Chapter 331 A Slap

Winnie met Isabella's gaze and immediately cowered in fear.

Her face instantly turned pale, and she instinctively took a step back.

Isabella looked very intimidating. There was not even a trace of emotion in her eyes. She looked at Winnie coldly as if she was looking at a dead person.

Isabella pushed Claudia away. Turning around, she strode up to Winnie. She said coldly, "Did you just call her a wretch?"

Isabella asked the girl in a cool voice.

Although afraid, Winnie raised her voice and replied, "She's just a wretch. A wretch living in the slums."

Isabella's gaze turned even colder. "Did you also say you want to scratch her face?"

Winnie continued to say loudly, "She's just a wretch. So what if I scratch her face?"

Slap!

Isabella slapped her across the face.

Winnie's face fell to one side. Her face swelled up quickly that everyone could see her puffy face. There were five clear finger marks on her face.

Her lips had hit her teeth, and there was a cut on the corner of her lips. Blood oozed out quickly.

Isabella did not show any mercy.

Everyone was stunned.

Everyone was shocked. They could not believe their ears when they heard what Julian said.
The little girl beside Landon was Isabella's daughter!
Only then did they notice that Betty and Draxton had the same darkblue eyes.
Julian must be telling the truth then.
No wonder Isabella was so angry that she slapped Winnie.
It was really hard to tell now which side the Lockwood family and Isabella were on.
The banquet hall fell into deep silence. They now felt that what was about to happen was going to be exciting.

However, they thought that even if that little girl was indeed Draxton and Isabella's daughter, Julian was still a very powerful figure. He was like the king of Mystical Island. It was comparable to the president of a country in the outside world.

Julian had now humbled himself.

He had drunk the glass of wine. The guests gasped in surprise.

The Doyle family was even more dumbfounded.

For a moment, everyone looked at Betty in horror. If they did not hear wrongly, the little girl was carrying a poisonous snake on her back.

Landon lowered his head and looked at Betty with a hint of affection in his eyes. He did not tell her about the assassination attempt that night as he did not want to scare the little girl.

Hence, all this while, Betty slept soundly and ate soundly. She was as carefree and happy as ever.

In the end, they were the ones who had to clear the mess.

Landon smiled and stroked Betty's curly hair. He said gently, "Don't you miss your parents when you see them? Or do you miss Mr. Wright?"

As he said this, Landon was secretly hopeful. If the young lady liked him, he might be able to keep Betty by his side without any resistance.

Julian's way of putting it was rather clumsy, but he did make some sense.

If the news that Draxton was about to control District 9 were to leak, it could make the various forces of District 9 might want to rebel.

In particular, the people on the Mystical Island were abnormally xenophobic.

Everyone knew that Julian was quibbling, but they did not have evidence of it.

However, Landon's expression did not change. He looked at Julian indifferently and said, "Julian, we'll be able to find evidence if you were the one who did this. I hope you won't leave any traces.

"As long as you leave a trace, we will find it."

Julian stared fixedly at Landon who stared back at him. Their gazes met, and the electrifying and threatening murderous intent grew between the two.

Landon's expression was cold, and Julian's eyes were filled with danger. In the end, Julian looked away first. He looked at Isabella and Draxton and said, "Mr. Lockwood, Miraculous Doctor, this matter has nothing to do with me. Although we had had our conflicts before, you have to believe me. I definitely won't assassinate your daughter."

Isabella said, "Mr. Duncan, we need evidence to prove whether you assassinated our daughter or not. I agree with Mr. Wright. If you had done it, there would be traces of your doings. Mr. Duncan, I hope you really didn't do it.

"As for District 9, it will eventually be ours."

Julian said confidently, "Miraculous Doctor, go ahead and investigate. You must clear my name as soon as possible."

He glanced at Landon. "As for some people slandering me, his evil intentions will be exposed one day." Julian spoke confidently. Draxton looked at him deeply. "Mr. Duncan, remember what you said today. If we find out evidence that you were involved, I am sure you know what will happen to you and the Doyle family. "You don't need me to tell you what will happen to those who have hurt the Lockwood family."

Then, Draxton ignored Julian's stiff and ugly expression and walked up to Landon. "Thank you for taking care of Betty, Mr. Wright."

Draxton was indeed very grateful to Landon. Looking at Betty, he was sure that she had been doing well recently.

"You're welcome, Mr. Lockwood. We and Betty go a long way back. We should take care of her!"

Landon was a little embarrassed. They were too poor and could not give the little girl any material goods. The food they ate was really simple, but the little girl was not picky when it came to food. It was really endearing.

The long-haired man called Leslie chuckled and said, "There's no hurry. Let's wait and see first. We have to find out how capable Mr. Lockwood is!"

As he spoke, the red wine in the crystal goblet in his hand suddenly turned into ice, and a cold gust of air seeped from the goblet.

The cold fog enveloped the entire goblet. In the blink of an eye, the entire goblet turned into ice. The long-haired man clenched his fingers, and the ice in his hand turned into powder and scattered onto the ground.

The next day, Isabella and Draxton brought Betty to the streets to perform.

Landon and the others also came along to watch the show.

District 9 was not like the slums settlement.

There were many rich people in the 9th district, so it was rare to see street performers in the 9th district.

Therefore, when Isabella's family stood on the street and started performing, many people immediately surrounded them.

Most importantly, these street performers all exuded a noble aura. One look at them and one could tell that they were not ordinary people. It was really surprising that such people would come to the streets to perform. The audience figured that this performance was just a game for the rich.

However, there were quite a number of audience.

"Betty, what should we perform first?" Isabella asked Betty seriously, looking ready to take all instructions from the girl.

Chapter 336 Two Uninvited Guests

In his nearly 30 years of life, Draxton had never imagined that he would one day stand on the streets and dance a dance he had never imagined.

However, when he saw his beloved wife singing beside him and saw his daughter's happy smile, Draxton gradually relaxed. He felt that everything was worth it.

In fact, after the surrounding crowd was stunned for a moment, they could not help but cheer. Betty waved as she moved between her parents and jumped up like Draxton.

Betty was still a little girl. When Betty jumped, she was especially cute. As a result, by contrast, Draxton looked a little clumsy. Although Draxton looked clumsy, he exuded an adorable aura. Isabella felt that the current Draxton was especially cute.

Looking at this family of three, Landon and the others were already stunned.

"Well... It's so amazing!" Hector and the others stammered. They could not believe that in order to pamper his daughter, the dignified patriarch of the Lockwood family and the Miraculous Doctor, Isabella, were really dancing on the streets.

However, when they saw Betty standing between her parents, singing and dancing happily, they could not help but sigh softly. How good!

The man was handsome and dignified, the woman was beautiful and lively, and the little girl in the middle of the two was cute and adorable. This family of three made the onlookers laugh at first, but

Chapter 337 The Shameless Patriarch Grey

The sudden appearance of the old man shocked the surrounding crowd. This old man had an extraordinary bearing Those who were knowledgeable immediately recognized the old man's identity. He was actually Patriarch Grey.

Isabella, Draxton, Landon, and the others were originally standing at the side cheering for Betty and the big snake. At this moment, when they saw Patriarch Grey appear, they immediately frowned slightly.

After Patriarch Grey walked into the performance venue, the big snake, which was originally working hard to perform, fell to the ground at once with a thud.

Betty's expression changed. She quickly went forward and picked up the big snake, hugging it in her arms. The big snake did not move.

Betty realized something. She turned to look at Patriarch Grey, only to see Patriarch Grey look at her and the big snake disdainfully. Patriarch Grey mocked, "Little girl, why don't you let this snake continue to perform?" Betty's eyes widened. Her face was filled with disdain as Betty said, "Old man, you're bullying a child. I look down on you!"

As she spoke, Betty gave Patriarch Grey a disdainful gaze.

Patriarch Grey's expression darkened as he scolded angrily, "Arrogant brat!"

After saying that, Patriarch Grey looked at Isabella coldly and questioned, "I heard that you're Jocelyn's disciple?"

Isabella had heard Master Grey mention her family before. Master Grey only said that her family didn't like her. They didn't like her since she was a little girl. They would rather like the adopted daughter, Cecilia, than Jocelyn, a biological daughter.

Patriarch Grey had never given Jocelyn a good attitude since Jocelyn was a little girl, and Jocelyn had never received any warmth from the Grey family.

Therefore, Isabella's expression was not gentle when she looked at Patriarch Grey. Isabella said coldly, "That's right!"

Patriarch Grey suddenly shouted, "How dare you! Since you're Jocelyn's disciple, you're also a disciple of the Grey family. Why didn't you kneel to show your respect to me when you see me?"

Isabella's expression turned even colder. "Kneel to show my respect to you? Old man, are you worthy?" Isabella's question was merciless.

Patriarch Grey was immediately enraged. However, before Patriarch Grey could speak, the middle-aged follower beside Patriarch Grey said sternly, "How dare you! Miraculous Doctor, do you know who the person in front of you is? Patriarch Grey is Jocelyn's father, her biological father. He's also the Grey family's patriarch. Clan Mobius is only a subsidiary of the Grey family. Do you think he's worthy?"

Isabella's expression was indifferent. "I only acknowledge my master is Jocelyn Grey. As for the others, what does it have to do with me?"

"Well. You are indeed the disciple she taught. Just like her, you also have no respect for the elders and are rebellious and difficult to tame.

Time might seem slow, but in fact, it passed very quickly. In a few minutes, Betty's bugs all crawled into the body of the red-shell poisonous scorpion.

At that moment, the red-shell poisonous scorpion's body swelled to the size of an egg.

Patriarch Grey had suffered a great loss at Draxton's hands. Now that he saw how mighty his General
Red was, he couldn't help but reveal a smug expression.

Isabella hugged Betty and looked coldly at Patriarch Grey.

Patriarch Grey sneered "General Red, hurry up and eat that snake too!"

Isabella sneered. With a flick of her finger, General Red rolled off the snake's body.

Patriarch Grey was shocked "Impossible, how could you..."

His General Red was the alpha of artificially cultured poisonous bugs. Where did this Isabella get the ability to deal with General Red?

Isabella carried Betty and stood up. He stared at Patriarch Grey and said, "Patriarch Grey, you have to know that there is always someone better in this world. You... are not qualified to be arrogant in front of me!"

With that, she sneered and looked at Patriarch Grey mockingly.

Patriarch Grey was furious. Coupled with the surging pain in his body, he immediately spat out a mouthful of blood.

Isabella looked at him with even more disdain.

Chapter 339 Butterflies

Isabella stood on the streets of District 9 in the middle of the night and saw the figures of the Grey family rushing out at the end of the street.

It was obvious that they were looking for General Red.

Isabella's eyes were cold. She smiled mockingly and left in a flash.

Isabella actually did not understand. The Grey family was Master Grey's blood relative, but they did not have any warmth for Master Grey. Instead, they loved Cecilia, who was adopted, very much.

When she heard Master Grey talk about the Grey family, Isabella felt puzzled. Now that she had met the Grey family, she could be considered to have personally seen how overboard the Grey family was.

Because they hated Master Grey, so they also hated Isabella as well. They even vented their hatred on Betty. who was a five-year-old.

How great of a grudge was this?

The Thompson family schemed against her because the Thompson family was not her family.

The Lang family despised her because they had never lived under the same roof.

However, Master Grey was born and raised in the Grey family. The Grey family's coldness towards Master Grey made her especially puzzled.

Isabella returned to district master's manor. The moment she entered, he saw a figure standing like a ghost under a pavilion in district master's manor.

It had to be mentioned that most of the buildings on the Mystical Island followed the architectural style from a thousand years ago. Although they had more or less been assimilated by modern times, they still had an antique style.

Isabella happened to pass by. The figure heard the commotion and turned around. When he saw that it was Isabella, he could not help but look surprised. He asked, "Madam, it's so late. Did you go out?"

Isabella also looked at the other party in surprise. "Yes, I had something on and went out for a while. Wren, it's already so late. Why aren't you resting?"

Wren bowed apologetically and said, "I'm sorry to disturb you, Madam. It's just that I'm old and can't sleep at night."

Chapter 340 The Disliked Mr. Lockwood

Draxton raised his hand and said, "Sit down first."

An unnatural expression flashed across James's face. He also realized that he had been too impatient. Six months ago, when he was sent back to the Mystical Island, he had been waiting for this day.

However, he did not expect the patriarch to arrive so quickly!

As if knowing what he was thinking, Draxton said, "I didn't plan to come so soon. According to our plan, I should only come to the Mystical Island six months later. It was just a coincidence that Betty was brought to the Mystical Island, so our plan could only be brought forward."

James nodded. "Mr. Lockwood, the underground chamber of commerce is operating very well now. Theo has established a stable interest relationship with a portion of the forces on the Mystical Island."

"I know," said Draxton. Then, he looked at James and said, "I've waited for so many years. We can almost avenge your mother. Don't be anxious. Be more patient."

James adjusted his silver-framed glasses. His fingers trembled slightly as he said, "I will."

After saying that, his excited expression gradually calmed down.

Isabella listened to them quietly. Draxton explained to her, "When I met James back then, we were still young. I was covered in injuries. I saved him and knew that he had a huge grudge to take. All these years, we had been enduring it.

"At that time, I planned to let the Lockwood family's forces infiltrate into the Mystical Island, so I sent Theo to the Mystical Island. Theo did not disappoint me."

Isabella was a little surprised. "Is the underground chamber of commerce on the Mystical Island an existence that is not inferior to any large faction... yours?"

Isabella looked at Draxton.

Receiving Isabella's shock, Draxton puffed out his chest slightly with a proud expression.

James was slightly stunned as he looked at Draxton in astonishment.

"How did... Mr. Lockwood become like this?

"He's a little childish," thought James.

James looked at Isabella. He felt that the patriarch's wife was really not simple.

He had long heard that Martin and Alan had been punished by the patriarch for offending Isabella. The punishment was not light.
