Chapter 171 Killing Isabella

After saying that, she ignored Fernando and went upstairs.

Fernando looked at her slim but powerful back and said, "Did Draxton have your heart?"

Isabella stopped in her tracks and turned around with a faint smile. "Mr. Fernando, are you trying to pursue me knowing that I'm dating Draxton?"

"I have to try," Fernando said seriously.

Isabella sneered. "Mr. Fernando, I'm happy with Draxton. I don't intend to find a new hubby."

After saying that, Isabella ignored Fernando.

On the other hand, Irene's eyes were swollen from crying when she got home. She threw herself into Old Mr. Sif's arms.

Old Mr. Sif looked at his daughter in shock and said in surprise, "Honey, who made you cry? Is it Mr. Fernando. again?"

Irene shook her head. She raised her red eyes and said, "It's a woman!"

"A woman?"

Old Mr. Sif was very surprised. He looked at Alanna, who was standing at the side. His emerald green eyes were as cold as a venomous snake.

Alanna quickly lowered her head and said, "Dad, it's a woman from Lucsia. Her name is Isabella Thompson."

Old Mr. Sif was stunned. A glint flashed across his emerald green eyes. "Isabella Thompson?"

Alanna said, "Yes, her name is Isabella. She lives in the Barclays estate. Fernando seems to value her very much."

Irene said, "That's right, Dad. Fernando even lied to us that the woman was a guest he invited home. I know she's more than just a guest to him!"

"Isabella Thompson..."

Sif gritted his teeth as he read the name. Then, he looked at Alanna and Isabella stayed in the Barclays estate for seven days. Tonight was also Isabella's seventh acupuncture session.

After the injection, Winna went to sleep as usual. Isabella went downstairs and saw that Fernando was still working in the living room like before.

Isabella said, "We have finished Winna's acupuncture session. I have some medicine here. Remember to give it to Winna every day according to the instructions I wrote. In seven days, I'll come back and give her another treatment."

Fernando's expression changed slightly. "You're leaving?"

Isabella said, "Yes, I came to Fruggia to treat Winna at your invitation. In addition, I still have some private matters to do."

Fernando tightened his grip on the mouse and said, "I wonder if there's anything I can help with?"

Isabella smiled. "Mr. Fernando, I don't want to owe you a favor now. I will ask for your help when it's necessary."

Fernando could not help but smile. Then, he said with a serious expression, "You don't have to return my favor

Isabella raised her eyebrows and looked at Fernando with a subtle expression.

Fernando's fair skin turned slightly red.

"What I mean is that you're Winna's savior. No matter what you need, I'll help you unconditionally."

The smile on Isabella's face deepened a little. Her eyes were filled with amusement as she said, "I understand your intentions. If I need your help, I will definitely find you.

"But I have to leave tomorrow. I need a good sleep."

Isabella put down the medicine for Fernando and went upstairs.

Chapter 173 Little Dipper Members' Shock

"Mr. Lockwood, your ring... That person said in surprise. He was mentioning Mrs. Lockwood, and the ring. related to Mrs. Lockwood suddenly lit up.

This ring was unilaterally connected to the Big Dipper.

The ring actually lit up. It indicated that the Big Dipper members were sending a message to Draxton.

Draxton's expression became stern. "Bella is in danger."

His expression was clouded with anxiety. Bella would definitely not have sent a message to the Big Dipper unless it was a life-threatening crisis.

And when his ring lit up, it meant the Big Dipper members informed him that Mrs. Lockwood was in danger. The Little Dipper member said, "Mr. Lockwood, wasn't Mrs. Lockwood at the Barclays estate? We've already contacted Fernando. Fernando said that Mrs. Lockwood is fine."

Draxton called Fernando with a gloomy expression. The phone rang, but no one answered.

Draxton realized that something bad had happened at the Barclays estate.

He got someone to urge the helicopter pilot to accelerate.

At the same time, Fernando said to the two figures holding Winna, "My phone is ringing. You have to let me answer it."

He still had a deadpan face, but there was indescribable anxiety in his tone.

The two persons were foreigners. The woman had a beautiful high ponytail. She looked at Fernando coldly and ignored him.

On the other hand, the man was rather lively. He rolled his eyes and said, "Mr. Fernando, do you think we are fools?"

"I advise you to behave yourself. Otherwise, your sister might be in danger!"

Fernando clenched his fists and glanced upstairs before closing his eyes in frustration.

He only hoped that Draxton would arrive soon.

At this moment, Fernando was glad that he did not stop Draxton from coming to the Barclays estate.

He did not know how long Isabella could last, but he knew there must be a fierce battle upstairs at this moment.

The golden pollen seemed to have a mind of its own. It passed through the members of Little Dipper and landed on the enemies.

The few enemies who were still fighting stiffened and fell to the ground.

The pollen sprinkled by the golden butterfly was equivalent to a super strong anesthetic for those who did. not have artificially cultured poisonous bugs.

Not even a giant whale could withstand it.

As soon as they fell, the eight members of Little Dipper were dumbfounded.

The golden butterfly did not immediately return to Isabella's body. Instead, it flew downstairs.

The man and woman held onto Winna. Winna was unconscious, but she was not injured. However, Fernando did not dare to attack. He could only fight against the two enemies passively.

When the golden butterfly flew down from upstairs, Fernando happened to see it from his angle. However, the two people with their backs facing him did not notice it at all.

Fernando saw the golden butterfly sprinkle the pollen on the two people. Then, their bodies swayed and they fell down.

Fernando was stunned and speechless.

Fernando heaved a sigh of relief and quickly went forward to carry Winna.

At this moment, four people walked down from upstairs. They looked at Fernando expressionlessly and tied up the two unconscious enemies.

At the same time, the seven Big Dipper members and two Little Dipper members had subdued the four enemies.

The crisis was finally resolved. Isabella leaned into Draxton's arms, half-closed her eyes, and quietly rested.

Downstairs, Fernando rushed up with Winna in his arms. When he saw Isabella covered in blood, he could not help but be stunned.

However, after seeing it with their own eyes, their thoughts completely changed.

Big Dipper and the others were very angry. "Are you guys serious? Is it because she's good at fighting?" "Yeah, it's because she's good at fighting. Brother, do you want to change?"

The four members of Little Dipper had sly smiles on their faces. They were a little impatient. "Change, change!"

The seven members of Big Dipper went speechless.

How annoying!

For a time, the Big Dipper and Little Dipper were in a disagreement and separated themselves.

Fernando's subordinates glanced at them and shook their heads. Tsk!

After passing through layers of protective systems, they finally arrived at the dungeon of the Barclays estate.

Bright white chains made of alloy hung the 18 people in the air.

Isabella’s expression was quite serious. The 18 people fell silent for a moment. They all looked at Isabella. What she said deeply touched their hearts.

Unfortunately...

“If possible, we’re willing to be loyal to you. Unfortunately, we can’t leave the Sif family.

“Although the Blue Crystal Potion made us powerful, it also left us with terrible side effects.

“It evolved our genes, but the evolution was incomplete.

“We have to be injected with a genetic code every month in order to survive. Otherwise, we will die from a genetic defect.

“Now, there are fourteen days until our next genetic code injection. If we don’t go back in fourteen days, we’ll die.”

Isabella was silent.

“Then die,” Fernando said.

His tone was exceptionally cold.

Draxton’s eyes were also filled with coldness.

He was thinking the same thing as Fernando. These 18 people were too terrifying. It was not an exaggeration to say that each of them could defeat 100 men.

Naturally, they would not let such a terrifying team return to the Sif family. Since that was the case, they could only let these 18 people die.

“Of course, you can also destroy the Sif family, get the genetic code, and control us,” the woman in the lead. added.

Draxton and Fernando were unmoved.

Draxton remained silent with an aloof expression.

Fernando did not say anything either.

However, one of Fernando's subordinates said, "You guys are defective products. You still want to sow discord between us and the Lockwood family. You guys think too highly of yourselves.

"Miraculous Doctor did not kill you because she admired you!"

The woman in the lead smiled bitterly and said, "We're not trying to sow discord. I'm telling the truth.

"If we have a chance to survive, we don't want to die either.

"However, Old Mr. Sif treats us horribly. We also hope we can choose another master like what Miraculous Doctor had said."

Fernando's subordinate looked at the 18 people skeptically.

The red-haired baby-faced guy was not happy after being sized up by Isabella.
He straightened his neck and said sternly, "No Ma'am!"
Although he said no, his round eyes revealed a trace of arrogance.
Isabella chuckled and took another step closer to him. The red-haired baby-faced guy trembled in fear and hurriedly retreated.
The other Big Dipper members also looked at Isabella unhappily.
"It seems that all of you are not happy with me." Isabella looked at them thoughtfully.

The seven of them replied in unison, "Ma'am, we wouldn't dare."

They would never tell Isabella their true feelings.

Isabella snorted softly. "It's alright. I never force other people to like me. I have never kept those who were disloyal to me.

"Since you're all dissatisfied with me, I'll tell Draxton to take you back."

The expressions of Big Dipper's seven members changed. They looked at Isabella with even more resentment.

In their opinion, she was threatening them and wanted to complain to Mr. Lockwood.

Isabella saw through their thoughts and snorted in disdain. "However, this baby-faced guy spoke ill of me before. I have to teach him a lesson."

The red-haired baby-faced guy immediately flew into a rage out of humiliation and said, "I have a name. My name is Josh Lockwood."

"Oh, you're Josh."

Isabella looked at Josh with an unknown expression and said, "I heard you talking bad about me before. Josh, let's exchange a few moves."

Josh was stunned for a second and said firmly, "I don't fight with the injured."

Isabella snorted. "Even if I'm injured, I can still take you down!"

Fernando despised him.

Fernando's subordinates looked at Isabella with admiration. Then, they looked at Draxton with envy and jealousy.

In the end, they actually looked at Fernando bitterly.

Fernando was good at everything, but he did not have a wife, especially not a wife like Miraculous Doctor. Isabella left the dungeon with those 18 people and returned to another building in Barclays estate.

After Draxton and the others arrived, Fernando let them live in this building.

In the gorgeous and spacious living room, the 18 people were reporting their names to Isabella.

The woman in the lead said, "Madam, my name is Claire. I was originally from Avon. When I was young, I was sold to Fruggia and became an experimental subject for the Blue Crystal Potion.

"Fortunately, I managed to survive.

"He's Hans. He and I were trafficked to the Sif family together.

"This is Jona. She was later abducted and brought here."

Claire pointed at the tall, burly, bald man, then at the dark-skinned girl.

Isabella nodded. The others also introduced themselves one by one. When it was the last young man who was very taciturn, he was obviously a little shy.

Isabella looked at him. He was a very beautiful Western youth.

He was the youngest among the 18.

His skin was fair, and his blue eyes were very bright and energetic. His lips were as tender and pink as flower petals.

He was rather thin. At first glance, it was hard to tell if he was a man or a woman, but he was more exquisite and beautiful than a girl.

He was such an exquisite and beautiful young man. However, Isabella remembered that he was the most ruthless when dealing with her.

Isabella touched her back. This young man was the one who injured her spine.

But now, this beautiful and powerful little cutie was her subordinate. In the future, he would only hit others.

Isabella immediately felt pity for him.

She couldn't help but soften her voice and ask gently, "What's your name?"

The young man's face instantly flushed red.

Draxton immediately raised his eyebrows and looked sideways at Isabella.

Isabella took a few steps back and raised her eyebrows while looking at the guy in front of her. "Mrs. Lockwood, my name is Frank. I'm the captain of the third team of Big Dipper in Fruggia."

The silly smile on the young man's face turned into a proud smile.

Isabella nodded and asked, "What's the matter?"

Frank and the other six hurriedly turned serious. In the next moment, Frank respectfully held the ring that symbolized the Big Dipper in front of Isabella.

This was the ring that Isabella had taken off and returned to Draxton. If she wanted to give back the Big Dipper, she naturally had to return the ring.

But now, Isabella looked at this ring and understood what those of Big Dipper meant.

"Did Draxton call you here?" Isabella asked.

Frank's expression became even more serious. In the next moment, his knees went limp, and he fell to one knee with a thud. He held the ring high above his head with both hands.

“Mrs. Lockwood, Mr. Lockwood didn’t ask us to come. We are here at our own request.”

Isabella was immediately amused. She looked at the seven of Big Dipper teasingly. She sized them up one by one but did not say anything.

The seven of Big Dipper were burning with anxiety. They thought, “What did Mrs. Lockwood mean by not. saying anything?”

At this moment, a voice sounded beside the seven of Big Dipper. “Look at you guys. Are you proposing?”

This voice was filled with faint doubt.

The seven of Big Dipper turned their heads and glared at the person.

Among the 18 Blue Crystals, the bald, burly man, who seemed to have an innocent look, was actually looking. at them with a gloating expression.

The seven of Big Dipper’s expressions immediately darkened.

Josh’s temper was the worst. He shouted angrily, “What does it have to do with you?”

“Madame, he said it has nothing to do with us.” Hans looked at Isabella innocently. This tall and strong man was especially petty.

Isabella almost laughed out loud. She said to the seven of Big Dipper, “It’s got something to do with them, of course. They are my direct subordinates and are close to me.”

The expressions of the seven of Big Dipper immediately changed.

Frank said anxiously, “Mrs. Lockwood, we’re your direct subordinates.”

“Well...”

Isabella replied nonchalantly, then called the 18 Blue Crystals to leave.

The woman was stunned.

She looked conflicted. "Can the Miraculous Doctor really cure his legs?

"If the Miraculous Doctor can treat his legs, why is he still crippled after so many years?"

Alanna was also very puzzled by this question. She shook her head. "In short, Old Mr. Sif is done for. Your only choice is Mr. Vaughn.

"There's no one more suitable for you than Mr. Vaughn."

The woman bit her lip in silence.

She looked at the crazy Old Mr. Sif and asked indignantly, "Is he really done for?"

Alanna sneered. "He offended the Barclays family and even heavily offended Isabella. The Lockwood family wouldn't let him off. Do you still think he can still survive?"

Winna's condition kept improving. Isabella prescribed her a second round of medicine and temporarily left Barclays estate with Draxton, heading toward Master Vaughn's residence.

Master Vaughn lived in the suburbs. There was a view of the purple sea as far as the eyes could see.

The villa was located in a lavender field. Isabella drove in with familiarity.

As soon as the car drove into the courtyard, she saw Jackson waiting for them at the end of the path in a wheelchair.

After not seeing him for a while, he was still the same. He had a gentle temperament and wore a beige top and bottom with a beige sweater.

His gentle eyes carried hints of a smile. Although he was already over fifty, one could still see how handsome he was when he was young.

At his current age, he had lost his sharpness. Instead, he had become more elegant. The kind of temperament that had formed after years of experience.

He was just like an intellectual scholar. It was impossible to tell that he was the founder of Mercenari Uno, that lived half his life covered in blood.

Isabella got out of the car and waved before walking towards him with Draxton.
