Chapter 311 Jane's Evil Plan

Betty was moved away.

It was not surprising that Clan Mobius also operated a secret industry in Dawton City.

However, while Betty was moved away, Jane was also arranged to leave.

Jane was injured this time, so she could forget about becoming the Saintess. It was impossible for Clan Mobius to want a Saintess missing a finger and an ear.

However, Jane was still useful. Cecilia would not give up on her so quickly.

In the end, Jane and Betty were sent to Clan Mobius's villa in Dawton City.

Betty was locked in a room.

She was only a four or five-year-old girl, so after Clan Mobius's people locked her up, they ignored her.

Cecilia had instructed them not to give this child food and drink, so they would not give her anything.

Jane had woken up earlier. When she woke up, she realized that not only had she lost a finger, but one of her ears had also been cut off. She had a nervous breakdown:

Betty looked up at her with a hint of panic on her face.

Jane gave a cold laugh and went forward to grab Betty by the ear.

She stared at Betty's instantly paled face. She looked down and smiled maliciously. She exerted strength in her hand and pinched Betty's ear.

Seeing that Betty's forehead was covered in a cold sweat and tears were welling in her eyes, Jane suddenly had an idea in her mind.

She giggled and said, "Little mutt, what do you say I just twist your ear off like this? It must hurt even more, right?"

"Then, I'll chop off all ten of your fingers. It'll definitely be fun, haha!" she added.

As she spoke, she tightened her grip on Betty's ear.

Betty could not take the pain anymore. Finally, she opened the wooden bead bracelet on her wrist.

In an instant, the poison bugs on the inside quickly rushed out.

As soon as the poison bugs came out, they surged toward Jane like a tide.

Jane's body suddenly stiffened, and she subconsciously let go of Betty's ear.

Betty quickly ran to the side and rubbed her ears while staring at Jane fiercely.

Those poison bugs were all raised by her. Under her control, a few of them quickly crawled into Jane's body. Jane was also a bug master. She immediately realized what was going on.

She suddenly remembered that Isabella also knew bug poison crafting, so she guessed she must have taught her daughter.

She gave a cold laugh and released her own bug.

Chapter 313 Betty's Adventures

Just as Betty was carried into the manhole cover, Clan Mobius's men chased after her.
They looked at the empty road and looked around anxiously. The leader said to his subordinates, "Split over and search carefully. She's just a little girl. She can't have run too far."
The group of men spread out and searched carefully.

The leader also left.

Under the manhole cover, Betty was being hugged by a strong hand. Her mouth was also being covered tightly by another strong hand.

The raspy voice whispered in Betty's ear, "Kid, don't be afraid. I'm not a bad person."

Betty was originally a little scared. She was suddenly brought to this dark place and it was even extremely smelly. She sure had every reason to feel scared.

She hugged the snake tightly in her arms, and the snake was forced to nestle in Betty's arms obediently. Betty did not make a sound because the person covered her mouth with a lot of force. She could not move or make a sound.

It was so quiet that only the movements of the rats and insects below could be heard.

Above, Clan Mobius's people searched for a long time before finally gathering at the same spot.

"We didn't see her."

Everyone reported.

The leader cursed indignantly and called his subordinates to leave.

After they were away for a while and they confirmed that those people would not return, the inconspicuous manhole cover by the roadside was forcefully pushed up.

Then, a disheveled man with whiskers all over his face crawled out from below with a little girl in his arms. However, when the man saw that there was a poisonous snake wrapped around Betty's body, he felt his entire body stiffen.

So, not only was he carrying a little girl, but he was also carrying a poisonous snake.

The man's face turned pale.

However, his face was too dirty. Coupled with his beard, no one could see his facial expression. In fact, they could not even see his face clearly.

Betty hugged the snake and looked at the bearded old man timidly. Her small body slowly retreated.

She felt that this dirty old man was very odd.

At this moment, they saw a gray and dirty van driving over not far away.

Despair flashed across the eyes of Lance and the bearded man.

They knew that they would not be able to get away with it today.

However, they didn't care. They believed the worst-case scenario for them was to die.

They looked at each other with a look of determination in their eyes.

"Lance, let's fight it out with them. Even if we are going down, we're not going down alone."

The bearded man's eyes were filled with ruthlessness.

After saying that, he turned to Betty and said, "Little girl, stay under the seat. Don't make a sound. As long as you don't come out, no one would notice you."

"When they're gone, take this phone and call your parents. Tell them to pick you up," he added.

With that, he stuffed the phone into Betty's arms and stuffed her under the seat.

With a complicated expression, he said, "Little girl, whether you live or die depends on your luck!"

As soon as he finished speaking, he jumped out of the car with Lance.

The moment they jumped out of the car, the group of people in combat uniforms immediately surrounded them.

Louis didn’t have time to think about what she said about grandpa.

He and Lance looked at the little girl in front of them in shock.

It didn’t occur to them that they were actually saved by a Kid.

Betty looked at them with her innocent big dark blue eyes.

Lance swallowed his saliva and pointed at the members who were being controlled, “Kids, what happened to them?”

Betty curved her beautiful big eyes and said confidently, “Of course it’s controlled by Betty’s bugs!”

Last time, she and her brother were captured by Mike and brought to the laboratory. Their bugs ate those experimental potions and later mutated.

The worms became stronger.

“You are from Clan Mobius!” Lance said.

Betty pouted unhappily. “No, Betty is not with the bad guys!”

Lance’s expression was complicated, “Then how did you..

He wanted to ask why she knew bug poison crafting!

Most importantly, the child who had saved them was only four or five years old.

Lance was embarrassed.

However, a trembling voice suddenly rang out and interrupted Lance, "So... is this snake real or not?"

Chapter 316 Speechless

The helicopter rumbled away.

The group of combat uniform members looked extremely indignant. The leader kicked a rock away and shouted angrily, "I can't believe they got away again! Damn it!"

After saying that, he looked at the group of people who had fainted and said angrily, "The second team is useless. They were actually knocked out by two people. How useless!"

These two groups of people belonged to the first team and the second team under Julian. The team that came first was from the second team, but they were all taken down by Betty.

The team that came later belonged to the first team, but they did not manage to catch anyone.

The captain of the first team looked at the unconscious captain of the second team with disbelief in his eyes.

A subordinate said, "Captain, Louis and Lance are very strong, but no matter how strong they are, they shouldn't be able to take down all the people from the second team, right?"

The captain's eyes flickered. "Wake them up."

The inspector walked back and said, "Captain, their brains were under influence. They won't wake up for a while

"Brain attack?" The captain of the first team was shocked. He said in disbelief, "When did Louis and Lance have such an ability? We have to tell the president about such important news."

Julian was only a vice president, but his subordinates directly called him president to flatter him.

In the helicopter, three men surrounded him and looked at Betty with rare interest.

The young man from before said with a smile, "Louis, Lance, where did you pick up this little girl? Aren't her parents worried?"

Louis looked at Betty and asked, "Kid,, did you call your parents?"

Betty nodded. "Yes."

Louis's expression changed. "If your parents find that place and bump into those people, won't they be in danger?"

Betty shook her head and said, "It's fine. Mommy is very powerful. She will protect daddy."

She was full of confidence.

Chapter 317 A Joke?

Just like that, everyone gathered together.

The three cars stopped, and the scene immediately fell into a strange tense atmosphere. Isabella and Draxton were sitting in the car and staring coldly at the convoy outside.

Julian and Cecilia were also sitting in the car. They first glanced at the oncoming convoy, then at the of the Lockwood family.

convoy

Cecilia's expression darkened a little "Julian, why are the Lockwood family people here? Did they discover something?"

Julian was silent for a moment before saying. "Dawton City is the Lockwood family's home ground after all. It's not surprising that they found the child's whereabouts so quickly."

"Celia, you really shouldn't have captured the Lockwood family's child. The Lockwood family definitely won't treat this lightly," he added.

Cecilia looked at the first team and the second team's convoy and said, "They must have captured Louis and Lance. That child is probably in the car too. We'll just hand her over."

Cecilia was a little unwilling. She originally wanted to teach the Lockwood family a lesson and make them beg her to let the kid go, but now, she still had to return that little brat to them.

Julian looked at Cecilia helplessly and said, "Celia, it's not that easy to deal with the Lockwood family. The next time you make a move, you must not leave behind any traces. If you act rashly like this time, you must not do it again."

Cecilia snorted softly. Although she was not convinced, she knew that her rash actions this time had caused trouble for Clan Mobius and Julian.

A guard got out of the car first and opened the door for Julian.

Julian got out of the car. He glanced at the convoy of the Lockwood family and walked towards the convoy of the first team and the second team.

The people from the second team were still unconscious. Now, the drivers were all from the first team.

Seeing Julian walk out, the members of the first team hurriedly got out of the car.

The leader of the first team stepped forward and said respectfully, "President."

Julian frowned slightly, sensing that something was wrong.

Chapter 318 Life And Death

Cecilia immediately felt as if a cold and powerful iron pincer was gripping her neck. There was a piercing pain in her throat, and the suffocating feeling instantly went straight to her brain.

Her eyes widened in shock as if she was still shocked that someone had grabbed her by the throat.

"How could anyone bear to treat me like this?" she thought.

She was so delicate that she had never thought that someone would treat her so ruthlessly.

She had only captured their child, but they actually treated her like this!

"Damn it, everyone in the Lockwood family deserves to die!" she cursed secretly.

Draxton's large hand gripped Cecilia's neck tightly. The strength was so strong and ruthless that it was as if he wanted to snap this woman's neck.

However, he was very restrained. It was the amount of strength that didn't kill people but dealt the most damage.

He grabbed Cecilia's neck and quickly returned to his original position.

His speed was so fast that no one could react.

Cecilia was in extreme pain. The suffocation made her face turn red and gradually turn purple.

She raised an arm and reached in Julian's direction. Her mouth opened and closed as she begged for help. but because her throat was tightly held, she could not make any sound.

Julian's expression changed. He stared at Draxton and said, "Mr. Lockwood, what do you mean by this?"

Draxton looked at him with dark eyes. Instead of answering, he asked, "Mr. Duncan, the Lockwood family and the Barclays family have been at odds with each other for a century."

"But do you know why our families can still leave everything behind and work together now?" he added. Julian was stunned. Suddenly, he seemed to have thought of something and his expression changed drastically.

Big Dipper's members chased after her unhurriedly like a cat playing with a mouse. Every time Cecilia thought that she could not escape, those people would slow down slightly and distance themselves, giving her hope.

However, when she saw hope, those people quickly caught up with her. The cold glint of the blade made her feel despair.

She could hear the malicious laughter of the members of Big Dipper and Little Dipper.

She had a noble status and had been pampered all these years. She had never suffered like this. She could not deal with the cruel reality at this moment.

However, she had no choice but to escape and participate in this life-and-death game set up by Draxton. Cecilia put away the weakness on her face. Her eyes were filled with hatred and viciousness. She began to release poisonous insects and snakes along the way, and even all kinds of poisons.

However, the members of Big Dipper and Little Dipper would never bat an eye.

That was what happened. When they saw the poisonous insects and snakes and even smelled the poison in the air, they all revealed scornful expressions.

"Miss Grey, don't waste your effort. In front of Mrs. Lockwood, you're really not worth mentioning. Don't waste your poisonous insects and snakes."

Josh's teasing laughter came from behind.

Cecilia's eyes turned red. She gritted her teeth and ran with all her might.

As soon as she was ten kilometers away, the game would be over and she'd be safe.

Cecilia might look weak, but she was actually trained. Running ten kilometers was something she could do.

On the spot, Julian was expressing goodwill.

"Mr. Lockwood, Miraculous Doctor, I have a suggestion. What do you think?"

Draxton and Isabella looked at him coldly.

Julian said, "Your daughter was taken away by the Liberals. They must have returned to Mystical Island."

"If you wanted to save your daughter, then Mr. Lockwood and Miraculous Doctor would have to make a trip to Mystical Island," he added.

"Mystical Island is very xenophobic. Even if Miraculous Doctor and Mr. Lockwood were to rashly go there, you would probably encounter quite a bit of trouble. However, if you appear as guest elders of the tribunal committee, it would be a different matter. With your identities, I will definitely give you extremely good treatment. It will also be convenient for you to save people on Mystical Island," he continued.

Julian fell into deep thought.

At the same time, Grey raised his saber high and slashed down like lightning.

Cecilia's eyes were about to pop out of their sockets. She crossed her arms in front of her and closed her eyes tightly. Her eyes were filled with despair.

As the saber fell, the blood-red snake that had been coiled around Cecilia's wrist like a blood-jade bracelet actually quickly jumped up and faced the saber.

Clang!

The small snake collided with the saber, producing a metallic sound.

The saber was actually bounced up by the small snake.

However, the saber was superior after all. The small snake was split into two and died tragically on the spot.

Meanwhile, Grey could not help but retreat slightly, dodging the little snake's final attack.

The little snake's head bit toward Grey.

Grey dodged. The little snake was finally dead.

Cecilia watched as her favorite snake king she had raised for half her life died tragically. She vomited a mouthful of blood in pain and almost passed out.

A cold light flashed in Grey's eyes. He sneered. "Miss Grey indeed has something to offer. I'd like to see what other tricks you can pull out of your hat."

He slashed at Cecilia again.

Cecilia got up and fled.

At this moment, a loud shout suddenly sounded. "Wait a moment!!"

The person who shouted was Julian. Grey curled up the corners of his lips. He was completely unmoved and did not stop moving.

"Grey!" Draxton said calmly.

Grey immediately put his saber away.
