Chapter 321 Self-Reliance

The man silently looked into Betty's sincere big eyes for a moment. He coughed awkwardly and explained, "No, there's no need. Betty. Me and your Grandma Grey are old friends, but don't tell her."

"Why not?"

Betty's big eyes flashed with suspicion. She looked at the man as if she was looking at the big bad wolf who had deceived Little Red Riding Hood.

"The big bad wolf... Oh no." the man carried Betty into the house and said, "Because I'm embarrassed!" Betty tilted her head and sized up this man.

The man felt uncomfortable under her gaze. "Betty, Grandpa will cook noodles for you."

The group entered the house. Steam was rising from the stove in the kitchen. Water was boiling in a pot. Cut cabbage lay on a chopping board beside it.

The bedding in the room was old, but it was very clean. There was also the smell of sunlight.

The walls had been brushed by someone. Although it was simple, it was white and clean. The ground was black and gray cement, and it had been mopped clean.

Betty looked around curiously for a moment. Her little face became serious. "Uncle, is this your home?" The man nodded with a smile and said, "Yes, this is my home, Betty. Don't call me uncle. You see I'm too old to be called uncle. My surname is Wright. You can call me Mr. Wright."

Betty nodded obediently and said, "Mr. Wright, Betty and Grandma Grey won't think that you're poor. Don't be shy."

"Grandpa Jaye and the others won't think that you're poor. Don't be embarrassed to be with them just because you're poor!" she added.

She reached out her fair and tender hand and patted the man's shoulder, Her big eyes were especially sincere.

Her mother had said that one should not judge a book by its cover, let alone look down on others just because they were poor. When making friends, one had to first take their characters into consideration.

Landon was speechless.

"Hahaha, Betty, do you have some misunderstanding about the word 'friend'?"

Lance and the others laughed loudly from behind. They all looked at the man mockingly.

Landon glared at them with a dark expression. This group of people who were watching the show did not mind making a big deal out of it. They actually dared to watch him make a fool of himself.

Betty looked at them in confusion, not understanding why they were laughing.

Her confused eyes were extremely cute. Landon's expression softened and he could not help but reveal a loving expression.

He placed Betty on the sofa beside the bed, got up, and went to the kitchen to cook noodles.

Chapter 322 Heir

Landon looked at Betty with a complicated expression. He really wanted to know why a five-year-old child would think of a way to make money by doing a performance on the street.

That was not all....

"Betty, whose chest should I place this huge rock on?"

Landon said with an extremely solemn expression.

Betty did not even blink. "Of course it's on Mr. Wright's chest!"

"Mr. Wright, look how big that stone is. I'm not as tall as you, so we can only put the rock on your chest."

Landon pictured himself lying on the street with a big rack on his chest....

He silently glanced at the huge rock and coughed dryly. "Betty, you can see I'm not strong enough, right? That rock is so big. I'm afraid it won't work."

Betty said, "It's alright. Let's switch to a brick!"

Then, Betty ran to the corner on the other side and carried a brick back.

Landon was speechless.

He was the leader of the Liberals. "Am I going to lie on the ground and do performance on the street?"
he thought.

He felt that this was definitely not possible!

Betty asked solemnly, "Mr. Wright, what are we having for lunch?"

Landon thought about it. The rice and noodles tanks at home seemed to be empty.

Five minutes later, Landon lay on the street.

A few bricks were placed on his chest.

Hector and the others stood in the crowd. When they saw this scene, they were dumbfounded.

A moment later, they walked over and shouted, "Hello folks, I don't know where you come from or where you're headed. I don't know if you're rich or poor. But please give me a moment as I perform a show for you, which is my family treasure. It's called breaking boulders with your chest..."

Landon's face darkened. "Family treasure?"

"Shameless things!" he cursed secretly.

Gradually, many people gathered over.

Chapter 323 Scratch Her Face

It was as if even the slightest sound was an offense to these cars from Paradise Settlement.

A group of bodyguards in black got out of the car. One of them opened the door, and a little girl of eight or nine years old got out of the car.

The little girl was wearing a pink one-piece dress, white leather boots, and an exquisite double ponytail.

The little girl was exquisite and beautiful, but her eyes were filled with arrogance. The moment she got out of the car, she hurriedly covered her mouth and nose with her white lace gloves, her eyes revealing repulsion.

"It stinks!"

The bodyguard hurriedly said, "That's right, Miss Lockwood. This place is really not fun. Let's go back."

The little girl was a little tempted.

However, when she looked up, she saw Betty standing out in the crowd.

In a place filled with filth and sin, the little girl's appearance was like a ray of light, bright and dazzling.

The little girl was stunned. She could not imagine that there would be such a good-looking person in the slums filled with lowlives. She seemed to be even better-looking than her.

She pouted unhappily and said to the bodyguard beside her. "That little girl is really pretty. She's even prettier than me!"

The bodyguard said obsequiously, "Miss Lockwood, she's just a lowlife in the slums. How can she be compared to you? Besides, what's the use of looking good? She still has to perform on the street."

When the little girl heard this, she was a little pleased. "That's right. How can a lowlife be worthy of being so good-looking? I'll go do her a favor."

Then the little girl walked in the direction of Betty.

The bodyguards immediately pushed aside the crowd on both sides fiercely, clearing a wide path for the little girl.

At this moment, the people in the slums were no longer in the mood to watch their performance. They widened their eyes and stared solidly at the little girl and her partner.

It was rare for them to see such a high-ranking person in Paradise Settlement. Some people would never see one in their lives. Now that they had seen one with their own eyes, they had to take a closer look.

Chapter 325 Restraining The Liberals

Two guards of the tribunal committee got ready to walk to the tarmac to welcome the visitors.

Seeing how respectful Julian was to them, they looked up at the helicopter cabin with much curiosity. Shortly after, they saw a man and a woman walk out of the cabin.

The man gently supported the woman as they walked out in an unhurried manner.

The two guards looked at each other in shock.

They immediately recognized the man as the patriarch of the Lockwood family, Draxton Lockwood.

Without a doubt, the woman beside him was Miraculous Doctor, Isabella Thompson.

They did not think Julian was capable of inviting them to Mystical Island.

Although they looked expressionless, their hearts were overwhelmed. It seemed that Julian was determined to crush the Liberals this time.

The Liberals would never be able to win Julian if the latter enlisted Draxton and Isabella's help.

Even if Landon had superhuman powers, he was no match for Julian now.

Julian smiled and said, "Mr. Lockwood, Miss Thompson, it's been a long journey. The tribunal committee building is right in front. Please come with me."

The two guards quickly went forward and bowed. Draxton and Isabella nodded politely before following Julian into the building.

Mystical Island did not belong to any country. The tribunal was the official ruling committee. The rules set by the tribunal committee were the laws of the island.

As such, all the laws of the outside world were not binding on Mystical Island. Everything had to be done according to the tribunal committee's rules on the island.

Even the architectural style of the buildings on Mystical Island was slightly different from those in the outside world.

Cecilia came very quickly.

When she arrived, she still did not look too happy. She ignored Julian and went past him to check on Winnie. “It’s a poisonous bug. It’s a little tricky, but I can certainly cure her,” Cecilia said.

As soon as she said this, the Doyle family immediately cried tears of joy, especially Claudia and Nadine.

Cecilia was, after all, an expert in bug poison crafting. An hour later, the rashes on Winnie’s skin had already begun to subside.

Cecilia said, “Actually, there’s no need for me to do anything. In another ten hours, the rash will subside on its own.

“This bug poison is not harmful to the body. It will only make you feel uncomfortable for a while.”

Puzzled, she asked, “Old Mrs. Doyle, how did Winnie get poisoned by the bug?”

Claudia was very fond of Cecilia. Julian was her third son. She knew about the relationship between Cecilia and Julian all this while, although she did not say anything. She had long regarded Cecilia as her daughter-in-law.

Both Julian and Cecilia had been together for many years but never got married.

Before Claudia could say anything, Julian said, “Celia, I have something to tell you.”

Cecilia looked at Julian coldly but did not say anything.

“Draxton and Isabella are on Mystical Island,” Julian said.

Cecilia’s eyes flickered as she finally walked toward Julian.

The two of them then went to Julian’s room.

Closing the door, Cecilia asked coolly. “What are they doing here?”

Her broken hand was still in a cast. It was obvious that her injury was rather serious.

Julian stepped forward and held her hand gently. “Celia, don’t be angry. Back then, I could only do what I did to protect you. To save you, I’ve already given up the management of District 9!”

“What? You gave District 9 to Draxton?” Cecilia exclaimed.

Julian said, “District 9 is getting more and more chaotic. If Draxton wants it, I’ll let him have it. At that time, Draxton wanted to use District 9 to exchange for your life. I had no other choice.

“Celia, you’re really willful this time. You shouldn’t have touched Draxton’s daughter. You even left clues behind and got caught.

Seeing that the assassin was dead, a figure appeared beside Betty's bed.

It was the young man who had stroked the snake earlier.

He was the one who made Betty turn over.

The young man looked at the hole in the bed that the assassin had stabbed. He laughed coldly. "Julian's methods are as despicable as ever. Fortunately, we were prepared."

As he spoke, he gently tucked Betty under the blanket.

The little girl was still snoring.

"This child is sleeping too soundly. She didn't even wake up with such a huge commotion."

Chapter 328 The Banquet

Draxton and Isabella looked around calmly, taking in the expressions of everyone in the banquet hall.

Some did not take to the news too kindly. Some looked hostile, while others were cold and even malicious.

Julian was beaming from ear to ear. He was obviously in a good mood. He said loudly, "Ladies and gentlemen, the identities of these two new members are very special. They do not belong to Mystical Island, but they have very distinguished backgrounds.

"They are the patriarch of the Lockwood family, Mr. Draxton Lockwood, and the famous Miraculous Doctor, Miss Isabella Thompson!"

As soon as he finished speaking, there was a series of gasps from the crowd.

Even though Mystical Island had no contact with the outside world and did not welcome outsiders, it was still a place on Earth. Therefore, they knew about Draxton and Isabella's reputations.

Needless to say, the Lockwood family was a large family with an ancient heritage.

They also knew about Isabella's meteoric rise in reputation over the past few years.

Some of the renowned doctors from Mystical Island had claimed that Isabella could bring the sick people whom these doctors could not cure back to life.

For a moment, everyone in the banquet hall looked at the two of them with curiosity and admiration.

They all knew that the status of these two people was no lower than Julian, the vice president of the tribunal committee.

At the end of the hall sat a distinguished-looking lady. Although her clothes were clean and neat, her looks were a little dated. Her face was ashen.

The old lady was accompanied by a middle-aged man and a woman, as well as a seventeen or eighteen-year-old girl.

Seeing this scene, the middle-aged man and woman quickly held the old lady's hand and said softly, "Mom."

They shook their heads at the old lady.

Wayne sounded as though he wanted to probe for more information.

He wanted to know what Draxton and Isabella thought of James now.

They heard that James was no longer as competent and was sent back to Mytical Island by Draxton back.
then

However, from the looks of it, they were not sure if that was the truth.

The young man from the Beck family held his face that was still stinging from the punch from James. He stared at the group with a sinister glint.

Both the patriarch and matriarch of the Beck family, as well as James' parents were standing beside him.
They were looking in the direction of the ground.

Fionna's face was especially grim.

She muttered, "Andy, James has gone overboard. How can he hit his younger brother? I know that James is displeased with me and Brandon, but how can he..."

James' father was Andy Beck. His face was ashen.

He looked at his wife and son with a pained expression. He then walked toward James angrily.

Andy was sneering in his heart. He was interested to see what James would do if Draxton and Isabella gave him the cold shoulder. He could not wait to see how embarrassed James would be in front of

Chapter 330 Teach Her A Lesson

Everyone was aghast when they heard what Winnie said. How could such a girl want to scratch someone's face at such a young age?

The banquet hall was silent. Winnie's childish and slightly sharp voice rang through the hall like an ear-piercing shriek.

Everyone glanced at Winnie. However, on account of how influential the Doyle family was, they all pretended not to notice her immature behavior.

Julian's expression darkened for a moment. He suddenly realized that his little niece seemed to have been pampered too much by her family.

When he looked at his family members' reactions, they did not seem to find anything wrong with her insolence. Instead, they were looking at her affectionately. Obviously, they did not think there was anything wrong with what Winnie just said.

If Winnie wanted to scratch someone else's face today, he could only blame the victim for having a wretched life. However, the person Winnie was referring to was the daughter of Draxton and Isabella.

One look at Draxton and Isabella and Julian could tell that they regarded his family with much hostility. However, what Julian was most baffled about was that Betty was still alive.

He had thought that she was already dead.

Julian had planned to bring Draxton and Isabella to the slums settlement to look for their daughter. It was then that they would discover that their daughter had been killed by Liberals.

They would cooperate to destroy the Liberals. However, the truth was that Betty was still alive and well. Moreover, from Landon's attitude, it was obvious that he was here to cause
