

KRYPTONIAN: MAN OF STEEL

Chapter 11 Super Divine Water and Magic Beans

Luther took the super divine water handed over by the cat fairy, and the purple liquid showed a strange color in the cup.

"By the way, cat fairy, have you washed this cup?"

Luther suddenly asked.

"Ah?"

Cat Fairy's forehead was sweating, and he was confused by Luther's question.

"Just a joke."

Luther laughed, and then swallowed the super divine water in one gulp.

Come on!

The cup fell to the ground, and Luther felt a burning pain burning from his throat, followed by a pain that seemed to tear his whole body apart.

He did not roll on the ground and struggle in pain. Luther calmly used the super brain to analyze the condition of his body and blocked the pain of his body. Before coming, his cells had stored a lot of sunlight energy, and there was a super brain monitoring. Once the energy was insufficient, he would go out to bask in the sun.

Cat Fairy looked at Luther in shock. After so many years, it was the first time it saw someone drink the super divine water without sadness, joy, pain, or feeling.

If it hadn't felt that Luther's breath was sometimes strong and sometimes weak, and it was unpredictable, it would have thought that Luther was dead.

What an amazing willpower, to be able to endure such pain!

The Cat Immortal was very surprised.

Then Luther didn't struggle for five or six hours, and the Kryptonian cells suddenly became more active, and then the Cat Immortal seemed to see a hideous monster roaring at him.

It was instantly shocked.

Is this Luther's potential?

This potential is too terrible!

Luther breathed a sigh of relief and fell to the ground.

Although he blocked the pain, his body was still inevitably weak, because pain is a warning from the body, not to say that if the pain is blocked, it will be fine.

However, the recovery speed is also very fast, and it can be felt in the blink of an eye. The current strength is stronger than before!

After Sun Wukong drank the super divine water, his combat power doubled from 180 to 260.

In terms of the potential of the Saiyan, doubling is definitely less, so the effect of the super divine water in tapping potential is not very strong.

Luther didn't know his own fighting power. He was not satisfied with his current strength. He was probably not as strong as Raditz. What else could he be satisfied with?

The next step was to make a wish to the Dragon Ball. Luther had thought about whether he could use Shenlong to unlock the genetic restrictions. He also wanted to be infinitely stronger like Clark.

He also wanted to try to unlock the Doomsday mode through Shenlong.

Of course, the Earth Shenlong and Namek Dragon Ball might be a bit shaky. Maybe only Super Dragon Ball could do it.

However, it would be unreasonable to come to the Dragon Ball world without learning some black technology, especially the capsule technology. Maybe it could allow him to take out what he wanted to take away. A small thing like a capsule should not be crushed?

If even the capsule didn't work, Luther planned to go back to Marvel and try Pym particles.

His superpowers could travel back and forth between Marvel and Dragon Ball. There was a coordinate in his perception, and Luther could also open new coordinates. It was a very strange feeling.

"Thank you, Cat Immortal. Can you give me some Senzu beans and Super Divine Water?"

Luther asked politely.

"Ah, you have already developed your potential, why do you still need the super divine water?"

The cat fairy was very puzzled, but he still gave it generously, because Luther took out a bunch of fish for it.

The cat fairy had no idea where Luther got these fish from. Of course, Luther just activated his super speed and ran to the nearby river to catch them.

Little Sun Wukong was able to run to the audience to snatch the sunglasses of Kame Master and put them back on when facing the light of the sun fist. My Kryptonian super speed and combat power are stronger than that of little Wukong. It's not surprising to do such a thing, right?

Luther not only took away a whole jar of super divine water from the cat fairy, but also moved five or six jars of Senzu beans.

The Senzu beans in this period were calculated by jars, and there were several full jars.

Finally, when it came to the period of "Dragon Ball Z", it was difficult to collect a small bag, and the number was so scarce that it could only be calculated by grain.

Ineffective against diseases. Senzu beans can restore physical strength and treat external and internal injuries, but they cannot cure diseases other than shin. In the chapter of the artificial man, Goku was tortured by viral heart disease, but Senzu beans were powerless.

This caused Goku to die young, and indirectly led to the demise of the Z Warriors and the tragic future of Trunks.

With the characteristics of the Saiyans and the effect of Senzu beans, the Saiyans can grow rapidly.

"Cat Immortal, please work hard to grow Senzu beans. I will bring fish to see you often."

When Luther left with satisfaction, he also said to the Cat Immortal.

"Is that so? I understand."

The Cat Immortal didn't care. Senzu beans were useless to him. If Luther wanted, he could help him.

From the breath, the Cat Immortal felt that Luther's breath was not evil, and he was very polite.

It was very rare for such a strong man.

Luther wanted to take the Super Divine Water for research. Luther was very interested in the fact that this thing could help people develop their potential.
