Chapter 151 Hydra Attacks

Then Steve saw important information about Luther.

Invented a one-time superhuman drug and the No. 1 compound that permanently improves human body function!

As well as the Emperor Company's super bodyguards targeting Hydra terrorism. According to information within the Emperor Company, they injected Compound No. 2, which improved most of the effects of Compound No. 1.

There is also Luther's own super-era human body modification technology!

Flying into the sky and escaping from the ground, as fast as lightning, powerful and invulnerable.

Super powers such as energy attacks, heat vision, cryobreathing, etc. that are comparable to various powerful thermal weapons.

There were also various battle scenes, which made Steve wonder if he had read the wrong information.

"Is this all him?"

Steve asked, looking at Nick Fury in disbelief.

"Yes, he is a genius in the fields of biology, ergonomics, and genes that is more genius than Erskiner, the Dr. Reinstein who transformed you. No one knows how he did it, and no one can imitate it. , just like Tony's steel suit and cold fusion miniature reactor."

Nick Fury said calmly. After seeing more, he wouldn't be surprised. More importantly, Nick Fury still felt that Luther was no match for Carol.

Carol has gone to the universe to enforce justice, but Luther is still hanging around on Earth!

"I can't imagine..."

Steve said with a wry smile, he felt like he was just an outdated veteran and couldn't compare to these two geniuses.

"I hope that through you, Captain, I can lead them against Hydra!"

Nick Fury said ambitiously.

"They can deal with Hydra by themselves, don't they need a veteran like me?"

Steve shook his head and said very self-awarely, this is better than Nick Fury, who has no self-awareness at all.

"No, they are too talented, so they easily go astray. Only you, captain, can lead them well!"

Nick Fury said quickly.

Especially Tony's playboy character is obviously unreliable.

"Isn't there Luther? He is more suitable than me."

Steve also thought about this problem, but with the more perfect Luther, this shouldn't be a problem.

According to Nick Fury, Luther is now the most powerful man on the planet, otherwise Hydra would have stood up long ago.

It was Luther who shocked Hydra, so they didn't dare to do things openly. Now they can only hide and carry out terrorist attacks.

"Luther, he is too young and easily deceived by Hydra."

Nick Fury said, glaring.

However, Nick Fury's painstaking efforts did not waver Steve. He chose to live in the house arranged for him by SHIELD to recuperate and adapt to his current life.

Nick Fury had no choice but to send a few people to accompany Steve and influence Steve through these people.

For example, the future Falcon.

Of course, Steve was still very concerned about Hydra. After he went back, he checked the news about the terrorist attacks caused by Hydra during this period. This is why he still doesn't know how to use a computer.

We can only learn about it through TV news and newspapers. Fortunately, newspapers still exist in America today.

"Really, are you living the life of a retired senior citizen in advance?"

Luther saw the news about Steve from Galvatron.

Steve was only frozen for seventy years, but his age did not really go through for such a long time. He is still a great young man in his twenties, but because of his experience, he is now in his nineties. He looks like an old man.

Luther had no idea about Steve, and the 50-50 was just a joke. He could kill him with one punch, so there was no need to pay attention.

It's impossible to say that he was dragged into the Illuminati. Tony probably had a lot of objections. If he hadn't experienced the plot of The Avengers, Tony didn't like Steve because Howard often said good things about Steve in front of him. , causing Tony to have a big problem with Steve.

"Give Steve the Hydra clues. It's all about having fun after all."

Luther said with a meaningful smile.

"I understand, BOSS."

Jingvatron laughed maliciously.

Steve's daily routine involves exercising and letting off steam.

The physical strength of super soldiers is much greater than that of ordinary people.

However, Steve was tired after exercising. After returning home, he paused and then went to take a shower as usual.

There was the sound of gurgling water in the bathroom, and a dark figure came out of the darkness and touched the bathroom. He held a large-caliber pistol in his other hand, and then he opened the bathroom door. , the pistol fired wildly inside.

“Bang bang bang bang bang!!!”

After emptying the magazine in his hand, Steve made a brutal charge from behind the shadow and knocked the shadow into the wall.

"Who are you?"

Steve forcefully locked the man, and then asked the other person's identity while gasping for breath, but the other person shook his hand and broke away from Steve's restraints. You must know that Steve is a super soldier. In theory, his locking skills can make him a super soldier. It is impossible to break away. After all, at the same level, if various locking skills are completed, there is almost no possibility of breaking away.

He did not kill him and planned to capture the guy who attacked him alive. He suspected that the guy was Hydra!

Steve actually thought about the possibility of being attacked by Hydra these days, so he seemed to be relaxed, but in fact he kept enough physical strength every day, and exercised until he was out of breath just to numb the possible surveillance.

He finally caught it, so of course he couldn't let it go easily.

The attacker wrestled with Steve, and what surprised Steve was that many of the opponent's attack routines were life-threatening, that is, exchanging injuries for lives, and he didn't care about his injuries at all.

Steve was repeatedly forced into danger and even injured, but the opponent recovered quickly from his injuries.

Only then did Steve know that the opponent had the ability to heal himself, so he didn't care about exchanging injuries for lives.

In desperation, Steve could only kill the opponent.

What surprised Steve was that the attacker who was shot in the head by him actually stood up again.

"Damn it!"

Steve fired several shots and blew up the opponent's head, but the opponent's head recovered at a speed visible to the naked eye.

"What's going on!"

It was the first time that Steve saw this kind of unkillable monster. In fact, this kind of thing is more terrifying than things that can't break the defense. At least the latter can still be killed after breaking the defense.

"Long live Hydra!!!"

Then the attacker suddenly shouted, Steve's pupils shrank, he heard a "beep", and the next moment, Steve crashed through the wall without looking back.

Chapter 152 Steve Awakening

"boom--!!!"

There was a loud noise and a flash of fire, and Steve felt a terrifying push on his back. Then he flew out more than ten meters away, and in mid-air he quickly held his head with his hands and leaned down on the spot. Mellow avoids impact damage.

"Hydra..."

Steve looked at his house that was in ruins and clenched his fists.

It wasn't until this moment that Steve felt alive.

He felt like he was unreal before, but now, Steve was alive.

Come alive for Hydra!

A moment later, Nick Fury rushed over with his people.

"Hydra took action against you?"

Nick Fury only knew something had happened when he received a call from Steve, and the SHIELD agents he arranged to monitor Steve had disappeared, and it was probably more serious than that.

"There are Hydra people inside SHIELD."

Steve looked at Nick Fury calmly and said.

Nick Fury naturally thought of this. You must know that only a few people knew that Steve had awakened, let alone whether Steve was arranged to live in a place or Nick Fury personally managed it. Very, very few people knew.

What does it mean that Hydra was able to find Steve's residence so quickly and launch an attack?

The answer is self-evident.

This is also the effect Luther wants, making Steve suspect that SHIELD is not pure, and also making Nick Fury realize that there is a ghost in the family.

It doesn't take much to do anyway, the two of them will figure it out naturally.

"Why didn't they send someone with super powers to kill you?"

Nick Fury found it strange.

"They didn't send superpowers to kill me, but they sent an unkillable monster to attack me, and there was a bomb."

Steve didn't feel anything was wrong. The unkillable monster's muscle strength was almost the same as his own. Coupled with the ability to kill even if he hit the head, Steve felt that if he hadn't exhausted it from the beginning, If you take the opponent's bullet, he may die.

Not to mention that there is a zero-delay activated bomb, which really only needs a moment of hesitation to explode into ashes.

Just look at the power and range of the bomb. Even if it is made of steel, it can only be blown into pieces!

"An unkillable monster?"

Nick Fury captured this point keenly. It sounds like he is also a person with super powers?

"Yes, that monster couldn't be killed. I blew his head, but he quickly revived. I attacked his heart and head many times. Even if I broke his neck, he would still stand. stand up."

Steve said with lingering fear that Hydra actually had such undead warriors, it was simply too scary.

But in the case of a bomb like that, such an undead warrior wouldn't be able to survive, right?

"How is it possible that there is a person with such superpowers, and Hydra wants him to die with you?"

Nick Fury's one eye widened. It wasn't that he looked down on Steve, but if he had to choose, he felt that Steve didn't deserve to die with the undead warrior.

Just kidding, that's an unkillable superpower!

"Who knows what they were thinking, maybe they didn't care."

Steve said mockingly.

But his words gave Nick Fury a flash of inspiration in his mind.

"They don't care... They don't care... Could it be that this kind of undead warrior is nothing to Hydra? They can already mass-produce such undead warriors?"

Nick Fury gasped and said.

Steve's pupils shrank when he heard what he said.

"It's impossible... That's an immortal body. If it could be mass-produced, wouldn't Hydra have many such immortal soldiers?"

Steve said quickly.

"No, this is very possible."

After thinking for a while, Nick Fury said bitterly, because if he puts himself in his shoes, if the immortal warrior really has immortality, he will definitely not give it up, but send the ten superpowers to kill Steve. , Steve will definitely die anyway, and he is definitely no match for those with super powers.

As a result, they even prepared bombs, presumably to make this undead warrior expendable and drag Steve along with them.

It's terrifying to think about it. Even undead soldiers can become consumables. Hydra must have mastered the technology of mass-producing undead soldiers. The key is that this kind of suicide attack is simply impossible to prevent. But Steve said, that undead soldier His strength is similar to his, except that his speed is a bit slower, he is basically at the level of a super soldier!

Super soldier + immortality?

It's scary just thinking about it! ! !

"Not necessarily. Maybe Hydra only has one undead warrior?"

Steve said dryly that even he couldn't convince himself.

Only now did Steve realize how terrifying the new era of Hydra was.

"Then we have to see if they will send such immortal warriors to kill you."

Nick Fury said that there is only one way to verify his terrible conjecture, and that is whether Hydra will send out new immortal attackers.

"But since it failed, it's impossible for Hydra to continue sending people to kill me right away."

Steve shook his head and said, even he knew he should wait a while before talking.

"Captain, it's no longer safe here. You can go back with us first."

Nick Fury certainly knows this, but he also has his own ideas.

Steve had nowhere to go, and the current Hydra attack triggered his allergy to Hydra, so Steve followed Nick Fury away.

Pierce naturally didn't know that his Hydra was blamed again, and those surveillance agents were really Hydra agents. They also reported Steve's situation to their superiors before they disappeared.

If Nick Fury wanted to check, the scope of the lock was not very large, and it was easy to find clues.

Next, Luther did not do anything extra, he just guided, he wanted to see the reaction under his guidance.

"Sir, Mr. Norman from Osborn Industries wants to see you."

Michelle said to Luther. The two of them contacted through projection. This is the most convenient place in the Imperial Company, and Michelle can't remember how long it has been since she went there and saw Luther in person.

This boss is getting more and more reclusive, and she can see him through projection and news.

"I know."

Luther had been notified by Galvatron that Norman was coming to the Imperial Company, and Luther knew it when he went out to take a car.

Norman Osborn's purpose is simple, he wants to solve their family's genetic disease through Monarch Corporation.

Chapter 153 Seeking Help

Members of the Norman Osborn family will die early and have a short life span. The reason is naturally because of the genetic disease of retrovirus.

The more famous retroviruses include HIV and others.

Most diseases caused by retroviruses are relatively chronic. Although some viruses do not directly cause diseases, they can cause cancer. Some viruses can insert their genes into cell genes without causing diseases.

In the process of human evolution, many retroviruses inserted their genes into human genes and became part of human genes.

Retroviruses are a special type of virus that can convert RNA into DNA to replicate themselves in host cells.

They are a variety of viruses that can infect various organisms, including humans, animals and plants.

The RNA virus of the Osborn family is quite special. It will make people grow green cuticles, which looks very special.

Harry and his father both have involuntary hand tremors...

And the pathogenic mechanism of the disease is that there is a CAG tandem repeat sequence in the coding region of the gene. The number of repeats of patients is much more than that of normal people. When it is passed from parents to children, the number of CAG repeats continues to increase, causing the age of onset of offspring to gradually advance.

Norman couldn't sit still at all, because of Harry.

Harry showed symptoms of the disease in his teens!

Just at this time, the Emperor Company came out of nowhere, with human enhancement technology, super soldier serum, and the AIDS special medicine that had just received rave reviews, all of which gave Norman hope of curing Harry.

He wanted to rely on the enhancement potion to treat this genetic disease, but Harry might not be able to wait until the day when the enhancement potion was successful, so Norman had to come.

If Harry's problem was not solved, Harry's descendants might get sick earlier, and then the Osborn family would be gone after three generations.

Norman was desperate.

"Although the AIDS special medicine was originally thrown out to target Osborn Industries, I don't need Osborn Industries now."

Luther was a little helpless. He arranged a lot of plans before he left, and Galvatron was advancing them in an orderly manner, and the AIDS special medicine was just one point.

This proved that the Emperor Company had made a technological breakthrough in the field of retroviral proliferation that was ahead of its time, and Osborn couldn't help but be tempted.

Luther scratched his head, why did he make this arrangement at that time?

Forget it, never mind, it's more or less fun anyway.

Luther left the room with ten times the gravity. His way of becoming stronger now is very simple, that is, constantly adapting himself to various harsh environments, and his fighting power will soar by himself, and he doesn't even need Cucumber to practice with him.

Cucumber can't keep up with his speed of becoming stronger. During the fight, Luther can always easily suppress Cucumber. This is the result of the combination of the legendary Super Saiyan, Perfect Doomsday and Complete Kryptonian.

He has become the strongest life form!

Luther also thought about whether he should fight with Odin to test whether he can press Odin to the ground.

But Odin is now in a very old state, and his divine power is so strong that his own body can't bear it. He can only keep entering Odin's sleep to recover from his injuries.

If they really fight, Odin's strength of creating and destroying galaxies at will is absolutely beyond imagination.

Norman waited for Luther to meet.

"Hello, Mr. Osborn, what's up?"

Luther shook hands politely with Norman, and immediately Norman felt that he was much easier to deal with than Tony.

He thought that Luther and Tony had the same personality, after all, they were both geniuses.

So Norman had already prepared for Luther to be difficult to deal with.

"Mr. Luther, I want to ask Monarch to cooperate with us to study a special medicine for RNA virus."

Norman didn't want to throw away his trump card right away, but Harry's situation was not optimistic.

He knew very well that once the symptoms appeared, life would enter a countdown. At this time, no game was important. The most important thing was to cure Harry.

Otherwise, he would not have risked injecting the unfinished Green Goblin serum in the original plot.

"Mr. Osborn, our research field is no longer in this direction recently."

Luther had no idea about the Green Goblin serum. It was indeed amazing that the mice could increase their physical strength and wisdom eightfold, but Luther could research something better himself.

"Mr. Luther, what do you need?"

Norman said quickly.

"Mr. Osborn, you seem to be saying that if I like anything in Osborn Industries, I can take it?"

Luther laughed and said.

"...Yes, as long as it can solve this RNA virus, I can pay for it no matter what it is."

Norman was silent for a while, then said seriously.

Even if Luther wanted Osborn Industries, there would be no problem. Norman firmly believed that he was still young, and as long as he could cure the family's genetic disease, it would not matter if Osborn Industries was given to Luther.

Starting from scratch is difficult, but it is not a problem for Norman. The accumulated connections are used at this time.

"I need to see it before I can give you an answer."

Luther thought about it and felt that the Green Goblin family was actually okay, and it would be okay to save them.

Norman didn't say anything, and took out the information he brought, which was Harry's medical examination report information and his years of research results on the RNA virus in his body.

Luther looked pretendingly for a while.

"This RNA virus is a genetic disease..."

Luther said meaningfully.

"It's a hereditary disease in our Osborne family."

Norman said bitterly, now that it has reached this point, there is no need to hide anything.

"Okay, I will study it. As for what I have to pay, I will wait until I study it."

Luther said calmly.

"I can help."

Norman quickly said that he would wait until the research was successful. Luther probably hadn't thought about how to kill him. The problem was that Norman didn't care. What he was worried about was that Luther had succeeded in his research but was delaying it from himself.

The value of harvested fruits is also different at different time periods.

Of course, what he was more worried about was that Luther had mastered this key information and secret, and then deliberately failed to study it successfully until he and Harry got sick, and then he could short Osborne Industries...

This is the way to maximize profits. Norman himself has done something like this. In fact, it is a normal operation to master some trade secrets and then use the trade secrets to attack the opponent's stock market.

"Don't worry, I won't use any despicable means. After all, the current Emperor Company or Emperor Industry no longer cares about a small Osborne Industry."

Luther said.

Chapter 154 I Want to Watch the World Burn

Norman didn't feel embarrassed when his thoughts were revealed.

Luther doesn't look like the kind of genius who doesn't know anything.

"Mr. Luther, the hope of our Osborne family rests on you."

Norman could only say this.

Then he left Imperial Industries.

Looking at the busy Imperial Industry with people coming and going, Norman seemed to see himself back in the day.

It's just that he also started from scratch, but Luther is much better than me. If Harry can be one percent... no, one ten thousandth of Luther's ability, he can go there with peace of mind.

Norman sighed when he thought of his son who was ordinary in all aspects although he did not live in excessive drinking or spending money.

Fortunately, Harry has a genius good friend Peter. Norman has always felt that Peter is not much worse than his parents and will be able to achieve great things in the future, so he has a good relationship with Peter.

Although Peter's parents were very cheating, Norman felt that the matter could not be blamed on a child. Otherwise, with Osborne Industries' methods, how could Peter get any better?

Regardless of Norman's benevolent intentions, if Osborne Industries wants to develop from scratch to its current scale, how can it be possible without a few evil deeds?

Luther didn't take it seriously. If it hadn't shocked the world or made Norman feel that he was just waiting for this day, he would have let Norman take the things away just now.

Although he had not left a solution before because he had never seen what the Norman family's RNA virus looked like, he had Jingpo Tian.

He is the most advanced artificial intelligence in the Dragon Ball world. The technological level of the Dragon Ball world cannot be said to be at the level of the civilization of stars and singers. At the very least, it is as easy as breathing and drinking water to explode galaxies.

It only took a femtosecond to figure out the RNA virus. Just after browsing it, Galvatron had already created a special medicine.

Now Emperor Industries has changed too much since he left. Galvatron has advanced it by himself, making various advanced instruments by himself, and there is no need to wait for America to give birth.

Are you kidding, you have the skills and materials, but you can still be choked to death?

...

Bruce Banner gradually adapted to his new life.

He is still operating in Stark Industrial Park. Tony spent more than 30 billion US dollars to build a special industrial zone for Hulk to carry out activities. Now that Bruce Banner and Hulk have reached a compromise and settlement, Hulk has Gram has a fixed activity time every day.

Then Bruce Banner doesn't need to worry about the Hulk showing up at other times, unless his life is in danger.

Bruce Banner is very satisfied with his current situation, because in this way, he has the possibility of being with his girlfriend Betty again.

Therefore, in order to beat up... no, to repay Tony Stark and Luther, Bruce Banner took the initiative to learn relevant knowledge in the field of nanorobots, such as neuron engineering and artificial intelligence.

In this regard, Dr. Otto may be a master, but he is currently cooperating with Osborn Industries and will not consider switching to Stark Industries or Imperial Industries for the time being. Just kidding, how can he prove it in these two places? Own?

Dr. Otto also has his own pride.

However, although Bruce Banner is not a monster like Tony who studied atomic physics in one night and became a Ph.D., he is also a genius with multiple Ph.D.s, and it is not difficult for him to cross fields.

Anyway, that's how it is with Marvel. Cross-fields are too easy for super villains and superheroes.

"Mark 22, nanorobot material."

Bruce Banner looked at the masterpiece in front of him with emotion. Tony had two dark circles under his eyes and his hair was messy.

You know, after injecting the No. 1 compound, his body was much better than ordinary people. He only needed one hour of deep sleep every day to be satisfied. As a result, he even got dark circles under his eyes.

Tony becomes very crazy when he enters a scientific research state. In the original plot, he even tried to stay awake for several days just to overcome a technical difficulty.

Now I can only say that he is better able to endure it.

It took the two of them a lot of time and energy, and after who knows how many generations of elimination, they finally came up with the nanorobot's steel suit.

"It is responsive, has multiple transformation forms, and can replenish lost nanorobots through Veronica. Unfortunately, the technical difficulty of assimilation has not yet been solved. Otherwise, the lack of nanorobots can be replenished at any time."

Bruce Banner pushed up his glasses and said.

"Assimilation technology is the idea given by that boy Luther. I didn't put my mind on it."

Tony stared and told lies. He didn't pay attention to it. After Luther passed him a complete list of nanorobot programs and design ideas, Tony felt that Luther was looking down on him.

Just kidding, who am I, Stark, that I need you to give me step-by-step instructions like this?

Even without technology and data, this design idea alone is equivalent to giving an unmistakable scientific research direction. Tony certainly knows how important this is.

Then he found that it was really difficult, and he got stuck on the technical problem of splitting, replicating and assimilating the final nanorobots.

This is the key to the nanorobot being able to replenish it at any time.

Otherwise, we can only think of other solutions, such as using Veronica to carry spare nanorobots to provide support at any time.

Tony doesn't want to be inferior to Luther, so he will do his best to overcome this problem.

Luther had good intentions and wanted Tony's nano armor not to become less and less like in the original plot, and finally be pierced by Thanos.

However, I am not surprised by Tony's competitive spirit. It would be strange if he didn't have a competitive spirit.

Men's desire to win is so strange.

Of course, Tony didn't say it, but he secretly studied the anti-Hulk armor against the Green Hulk.

This is not that Tony is evil-hearted, he has reasons, the Illuminati is to solve all threats to mankind, and besides, the anti-Hulk armor is not prepared for the Hulk, isn't there another Bronsky who was taken away by Hydra?

Luther didn't continue to be idle, he planned to stimulate Tony and Bruce.

Didn't I say that war is the best ladder for progress, and now their nano armor lacks an opponent.

Nothing is more suitable than Hydra.

So, just when Tony and his team were thinking about how to test the performance and various data of Mark 22, they saw the news about the monster attack.

This was the information from the police system network that Jarvis retrieved for them, just like Spider-Man had set up a program to monitor it.

Chapter 155 Ace Pilot Explosive Overclocking Tony

However, compared to Spider-Man, Tony is much more arrogant. He and Luther teamed up to invade all military satellites and advanced satellites such as meteorological satellites in the world and established a satellite network system covering the entire world.

They call it "Angel of Peace"!

Tony didn't know why Luther chose this name. He originally wanted to call it the Sword of Damocles to warn himself and remind himself that having such technology does not mean that they are above everyone else.

Tony still respects the privacy rights of ordinary people.

However, Tony's goal is to find the traces of Hydra through Angel of Peace.

Luther was very surprised that Tony had such a bold idea, and then he gave Tony a bolder idea.

They can secretly launch their own private satellites and then build a more complete Angel of Peace.

Now this Angel of Peace can only be regarded as a simple version. The real Angel of Peace... Oh, it seems that the real Angel of Peace is not like this.

Tony thought it was a good idea. In the original plot, he secretly launched his own private satellite, and that's how Veronica was launched from outer space.

"A monster attack has occurred. It seems we can test it."

Tony looked at the monster raging on the screen and said.

"Hulk! Go too!"

Banner suddenly roared, and his green skin turned half of his face green.

"Okay, take Hulk with you, just in time to try out the flying wing that Luther gave you."

Tony nodded. It was good for Hulk to go out, so that he wouldn't be beaten up.

Banner hesitated for a moment and didn't say anything. The flying wing that Luther gave him was at best a jetpack, but with two huge propeller jets on the wings of an airplane.

The angle can be adjusted freely. For Banner, the technology of this single-soldier flying wing alone is very powerful, but Luther gave it away for free.

The two quickly arrived at the scene and found that the monster looked like a dinosaur man walking upright.

At this time, the American police had suffered heavy casualties, and then they ran away.

"Hulk, Banner, you two wait here."

Tony was here to test the performance of Mark 22, so of course he couldn't let Hulk go up and smash it.

Hulk and Banner naturally had no objections. Although Hulk wanted to go out and prove himself, he knew that Tony and Luther were good to him, so Hulk was willing to obey.

"Hey, big guy, did you run out of the zoo?"

Tony hadn't arrived yet, but the voice had arrived first, attracting the attention of the green lizard.

Looks like a dinosaur man, but is actually a lizard man.

Of course, this lizard man was not transformed by Dr. Connors, but it can also be said that it was caused by Dr. Connors.

Osborn Industries is so big that human experiments are inevitable.

Dr. Connors has been conducting experiments on mice for things like lizard man serum, but unfortunately the results are not very ideal.

However, Osborn Industries secretly conducted human experiments without telling Dr. Connors, and unsuccessful experiments were directly humanely destroyed.

Norman wanted to solve the family's genetic disease problem, not to create lizard warriors. He thought the military would not be interested in these monsters.

In fact, if he had taken it out, the military might have given him a big contract.

Luther didn't do anything. He just asked Galvatron to control the equipment in the laboratory and add a few grams of trace elements when injecting lizard serum.

It won't be fatal, but it's enough to make this lizard man mutate drastically.

Invulnerable to swords and guns, with infinite strength, and an immortal body with very strong regenerative ability, so that the security guards of Osborn Industrial Laboratory were killed and this lizard man escaped.

Then Galvatron wiped out the things in the laboratory, which was very simple. He just needed to send a micro-robot to ignite the fire, and paralyze the fire protection system by the way, making the induction sprinkler unresponsive.

The blazing fire will make everything lose evidence and traces.

I just don't know if the sprinkler company will be complained about afterwards.

The lizard man was already affected by the brutality in the lizard serum, and the bloodthirsty instinct made it impossible for him to communicate. After hearing Tony's words, he flew directly.

A two-meter-tall man's flying pounce is still very daunting. If Tony hadn't seen the Hulk and the Abomination, he would probably be stunned for a moment, and then rely on Jarvis's reaction to avoid it.

It's different now. In just a blink of an eye, Tony restrained his emotions, adrenaline surged, and his mind entered an extremely calm state. This is an "overclocking mode" that he self-adjusted.

In fact, there have been relevant theories and research on human overclocking for a long time, but the specific data has not been obtained, and the key is that even research cannot be done.

Tony himself has a big brain, and the human body transformation of Compound No. 1 has brought him the conditions to achieve this overclocking state like Kira Yamato's explosion.

After Luther knew about it, he always felt that it was a big loss to sell it to Tony for 10 million US dollars.

Why don't other people have such a cool operation as you?

It's good enough for others to be able to bring out the basic effect of compound No. 1, but Tony... he is almost digging out the effect of compound No. 2.

This also makes Luther have no idea of selling the follow-up compound No. 2. Marvel's mutation is too illogical. Tony can use compound No. 1 to achieve effects beyond others, let alone compound No. 2?

Entering the overclocking state, Tony's brain was extremely calm, and all kinds of data came at his fingertips. At this moment, he was the ace pilot!

First, he turned sideways like in slow motion to avoid the green lizard's flying attack, and then he raised his hand and shot a palm energy cannon through the green lizard's abdomen!

The power of this shot was beyond the green lizard's expectations. It didn't even pay attention to the automatic rifle. At most, it only knocked off a few scales, but now this shot blasted through it!

Fortunately, the green lizard's recovery ability is very fast and it recovered in the blink of an eye. Not only that, the green lizard also opened its mouth wide and spat out a jet of water at Tony.

"Sir, a chemical reaction has been detected, and the air composition around the liquid has changed. It is speculated that it should be a high-strength acid etching liquid."

Jarvis also displays its true performance in overclocking mode, so there is no need to worry that Tony cannot quickly receive and understand its information.

Tony can understand it at a glance and perform the optimal operation.

Even though he was confident in the defense power of his Mark 22, he had never thought about corrosion resistance. He had to remember it when he returned.

Chapter 156 The Hydra appears again!

After seeing Tony avoid his corrosive liquid, the green lizard turned around and dug through the cement floor and got into the sewer.

Tony didn't think too much and followed, but he was ambushed by the green lizard, and its sharp claws that could easily dig through cement grabbed him hard.

"Squeak————!!!"

Then there was the sound of metal friction that made Tony and the green lizard go crazy and grin.

Fortunately, Tony's nano-suit was very reliable. Tiny cones bulged directly on the surface. These cones effectively prevented the green lizard's claws from continuing to thrust forward and downward.

The surface of his nanosuit only dented a small part, and then turned into a high-strength elastic material, which bounced the claws away!

This is a nanorobot that Tony and Banner have tested tens of thousands of times. If it wasn't a little more powerful, would it be worthy of the efforts of two genius scientists?

The ability to withstand blunt blows, sharp blows and pressure is better than the previous steel suit. Even the Hulk's fists are now dared to be used by Tony.

It can be said that, except for the problem of not absorbing the technology of the Chitauri for transformation, this nano-suit is already much more powerful than Tony's bloody armor in other aspects.

Seeing that his sneak attack was unsuccessful, the green lizard was bounced away instead. Tony was not someone to be trifled with. In an instant, his brain nerves transmitted brain waves and commanded the nanorobots on his body to transform.

In a place like the sewer, even if America's sewer system was built very large, Tony would not dare to use any thermal weapons.

"Hulk Mode!"

Tony said proudly.

Then the nanorobots on his body began to expand as if they were inflated. They secreted a material similar to a non-Newtonian fluid, bonded to each other, and finally formed a big guy about the same size as the Green Hulk!

This is one of Tony's transformation forms, and it is one of the directions in the nano armor design idea given by Luther.

Tony felt good about it after seeing it, so he used it.

In addition to the Hulk mode, of course there is also the Luther mode, but it is not the Hell Bat Armor after all. Tony can't tinker with the Luther mode, and Luther doesn't want to give Tony the Hell Bat Armor.

He just did it for fun, not to be a nanny. Tony could design it himself if he wanted. Anyway, he gave him the idea.

The green lizard roared and rushed forward, but Tony knocked it away with one punch and smashed the solid wall of the sewer.

This punch tilted the green lizard's head 180 degrees, but it didn't fall off.

"Yo, Tony Stark!"

Suddenly, a voice sounded behind Tony.

Tony turned around strangely and found that it was an acquaintance.

"Emil Blonsky?"

Tony's pupils shrank, and the next moment, Bronski's grin turned into hatred!

"Sorry, we Hydra are interested in this lizard man!"

Bronski moved his hands and feet, cracked his knuckles and said.

"Really, let's see if you can do it!"

Tony immediately contacted Banner outside without saying anything, but Jarvis said that the signal was blocked.

At the same time, Banner above also felt something was wrong. They kept communicating, but now there was only a buzzing sound in the communication.

"What happened to Tony?"

Banner couldn't believe it. Although the lizard man was difficult to deal with, it wasn't that easy, right?

He still knew very well how powerful the nano-armor he and Tony designed was.

Just when Banner was about to check the situation, a devilish muscular man with a red helmet like a pot lid on his head and a red vest with a Hydra pattern on the vest appeared in front of him.

When you see the other person dressed like this, you can tell at a glance that he is either not a normal person or he is mentally ill.

But this kind of physique cannot be a sign of mental illness. He is almost 2.5 meters tall, and with such strong muscles, he probably doesn't start at 500 pounds!

"Green Hulk? I'm Hydra's red tank. I heard you're good at fighting?"

The strong man said to Banner.

"Hydra?"

Banner's expression changed slightly. After joining the Illuminati, of course he knew about Hydra, and he also knew that the current purpose of the Illuminati was to solve Hydra, a super-powerful terrorist organization.

It's just that Hydra is difficult to deal with. Even though they have Luther, the strongest man on earth, the intelligence is not strong enough. The establishment of Angel of Peace still failed to find any clues about Hydra.

Just like he is now, before the red tank appeared, Angel of Peace had no reaction and knew nothing!

"Let Hulk out, you weakling!"

Red Tank said impatiently.

This red tank is not a mutant's red tank. In other words, the two people are the same person, but this red tank is not a mutant.

His real name is Kain Mark. Some people often mistake him for a mutant. In fact, his power comes from the magic of the evil god Cytorak. Cytorak himself produces a ruby with its own magic power. Anyone who touches the gem will Everyone will gain magic power and become a red tank.

Cytorak's magic makes Red Tank's power inexhaustible, making his body almost indestructible. His ramming ability has repeatedly destroyed many buildings, and can even resist Thor's Mjolnir and Wolverine. of Adamant steel claws.

When Red Tank's body is activated nothing can stop him.

Invulnerability and super strength are all common configurations.

Red Tank's main power is "unstoppable power embodiment": once Red Tank starts moving in a certain direction, it is almost impossible to stop his movement.

The only known examples of him being stopped involve the effects of magic and physics.

Luther was just curious to see if he could find the superheroes and supervillains in the comics, such as a self-imprisoned sentinel with the energy of a million stellar explosions, Blue Surprise, Hyperion, etc.

Unexpectedly, he found Red Tank, fought with Red Tank as Black Caesar, crushed Red Tank, and used his mental power to play with Red Tank at will, and Red Tank succumbed.

There was no way, Red Tank couldn't accept that he was stupidly snatching food from stray dogs and peeing in the street.

It can be said that he is now very afraid and in awe of Black Caesar.

So joining Hydra has become a foregone conclusion.

Today Black Caesar sent him to stop Green Hulk, to give Bronski the opportunity to take away the Lizard Man and see if he can kill Tony alone.

Bronski and Red Tank naturally obeyed the orders, even though the Lizardmen did not seem to be very strong in their opinion.

Chapter 157 Bronski's Outburst

"My companion is greeting Dr. Banner up there."

Blonsky and Tony struggled, and then Blonsky said to Tony.

"Really, can your companions withstand the Hulk?"

Tony stopped worrying all of a sudden. Blonsky was here. What else could Hydra have that could resist the Hulk's power?

He should be worried about himself.

The Green Lizard took the opportunity to slip away, but was caught by the Obsidian Stone Man.

"Where do you want to run to?"

The obsidian stone man knocked the green lizard to the ground with one punch. Although the opponent's strength was so-so, this strength was enough to become a soldier of Hydra.

"Is that your companion? Which quarry did he escape from?"

Tony was surprised. This black stone man had never appeared in Hydra before. He quickly recorded the other party's information and whispered to Blonsky, trying to get some information from Blonsky.

Bronski has been on the battlefield for so many years, and although he may not be as scheming as that kind of politician, it's strange that Bronski would fall for Tony's obvious cliché.

He was a little surprised. It had been a while since he saw Tony Stark. Tony Stark, who had been able to survive his own attack and struggled to escape, was now able to fight him head-on.

The armor on his body also looks very strange. It feels like a hard and elastic basketball. If you hit the basketball with your fist, it will definitely bounce back hard.

Bronski used his bone spur attack, but it seemed to have hit the extremely smooth bulletproof glass, and he immediately slipped and was unable to bear any force.

Tony took advantage of Bronski's attack to be ineffective and punched him hard on the face several times, breaking the bone spurs protruding from the cheek bones on Bronski's face.

Just kidding, you can bully me with the Hulk power that I worked so hard for, and the Obsidian guy can bully me, and the new red tank can still bully me, so I didn't get this power in vain! ! !

Blonsky was angry. He felt insulted.

Originally he was the number three figure in Hydra, and he couldn't beat Black Caesar and Obsidian. However, after the newcomer Red Tank joined, Obsidian and he were no match, and their status was demoted together, and he became the number four figure.

Hydra speaks with its fists and doesn't care about seniority at all, which Bronsky approves of. That's what makes him feel even more uncomfortable.

He can't even reach the top with his proud fists. This is the biggest blow to a person like him!

With such anger, the components of Compound No. 1, the components of Super Soldier Serum and the Hulk Serum in his body all mutated.

Most of Marvel's products based on the super soldier serum will mutate under the influence of emotions, except for the special case of Luke Cage.

Originally, Blonsky had no possibility of going any further. He was already disabled. Luther even thought of injecting him with Green Goblin serum and lizard serum. By the way, he might also get the Extremis virus in the future. Look at Blonsky. What can it become.

Unexpectedly, Bronsky mutated for the second time on his own.

Of course, compound No. 1 probably played a lot of roles here, as it was the only variable.

Tony felt that the bone spurs on Blonsky's body began to glow green. Worried about whether there would be any radiation, he quickly backed away and asked Jarvis to detect it.

"Jarvis, radiation detection!"

The Green Hulk is the product of gamma ray radiation. I heard that Blonsky was transformed after being injected with Hulk's blood, so maybe the glowing appearance is gamma ray radiation.

Even if not, such a dazzling light, who knows what kind of light radiation it is.

"Sir, the radiation values are normal."

Jarvis quickly provided the test results.

"So, just glowing?"

Tony was stunned for a moment. He thought there was something so powerful about Bronski turning into such a bluffing appearance.

"I feel it, this is...power!"

Bronski also knew that the bone spurs all over his body that were exposed to the air were glowing with dazzling fluorescent green!

Coupled with his tall and ferocious body, he looked shocking.

And he also felt his strength increasing.

"It's not Christmas yet, and no one will hang presents for you if you turn into a Christmas tree, big guy."

Tony said teasingly.

"Stark, you are the only one who is not worthy of being my opponent!"

Bronski laughed ferociously, and the next moment, he punched Tony in the helmet.

Tony's pupils shrank, and he realized that he could see Bronsky's punch, but he couldn't avoid it with his body!

The punch was so fast that Tony was knocked away, and even Bronski followed. His fist sank deeply into Tony's helmet, and he was still exerting force, trying to penetrate deep into the armor!

Bronsky made up his mind, even if Tony's thing was a basketball, he would blow it up with one punch!

Tony was pushed backwards by the punch, and Bronski ran all the way and continued to exert force.

"Sir, the suit is damaged by 1%...3%..."

Jarvis began to report on the status of the suit.

Tony had no choice but to mobilize the thrusters all over his body, which generated a thrust in the opposite direction, leading Bronski to crash through the ceiling of the sewer and to the ground.

Bronsky was accidentally carried away, but he quickly grabbed Tony and planned to forcefully change his flight direction.

Tony flew out to see Banner's situation and to find Banner to solve the problem. As a result, he saw the Green Hulk colliding with a red giant, causing a terrifying loud noise and shattering the surrounding glass.

"What's going on?"

Tony couldn't believe that Hydra actually had such a strong man?

Or was the red giant the result of Hydra's research on Bronsky?

Except for Luther, this was the first time Tony saw a guy who could fight the Hulk head-on.

Bronsky didn't count, because they were all defeated by Luther before they could fight.

Tony's nano armor shrank instantly and broke free from Bronsky's restraints.

"Jarvis, replenish nanorobots!"

Tony ordered Jarvis immediately.

Veronica, who was in the Earth orbit in space, launched a transport box to land at Tony's coordinates.

Bronsky looked at Tony flying in the sky, grabbed a car next to him and threw it into the sky.

Tony dodged flexibly and grabbed the car by the way.

"Why hasn't Luther come yet?"

Tony complained that the signal was blocked so he couldn't contact Luther, but with such a big commotion, Luther should have known about it.

Luther said, I want to see you get humiliated, how can I come so quickly!

Chapter 158 The Emperor Arrives!

"Hydra may also be holding Mr. Luther's attention, sir."

Jarvis suddenly said to Tony.

"...Well, it's not impossible."

Tony thought about it for a while. Hydra was able to come up with a lineup that could hold back the Green Hulk. Is it not surprising that it would hold back Luther's attention?

I hope that Luther guy won't be attracted to leave New York, otherwise, they will be in trouble.

"HULK!!!"

On the ground, the Green Hulk collided with the Red Tank. Every step the Red Tank took could push the Green Hulk backward crazily.

"The Green Hulk is nothing more than that!"

Red Tank said with a grin. In the others, Red Tank regained his confidence.

Now, except for the invincible BOSS Black Caesar, Red Tank is the second best in the world. Blonsky, Green Hulk, and Obsidian are no match for him!

"Red Tank, the mission has been completed, you can retreat."

A voice sounded in his ears.

"Retreat? No, I want them to feel the terror of our Hydra!"

Red Tank knew that this was a superpower called "Phone" within Hydra, which could allow them to communicate instantly through telepathy and would not be affected by signal blocking.

But who is the red tank? How could he retreat so easily? After all, he has to knock the green Hulk down first.

"The emperor is almost there. If you don't want to get beaten, run away."

The phone reminded me helplessly.

"What emperor?"

Red Tank snorted coldly. For Emperor Luther, who even Black Caesar was afraid of, Red Tank did not believe in evil and was unconvinced. Who do you think I am? To control the ship... No, at least I have to fight!

Green Hulk roared, angry that he was being pushed backwards by Madness.

"Hulk! He is! The strongest!!!"

Green Hulk roared, and his body quickly expanded by one-third, becoming stronger and more powerful!

Anger will increase the Green Hulk's strength, speed, defense and size. In theory, the Green Hulk can even become the same size as the Earth. Of course, that is the setting in the comics. There are not many more in the movie. knew.

Red Tank instantly felt a huge increase in resistance, but the power of his charge could not be stopped. Even if Green Hulk became more than three times stronger, he could not stop himself from being pushed by Red Tank!

Then the red tank stopped on its own, and the next moment, the Green Hulk fought back, hitting the red tank's head hard with a headbutt.

Red Tank swayed and took two steps back, and then Green Hulk punched him wildly on the head and chest.

Every punch can produce an air explosion effect. If anyone is nearby, the eardrum will be directly shattered!

Even the car was overturned to the ground and rolled some distance away.

Red Tank didn't expect Green Hulk to become so strong all of a sudden. He was suppressed by him just now, and even more crushed after he charged, but now he is suppressing him in turn?

He got angry and hit the Hulk with an uppercut on the chin, knocking the Green Hulk into the air. He fell to the ground with his feet off the ground. Then the Red Tank strode forward and stepped on the Green Hulk's leg. On his body, he stepped on the Green Hulk and sunk it into the ground.

"Stand up!"

Red Tank ravaged Green Hulk, trampling him continuously. After Green Hulk screamed in pain a few times, he really stood up, grabbed Red Tank's shoulders, and threw him away.

The fight between the two big men was very brutal and crude, with no technical content. Green Hulk originally learned hand-to-hand combat, but he forgot these things when he became angry.

"It's true. It seems that I have to use fists to make Hulk remember the feeling of boxing in the future, so as not to be knocked down by Thanos in just a few punches."

Luther said with his hands crossed, and then he descended.

"Luther!"

Tony was overjoyed to see Luther appear.

"You were late to the Illuminati's first team-building event!"

Tony said with a smile.

"Sorry, there's a bit of a plane jam on the road."

Luther said with a slight smile.

"emperor!"

After the Red Tank saw Luther appearing, he immediately abandoned the Green Hulk, and the Green Hulk chased after him angrily.

"The disobedient assassin must be taught a lesson..."

Luther looked at the red tank. The red tank was unwilling to retreat, which delayed the arrival of his emperor. Although Bronski did not retreat, Bronski was held back, which was excusable.

So he appeared in front of Red Tank in the blink of an eye. Red Tank had no idea when he appeared in this position, as if Luther was standing here from the beginning.

What followed was a fist that dug deeply into his abdomen, causing the red tank to grimace in pain.

He took a few steps back, clutched his abdomen and fell to his knees.

Luther looked at Blonsky.

Blonsky's current appearance is a bit like the fully evolved Hulk in Waterline, with fluorescent green bone spurs glowing all over his body, but he still retains most of his hatred.

Blonsky was not timid at first, but now he has become stronger. He feels that he is very strong. Even Tony has given up fighting him head-on and can only keep running away.

But when he saw Luther, he felt like he was timid again.

However, before he could think about what he should do, the next moment, Luther appeared in front of him out of nowhere, and the same punch sank deeply into his abdomen, and traces of a fist could even be seen on his back.

Blonsky rolled his eyes.

"I knew..."

He fell to the ground.

Luther has a biological force field, so naturally there will be no such thing as knocking people out. What a waste of power, especially these guys are all rough-skinned and thick-skinned. God knows how many times it will take them to get hurt. .

So he directly fixed them with a biological force field, and then allowed them to bear the damage of the punch to the maximum extent.

Red Tank refused to give up and stood up after being punched.

"Emperor Luther!!!"

He launched a charge, and his power exploded several times or even dozens of times, and it continued to increase with the distance of his charge!

"Dong dong dong dong dong dong!!!"

Every step you take can make the sound of anti-tank mines exploding, the ground bursting, and gravel flying.

Luther raised his hand, and the golden energy formed a dazzling light on his hand!

Then he launched it and hit the red tank.

“Rumble, rumble————!!!”

There was a terrifying movement of the earth shattering, and the red tank stalled instantly.

"Sir, a high-energy reaction was detected, and the inductive element of the nanorobot was damaged..."

Tony looked at the scene in front of him in surprise. Jarvis said that all the energy detectors were burned out, and the value of the instantaneous burst exceeded the limit that the laboratory could achieve by an unknown number of times. Unless it can be analyzed by large-scale testing equipment and instruments.

Chapter 159 Cruel Punishment

After the explosion, the red tank fell directly to the ground, life or death unknown.

"This time we can't hand them over to the military and SHIELD. We will imprison them and interrogate the information about Hydra!"

Tony was surprised that Luther's blow just now was more terrifying than the energy of his reactor. It was simply a walking humanoid nuclear fusion reactor!

But the most important thing now is to deal with Blonsky and Red Tank.

"Hydra will not give up. They will not give up Bronsky and this guy for a lizard man. Their value is much higher than that of the lizard man."

Luther said.

"So I have to design a prison, a prison that can hold them!"

Tony still insists on letting the Illuminati take in these two superpowers because they are too dangerous.

"Hulk...went back...Little Banner...came out..."

Hulk was very unconvinced. He thought he could still fight, but the red tanks had fallen, and only Luther and Tony were left here. Hulk said hello to the two of them, and then went back.

"I didn't expect Hulk to be so obedient and go back on his own..."

Banner said with emotion.

"He's a good boy, isn't he?"

Luther said.

SHIELD and the military arrived quickly. In addition to blocking the scene, the military also mobilized a transport plane to transport the Red Tank and Blonsky.

This time they will definitely not be robbed by Hydra.

"Impossible, this is our trophy, you have no right to interfere!"

Tony stopped the military and S.H.I.E.L.D.'s containment efforts.

"Tony Stark, this is America, and we have the right to deal with everything in America's land!"

The military general also said to Tony unceremoniously.

"Really, I think it might be more appropriate for Stark Industries and Imperial Industries to move to other countries. What do you think, Luther?"

"Well, maybe we can go to the desert. I have researched an ecosystem environment converter that can adjust the environment and climate. I have tried to make the desert grow plants..."

Luther then followed.

Of course the general knew that the two men were talking nonsense, and they couldn't just move the company away, but just by spreading these words, people from his hostile faction could seize the opportunity to attack him.

"Stark, listen, private prisons are everywhere, and I don't want to deal with them, but you have to abide by federal laws!"

The general said in a relaxed tone.

"Is that legal? No problem. I'll let Stark's legal department talk to you. They've been busy lately anyway."

Tony nodded.

Just kidding, who doesn't know that the law in America is a toy for the rich, and when it comes to the law, it becomes the arena of the capitalists.

The military doesn't want to provoke Stark Industries and Imperial Industries, but the financial backers behind them do, so it depends on who can fight better.

Tony heard the subtext of the other party. Of course he didn't care. Originally, the Stark family was a bit timid. After all, the Stark family only began to rise during World War II and was not as good as those established families with real heritage and assets.

But after dragging Luther along, Tony no longer had to worry about this problem.

"Mr. Stark, would you mind chatting?"

Coulson politely waited for them to finish chatting before walking up to Tony and asking.

"As for SHIELD, I already feel like there's nothing to talk about."

Tony frowned and then said.

Ever since Blonsky was taken away by Hydra, he had doubts about SHIELD's capabilities, and he also had doubts about whether there were Hydra people inside SHIELD.

So he was unwilling to contact SHIELD. In addition, he had established an Illuminati himself and was doing a great job, so Tony was even more lazy to deal with it. This was because Agent Coulson was a good agent, so Tony was willing to talk to him more. A few words.

Coulson couldn't help it, Tony clearly didn't trust them.

Luther also felt that Red Tank and Blonsky should suffer a little, so he didn't care.

As a follower of the evil god, Red Tank is more troublesome to contain. After all, he is not a mutant Red Tank. If he is trapped and unable to move, there is no way to break free. He has endless motivation.

At Luther's suggestion, Tony came up with the idea of imprisoning him by continuously atomizing high-strength sedatives and being absorbed by the red tank.

But this method was quickly adapted to Red Tank, and then he broke free and was knocked down with a punch by Luther who came over.

Red Tank then tried to escape from prison many times. Each time, Luther personally took action and knocked him down. Tony also studied various methods of imprisonment, and finally found that there was no way to pay attention to this kind of thing, and he could only rely on Luther. Deterrence to imprison him.

"It's not that there are no ways to imprison him, even if it's infinite power, but we can apply magnetism and gravity to simulate the environment in space. He can't generate propulsion for himself and can only keep floating."

Luther came up with a nice solution.

"yes!"

Tony said he hadn't thought of this.

In the space environment, even if you have tens of millions of tons of power, what can tens of billions of tons of power do?

You are still where you are. Without propulsion, even a perfect creature can only stop thinking.

"This is very simple. I only need to create a repulsion generator and then build a gravity chamber to trap him."

Tony's eyes lit up, he had an idea, and he quickly solved the problem.

Red Tank was originally unruly. Even if Luther knocked him down again and again, he was not convinced. It was not until Tony locked him in this gravity cage that could only be fixed in one position forever that Red Tank panicked.

What is the difference between him being dead and dying?

Oh, the difference is that he can still think, so he is more uncomfortable.

Red Tank, who has infinite power, waved his hands and feet frantically, but he could not do anything.

"In order to prevent air from becoming a medium for him to transmit power, the air concentration is only 0.1%. Anyway, he does not need to breathe to survive."

Tony looked at Red Tank in the cage and finally solved this guy.

Tony even thought that this method could be used to accommodate most criminals!

This feeling of being fixed in one position, always being able to look at one place, and being able to think, every minute and every second is a torture, right?

Bronski woke up and saw the miserable state of Red Tank, and he was also a little worried.

"I didn't expect Luther to be so powerful..."

Bronski looked at his body that had returned to human form. He could still find that powerful feeling, but it was useless to be a power that was not Luther's opponent, no matter how powerful it was.

"We can only hope that the leader won't abandon us."

Chapter 160 Hydra's breakthrough?

Norman also saw the news, and he was very angry. If things like the Lizard Man were exposed, it would have a huge impact on Osborne Industry. Maybe Osborne Industry would face a wave of impact.

"How on earth do you do things, and why do you let the test subjects escape?"

Norman questioned the head of the laboratory.

This kind of laboratory is a secret laboratory. They usually rent or buy an ordinary-looking building, and then conduct human experiments inside the building. The outside is full of disguise and security forces.

"There was a mutation in the experiment. The experimental subject was much stronger than before, and it broke free all of a sudden, Mr. Osborne."

The person in charge did not expect such a thing to happen.

"But don't worry, I have cleared all the data and everything will be fine."

Norman felt a headache.

"This matter ends here. All experiments have been stopped recently. Hydra is eyeing the lizard serum and will definitely trace the origin of the lizard man as a test subject."

Norman continued.

"Ah, then should we destroy all the lizard serum and data?"

The person in charge said quickly, being targeted by Hydra?

Who doesn't know that Hydra is the most terrifying terrorist organization now?

"No."

Norman wasn't quite there yet.

The main reason is that he knows that Hydra has suffered another defeat in the hands of Luther and Tony this time, and two Hydras have been caught.

Norman's headache was just a small headache. After all, the possibility of him being involved in this matter was too small. Although Luther looked down upon Norman's behavior of conducting human experiments in private, the targets of those human experiments were homeless people and Retired soldiers are not forced, they are paid.

Since they were voluntary and not from my race, Luther naturally didn't bother to care.

He is not Da Chao, and Da Chao cannot control it. Even Da Chao turns a blind eye and hears nothing.

What kind of MD can't super vision and super hearing detect the world's human experiments and inhumanity?

To put it bluntly, it's just Superman's selective seeing and hearing.

The biggest headache is Nick Fury, and Pierce in the office next to him.

The two brothers are so good, and they both have a headache caused by the big trouble caused by Hydra.

"That guy Black Caesar finally made a mistake."

Pierce rubbed his temples. Blonsky and another Hydra member were captured by Luther, Tony, and Bruce Banner.

Now Black Caesar and the Hydra no longer look so unfathomable to Pierce and the Hydra.

As for Black Caesar not taking action?

It was right for Black Caesar not to take action. Pierce did not think that Black Caesar was as capable of fighting as his men. Pierce had always felt that being a leader required charisma rather than strength.

Of course, it would be good if you could get the strength. Pierce himself injected the No. 1 compound.

"But Blonsky fell into the hands of Tony and the others. We don't know where he is yet. We have no men on Stark's side."

The bald man with glasses said helplessly.

"Let's check this kind of thing. It's best to contact them."

Pierce said seriously.

Black Caesar has not been found out by the major snake heads of Hydra until now, which only made them even more frightened by Black Caesar's strength.

After all, Black Caesar and the others are not hiding away from people. On the contrary, they are also very high-profile. Whether they attack the military and steal Blonsky, or steal the lizard man in New York openly, it shows that Black Caesar and the others have absolutely no Low-key thoughts.

Such unscrupulousness, but no clues could be found afterwards, made Pierce and the others feel that Black Caesar's energy was more terrifying than they thought.

But this is impossible. In the dark world, Hydra is the only one who dominates. How could there be a dark force more powerful than Hydra?

Even the Hand are scum in front of Hydra, let alone the Ten Rings Gang.

Therefore, Pierce could only think of two possibilities.

Either there is already someone from Black Caesar in their Hydra, but they don't know it.

Either Black Caesar and the others are located at a higher altitude, just like ants will not notice the giant above them. If they are too high, they will naturally not be able to see it.

Hydra is already the global king of the dark world. If it is higher, it can only be the top five...

It's scary to think about it!

"I understand, sir."

The bald man with glasses also knew that this was a good opportunity for them to get in touch with Black Caesar's part of the Hydra, and the performance of Black Caesar and the other Hydras could be said to have greatly inspired other Hydras and aroused the dissatisfaction of other Hydras. fanaticism.

He has heard more than once that many Hydras want to jump to Black Caesar's branch.

Hydras can actually change jobs among each other, provided that they can find someone to introduce them and that they have the ability to change jobs.

Otherwise, if you don't have the ability, who would be willing to help you change jobs?

But they don't know that Hydra doesn't have channels from Black Caesar, so how can they arrange for them to change jobs?

Nick Fury and Steve are discussing Hydra.

"Now we have finally caught two members of Hydra, and they are such powerful members. They must know something."

Nick Fury wanted to take Bronsky and Red Tank from Tony, but the problem was that Luther, Tony, and Banner were very powerful together. Not to mention that ordinary people couldn't afford to provoke them, even he, the director of SHIELD, couldn't.

"Stark and the others are not professionals. We can apply for cooperation."

Steve thought for a while and said that after being attacked by Hydra, Steve acted as bait many times, but Hydra didn't fall for it, which made Steve start to doubt whether the undead soldier was actually a superpower, and Hydra didn't have the ability to mass-produce undead soldiers?

Now that he heard that Luther and Tony had captured members of Hydra, Steve was also very tempted.

"Stark has rejected our request for cooperation. They said they could handle it."

This was what bothered Nick Fury.

Tony was stubborn and knew the methods of these agents too well, so he didn't give them any chances.

He only trusted a few people, and Tony also planned to do the task of interrogating Hydra members himself.

"I'll go talk to him."

Steve didn't plan to continue wasting time, he felt the breakthrough was in the two captured Hydras.

"Okay, Captain, I'll arrange a meeting between you and Stark."

Nick Fury thought about it and finally agreed, he thought it might be a good idea to let Tony contact Steve at this time?
