

Kick Ass Wife 461

Chapter 461

As they had guests at home, Frieda and Patriarch Wheeler got up early the next morning.

So did Erica. As soon as she got up, she asked the servants to prepare a hearty breakfast.

Frieda and Patriarch Wheeler went downstairs and nodded in satisfaction. In a good mood, Frieda had a smile on her face as she spoke.

‘ Erica, thank you for your hard work. Fortunately, you came back to help. Otherwise, your sister-in-law Lydia wouldn’t have been able to take care of all this alone.’

‘ Mom, what are you talking about? I’m your daughter. Lydia went to the office early in the morning to send breakfast to Denver and Yax. She was worried because they didn’t come back last night.’

‘ Alas, I wonder how the company is doing.’ Patriarch Wheeler sighed. Frieda said. Hubby, why are you sighing? When we send Mr. Chancely back to Southeast Aelinne, Draxton is dead meat.

“The Barker family is nothing without Draxton. President will definitely be pleased to hear the news. Then he might take us seriously again. That’s when the Wheeler family rises!’

Patriarch Wheeler didn’t say anything, but he looked like he thought the same way. Erica said cheerfully, “Dad, Mom, when the Wheeler family surpasses the Lockwood family, I’ll let Philip kneel in front of me and apologize!’

She was still mad at Philip. Though it had been more than 20 years, she had not let it go yet.

Erica did not think she was inferior to Jeanne in every aspect, but Philip thought less of her. She would trample that man’s pride under her feet one day. As for Jeanne...

The three of them chatted for a while, picturing the bright future of the Wheeler family.

Patriarch Wheeler said, “Erica, go check out if Mr. Chancely has woken up. Ask him down for breakfast. We’ll discuss business together after breakfast.”

Erica nodded. When she walked past Shelly’s room, she saw that the door was closed and it was very quiet inside.

Shelly was usually still asleep at this time. Instead of waking her up. Erica went straight to the guest room.

Actually, she did not want Shelly to face Jerico. It was good that they did not see each other.

She was about to knock when the door of the guest room opened from the inside.

Frieda was a bit annoyed, but she knew that Erica was temperamentally cool and collected, and she wouldn’t have screamed if nothing happened. Thinking of this, she struggled to hold back her anger.

Erica watched Frieda enter the room in a daze, her eyes bloodshot. The next second, she heard Frieda scream as well.

Frieda looked at Shelly on the bed in shock. All of the blood in her body rushed to her brain. Her head spun and she fell to the floor.

Erica did not help her up. She stared blankly at Frieda and mumbled, "Mom, it's Mr. Chancelly. Mom..."

Frieda was completely dumbfounded.

The commotion caught Patriarch Wheeler's attention. He looked at Jerico apologetically and said, "Mr. Chancelly, I'm sorry. I'll go check out what they're screaming for."

Judging from Erica and Frieda's miserable screams, Patriarch Wheeler could tell that something was wrong. He would not feel assured if he did not go take a look.

Jerico's two subordinates were standing behind him now. Their eyes shone with excitement as if they could not wait to watch a big show.

Jerico smiled meaningfully and stood up. "Why don't we go take a look together?"

Patriarch Wheeler hesitated for a moment. Seeing that Jerico and the other two had already walked out, he thought it would be inappropriate to stop them, so he just followed them out.

Erica was standing at the door. When she saw Patriarch Wheeler walk over with Jerico and his men, her bloodshot eyes were filled with horror instantly.

She shrieked and rushed into the room like a lunatic. After covering Shelly with a blanket, she opened her arms in front of the bed, staring at the door warily.

Patriarch Wheeler frowned. Though he already figured that something was wrong, his face turned pale at the sight of Shelly.

Erica tried to block his view, but he still saw everything on the bed clearly. He could tell what had happened without a second thought.

Patriarch Wheeler looked at Jerico in disbelief.

Isabella laughed. "Sure, it's obvious."

Hector said, "Bella, you're so smart! My parents. Grandpa, and Grandma haven't figured it out yet.

"My sister never tells anyone about her boyfriend. Even I don't know who he is. If I hadn't accidentally discovered that she was chatting with someone some time ago, I wouldn't have known that she was in a relationship!"

Isabella was even more curious. "She even keeps it from you? You don't know anything about her boyfriend?"

"Yes." Hector frowned and said, "I've asked her a few times. Every time, she was reluctant to say anything about that man and changed the topic quickly as if her boyfriend was a monster she didn't want anyone to see. It's normal to have a boyfriend at her age. I don't understand why she's hiding this from us."

Isabella put on a serious look and said, "Your sister is a noble young lady. She's supposed to have a boyfriend from a wealthy family with a similar social status as the Barker family.

"However... since she's so reluctant to let us know about her boyfriend, I guess that man is unlikely to be from a noble family. As her brother, you should check things out so she won't get hurt."

Hector sighed helplessly. "I told her that. She looks good-natured, but she's actually very stubborn. If she doesn't want to tell you, you can't get anything out of her.

"Bella, I can tell she treats you differently. You're of her age. Why don't you ask her about it when she comes back?"

As the two of them were discussing in a low voice, Betty and Ricky pricked their ears and listened carefully out of curiosity.

After they finished gossiping about Yvette, Isabella and Hector looked up and saw the two kids' chubby faces.

With a doting smile, Isabella pulled the kids over and kissed them on the cheek.

Seeing the smug look in her eyes, Betty and Ricky felt a little helpless. They looked at

Isabella dotingly and asked, "Mom, do you want to kiss us again?"

With that, they moved the other side of their face to Isabella.

Isabella raised her eyebrows. Ever since she got pregnant, Draxton and even the two kids doted on her very much.

Yvette left the Barker family's house and drove to the restaurant in a mall.

Isaac pulled Yvette out of the mall and into the underground parking lot. Yvette's car was also parked in it, but Isaac stuffed her into his car.

Although the two of them had been dating for five years, Yvette rarely got into Isaac's car.

She looked around curiously as if she had just found something special.

“Hmph, what are you looking at? Miss Barker, you’ve seen all kinds of fancy cars. What’s so good about mine?”

Isaac was even more upset when he saw the curious baby scan around in his car.

Yvette said calmly, “You don’t understand.”

“I don’t understand? Ha! Do you know where I’m driving you?” Isaac suddenly narrowed his eyes, a dangerous glint shining in them.

Only then did Yvette remember that this man had just said that he would drive her to a hotel...

Her fair face immediately turned red, and the redness spread all the way to her neck.

She looked like a peach just ripe, fresh and juicy, making Isaac want to swallow her up right away.

Isaac felt his throat parched and quickly averted his gaze.

‘Are you afraid?’ he started the car and asked, looking ahead. “If you’re afraid, beg me now and I’ll let you go!”

Yvette retorted, “Who’s afraid?”

‘Hum!’ Along with Isaac’s sneer, the car sped away.

Yvette did not speak all the way, her face still red. She tilted her head and looked out of the car window, not daring to look at Isaac.

Isaac remained silent with a gloomy face. He looked ahead all along while driving.

A while later, they arrived at a hotel nearby.

Isaac parked the car in the hotel square and turned his head to look at the woman beside him. “Here we are.”

Yvette looked up at the entrance of the hotel and grabbed her clothes tightly, her face as red as a cooked shrimp.

However, she did not want to give up. She would have to break up with Isaac if she left.

"Even if you can endure hardship, it's not easy to master martial skills," Isabella said.

Yvette felt very disappointed, looking like she had just been dealt a heavy blow.

Isabella continued, "But if you really want to learn, I can teach you some self-defense skills."

Yvette looked at her with inquiring eyes.

Isabella shook her hand and a long fine needle immediately appeared between her fingers. Staring at the needle, Yvette's eyes lit up in an instant.

She remembered that Bella had used such a needle to confine Jerico that day.

"I can make you master this skill quickly. You just need to remember the acupoints of the human body. Then, I'll teach you acupuncture.

' When you encounter danger, you have a good chance to use the needle to subdue the enemy. But you're gonna tell me why you want to learn self-defend skills."

Yvette blinked. "I just... I just want to be able to protect myself. If something happens... I won't be a burden."

Isabella looked at her thoughtfully.

Yvette felt a little uncomfortable under her gaze.

Isabella smiled playfully and asked, 'Yvette, do you have a boyfriend?"

Yvette blushed instantly, a trace of panic flashing across her eyes. Without giving it a second thought, she said, "No, I don't.'

Isabella turned her fingertips and put away the fine needle. "Why are you so shy? I used to be in a relationship too. You can't keep it from me. ' Do you want to learn acupuncture from me? If you want, just tell me.' Isabella leaned against the head of the bed, looking like she was ready to listen to Yvette's romance.

Yvette said angrily, "Bella, did that brat Hector tell you?"

Isabella answered, "Not really. I figured out that you were in a relationship, so I confirmed it with Hector.

The hatred in Erica's eyes grew increasingly denser. Michael was now immersed in pain and did not notice it at all.

At this point, Shelly, who was lying on the bed, moved. Michael's heart skipped a beat.

He strode to the bedside and stared at her nervously.

Shelly's eyelashes fluttered, then she opened her eyes.

"Shelly..." Michael called out carefully. Shelly stared blankly at the ceiling without any reaction.

"Shelly! Michael raised his voice slightly.

Still, Shelly did not respond.

"Shelly, Shelly! It's Mom, Shelly..."

Erica pounced on the bed and began shaking Shelly's shoulders. However, Shelly was still staring at the ceiling in a daze, with obvious blood streaks in her eyes.

Erica's eyes widened. She exerted more strength on her arms, causing Shelly's body to shake violently.

Seeing that, Michael pulled Erica away and shouted, "Erica, you'll hurt her if you continue to do this!"

Erica's eyes were wide open and filled with fear. She burst into tears and said, "What's wrong with Shelly? Why isn't she saying anything? Shelly..."

Michael comforted her, "Erica, Shelly will be fine. Let's avenge her and let that bastard pay the price!'

Erica stopped crying and suddenly calmed down.

The Wheeler family was still counting on Jerico to kill Draxton. How could they take revenge on him now?

No, they couldn't!

Moreover, the Chancely family was in Southeast Aelinne. There was no way they could go there to get even with Jerico.

Thinking that she had calmed down, Michael turned to the bed and called Shelly twice, but Shelly remained motionless.

Hector stammered, 'Maybe... maybe Yvette has a boyfriend and she went on a date!'

Megan's eyes widened. "That's impossible! If she had a boyfriend, how could I not know? It's already 9:30 p.m. She has never been outside after 9:30 p.m. Something must have happened. Her phone is off."

'Yvette's phone is off?'

Hector was shocked.

Isabella, who was sitting not far away, suddenly looked up when she heard that. 'Did

Yvette turn off her phone?'

Megan called Yvette again, but her phone was still off.

Hector was not in the mood to play games anymore. He called Yvette and could not reach her either.

The Barker family panicked.

Isabella looked at Draxton and said, "Draxton, Maestria is not safe recently. Yvette is a girl and she's alone outside. Maybe nothing has happened to her, but we can't take it lightly."

Those men were obviously drunk. They smoked and drank while telling dirty jokes.

A man with blond hair said, 'Eldwin, this is the daughter of the Barker family. The Barker family... is related to the Lockwood family. Are we really going to do this for four million?'

Eldwin was a tall and thin man with a ponytail. He said with a snort, "Are you afraid?"

"I'm not afraid of the Lockwood family and the Barker family of course. But I'm afraid that the higher-ups will find out."

The blond-haired man lowered his voice.

"You mean Henderson and Vernon?" Eldwin sneered, "You know, they can't wait for the Lockwood family to be taken down. If they found out, they would reward us instead of blaming us."

"The woman is awake!"

Another man who had his hair dyed blue said.

Eldwin was stupefied by what Harry was doing.

Harry was so strong that he could lift Eldwin off the floor without difficulty. Moreover, he was Isaac's assistant. Eldwin always wanted to find a chance to curry favor with him. He did not dare to offend him of course.

Seeing Harry's fierce look, the red-hair man stammered, "Ha... Harry, calm down. Do... do you know her?"

Harry glanced at him and threw Eldwin away with a snort, then he strode into the private room.

Harry walked up to Yvette. When he saw her in a total mess, the corners of his lips twitched.

He squatted down and untied her, showing a flattering smile. Haha! Yvette, it's just a misunderstanding.'

After Yvette regained her freedom, she still had a lingering fear. She grabbed Harry's arm and looked at Eldwin and the others in fear, her face ghastly pale. 'Are they your subordinates?"

Harry grew even more flustered. "Well, kind of."

After saying that, he hurriedly explained, 'Yvette, although they're members of the Star Society, they're not direct reports to me or Isaac. They should be under one of my subordinates."

Yvette rubbed her wrist which was hurting from being tied up and asked in a low voice, Where is he?"

"Isaac is on his way. He's supposed to be here soon."

After Harry finished speaking, he turned around and sent the red-haired man flying with a kick. Watching him fall off the wall, he sneered, 'How dare you guys kidnap Miss Barker?!"

The red-haired man's face was twisted in pain. When he struggled to his feet in the corner, his forehead was covered in sweat.

Eldwin's face turned pale as well. He said in a trembling voice, "Harry, we knew that this girl was from the Barker family.

‘ But someone wanted her to die and asked us to torture her before killing her. The payment was handsome and we thought she was from the Barker family, so we took the job.”

Harry’s eyes were icy cold. “Who asked you to kill her?”

Eldwin didn’t dare to lie. “It’s... it’s Mrs. Flouder. Her surname was Wheeler before she got married.”

Hector's scream was so high-pitched and miserable that Yvette, who was crying in Isaac's arms thought she was hallucinating.

With tears in her eyes, she raised her head in confusion and looked in the direction the voice came from.

Then, she saw Hector, who was on the verge of breaking down. Yvette instantly forgot to cry. She looked at him, dumbfounded.

"He... Hector..."

When she saw Draxton beside Hector, her head buzzed.

"Gosh! I'm dead!" she thought.

She did not dare to imagine what would happen next.

Isaac smiled bitterly in his heart when sensed Yvette's body going stiff. He had long known that he was not good enough for her.

There was a world of difference between them in terms of family background, educational background, experience, social status, and so on, so he thought Yvette deserved a better man.

He was always thinking of breaking up with her so that she could get over him and move forward.
