, "Silas, send the irrelevant people out. If they don't obey, make them."

Amelia paused, wondering who the patriarch was talking about.

The next second, Silas stepped forward and took out a sharp dagger, pressing it against her neck.

“Mrs. Hart, I’d appreciate it if you could realize that no one wants your opinion here. You’re in the way of the patriarch. If you’re smart, get lost now.”

Silas looked as cold and murderous as a heartless assassin.

Amelia widened her eyes and gazed at Silas with a hesitant look. She couldn’t leave just like that because it was not easy for her to meet Draxton. Today was her last chance. She opened her mouth and wanted to beg Draxton for forgiveness again.

Silas did not say a word and just moved the dagger up with its point between Amelia’s lips.

Amelia felt a sting on her tongue.

Her eyes widened in fear, and a thin sheen of cold sweat covered her forehead. “Mrs. Hart, wise up, or you won’t even know how you end up dead. Now tell me, do you still want your tongue?”

Draxton lowered her head and quietly looked at the golden butterfly. It was really beautiful.
However, he was absolutely unaware that this golden butterfly was Isabella's life. The fact that she gave it to him meant giving her life to him.
Bridget had lost all her strength at this point. She collapsed to the ground and looked at the butterfly in shock, then at Isabella.

Isabella looked at her, then smiled.

"Miss Riker is a very merciless one. To be safe, break her limbs first, and make sure they can't be reattached."

Isabella said.

When Silas heard this, she immediately nodded and stepped forward without hesitation. There were a few cracking sounds, followed by Bridget's painful screams. Not long after, her hands and feet were limping on the floor.

Bridget fainted from the pain.

At this moment, the people in the banquet hall finally realized what had just happened. Most of them were so frightened that they did not dare to make a sound. They hid in a corner and trembled, not daring to even breathe loudly.

Patriarch Riker was furious, he panted heavily and said, "Draxton, what's the meaning of this? Do you have utterly no respect for me? I need to have a talk with your grandpa. No, I need to reason with him!"

Draxton held the golden butterfly in one hand and gently stroked its wings with the other. When he heard this, he only raised his eyelids casually and smiled mockingly.

Silas sneered and said, "Patriarch, you must be too old that you're getting senile. The Lockwood family listens to only the patriarch's commands. What's the use of talking to my grandpa?

“Wait, no, I should ask you this. How dare you see my grandpa? Do you not have shame?

Your granddaughter, Bridget, first tried to hurt our young master and young lady. A week ago, she even ordered her puppet to attempt to kill them. How much of all those things were ordered by you?”

Patriarch Riker was at a loss for words for a moment, then finally figured out what to say and yelled, “Nonsense. I have absolutely no idea what you’re talking about. You Lockwood family are way over the line, how dare you come to my birthday banquet and cause a Scene? Draxton, you’re a sight for sore eyes!” Draxton said, “I know that today is your birthday, so I, the patriarch, personally came to give you a birthday gift.”

His slender fingers stroked the golden butterfly rhythmically, again and again.

The golden butterfly seemed to be enjoying it. It stopped at Draxton’s fingertips and did not move, looking a little docile and obedient.

he looked at Draxton warily. “A gift? Well,

Draxton looked at Patriarch indifferently, then held Isabella's hand. Seeing that she did not refuse, he heaved a sigh of relief and said, "Bella, let's go back."

Isabella gave him a glance from the side. She found it funny that Draxton probably had no idea why she was angry, nor why the golden butterfly was angry. She had to teach him a lesson afterward.

When Olivia and Yale saw Draxton and Isabella leave, they quickly followed them with smiles on their faces-Their elder brother and sister-in-law had avenged them today.

the Lockwood family's protectiveness towards its members was never just talking the talk. The Riker family had repeatedly provoked the Lockwood family's dignity, it was time for them to pay the corresponding price.

Seeing that they really left, Lindon and Terrence hurriedly shouted, "Mr. Lockwood, please, don't leave... Give us another chance. We apologize to the Lockwood family, Mr. Lockwood, Miraculous Doctor..."

Their eyes were filled with fear. They had now finally realized that the Lockwood family was a family that would not strike easily, but every strike they eventually make would prove to be fatal. They started asking themselves, where exactly did they get the confidence to challenge the Lockwood family's tolerance?

Silas ordered someone to bring Bridget along. He sneered at Lindon and said, "Mr. Riker, our patriarch has always been very tolerant of the Riker family, but the Riker family has crossed the line this time.

"First, you attempted to kill the patriarch's wife and the young master. Last week, you tried to the young ladies and young masters from the Lockwood family. You even tried to sow discord between them and the patriarch... You seem to have forgotten what kind of family the Lockwood family is."

Lindon was instantly dumbfounded.

What kind of family was the Lockwood family?

Although the Lockwood family was recognized as one of the four great families just like the Riker family, it was only what the Lockwood family wanted the public to see. When in reality, the Lockwood family was so much more powerful than any of the other three families.

The Lockwood family was not just a powerful family in Lucsia, it also had an extraordinary status internationally.

In fact, no one could say for sure how powerful the Lockwood family really was. This was why the Lockwood family had been standing tall since long ago till now.

As for the Lockwood family's background, no one could figure it out.

Draxton's eyes became dull. He asked blankly, "Did I?"

Isabella's expression immediately changed. She glared at him. "Are you saying I'm accusing you?"

She snorted loudly, turned around, and left.

Draxton stood on the spot and narrowed his eyes slightly. "Bella, just show me the golden butterfly again."

Isabella ignored him and kept on walking. She took off her gown and went into the bathroom to take a shower

Draxton followed her immediately. Just as he was about to enter the bathroom to watch the "beauty in the shower", Isabella closed the door with a loud bang.

The door almost smashed onto Draxton's nose, he took a quick step back and covered his nose in fear, but joy appeared in his midnight blue eyes.

Bella had started to show more and more of her true self when she was with him.

Undoubtedly, her trust in him had deepened.

Draxton knew she only treated him so carefreely because she trusted he would not hurt her. He felt Bella was really adorable.

Isabella took a shower and came out wrapped in a towel. The moment she came out, Draxton pounced at her and carried her to bed.

Isabella's head spun. Her body was still covered in water vapor. Her cheeks were red and her skin was as fair as snow. She was as beautiful as an elf Draxton uncontrollably swallowed his saliva to suppress his urges, and his body temperature skyrocketed

However, his target was that golden butterfly.

“Bella, did you take a shower with the golden butterfly?” Draxton’s tone was calm, but his expression was full of jealousy.

“You never even washed me,” he added.

“What is this pervert saying?” Isabella was angry and tried to push him away but could not.

“If you won’t give it to me, I’ll find it myself.” With that, Draxton chuckled and started to peel off her towel.

Isabella tried to fight him.

After a long time, the two of them gradually quietened down. Draxton kissed Isabella’s face and said, “The golden butterfly can’t possibly be hiding in your body, right?”

As he spoke, he started to move his hands around her body.

As soon as he said this, the expressions of Isabella and Draxton changed.

Draxton's expression was gloomy, but Isabella smiled. The ignorant are truly fearless." Bruce looked at Isabella and smiled. "I agree, this idea of my teacher is quite ignorant."

"Oh?" Isabella raised her eyebrows with interest. "How so?"

Bruce looked at Draxton and said, "Didn't Mr. Lockwood deliberately open the door tonight to wait for me to arrive?"

My teacher, he's too confident. He thinks he can touch the Lockwood family's patriarch's wife. In fact, I think it's funny that he thinks that way."

Draxton said calmly, "So you're saying that you have a different idea?"

"Of course." Bruce nodded with absolute certainty. "If I'm as ignorant as my teacher, wouldn't I be committing suicide by coming here? I value my life very much."

"If you knew that charging into the Lockwood family at night was suicide, why did you still come? Are you so confident that the Lockwood family won't touch you? Or do you think you can escape from here?"

Isabella asked coldly.

Bruce said, "Actually, I'm here to seek for an opportunity to work together with Miraculous Doctor and Mr. Lockwood."

Isabella and Draxton looked at each other. Both of them were judging the credibility of Bruce's words. While they were talking, Bridget's eyes were wide open. She looked at Bruce in disbelief. Other than the extreme hurt in her eyes, there was only despair.

Bruce looked at Bridget and sighed softly. He smiled and said, "I once thought you had a lot of potential and thought you could be nurtured into an effective weapon against Mike Crawford. But it turned out you broke so easily in the face of Miraculous Doctor.

Right then, I knew that only Miraculous Doctor would be the best partner. As for you... you can only be an abandoned pawn.

As he said this, Bruce raised his hand and an extremely thin silver light flashed. When Isabella and Draxton looked over, a red dot appeared between Bridget's eyebrows. On a closer look, it was a silver needle that had pierced into it.

Isabella and Draxton left the dungeon and returned to the living room. The moment they arrived at the living room, they saw Zolo sitting upright on the sofa eating an orange. When he saw them return, he immediately greeted them with a smile. "You're back? I just saw someone come in and leave in one piece. How kind of you"

Draxton and Isabella rolled their eyes at him. "When do you plan to leave?"

This guy had already completed the acupuncture procedure, his body was recuperated too, yet he still refused to leave and stuck around.

Zolo smiled. "Soon. I'll leave soon."

Draxton and Isabella nodded. "That's good."

Zolo looked at them like he was complaining. "Mr. Lockwood, Miraculous Doctor, you're all famous people, is me staying here really so much trouble? Why are you so eager to chase me away?"

Draxton and Isabella could not be bothered with him.

Looking at their cruel back views, Zolo could not help but complain, "They are too cold, not hospitable at all." The next morning, the news that the Riker family people had been arrested for investigation was completely publicized. All of the Riker family's businesses had been investigated. The only people left were the Riker family's second wife and the three members of Gerald Riker's family. They were the only innocent people left in the Riker family.

Gerald arranged for his two children to leave the country.

Neither Ethan nor Esther felt it was safe to let Gerald stay. However, Gerald had to take care of Patriarch, who was hospitalized.

Silas walked in and reported, "patriarch, Mrs. Lockwood. Our people just sent word that we've searched the moat thoroughly and found no body of Jason Lang. I've confirmed that Jason Lang is missing."

Isabella stopped drinking tea. "Missing?"

"Yes, missing. If he's dead, there would be traces, but it's too clean,"

Silas said.

Isabella said softly. "This is really interesting. A person who was knocked into the river by a car actually escaped and disappeared. If he's alive, why didn't he go home?"

Silas continued, "Also, Samantha Lang has been sentenced to life imprisonment for murder. She's already in prison."

Chapter 158 Amusement Park

To elaborate on the assembly, it all started 50 years ago.

Fifty years ago, someone found an ancient ship at the bottom of the Pacilian Ocean.

Later, this person discovered that there were a ton of mysterious things on that ship, which attracted the attention of the various large factions in the world.

Hence, all the major factions went to explore the secret of the ship.

Among these large factions, the Barclays family and the Lockwood family led the others.

These two families had been fighting endlessly for generations. As for the secrets on the ship, naturally, they fought for them. Without a doubt, in the end, the most important secrets were divided between the Lockwood family and the Barclays family.

As for what the important secret was, no one dared to mention it, even till now.

But from then on, in order to learn those secrets, the various large factions began to hold a meeting every five years, which was the assembly.

This year's assembly was about to begin again.

Upon hearing Draxton's suggestion, Fernando was the first to express his stance.

“Mr. Lockwood, in this assembly, we’ll completely put aside the grudge between our families, we will be harmonious. I swear on the prosperity of the BloodRose family that I will never secretly target you.”

He spoke calmly with a Fruggia accent Lucsian, which was a delight for the ears.

Draxton said, “I’m very happy that Mr. Fernando can say that. I really don’t want what happened five years ago to happen again.”

“Regarding what happened five years ago, I want to apologize to Mr. Lockwood. Fernando stood up sincerely and bowed slightly.

The meeting five years ago was the fiercest battle between Fernando and Draxton in the past fifty years. At that time, both of them had suffered extremely serious injuries, and their respective families had also suffered considerable turmoil.

Isabella nestled on the sofa and looked at Draxton and Fernando with interest.

When the two of them fought fiercely, it was a life-and-death battle. They sincerely wanted to kill each other. However, at other times, they could surprisingly be so calm towards each other.

Of course, she knew that this was partially because Fernando needed her help. But more than that, these two probably had other plans and were planning to change their strategy.

To be honest, she was also very interested in the secret of that big ship.

Perhaps it was because Betty did not say anything, the boy named Hodor Ken's attitude became even more arrogant. His childish eyes were, for some reason, filled with hostility and viciousness.

"Elizabeth, what are you waiting for? Do you want to get beat up by me? Didn't you hear me say that you're not allowed to play here?"

Betty frowned. She was angry, but she still obediently nestled in her mother's arms.

Isabella sized up the little boy and a strange feeling spread in her heart.

At this moment, another small figure suddenly rushed over.

It was Ricky.

However, Isabella did not stop him immediately. She saw Ricky push the little kid called Hodor.

Ricky said angrily, "Hodor Ken, how dare you bully my sister? Apologize to her right now."

Hodor was stunned. He did not expect Ricky to actually push him. He widened his eyes and roared, "Eric, how dare you push me, you coward?"

Ricky pursed her lips. "I'm not a coward!"

"You are!" Hodor said excitedly. "Elizabeth always protects you, and you always hide behind her. Don't think I don't know that you're a coward who needs to be protected by girls!"

Ricky's face darkened. He clenched his fists angrily and said,

"You idiot. If my sister can beat you to tears, why should I do it? Do you want to be crippled?"

Hodor was stunned, and his eyes subconsciously flashed with fear. However, in the next moment, he remembered that he was very strong now, so he confidently puffed out his chest.

"Hmph, Eric, I'm going to beat you to the ground. I told you and Elizabeth to get out. I already said, you guys can't come here to play."

As the kid Hodor spoke, he pounced fiercely at Ricky.

Chapter 160 Kneel And Apologize

Manager Brown looked at Draxton mockingly and sneered. "You, whatever Thompson, did you hear that? Hurry up and tell your little brat to kneel down and bark like a dog to apologize to our young master!" Draxton's expression had already turned completely cold. He did not expect to encounter such an "amazing" person when he came out to have fun with his family.

Seeing Draxton staring at him coldly, Manager Brown could not help but feel a strong pressure that suffocated him.

His expression changed. He was certain of his judgment, this family was indeed unfamiliar. They had never been here before and he had never seen them in the circle of the rich people of Dawton City.

Moreover, among the reputable nobles, there was no one with the surname Thompson.

Manager Brown found a reason to comfort himself and mocked, "Thompson, do you know who owns this amusement park?

The Kens. Do you know the Ken family? They are the Crawford family's in-laws Hehe, for a small fry like you, do you even know what kind of family Crawford family is?"

Draxton was so furious he was amused. "In fact, I do know a little!"

Manager Brown saw him smile and thought that he was afraid. He could not help but feel even smugger. "Young master here is the young master of the Ken family.

If you know what's good for you, make your two brats kneel down and bark like dogs right now." "Come on, get on your knees and bark like a dog!"

Hodor also urged. His eyes were filled with excitement and arrogance, there was no sign of the cuteness and innocence of a child anywhere.

Draxton was furious and was about to teach these two trashes some would call a person a lesson so that Bella and the children would know how powerful he was as a husband and father.

Unexpectedly, just as he rolled up his sleeves and was about to put on a show, a handsome man in a well-ironed suit walked over.

As he walked, he said angrily, "Manager Brown, what happened here?"

Manager Brown's expression changed when he saw who it was. He hurriedly nodded and bowed. He walked over with extreme flattery and muttered to him an exaggerated version of the story.

The person's expression became worse and worse, but he maintained his arrogance and did not even open his eyes.

Draxton's expression was very fierce.

Isabella said to the two children, "My dears, look at these people. Aren't they very bad? We must not be like
