Chapter 291 Jasper Is A Clean Freak

“Who are you?” asked Isabella. She had many enemies. However, Isabella had to figure out the background of the powerful enemy in front of her.

The middle-aged man touched his neck gently with his finger, and it was stained with some blood. He seemed to mind it.

Thus, the man took a white handkerchief from his left chest pocket and gently wiped the blood on his neck.

To Isabella’s shock, she saw no wound on the man’s neck.

Isabella was so shocked that she opened her eyes wide, thinking, “His injuries have already healed.”

The middle-aged man threw away the handkerchief with blood as if nothing had happened. Then he introduced himself, “My name is Jasper Willsmith, a member of the Willsmith family.”

Isabella shouted inside, “This man is from the Willsmith family!” She immediately realized that the Willsmith family was here for revenge.

Jasper chuckled and said, “You offended the Willsmith family, and you will receive the retribution.”

As Jasper spoke, a scimitar suddenly appeared in his hand. Jasper moved his wrist and tossed out his scimitar.

The scimitar spun like a windmill in the air, flying toward Isabella.

Isabella’s eyes lit up. She also threw out her Butterfly Wings.

Isabella wanted to know if her Butterfly Wings or Jasper’s scimitar was sharper.

Clang! There was a clanging sound in the air. The scimitar and Butterfly Wings collided. Then they broke into pieces and fell to the ground like drifting snowflakes.

Isabella took a closer look. The scimitar and Butterfly Wings were both destroyed.

Isabella’s heart ached.

Soon, Draxton returned with an empty bucket.

Draxton handed the empty bucket to Cooper. Then Draxton patted his hands and got in the car, saying to Isabella, "Experience is the best teacher. Now, I'm very sure that Jasper is a clean freak. He must have an obsessive-compulsive disorder."

Jasper could not stand a little dirt on him.

Therefore, when Draxton poured a bucket of paint over Jasper's head, Jasper screamed so miserably.

Being poured with black and sticky paint was undoubtedly torture for a clean freak.

Isabella had a complicated expression.

Isabella looked at Draxton, unable to describe her current feelings.

It was because Isabella could not imagine how Draxton was with a serious face and poured a bucket of paint over Jasper's head.

Isabella thought, "That is so..."

Isabella hesitated, murmuring. "That bucket of paint..."

"That bucket of paint is environmentally friendly and unpolluted," said Draxton.

Isabella's lips twitched. She could not help laughing.

"Hahahaha!"

Isabella could not help laughing so long as she thought about Jasper coming here arrogantly and leaving with his head full of paint.

That was completely tragic!

However, when Isabella smiled, she felt her organs hurt. She softly coughed, and blood reappeared at the corners of her lips again.

Chapter 293 An Intolerable Grievance

Olivia originally did not intend to hide the matter from Isabella. She had dragged Jake to Northernville Manor because she wanted to ask Isabella for help.

She did not have any other choice. She needed help badly, as it was tricky dealing with Jake by herself.

When Isabella saw Olivia wink at her, she knew she could not expose Olivia in front of everyone. She could only pretend to glare at Jake angrily and pull Draxton away.

Jake stood still helplessly as he watched both of them disappear from his sight.

Draxton did not leave either. He asked, "Jake, what happened between you and Olivia?"

Jake kept quiet for a while before replying. "You saw what happened just now. She's pregnant, and I forced her to have an abortion. We cannot have this child."

Jake was undoubtedly a scumbag.

Draxton rolled up his sleeves, about to hit Jake. He was not fit to be Olivia's brother if he did not teach Jake a lesson.

Seeing this, Jake's expression changed slightly. "Mr. Lockwood, do you think you should discuss this with Bella before you hit me? Do you think Bella will let you get into a fight again?"

Draxton was speechless.

At that moment, the two men looked at each other and fell silent.

Meanwhile, Isabella pulled Olivia into the house. She asked helplessly, "Olivia, what's going on between you and Jake?"

Olivia blushed. "We had some drinks, and I flirted with him..."

Isabella thought, "Jake finally had his day. A girl had made advances at him.

"Men were all the same.

"Who would believe that he did not make use of the opportunity?"

Seeing Isabella's strange expression, Olivia quickly changed her story. "He was the one who seduced me..." Isabella now knew the truth.

"What a scumbag!" She cursed angrily.

Indignant, Olivia questioned, "Isabella, how can you say that about Jake?

"You must have been even more aggressive when you seduced my brother back then. Otherwise, how did you get yourself pregnant with two children?"

Isabella was stunned.

Jake looked at the girl in his arms in a daze. It occurred to him that Olivia was not an ordinary person.
She was the Lockwood family’s beloved daughter.

She was definitely capable of getting anything she wanted.

Jake was no exception.

He could not help but laugh. “You don’t even know what you’re coming up against.”

There was a sparkle in Olivia’s eyes. They looked incomparably bright and fearless.

Isabella and Draxton finally interrupted them.

"I met someone today. His name is Jasper Willsmith. I've exchanged blows with him. He's a very strong fighter."

Jake's expression turned slightly cold.

Olivia widened her eyes and said angrily, "Jasper Willsmith? Isabella, Jake, and I met two old men today. One of them is from the Willsmith family. That old man said that Jake is his grandson and that Jake's father is called Jasper Willsmith!"

Isabella's expression was solemn as she said, "Then there's no mistake about it. Jake, Jasper looks very much like you!"

Jake's furrowed brows gradually relaxed. He gave a sneer. "He's finally here!"

Isabella sighed. She knew that Jake had been looking for his parents all these years. Of course, he was not interested in his parents' identities. He only wanted to know more about the defects in his genes.

"Mike once said that I'm only a second-generation test subject. Without the first-generation test subject's genetic code, there will always be a fatal defect in Jake's genes.

"I don't know when that defect will emerge. I also don't know what the consequences will be when that happens.

"Now that Jasper has appeared, I'm very certain that he's a first-generation experimental subject. As long as we get hold of his genes, we have a chance of cracking the defects in your genes.

"It's good news that he has shown up."

Isabella explained to the group.

When Mandie asked this question, her eyes revealed a ruthless light.
Jasper knew that Mandie loved him deeply. The moment he showed vulnerability, Mandie's mind would be thrown into chaos.
Her heart would ache even more when Jasper was injured.
Jasper waved his hand weakly and said, "It's just that the opponent was powerful."

Mandie raised her eyebrows and questioned angrily, "Who is it? I'll go take a look and see how capable he is!" "Mandie, he's a member of the Lockwood family. It's best if we don't provoke him too much. We still have other things to attend to."

Jasper tried to comfort her.

Hearing this, Mandie did not say anything more. She took a medicine bottle from her bosom, took a pill, and fed it to Jasper. Then, she growled, "Don't think that I won't pursue the matter of your illegitimate son just because you're injured."

"It's impossible for the Willsmith family to acknowledge an illegitimate child."

Her attitude was unyielding.

In the hotel, Jasper stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window on the 30th floor. This height was enough to overlook half of Dawton City.

Amidst the dazzling lights as bright as stars, a black figure shot into the hotel window like a sharp black light.

Jasper's figure flashed as he swiftly dodged. Jake's figure flashed through the half-opened window, and the pitch-black sword in his hand once again struck toward Jasper's face.

Jasper was only wearing a bathrobe, but it did not compromise his speed and movements.

In the blink of an eye, the two met and saw each other's faces clearly.

These were two highly similar faces.

In this world, even father and son rarely looked so much alike.

However, Jasper and Jake were too similar.

Jasper stared at Jake's face and laughed immediately. "Your greeting gift to your father is very interesting." Jake was filled with an aggressive aura as he said in a deep voice, "Father? Are you even worthy of using that word?"

Chapter 297 A Different Taste

When Olivia went to look for Jake in the morning, she found that Jake was not at home.

She had the key to his house. When she opened the door and looked at the empty house, a bad hunch grew in her heart.

She went into the house and sat for a while before she made a phone call to Jake, but his number was powered off every time she called.

Her frown deepened. She planned to look for Isabella and Draxton at the Northernville Manor.

When she arrived at the courtyard, two middle-aged men walked over and opened the car door.

Olivia could tell at first glance that these two middle-aged men were boxers.

The ominous feeling in her heart instantly rose to the extreme. She reacted quickly and immediately decided that she should get into the car to start the engine and leave.

However, the two middle-aged men were even faster. They stopped her before she could get into the car.

Olivia opened her mouth to shout, but one of the middle-aged men reached out and pressed an acupoint on her body. She instantly lost consciousness.

After she regained consciousness, she did not open her eyes immediately. Her first reaction was that she had been kidnapped. She quickly analyzed her situation in her mind.

The person who kidnapped her was a boxer, meaning the ringleader behind them was not ordinary. Perhaps the other party was not afraid of the Lockwood family at all.

Or rather, the other party was confident that he could fool the Lockwood family.

Olivia's mood could not help but become solemn.

At the moment, there was a chuckle in the room.

Olivia was shocked..

Then, she heard a man laughing and saying, "Miss Lockwood, you are very smart. There's no need to pretend since you're already awake."

She opened her eyes, knowing that she could not play any tricks before the two boxers.

They were very sensitive to the tempo of breathing.

She sat up and found that her hands and feet were chained. The chains were long but only enough for her movements on the bed.

Chapter 298 She's Not Pregnant

Jasper and Mandie turned around and saw their son's stupidly handsome face.

Jeremy smiled and said, "Dad, Mom, who wants to see it? I'll recommend it to you."

As he spoke, he turned on his phone and opened a book called Straight Boy from the bookshelf.

On the screen, a few men were flirting with each other.

Jasper and Mandie's eyes widened at first, and then their faces darkened almost at the same time.

"What the hell is this?" Mandie asked sternly, looking at Jeremy suspiciously.

Jeremy scratched his head as if he suddenly understood something. "I understand now. Mom, Dad, you want a romantic one, right?"

After saying that, he turned off the book on his phone and opened another book.

After reading the contents roughly, Jasper and Mandie became more furious. Even their hair bristled up.

It was purely out of anger.

"Jeremy, I can forgive you for always loafing around and doing nothing. But what have you been reading? What is this?"

Mandie lost her temper finally and raised her fist to smash at Jeremy.

Jeremy was dumbfounded and returned his mother with a wronged expression, "Mom, wasn't it what you wanted? Why did you hit me?"

He turned and ran as fast as he could.

Mandie lifted her skirt and chased after him.

Jeremy shouted as he ran, "If you guys don't like romance, I can recommend the God of War series. Mom, don't hit me, ah..."

A series of wails and howls sounded.

Jasper stood where he was, the aura around his body becoming increasingly gloomy. He looked coldly at the books in the middle-aged man's hands and said, "There's no need to send her any more books."

With that being said, he left.

He left the hotel and went to a villa somewhere in Dawton City.

After activating a trigger, he followed a passageway into the underground laboratory.

Chapter 299 Inhumane

When Olivia woke up again, she found herself lying in a cold experiment module.

Her hands and feet were not chained, but she was naked.

She had just widened his eyes in shock when she heard footsteps approaching.

She looked up and saw a few people in white coats walking over with Jake, who was also naked.

The only difference was that Jake's limbs were all shackled. There were also burn marks on his body from the electric current. It looked crisscrossed and shocking.

His eyes were bloodshot and devoid of any intelligence. He looked like a terrifying beast.

Olivia seemed to realize something. Her eyes widened in horror as she watched the men in white coats open the experimental module and push Jake in.

Then the experimental module was locked.

Olivia did not scream for mercy because she knew that it was useless.

As soon as Jake entered the module, he stared at her with terrifying eyes.

He growled and lunged at her.

Olivia was pounced on. Jake's large hands were like a pair of iron pincers as he grabbed her throat. The temperature of his body was shockingly high.

Olivia burst into tears instantly.

She knew that Jake had been drugged.

She trembled, but it wasn't from fear. It was from heartache and anger.

Jasper Willsmith was simply inhumane!

When they realized that she was not pregnant, they actually thought of such a cruel method.

Jake was completely dominated by his instincts. He did not know how to cherish women. Everything he did was out of his most primitive beastly nature.

Olivia trembled violently. She looked at the man on top of her in pain and called out in a trembling voice, "Jake, Jake, wake up. Don't do this. Wake up!"

They liked each other. Since she had decided on this man, she was naturally willing to go to bed with him.

Jasper looked at Mandie quietly. Not a trace of emotion could be seen on his face, and his stare was terrifyingly intense.

Mandie looked back at him with a hint of doubt in her eyes.

“I just wanted to save Jeremy. Did he have to do such an inhumane thing?” she asked inwardly.

Just as they looked at each other, a soft bang suddenly sounded outside the villa.

Someone knocked on the door.

Or rather, something knocked on the door.

That was because the knocking sound was different from an average person knocking on the door.

Jasper retracted her gaze from Mandie and stood up to open the door.

The moment the door opened, there was no one at the door. Jasper lowered his head and saw a colorful snake standing outside. Its cold snake eyes were staring at him, and its blood-red tongue kept flicking out.

Obviously, the snake was the one who knocked on the door.

Jasper's expression did not change in the slightest.

He looked up at the front of the villa. Three figures were slowly walking over from the side.

Every one of them was definitely more eye-catching than celebrities.

They were a man and two women.

The man was incredibly gorgeous.

His name was Julian Doyle. The woman beside him was elegant and pretty in a white dress. She looked fragile, like a beautiful white lily.

However, she exuded a charm that only mature women had.
