Chapter 191: As if in an empty space

Thor saw the hope of escaping, and with his head full of hammers, he was ready to run.

"I will come back to find you, Midgard's fire giant hybrid, I am Thor, the god of thunder, I will definitely come back to find you, and then I will teach you a lesson, so that you will know how powerful Thor is!"

Of course, before running away, Thor didn't want others to think that he ran away because of fear, so he said harsh words to the Ghost Rider.

Then he ran away.

Of course, the Ghost Rider couldn't reply to him, because he was injured by the Eternal Fire, and was knocked unconscious by surprise.

When Johnny Blaze woke up, he found that the police station had disappeared and was empty. Although he didn't want to escape from prison, in order not to hurt others, Johnny still forced himself to leave.

At this time, he found that his whole body was terribly hot, and even his leather clothes exuded a burnt smell.

This has never happened before. In the past, after recovering from that crazy state, Johnny would only feel that his throat was as uncomfortable as if it was burned dry, and he needed a lot of water.

Now, Johnny soaked himself in the water, and the water around him boiled up very quickly.

He used a thermometer to measure his current body temperature, and the thermometer exploded directly.

This was the eternal fire in his body competing with the hellfire. The hellfire was equivalent to his immune system, and the eternal fire was the invading virus. Both sides didn't care about Johnny's life or death. Anyway, he couldn't die, even if his body died, as long as his soul was still in Mephisto's hands.

Then he could always be resurrected.

The Destroyer Armor injected a large amount of eternal fire into Johnny at one time to ensure that he would not chase Thor.

After all, it knew very well that once the Ghost Rider locked on the target, it would be a life-and-death pursuit.

If Thor didn't give it a hard blow and made him unable to recover, he would be in danger.

Luther looked at Thor, who looked like a primary school student who had lost a fight and said something fierce, shook his head, and looked at Johnny.

Ghost Rider, Luther is still very interested in these weird things. After all, he has learned the magic of the Dragon Ball world, which is a completely different magic system from Marvel.

In fact, Luther should also be able to learn Marvel magic, but the object of the debt becomes himself, and he can also sign a contract with others to lend power to the other party, and then collect the other party's soul as a reward.

Soul is a good thing, a resource that the dimensional demons want to grab.

Luther thought that if he did this, he would be equivalent to a demon walking in the real dimension?

"The soul of Zatanos..."

Luther's magic knowledge is a lot about the soul, but he is not sure whether the magic of the Dragon Ball world can overcome the rules of Marvel.

This soul was locked by Mephisto using the rules of hell. Even if it is just a fragment of the complete hell dimension, it is still hell. The complete period is a multiverse level or even higher existence.

However, if Luther can digest this soul, his strength will increase greatly, and he can also get some rules of the hell dimension.

So Luther still planned to attack Johnny. As for Mephisto, he was just a projection clone and was no match for Luther.

So, when Johnny was staying at home to solve his "fever" problem, Luther came to his house.

Blackheart Demon, Wind Demon and Water Demon all came, but Luther ignored them.

Seeing Luther walking straight towards him and others, who seemed to have completely ignored them.

Blackheart Demon narrowed his eyes.

Wind Demon then took action sensibly and prepared to use the wind to roll Luther up and throw him to death.

Although the Earth Demon was killed by them, the Wind Demon and the Water Demon were both my friends who would rather die than die. Demons, especially these little demons, there is no friendship between them. If I die, I die. I can blame myself for my weak strength and bad luck.

It was already very sad to be hunted by the group of mages in Kamar-Taj. If the Supreme Mage had not been too lazy to pay attention to them, or thought it was good to let them practice for his disciples, they would have been dealt with by the Supreme Mage in a few moves with such ridiculous power.

Now there is hope. Black Heart Demon wants to create a new hell, or in the human world!

This is a good opportunity for the three demons, so they will follow Black Heart Demon, and see that Black Heart Demon does not care about the life and death of Earth Demon, abandons Earth Demon and is solved by Ghost Rider.

The temptation of the new hell is too great. Will they be able to become one of the Seven Lords of Hell by following Black Heart Demon?

It is not ruled out that there are other more powerful demons who are waiting and watching. The strength of the three demons is average, and they are not qualified to be sold or waited. They can only work hard.

Black Heart Demon also knows this, so he doesn't care about the life and death of the demons around him. As long as he builds a new hell in the human world, there will be as many demons as he wants.

Besides, he is the son of Mephisto. Expecting him to be humane is an insult to him, a demon.

Before Feng Mo made a move, he saw Luther's eyes light up red.

"Zizizizi!!!"

The heat vision + Qigong wave formed an Omega effect ray!

The power was naturally very strong. Feng Mo was vaporized without even a hum. When he turned into ashes, Feng Mo finally regretted why he jumped out so early.

As mentioned before, this is an Omega effect ray. Although it does not have an instant death effect, it can turn.

So after it vaporized the wind demon, it turned left and right, separated at sharp angles, and shot at the black heart demon and water demon respectively.

The water demon's body slowly changed. He instinctively wanted to turn into a puddle of water to avoid the attack, but his speed was too slow. Luther's ray speed was too fast. The two turned at an acute angle without slowing down and struck. It penetrated the water demon's body and also evaporated him.

The Black-Hearted Demon ate a ray of fire and was blasted into the wall. Luther walked in as if there was no one around and sat on the sofa.

"The Black-Hearted Devil, son of Mephisto."

At this time, Luther seemed to notice the Black Heart Demon and spoke.

"Who! are! you? (Who are you?)"

The Black Heart Demon stood up and covered his abdomen. He felt a special force destroying his body.

He gritted his teeth and asked with an emphasis.

"Kneel down."

Luther's words seemed to carry mysterious power, and the Black Heart Demon suddenly felt his body falling uncontrollably under heavy pressure.

A combination of heat vision and qigong wave failed to kill the black heart demon, Luther was a little disappointed.

Chapter 192: Zatanos Appears

The Blackheart tried to resist.

But under Luther's pressure, he could do nothing.

"Your clothes are out of date."

Luther maintained his posture for a long time before speaking.

The first sentence made the black-hearted devil unable to hold back. What does it mean to be outdated?

It's only been a hundred and fifty years, and I've seen a lot of people dressed like this!

In theory, devils don't care about these things, they have no human values.

But he couldn't stand the fact that the Black-Hearted Demon turned into a human and walked around the world. This shows that he still cares about this aspect.

It can only be said that the special effects in the movie are too expensive, and Ghost Rider alone cost a lot of money.

But this is reality, the Black Heart Demon still took on human form and has remained so.

"As the son of Mephisto, your weakness is beyond my expectation."

Luther didn't know if he was insulting or hurting the Black Heart Demon when he said this.

Anyway, after the Black Heart Demon heard it, he became anxious, and then he turned into a devil without hesitation.

"I'll show you what a child of hell is!"

The Black Heart Demon said viciously that although he was only a son of hell, he also had authority and the power of rules and should not be underestimated.

An energy darker than the night formed invisible ripples that spread around when the Black Heart Demon appeared in his true form.

For the Black-Hearted Demon, the identity of the Son of Hell is not just an identity, but also means power, speech, and so on.

After he revealed his identity as the Son of Hell, the surrounding environment changed.

Luther watched the changes around him with interest.

"The power of rules, but it's too rough. You should just instinctively use the power given to you by this person... You haven't thought about the mechanism, flaws, and how to master this power. When you lose this person, When the time comes, is it possible to regain control?"

Luther discovered that the Kryptonians were really powerful. Under the influence of the biological force field, he could perceive rules that could not be "observed" and "felt" by super vision, super hearing, and super senses.

The biological force field is originally called the omnipotent force field and the omnipotent force. It can also be called the I Xunsi force field.

Superman is not keen on developing his own abilities, so his biological force field is also limited.

Luther, who knows that Superman's most abnormal ability is the biological force field, has been thinking about how to develop the biological force field.

The Black Heart Demon doesn't know that this place has been covered by Luther's biological force field. As long as Luther is willing, the rules can't be spread here.

This is not to say that Luther's biological force field is stronger than the rules of the hell dimension.

It's just that he is much stronger than the Black Heart Demon, and the Black Heart Demon is like a straw bag, or equivalent to a game character who only cares about improving his level without equipping or learning skills.

Luther is the kind of person who progresses very steadily at every level, completing all skills, tasks, and achievements.

Then a level 50 idiot meets a level 100 boss with full achievements and bonuses. Even if he has any special occupations and special skills, he will definitely be crushed.

The Black-Hearted Demon did not dare to show his devilish attitude in the human world because he was worried that it would attract the attention of Karma Taj, but now he can't control that much.

Even if the breath of hell will attract Karma Taj, or even the Supreme Mage and his father, he will make this guy pay the price!

Just then, Johnny walked out.

"Who are you?"

The bathroom that was opened poured out a fairy-like steam scene that seemed to be created by a large amount of dry ice.

It was all water vapor that was evaporated by Johnny's own high temperature. Johnny felt a little better after soaking in the water for almost an hour, but he still felt uncomfortable. In order to prevent the water bill from exceeding the standard, he planned to go swimming in the Great Lakes.

As soon as the results came out, I saw a man and a...devil coming to my home!

Originally he wanted to say monster, but the reaction of the knight in his body told him that it was a devil.

If the Black Heart Demon had used his true appearance, Johnny would have recognized him immediately. The problem was that the current Black Heart Demon was in the form of the devil.

So Johnny's pupils shrank, and he subconsciously wanted the Ghost Rider to come out.

However, the Ghost Rider was hit hard by the Destroyer when he was unprepared. It was due to its own artificial intelligence micro-control, not controlled by Loki. It only has partial authority. It does not seem to be very powerful. In fact, it is not controlled by Loki. All the really fatal things were accurately injected into Johnny's body.

That is the eternal fire, a treasure that can burn forever and produce amazing heat energy. Although it has not reached the level of a star, it can suddenly make the fire giant taller than a mountain. In addition, the Destroyer Armor also uses it as an energy source. Drive and you will know how durable the Eternal Fire is.

If the fire of hell wants to wear away the eternal fire, it must be severely damaged?

Therefore, even if Johnny is in danger, even if he smells the devil's breath, even if he signs a contract with Mephisto, the knight still has no strength to come out and call out.

"Okay, go ahead."

Luther waved his hand, and the black-hearted demon was stuck on the wall from a distance.

"Soul curse."

Then Luther released a soul curse magic to calm the Black Heart Demon. Even though the Black Heart Demon had no soul and was still immortal, he could not resist this magic that directly attacked the soul.

The magical effects of the Dragon Balls are very simple and crude, but also very powerful.

Just like Majin Buu, a transformation magic turned Vegetto, who was stronger than him, into a coffee candy. Although he was the strongest coffee candy in the universe, he beat Majin Buu to tears.

Luther looked at Johnny, and Johnny recognized Luther when he saw him.

Emperor Luther, who doesn't know him.

"Mr. Luther, are you here to deal with this devil?"

Johnny said carefully, he also knew that Luther's appearance here was wrong.

But Luther had no intention of communicating with him.

"Soul split."

Luther released a magic to split the soul to see if he could get the soul of Zatannos out.

Johnny was blown away by the effect of the magic, and he felt extremely painful.

Then a soul broke out of his body.

This is the soul of a huge demon phantom!

There is a big difference between demons and devils, no matter which world.

After Zatannos's soul appeared, he regained consciousness.

"I am... damn Mephisto!"

Zathanos roared and screamed, and he quickly remembered everything.

But Luther attacked him right after that.

Chapter 193: Stealing the old man's property

Zatanos, alias: Soul Reaver, Spirit of Vengeance.

The demon of unknown origin summoned by the priest Knutu is an ancient demon. His birth may come from the energy left over from the God Eater's battle with the ancient gods.

Zatanos has an immortal body and extraordinary strength. He can manipulate mysterious energy to achieve various effects. He also has huge elemental power, able to imprison enemies in rocks and release a fire that only burns. The mysterious fire that burns the soul without burning the body.

What Luther saw was a huge white demon with a skull and a body burning with flames.

It is said that he is a demon, but Zatanos does not have the images of traditional demons.

Zatanos immediately looked at Luther and Johnny who were present.

"Give me your soul and I will give you power!"

Zatanos is still just a soul. Although he is still very powerful, he is not as powerful as he was in his heyday. He is much weaker and needs a soul to strengthen his power.

The Black Heart Demon was naturally ignored by him. He was just an immortal without a soul. It was so novel. It was the devil's best trick.

So it wants to get the souls of Luther and Johnny.

But in fact, he didn't know that Johnny's soul was not in him, but in the hands of Mephisto.

Johnny is actually an immortal without a soul. This is why Luther directly used soul splitting magic on Johnny. He only has a soul in his body.

"Really, then if I want to get more power than you and become the Lord of the Dark Dimension of Dormammu, can I do it?"

Luther said jokingly.

"Dormammu? Who is that?"

Zatanos was confused. After all, Dormammu is the newly emerged Dimension Demon. He became the Dimension Demon by luck and gave up his body. However, Dormammu seems to be very hip in the Dimension Demon. , in fact it is still very powerful.

It is normal for Zatanos not to have heard of Dormammu. It was sealed long ago and does not mix with the group of dimensional demons.

"You can't even be omniscient. It seems that's all you can do."

Luther said disappointedly.

Zatanos was a little crazy. It was because the group of people who believed in him were shaken that he was inferior to Mephisto and was plotted by Mephisto.

But it can also be seen that Zathanos was like that. In his heyday, he could not even kill a soulless immortal, which led to his believers questioning that his power was not as good as Mephisto.

Not to mention the current Zathanos, who has been weak for so many years, Mephisto may have done a lot of tricks to him.

"Young man, be polite."

Suddenly, a strange voice appeared in the house.

Johnny's eyes widened. This voice was so familiar to him that he would never forget it in his dreams.

Especially because he had been tricked recently, causing problems in his relationship with Rose.

An old man with a big back, dressed as an old British gentleman and aristocrat, appeared here, leaning on an ebony crutch with a silver sheep's head.

"Mephisto!!!"

When Zatanos saw Mephisto appearing, he was immediately furious. It was this guy, it was this guy who had caused him to be imprisoned for so long, without seeing the light of day, without his own consciousness, sinking, and feeling very uncomfortable.

Not even a demon lord like Zatanos could bear such torture.

"Long time no see, Zatanos, you seem to be in good spirits."

Mephisto said with some enthusiasm.

Then Zatanos spit out a ball of fire and hit Mephisto, but the old devil had already walked behind Luther.

"Young man, you freed my old friend and controlled my son and the knight. What do you want to do? Do you want power?"

Mephisto said to Luther.

Luther did not turn around or look back.

"No, I don't crave power."

Luther said.

"Then what do you want?"

Mephisto leaned close to Luther's ear, half of his face turned into a devil, and the two rows of razor-sharp and slender teeth were as terrifying as the teeth of a stingray.

"I want the hell dimension, can you give it to me?"

Luther's eyes lit up red, and then two heat visions shot out and turned at a sharp angle towards Mephisto.

Mephisto felt that there was something wrong in the heat vision. Although he was not afraid of losses because he was a projection, it took a lot of effort for Mephisto to send a projection in. The Supreme Mage had to catch it. He beat it to death and used it to pay Dormammu's debt.

Mephisto said that he had never seen anyone more shameless than the devil, and actually asked him to repay his debt for borrowing Dormammu's power.

Facing Luther's heat vision, Mephisto quickly dodged, but the heat vision seemed to be locked on him, accurately avoiding the furniture and other things, just to mess with him.

Even the heat vision didn't just turn at sharp and right angles, it became as winding as a snake, and at one moment like lightning.

Mephisto hid for a while and stopped hiding.

"boom!"

The heat vision destroyed its body, but the next moment, another Mephisto appeared.

"Exquisite deception."

Luther said, clapping his hands.

"Your magic is also very surprising to me."

Mephisto accepted it calmly and then said.

He is a devil, saying he can lie to people, saying he is despicable and shameless are all praises!

Luther had no way to deal with Mephisto. He was like a signal for long-distance communication. The soul curse + thermal vision + qigong wave that just destroyed one of his projections, and Mephisto had a new projection in the blink of an eye.

Luther could see that Mephisto's projection probably had a main body in other places, and it should be a lot of projections at one time.

After all, he couldn't just take care of Johnny. Mephisto was busy and had to sign contracts with people all over the world.

So Luther planned to deal with Zatanos first.

"Seal!"

Luther cast the sealing magic, and Zatanos immediately felt his body rolled up uncontrollably, and then fell into Luther's hands and became a ball of light.

"Young man, it's not good to rob an old man of his property in front of him like this?"

Mephisto had an opinion.

"Really?"

Luther's body lit up with a blue light.

"Space exile!"

Luther carried the space gem with him, and at this moment he exiled Mephisto directly to the planet where the soul gem was.

Although it is just a projection, the Soul Stone may have some means to turn Mephisto into its own guardian, replacing the lonely Red Skull.

Chapter 194 Thor's Rush

Of course, it is also possible to let Mephisto accompany the Red Skull?

When Mephisto was exiled, he had an indifferent expression on his face. It was not the first time that he was treated like this.

But until he felt the breath of the Soul Stone, Mephisto began to panic.

If his real body was here, he would not be so scared. The problem is that he is just a projection, and he knows his real body's character very well, that is, he will never take risks!

Mephisto's real body will never leave the Hell Dimension, which is also the difficult part of this old devil.

In his own dimension, the dimensional demons are omnipotent, unless the strength gap between the invaders is too large.

Mephisto does not know whether his projection will be imprisoned by the Soul Stone. He is very clear about the power of the Soul Stone.

He will covet the treasure formed by the six singularities of the cosmic explosion, but he also knows that this thing is not so easy to get.

After exiling Mephisto, Luther left directly and did not care about Johnny.

Afterwards, another projection of Mephisto came here.

"What happened? Why don't you have any memory?"

Mephisto looked at Johnny on the ground strangely.

"Zatanos is gone too."

Mephisto had just thought of this question when the next moment, the space around him seemed to have turned into a mirror, reflecting all kinds of folded scenes.

Mirror space... Supreme Sorcerer!

Mephisto couldn't run away even if he wanted to.

"Mephisto..."

A big bald head wearing an orange-yellow ancient robe appeared. She came here because she sensed the powerful demonic aura here. Not only the demonic aura, but also the hell aura, which made Gu Yi think that hell had invaded on a large scale or that the three major barriers she had set up had problems in advance.

"Can I say I was just passing by?"

Mephisto said with a kind smile.

"..."

The Supreme Sorcerer Gu Yi didn't carry the Eye of Agamotto with her, so she couldn't see the past and the future, but she knew that the words of the devil couldn't be believed.

Luther took away the soul of Zatanos and began to study what to do.

"If I give Zatanos' soul to the Soul Stone, I wonder if I can get the Soul Stone?"

Luther suddenly had an idea. Although the Soul Stone requires the sacrifice of a beloved soul to obtain it.

But the setting of Black Widow and Hawkeye later is obviously different from the book.

Black Widow loves Hawkeye?

And Hawkeye actually wants to compete with Black Widow for sacrifice?

Hawkeye, are you awake? You have a wife and children! !

What would your wife and children think if they knew?

In short, it is very outrageous, too outrageous.

So, is it possible that Red Skull deliberately cheated people?

Maybe giving Zatanos' soul to the Soul Stone would work?

However, before that, of course, he still has to wait for him to study Zatanos' soul.

By the way, see if he can create his own Ghost Rider.

The Hand has its own Ghost Rider, how awesome it is.

Just like Thanos let Hulk be a dog, as a future cosmic emperor, Luther feels that his younger brothers must be able to fight.

Otherwise, he, as the leader and emperor, would have to take action on everything, and his status would be lowered.

In this regard, with Cucumber and the future reserve Broly, it should not be a problem.

Of course, Luther knew very well that there were so many powerful people in Marvel, and even Cucumber and Broly might not be able to run rampant, so the more subordinates the better, and they all had to pursue quality and strength.

The subordinates of the Ghost Rider were so strong.

While studying the soul of Zatanos, Luther was also paying attention to Thor, who had experienced strange and rough experiences.

After finding an opportunity to escape from prison, the honest Thor ran away without hesitation. By the way, when he saw a trooper on the road, he directly robbed the trooper's horse.

Originally, Thor did not intend to rob, he reported his name and asked the other party to ask him for money later.

As a result, he was regarded as a madman by the trooper.

If it weren't for the white skin, the trooper would have emptied the magazine.

It can only be said that Thor's journey was really frightening. Luther did not intervene or stop the whole process. He was very curious about how Odin would react if Thor really died.

"However, how could Odin let Thor die here? Maybe death is the condition for triggering the unsealing of divine power. The responsibility of realizing Thor is false."

Luther thought of the original plot in which Thor was beaten to death by the Destroyer and then recovered his divine power.

It seems that Thor passed the test, but the problem is that Thor did not look like he passed the test later, and he was still so stupid.

He said that he became a qualified king. If Odin had not died and Asgard was gone, he would probably not have become a king. Then he took a group of Asgard refugees to build a "New Asgard" on Earth and let it go.

All supplies were funded by the people on Earth.

Can such a king be a qualified king?

Therefore, Luther thinks that the correct answer should be that Thor will unseal the divine power after his death, otherwise he will really die.

When the agreement failed, Thor defeated the mounted police and stole the horse.

Now, he is on the US wanted list.

The main reason is that what he did was too outrageous. If he just robbed banks like the lizardmen and werewolves now, it would be fine. The problem is that he attacked a mounted policeman, not stealing guns or killing people, but stealing horses and running all the way.

Are you kidding me?

Are you from Florida?

In the eyes of the police, Thor was provoking, so they dispatched a large number of police forces and helicopters to chase Thor. Who made him run wildly on the main road? There are no cameras in other places, but there must be cameras in this place.

As for whether this will waste police force?

For these policemen, chasing Thor, a guy who looks ordinary, can fight at most, and can't hold weapons, is much better than you holding heavy firepower and large-caliber weapons to fight monsters such as lizardmen and werewolves whose strength and speed far exceed yours.

The key is that they can also use guns.

So, this is not a waste of police force, it is coordination!

Even these policemen have reached a tacit understanding. When they are about to catch up with Thor, they suddenly "break down" and have to stop to repair the car.

Thor was also reckless, running until the horse foamed at the mouth.

Although the horses of the mounted police were all good horses from excellent horse farms, they were just for show, without any exercise. Their bloodline was absolutely pure, maybe the bloodline of a thousand-mile horse, but without any exercise, they could run 1 kilometer, which was very good.

Not to mention, Thor used the horse to death.

Looking at the horse that fell to the ground, foamed at the mouth, and was dying, Thor squatted down.

Chapter 195 Raise the power of the stars!

"Hey man, the great Thor will remember your sacrifice."

Thor soothed the horse and closed its eyes, and then the horse opened its eyes and looked at him.

Thor was stunned for a moment, then closed its eyes again, and then the horse opened its eyes again.

Although it fell to the ground, it was still breathing!

"Do you plan to continue helping the great Thor?"

Thor said overjoyed that even though Midgard's horse was unexpectedly weak, it was the only horse he could get.

The horse seemed to understand Thor's words and closed his eyes in fear.

Thor looked at it speechlessly, but did not make it difficult for it.

"Okay, I can handle the rest of the journey myself!"

Thor continued along the induction.

Seeing the behavior of his crown prince, Heimdall felt a little worried about the future of Asgard.

But there is no way, who let Odin only have one son, you say Loki?

Just kidding, since ancient times, who would let their adopted son ascend the throne?

Isn't that a joke?

The police officers who were chasing Thor soon discovered the horse lying on the ground, and then they conducted a "trace survey" around the horse.

After struggling for a day, I "found" clues in a local bar, so I spent another day struggling.

Finally, they concluded that the prisoner continued to escape.

After eating and drinking...no, the policemen who had spent so much time searching for traces had to drag their tired bodies to continue chasing Thor.

Unfortunately, Thor quickly left the state and they could not continue the pursuit. That was another state police system. Even if Thor behaved like this, other state police would probably not arrest him.

"I can only say that it is indeed in the magical America, otherwise Thor would not be able to run so far. From this point of view, God King Odin still has some considerations."

Luther clicked his tongue.

Then, after a long journey, Thor finally came to Mjolnir.

At this time, Mjolnir has naturally been blocked by S.H.I.E.L.D. Even though there are lizards and werewolves all over America, they should theoretically be overwhelmed, but they still have the energy to send people to deal with this hammer. matter.

However, nothing useful was found after research, and since there was no way to remove the hammer, even if it was a special mysterious item, we could only build a base around it.

In the original plot, Thor arrived too quickly, so everything was very simple, only surrounded by tent-like things.

Now, when Thor arrived, it was already many days later, and SHIELD was still efficient. At least the barbed wire fence had been pulled up, and cement fortifications were being prepared.

Thor was very brave and defeated the soldiers and S.H.I.E.L.D. agents who were blocking the road as soon as he came up. Coulson, who was bored in the control room watching the new Captain America movie, was stunned when he was notified.

"This guy is definitely an elite, but he is not a super soldier!"

Coulson stared at the screen. He saw his own people being beaten down by Thor like a child. The key is that Thor is not a super soldier. His speed and strength are at the level of a normal person, but he is very skilled.

The strange thing is that this kind of skill should not be that of an agent, because it is too wide open and close, but more like a battle on the battlefield.

After all, Coulson is a very elite agent and has also received a long period of combat training and human body research.

Of course he could see that.

What is the origin of such a guy?

However, Thor was eventually subdued.

S.H.I.E.L.D. has super soldiers. After Compound No. 1 came out, Nick Fury shamelessly defrauded funds to create S.H.I.E.L.D. agents super soldiers.

Not to mention the FBI and CIA, who call such agents "super agents."

There are also "super killers" in the killer world, and there are also a large number of movie killers like John Wick who kill hundreds of gunmen by one person.

Although Thor has a high level of fighting skills and often fights, he mostly relies on his divine power to bully others.

Two super agents came out, much stronger and faster than he was now, and he was subdued.

At this time, Luther came to Thor's Hammer.

"Thor's hammer can be built from the dead core of a star, and it can also turn others into Thor..."

In addition to looking at Mjolnir, Luther also had the idea of catching Loki and letting Loki secretly bring him the Spear of Eternity.

These artifacts in Marvel are very impressive, especially the Spear of Eternity. If Asgard hadn't been blown away when Asgard exploded, Luther thought that Thor would be able to win with the Spear of Eternity. Thanos.

After all, the Eternal Spear is much more powerful and powerful than Thor's Hammer and Storm Axe.

The law of cause and effect guarantees a hit. As long as you lock the target and throw it, you can hit the target even from a world away.

Loki hasn't come yet, so Luther looks at Mjolnir first.

"Hello, Mjolnir."

Luther knew that these artifacts all had their own consciousness. Mjolnir was relatively quiet, the Storm Ax was relatively violent, and the Eternal Spear was not noticed. There was no temper in Loki's hands.

"Don't worry, I'm just here to study your structure and details to see if I can transform it directly using transformation magic."

Luther said as he held Mjolnir.

In fact, he can also use the ability to modify reality to make Mjolnir's master become him, but Odin is not dead yet, and Luther does not want to fight Odin.

Luther can easily beat a hundred of the movie version of Odin, but the problem is that this is reality, and reality cannot be measured by things in the movie.

Mjolnir resisted being lifted by Luther.

Luther smiled slightly, and then exerted a little force.

"Boom!!!"

The sky-shattering sound, the air shock wave instantly flattened everything within hundreds of kilometers around, and the pressure generated by the shock wave reached thousands of tons per square centimeter. Coulson and others were instantly turned into dust.

How much strength does it take to lift a dead core of a star?

Now Luther will tell you that the aftermath alone can raze hundreds of kilometers to the ground.

Mjolnir was lifted by Luther, and no matter how unwilling it was, it could not change the fact that Luther picked it up, so it restrained its power. In this way, Luther could only get a heavy hammer, and nothing else.

But it was actually enough. With Luther's acceleration, he might be able to destroy Asgard with just one hammer.

"Modify reality."

Luther snapped his fingers with his other hand, and everything that was destroyed was restored. Even Coulson and Thor didn't know they had died once.

Chapter 196 Which hammer did you drop?

Mjolnir's structure is quite simple, if you put aside the mysterious powers it possesses.

Luther used transformation magic to turn a nearby stone into Mjolnir.

"What's the reason why I still have to learn rune writing?"

Luther looked at Mjolnir in his hand. The atomic structure was exactly the same, but it was a heavy hammer. It even began to attract and capture the surrounding matter because of its own mass and gravity. If Luther let it go, it would be equivalent to a stellar object appearing on the earth.

Half of the earth can be destroyed in an instant!

But now that there is Luther's biological force field, it doesn't do much.

"The physical version of the Stellar Hammer, but there is no shortage of such a hammer for anyone who can hold it, unless I apply an eternal biological force field to it..."

Luther looked at his replica and complained. Maybe he could make some special features. For example, this hammer is the legendary hammer of gravity. Anyone who can pick it up can control gravity and so on.

Controlling gravity is much more powerful than controlling thunder and lightning and becoming the god of thunder. In the hands of someone who knows how to play, he can easily subvert the gravity of a planet.

Since physical methods cannot be copied, Luther can only learn.

The method of making Mjolnir is very simple. Odin gives the dwarves a mold engraved or branded with rune characters. This mold also has his divine power on it. Then the dwarves use the neutron star furnace to melt the Uru metal, and finally melt the Uru metal. Uru metal with a ridiculously high melting point is poured into the mold.

After taking shape, it was Mjolnir, but I don't know why. Mjolnir was Hela's weapon at the beginning, but did not have Hela's death power.

At least this is much better than those "artifact forgings" with the same level of strength, but relying on forging to remove impurities, and the quality is also higher.

Unless you say that you forge your own divine power into it during the forging process, then you still have some strength.

What Luther wants to study and learn is very simple, which is the rune characters on the surface of Mjolnir. These characters are very small, but Luther can easily see and grasp them.

The super brain is very fast no matter what he learns. In theory, if he applies for the job of Supreme Mage, he might also be able to become the Supreme Mage.

"If you have a preliminary grasp, then let's give it a try."

Luther released the transformation magic for the second time, this time the target was the SHIELD instrument next to him.

Then Luther felt that the power consumption this time had obviously increased a lot. It was insignificant and effortless before, but now at least he can feel it.

It's just that he returned to magic too quickly, his breathing was full, and his consumption was not recovered enough.

An identical Mjolnir appeared, and the genuine Mjolnir immediately reacted and flew up spontaneously, circling around the Mjolnir in Luther's hand.

"You have a brother, Mjolnir."

Luther said with a smile.

The rune characters naturally carry the mysterious power of the World Tree, and the World Tree has reached the level of the multiverse in the comics, even super multidimensional.

Luther didn't understand what it meant, so when he wanted to copy it, he also consumed a lot of his own power, which was much more than Odin's original divine power.

But Luther doesn't care, his energy is endless and endless.

Even if it is really used up, the blue bar limit, magic regeneration speed and efficiency will be stronger next time.

Luther has no memory of the genuine Mjolnir. This thing can be crushed and its hardness is average, although Luther himself can do it.

He took hold of his Mjolnir and raised it above his head.

"Boom! Boom! Boom——"

Thunder suddenly appeared in the sky, making the SHIELD agents startled. However, Thor looked surprised and broke free from the super agent's restraints and rushed into Mjolnir's room.

Then he saw silver lightning coming down from the nine heavens, and thunder making the heaven and earth change color!

"No, this is impossible...impossible..."

Thor did not see the other two Mjolnir on the ground, one was the physical version of the Gravity Hammer, and the other was his Mjolnir.

He only saw Mjolnir being lifted up by Luther, because now the thunder and lightning were wrapped around it. It was so bright that Thor certainly couldn't see the two hammers on the ground.

My hammer was lifted by someone else?

Thor was stunned on the spot. This unimaginable and incredible scene made his mind go blank... Oh, it seemed to be blank to begin with.

Now he can only repeat like a repeater.

The main reason is that Thor never thought that anyone in Midgard could be recognized by Mjolnir.

It's like traveling back to the era of primitive people, and then having your own Thor's Hammer powered armor worn by primitive people and still passing certification.

"This is the power of thunder and lightning?"

Luther felt the power of thunder and lightning passed on by Mjolnir. Mjolnir was originally used as a weapon of Hela. I don't know if Odin has recast it. Anyway, it later became a divinity that can closely connect with Thor. and artifacts of divine power.

Thor has never been able to control the combination of divine power and divinity on his own. Mjolnir helped him strengthen this connection. At the same time, it also contains the power of thunder and divinity. This is why comics and movies are the ones who lifted it up. Able to become the God of Thunder.

At this time, Luther was reassembled into a set of shiny new armor and a bright red cloak by the fragments that came from unknown sources.

There is also an Asgardian-style helmet on his head. The horse-faced Thor and the female Thor both have this kind of winged helmet. Thor also has one in the comics. In the movie, they may not have it because they are worried that it will cover the actor's face.

"Who are you?"

Thor finally came to his senses and asked hurriedly.

"Thor, your hammer is on the ground. Is it the hammer of gravity or the hammer of Thor, Mjolnir? Think about it before answering."

Luther stroked the helmet on his face, and then said to Thor with a smile.

Thor only noticed the two Mjolnir on the ground at this time.

"Three Mjolnir??"

Thor's mind was suddenly confused, and he couldn't understand what was going on.

Why are there three hammers?

What is the hammer of gravity?

"My friend, I dropped the hammer in your hand, not the two hammers on the ground."

Thor looked at the hammer in Luther's hand eagerly. He was not stupid. The two hammers on the ground did not move at all. They must be fake, just like Loki's fraudulent magic and tricks.

"Wrong answer, think about how to appease your hammer."

Luther smiled and flew into the sky, crashed through the ceiling and left.

Of course, he did not really leave.

Chapter 197 Changes

"Wait!"

Thor tried to call Luther, but Luther was gone.

Coulson walked in slowly with his men. He was curious about why Thor came here, but he got anxious when he heard the noise inside.

Then he saw Thor trying to pull out the hammer on the ground.

The big hole in the ceiling had disappeared at this time, and the lightning storm just now affected the monitor, so Coulson didn't see what happened.

He just saw the hammer on the ground... Wait?

"Why are there two hammers?"

Coulson rubbed his eyes, and then looked again. Yes, there were two hammers.

Two identical hammers, and Thor was standing in the middle of the two hammers.

"What did you do?"

Coulson didn't expect that there would be another hammer, he asked in disbelief.

Thor didn't care about him and tried hard to pull up the hammer, but the hammer of gravity didn't move at all.

Just kidding, it is the physical version of the star hammer, with an exaggerated mass. If Luther hadn't left a little biological force field before leaving, half of the earth would have been gone.

If Thor wanted to lift it, he might not be able to do it even if he recovered his divine power.

Thor gave up the hammer of gravity and wanted to lift another hammer.

At this time, Mjolnir's resentment had accumulated to a very deep level. Although it was not as jealous as Stormbreaker, it was not without temper.

So when Thor tried to hold it, he was electrocuted.

"Wow!"

Thor was electrocuted and twitched all over.

However, the familiar current also made him recognize that this was his own Mjolnir.

He hurriedly exerted force, but found that Mjolnir did not move at all.

"No————!!!"

At this time, Thor realized something and fell to his knees.

Coulson did not understand what he wanted to do, but it was true that the hammer had a special reaction to him, so Thor was locked up next.

Luther sat leisurely on the roof.

Logically speaking, Loki should have arrived on Earth one step slower than Thor, so he should not have met Loki?

However, don't forget that the Destroyer Armor has come to Earth, and after being locked by Luther, it can be confirmed that it has not returned to Asgard yet.

Loki does not have the helper of the Destroyer Armor, and he is unpopular in Asgard.

There are only two ways for him to destroy Thor.

One is to find the Frost Giants to kill Thor, and the other is to do it himself.

Luther is waiting for Loki to kill Thor himself, and he will definitely bring the Spear of Eternity.

If it is the Frost Giants who come, it's no problem. Luther's laboratory still lacks the materials and templates of new humans.

Anyway, with the Extremis virus, everything can be combined into the gene fragment.

When there are no Frost Giants, won't Loki have to do it himself?

"Mjolnir can be mass-produced. By then, my Empire's Thor's Hammer per capita will be much more powerful than the Emperor."

Luther has no idea of popularizing Kryptonian genes, nor does he plan to create any Kryptonian legions in Marvel. He subconsciously doesn't want such things to leak out.

The same is true for Saiyan genes.

In the new human laboratory, the materials have been obtained from the Asgardian royal family from Asgard. The body density of ordinary Asgardians is three times that of Earthlings, but in terms of fighting ability, they are not the opponents of Earth's superheroes and super villains.

At most, they are super soldiers.

But Luther added Hulk's blood. He plans to make all his soldiers have the ability to turn into Hulk in the future. If that happens, doesn't it feel cool?

Even if the transformed Hulk soldiers are not as good as the Green Hulk, it is okay to have the strength of the Abomination and the Red Hulk.

"The legions of big muscles and big guys are the most roaring. Thor + Hulk, I wonder if they can come up with a transformation like Thunder Hulk."

Luther looked at the new human embryo in front of him. He didn't need to use the ability to modify reality. The Extremis virus perfectly combined the genes of Hulk and Thor. By the way, Luther also added lizard serum to it, eliminating the side effects of turning into lizard people and strengthening the regeneration ability.

Loki really went to find the Frost Giant to kill Thor.

The main reason is that his current identity is very sensitive. Heimdall is keeping a close eye on him, so Loki has no choice. However, Loki finally found an opportunity to go to Jotunheim through the secret passage and met Laufey, the king of the Frost Giants.

When the two fathers and sons met, there was no greeting or affection. Loki did not regard himself as Laufey's son and a Frost Giant, and Laufey did not believe in this child who grew up in Asgard.

Think about it, when he was chased by Odin, he was able to leave Loki behind and be picked up by Odin. Laufey's feelings for Loki can be imagined.

Would the Frost Giant Prince be too late to take him with him when he escaped?

Loki made a deal with Laufey. They helped kill Thor, and then Loki would take them into Asgard to kill Odin.

Laufey thought for a while and finally agreed.

Whether it was killing Thor or Odin, it would be a big profit for the Frost Giants.

Especially Thor was just killing people in Jotunheim.

The hatred of the Frost Giants for Thor is still there.

And because he had not met Jane and the others, Thor would naturally not have been rescued. Coulson was very curious about his identity, but he seemed to have lost his soul and turned a deaf ear to Coulson's questions, which gave Coulson a headache.

If possible, he would not be punished.

But in this situation, he seems to have no choice but to use it.

However, after hearing what happened here, Tony became interested. He has been busy fighting lizards and werewolves recently, and he feels that he is no different from an exorcist.

And a hammer fell from the sky, and Nick Fury wanted to win Tony over to join his Avengers, so Tony knew about the hammer.

"Didn't you say one hammer? Why did it become two?"

Tony asked as he used his suit to scan the two hammers on the ground.

"I don't know either. A guy broke in last night. There was a sudden thunderstorm at that time, and the electronic equipment was affected. When I arrived with people, the hammer became two, and that When the intruder touched the hammer, lightning struck him."

Coulson told Tony what happened last night in detail.

"Yeah?"

The results of Tony's scan were in.

"The gravity around this hammer changes. The magnetic field around this hammer is very unstable and keeps changing. It feels like it's blocking my scan?"

Tony mused.

So, these two hammers are actually high-tech alien weapons, one is a gravity hammer and the other is a magnetic hammer?

Chapter 198 The Frost Giant Attacks

Then, driven by curiosity, Tony met Thor.

However, Tony found that Thor looked lifeless and very decadent, as if he had been dumped by a woman.

"Are you sure he is the one you said who defeated several S.H.I.E.L.D. agents and was able to break free from a super agent? Why do I look like a homeless man after a broken love?"

Tony frowned and said.

If it hadn't been for a scan and found that there were no scars on Thor's body, he would have thought that SHIELD abused lynching and tortured him to get him like this.

"He was fine at first, but he became like this after being exposed to the hammer. I don't know what happened."

Coulson was also very depressed. He was a tough guy who was so good at fighting. If it weren't for the fact that the super agent had completely surpassed humans, he would have overturned.

After all, it has been strengthened so much that it is no longer the same level. The super agent can fight tigers and brown bears with bare hands.

"Well, it seems like he won't be able to ask anything until he regains consciousness."

Tony shrugged. Fortunately, he was a genius Stark and would definitely be able to study the secrets of these two hammers.

The chaos in America has become more and more serious recently, and Tony is considering moving Stark Industries to other places. After all, he has to arrange a group of omnics to protect Pepper when she goes to work.

There are so many lizards and werewolves, and many of them not only rob banks, but also focus on kidnapping these rich people to extort money.

If these two hammers are really high-tech alien weapons, if Tony can research something, he might be able to strengthen his suit.

He also wanted to have Luther's powerful ability to settle everything.

However, Tony's arrival ensured Thor's life. Luther did not intend to care about the Frost Giants. He was only responsible for collecting the corpses and was too lazy to save Colson, Thor and others.

Whether he dies or not has nothing to do with him.

Anyway, the sample tissue of the Frost Giant should have the effect of cryogenic preservation.

After Loki reached an agreement with the Frost Giant King Laufey, he asked Laufey to prepare a bunch of Frost Giant Warriors, and then he told Thor the secret passage from Jotunheim to Midgard based on his location. It's Laufey.

This move undoubtedly gained Laufey's trust, and the importance of this secret passage naturally does not need to be said.

With this secret passage, he can advance to Asgard and retreat to Midgard.

The Frost Giants had wanted to turn Midgard into the icy and snowy environment of Jotunheim many years ago, if it hadn't been stopped by Odin, so the Frost Giants still had great ideas about Midgard.

A hundred Frost Giant warriors were personally selected by Laufey.

To be honest, after being killed by Thor before, the real elites had died under Thor's hammer. Now these are just the taller ones among the short ones.

The race setting of Frost Giants is very interesting.

There are many different giant races in Jotunheim, including mountain giants (that is, the stone giants who were smashed by Thor with his hammer, and the stone giants who later became good friends with Thor), frost giants, storm giants, etc.

Of all the giant races, the most important enemies of the Asgardians are the frost giants.

As direct descendants of Ymir, the first giant, the Frost Giants inhabit an area of Jotunheim similar to Earth's polar regions.

The temperature in this area never rises above the freezing point of water.

Frost giants can survive comfortably in cold temperatures, but are sensitive and fragile to heat and heat.

Although they are found to be able to withstand normal temperatures on Asgard and in temperate regions on Earth, extreme heat can cause them to shrink or even melt, although prolonged exposure to cold will eventually cause them to return to their previous size.

The Frost Giants' abilities are greatest in their own kingdom of Jotunheim, presumably due in part to the cold climate of much of the kingdom.

The Frost Giants are not good at fighting. Yes, even though they are all muscle guys, devil muscle guys, big guys, and big muscle tyrants.

They are actually ice mages! ! !

But their large size and strength can make them a formidable opponent, even for the Asgardians.

Frost giants possess superhuman strength and resistance to physical damage.

The giants' flesh and bones were approximately three times denser than similar human tissue, contributing to their superhuman strength and weight.

They are also exceptionally long-lived.

"Thor."

The Frost Giant certainly had hatred for Thor, although it was because Laufey stole the Ice Box when he ascended the throne, and was discovered by God King Odin. Later, Thor did not ascend the throne because Laufey stole the Ice Box. Successfully, he caused a scene in Jotunheim in a fit of rage.

This commotion caused heavy casualties to the Frost Giants.

These one hundred warriors all came to seek revenge from Thor. As for Odin in Asgard, Laufey decided to take action himself.

"charge!!!"

The leading frost giant roared.

Then a hundred Frost Giants ran wildly. They used their magic power to condense the moisture in the air to form ice spears. Then they aimed at Thor's location, which was the SHIELD base, and launched a terrifying spear throw!

The ice spears thrown by the frost giants broke through the speed of sound, and these ice spears were condensed by magic, not the fragile ice sculptures in reality.

So when these ice spears fell from the sky, they easily penetrated the concrete fortifications, and an ice flower exploded where they were hit.

Coulson and Tony were almost hit by the ice spears. Thor showed an ugly expression when he saw the ice flower that pierced the wall and exploded to freeze everything within a diameter of one meter.

"Frost Giant!"

The next moment, these frost giants rushed into the base, and the SHIELD agents certainly would not be unprepared and counterattack.

But the bullets of the pistol were too small and too weak for the frost giants, and they could only fall off when they hit their muscles and armor.

The frost giants were too lazy to use ice skin and ice armor.

"Sir, the temperature around us continues to drop."

Tony saw the white mist sprayed out of Coulson's breath and knew that the temperature was dropping.

"What the hell, what is this?"

Tony stretched out his hand and pressed on his body, and the clothes he was wearing began to deform.

The clothes he was wearing were all camouflaged nano armor. After all, America was too dangerous now. Many emergencies left Tony no time to slowly put on his battle suit, so he thought of this trick, so that he could wear the nano battle suit all the time.

Chapter 199 Skull Head Thor?

Even if it doesn't deform, the nanosuit is far more effective than heavy body armor and explosion-proof clothing.

Tony also gave Pepper and Happy the same nanosuits.

Thor's eyes widened when he saw Tony turned into a tin can in front of him.

"Since when did Midgard have a mage?"

Thor has naturally seen the high-tech weapons of aliens, but he will not associate it with that.

So in his opinion, Tony's tricks were very similar to those of his younger brother.

Tony ignored him.

"Stay here quietly."

Tony said and rushed out.

Then he saw a group of huge frost giants.

"Is this another new work of Hydra?"

Tony muttered.

With the current situation on Earth, if something strange appears, you can definitely go to Hydra.

Especially these frost giants in front of us are still in groups. Who would believe that they are natural mutations?

It must be that Hydra has come up with something new.

He saw SHIELD agents being suppressed and beaten one-sidedly. Even with the presence of super agents, the Frost Giants with three times the density of human bodies completely destroyed their reinforcements.

That's an increase in density.

The gap is very big.

"Jarvis, scan their situation and develop a strike plan."

Tony said as he rushed forward to block an ice spear, but was knocked away by the ice spear.

Damn it!

Tony's eyes widened. Wearing a nano-suit and enhanced by Compound No. 2, he was certainly unscathed. The question was whether the power of the ice spear just now was a bit outrageous.

The kinetic energy is actually as high as a tank shell!

This is an ice spear, and it is thrown by throwing.

And before Tony could get up, the ice spear exploded, forming ice flowers and freezing him.

A large ice block with a diameter of one meter completely froze Tony inside, unable to move.

But Tony was not so easily controlled, and the energy cannon on his chest lit up.

Because of the upgraded No. 2 Compound Enhancement, Tony's attempt to commit suicide has gone a step further. He placed a reactor on his chest and two reactors on his nanosuit, just like the reactors he holds in his hands in Avengers 4 later. , you can transform by pressing it against your chest.

Three Ark reactors provide energy, which makes the performance of the nanosuit a qualitative leap. In addition, Tony is strengthened by the No. 2 compound, and the flight speed can withstand greater pressure, directly breaking through to the flight speed of Mach 15.

The energy output power used to attack has also been increased to a higher level.

Now, the three chest energy cannons used their force and directly shattered the large ice cubes.

After Tony escaped, the energy cannon in his palm was aimed at a frost giant.

"Biu——!"

An energy cannon penetrated the frost giant's body, and the huge body immediately fell to the ground.

This attracted the attention of the other frost giants.

"Asgard!"

The Frost Giants saw Tony's tin can, and they were reminded of the Destroyer armor that guards Asgard.

So they all came to kill the frost giants.

Of course, before they came over, they all gave themselves the Frost Giant's racial talent, the Ice Skin Technique.

Iceskin makes their skin as hard as ice.

Some frost giants with excellent talents also released the ice armor technique on the basis of the ice skin technique, and a thick ice armor suddenly condensed on the surface of their bodies.

Tony saw their movements, and the nanosuit combination flew out four floating cannons from behind.

These four floating devices, combined with Tony's palm energy cannon, can emit terrifying energy equivalent to the explosion of a nuclear bomb, enough to destroy all targets. They are weapons created by Tony to target enemies such as Hydra's red tanks, Obsidian, and Abominations. .

The specific effect is similar to Pepper Potts' rescuer suit in Infinity War. A single bombardment can easily destroy a Leviathan beast and a larger spaceship.

This is because although the energy is at the level of a nuclear bomb, the energy of the nuclear bomb is dispersed, while Tony's energy cannon is a concentrated energy output, so the power naturally looks stronger.

"Cluster energy cannon?"

Luther nodded. It seems that Tony has changed a lot due to his influence. At least these weapons would have taken several years or even more than ten years to be slowly developed. As a result, Tony is now armed. .

Golden energy beams were emitted from Tony's hands, and the terrifying energy even rendered everything around him into golden light.

Upon seeing this, the leader of the frost giant condensed his magic power without saying a word, forming an ice shield in an attempt to resist this terrifying energy.

The answer was of course unsuccessful. Instead, the ice shield was easily melted, and then the continuous energy light washed away. Wherever it passed, there was no explosion, only silent gasification and melting!

Not all energy can cause an explosion, and explosions are not that easy, just like it has been proven impossible that a gas tank will explode when shot.

One hundred frost giants were just gone.

Of course, Luther had taken them away before they were gone.

Luther would only collect the body when death was inevitable.

"These Frost Giants may be able to produce Frost Giant Serum. If combined with the Extremis Virus, they will be the ultimate creature that can use ice magic and high-temperature attacks."

Luther left the Frost Giant to the big boss and ignored it.

The big boss will know what to do.

When Loki learned that all the Frost Giants were dead, he was furious.

"Sure enough, they are a bunch of useless trash. Even when Thor lost his divine power, he couldn't kill him!"

Loki was very angry.

Then he decided to do it himself, bringing his father's Eternal Spear.

I don't think Thor can win!

At the same time, Thor began to feel something was wrong.

His forehead seemed to be burning all the time, and Thor had never felt this way before.

The low temperature brought by the Frost Giants even turned this burning feeling into burning, making Thor grimace in pain.

This is the burn caused by the Hellfire, which is very difficult to erase and eliminate. If Thor still had divine power, he would naturally not care about this little bit of Hellfire, but he is now in a state of sealed divine power, and he is in close contact with the Hellfire.

The pain he feels now is the pain of his soul being burned by the Hellfire, but because Thor's soul is extremely powerful, he can still endure this pain.

If it were someone else, by the time their body could feel the pain synchronously, they would have been in excruciating pain.

"The fire of hell is still there."

Luther looked at Thor with some surprise. Could it be that a Thor with a skull head would appear? That would be... too cool!

Chapter 200 The baby reindeer is finally here

Tony was cleaning the scene. He originally wanted to recover some sample tissue of the Frost Giant to see if he could study anything.

He still thinks that this is a new product of Hydra, although in theory it is correct, because it will be there soon.

It turned out that Tony didn't collect any samples at all.

"Is it so powerful?"

Tony was a little surprised.

"Mr. Stark, the Director asked me to tell you that the next time you use such a dangerous weapon, you need to report it first. America's satellite detected the surface heat energy value. They almost thought someone dropped a nuclear bomb here."

Coulson was lucky enough not to die, but his left hand was broken. He was wearing a bandage and his head was wrapped around his head and he said to Tony.

"In emergencies, I didn't expect to need it."

Tony apologized without sincerity, and everyone could see how perfunctory he was.

"What do you think is the origin of these big Smurf mutants?"

Tony then asked.

Smurfs? ? ?

Coulson felt that these giants were not at all comparable to the Smurfs, but this description was quite appropriate.

"I'm afraid...Hydra."

Coulson said solemnly.

The S.H.I.E.L.D. agent on the side looked strange after hearing this. As far as he knew, several colleagues died, all of whom were members of Hydra. What does this mean?

Hydra beats its own people?

It's probably Lord Black Caesar's branch. I'm really envious. I don't know how I can apply to be transferred there.

"Hydra has created a new super soldier."

Tony nodded slightly, SHIELD agents weren't too stupid.

"I have reported this matter to the director, who said he would send someone to deal with it to see if some sample tissue can be recovered for research."

When Coulson said this, he looked at the big pit and the still smoking street. To be honest, he felt it was unlikely, unless the cells of these big smurfs could withstand high temperatures.

Tony continued to study the two hammers, but Thor's unusual reaction soon attracted attention.

The abnormal surge in body temperature had caused Thor's body to begin to smoke, which was quickly discovered by the surveillance camera.

"What happened?"

Coulson looked at the smoking Thor, didn't he think he was an ordinary person? Did he suddenly mutate?

The question is, what ability has this mutated into?

A smoke man who only smokes?

"Sir, we don't know, we just know that his temperature is very scary right now and his clothes are starting to burn."

The surrounding SHIELD agents immediately said.

"Is his life in danger?"

Coulson knew that mutants usually couldn't control their superpowers well.

"He looked very distressed and we couldn't do a physical examination on him."

the agents said.

"Keep your distance and cool him down."

Coulson stared at the screen, then spoke after a moment.

Thor was wailing at this time, rolling on the ground in pain, but this was also proof of the strength of his soul. It was fighting against the fire of hell, and this fire of hell was just the fire of hell without consciousness. If Thor If your divine power is not sealed, you can still ignore it.

After all, it is just a rootless fire that will be extinguished by itself. The problem is that it happened to invade and burn when Thor was sealed with divine power. With the soul as fuel, it will be difficult to extinguish.

However, Thor's powerful soul is enough for it to burn for who knows how many years. By then, Thor may not turn into a skull, but will only look like a flame burning between his eyebrows.

Just when SHIELD began emergency measures to save Thor.

Loki comes here.

He had been here before, and he couldn't help but try to lift Mjolnir, who had lost his master. Unfortunately, even if the goddess lost her man, she would not let him, a licking dog, take advantage of her.

Now that Loki was here again, he thought about it and couldn't help but went to Mjolnir's boudoir.

"Mjolnir..."

Loki sneaked in quietly and secretly called Mjolnir's name. Although there were other men in the room, Loki's deception would make him ignore his existence.

Finally, he took a closer look.

Why are there two hammers?

"Is this the Eternal Spear?"

Luther saw the Spear of Eternity in Loki's hand.

This artifact feels like a laser gun in Loki's hands, and it doesn't have the power it should have at all.

The eternal spear Gangnir is famous in Norse mythology. According to legend, its ability is simple and powerful. The ability of the eternal spear is to hit and penetrate anything it hits.

Of course, the Eternal Gun will definitely be weakened in Marvel comics. After all, Asgard is not the top force in Marvel.

The main characteristics of the Eternal Spear in the comics are its sturdiness and ability to channel Odin's power.

The Spear of Eternity is so strong that even Thanos cannot break it. Odin can use its body to directly attack enemies, or he can use it to release energy attacks, but the Spear of Eternity cannot increase Odin's power.

In the comics, the power of the Eternal Spear is actually about the same as Thor's Hammer.

Thor's hammer was originally a weapon made by Odin for himself in the comics, and was later passed to Thor. Therefore, Thor's hammer in the comics is much stronger than that in the movie, and it is not a temporary equipment.

In the future timeline, Thor has lived until the moment when the universe is about to die. At that time, he has already become the strongest among the previous god-kings of Asgard, and the weapon used by Thor is still Thor's hammer.

However, Luther was not pursuing the power of the Eternal Spear, he just wanted to learn how to make this artifact.

Then, make your own artifact!

Loki was confused as to why he had two hammers. What did his stupid brother do to cause the hammer to crack?

"Two hammers mean two opportunities?"

Loki soon lost his mind. He thought that two hammers meant that he had two chances!

Just when Loki was about to hold the hammer, he felt that the Eternal Spear was in the way, and someone happened to help him catch the Eternal Spear.

"Thanks."

Loki said politely, and then he was about to pull out the hammer. Suddenly, he noticed something was wrong.

Turning around, he saw a taller and handsome guy looking at the Eternal Spear in his hands.

"Who are you?"

Loki's eyes widened.

"Don't be nervous, Your Highness Loki, I'm just passing by, you can pretend I don't exist."

Luther said without raising his head.

Loki laughed angrily, pretending you didn't exist, and then allowed you to steal the Eternal Spear, right?

"Are all the mages in Midgard so arrogant?"

Loki pulled out two daggers, which were given to him by his mother, the Queen Frigga, who were the magical weapons of his mother's youth.

"I forgot if you didn't tell me. Be quiet, and then tell me the magic you know, baby reindeer."

There was something magical about Luther's words.
