Chapter 201 Two hundred chapters have been completed, please vote and reward!

Loki felt as if he had had a dream, in which he turned into a reindeer and obeyed a man's words.

Not only did he teach the other party all the magic he had learned throughout his life, he also cooperated so well that the other party received his own blood and hair.

Although Loki seems like a funny character, Loki is the number one mage in the nine realms!

Regardless of Kama Taj's magic, Loki's magic is the best choice.

Asgard has no magic. They advocate force rather than magic, so they don't pay much attention to magic. The reason why Queen Frigga knows magic is simply because she is from another divine race.

Therefore, it can be said that the magic Luther learned is the magic of the Warner Protoss.

Frigga naturally has no strength, and the dark elf can kill her alone.

Luther doesn't mind it either, he pursues knowledge and strength.

The Eternal Spear was also obtained, and Luther left directly with the Eternal Spear.

Loki was left feeling lost and unaware of what he had lost.

Loki left in confusion and returned to the Immortal Palace. He shook hands as usual, but found that his hand was empty.

“Gungunir???”

Loki was surprised, where was the Eternal Spear?

But he searched the entire Immortal Palace and couldn't find where the eternal spear Gungunir had gone.

He tried to remember what had happened, but everything was normal.

"Someone betrayed me and took away the Eternal Spear?"

Loki could only think of this possibility, but without the Eternal Spear and the Destroyer Armor, Loki did not dare to let the Frost Giant King Laufey come in to kill Odin. How would he kill Laufey to protect himself? parents?

Moreover, the news he received was that the Frost Giant's plan to kill Thor failed.

He had to rebuke Laufey and then ask him to kill his brother himself.

On the other side, Luther studied the Eternal Spear carefully.

He had been able to crack and transform Thor's Hammer, but for the Eternal Spear, Luther found that there were too many runes on it.

It is true that those who swear an oath to this gun will definitely fulfill their oath, but it depends on the ability of the person holding this gun!

It doesn't matter if it's potential or strength, it doesn't matter if you look at the future, as long as you have the ability to realize it.

For example, if my wish to become a great god at the level of a single universe is made by a mortal, then it is impossible to realize it.

Unless he is a top lucky guy like Sentinel.

After Luther deciphered the meaning of the rune text, he could be considered to have mastered the method of making the Eternal Spear.

And if he wants to create his own artifact, he can't use transformation magic.

It requires deformation magic combined with biological force fields and the ability to modify reality. This is comparable to the art of constructing something out of nothing.

This kind of thing can be accomplished from scratch only by relying on biological force fields. Neither reality modification nor transformation magic can be accomplished alone.

After modifying reality, you need your own strength to maintain the result of the modification. It is not an eternal modification unless it is supported by the power gem.

Luther has three gems in hand, so he can easily permanently modify reality.

But he didn't rely entirely on the power of gems, he believed in himself more!

"Speaking of which, Wonder Woman's magical weapon seems pretty good, too?"

Luther decided that if he could travel to the DC world in the future, he would have to ask Wonder Woman to borrow an artifact for a look!

"The magical thing about runes is that they can be combined in almost unlimited ways. The problem is that the number of combinations is too big... Fortunately, I have a super brain and have already completed it."

Luther had a troubled expression on his face, and his expression changed the next moment.

The super brain is really cheating. Even this kind of calculation can be completed in a femtosecond. Luther also got the rune text combination he wanted.

"Strength Bracers!"

Luther used transformation magic to turn the surrounding materials into the materials he wanted, including the super metal from the Dragon Ball world, the formula of the Uru metal brought by the Eternal Spear and Mjolnir, and the vibranium he had come into contact with.

The three super metals originally required complex calculations and experiments to become alloys, but Luther completed the process using a biological force field.

A pair of wrist guards were formed bit by bit from scratch, three kinds of super metals were fused, and runes were written all over the surface.

Luther then used his own power to light up and activate these runes.

"After wearing it, you can gain ten times the strength."

Luther tried to put on this pair of power wristbands, and then felt that his power had really improved.

It is indeed the rune script that gave birth to the World Tree. The World Tree itself is a multi-dimensional existence, so it seems normal that the rune script has an effect on Luther?

"Speaking of which, can Odin be so tolerant? The Eternal Spear is gone."

Luther was a little surprised. If Odin was so easy to talk to, it would be true that he wanted to develop the Destroyer Armor.

Whether it is for the blessing of the gods' power on the Destroyer Armor or for the eternal fire inside the Destroyer Armor, it is very valuable.

As for the Destroyer armor itself...it's of little value.

Uru metal and rune writing are no longer rare things.

"Sun Armor..."

Luther planned to build himself an armor with very high magic resistance, and then a battle armor with solar power and stellar energy.

Even though he is no longer a pure Kryptonian, but also has Doomsday and Broly, but there is no guarantee that one day Luther will be forced into a desperate situation and rely on this armor to save his life.

However, when Luther was making his own artifact, the Eternal Spear suddenly floated up and then soared into the sky.

"Can it return automatically even if it's not thrown?"

Luther watched the Eternal Spear leave with some surprise. He could stop it, but there was no need. Now is not the time to fight Odin.

The Eternal Spear was summoned back by Odin, and soon the Destroyer Armor followed suit and left Midgard.

"Is this going to play into the predetermined script? However, Thor does not have the power of Thor now, but he has the fire of hell."

Luther shook his head.

At this moment, Thor in the SHIELD base has become the embodiment of fire.

Loki and Laufey had a dispute. Laufey firmly disagreed to go to Midgard to deal with Thor. He now wondered if Loki had set up any traps and conspiracies. Otherwise, how could Thor, who had lost his divine power, deal with him? A hundred frost giant warriors?

Even if he is taller among the short ones, he is still a frost giant!

You said the Midgardians killed those warriors?

Nonsense!

Laufey doesn't care about Midgard. After all, he is not Heimdall, so his impression of Midgard still remains in the ancient Viking age. Can a group of barbarians deal with the Frost Giant warriors?

It's better to let him believe that Thor has not actually lost his divine power, this is just a conspiracy against the Frost Giants!

Chapter 202 Tony is defeated again

In Laufey's view, this was a conspiracy.

Loki was almost mad at Laufey's stupidity, and then he beat him up. When he felt that the plan could no longer succeed, he discovered that the Eternal Spear had appeared at some point, or in other words, the Eternal Spear had been there. He used it as a clothes rack.

"Spear of Eternity???"

Loki slapped his forehead. When did he use the Eternal Spear as a clothes hanger?

Looking at the Eternal Spear with several pieces of clothing hung on the tip, Loki looked confused and wondered whether he had mistaken the Eternal Spear and the clothes hanger.

But in that case, I didn't take the clothes hanger to fight. Wait, why should I fight?

Loki felt a kind of memory loss, but after reviewing his memory, everything seemed normal.

"Destroyer, come to me!"

After thinking hard, Loki felt that there was nothing wrong. This was Asgard. How could his memory be modified? It was a joke.

Even if the old man is still awake, he doesn't have this ability!

Not to mention that the old man was still trapped in Odin's sleep. The queen mother didn't seem to be aware of his plan, so naturally there was no need to modify his memory.

I must have been overthinking it. I didn't expect that I would be nervous and hallucinate because the plan was about to succeed.

He didn't find the Destroyer armor in the treasure house, but Loki still knew that he could command the Destroyer with the Eternal Spear.

So he simply didn't bother to look for it and let the Destroyer appear on his own.

The Destroyer Armor then appeared and stood in front of Loki.

"very good....."

Loki saw the dawn of victory. The Frost Giant couldn't kill Thor. Could it be that the Destroyer couldn't kill Thor either?

He didn't need the Frost Giant at all, and it was time to let Laufey in.

The reason why Loki wants to kill Thor is because the Three Warriors of Asgard and Sif insist on going to Midgard to retrieve Thor to take charge of the overall situation, and Heimdall also secretly helps them.

This made Loki angry. If you are not willing to surrender to me and be loyal to me, then I will let you die together in Midgard.

Otherwise, Loki probably wouldn't kill them all.

The most that can be done is to block Midgard's communications and replace the Rainbow Bridge guardian.

There is a huge gap between the simple and unpretentious Destroyer and the colorful and brilliant Destroyer at the beginning.

It's just that Loki has never seen the Destroyer in the first place, so he doesn't know the difference.

He confidently sent the Destroyer to Midgard, while he arranged for Laufey to assassinate Odin.

It can only be said that Loki is confident. Isn't he worried that he won't be able to kill Laufey and cause an accident?

But she is the third princess after all, so she has basic operations.

"Mjolnir!!!"

On Earth, Thor felt a power that he couldn't feel in Mjolnir.

This power is not powerful, but it also allows Thor to get rid of the limitations of mortals and regain his strength.

He broke into Mjolnir's boudoir again.

"Pfft!!!"

The automatic fire extinguisher sensed the rise in indoor temperature and directly sprayed a large amount of water spray, but the water spray turned into mist before it could be poured on Thor's body.

Thor walked in front of Mjolnir. This time, he felt that he should be able to lift Mjolnir!

Holding Mjolnir with both hands, the hellfire burning on Thor spread to Mjolnir.

Mjolnir wavered, and the next moment, it was burning with hellfire and was picked up by Thor.

"Mjolnir!!!"

Thor became excited, and the power of lightning was inspired from Mjolnir and shot through the sky.

“Boom, boom, boom!!!”

There was a deafening roar and thousands of thunders shot out.

"It's strange, the weather forecast didn't say there will be another thunderstorm today?"

"Is there another change on the Hammer side?"

Coulson was about to go over and take a look at the situation, when suddenly a tall figure fell from the sky.

"Mr. Stark?"

Coulson saw that it was a metal giant, a humanoid armor nearly three meters tall, made of silver metal bars, and inlaid with rivets on the shoulders and arms. It looked like a steel suit. He thought It's Tony's new work.

Just when he was breathing a sigh of relief, he suddenly saw the other party opening his mask. There was nothing inside the mask. There was no driver as he imagined. Instead, there was a flame burning.

After Coulson was stunned for a moment, fiery red light emerged from the gaps in the entire upper body armor plate of the Destroyer armor, and then converged on his head. The eternal flame turned and became brighter and brighter. Coulson's agent instinct allowed He sensed the danger and quickly ran away without having time to think about it.

Then he saw a dazzling light!

After he pounced forward, he hit the spot where he was just now. He could even feel his leather shoes burning his feet, but there was still no direct contact!

The heat insulation effect of the air seemed to have lost its effect. Coulson rolled farther away in embarrassment, and the suit behind him was burnt.

He felt the shock wave coming towards his face, and the burning heat.

Just like a hot knife cutting through butter, everything is melted through in front of this light of destruction, and there is nothing that can resist it.

The entire base was split in two by the Destroyer using the Light of Destruction, targeting Thor who felt it!

“I hate it when people interrupt me while I’m researching!”

Tony rushed out and saw the Destroyer armor.

"Shit! These damn Hydras, they even copied my technology!"

Tony's eyes widened. Although there was no Hydra logo on the Destroyer armor, the only thing Tony could think of at this time was Hydra.

Otherwise, you told him that this was an alien weapon?

Tony didn't have this cognition yet.

Seeing that the high-energy weapon in the Destroyer armor mask seemed to be about to trigger something like a laser, Tony fired two palm energy cannons without saying a word.

The light of destruction and the light of the energy cannon collided, and immediately triggered a bigger explosion!

Tony, wearing a nano suit, was easily thrown out. The kinetic energy generated by the shock wave was something he couldn't resist, but Tony still activated the thrusters in the air to get himself out of the situation where he was blown away for an unknown distance.

Coulson had asked the agents at the base to evacuate quickly. Like Tony, he also had bad ideas.

Hydra actually developed such a terrible steel suit?

Damn Hydra!

Alexander Pierce sneezed. He didn't know what happened, but it felt like someone was talking about him?

It took only a few minutes before and after, and Tony was surprised to find that he couldn't beat this big piece of iron with no aesthetic sense!

Chapter 203 Twin Hammer Thunder God

Tony has always thought of himself as a genius.

Of course, Luther is also a genius, but they are geniuses in different fields.

Tony can accept that Luther is more talented than him in some aspects, but he cannot accept being surpassed by others in his own field!

However, the embarrassing problem is that it seems that he cannot beat Hydra's iron armor now.

This is impossible! ! !

He constantly upgrades his armor and weapons, but after each upgrade, more perverted enemies will appear, which makes Tony very depressed. Did he commit any taboos and be so unlucky?

If it were someone else from Asgard, as long as it was not Odin, Tony would actually have the strength to fight now, because he has been promoted to cosmic-level combat power, and a nano armor can go to heaven and earth, surpassing the blood edge armor in Avengers 4.

That is a armor that can fight with Thanos. Now, Tony estimates that he can not only fight with Thanos for a few moves, but also may have the possibility of competing with Thanos, after all, the version is updated too fast.

If it weren't for the explosion of the energy effect, the Destroyer Armor's Destruction Light could completely cut through Tony's suit.

Now Tony didn't have time to catch his breath, and the Destroyer Armor's Destruction Light was activated again, which made Tony cross his hands in front of his chest. The armor on the back of his hands opened, and an energy force field shield appeared in front of him.

"Boom!!!"

The Destruction Light hit the energy shield, and the three Ark reactors immediately felt the pressure and increased the speed.

If Tony used the shield formed by nanorobots, it would have been cut by the Destruction Light, but he used the energy shield, which meant that as long as his energy could be maintained, he could resist the Destruction Light.

After a Destruction Light, a lot of Tony's energy was annihilated.

"Damn, where does this thing get so much energy? Jarvis!"

Tony hurriedly ran away, he needed Veronica's support.

Seeing Tony fly away, the Destroyer Armor ignored him and went straight in the direction of Thor.

At this moment, lightning flashed and thunder roared, and countless lightning struck from high altitude, bombarding the ground.

At the same time, the ground was burning with flames, turning into a sea of fire, and the surrounding temperature rose sharply.

Wearing a bright red cloak and silver armor, Thor appeared with two hammers in his hands.

The hammer in his left hand was burning with hellfire, and the hammer in his right hand was entangled with lightning and flames, as if they were fighting.

And Thor himself was also burning with hellfire, and the ball of fire between his eyebrows rose to a height of almost half a meter.

Such a shape stunned Luther and Loki, who was hiding behind the Destroyer armor.

"What the hell???"

Loki's eyes widened. He no longer had the memory of the last time he came to Earth, so when he saw that the hammer had become two, Loki was stunned.

Also, what's the matter with this flame? You are the god of thunder, not the god of fire!

"I'm back."

Thor said a meaningless word.

Luther knew what he meant by coming back. It was nothing more than the soul being burned by the hellfire, triggering some memories and influences brought by the hellfire.

However, Thor probably didn't know that such a vigorous hellfire was fueled by his own soul. Even if his soul was very strong, according to the intensity and strength of this burning, it would probably not last long.

Thor himself could not compare with Zatanos and the Spirit of Vengeance. King Thor and Rune King Thor could surpass Zatanos and the Spirit of Vengeance. The current Thor was too tender.

If he couldn't grasp the degree, he might die.

Of course, Odin is still alive now, and he must have a way to deal with this hellfire.

"My gravity hammer was picked up by him in this way."

Luther felt that his bio-force field was still maintained. After all, the intensity was different. It would take 10,000 years for the hellfire to burn and cause his bio-force field to be damaged.

Then Luther took back this part of the bio-force field.

Thor felt that the "Mjolnir" in his left hand seemed to become more friendly.

He loved this hammer.

Thor pointed his left hammer at the Destroyer.

"Come here, Destroyer!"

Then the Destroyer's body flew towards Thor as if it was out of control, but it condensed the light of destruction in mid-air.

But then Thor turned the hammer in his right hand and smashed the flying Destroyer's armor into the sky with an upward hammer.

The light of destruction then cut through the sky.

Then the gravity of Thor's left hand's gravity hammer captured the Destroyer's armor again and pulled it over.

"Ahhhhh!!!"

Thor's dual-wielding war hammers hit the Destroyer's armor hard.

This violent scene frightened Loki. For some reason, he felt that his brother, who was now wrapped in lightning and fire, seemed even more terrifying.

This was the result of the interference between the Hellfire and the power of Thor. Otherwise, Thor's power would be stronger.

The Destroyer was smashed to the ground by this, but he was not broken apart yet. When he looked up, a light of destruction appeared.

Thor was not afraid of the Light of Destruction at all. He threw Mjolnir at the Light of Destruction, and then swung out the Hammer of Gravity!

The two hammers were one in front and one behind. Mjolnir kept spinning to break through the Light of Destruction. After Mjolnir broke through the Light of Destruction, the Hammer of Gravity hit the Destroyer's armor heavily.

The fire of hell erupted.

"Boom!!!"

The Destroyer armor was smashed into hell!!!

The fire of hell itself has the ability to open the gate of hell, and Thor accidentally stimulated this ability of the fire of hell.

Of course, the hell that was opened was Mephisto's hell, which was equivalent to delivering the Destroyer armor to his door.

"This series of accidents is really wonderful."

Luther said with a smile, stopped time, and took away the Destroyer armor in less than a second, letting Mephisto take the blame for himself.

As for whether it can be hidden from Odin, just kidding, the power of the biological force field plus three infinite gems, if it can't be hidden from Odin, what level must Odin be?

Luther felt that this was a protracted war, and the blessing of the gods' power on the Destroyer armor was a very complicated analysis process.

Of course, after the analysis is completed, Luther can simulate the gods' power.

It will not be difficult to create your own Destroyer armor at that time, of course, it can't be as ugly as the Destroyer.

It's nothing that Thor got the Hammer of Gravitation. Looking at Thor's appearance, we know that he can only use the hammer to suck people.

He probably didn't think about how the Hammer of Gravitation could really work. Luther believed that Thor's brain couldn't think of such things.

Chapter 204 Mars Colonization

The production plan for the new humans was completed quickly.

Luther provided too many materials, and the big boss worked for a long time to get it done.

"This is the new human of the future. We are the leader of the evolution of mankind, BOSS."

The big boss said enthusiastically.

Loki's Frost Giant royal gene, Asgard Prince, the future God King Thor's gene, Extremis virus, Green Goblin serum, Hulk's blood, and a series of other things, plus the genes Luther got from the Dragon Ball world and the Super Seminary world.

This is how this new human that violates the laws of physics came into being.

Their body density is five times that of humans!

Stronger than many Asgardians and Frost Giants.

Density is the same volume, when the density increases, the mass will also increase.

But Luther made them violate the laws of physics. Logically speaking, their weight should be far more than that of ordinary people.

There have been many humans who weigh more than 1,000 kilograms, and the new humans with five times the density and a body height of more than 1.8 meters weigh at least 1,000 kilograms.

However, after being modified by Luther, it became similar to normal humans, but with five times the density.

What does five times the body density mean?

Starting with a strength of tens of tons, the body is invulnerable and indestructible. You will probably feel it when a missile hits your face.

Their lifespan is much longer than that of Earthlings, but much shorter than that of Asgardians, whose lifespan starts at 5,000 years.

And Asgard has a special way to extend lifespan.

From the perspective of all Earth gods, Asgardians or Aesir are one of the "new gods" born from the residual energy of the swallowed Elder Gods released after the explosion of the Demogorge and the interaction with the new ecosystem of the Earth.

The physiology of the new gods on Earth is slightly different. The Olympians corresponding to the Greek-Roman gods are all immortal (their number is also small), while the Asgardians, who are more prosperous, are not immortal-although their lifespan is almost endless.

But they will age over time, and to maintain their youth and strength, they must regularly take the golden apples of Iton produced in Asgard.

Does it sound like déjà vu?

Yes, we have a similar situation, that is, the Peach Festival!

In order to eat a piece of peaches to prolong their lives, the immortals had to respond to the call of the Queen Mother and come to the Peach Festival.

However, unlike the Peach Festival, the golden apples are not available to everyone.

This magical apple tree taken care of by the goddess Iton cannot be supplied to everyone. Generally, only specific people can take it, and it may also be given to people who are not royal (such as the Valkyries recruited from the Ten Realms, the most famous Valkyrie "Brunhild" turned out to be a noble girl from a kingdom under the rule of the Asgard).

The three warriors are also qualified to take the golden apple.

It should be noted that the creatures who take the golden apple will gain a certain power bonus! ! !

In a broad sense, all intelligent creatures in the Asgard realm are considered Asgardians (or controversial, there are claims that the Hogun in the main world is another race in Asgard), but the upper level may master magic or take the golden apple, etc., which will appear to be more powerful than ordinary residents, but compared to the weak earthlings, they are almost gods.

At least you can get a share of the peach conference after you come, and the Queen Mother of the West will not clear out the goods at once, and the peaches are not something that has been stored for a long time and cannot be sold. On the contrary, the older the peaches, the more precious they are.

It is already very good to be able to get a share, and the golden apple is the real channel that blocks the upper level.

If the lower level wants to eat the golden apple and be reborn, they can only make meritorious deeds.

Luther thought this method was good, so he imitated it and made a silver broccoli... No.

He thought it was unoriginal, so he made a fountain of youth.

The water of the fountain of youth, which is like liquid gold, can not only prolong life and maintain youth after drinking, but also increase strength!

Then it can be used to reward those who have made contributions.

Luther will not rely solely on mind control and mental manipulation to maintain his rule. Marvel has too many abilities in this area, and it is easy to get out of control.

He thinks that interests, majesty and power are the best rule.

Of course, something must be implanted in every Martian or Venusian.

Martians and Venusians also have hidden functions, that is, they can become Hulks!

But not everyone can change. Those who can become Hulks will become warriors and become the angels of the emperor!

Big muscle, big emperor angels!

The combat power is naturally much stronger than that of the Star Warriors. After transforming into the Hulk, in terms of their physique, it is really five times the strength of the Hulk per capita.

Of course, this is the normal situation when the Green Hulk does not become stronger when angry.

Then these Hulks will be divided according to color.

Since the new humans are ready, and Thor went back to seek revenge on the Ghost Rider but did not find him, he was then teleported back to Asgard by Heimdall who was thawed from the ice and told him a bad news.

So Thor has left the Earth now.

The only interesting thing left for Luther is the invasion of the Chitauri. The rest are just boring trivia to kill time.

So, Tony, who was busy and exhausted, received a special reminder from Jarvis.

"Sir, Monarch International seems to have made a big move."

Jarvis said.

"What has Luther come up with again?"

Tony was a little surprised. Every time Luther made a big move, it meant good things. Could it be that compound No. 3 is coming out?

But it took so long for compound No. 1 to compound No. 2, and now it's coming out so soon?

After reading the news, Tony was stunned.

"Emperor International successfully launched the Mars landing capsule!"

"Emperor International: We will migrate to Mars for development. Goodbye, humans!"

"Emperor International's Mars colonization plan has begun. Has the new era entered the era of cosmic colonization?"

"The last person to open up the colonization era was..."

Oh my god! ! !

Is he not awake yet?

It seems normal. Thor's last explosion, holding a double hammer to smash the Destroyer armor, and then telling them that he is the son of Odin, Thor, the god of thunder, they always thought Thor was a psychopath.

Now, of course, they will believe it, after all, this psychopath can really control thunder!

Not only can he control thunder, he can also control fire. I don't know how the Norse mythology group recorded it, so that there could be such a big mistake.

Then Thor suddenly said that he wanted to find a burning skull for revenge, let him know how powerful Thor was, and flew away regardless of the obstruction.

Chapter 205 Reactions from all parties

"He can't do that. Mars is the common property of all mankind. He has no right to colonize Mars without us!"

"Don't worry. He will definitely need the resources of the Earth to build Mars. Then we can use this to target him!"

"That's right!"

"Gentlemen, it seems that we wanted to target him like this last time, but he just left..."

Someone reminded sarcastically.

"It's different this time!"

"This time he wants to colonize Mars. We can use our influence to make the whole world not cooperate with him. In the face of such huge benefits of colonizing Mars, he can't get away like last time. Everyone wants this piece of cake. Do you understand? There is no compromise in this matter!"

The speaker said confidently.

Indeed, if the technology of colonizing Mars has been completed, it is definitely not something that Luther, an imperial international, can eat.

The whole world will put pressure on it. Humans have been looking forward to colonizing other planets in the solar system for a long time.

Mars must be at the top of the list.

If it were someone else, there would be no way to resist. After all, colonizing Mars is not that easy. The resources are enough to block everyone.

This is a huge cake that cannot be eaten alone, so big that it can crush anyone to death!

In the face of such interests, anyone who tries to stop it will be directly drowned by the turbulent waves of the "world".

However, who made Luther an accident? He doesn't need the resources of the earth at all. Even this notice is Luther's bad taste, just teasing America.

When they find out that Luther doesn't need the resources of the earth at all and is still developing on Mars, their expressions of grief, envy, jealousy and hatred at that time, just thinking about it makes people feel so happy! ! !

Now, of course, they are waiting for this emotion to ferment. Their self-righteous remarks have been shown to Luther by Jing Potian using ultra-high definition and resolution to build a 3D model.

Luther doesn't care. He is proud now, but he will be frustrated later.

People, it's better to be stable.

But it's no wonder. They are used to putting on a good face for others, and used to no one daring to disobey and resist their intentions. It's normal that they can't react for a while.

Tony came directly.

"Are you really going to start colonizing Mars? You should know how important this is!"

Tony is worried about Luther. Even if this man is invincible and the strongest man on earth, his mind is not invincible.

What's more, if the invincible power is used in a different way, flaws and loopholes will be found.

This time, he has to face the pressure of the whole world, countless psychologists analyzing psychology, countless studies, etc., and Tony feels helpless just thinking about such targeting.

So, he plans to come to Luther before the matter is out of solution.

"Don't worry, I know what I'm doing, Tony."

Luther didn't think Tony was too annoying. The fact that he could come to him at this time showed that Tony really regarded him as a friend, or maybe as a child like Spider-Man.

"You don't understand at all, how are you going to colonize Mars? Do you want to bring the people in your company over? They may not be willing to follow you, and then you have to feed them, and be responsible for them and their newborns for life, and you even have to be self-sufficient on Mars!"

Tony became excited.

He felt that Luther was just like him when he was young, both were young and frivolous, and they thought "I want to do it because I can do it", so they went for it.

He did a lot of stupid things because of this, and now he doesn't want Luther to be the same as him.

"Listen to me, Luther, stop, or talk to some people, I can help you, I promise, your sovereignty will not be affected, they just want this piece of cake, this is different from a company, a company can not be listed, not securities trading, and no one is allowed to intervene, but this is not possible."

Tony continued.

Luther listened to Tony quietly.

"I have solved the problems of resources and population."

Then Luther said.

"How did you solve it, can you still create materials out of thin air?"

Tony didn't believe it at all, with such technology, he was also at a loss, okay?

However, looking at Luther who was still smiling at him, Tony couldn't sit still.

"Has the atomic rearrangement technology been realized? Or is it mass-energy conversion? No, is it just molecular-level arrangement and reorganization? Or fusion?"

Tony asked about the possibilities in his mind one by one, and then he overturned them.

"Don't think about it. The possibility I can achieve is not technology, but magic."

Luther couldn't possibly come up with this kind of technology. The Reality Gem could easily modify reality, but it would be absurd to come up with atomic combination technology.

Although it is also possible to make reality realize atomic combination according to the methodology given by the Reality Gem, Tony must know that this does not conform to the laws of physics.

"Magic?"

Tony looked at Luther in confusion, wondering if he was still asleep or he was still asleep?

Luther stretched out a finger.

"Turn into a cheeseburger."

A beam of light hit the table in front of him, and then the table in front of him turned into a pile of cheeseburgers.

"This, this, this is???"

Tony's eyes were about to pop out. How could this be possible?

Is this projection technology? It wasn't a table in the first place, it was a pile of cheeseburgers?

"Try it, it should taste much better than the cheeseburger you eat."

Luther knew that Tony's favorite thing was cheeseburgers.

Tony picked up a cheeseburger doubtfully. He felt that the cheeseburger was still hot and fragrant.

He took a bite, with the practical spirit of a scientist.

The gravy is plump and juicy, the bread is delicate and chewy, and the cheese is unexpectedly delicious.

He had eaten cheeseburgers for so many years, and he originally thought that there would be no cheeseburgers that could satisfy him, not even those chefs.

But Luther's cheeseburger gave Tony great satisfaction.

"Does magic really exist?"

After eating, Tony sat there feeling lost, and then asked.

"It really exists, but it's not easy to learn magic. You must first find Kama Taj."

Luther did not hide Tony. There is also a story line in which Tony becomes the Supreme Mage. What's more, it depends on the Supreme Mage's intention. As long as she doesn't want to, Tony can't find Kama Taj.

To put it bluntly, Luther gave the choice to the Supreme Mage Ancient One.

Tony took note of the name Karma Taj, and he was full of interest and curiosity about magic.

Chapter 206 The power of crazy growth

Tony didn't dare to think about what would happen if such magic spread.

Although science is a methodology, magic is only a methodology of an objective phenomenon, which may not be impossible to become science.

But that is just the idea of the researchers themselves.

The problem of resources has been solved.

"Are you going to turn the soil on Mars into food?"

Tony looked at the cheeseburger in his hand worriedly, wondering if it would turn into glass shards in his stomach?

"The change in the form of matter is a complete change. Don't worry about it changing back. That requires the technology of seamless conversion of matter and energy."

Luther seemed to see his inner thoughts and said to him.

"Okay, how are you going to solve the population problem?"

Tony asked.

"I have collected the genes of many people."

Luther didn't make it too clear, but Tony could understand.

"Clones? That's right. Mars doesn't have as many rules and laws as Earth."

Tony agreed. It's just clones. As long as Luther is not a cruel human trafficking, it's fine.

"To be precise, it's the New Human Plan. After the genes are adjusted, the new humans born will be stronger than the current humans."

Luther's words made Tony hesitate, he didn't know what to say.

"Is it the product of the compound?"

Tony asked after a while.

"That's actually right. The compound allowed me to accumulate a lot of data and understand the human body, so the New Human Plan will be successful."

Luther nodded.

"So, you have been collecting data all the time?"

Tony suddenly realized that this plan was probably started by Luther a long time ago. Didn't he already have the Mars Colonization Plan and the New Human Plan at that time?

"It's not really collecting data. I wanted to evolve with all mankind and enter a new era at the beginning, but America's targeting made me realize that sometimes, good things can't be recognized. You want to help others, but others won't want your help..."

Luther said meaningfully.

Tony knew what Luther was talking about.

"This world is like this."

Tony said helplessly.

He chose to compromise, Luther chose to give up, and create a planet by himself?

"If you need any help, feel free to come to me."

Tony was silent for a while, then said to Luther.

"Me too, Tony."

Luther nodded.

He originally had a problem with Tony's foul mouth, but he felt good about this guy after becoming friends.

"Can I go to your place to be a noble and restore the right of first night?"

Tony immediately asked with a smile.

"It's impossible to start from a feudal society."

Luther retorted.

"I thought you wanted to be a king with the right of first night."

Tony said with some disappointment.

"No need, I have no interest in vulgar things."

When Luther said this, he thought of Qilin. It seems that he hasn't visited Qilin for a while. If it weren't for the unequal time flow in the two worlds, Luther would probably have to rotate day and night.

Things here have been almost resolved, and Jing Potian can handle the affairs of the empire. It seems that he doesn't need to worry about it. This thing itself is a playful nature.

Jing Potian heard that he could finally go to the Supreme Wisdom, and he was so excited that he didn't know what to look at.

Although it intends to prepare a body for itself, after all, after experiencing the experience of being directly taken from the heavy protection by the dragon to Luther, Jingvatron knows that science is a dead end.

But it doesn't want to make do. What it wants most is to get Luther's body materials to make its own body. The problem is that Luther will not drop any samples, nor will he keep any samples in this universe.

Even if there are enemies who want to travel through time to collect samples here, he must be able to beat Luther, who stays up all day and guards the genetic samples.

In fact, all the new human materials prepared by Luther, including various serums and Hulk blood, are for Jingvatron, but Jingvatron doesn't like the materials of these guys who were blown up by Luther.

It only wants Luther's, but the problem is that there is no way to take samples, and Luther will not have that kind of life here. Even if there is, the nanorobots it creates can't hide from Luther's various super senses.

This is very uncomfortable, so Jingvatron has always wanted to find the supreme wisdom and the civilization that is good at cultivating and making super soldiers.

Luther once accidentally revealed that there was a very fierce guy in the Shi'ar Empire who was only a little weaker than him. His name was Doujian and he was a special race.

This made Jing Potian worried.

It didn't want to betray Luther, and it couldn't betray Luther.

Let alone the power of the dragon, Luther's power could control it now.

It even calculated Luther's power data, and then almost crashed. Every day was the same. Jing Potian even thought that Luther on the second day might be able to kill himself yesterday with one punch.

Growth seemed to have no limit and was endless, and Luther could actually control his crazy power very well. He had never seen Luther accidentally crush anything, which meant that this crazy power was under Luther's control.

This was outrageous, a monster that could control how much power he gained.

What it didn't know was that Luther's crazy growth was not only in strength, but also in superpowers.

There are a lot of superpowers recently.

There are all kinds of them, even the ability to transform like Mystique, but Luther doesn't think much of this kind of superpower that can only transform at the cell level and can't disguise the soul.

It's just a change at the cell level. Luther now remembers people by remembering the atomic arrangement structure, and he can see through it at a glance.

He is not Silver Superman, after all, he is a Kryptonian who can get any superpower he wants.

So Luther thought that it might be because he mixed Kryptonian + Doomsday + Broly to have such a change?

Or did he absorb the energy of the three Infinity Stones, causing his Kryptonian genes to change?

Either one is very likely. Captain Marvel absorbed the energy of the Cosmic Cube to become Captain Marvel. If he absorbed the energy of the remaining Infinity Stones, even if he was not Silver Superman, he should be Super Kryptonian Hale, right?

Tony left afterwards. After thinking about it, Luther opened a space through the Space Stone and walked in.

When he appeared again, he had arrived at the place he wanted to go.

This is the power of the Space Gem, you can go wherever you want!

As soon as Luther touched the ground, a man came out to greet him.

Chapter 207 Determined to strengthen oneself

"Welcome to Kama Taj, Mr. Luther."

Bright orange cape robes, and equally radiant bald Celtic women.

"I think I am about to leave the earth. If I don't come to meet you, it would be unreasonable for me to see you, the Supreme Mage Ancient One."

Luther said to the bald head with a smile.

"I am already aware of your arrival and your thoughts. Kama Taj welcomes any seeker."

Supreme Mage Gu nodded and responded with a smile.

Luther followed the Supreme Mage Ancient One into Kama Taj without any accidents.

The purpose of his trip was to learn the magic of Kama Taj.

Don't get me wrong, he is not asking for power from the Dimensional Demon God, Luther just wants to learn these magics and then develop his own magic.

Marvel's magic, or the magic of Kama Taj's system, uses power to cast magic. Magic is similar to superpowers. Usually, spells are recited to trigger its magic.

Magical energy can be converted into invisibility, energy projection, object penetration, longevity, illusion, flight, hypnosis, protective shield, alchemy, telekinesis, teleportation, cross-space teleportation, teleportation and other super powers.

According to the setting of Kama Taj, magic has been born since ancient times.

Magical energy does not exist in real space, and the power used by mages is drawn from other dimensions through methods.

The magicians of Karma Taj use white magic, which originates from the "Trinity" god-Vishanti.

Other black magicians who act recklessly draw the power of demons from other dimensions.

Of course, this does not mean that Kama Taj is really all white magic. Doctor Strange later used many magics from demons from other dimensions when he fought Thanos.

Luther was brought into Kamathaj's library by the Supreme Mage Ancient One.

"You can stay here until you leave."

The Supreme Mage Ancient One said.

Then she left, looking very unconcerned about what Luther would do in Karma Taj. It was also possible that she had seen the future with the time stone, and Luther would not do anything.

He just wants to learn magic with his super brain.

Although Superman's magic resistance is weak only because his opponents are magic gods or demons, Superman will not make up for his own weaknesses. Unlike Luther, he will continue to strengthen his flaws.

Anyway, with a super brain, it is impossible to learn magic.

He first picked up a book on basic magic theory.

It is recorded on it that the most basic magic is magic light, which is what Doctor Strange first practiced.

All magic used by the mage requires corresponding inscriptions drawn with magical light.

Then Luther made a stroke with his hand, and a bright orange light appeared with his gesture and remained there.

"Learned."

Luther read the book in seconds and understood and mastered the content.

In less than half an hour, Luther had become a mage from a beginner, and he had opened the "Book of Weishan Emperor", the foundation book of Karma Taj.

This is the so-called white magic. The price you need to pay is much lighter than that of other dimensional demons, but it does not mean that there is no price at all.

After the death of Karma Taj's mages, everything will return to Vishandi, including their souls and powers.

The only one who can escape this fate is Ancient One. She followed the Eternal God. According to Agamotto, she became an existence comparable to Emperor Weishan, the trinity of Emperor Weishan, the ancient god of mankind.

Kama Taj's practice system was also pioneered by Agamotto.

As for the others, of course they lost themselves and became part of Emperor Weishan.

However, the magician of Kama Taj takes this price for granted and will not reject it.

They feel that they can use magic to live a healthy life, and after death, their strength will return to Weishan Emperor as the price of their lifelong cultivation.

Other dimensional demons have to pay the price while they are alive, and their souls will be plundered by dimensional demons involuntarily after death.

It may also become the coordinates for dimensional demons to invade the real dimension. Of course, they resist such magic.

"He learns so fast."

Mordo accompanied the Supreme Mage Gu Yi to see Luther's progress in learning. From the beginning of reading, and after one or two attempts, Luther did not try to release magic later, and just kept reading.

"He has other magical auras on his body, as well as Asgard's magic, or the magic of the Warner Protoss..."

The Supreme Mage Ancient One said calmly.

She saw Luther becoming the Supreme Mage in the future, but he later became the Demon God of the Dark Dimension.

That was Luther's plan to find the coordinates of the dark dimension with the help of Karma Taj, and then eat Dormammu.

There is also the future of Luther who steals the Eye of Agamotto after he learns magic.

But most of the future is good.

The reason why Luther did not try to release any magic later was because any magic other than magic light later required a contract to be used. These contracts naturally belonged to a group of dimensional demons such as Emperor Weishan.

What Luther wanted was magic and this method of signing a contract.

He wants to create his own magic system, and of course he uses his own energy.

As for the method of signing the contract, Luther wanted to develop his own mage community.

Dimensional demons rely on this method to get feedback on power, just like their power is water and sunlight, seeds are people who sign contracts with them, and the fruits that grow out at that time are the food they harvest.

Souls are a great tonic for dimensional demons. Although Luther is not a dimensional demon, he can become a dimensional demon, and he can also become stronger simply because of the feedback of power and soul.

Luther soaked in the library. In addition to wanting to learn magic, he also planned to try to find the Dark Book. Even though he knew that the Dark Book was suspected to be in SHIELD, who knew if Kamar-Taj would also have the Dark Book? That thing... Luther didn't like it.

Although it was the work of Sison, Old West only knew how to cheat people. Dormammu always asked Old West to borrow power. As the ancestor of black magic, Old West was too strong, and Luther said he would not consider it.

He just studied and was curious about Old West's attainments.

As for reading all the books in the collection, not to mention that there is a book that can never be finished, Luther does not have the ability to read all the books, because these will be stained with the breath of the dimensional demon.

Now Luther is full of the aura of the dimensional demon god. He has seen too much. Even if he has not used any magic, he understands it.

Chapter 208: Magic Floods

This is the terrifying thing about the Dimensional Demon. Many people think that if they just look at it and it is useless, nothing will happen.

In fact, just seeing, hearing, and thinking about it will be marked by the Dimensional Demon's breath and mark.

The mages of Kamar-Taj dare not stay in the library for too long, for fear that they will be addicted to the sea of power and be eroded by the Dimensional Demon without knowing it.

"He actually has a sense of awe for power?"

Mage Mordo looked at Luther who put down the book with great surprise.

This is a test. If Luther continues to indulge in magic, he will be considered an unsuitable person by Kamar-Taj. Anyway, he is about to leave the earth, and he is not afraid of offending such a strong man.

As a result, Luther put it down himself.

The Supreme Mage Ancient One was not surprised. She had already known how Luther would do most of his future through the Eye of Agamotto.

Now it is just his future.

Although Luther put down the magic, he did not leave the library. It seemed that he was thinking about something.

Five days later, Luther left the library and left Kamar-Taj directly.

The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One didn't care. All the books were put back to their original positions by Luther. With the super brain, they were exactly the same, and Mordo didn't have to sort them out by himself.

However, Mordo and Ancient One didn't notice that there was an extra magic book in the library.

"The Book of Luther"!

This was an attempt by Luther. The Book of Luther recorded how to sign a contract with him and obtain his power to release the magic he created.

Although the mages of Kamar-Taj had the Eye of Agamotto as a witness to the signing of the contract, it was difficult to do anything.

But Luther was just making an attempt. His contract was also very simple. In order to prevent immortal guys from taking advantage of his power for free, Luther stipulated that he had to repay his debts while alive, and he would not accept any form of debt transfer.

After all, the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One is a good example. He absorbed the energy of the dark dimension to maintain his immortality and not age, avoided the debts of Vishanti and Dormammu, and then threw Dormammu's debts to other dimensional demons, so that Dormammu would fight with them when he went to collect the debts.

If you can win, you will lose, and if you can't win, you will lose more!

What did this incident teach Luther? It is to set a good template for the contract and don't let some people have loopholes to exploit!

Therefore, Luther's contract basically has no loopholes. The power exchange of nine out of thirteen returns, if you can't pay it back, you can use your soul to make up for it.

Even if Stephen Strange Doctor Strange has a whole group of wizards to help him bear the cost in the later period, doesn't it also make his body undergo various changes and costs?

For example, an internal organ disease in the body, and it has self-awareness and can talk to him, but it can't be cured.

Anyway, it was very miserable, but it was his own fault. Before leaving, Ancient One left him a magic group to bear the cost. As long as he didn't use magic indiscriminately, there would be no problem. As a result, Stephen had to use magic when walking and shopping, and the magic group couldn't afford so much cost.

That's why he was plagued by diseases.

Because he was cursed.

Luther was still very humane. He just wanted the soul, because energy and material bodies were meaningless to Luther, only the soul was meaningful.

He would rather you didn't return energy, but only gave the soul.

"I can also develop my own sect, after all, this is magic."

Luther looked at the Book of Luther in his hand. This was a magic book created by imitating the Book of Vishanti, which recorded the contract method and magic types.

Luther planned to do a large wholesale, making it like the Black Book of the Dead and the Golden Book of the Sun, which needed to be held to work, because only in this way could the connection be strengthened.

By then, everyone will have a copy of the Book of Luther.

"The Book of Luther seems to be too straightforward. I'm afraid that Ancient One will come after me."

Luther thought for a while, so the title of the book became "The Book of Great Light of Heaven".

The sun, isn't it the Great Light of Heaven?

Although the magic inside is half black and half white, it doesn't matter.

Luther saw a man being chased by gangsters and had nowhere to go, so he used a fireball to burn the opponent to ashes.

"Do you crave power?"

He asked the man.

"What is this?"

The man was so scared that he ran away. Luther shook his head. This was a man without ambition and greed.

So he couldn't cheat him.

Luther went around in New York, America, and gave away three copies of the Book of Great Light of Heaven.

One was given to Kingpin. After all, he was very optimistic about this fat man and he could definitely develop a group of gangsters who used magic.

It's not that you have to hold the magic book to play its effect, but holding it will have bonuses, such as "High-speed Divine Words", "Double Casting", "Magic Critical Hit" and a lot of other bonuses.

The speed of magic recovery is also very fast. Anyway, Luther has given enough magic, so you don't have to worry about the problem of magic recovery if you hold it. Of course, you will die faster.

The magic in the magic book can be used as long as the contract is signed, so a magic book can cultivate a magician organization.

America is most suitable for this kind of atmosphere of chaos.

Luther gave the other two magic books to the ambitious and greedy guys. He originally wanted to see if he could give one to Mrs. Gao. He was very envious of the beasts of the Hand.

But Mrs. Gao was not in America at this time, so Luther had to give up.

By the way, Luther also threw a few magic books to Xiao Baga and Xiao Xiba. There was no shortage of people suitable for magic books in these two places.

After Luther threw the magic books, an incredible mutant appeared in America.

SHIELD was very busy about this, although they were already very busy dealing with lizardmen and werewolves.

But there were too many "mutants" who appeared this time, and their abilities were different.

However, Alexander Pierce looked at the thick book in front of him with a confused face.

"You said, this is a magic book that can make people learn magic, just sign a contract???"

Pierce said in disbelief, magic?

What is that?

Is he still asleep?

"This is true, sir, this is why so many mutants have appeared in New York, America, Baga and Xiba recently!"

Crossbones Rumlow and Bald Glasses said to Pierce excitedly.

Upon hearing this, Pierce opened the magic book doubtfully.

Then he felt a surge of power flowing into his body, asking himself whether he wanted to sign a contract with the great, supreme, omniscient and almighty Great Light Sky. In this way, he could obtain the power of the Great Light Sky!

Chapter 209 Magic Book Wholesale

Pierce seemed to see a blazing sun, and also seemed to see a big world of infinite light, infinite light, and infinite light appearing in front of him.

In front of such vast and immeasurable light, he is so small!

"gentlemen!"

Sitwell woke Pierce.

Pierce was disappointed.

"Just now, what was that?"

Pierce rubbed his temples. As an outstanding double agent, he could still climb to this position. Of course, Pierce is not someone who is easily fooled, but he couldn't resist the vast and overwhelming power that just appeared in his eyes. In front of you.

As long as he signs the contract, can he get that kind of power?

"The owner of this magic book, Da Guang Tomorrow."

Sitwell said, he is a descendant of Asan, and he has no ability to resist this kind of thing about gods and Buddhas. Not to mention, this is different from the one they play. This is the power of real magic!

"Owner?"

Pierce asked.

"Open the magic book, and you can sign a contract with Daguang Tomorrow, and then gain his power and release the magic recorded in the magic book. Using this, we can cultivate a large number of mutants, sir!"

Rumlow said excitedly, anyone who has seen and experienced it will find it difficult to ignore that kind of power.

In fact, if the group of guys who got the book had not chosen to join the lizards and werewolves in robbing banks at the first opportunity, they might not be able to win it when they develop.

"Sign the contract..."

Pierce opened the Book of Great Light Tomorrow and saw that the material of the book seemed to be gold but not gold. The pages looked as soft as gold foil. I couldn't understand each of the fonts, but I could understand the meaning. The words seemed to be carved. Touching and feeling.

"Sir, this is our opportunity for Hydra to rise. I have discovered that there is more than one magic book!"

Sitwell continued.

He is a very capable agent. In the original plot, he independently discovered the whereabouts and consumption records of the couple who modified the Chitauri weapons.

So it's not surprising that something like this was investigated.

"Are there other magic books?"

Pierce was startled, are there so many things?

Or is there a difference like 1234?

"This is something that belongs to our Hydra, we must get it all!"

Pierce then said.

"Yes, sir!"

After Rumlow got the permission, he was gearing up. He had been coveting the superpowers of people like Luther for a long time. Now that he knew he could learn magic, he was even more excited.

"Don't make this matter too big. I don't want Nick Fury to know about it, you know?"

Pierce couldn't put it down and looked through the Book of Great Light Tomorrow, and then said.

"Don't worry, sir, Director Fury doesn't know anything."

Sitwell said.

On Luther's side, an unexpected person came to his door.

"Mr. Luther, we hope to get your help."

Two men and women came to the door. Their clothes looked a bit like those from the special department, but Luther saw through their identities at a glance.

"Skrull?"

Luther raised his eyebrows.

"What Skrull?"

The two men and women were very surprised and said that if they disguised themselves, they would not be discovered.

The result is now visible at a glance?

"Your body structure is different from that of people on Earth. Even if you can make changes at the cellular level, your cells are still different from those of people on Earth."

Luther shook his head and said.

After hearing what Luther said, the two Skrulls no longer concealed themselves, and they changed back to their original appearance.

Luther looked at the two Skrulls with interest.

This is the Skrull. The Skrull in Marvel were one of the three major empires, but they were later destroyed by the Kree Empire.

The Skrulls are best at imitating other races and mimicking their appearance. It is said that they can achieve the level of imitating the real thing. Of course, they cannot mimic it at the cellular level.

There is also a "Super Skrull" among the Skrulls, which can not only imitate the appearance of any person and life, but can even copy abilities!

This kind of super Skrull is the reason why the Skrull Empire is powerful, but there should be restrictions. Otherwise, if a few super Skrulls are randomly sent to copy the sword-fighting superpower of the Shi'ar Empire, even if it is weakened Version, enough for the Skrulls to destroy the Kree Empire.

Although all Captain Marvels in the past were very strong, they were too few in number, and their strength was far inferior to sword fighting.

Unlike the Earth, the Kree Empire has a very high mutation success rate. Their only super soldiers or super soldiers are Captain Marvel and members of the Marvel Team.

If a weakened version of the fighting sword could be replicated, two super Skrulls would be able to destroy the Kree Empire's fleet, don't say too much.

It can't be that Super Skrull is the kind of Super Skrull that is said to only happen once a thousand years, right?

So in the Skrull empire for so many years, there haven't been a few super Skrulls?

"You came to me about the immigration to Mars, right?"

Luther continued without waiting for them to speak.

"Mr. Luther, yes, we want to participate in Mars immigration."

The male Skrull said quickly, not knowing how Luther guessed their intention and purpose, let alone how Luther knew about the existence of their Skrulls.

This is of course a TV show, and it is the most eye-catching TV show. It is brainless to the extreme. Whether it is the Skrull villain or Nick Fury, they all give people a kind of beauty with a missing brain stem.

The Skrulls' Secret Invasion event was filmed in a mess, and I don't know what they were thinking.

However, the Skrulls' purpose is very simple, that is, they want to get a place to live and an identity, so they have worked for Nick Fury for so many years.

Captain Marvel, that is, the big-faced Danvers, promised to help them find a habitable planet in the universe, and Nick Fury also promised to use the power of S.H.I.E.L.D. to help them find a planet.

But the Skrulls are such a useful agent, Nick Fury got addicted to it after using it for a long time, and kept saying that he would find a planet for them, until the new generation of Skrulls couldn't stand it, so there was a Secret Invasion event.

That's why it is said that Nick Fury, a black-skinned boiled egg, is not a good person, and Luther is too lazy to deal with him.

The Skrulls came to him this time because they saw the strength and potential shown by Luther and believed that his plan to migrate to Mars was not just talk, even though they didn't know how Luther would solve the problem of resources and population.

"We can help Mr. Luther and lurk in various countries..."

The female Skrull turned into a beautiful woman, and Luther recognized this woman as Marilyn Monroe.

Chapter 210: Living off old capital will lead to ruin sooner or later

The female Skrull slowly approached Luther. The charming Marilyn Monroe was a supermodel who was popular with thousands of men at that time and was the lover of their dreams.

She became like this just because she wanted to tell Luther that as long as he helped the Skrulls, the Skrulls could make him the happiest man in the world.

Except for the people the Skrulls have never seen and therefore cannot transform into, for example, it is impossible to play the role of the Four Beauties, Cleopatra, and women from the Roman Empire, unless Luther can create a restoration picture come out.

The problem is that even the restored image actually has a lot of distortions.

But now the Skrulls can conjure up all the women in the world.

"I'm not interested in Marilyn Monroe."

Luther made no move, and the female Skrull felt as if she was blocked by an invisible force and unable to move forward.

"Moreover, I am no longer limited to my senses, and my visual experience is different from that of humans. You must at least be meticulous at the cellular level to make it pleasing to my eyes. Otherwise, it is just a defective product."

Luther said.

In this regard, Luther felt that only super soldiers from the super seminary and people with perfect technology and more advanced life forms like gods could satisfy him.

Evolution is not just about getting stronger and having more abilities, it is more detailed, more real, and more comprehensive.

Otherwise it wouldn't be called evolution, it should be called becoming stronger.

The female Skrull and the male Skrull looked at each other, standing awkwardly at a loss.

The most useful place they could think of failed. Isn't the beauty trap always unfavorable?

Now some people actually think they are not polished enough?

Does she have to be meticulously crafted at the cellular level to be a flawless beauty in front of him?

With this level of difficulty, even if the Skrulls were able to perform cell-level changes, they would not be able to do so. After all, this kind of change is similar to how humans can control themselves to perform more precise operations than machines, but it is impossible for them to do the same to themselves. a subtle change.

These are two concepts.

"Didn't you inject Compound No. 1 and Compound No. 2? I think that should allow you to evolve into a Super Skrull."

Luther said.

"Super Skrull?"

The two Skrulls were surprised. Do they even know such a secret?

They didn't tell Nick Fury or Captain Marvel about the Super Skrulls. Captain Marvel may know, but she doesn't care, and she doesn't think how strong the Super Skrulls are. In that case, they won't be destroyed by the Kree Empire.

"We didn't inject it. We think it was biochemical technology targeting human genes. Why do you know about the Super Skrulls?"

The Skrull asked quickly.

"How strange that SHIELD can get a Kree corpse. Why can't I know about the Super Skrull?"

Luther said with a smile.

"This is impossible!...You weren't born yet at that time, right?"

The male Skrull was excited for a moment, then calmed down and said.

"This kind of thing doesn't need to be known by the person involved. The reason why the secret becomes a secret is that no one else will know until the person involved is dead."

Luther shook his head.

The Skrulls realized that there were many people involved.

"Compound No. 1 and Compound No. 2 are both evolutionary modifications based on biological cells. There are no genetic restrictions. Theoretically, animals can also be injected to evolve intelligence. I saw that there is already a tiger in Saudi Arabia. He killed his master and bodyguard and then escaped."

Luther continued.

That tiger was injected with Compound No. 1 by its owner, and then it evolved wisdom. As a captive tiger, it was already tamed, but it couldn't help it and evolved wisdom...

But in fact, there is no such thing as Rise of the Planet of the Apes.

Although the tiger had become smarter and its weight was different from its own kind, in the final analysis it was still flesh and blood, and the person it killed was still a Saudi man with a piece of cloth on his head, so he was quickly captured and made into a Got roasted whole tiger.

The Skrulls really don't know such a thing. If that's the case, why do they tell them that they are aliens and Luther is from Earth, right?

Although people on earth have weird things like ball rape and human rape against aliens, Luther can't be the leader. What's more, he doesn't know about the situation of the Skrulls. Even the Super Skrulls know about it. Well, then they must have known that the Skrulls were just a group of refugees.

A group of refugees, will you be the leader?

"It's useless for you to ask me about immigrating to Mars. I don't intend to allow other races to come under my rule."

Luther said calmly.

The Skrulls begged, but Luther would not agree.

Those who are not from my race must have different minds. Luther can't let them have the possibility of causing trouble. He has to be wary of them. What's the point?

So the two Skrulls could only leave disappointed.

But they didn't know that their cells and genes had been obtained by Luther.

Anyone who has watched mutants knows that after Mystique's genes were acquired by humans, they created sentinel robots with the ability to transform.

Using the change of copying other people's genes to gain other people's abilities that Mystique herself was unable to develop, each Sentinel robot can use various abilities and transform genes.

He thought that the so-called Super Skrulls might be similar to the Sentinel robots, which had achieved this kind of gene-level imitation.

Of course, the Sentinel robots also needed the mutant X gene samples to change.

Luther had no idea. The Skrulls had proven to be a failed race. They relied too much on their ability to transform, disguise and infiltrate. As a result, after so many years of development, they were overthrown by the Kree Empire they had developed.

This was the disadvantage of living off the old capital, without any idea or hope of moving forward.

If Luther had also lived off the old capital, and given up studying himself after crossing over to become a Kryptonian, and only thought about getting stronger by basking in the sun, then he would have been trapped by his own limits, not as strong as he is now, and could only become stronger slowly, maybe only one percent or even slower in a year.
