

Kick Ass Wife 471

Chapter 471

Dragged by Hector, Yvette turned around to look at Isaac from time to time, but Hector was too strong. Yvette was brought out of the Sapphire Club.

Isaac's eyes never landed on Yvette for a second. He lowered his head, motionless as if he had turned into a statue.

However, only Harry, who was beside him, saw that his fists were clenched tightly and the veins on his forehead were bulging.

"Isaac..." Harry called out worriedly.

Isaac raised his head. His eyes were cold as he asked. Who is involved?" Harry knew what he was asking, so he immediately brought Eldwin and the others over.

Eldwin and the others, who had aware of the relationship between Yvette and Isaac, knelt down and begged for mercy the moment they arrived in front of Isaac, heedless of being shocked.

Isaac stared at them coldly and said, 'I don't need to say much about the Star Society's rules. You must have seen and memorized them when you joined it.

"We will not attack unless we are attacked; if we are attacked, we will certainly counterattack.

"What did the Barker family do to offend you? You took on private jobs and kidnapped innocent people for money. I don't need to tell you the punishment you deserve, right?"

Eldwin explained in a weak tone, Isaac, we don't know your relationship with the Barker family's eldest daughter. If we knew, we wouldn't dare to lay a finger on her.

"Isaac, we know nothing about this. Can you please let us off this time?"

' Besides... Mr. Lockwood and Mr. Vernon Lockwood will sooner or later go against the Lockwood family and the Barker family sooner or later. Don't we also want to share their worries? Isaac, just..."

"Share worries? Do you think you're qualified to share their worries? I think you're causing trouble!"

Isaac's eyes were filled with intense killing intent as he said sternly, Harry, drag them away. You know how to punish the traitors!"

Harry was shocked. Then, he looked at Eldwin and the others sympathetically.

Eldwin and the others paled visibly at Isaac's words. How did they become traitors?

The Star Society's way of dealing with traitors was definitely not as simple as breaking an arm or a leg.

They would rather be killed than accept the punishment.

Yvette returned to her room and called Isaac. The call went through, but no one picked up.

She put the phone down and drifted off to sleep.

The streetlights on both sides of the mountain road were dim and soft. Isaac and Harry brought a few men in black suits and parked the car by the roadside. It was already late at night, and there were no souls on the road at this time.

Isaac was dressed in black. He leaned against the front of the car and held a cigarette between his fingers. The cigarette end flickered, and his tightly furrowed brows betrayed a hint of impatience.

Suddenly, the two-speed car approached from afar. Isaac looked up and narrowed his eyes slightly.

Harry and the others also looked at the car. The few of them immediately perked up, staring at the car like wild beasts eyeing their prey.

Erica had something on her mind as she drove. Shelly's condition had stabilized a lot.

She heaved a sigh of relief, but at the same time, she felt very uncomfortable.

It was because Shelly didn't seem to be close to her and didn't like to talk to her.

At the thought of this, Erica's forehead was bunched in a frown. Then, she curled her lips coldly as she assumed that Yvette must be experiencing everything her daughter had experienced tonight.

She was looking forward to seeing the Barker family's miserable state tomorrow morning.

The thought of this made Erica feel much better.

She was so engrossed in her thoughts that when she found Isaac and the others,

Isaac had already raised his gun and blown up her tires.

Erica was shocked. She realized that something had happened.

Harry went forward and opened the car door. He grabbed Erica's collar and roughly pulled her out of the car.

Erica screamed in extreme panic and fear. "Who are you? What are you doing?"

Isaac went to Mr. Lockwood's residence without a pause.

Following the stone path, Isaac arrived at the resting area of the golf course.

A few bodyguards in black suits stood at the side. Vernon stood upright like a javelin not far away. He stood still with his back facing him as he stared at the situation on the golf course.

Isaac followed Vernon's back and glanced at the court. Henderson was playing basketball with someone inside.

"Mr. Vernon Lockwood," Isaac called out.

Vernon turned around. His dark eyes were no longer as indifferent as usual. This time, he stared at Isaac a few more times. Isaac lowered his eyes slightly and allowed Vernon to size him up. There was no emotion on his slightly rough face.

"My adoptive father is playing basketball. It might take a while. Wait for a while," Vernon said.

He pointed to a table and chair at the side and added, "Sit down." Isaac walked over and sat down.

Isaac thought that Vernon would ask about Yvette, but to his surprise, Vernon did not mention anything about her.

As usual, he had a cold expression on his face and his mind was wandering as if he did not care about anything.

Both of them had cold personalities, so they fell into silence. Laughter could be heard in the stadium from time to time.

After about twenty minutes, Henderson and two men walked over.

Vernon and Isaac both stood up.

Vernon did not say anything.

"Mr. Lockwood," Isaac called out.

Henderson was in his fifties and had some white hair at his temples. Still, his figure was very good owing to years of exercising. One could see the beautiful muscles under his clothes.

In a tracksuit, he walked up to Isaac with a smile. Due to the height difference, he raised his head slightly to look at Isaac.

Isaac lowered his head slightly and dropped his eyes to avoid his gaze.

'Isaac!' Henderson emphasized his name and said, "I've seen you before. I remember that you're that tough guy who laughs at death when fighting!"

"Mr. Lockwood, you flatter me.

Harry was scared stiff. He looked at Isaac as if he was crazy and said, "Isaac, is a hopeless romantic referring to someone like you?"

Isaac stared at him with a terrifying expression.

Harry shrunk his neck and said, 'Isaac, if you want to kill Mr. Lockwood, you have to kill Vernon first! Don't tell me you don't know how terrifying Vernon is?"

Isaac fell silent.

Vernon was like the most useful knife in Henderson's hand. It was impossible to kill Henderson who had a sharp knife in his hand.

Moreover, even without Vernon, how could someone like Henderson not have people protecting him?

'Isaac, I think we're courting death if we really want to kill Henderson," Harry added in the end.

With a sullen face, Isaac remained speechless.

At the same time, in the Barker family.

Yvette put on her dress and drove out happily.

Stanton stood on the balcony on the third floor and stared at his daughter. In the blink of an eye, she disappeared in the car. His face darkened with a sigh as he was aware that Yvette was looking for her boyfriend again!

Megan stood on the other side as she watched Yvette leave. She scolded angrily, "A grown woman can't be kept at home. What kind of taste does she have? Does she really want to be with an uneducated hooligan?"

"Exactly!" Stanton agreed.

Megan had given Stanton the silent treatment for a long time. When she heard what he said, she turned around and left without even looking at him. Stanton was speechless.

‘ Mr. Flouder, you’re valued by President now. It’s not appropriate for you to come and work with us, right?’ Isabella asked with a smile.

Michael said seriously, “That’s totally unrelated! Getting rid of the Chancely family in Southeast Aelinne is not a bad thing for the Lockwood family and Lucsia.

‘ My goal is only revenge. It doesn’t affect my service to President.

“I know that my ability is limited. However, the Flouder family is still a top family in Maestria, which will make things much easier for Mr. Lockwood. I think that’s what you want to see.

‘ Although the Lockwood family is not in need of help, it’s still good to save trouble.”

‘ Makes sense,” Draxton said. He looked at Isabella and said, “What do you think, Bella?”

Isabella said, “That’s true. Well... the Barker family’s tolerance for the Wheeler family has reached its limit. The Barker family wants to teach the Wheeler family a lesson. Mr. Flouder, I wonder what you think?”

Michael fell silent.

The Wheeler family and the Flouder family had always been close, but now that the latter was attacking the Wheeler family, Denver had already asked Michael for help. Michael did not answer the Wheeler family directly.

Isabella asked him the question at this moment. After a moment of silence, Michael said seriously, “I guess I just turn a blind eye. I can’t care less about the Wheeler family.”

The most important thing for him now was to avenge his daughter. Help the Wheeler family? Wouldn’t that be equivalent to helping Jerico?

The thought of this stiffened Michael’s determination. It was impossible for him to help the Wheeler family.

He closed his eyes sadly. All these years, the Flouder family and the Wheeler family had a close relationship and had advanced and retreated together many times.

They were in-laws and should help each other. However, this time, the Wheeler family collaborated with Jerico behind his back, which showed their distrust of him. The point was that they implicated Shelly.

What he couldn’t accept the most was that the Wheeler family still chose to help Jerico after implicating Shelly.

It was stupid of them to do so and at the same time, they hurt Michael’s feelings.

‘Okay!’ Isabella said with a smile, “Mr. Flouder, you’re indeed a sensible person.” I’m flattered...”

Michael’s expression froze. He looked apologetic and hung

Everyone couldn't be bothered to speak and immediately walked towards the ward.

Michael was in the lead. He looked at Erica with a complicated expression and asked with concern, Erica, you're awake. How do you feel?"

Erica had already adapted from her initial confusion. She looked at Michael with tears welling up in her eyes. She grabbed his hand and was about to speak.

At this moment, Sherard and the others walked over.

Sherard asked, "Ms. Wheeler, do you remember who hurt you?"

Erica suddenly got carried away. She said in an intense tone, her voice hoarse, "I remember. It's the Star Society. It's the Star Society!"

She gritted her teeth as she spoke, her face contorted and her eyes filled with resentment.

Star Society?

Michael was stunned, and the police officers all looked at each other in silence.

Sherard's expression turned solemn as he asked, Ms. Wheeler, why would the Star Society want to hurt you?"

"It's Yvette, the daughter of the Barker family. Those hooligans are looking for trouble with me because of Yvette."

Erica's eyes were filled with resentment.

Michael asked, 'Erica, are you mistaken? Why did Miss Barker find people from the Star Society to deal with you?"

Erica said excitedly, "Why not? That Yvette had an affair with that gangster from the Star Society. Yvette must have wanted to take revenge on

However, with Sherard here, Michael could not ask further.

Ms. Wheeler, Miss Barker wants to take revenge on you because of this reason?' Sherard asked in disbelief.

"That's right. I didn't expect Yvette, the dignified daughter of the Barker family, to be involved with someone from the Star Society!"

Erica said hatefully.

However, Michael's face darkened.

Chapter 477

Erica's eyes turned red as if someone had touched her sore spot. She shouted, "Michael, you've finally spoken the truth. You really think I'm the one who has caused Shelly to suffer.

"Can't you reflect on yourself? If it weren't for your incompetence, why would the Wheeler family fight for the chance to overwhelm the Lockwood family?"

Michael took a deep breath and suppressed his anger. He questioned coldly, "All these years, you've been talking about suppressing the Lockwood family. In your heart, I can never compare to Philip? Do you care about him that much?"

Michael's cold eyes stunned Erica. She had never seen Michael speak to her so coldly, nor had she ever heard such a question from Michael.

"Are you yelling at me?" Tears welled up in Erica's eyes as if she had been wronged.

Michael looked at her deeply. After a moment, he turned around and walked out without saying a word.

Erica was taken aback.

Michael could not bear to see her cry. In the past, he would not let her cry, but this time...

' Michael, you really blame me. How can you treat me like this!' Erica cried at the top of her voice.

Michael strode out, his eyes glistening with tears.

He should be the one feeling wronged.

After all these years, Erica never stopped comparing him to Philip, and he had every reason to feel wronged.

Michael had an extraordinary family background and a successful career. Why did Erica have to compare him to Philip? However, in Erica's heart, he was not as good as Philip no matter what he did.

Who was the one who should be wronged?

"Dad." Someone called him from the front. Michael looked up and saw Shelly standing there in her hospital gown.

With a pale face, she stood there looking at him, thin and small.

Michael froze. He went forward and asked, "Why did you come out?"

Shelly asked, "Mom is hospitalized too? What happened to her?"

Michael said, "She's not calm now. You can visit her later."

Edric looked at Michael in surprise. He hesitated for a moment before walking toward him.

Michael had sharp eyes. With just one glance, he could tell that this young man's family background was ordinary.

The young man's clothes were neat, tidy, and very simple, and the material of his clothes was ordinary.

However, his temperament was very clean, and he also had stubbornness and coldness unique to young people. 'Why are you here alone?' Michael asked.

Edric looked at him blandly and said, "I'm here to look for someone."

Michael was a little surprised. After a pause, he said, "Do you need help?"

Edric was slightly moved. He asked, 'Can you drive me in?'

Michael smiled and said, "Of course, but I need to know who you're looking for."

Edric said, "I'm looking for my sister. She lives inside, but I can't reach her. I can only go in and look for her."

Michael said, "Get in the car."

Edric glanced at him and said, "Thanks."

His tone was very flat, but his cold face softened a lot.

Michael drove into the villa area and said, "Which building does your sister live in? I'll send you there."

Edric stared out of the car window as beautiful and unfamiliar buildings flashed past. A trace of confusion flashed across his eyes before he said, "Just drop me here."

Michael glanced at him through the rearview mirror and said, "This place is very big. If you don't know where your sister lives, you'll be discovered very quickly and reported. Then you'll be driven out by the security guards or sent to the police station."

"At that time, when everyone gathers together, you can make the most accurate judgment on who you want to cooperate with and how to cooperate. What do you think?"

Anthony gave Old Mr. Page a deep look and said, Old Mr. Page, you're so thoughtful.'

"Well, it's the least of what I can do," Old Mr. Page said with a smile.

In Sapphire Club.

Yvette sat on the sofa in the living room with a smile. Opposite her, a row of ferocious-looking men in black suits stared at her.

Harry was the first to break the silence. He smiled stiffly and said, "Miss Barker, Isaac is really not here. You've been sitting here for almost a day. Are you hungry? Why don't I treat you to a meal?"

Yvette was not angry after waiting for an entire day. She said good-naturedly, "Alright, there's food here, right? Prepare a table of food, and I'll eat here. It's on Isaac."

The corners of Harry's mouth twitched. He silently wiped the cold sweat off his forehead and said, "Miss Barker, look, this is the hall. There are people coming and going. It's not a good place to eat, right?"

"That's true!" Yvette agreed, then said, "Why don't you take me to a private room? The one Isaac usually stays in. He has a private room, right?"

Harry was rendered speechless.

Harry looked like he was about to cry.

The smile on Yvette's face faded as she asked seriously, "What's wrong? Is this making things difficult for you? I'm his girlfriend. What's wrong with staying in his private room? Could it be that... there's something fishy in his private room? Is there another woman?"

"No, no, no! Miss Barker, please don't misunderstand." Harry's face was pale with fear. 'Don't you know what kind of person Isaac is? How could he find another woman?"

Yvette clapped her hands and stood up. "Well, then bring me to his private room for dinner.'

Sherard explained, 'It's like this. Ms. Wheeler was seriously injured and thrown down the hill. She's still in the hospital. According to her, it was you who instructed the people from the Star Society to do it. The purpose was just to avenge you.

The cause was that at the Wheeler family's banquet, a man showed his interest in you, for which you nursed a grievance, so you took your anger out on her and instructed the Star Society to take revenge on her..."

Yvette widened her eyes in shock and said, "I didn't."

Sherard asked, "Miss Barker, what's your relationship with Isaac?"

Yvette said, "As you can see, he's my boyfriend." Yvette couldn't help but reveal a sweet smile.

Sherard looked at Isaac and said, 'Isaac, were you the one behind it?"

Isaac smiled and said, "Mr. Frasier, we've had quite a lot of dealings with each other. You can't just accuse me without evidence, don't you think so?"

Sherard's expression darkened. "I'm just here for routine questioning. Before I find evidence, of course I won't easily convict anyone."

Then, he asked, 'Isaac, where were you from 12 pm to 1 pm last night?

Isaac said, "I broke up with my girlfriend. I was drinking with my buddies."

"How do you prove it?" asked Sherard, fixing his eyes on Isaac's face.

Isaac said, "All my men can prove it. Mr. Frasier, feel free to ask."

"But you don't look like someone who had just broken up. You didn't break up either. You're lying." Sherard's gaze was sharp.

At this moment, Yvette raised her hand and said weakly, "We had a fight at that time, so I guess Isaac might have thought that we had broken up, so I bought flowers to see him today!"

Sherard looked at the flowers in Isaac's arms.

The rose gave off a sweet smell.

Sherard took a deep breath.

Isaac flashed a smile and leaned forward slightly. He said to Sherard, "Mr. Frasier, why are you so serious? It's hard to settle a family quarrel. Wouldn't it be a waste for you to personally appear for such a matter? You have a lot of work to do every day. There are usually so many major cases. Why waste your time on such a trifle?"

"As expected, you did it!" Sherard's face darkened.
