

Kick Ass Wife 24

Chapter 24 A Lesson

Cooper lowered his eyelids and stopped talking for a while.

He was waiting.

Amelia sneered while looking at Cooper from inside the car.

At that moment, Alan walked over with two envelopes in his hands.

His lips curved into a sneer.

Alan looked inside the car, glancing at Amelia's and Freddie's faces. Then, he waved the two envelopes at them

Seeing Alan's movement, Amelia and Freddie both froze.

"Come and get it yourselves."

Alan raised his eyebrows at them.

"What the hell are you up to?" Amelia murmured unpleasantly. However, seeing Freddie getting off the car, she had to follow.

They took the envelopes one by one from Alan.

"Please take a look. And go ahead messing up with us as long as you finish reading them."

Alan held his arms across his chest, looking at the two with a sneer.

Freddie had a change of look. He already sensed something ominous.

Although Amelia was unsatisfied with Alan's tone, the two opened the envelopes as they were told.

There were merely a few pieces of paper.

Nevertheless, their faces turned as white as a sheet after glancing at the papers.

Freddie's hands were shaking badly as if the pieces of paper weighed like stones.

all over his forehead with a frightened look

tears or sweats

"Chief Drennon, I am sorry. I know it is all my with Mr. Lockwood on my behalf and let me off. From now on, I will definitely behave myself!"

sneered, "Freddie, read the pages carefully. How many times did you make mistakes? Is any your branch did surprise me. "Considering your seniority, Mr. Lockwood intended to save one of your sons. Unfortunately, you don't seem to appreciate his favor. Freddie, how dare dare you assume Mr. Lockwood owes you

eyes

regretted it terribly. Amelia was the one at fault. Because of this, Freddie to protect himself. As a result, Freddie had no intention of speaking for she also tensed up after reading was all about the wrongdoings of her and the Hart family over the years, including those that hurt the

were either

came with

them was enough

also felt panic in

a basis for accusing them.

“Chief Drennon, I knew I shouldn’t have committed those crimes. But we really had no choices. “I had to keep the business running and take care of lots of stuff at the leading more than ten people

made him jump off a

taking the bribe for your own good and all of these,

I would return home and do what

Alan gave them the freeze and said indifferently,

Cooper then walked away.

raised their rifles again, with the dark muzzles pointing at

Freddie completely lost their

through the surveillance camera before relieving his stern

they

to enter the Northernville Manor. But he thought for a while and brought more documents to Cooper.

“These people are all guilty. Cooper, please filter them and cancel a solemn manner. “Roger that. I will