Chapter 73 Patriarch Riker 2

Patriarch was not being unreasonable. He had investigated Isabella's background. Patriarch knew Isabella was the Lang family's daughter, but the Thompson family swapped her away. Patriarch thought, "Isabella had disappeared for five years, and she brought a child with her when she returned. I suppose that Draxton had an affair with Isabella five years ago and gave a child to Isabella."

Patriarch tried to investigate where Isabella went and what she did in the five years, but he failed to find anything.

Patriarch thought that Draxton would consider Isabella as his mistress and would not pay too much attention to Isabella's child. After all, that child was illegitimate. Patriarch said inside, "Draxton has not messed up with other dirty women in these years. He can be considered celibate to some extent. Almost every man with power and high social status has several women.

When Patriarch heard this, his expression suddenly changed. Patriarch glared at Olivia with his turbid eyes and snorted, saying, "The Lockwood family has spoiled you. Olivia, how can you talk to a senior in this way?

"What?" Olivia could not tolerate Patriarch's attitude. She sneered and said, "The seniors I respect are with the surname Lockwood, not Riker!"

Patriarch got annoyed and shouted, "Even your brother Draxton has to behave in front of me!"

Olivia's eyes widened in surprise, and she said, "My brother doesn't even behave himself in front of my grandpa. Could it be that you deserve more respect than my grandpa?"

Olivia rolled her eyes and cried inside, "Oh my gosh. This old guy is taking himself too seriously. Perhaps he is delusional?
