Chapter 111 Return to Marvel

"This time is really messed up."

Luther looked at the angel Yan who descended in front of him. His appearance was not as embarrassing and shocking as in the original plot. The main reason was that Angel Yan's current condition was much better than in the original plot, but not much better.

The key point was that although she did not need to consume energy to send Ge Xiaolun back to Earth, she also lacked the energy shared by Di Lena to Ge Xiaolun.

Angel Yan shared a little bit before successfully building her own divine body.

Now, she did not get this kind of stellar energy, so she still used the remains of her third generation.

Although it was also a divine body, it was only a pseudo-divine body when the energy was insufficient, just like Su Mali's pseudo-third generation who could not use the genetic ability of the galaxy power.

"Du Qiangwei..."

Angel Yan breathed a sigh of relief after seeing Du Qiangwei, and then she was stunned when she saw Luther next to Du Qiangwei.

"God King... Luther... Galaxy Power..."

Angel Yan was stunned. She never expected to see Luther here.

Why would such a super god be here?

"Angel?"

Du Qiangwei looked at the God King Luther, and her first reaction was that this angel might be looking for Luther, and then she realized that the angel had just called her name.

"Are you looking for me, or for... that person?"

Du Qiangwei said strangely.

Angel Yan didn't know what to say at this time. She planned to find Dilena to replenish the energy of the divine body by locating Du Qiangwei. Even though she knew that He Xi, the avatar of the Tianji King, was on Earth, Angel Yan didn't dare to contact her.

To put it bluntly, Angel Yan didn't understand this Tianji King and was worried that she had ideas about the throne of angels.

The new generation of angels only knew about the Tianji King from the previous records. The Tianji King retired, and the Holy Kesha cleaned up the tail of his old demon, including her behavior of letting Sumali go privately.

Angel Yan felt that the throne of angels was of great importance, and she couldn't gamble, nor could she afford to gamble the future of angel civilization.

It can only be said that Angel Yan is not suitable to be a king at all. It is also possible that Holy Kesha did not train her as a king, so Pan Zhen's tricks on Angel Yan later made He Xi refuse to fully open Holy Kesha's knowledge treasure house and arsenal to her.

Because Angel Yan's genes already have the elements of Lieyang civilization.

However, Angel Yan herself does not care about this kind of thing. Perhaps in her opinion, Enixid is the real king of the future, so she will abandon all affairs and commit herself to Fraser as Enixid's bodyguard.

Being a king is a stupid king, but when not a king, she is a qualified warrior.

"I'm looking for you, I need Dilena..." Angel Yan said to Du Qiangwei.

She didn't dare to contact Luther at all. After all, she now has the treasure of Angel Civilization. Queen Kesha has given her the data passwords of the sacred knowledge treasure house and the arsenal. As long as her divine body recovers energy, she can connect online immediately.

If she is noticed and caught by Luther, she will be a sinner of Angel Civilization.

"Reina is not here."

Du Qiangwei's attitude towards angels is average, after all, the impression left by the angels who are on edge is not good.

Now the contact between Blue Star and Angel Civilization is only like this, so Du Qiangwei's attitude towards angels is only a little better than that of demons.

In the eyes of the people of Blue Star, there may be demons provoked by Angel Civilization. If it weren't for the Angel Civilization surrounding the demons and not letting them leave, the Demon Civilization would have left long ago.

This kind of thinking is not strange. There are even people who surrender to the demons. What is this?

Angel Yan wants to leave, but she can't find Dilena by herself. In this situation, she can only use the mutual positioning of the dark alloy black armor of the Xiongbinglian to find the wandering Dilena.

Luther didn't care. He just came to show his face and then left.

I guess Angel Yan will regret not seeking his help at this time in the future.

After confirming that time here needs time to develop, Luther temporarily left the world of Super Seminary.

He wants to test whether the star engine and black hole engine can still operate normally in the Marvel and Dragon Ball worlds.

The stellar engine has been completed. After all, it is more difficult. The black hole engine can be completed from scratch. It would be strange if Luther, who has the stellar algorithm, cannot come up with a stellar engine.

The two void engines bring Luther a computing power of up to 1000 frequencies. The stellar engine can even help the black hole engine to accelerate the completion of the most important genetic engineering for Luther.

"Boss, welcome back."

Luther just appeared in his office, and the voice of Jing Potian rang.

"Jing Potian, start docking data."

Luther said to Jing Potian.

"It seems that you have gained a lot this time, boss."

Jing Potian said with some surprise, and then after docking data with Luther, Jing Potian was surprised.

Is this going to a world with very advanced technology?

"Stellar engine, black hole engine, void engine, super gene, celestial supercomputer... Boss, you really gave me a big surprise."

Jia Potian was even more surprised. He felt that absorbing these things would be of great benefit to him, especially the data code of the celestial supercomputer from Demon No. 1 and Denor No. 3. With this technology, Jia Potian could develop better ones.

"What happened recently?"

Luther looked at the time. The year, month and day were different by one-third from those at the Super Theological Seminary. In other words, some time had passed.

"Yes, boss, here's what happened after you left."

Galvatron presented multiple images in front of Luther at the same time. He knew that his boss had a strong thinking ability, and multi-threaded thinking and receiving information were nothing to him.

Luther then saw the earliest thing that happened after he left.

Super terrorist attack!

Before he left, he left ten artificial human materials for Galvatron. Basically, they all have different abilities and different shapes. Some of them are directly borrowed from DC's 18th-line villain characters, such as The Riddler, The Riddler, and Scarecrow, scarecrow, that sort of thing.

The villains of Gotham City are very suitable for this situation. The purpose of Luther is just to create the concept of super criminals and super villains. It does not necessarily have to be super powers. The main purpose is to bring a little villain shock to Marvel.

The effect is still very good. Now SHIELD is involved in investigating the matter, and then there are super-powerful terrorist attacks at different times.

And best of all, these supervillains announce the return of Hydra!

"If you cut off one head, two more will grow back. Hey, Hydra!"

Anyway, Snake and Shield's heart should be exploding right now.

Chapter 112 Pierce: In short, it was very explosive

Alexander Pierce's heart didn't just explode, it went nuclear.

"what is going on!!!"

He roared at the bald man in the office.

God knows what he went through during this time.

Alexander Pierce saw Nick Fury walking into his room with a serious expression one day, and then said.

"Hydra has revived."

At that time, Alexander Pierce's first reaction was to take out his gun and shoot the black braided egg to death and then escape!

Fortunately, he didn't do that, mainly because his body was old and couldn't keep up with the reaction speed of his brain. Fortunately, Nick Fury didn't make any excuses and directly said that the recent horrific super attacks were all related to Hydra.

While Alexander Pierce breathed a sigh of relief knowing that he had not been exposed, he also saw the video brought by Nick Fury of "Hydra" claiming responsibility for the recent super-powered terrorist attacks.

The man wearing a black mask in the video claims to be a disciple of the Red Skull of Hydra, who wants to restore Hydra and is the new leader of Hydra.

Nicknamed "Black Caesar".

The recent series of super-powerful terrorist attacks have all targeted the men of the Blue Flag Country, causing panic among the capitalists. Even the business of the Emperor Company's super bodyguards has improved a lot.

In the video, those with super powers who have carried out terrorist attacks are all standing behind Black Caesar. Anyway, the scene is very stylish and graphic. It can be seen that Hydra has sufficient funds and has found a person who can shoot blockbusters and grasp angles. of advanced cameras.

SHIELD's analysis team expressed great admiration for the lens language and scene design of this video, which led them to think that this was a new big-budget movie about Captain America, otherwise Alexander Pierce should actually be ahead of Nick Fury. Know this.

Galvatron doesn't understand movies, but he can learn. No matter he is a truck driver or a film master, as long as he can find the information, it is very simple for Galvatron to analyze and copy. Therefore, Nick Fury was very surprised.

Just from this promotional video, we can see the current background of Hydra. It is definitely not a trivial matter. A few mutants who have awakened superpowers call themselves Hydra because of their pure worship.

But it is absolutely organized, confident and talented.

And it can be seen from the precision of each of their attacks, and the fact that SHIELD has not been able to investigate any information about them until now.

Nick Fury said shakily to Alexander Pierce.

The trembling was not because of fear, but because of complicated emotions. I didn't expect that Hydra had not been completely extinct, and I didn't expect that Hydra's return would be so high-profile, directly challenging the most powerful country on the planet.

The pressure on S.H.I.E.L.D. is now very high. The Congress of the Blue Flag Country, the capitalists, and the blue flag country's underlings in the United Nations are all attacking SHIELD.

"Hydra is really back..."

Then Alexander Pierce looked at him and the video with mixed emotions.

What's going on!

Who is this Black Caesar?

Why have you never heard of it?

But it's not surprising that Alexander Pierce didn't immediately suspect that Black Caesar was not a member of Hydra, because the composition of the Hydra organization itself is very complex, and there are also old immortals who jumped out from World War II, and people who disappeared in the mix. , and then the snakehead appeared again.

As for those who became monks halfway and were developed by other smugglers, there are even more.

But Alexander Pierce is very confused, because he is the disciple of the Red Skull. Why haven't he heard that the Red Skull's faction also has a Black Caesar?

Judging from the analysis data given to him by Nick Fury, this Black Caesar is still very powerful and capitalized. He can be said to be a qualified snakehead and one of the supreme leaders of Hydra.

The problem is, Alexander Pierce is very sure that he has never heard of someone named Black Caesar. Of course, it does not rule out that the other party has changed his appearance and name. This is not strange in Hydra, so Alexander Pierce plans to go back and ask.

Now, of course, we need to appease Nick Fury first.

Because without checking, Alexander Pierce knew Nick Fury's level and ability very well, otherwise he would not have elected him as the chief in the first place, just because he valued his ability.

As expected, S.H.I.E.L.D. reached its peak under the hands of Nick Fury, and even broke away from the Blue Flag Country, truly becoming a world-class spy intelligence organization.

It is also thanks to Nick Fury that Hydra can grow to this extent.

"Fury, what do you want to do?"

Alexander Pierce asked.

"Of course, we launched an investigation immediately. Every action they took was not omitted. The people, things and resources involved are not that simple. If we investigate one by one, we can always find something."

Nick Fury said calmly.

Modern investigation is no longer the ancient way of judging only by traces and experience. Today's investigation has summarized various scientific empirical methods.

Because there are so many cases, sometimes it's just a clue, and you basically know how to investigate.

Especially this kind of frequent attacks on capitalists and gentlemen. You must know that in order not to arouse the hatred of the common people and the covetousness of lawless elements, the identities of these capitalists and gentlemen are kept secret from the society and the public.

Sometimes Nick Fury may not be able to trace their whereabouts even if he wants to check, but Black Caesar and Hydra can snipe accurately every time.

This is either because the capitalists have moles around them, or they are supported by very broad and deep human resources and intelligence resources.

Nick Fury doesn't believe that Hydra can handle its traces so cleanly. The larger and astonishing the network of relationships, the more flaws and loopholes there will be!

Alexander Pierce's brows were twitching wildly. As expected of the director of S.H.I.E.L.D. he had chosen, he was instantly stunned.

Hydra is now developing very rapidly in the new country of Blue Flag. The Hydra of the European and American branches has surpassed the Hydra of other branches. Relying on the relationship between SHIELD, I don't know how many Hydras have developed. People come out.

So if Nick Fury really investigates, he might actually be able to find something.

"Being so radical will offend SHIELD a lot of people."

Pierce said.

"It doesn't matter, we can say we are the FBI, or we can say we are the CIA."

Nick Fury said nonchalantly, it is not uncommon for SHIELD to pretend to be the FBI, let alone the CIA. Although the CIA is external, do you still dare to be stubborn in the face of the CIA's investigation?

"Do you want me to be complained to by two directors again and again?"

Pierce cursed.

Nick Fury said that's your job.

Chapter 113 I will turn Tony Stark around!

Pierce tried very hard to convince Nick Fury not to investigate too radically, so as not to alert the enemy.

Although Nick Fury was puzzled as to why he could alert the enemy now?

Hydra had already announced it in a high-profile manner, which had caused panic, panic and anger in the Blue Flag Country.

Pierce also knew that such a reason would not convince Nick Fury for long. Nick Fury was a man with ideas and abilities. He had too many ways to investigate first and then block the troubles that Pierce mentioned.

Not to mention, the top leaders of the Blue Flag Country also supported SHIELD to investigate a result as soon as possible.

Pierce's idea was to find this Black Caesar immediately and let him restrain himself.

Pierce was also very envious of Black Caesar's power, which was ten mutants!

Baron Strucker was the only one in Hydra who studied a group of superpowers behind closed doors all day long.

Of course, this was understandable. Since the two successful cases of Captain America and Red Skull came out, many people in Hydra were obsessed with superpowers.

In addition, there is no shortage of mutants who suddenly awaken superpowers in this world, so they have been paying attention to Baron Strucker's progress, but Baron Strucker has never been willing to share.

This is normal. If it were them, they would not be willing to share, but who let Baron Strucker have it now? Of course, everyone hopes that he can be more generous, because everyone is a member of the same organization!

So if Pierce can find Black Caesar and get his power, he can cooperate or join, then his insight plan can be realized faster.

The supreme leaders of Hydra, that is, the major snakeheads, were urgently video-conferenced by Pierce.

"Pierce, what happened?"

"I'm very busy recently, tell me if you have anything to say."

The video images of the snakeheads all said to Pierce.

"Everyone, our Hydra is exposed."

Pierce knew that this group of seniors, the old immortals and the relatives were putting pressure on him, so Pierce threw a king bomb directly.

"What?"

"How did it get exposed?"

"Is it your branch that got exposed? If so, I have to have my men disconnect from your branch."

The snakeheads immediately got excited, and even the taciturn Baron Stark couldn't help but speak.

"It's not my branch that got exposed... Have any of you heard of the name Black Caesar?"

Pierce said calmly.

"Who is that?"

The others were confused, which made Pierce wonder if any of them were playing dumb or really didn't know.

"The Hydra I mentioned was exposed because of this Black Caesar, who launched a super-powered terrorist attack on the top leaders of the Blue Flag Country, which caused the Blue Flag Country to be very excited now. You should know what will happen to these guys when they are stimulated by terrorist attacks... Then he announced that he was Hydra and was responsible for these terrorist attacks."

Pierce took a deep breath and said.

"I've never heard of such a person..."

Everyone present frowned and looked at each other.

"Whether he is one of ours or not, his power cannot be ignored. Find him. Even if he is not one of ours, we must make him one of ours!"

What Pierce just said made Baron Strucker and Baron Zemo very excited. They knew about the super-powered terrorist attack, but they didn't know about the follow-up. They only cared about the super-powered people.

Now that it is said that it is related to Black Caesar, the importance of this person has risen all of a sudden.

"My purpose is the same. I want to ask you to find this Black Caesar and his men. There should be no organization in this world that can hide from our Hydra!"

Pierce nodded and said.

Hydra has many people and connections all over the world. The Red Skull during World War II was just one of its branches, so Hydra has never been eliminated.

On the contrary, it has developed for so many years, and you can imagine how strong they are.

Such an organization, with a heart connected from top to bottom, if you want to investigate an organization, you can't fail to find anything, especially since this organization has done so many things.

I'm afraid someone is hiding something...

Luther had no intention of joining Hydra at all, so he might as well create a new Hydra.

Of course, this Hydra was just a name borrowed, nothing existed, and the intelligence ability of Tongtian was just a tiny bit of the technical ability of Galvatron.

To be honest, it was too extravagant and wasteful for a super artificial intelligence that could dominate the galaxy and destroy countless technological civilizations to do such a thing.

But Luther actually wanted such a thing just for assistance and enjoyment, so it was really a waste, can't I afford it?

Naturally, this video conference of Hydra could not be hidden from Galvatron, who knew the bad taste of his boss and directly gave Luther a live broadcast.

"Interesting."

Luther couldn't help laughing when he heard that the heads of Hydra wanted to find him.

He created Hydra, not only for fun to let Hydra take the blame, but also to see them jumping up and down.

Now Pierce was obviously very anxious.

This made Luther feel even happier.

"Tony Stark hasn't developed the Iron Man suit yet. Instead, he's conducting research on super-powered terrorist attacks and anti-superpower weapons..."

Luther saw that Tony Stark had gone astray, how could this work!

He's going to get Tony Stark back on track!

Otherwise, there would be much less fun here.

At night, when Tony Stark was having fun with a young model, the door was suddenly knocked open and his bodyguard Happy fell to the ground unconscious.

Immediately afterwards, a group of people in black tights and fully armed poured in.

"Wow, do you guys want to join in?"

Tony Stark saw this scene and said jokingly.

Then he moved his arms and legs.

It just so happens that he also strengthened himself, which is where Tony Stark's confidence lies.

But the next moment, a super-fast punch hit his chin, causing him to fall asleep instantly.

The two young cover models screamed and were slapped unconscious by one of them.

When the bodyguard Happy woke up, the boss was gone and he quickly called Pepper Peppa.

"Oops, Pepa, Tony was kidnapped!"

Pepper Peppa was very surprised. She knew that Tony Stark had studied the Monarch Corporation's superhuman enhancement drug. Although he had not researched anything, Tony Stark had also received the Monarch Corporation's human body enhancement. A dozen big men could not get close to him. The kind of body.

Chapter 114 Wake Up

Tony Stark has always been reluctant to the Monarch Corporation's enhanced drug No. 1 Compound. After all, in the original plot, he had no idea about Captain America's super soldier serum and Wakanda's heart-shaped grass.

He believes in his steel suit, but this is not the original plot. Tony Stark has studied Compound No. 1 and can't figure out what it is, but it should not turn him into a monster or allow him to be controlled, so Tony Stark Tucker just accepted the transformation.

Happy was also going to undergo transformation, but Happy couldn't believe in this kind of human transformation.

Just like worrying about radiation from signal base stations, not everyone can accept modifications on their bodies.

It has to be said that at this time, Tony Stark's disappearance can be said to have directly caused an uproar.

Especially SHIELD, Nick Fury can be sure that this is what Hydra did!

Alexander Pierce: No, it definitely wasn't HYDRA!

"Pierce, we can't wait any longer, they have already taken action against Tony Stark!"

Nick Fury said to Pierce.

"...Hasn't Black Caesar not claimed responsibility for this incident yet?"

Pierce was very tired, he rubbed his temples and said.

"Do we have to wait until Tony Stark is dead before we act?"

Nick Fury said with a surprised look on his face.

"Well, Tony Stark has a lot at stake after all, even if we go too far..."

Pierce could only follow what Nick Fury said, because he could no longer stop Nick Fury and there was no reason to use it at this time.

The CPU in his brain was about to burn out. Tony Stark was actually kidnapped?

The entire Blue Flag Country was shocked. God knows where the people who kidnapped Tony Stark came from. God knows whether they went there for Tony Stark's money or technology. God knows what weapons Tony Stark sold to them. There is no back door.

No, there must be a backdoor. Although they are only purchasing the most advanced weapons from Stark Industries to defraud funds and so on, and will not purchase in large quantities, they have been doing this for ten years, and Tony Stark has not For new orders, we will find ways to research new weapons.

Their high-end weapons shock the world, but almost 70% to 80% of them are produced by Stark Industries.

No way, Stark Industries' technology and weapons are still too good.

After Nick Fury got Pierce's consent, he was not in a hurry. In fact, he had already started taking action.

Even if Pierce disagrees, there's nothing he can do. It's not Nick Fury's first day as an agent. There is an operation called Ghost Operation.

Even if there is no evidence for an action that is not acknowledged after being committed, the Blue Flag Country will generally not stick to it.

After Nick Fury left, Pierce felt his scalp felt a little itchy. He scratched it and ended up grabbing a handful of hair.

"What's going on?"

Pierce's eyes widened. His hair, which he had carefully taken care of, had actually fallen out so much?

Then he thought about his recent stress and anxiety, especially that moment when he felt like his brain was about to burn out. So, was this the reason for his hair loss?

Piers couldn't imagine being bald, it would be too scary!

No, starting from today, I have to think less and find Black Caesar as soon as possible!

This time Tony Stark was kidnapped, and everyone in the FBI and police system had to work overtime. The bosses had already said that, let alone taking a vacation, even those who were sick and lying in bed but not dead had to get up and work for them. , If they can't find Tony Stark for one day, they can't rest for one day.

The CIA is also using its connections and intelligence network to conduct searches around the world.

This time, regardless of whether it was done by Hydra or not, they have to get to the bottom of it, otherwise the director of the CIA can be replaced by someone else.

This is why the FBI is so active. After all, it is no longer the era of Hoover, who is all-powerful. They have no choice. The pressure from their superiors can only be given to their subordinates, who in turn put even more pressure on their subordinates...

Luther was not surprised that it caused such a big commotion. The reason why the original plot did not cause such a big commotion was mainly because the impact was too small and limited to the location of Afghanistan. It is different now. With the name Hydra, plus Still kidnapping Tony Stark in the blue flag country.

After the incident, the FBI and the police have not investigated even a single hair. They can't even find the problem with the surveillance video. The hotel has surveillance cameras and surveillance footage, but it can't stand up to the presence of a super artificial intelligence like Galvatron. It's completely helpless. loopholes.

As for Tony Stark, who is being searched frantically by countless people, he has now woken up.

"What's going on? I'm...I've been kidnapped?"

Tony Stark was shocked. He had already transformed Compound No. 1 and became a superhuman. The opponent was actually able to knock him down directly.

"Damn, it's Superman Drug and Compound No. 1!"

Tony Stark immediately thought of this. Although he is very strong and is a superhuman, Tony Stark still knows very well that at the same level, he is not at all like those experienced warriors. opponent.

Obviously, the guy who can knock himself out with one punch should be a superhuman who has taken a temporary superhuman drug or been transformed by Compound No. 1!

"That brat Luther doesn't take good care of his Superman medicine and No. 1 compound..."

Tony Stark complained for a while, then looked at the surrounding environment and found that it was a very bad environment. The air had a burning feeling, but he hadn't felt it before. After all, Compound No. 1 strengthened his lung function, and the air environment that ordinary people could not adapt to was just uncomfortable for him.

"Dry, hot, plus this cave-like environment, I was not kidnapped and left the Blue Flag Country, right?"

Tony Stark thought quickly and collected details of the surrounding environment.

The transformation of Compound No. 1 also strengthened the functions of his eyes and other senses. He was far superior to ordinary people in terms of telescopic, subtle, dynamic, and static vision. Even if the cave environment was a little dim, Tony Stark could still see clearly, just like in broad daylight.

The body skin automatically adjusted, locking its own pores in the hot and humid environment to prevent water loss, and dissipating heat through other means.

Tony Stark knew all these feelings clearly and well.

If he didn't need to keep himself hydrated in this way, he could also control his pores to open and dissipate heat to the maximum extent.

In other words, Compound No. 1 gave him a certain degree of control over himself. The feeling was so amazing that he could even feel the number of fibers in clothes through skin contact.

Chapter 115 Tony: Hi, Hydra!

After Tony Stark discovered these changes in himself, although he didn't say it, he still recognized Luther who invented Compound No. 1.

Feels like he has surpassed the Super Soldier Serum and Dr. "Abraham Erskine" who developed the Super Soldier Serum.

In fact, he had no idea that only his situation was special.

None of the other people who were injected with the transformation of Compound One were in the same situation as Tony Stark.

The reason is very simple. Tony Stark's brain development is different from that of ordinary people. His scientific thinking has developed his brain. In addition, even if Tony Stark has not become a person "cursed by knowledge", his brain is still far beyond that of ordinary people.

The transformation of Compound No. 1 is an all-round transformation, which naturally involves the brain. However, even if those people's brains are transformed, they will not use their own brains.

Many functions of the human brain are controlled by the subconscious mind. It is difficult for the subjective consciousness to control these functions without exercising the brain.

Tony Stark now has the control of most functions, and he even developed several states with great interest, such as adrenaline burst state, real man state, super real man state, etc.

This is achieved by regulating and controlling various functions of the body, and Tony Stark can also unlock himself, burst out power beyond the limits of the human body in a short period of time, and can also exert all his muscle strength in one place. .

It's okay if you get injured, it can control the wound to heal quickly and stop bleeding.

Of course, this kind of subjective consciousness control is very tiring, even if it is much faster than natural healing, but Tony Stark tried it, and he was exhausted after only controlling it for an hour. This was caused by an ordinary fruit knife. It may take a week or half a month for the wound to heal naturally.

And after he controlled it for an hour, the scabs had fallen off the next day, revealing new pink flesh.

If you can keep it under control, it will grow in a few hours.

This is already very amazing, even Tony Stark feels that it is not impossible to regenerate a broken limb.

At this moment, the iron door of the cave opened, and several people wearing typical Afghan terrorist clothes and turbans walked in. The firearms they carried immediately made Tony Stark realize that they were not ordinary Taliban members.

Have you ever seen that ordinary Taliban members do not use durable and cheap AKs but automatic rifles filled with various accessories?

Damn it, the price of one can be exchanged for several AKs, right?

"Who are you?"

Tony Stark asked calmly. Since the other party only caught him instead of killing him, Tony Stark could only judge that he had something that the other party needed, such as money... or maybe technology.

Faced with hot weapons, Tony Stark had no idea of resistance. Even if he could defeat these armed enemies with his bare hands without being injured, as long as he accidentally took a bullet, he would be dead or disabled.

This is the horror of hot weapons, which completely eliminate backward melee combat and cold weapons.

"Tony Stark, you should know very well who we are. If you cut off one head, two more will grow..."

The leader, who was wearing a black mask, his eyes were also covered by a light black goggles, and the man with a black turban on his head said with a smile.

"You are Hydra!"

Tony Stark was shocked, which wouldn't be surprising if it was Hydra.

Hydra has ten superpowers, and these superpowers are very powerful. Only the super bodyguards of the Emperor Company can compete with them. Faced with Hydra's super-powerful terrorist attacks, many big shots have hired super bodyguards.

As for Tony Stark, he didn't expect that Hydra would target him. He just arranged a super bodyguard for Pepa, or a female bodyguard.

Now he regrets not hiring a super bodyguard for himself.

The main reason is that he can't trust it and doesn't have that sense of security.

"What do you want to do?"

Tony Stark asked coldly.

"We want your wisdom to join us HYDRA!"

"impossible!"

Tony Stark refused outright.

"Go on, teach him a lesson."

Then the other party said unambiguously.

"Wait...bang!"

Tony Stark was beaten, punched and kicked.

He tried to adjust his pain nerves to block the pain, but he was so dizzy that he temporarily lost control, so there was no part of his body that was not in pain.

"He has been injected with compound No. 1 to transform him. There is no need to worry that he will die. He will be beaten every three days and thrown into a small dark room. He will not be fed until he is beaten."

"A capitalist like this will definitely not be used to the food we have here. It took him three days to feed him."

Tony Stark heard the other party's words in a semi-conscious state.

Then he was thrown into a dark room.

The fat that Tony Stark gained from pampering was controlled by him to recover from his injuries after he woke up.

"Hungry!"

After all the fat was consumed, his body was in urgent need of energy replenishment. Tony Stark felt hungrier than ever. After all, he was not that fat to begin with.

Locked up in a dark environment, Tony Stark has nothing to do with him. He is now a superhuman, able to self-regulate and spend time in this quiet environment where he does not know the passage of time by sleeping and reducing energy consumption.

This is a psychological problem that is usually caused by confinement. Tony Stark knows everything about it and can do nothing to him.

However, Tony Stark does not plan to resist next time. He has figured out that it is useless to resist. He can only compromise and look for opportunities!

Luther can see all of Tony Stark's psychological activities clearly.

"Good guy, he is worthy of being Tony Stark. Compound No. 1 has transformed his brain and changed his thinking... Or is it that the details that actors cannot play make this Tony Stark look different from what I remember?"

Luther was thoughtful.

He did not care about Tony Stark's response. He did not intend to do anything to him. He just tortured him... No, tempered him.

Business war, directly kidnapping the other party's CEO!

Three days later, Tony Stark was dragged out again and prepared to be beaten, but Tony Stark quickly surrendered.

"Wait a minute, I'm willing to join Hydra, Hi, Hydra!"

Tony Stark shouted out a very explosive line.

For a moment, all the "Hydra" present were stunned.

"Boss, I've recorded it."

Galvatron said to Luther.

"Well done."

Chapter 116: Luther, the man who persuades people to be good

Luther admired the video of Tony Stark yelling Hydra in front of him.

"I wonder if Nick Fury will burst a blood vessel if I send this thing to him?"

Luther was very curious about this question.

But after thinking about it, Luther decided to give up, mainly because Tony Stark was not snake enough.

He had to make Tony Stark snake until he couldn't turn back, then it would be interesting.

After Tony Stark yelled Hydra, this group of "Hydra" actually believed that he wanted to surrender and join, so they took him to the laboratory.

"We are very interested in your weapons, especially the anti-superpower weapons, that missile."

Tony Stark only knew that the leader of Hydra called himself "Blue Skull" and didn't know what his relationship with Black Caesar was.

"Jericho Missile..."

Tony Stark wanted to say something foul, but after seeing the devil muscle men around him staring at him, he gave up.

These devil muscle men looked like the governor, but they were much taller than the governor. They were basically as tall as O'Neal and had strong muscles.

You don't need to look to know that they must have been injected with Compound No. 1. Under the same conditions, Tony Stark is unwilling to take risks.

Smart people have smart solutions, not to mention that Luther has repeatedly hinted and guided his thinking.

For example, he showed him more than once the thermal weapons and his own powerlessness in the face of such a situation, so that he gave up the idea of relying on physical advantages.

Tony Stark is so smart that he must have thought of this.

What he lacks is the terrible lethality and destructive power of thermal weapons that can kill people with one blow. Only in this way can he escape from this Hydra base full of superpowers and superhumans!

To put it bluntly, Luther just restored the situation he experienced at that time.

Tony Stark really lived up to Luther's idea. He quickly thought of a solution and reasonably asked for the materials he needed to make missiles through "Hydra".

"Does Tony Stark think Hydra is a fool? Gold-titanium alloy? What missile needs to use gold-titanium alloy as the shell?"

Luther couldn't help complaining, so he asked the Hydras to go in and beat Tony Stark, warning him to be honest.

"Fuck, why does Hydra have the list of materials for the Jericho missile?"

Tony Stark stared with purple and blue eyes. He didn't expect Hydra to get such secrets. Even if he didn't know the drawings and technology, the materials for making them were also secrets among secrets.

And this was his latest weapon, not the forgotten ones.

At this time, Tony Stark realized that there might be a traitor inside the company, otherwise there was no way to explain why Hydra could get such secrets.

This was naturally Luther's guidance. To restore the plot, of course there would be no such omissions.

Although he also wanted to see Tony Stark unlock his compound No. 1 and make a more powerful superman drug for himself.

But that wouldn't be Iron Man.

In desperation, Tony Stark could only use the materials of the Jericho missile to make what he wanted.

Iron suit!

This is Tony Stark's plan and name, a cross-era weapon.

Fortunately, this laboratory of Hydra is not simple, but it is not advanced either. Tony Stark did not find any monitoring equipment, but there should be things like buried eavesdropping devices, so Tony Stark tried to keep his words to a minimum.

Anyway, he doesn't talk too much when he works, not to mention that there is no Jarvis now, no pile of tools and instruments in the basement, everything can only be done manually.

"Tony Stark's struggle..."

Luther gave the current situation a name.

The situation is very appropriate, and fortunately Tony Stark has carried out the transformation of Compound No. 1, otherwise he may not be able to do it well without Yinsen's help.

Tony Stark was kidnapped, and Obadiah didn't know whether he should be happy or sad.

As a two-time veteran of Stark Industries, Obadiah is naturally not satisfied with the status of just a veteran. He wants to go further.

But who let the Imperial Company and Luther emerge suddenly, causing Obadiah to suppress his thoughts and continue to assist Tony Stark, who he thinks is a scoundrel.

Because if Stark Industries loses Tony Stark, it will never be the opponent of Imperial Company.

Just the No. 1 compound and the superman drug have caused Hammer Industries to lose a large number of light weapons orders. Hammer, the boss of Hammer Industries, has nowhere to go to reason. He dare not offend Luther.

"Forget it, contact the Ten Rings and bring Tony back."

Obadiah sighed. The stock market of Stark Industries has fallen a lot. In addition, when the news of Tony Stark's kidnapping came out, the stock market evaporated by unknown billions. It was already hurt by the Imperial Company, and now it is even worse.

Obadiah, who was forced to do nothing, could only use his connections in both the black and white worlds to find Tony Stark back.

This outrageous operation also caught Luther by surprise. He originally thought that Tony Stark was missing and Obadiah would be eager and surprised, but he didn't expect Obadiah to take the initiative to find Tony Stark back.

He almost thought he had traveled to a parallel movie universe, where Obadiah was a good man like a kind father.

However, when contacting the Ten Rings, Luther felt something was wrong. It couldn't be the kind father. How could the kind father have the contact information and cooperation of the Ten Rings?

The Ten Rings were able to grow in Afghanistan because the CIA helped Obadiah smuggle advanced weapons from Stark Industries. Otherwise, even if Obadiah had channels, he couldn't have handed the equipment to the Ten Rings without telling anyone.

"Reality is so magical. Am I trying to persuade people to change their ways? But Obadiah may not stop doing things to Shit Da Ke in the future, so it doesn't count."

Luther thought about it and put such things aside for the time being.

Such things are just entertainment and fun for him. There are not many things worth Luther's attention now.

Just like the Emperor Company has become a large company with assets of more than 100 billion because of the super-powered terrorist attacks, and its business is booming and its financial resources are abundant. It is not worth mentioning to Luther.

Apart from other things, Galvatron is doing a good job in this regard. It even speculates in stocks and develops the Emperor Company according to the veins of the Shinra Company left by Luther.

Although the flagship product of Emperor Corporation is still human body modification technology, it has already entered various industries.

Chapter 117 Target

The talent problem that troubled the Emperor Company was not a problem for Jing Potian at all. Now is the Internet information age. What can Jing Potian not find out?

He could check all the experiences of a person from birth to the present clearly. Even if the Blue Flag Country did not have monitoring equipment covering the Sky Eye system, it was not a problem for Jing Potian. As long as there was a record, He could find it out, whether it was paper information, local area network or hard disk.

Physical power off was useless for Jing Potian.

Not only did it meet the previous talent gap, but it also expanded to a scale of nearly 100,000 people, which has exceeded the positions provided by Stark Industries.

Now the Emperor Company is a well-deserved large-scale industry, except for those industries that have been developed longer than the Emperor Company and have accumulated a lot of capital.

And such a large-scale industry has become a giant that is difficult to shake. Jing Potian is sure that even if someone wants to make trouble, the unemployment rate and public opinion will kill the other party.

Besides, even if these can't kill the other party, he can still do something dirty.

Real business war!

And Galvatron has also learned the human way, supporting countless people to become district councilors and state councilors, and even contacted the current Secretary of State.

In the future, this position will belong to General Ross, the old father-in-law of the Hulk, but of course there is someone in this position now.

Galvatron also got in touch with the Vice President based on the fact that his daughter was disabled.

Although the Vice President seems to be less powerful than the President, in fact, the President and the Vice President are just watchdogs of the capitalists, and their power is the same, coming from that group of old men.

The Blue Flag Country is a company disguised as a country, and this situation is not surprising.

Galvatron won over the Vice President's daughter on the condition of helping her daughter to regenerate her broken limbs, and developed a huge network of relationships through her.

Luther couldn't help but sigh that an artificial intelligence played better than him. Of course, if Luther wanted to do this, he could do better, but he was not interested in playing this way. It was just a momentary idea to want to make the Imperial Company a second giant like the Shinra Company.

If it can succeed, it will be fun, and if it can't succeed, it doesn't matter.

After all, the Blue Flag Country is the most powerful country on the planet. Under the premise that Luther does not intend to cause any trouble, he can do things in the name of the Blue Flag Country, which means he will be successful.

He can even instruct the CIA and the FBI.

"For me, the most important thing now is to find a way to make my fusion faster and successful. The best thing is to go to the DC world and find Superman to get the Life Code from him."

After experiencing the fun, Luther began to get serious.

There is also Broly, the legendary Super Saiyan. Luther is now the new version of Broly, who can become infinitely stronger, with infinite potential, unlimited energy, and unlimited physical strength.

In the Dragon Ball world, there is also an old version of Broly, who automatically becomes stronger every year, and his combat power doubles, and he also has unlimited energy and unlimited physical strength.

Now it seems that the old version of Broly may be regarded as a parallel universe. If you can go to this parallel universe through the time machine invented by Bulma in the Dragon Ball world, or go to this parallel universe through the power of Dragon Ball, and obtain the genes of the old version of Broly, can you complete and make your own genes stronger?

At that time, not only will there be unlimited potential, but the combat power will automatically double every year without doing anything.

"Going to other parallel universes may not necessarily lead to the old version of Broly's universe. Alas, it's really a problem."

Luther felt that the two methods he thought of were temporarily unattainable. If he wanted to go to the DC universe, he had to bet that the next world he would travel to was the DC universe.

Otherwise, it was unknown what universe he would travel to.

If it was an ordinary world, then for Luther, it would only be entertainment.

"Wait, there is actually a third method..."

Luther searched the super brain, and then suddenly thought of a method.

That is the Infinity Stone!

The classic treasure of the Marvel Universe is something that must be obtained by the traveler. If he can get the Time Stone and let himself experience 100,000 years of sunbathing, is it possible to become a golden Superman?

If he gets the Power Stone, can he stimulate the potential and power of the legendary Super Saiyan, Kryptonian, and Doomsday?

If he gets the Aether Reality Stone, can he let it repair his genes or even strengthen them?

After all, it is not an exaggeration to say that the ether particles can make your wish come true. They can modify reality and subvert logic. Although they have the disadvantage of consuming vitality, Luther has the most vitality now. Doomsday has as much vitality as he needs.

Without the power gem, using other infinite gems alone requires vitality as a price, and the power gem can charge other infinite gems and even enhance the effects of other infinite gems. It is the most important infinite gem.

The ether particles can be said to be Marvel's void engine, or a super invincible enhanced version. It is not an exaggeration to say that it is a dream come true and it is a law.

"Ether particles, I remember that the space sealed by the ether particles will appear when the nine realms are united. Now, except for the dead God King Baoer, no one knows where the ether particles are sealed, not even the dark elves know... The power gem knows which planet it is on."

Luther thought quickly and recalled the details he had seen.

Luther cannot do the astronomical phenomenon caused by the huge world tree system of the nine realms merging into one, and he cannot wait that long.

But Luther knows that the Cosmic Cube Space Gem can definitely do it!

After all, it is the Space Gem, which can control space, shift space, teleport space, and so on.

Captain Marvel can become Captain Marvel only after absorbing the power of the Space Gem.

"Why does it feel like it has suddenly become a Japanese RPG? I have to find the Space Gem first, then figure out how to merge the nine realms into one, and then get the ether particles? Or should I find the Power Gem first, and then find the Space Gem?"

Luther complained. He knew where the Space Gem was. In the underground base built by SHIELD, Galvatron could find the location of the Cosmic Cube.

"The Power Gem is too far away. Even if I build a spaceship now, I can't fly there, so the easiest thing to get is the Space Gem."

Luther decided, and at the same time, he was also very curious whether he, an outsider, would absorb the power of the Space Gem if he came into contact with it?

"Galvatron, search for SHIELD's secret items."

Chapter 118 Cosmic Cube

The setting of the Cosmic Cube is as follows.

At the beginning of the universe, the God of the Universe transformed six singularities with endless energy into six infinite gems.

The Cosmic Cube was created as a container for space gems.

In the Cosmic Cube, gems have been held and used by various civilizations to achieve their goals.

In March 1942, the Nazi mysterious scientific organization Hydra, led by Red Skull Schmidt, found the alien artifact Cosmic Cube from a church in Tønsberg, Norway, and wanted to use it to develop powerful weapons.

Later, he confronted Captain America Steve in the cockpit of the plane and accidentally crashed the energy machine. Red Skull disappeared in the wormhole, and Captain America unfortunately fell into the sea to prevent the plane from exploding.

In 2017, Thanos saw Red Skull on Vormir, where he was guarding the Soul Gem.

In 1945, Howard Stark, the father of "Iron Man" Tony Stark, did not find Steve in the Arctic Ocean, but salvaged the Cosmic Cube and handed it over to SHIELD for safekeeping.

1Will transformed into Dr. Lawson, an Earthling, and went to S.H.I.E.L.D. to participate in the Pegasus Project, using the Cosmic Cube to study the light speed engine.

1Will knew that the Kree oppressed the Skrulls, and did not want the light speed engine to fall into the hands of the Kree, and the Kree sent officer Yon-Rogg to hunt him down.

The person who took her to participate in the test flight mission that day was Carol Danvers, but was shot down by the fighter plane that appeared by Yon-Rogg. Mai-Will was seriously injured and killed by Yon-Rogg, while Carol Danvers shot and destroyed the engine, accidentally fused her body with energy, and gained superpowers.

The latter thing was swallowed into the stomach of the Devourer and then spit out.

It can be imagined that the Devourer is estimated to be far superior to the Infinity Stones, otherwise ordinary life forms dared to do this, and the energy of the Infinity Stones would have eroded it long ago.

Even Thanos can only withstand the energy erosion of an Infinity Stone for a short time.

Galvatron quickly found the list and location of S.H.I.E.L.D.'s mysterious items.

There is also an obelisk of the Inhumans inside, but Luther is not interested. The Inhumans are rubbish. He is a little interested in mutants, but there are no mutants in this universe. Otherwise, Luther would like to try X-gene fusion to see if he can awaken the powerful X-gene ability.

After all, according to the setting of the Super Seminary, the X-gene is a primitive super gene with unlimited potential, unlimited multiverse, and may not be able to defeat beasts such as tigers!

The Cosmic Cube belongs to the special code 084, which is a general term for mysterious items, not just one.

"Project P.E.G.A.S.U.S. is the code name of the base where SHIELD secretly studies the Cosmic Cube."

Luther even saw the Dark Book in 084. In the comics, this is a banned book kept by the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One, but it is now also in SHIELD.

It was created for the ancient god Sithon, and records Sithon's black magic and the so-called "secret of immortality".

"It's really a suicidal idea. It looks like the plot of Agents of SHIELD has been integrated?"

Luther was browsing 084's things. He didn't dare to touch the Dark Book. Even though he became a magic master in the Dragon Ball world, he estimated that the magic given to him by Porunga was incomplete. Otherwise, he couldn't get the magic of the Great Kai, the God of Destruction, and the Angels, right?

The famous Sithon is the origin of all black magic. He is powerful in the multiverse and the dimensional demons. All those who use black magic, including Dormammu, the dark dimensional demon, have to borrow money from him. The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One often pushed his debts with Sithon and other dimensional demons to Dormammu.

So, even if the original plot shows that the Dark Book doesn't seem to be very good, anyone can use it.

But Luther didn't have the idea of suicidal idea.

"The stone, good stuff."

Luther looked at the records of the mysterious stone.

There are three mysterious monoliths, from the space monolith that first teleported Gemma to the Death Star where the "Hive" was imprisoned, to the time monolith that could travel through time and space, and the creation monolith that could create things out of nothing.

Whether it is the aliens, aliens or Hydra, they have fought with SHIELD many times because of these three monoliths. The monoliths that appeared since the second season have always been connected to the core plot of "Agents of SHIELD".

Unfortunately, due to the drastic reduction of the story in the last two seasons, the monolith stalk did not have a complete explanation until the end of the series.

So it became a real mysterious monolith.

Because of the unknown, Luther thought that he could get it to study in the future, but he would not use it.

Knowing where the base was, Luther set off immediately.

After all, it was about his own strengthening, so Luther was still very concerned.

SHIELD has been studying the Cosmic Cube for many years, but they have not made any progress. It is clear that they can study energy weapons and energy batteries in the hands of Hydra, but they are still using Hydra's energy weapons and energy batteries.

Luther didn't alert anyone. A hypnotic spell and Galvatron's invasion directly paralyzed the entire base. Then he walked in openly, and the iron gate blocking the way was directly decomposed by the biological force field.

He has been studying the biological force field. He didn't develop passively like Superman, and burst out at the critical moment, relying entirely on instinct or something.

Then Luther discovered that the bio-force field was really a magical superpower, just like telekinesis, but more versatile than telekinesis. After Luther's operation and control, he no longer needed to punch himself. The bio-force field could completely transmit his power and cover a very wide range, and then hit all targets within this range.

In short, it was an extra full-screen big move. He felt that this was very good. He didn't have to do it himself, and it was awesome.

"BOSS, this is the Cosmic Cube."

The people at the base brought Luther to a blue cube.

The dreamy light swam inside the blue cube, making it look like it must be an extraordinary thing, definitely priceless.

The Cosmic Cube should be calm and dim in its normal state, but it seemed that it sensed Luther, and the light inside began to shine.

Luther pondered the Cosmic Cube and did not approach it rashly.

This thing has a temper. Sometimes it doesn't move for tens of thousands of years, and sometimes it comes suddenly. Here we have to interview the Red Skull, who was punished by the Cosmic Cube to guard the door of the Soul Gem, until the Red Skull's heart is as calm as water and he only wants to die quickly.

It's terrible.

If Luther is treated like this, I don't know if his ability to travel through time can let him leave.

"I have no ill intentions, I just want to use your power to go to the ether particle, which is the spatial location of the reality gem."

Luther said.

Chapter 119: All wishes come true, all wishes come true

The Cosmic Cube is probably able to understand the language of living beings.

Even if he didn't understand it, Luther really didn't have any idea about it. Not everyone can copy Captain Marvel's opportunities.

Then Luther carefully placed his hand on the Cosmic Cube. The next moment, he saw the Cosmic Cube light up, and the dazzling blue light covered the entire base.

Luther's pupils shrank, he didn't expect the Cosmic Cube's reaction to be so big.

The terrifying energy erosion spread to Luther's arms, and the clothes on his arms instantly turned into fly ash. Luther had never felt such ferocious energy. You know, this is just the power of the space gem.

How terrible would it be if it were a power gem known for its power?

However, after most of Luther's body turned into a dreamy blue, the Doomsday Gene began to fight back, overwhelmingly suppressing the energy of the Space Stone almost instantly.

"My body is much stronger than the Hulk and Thanos. Your energy erosion may be very powerful, but it is nothing to me."

Luther said calmly to the Cosmic Cube that he had no intention of crushing the outer shell of the Cosmic Cube to obtain the space gem inside. It would not be a good thing to expose the space gem too early.

After the energy of the Cosmic Cube was suppressed, it became quiet, and Luther also obtained the method of using the Cosmic Cube.

This surprised Luther. In the original plot, Asgard only knew how to use the Cosmic Cube after studying the Cosmic Cube, but these were only superficial uses. The most advanced use was the Rainbow Bridge, which could teleport to Anywhere in the universe, and also has the ability to destroy stars.

Even after the Rainbow Bridge was broken by Thor, there was no way to repair it. The only way to repair the Rainbow Bridge was to take the Cosmic Cube back.

Thanos knew how to use the Infinity Stones from the Well of Eternity, but now, Luther discovered that he actually knew how to use the Cosmic Cube.

Even if it is not as powerful as the real space gem, these are the abilities Luther needs now.

"Do whatever you want, that's what you do!"

Luther sighed, and the next moment he tried to think, a huge blue-black vortex immediately appeared in front of him.

This is the space channel opened by the Cosmic Rubik's Cube. As long as Luther has a rough idea, he can directly reach his destination.

It's like Thanos comes and goes to Earth and farm planets at will.

Luther walked in and found himself in a deserted place, and right in front of him was a huge stone pillar with words carved on it that Luther had never seen before. Luther could feel the power flowing on it.

"The sealing place of ether particles has really arrived here."

What he wanted was to obtain ether particles, and the Cosmic Rubik's Cube satisfied his idea and directly opened the passage to the ether particle-sealed space for him.

For the Cosmic Cube, locating ether particles is not a difficult task.

"In that case, it is possible for me to get the Power Stone and the Mind Stone, but the remaining Time Stone and Soul Stone are not so easy to get."

Luther thought about it and realized that the Mind Stone was now in the hands of Thanos. However, in the original plot, Thanos got the Mind Scepter after destroying the people on a planet. Now Luther is either fighting Thanos or grabbing the mind from that planet. The scepter shouldn't be a problem.

The Time Stone is difficult to obtain. If the Supreme Mage Ancient One didn't want to do it, Luther wouldn't be able to grab the Time Stone at all. Instead, he could try the speedster's theory. The speed is faster than the speed of light, which is equal to the ability to transcend time. Maybe he can challenge the Time Stone.

The soul gem is very complicated, and it requires sacrificing a loved one, so in the original plot, Black Widow and Hawkeye compete to sacrifice each other... You must know that Hawkeye has a wife and children!

Luther was thinking about this issue at the time, and he didn't know if it was a loophole in the script or something else. Is Black Widow's true love for Hawkeye?

Hawkeye rushed to sacrifice because he also loved Black Widow?

I was very moved, but I couldn't help but think about it.

"The power of God King Baoer can no longer seal the ether particles..."

Luther saw the ether particles spreading out of the stone pillars, and the golden runes began to turn dark red like rust. Moreover, these ether particles also spread to Luther's body and entered Luther's body.

In the original plot, the ether particles chose Jane Foster, but it cannot be said that Jane is the perfect match for the ether particles. The main reason is that Jane's little vitality is not enough for the ether particles to consume.

Luther was shocked and almost fell to his knees. That was the power resonance generated by the ether particles after they had completed their stay.

But soon, Doomsday's super adaptability allowed Luther to gain a foothold.

"This thing is absorbing my life force crazily..."

Luther stroked his chest. It was not difficult to take out the ether particles. The infinite gems were just ordinary gems after leaving their own universe. It would be easy to take them out when the time comes.

What Luther wanted was the ability of ether particles to modify reality, so the cost of life force consumption was not taken seriously by Luther.

"Ether particles, satisfy my thoughts."

Luther tried to use the power of etheric particles.

The bright red light lingered on Luther's body like smoke. This was Luther using ether particles to transform himself.

He could feel that with the transformation of ether particles, Doomsday genes, Broly genes, and his own Kryptonian genes were all mixed, and they were completed before they were mixed.

"feasible!"

Luther's eyes lit up. This method solved his problem, and it was even more perfect than the modification and redefinition of the stellar engine and the black hole engine.

Even if the Super Seminary's void ability can redefine the super gene and evolve a stronger and more comprehensive super gene through the original super gene, the ether particles are, after all, an unreasonable multiverse-level force. Luther can now be said to have achieved his wish.

"Boom!!!"

The energy burst that even space could not bear.

Luther's hair stood up and turned golden, and his eyebrows also turned golden eyebrows. The difference was that his eyes did not turn green, but turned golden.

"Super Saiyan, fifty times combat power increase!"

Luther felt his current power, as if he had an illusion of omnipotence, as if he could destroy the Milky Way with a wave of his hand!

"Then it's the legendary Super Saiyan!"

The erected golden hair instantly turned green, a green full of vitality!

The dazzling green flames erupted from Luther, crushing this space dimension, and agitated Luther to return to the real dimension!

Chapter 120 Fusion Success

"Ahhhhhhh!!!"

Luther's body began to tear apart, and his flesh and blood were mutated.

The skin turned into a dark gray that was close to rock, and white bone spurs began to spread from the bones of the body, breaking through the flesh and coming out.

The spine on the back is covered with sharp bone spurs, and the bone spurs on the shoulder blades form a special structure like a shoulder armor.

There are bone spurs protruding from the joints of the limbs, elbows, knees and even the knuckles of the fists, forming a structure like a punch!

His face was distorted and became ferocious, and his height jumped to over three meters tall.

Day of destruction!

After the legendary Super Saiyan, Doomsday's genes were modified by ether particles, and then traced back to the source. Luther suddenly felt an influx of endless power, and he didn't know if it could rival the ancient Doomsday.

But the Doomsday gene actually mutated, and the cells are resisting modifications by etheric particles!

"Are you kidding? They are not on the same level, but now they can resist the modification of ether particles?"

Luther knew that the Doomsday had endless potential, but that was just the ancient Doomsday. The current Doomsday was more of a biological weapon, not as good as the real ancient Doomsday.

As a result, it was modified by ether particles, and the evolutionary adaptability to resist the modification of reality by ether particles actually appeared!

Even if the Doomsday gene is still unable to resist the ether particles, the pressure caused by the ether particles will rebound and promote the Doomsday gene to continuously mutate and evolve crazily.

"Oops, will Doomsday really succeed in fighting against it, and then I will have to live like Doomsday in the future?"

Luther never expected that the Doomsday gene could reach this level with just preliminary modifications by ether particles, and even become more and more powerful.

Now the ether particles are trying to fully integrate the Doomsday gene with the Kryptonian gene and the legendary Super Saiyan gene according to Luther's wishes and ideas, but the Doomsday has suddenly emerged, far exceeding the adaptability and evolution ability of the Broly gene to make it instinctive to combat this modification.

The evolutionary adaptation of Doomsday does not distinguish between friend and foe. Even subjective consciousness cannot affect the evolutionary adaptation of Doomsday's genes. This is the instinct of genes.

"No, I have to find the power gem quickly. I can use the power gem to strengthen the power of the reality gem to suppress the Doomsday gene."

Luther doesn't know where the limit of his evolved Doomsday gene is. Even if it's not as good as the ancient Doomsday, it's probably not much different.

As a result, the Doomsday gene is now too strong, which in turn resists the power of ether particles.

"In that case, my original thought of the black hole engine being able to modify Doomsday's genes must have been wrong. By then, I'm afraid I will become a real Doomsday... This thing is too dangerous."

Luther was shocked by how difficult and heaven-defying the Doomsday gene was. In the end, he used time and entropy to solve the ancient Doomsday. It seemed more like a plot kill. After all, the Omega effect ray is more powerful than the entropy setting. There is no way. Erasing the ancient Doomsday, not to mention entropy?

He struggled to take out the Cosmic Rubik's Cube, and the power of the ether particles confronted the Doomsday gene, making Luther very uncomfortable now.

However, the Cosmic Cube successfully opened a vortex, and Luther rushed in.

Morag!

The Power Gem is also the location of the Cosmic Spirit Ball. The entire planet is dead and desolate, with only one mouse-sized creature.

Star-Lord and others came here and found the power gem in a dilapidated temple.

Later, Star-Lord was knocked unconscious by War Machine's punch here.

Luther relied on his super senses to find the temple quickly.

The measures to block the Power Stone were pierced by Luther's punch. The movement was so loud that it felt like the entire planet's atmosphere was shaking under the punch.

The ground under Luther's feet shattered inch by inch, and the terrifying and powerful force spread, bombing out a huge crater!

The shell of the cosmic spirit ball was almost shattered by the aftermath of Luther's punch, but it was also thrown thousands of meters away by the shock wave. This movement was no less than detonating a nuclear bomb.

But Luther moved instantly and grabbed the cosmic spirit ball. With a slight exertion of his fingers, the outer shell of the cosmic spirit ball turned into powder and fell, revealing the purple power gem inside!

The dazzling power gem shines with bright purple terrifying energy. After being held by Luther, the energy that can burn the body of God instantly invades Luther's body. However, without even a breath, the invading power is destroyed by the sun. Gene suppression and devouring became part of Luther.

Luther doesn't have the Infinity Gauntlet, so if he wants to use the power of the ether particles and the Power Stone at the same time, he has to physically carry it.

However, his terrifying physical strength naturally didn't care about such a thing, so he firmly grasped the power gem and controlled the ether particles in his body.

The power gem burst out with terrifying purple light, instantly destroying the entire surface of Morag. From outer space, half of Morag was reduced to nothing, evaporated directly, and the terrifying power also destroyed the remaining Morag. It was burned up and shrunk into an asteroid smaller than the moon.

The power gem strengthens the power of ether particles and also charges them.

Then the ether particle shell exploded, revealing the real bright red reality gem. The power of the two gems acted on Luther at the same time, almost tearing Luther apart.

The Doomsday gene was also unable to revive, and was directly suppressed in the face of this terrifying power.

Luther's body gradually began to return to normal, and finally, the legendary Super Doomsday Kryptonian was born!

In the vast starry sky, Luther stood in the void, feeling the exploding power in his body.

"I actually awakened a new superpower again."

Luther felt the changes with some surprise.

The Kryptonian genes were completed by ether particles, and the deleted genes were restored. Now Luther is a naturally born Kryptonian. Although he does not have the countless Kryptonian genes of the Life Code, he has also lost the defects and limitations of the genes.

Among the naturally born Kryptonians, the one with the greatest potential is probably Silver Superman, who has all the superpowers he wants.

Luther is not sure if he can be as powerful as Silver Superman, but he still has a lot of superpowers now.

"Maybe it's because of the contact with the Reality Stone and the Power Stone?"

The superpowers that Luther has awakened now involve both reality and power.

The ability of reality has the same ability to modify reality as Majin Buu's transformation magic!

But it is not a perfect superpower.

The range of use of this ability requires the support of the user's own energy. The greater the energy output, the greater the range of the impact effect.
