

KRYPTONIAN: MAN OF STEEL

Chapter 12 Universal Capsule Technology

Luther then went to the Capsule Company headquarters to visit Dr. Brief.

There are a lot of black technologies in the Dragon Ball world. Whether it is capsule technology or Dr. Gero from the Red Ribbon Army behind him, he can actually develop artificial human technology that can compete with Super Saiyan head-on, which makes Luther envious.

How can we travel through the world of Dragon Ball without engaging in technology?

I just don't know if these black technologies can be used in other universes.

Dr. Brief is easy to talk to. Even if someone he doesn't know comes to visit, he doesn't have the airs of a big company boss and just comes out to greet him.

But if Luther catches up with his research, he may not have time to pay attention to Luther.

"Hello, Dr. Brief, I am a researcher who admires you very much and I want to study with you."

Luther said straight to the point.

"Well, thank you for your respect."

Dr. Brief didn't know what to say. He had seen many such enthusiastic fans. Most of the scientific researchers were like this.

But when it comes to studying, he has no shortage of assistants. Dr. Brief has not recruited assistants for so many years and has done all the work himself.

He didn't want to say it directly, which would affect the enthusiasm of the young people.

"Dr. Breeve, you can assign me a topic to test my ability."

Luther said directly.

"Is this so?"

Brive was a little surprised by Luther's confidence, and at the same time thought this was a good idea.

So he arranged a difficult problem for Luther, which he had just solved not long ago, and that was the technology to prevent the food in the capsule from spoiling.

"Dr. Breeve, I have not been exposed to capsule technology before, and I need prerequisite knowledge."

Luther took a look and said after roughly understanding.

Dr. Briff nodded, and then compiled the information for Luther. He was not worried that this technology would be leaked. If it were leaked so easily, the Universal Capsule Company would not have been dominant for so many years. Even during the Super Saiyan period, the Universal Capsule Company Still the overlord of one side.

Originally, Dr. Breve just wanted to get Luther to quit, so he was very patient and planned to wait for a few days. Unexpectedly, within an hour, Luther came over with his own solution.

Dr. Breve was so shocked that he studied Luther's plan and found that it was much worse than his own plan, but it was also a feasible plan!

The reason why there is such a difference is entirely because Brive has hidden a large part of the capsule technical information. Without these core information, Luther can develop a solution. This is no longer a genius.

"Dr. Breeve, did I pass?"

Luther said with a smile.

The super brain itself is an existence that surpasses the super computer by countless times. The super brain can load the knowledge of 52 universes at once. It is not a problem for Luther to install the knowledge of capsule technology. Coupled with his inspiration, even if it has not been cultivated yet It does not require the scientific research thinking of scientific researchers, but it is enough.

If you are strong enough, bricks can fly. If you are strong enough, bricks can fly into the sky!

"That's perfect, Luther, why haven't I heard your name before?"

Dr. Brive admired, and then asked puzzledly.

"Because I was studying before."

Luther said calmly.

"Yeah, it's really good."

Briv nodded and learned to enrich himself. This is a normal thing.

Then Luther became a member of the Universal Capsule Company. Dr. Briff did not squeeze Luther too much. Not only was his salary very high, but his treatment was also very good. Luther could even use the precision instruments in his laboratory at will, as long as he As long as the values can be adjusted back without affecting Dr. Brieff's own research.

This was undoubtedly a good opportunity for Luther to improve his research on Kryptonian genes, so he started studying like crazy.

Originally, this kind of thing could be solved by making a wish with Dragon Ball, such as asking for the technology of the entire Dragon Ball world, but Luther didn't want to waste the wish.

This is a huge waste of wishes. Naturally, it is better now.

With the super brain's learning ability, Luther mastered the universal capsule technology in less than a day, which shocked Dr. Brief like nothing.

It took him most of his life to develop the universal capsule technology. Although there were black technologies to create a gravity chamber and develop a spaceship later on, generally speaking, it was not as black as his daughter Bulma.

Speaking of Bulma, she accidentally came to her father's research laboratory and discovered that there was a super handsome guy...

"Brother Luther!"

Bulma called Luther very ladylike.

"What is it, Bulma?"

Luther knew Bulma's true face, so he would not be deceived by her current ladylike appearance.

But he doesn't resist building a good relationship with Bulma. Just kidding, this is the real black technology boss. He can even develop a time machine. Although it is a time machine that travels through parallel time and space, it is still outrageous.

"Brother Luther, are you free today? Why don't we go out and play together?"

For Bulma, a super sportsman like Luther is simply a killer.
