Chapter 311 Studying Diana

Diana listened to the name of God Luther said with a confused look on her face. What the hell is this?

She could understand the first part, but the latter part was about destruction, devastation, and power. It didn't sound like a good God.

"What is your purpose in coming to Paradise Island?"

Diana asked seriously.

"No purpose."

Luther was not surprised that Diana's attitude towards him was completely different from that towards Steve. One was an ordinary person who could be controlled, and the other was a god. It was strange that Diana had the same attitude.

He was not interested in developing any relationship with Diana. It was well known that women and female superheroes in American comics were all unruly. It was not strange that they would fight with you today and others tomorrow.

He had a group of angels and the kind, gentle, sensible and lovely Qilin. There was no need to find grassland for his head.

"Then please leave here."

Diana said to Luther.

"Okay."

Luther did not have the inviolable majesty of God and King at all. He left as he pleased, but he did not leave completely. He just didn't want to start a meaningless battle and study Diana, a god.

If it is a comic setting, then Diana's birth is from the God Wave. If it is a movie setting...

It is still worth studying.

After all, it is too early now. World War I, Batman and others have not been born yet, and even Supergirl has not come to Earth yet.

The good things in DC that Luther can think of are things like Speed Force and Mother Box, but they are not easy to get.

"But I am the God of Power. As long as I come into contact with that power, I can get and control that power."

Luther certainly wants Speed Force. Although his own super speed is also very fast, it is not as attractive as Speed Force.

That is the power to rage against the rules of physics and reverse the universe.

After Diana found that Luther disappeared out of thin air, she did not relax her vigilance. She searched around and did not find Luther. However, Luther still left a deep impression on Diana.

Not only because he was the first man and the first god Diana saw, but also because of the influence of Luther's divine charm that he himself had forgotten.

In the universe of the Super Seminary, divine charm is only the effect of super genes. For example, the super gene of sunlight will give those super soldiers who need light energy a feeling of sunshine and warmth. This is divine charm.

After coming to the DC universe, this divine charm was endowed with mysterious power and concept because of Luther's identity as an outer god.

In other words, he now has the identity of the god of charm.

It is insignificant, but it can seduce a lot of women and men to fall for it.

At first, Diana was alert and vigilant. Now that Luther left, Diana's psychological defense line was relaxed, and the effect of this divine charm began to subtly affect Diana.

It can be roughly understood as similar to the charm mole of the brush, but the effect is stronger.

Diana's mother Hippolyta appeared, and Diana didn't know why, but she didn't tell Luther.

Hippolyta didn't care.

In the following days, Luther studied Diana while admiring Diana's frequent dreams at midnight.

That night, Diana woke up again. She held her forehead in confusion. She dreamed of the god who called himself Luther again.

Not knowing why this happened, Diana suspected that she might have been cursed to cause such a situation.

But she was fine.

Luther mastered the situation of Diana, a god, by studying Diana.

"There are references, but not many."

Luther was a little disappointed, wondering if he had to go to find Darkseid?

Those who were knocked down by Da were all clones and projections, and they might not be able to study anything.

But it can be listed as a reference option.

Then, Luther heard the roar of the propellers crushing the air.

"The plot has begun."

Luther saw a German plane that had lost control and crashed into the sea.

Paradise Island has no barrier protection. It is just a special weather cover. You only need to pass through the storm to see Paradise Island.

The problem is that people on the sea will avoid the storm instead of going to the location of the storm after seeing it, which is to seek death.

The German army in the original plot made such an incredible operation.

Diana saw someone fall into the sea and didn't show up, so she jumped into the sea to save him.

Steve Trevor was rescued, and Luther saw a group of German soldiers following in.

Then the Amazons and the Germans clashed, and it seemed that there was no change because of Luther's appearance.

After all, Luther's behavior of not wanting to get involved made the plot not change.

However, seeing that Antiope was going to block the bullet for Diana like in the original plot, Luther still took action.

"Bang!"

Diana could see the trajectory of the bullet clearly, but Antiope didn't know. She only knew that the arrows used by these foreign humans had killed many Amazons.

Although the Amazons' physical fitness far exceeded that of humans, and they could even float and descend quickly from a high altitude on a rope, the human body could not bear that kind of pulling force. However, facing bullets, they could only suffer regret even if their physical fitness was comparable to that of lions and tigers.

Not to mention that this was a full-power bullet from the First World War.

Diana couldn't afford to lose, so she rushed out before the other party fired, and Diana just saw this scene.

"No!"

Just when Diana was about to collapse, a figure blocked the bullet. When the bullet was one meter away from the figure's clothes, it seemed to hit something unshakable and burst directly.

Luther!

Diana stared at Luther who suddenly appeared with wide eyes.

Then Luther smiled slightly, his eyes lit up red, and the whistling hot sight cut all the remaining German soldiers in half or vaporized their heads.

This scene scared Steve, an ordinary person, and also stunned Diana and the Amazon warriors.

They had never seen such a situation.

"Who are you?"

Queen Hippolyta looked at Luther and asked.

"Mother, he is Luther."

Diana is now grateful to Luther. If Luther hadn't taken action, her master and more Amazons would have died.

"Do you know him, Diana?"

Queen Hippolyta looked at Diana with some surprise. She had never been to Paradise Island, so how could she know Luther?

Moreover, the appearance of two men on Paradise Island made Queen Hippolyta feel very bad.

It's not that there were no men in the past, otherwise Diana wouldn't have a friend who wrote more than a dozen books about the pleasures between men and women.

Chapter 312 I was also studied

Amazons also have that need.

So men are often captured for breeding. As for what happens to the men after breeding, some are released and some are killed.

This is also the case with the male babies born.

Of the two men who appeared now, Steve Trevor is obviously an ordinary person, but Luther doesn't look like an ordinary person at all.

Hippolyta is not unaware that humans in the outside world also have their own special features, but Batman has not yet been born, Clark has not yet come to Earth, and superheroes are not very active.

It is estimated that only the Sword in the Stone is a little famous, but the problem is that everyone knows about the Sword in the Stone.

Diana didn't know how to answer her mother's question for a while. It seems that she and Luther don't know each other?

"I don't know her well. I only met her once and talked a few words."

Luther took the initiative to say.

"No matter what, Paradise Island doesn't welcome you."

Hippolyta said to Luther.

"Mother, Luther saved Antiope and our warriors!"

Diana refuted her mother excitedly.

She felt that her mother was really ungrateful.

"Diana, his identity is unknown!"

Hippolyta reprimanded her daughter in a very unkind way, but it was understandable. After all, she was the queen and was responsible for Paradise Island and the entire Amazon people. So Hippolyta naturally didn't want someone like Luther, who had an unknown origin, an unknown identity and strong strength, to stay on the island.

Not to mention, although Luther was handsome, he was full of exotic style. In short, he was not in the same style as them.

Although Steve was not in the same style, he was an ordinary person.

"Queen, I think..."

Antiope was about to say something when he was interrupted by Hippolyta.

"I hope you can leave Paradise Island, this outsider."

Hippolyta said to Luther.

"You are not qualified and have no ability to decide whether I stay or go."

Luther said with a smile on his face. Why should he wrong himself if he had the power?

How dare a group of guys who were only slightly better than mortals order themselves?

Hippolyta frowned, and the Amazon warriors didn't know whether to aim their bows and arrows at Luther, who helped and saved them.

"Enough! Mother, I'll take care of this!"

Diana quickly stepped forward to stop the conflict.

"Calm down, ladies."

Steve also said quickly, he didn't want to provoke Luther, and he didn't know what happened now.

Hippolyta looked at Diana.

"I hope you know what you are doing now."

Hippolyta realized that Diana had her own thoughts and ideas, and was no longer the obedient child she used to be.

"I know, I know it too!"

Diana said.

Hippolyta looked at Diana disappointedly, but she didn't continue to argue with Diana, but took people away, and of course, took Steve away.

Luther looked difficult to mess with, and because of the grace of saving his life, Hippolyta had no choice, but Steve didn't have such treatment.

Diana looked at Luther, and when she saw Luther again, Diana's mood was completely different from the last time.

Last time, Diana was wary and alert to Luther.

This time, Diana was surprised and happy. She was surprised by the strength and strangeness of Luther. What was the ability to kill people with his eyes shining?

She was happy that Luther saved his master Antiope.

"Thank you for saving Antiope. She is very important to me."

Diana's hands were a little at a loss, and she said to Luther.

"It just happened."

Luther was actually indifferent, and it was possible that he would not save people.

Diana laughed, she thought Luther was a kind of soft heart.

"Why can your eyes shine?"

Diana asked curiously, she was a little like I was very curious, especially when she went to the outside world.

"True heroes should kill enemies with their eyes!"

Luther said immediately.

Diana was confused, what did it mean?

"But other people don't have such ability, so are they not heroes?"

Diana retorted.

"So they are just heroes, and I am a real hero."

Luther said confidently.

Diana was speechless. She could see that Luther was the kind of arrogant guy.

But she didn't hate him.

"Didn't you leave Paradise Island?"

Then Diana asked again.

"You have no right to decide whether I stay or go. I just don't want to be bothered."

Luther continued.

Diana laughed.

"But Paradise Island is the territory of us Amazons."

Diana said.

"I go wherever I want, no matter where it is, whether it is heaven or Mount Olympus."

Luther said, although he might run away directly after going to heaven, after all, heaven is a much more dangerous place than the dragon's den and tiger's lair in the DC universe, no less than running into the dimension of a dimensional demon in the Marvel universe.

But going to Mount Olympus is nothing, at most he can run away if he can't beat him.

"Sooner or later, you will be taught a lesson."

Diana said unhappily, Luther's character is too much to be beaten.

With Luther, a more interesting and powerful man, Diana didn't pay much attention to the little man she rescued.

Hippolyta used the Lasso of Truth to reveal the other party's identity as an undercover spy, and Hippolyta had no intention of letting him go.

Without Diana's help, the Amazon warriors didn't dare to help Steve escape.

Then the area where Luther was located was forbidden to be approached by Hippolyta, which was considered to be a tacit acceptance of Luther's existence.

Such a ban naturally did not exist for Diana, and since she didn't know about the war outside from Steve, Diana didn't take the initiative to think about killing Ares to end the war.

Instead, she was full of interest and curiosity about Luther, and kept asking about Luther.

For example, what kind of god clan Luther belonged to.

Luther then told her that he was from his own god clan, the Luther God Clan.

Then what Luther didn't expect was that after he said this, he felt a great will coming.

The concept of "Luther God Clan" was recognized by the great will.

After Luther obtained the concept given by the Great Will, he suddenly realized that he might have been discovered by the Supreme God as soon as he entered the DC Universe, and now everything has been "observed" by the Supreme God.

After all, his crossing is just a superpower, not a great power like a system.

Luther could not hide the thoughts of the Supreme God. Maybe the observers have come here but he knows nothing about it.

Chapter 313 The birth of the Lutheran race!

"Dear me, the concept of the Lutheran Clan was born like this. Are you kidding me?"

Luther couldn't help but complain.

The concept of the Lutheran Clan came out just because of Luther's words, and I don't know if it's a good thing or a bad thing.

He became the God-King of the Lutheran Clan, limited to the Lutheran Clan in the DC Universe.

Then, as long as he develops the Lutheran Clan, he will be able to obtain the entire divine power of the Lutheran Clan!

In other words, the more Lutherans there are and the stronger they are, the stronger they will be. Even the Lutherans will certainly not all have the same ability, so theoretically speaking, they can reach the point of being almost omniscient and omnipotent, because all the Lutherans have the same ability. All power is under Luther's control.

If Luther is willing, he can also directly transform the Kryptonians into the Luther Protoss.

Regarding such a concept and divine right, Luther didn't know for a moment whether it was poisonous candy or a well-intentioned gift.

"What the hell, no matter what it is, I can't resist it."

Luther quickly relaxed.

Worrying blindly, the gap was so huge, when he thought about it, the Supreme God probably laughed.

"The Lutheran Clan, you are so powerful, you developed a Clan of Gods in your own name?"

Diana exclaimed. She was new to the world and had never thought about the possibility of Luther deceiving her. Anyway, if Luther deceived her, Diana would use the Lasso of Truth to make Luther tell the truth when communicating with her. .

Luther is thinking about whether his Lutheran God Clan is the new God Clan or the old God Clan.

The Supreme God... No, the words spoken by the Great Will are too vague, as if he can do whatever he wants.

"Yes, you can do it too. Create a Diana Protoss yourself."

Luther said.

"I can't do it, I'm not God."

Diana shook her head.

She found Luther's words incomprehensible, but it was rare to see a god who was so easy to talk to. Diana pestered Luther every day.

Luther actually saw what Diana was thinking.

After all, his super brain is not just a decoration, let alone the ability to telepathize.

Diana wanted to know the whereabouts of Ares, the God of War, through him. She felt that these were God's words. Even if he was not a member of the Gods, he should know where Ares was?

Of course, there was a special feeling in it that Diana herself was not aware of.

Under such circumstances, Steve could not stay on Paradise Island peacefully, so he found an opportunity to escape during the night.

Luther did not help him, nor did he develop Steve's idea of becoming a Lutheran.

If the Luther Clan wants to transform, the first one is Luther's own descendants. Descendants in the DC universe or other universes will automatically become a member of the Luther Clan when they come here. The more powerful he is, the stronger his descendants will be after they are born. powerful.

The second one is the Lutheran Clan given by Luther. Theoretically, Lucifer, who runs a bar, can be transformed into the Lutheran Clan if he wants.

But considering the favor of the Supreme God towards Lucifer, maybe Luther will be beaten to death.

However, Luther does not rule out that his peers have been born in other DC parallel universes. Anyway, he has been thoroughly studied, and it is not difficult to copy his peers.

Steve's escape caused no movement. The Amazon female warrior had no intention of doing anything to him, she was just worried that he would come back with a group of people after he ran away.

But now, Hippolyta's daughter is obsessed with a male god and pestering him every day, which makes Hippolyta uninterested in caring about such a small character as Steve.

"Diana."

On this day, Diana was just about to go to Luther when she saw her mother Hippolyta appearing in front of her.

"Mother."

Diana stopped quickly.

"Are you going to find that god again?"

Hippolyta asked with a sigh.

"I....."

Diana didn't know what to say, she really wanted to go to Luther.

"Don't come near him, Diana. Gods are dangerous and greedy."

Hippolyta said to Diana, especially the group of gods from Greek mythology.

She was worried that her daughter would become the target of the other party's teasing, and that would not end well.

"No, mother, Luther is not a bad god, he is just a little arrogant."

Diana shook her head.

"Besides, gods are not all bad, just like Zeus."

Hippolyta didn't know how to answer Diana's words. Who asked her to tell those stories to Diana when she was a child? Those stories all glorified Zeus.

"Those are just fairy tales, Diana."

Hippolyta said.

"But we are real, right, Mother?"

Diana blocked all Hippolyta's objections with one powerful word.

Hippolyta didn't know what to say.

Diana finally went to Luther.

Luther looked at the scenery outside Paradise Island.

"Diana, I'm leaving."

Luther said suddenly.

"Ah, why do you want to leave? Paradise Island is so beautiful."

Diana asked immediately, realizing that Luther did not belong here and that he would leave.

She couldn't imagine what it would be like to live without Luther.

Once a woman gets used to a man, it is very fatal, especially since Luther is a God with many tricks and full of mystery.

Strong strength means high recognition for Amazon people, not to mention that he is a unique god.

With so many buffs stacked up, it is only a matter of time before Diana falls.

"I will not stay for any place."

Luther left a very handsome sentence and disappeared.

"Luther? Luther!"

Diana did not expect Luther to leave as soon as he said he would, but she had not thought of the words to say goodbye, nor did she expect Luther to appear and disappear as he did when he appeared.

She thought Luther would say he left like last time, but he did not leave, so she searched the entire Paradise Island later, trying to find Luther.

But at this time, Luther had already reached the outside world.

"The next goal is to take Clark away and become a Lutheran god."

Luther knew that Clark had unlimited potential. If he became a Lutheran god, he could upgrade by sitting in the future.

Anyway, Broly has become his younger brother, so he doesn't care about having another Clark.

Maybe the two younger brothers can meet, which will be very interesting.

"It's World War I now, and I don't know if Gotham City has been built yet."

Gotham City is a fictional city after all, and its prototype is New York, so it's hard to say if it has been built yet.

The most common thing in DC is various fictional cities, which makes America's area much larger.

Chapter 314 The plan to bully the stinky bats must start from a young age

Gotham City is located in New Jersey on the east coast of America, not far from the metropolis where Superman lives. The word "Gotham" means "Fool's Village" in English, and it is also one of the nicknames of New York City.

Like many other cities in the DC Universe, Gotham's geography continued to change over the first few decades due to changes in writers, editors, and storylines, although the main locations were mostly in New Jersey.

The history of the four major families, including the Wayne family, can be said to be as old as this city. Gotham City was originally founded by these four families. Today, the four major families' industries are spread throughout the city and control all areas of the city. .

Luther came to New Jersey.

Then he discovered Gotham City.

The birth time of Gotham City in the movie universe is also unknown, and it is also unknown when the four major families were established.

Luther had no special purpose for coming here, he just placed the Imperial Dimension below Gotham City.

"Although Gotham City is not as evil as New York, and the number of people who die in one day is not as many as New York in ten hours, the evil in Gotham City is still worth eating."

Luther will not expand the empire dimension to the entire America, mainly because there are too many gods and monsters in the DC universe, although Lucifer has not yet opened a bar.

But the devils and devils in the DC universe can come to the world as easily as eating and drinking. After all, the Marvel universe still has the Supreme Mage Ancient One and her incompetent Karma

Taj. There are so many devils and demons in the DC universe that they can form The famous monster spawning type.

Anyway, you can only expel them, and rush them back once and then do it again.

On average, hundreds of cases of demonic possession occur every day.

In this case, Gotham, which has at least a little element of the ancient gods, appears to be very friendly, evil enough, and without too many gods and ghosts.

Shark Man and Killer Croc are both guys with the blood of ancient gods, and they are considered the most supernatural types in Gotham City.

And their strength... Luther said that tens of thousands of them would be beaten to death just by blowing a breath.

Old Wayne, like the rest of the four major families, was a member of the Mafia family. He was killed later because he wanted to clear his name and give up the mafia business.

It's ridiculous to think about it. The emperor of the underworld in Gotham City, both black and white, take all, and even the entire Gotham City is his own overlord, and he will die at the gun of the gangsters who robbed him.

When Luther first arrived, he established a Luther family for himself in a very low-key manner, and then very low-key in grabbing Gotham City's arms and pharmaceutical business, the two most profitable markets.

After all, he didn't do this in the Marvel Universe. Medicine and the military have become a system, and it's not easy to get involved.

This world is different. In order to say to the smelly bat in the future, "Don't use your property to challenge my pocket money," Luther quietly developed several military generals and a family destined to become America. Pharmaceutical giants.

Anyway, as long as it can be included in the medical insurance system, the money will come by itself.

Painkillers, vitamins, anti-inflammatories, antibiotics, etc. are all covered.

The four major families did not have a very good attitude towards the Luther family, a dragon crossing the river, but the Luther family was too powerful. On the first day they entered the city, ten tanks cleared the way and a thousand fully armed soldiers escorted them all the way. A low-key, worthless black car arrived.

Then a handsome young man got out of the car, whose painting style was obviously different from that of the gangsters like them. How handsome exactly was he? It was like a work of art created by the gods with the theme of "beauty".

Then the young man politely visited the four major families. The next day, three of the four major families died of a heart attack.

The arms trade and pharmaceutical business were easily controlled by the Luther family because they lost the person who carried the tripod... and because the remaining people did not dare to provoke the Luther family.

Luther is also very innocent. They have a heart attack or something, which has nothing to do with him.

He didn't do anything.

"In this place, you can still see Clark coming."

Luther is content with his new home in Gotham City, Luther Manor, a place larger than the future Wayne Manor.

Since the little bat must be suppressed in every aspect, of course Luther must spare no effort.

He has already planned that when the little bat is born, he will appear as a newborn and then bully the stinky bat.

As for whether this will produce the Laughing Bat, it is probably impossible. That thing requires the crucial clown's chaos to be born, and even if it is born, Luther doesn't care.

Under this situation, Luther took the initiative to show goodwill to Old Wayne. Old Wayne's attitude towards Luther was neither good nor bad. However, since Luther showed goodwill first, Old Wayne would naturally not refuse.

By the way, Luther also saw Batman Future's father, Thomas Wayne.

The two are of the same age...at least that's how it looks on the outside.

Thomas is very interested in Luther. On the one hand, Luther came to Gotham City to work alone and established "Luther Enterprises".

On the other hand, Thomas lacked peers with whom he could communicate. Although Wayne Sr. was a gangster, he rarely let his son be exposed to this aspect of things. This was also the reason why Thomas later became a field doctor.

He was the previous president of Wayne Enterprises before Bruce.

During his tenure, he provided a large amount of assistance to many poor people in Gotham, but he was unable to do anything to cure the corruption that was rooted in the city's bones.

Although he is a son of a wealthy family, Thomas prefers to be a doctor rather than a president. He has also been in the battlefield as a field doctor.

Luther speculated that Thomas probably had no contact with his father's underworld affairs, otherwise he would not have been a field doctor.

With Luther's purposeful contact, Thomas felt that he and Luther had become good friends who could talk about anything.

Old Wayne remained indifferent and watched. Luther seemed a little dangerous to him, but since Luther already had Luther Enterprise and business in Gotham City, it meant that he wanted to do business well.

And he stopped after occupying the arms and medical business, which meant that he did not have the idea of taking everything.

Even so, Luther is now "half of the city", and half of Gotham City belongs to him. Although it is a bit exaggerated, it is actually not much different. Anyway, it is no more than the future stinky bat.

So Old Wayne thought about it and felt that Luther should have no reason to attack Thomas. If Thomas could learn something from Luther, it would be a good thing.

Chapter 315 Digesting Ares, the God of War

Of course, in addition to the development in Gotham City, Luther is also paying attention to the situation of the First World War.

Especially the God of War Ares mixed in.

He is Wonder Woman's number one enemy, born to Zeus, the king of gods, and Hera, the queen of heaven. He is the god of war in Greek mythology, one of the twelve gods of Olympus, and Wonder Woman's half-brother.

He often transforms into a mortal and provokes wars in the world, because the disputes in the human world are the source of his power. The more wars, the stronger Ares' power.

Among the gods of Olympus, the god of war Ares is the most hated. He is described as "a bloodthirsty murderer and a conqueror of defended castles."

Hera just touched a flower on the grassland of Olenos, and gave birth to Ares.

He is a symbol of strength and power, bloodthirsty, bloody, and the embodiment of human disasters.

Ares is immortal, his armor is indestructible, he also has superhuman speed and endurance, as well as great strength, and he is also an excellent strategist.

Ares in the movie universe, the highlight moment is when the gods fought against Apokolips, he slashed Darkseid and forced Darkseid to kneel.

Although Da Zong was only a baby at this time, it was enough to see the special nature of Ares's divine power.

Luther planned to study Ares and then transform the Lutheran Protoss.

The third way to create the Lutheran Protoss is the Lutheran Protoss bred in the Empire Dimension.

Just like Luther turned Qilin into a Lutheran Protoss, combining the power of the Marvel Dimension and the concept and divine power of the old DC Protoss, it is the most powerful Lutheran Protoss.

This kind of Lutheran Protoss can be regarded as the innate gods and creatures born and raised, and naturally very powerful.

In the movie universe, Ares, as the god of war, is portrayed as the unfaithful son of Zeus and the half-brother of Wonder Woman Diana.

After Ares poisoned humans and killed the gods, Zeus fought Ares with all his might, then left the "God Killer" sword in the Amazon that could kill Ares.

Trapped on Earth, Ares spent centuries planning wars and conserving his power.

During World War I, he disguised himself as "Sir Patrick Morgan," a spokesman for the Imperial War Cabinet, manipulating both sides into conflict.

After revealing himself to Diana, Ares destroyed the sword and told her that Diana was the real "God Killer," and tried to convince Diana that humans were not worthy of her protection and should be destroyed to restore Earth to paradise.

Concluding that love is the only way to prevent conflict, Diana used her power as Zeus' last child to destroy Ares.

Anyway, when Luther watched it, he felt very confused, inexplicably sentimental, and inexplicably killed the villain.

I feel that the whole film is too tight, and the gas that Dr. Toxic developed to strengthen the villain has no introduction, and was killed by Diana in a few seconds.

The pace was so slow that it made people yawn, but it suddenly accelerated in the latter part, and a lot of content was crammed into just one-third of the time.

However, after becoming a reality, there was probably no problem in this regard.

Knowing Ares' disguised identity, Luther easily came to Great Britain and became a lord in a low-key manner.

Summoning Sir Patrick Morgan as a lord, Ares was very depressed why a lord summoned him, but he had no way to refuse and could only go to the appointment.

Then he was knocked down when he entered the door.

Luther looked at Ares in amazement.

In the comics, Ares can even fight with Superman, although many villains and superheroes have done this.

"So that's it, this is the power of war, power..."

In Luther's eyes, Ares has no secrets at all, and he is not the flesh and blood in front of him, but has become a kind of world rule rune structure. In other words, the reality of the world is exposed in front of Luther.

Then Luther threw Ares into his own imperial dimension.

The Empire Dimension digested Ares.

Luther was actually curious whether there would be angels to stop him, or any other accidents, but everything was calm.

"Don't you care if a life in a parallel universe is absorbed by me?"

Strictly speaking, Luther's behavior was stealing the source of power of the DC universe, or something called the origin of the universe.

Although it is definitely insignificant, the total amount has decreased, especially after Luther left.

In a big way, this is Nidhogg gnawing at the roots of the world tree, digging the foundation of the world.

In a small way, even if Luther swallowed the entire universe, it would not have much impact, at least it is really insignificant.

Who cares, since he won't stop it, then I'll start.

Luther created the God of War of the Luther Protoss.

The Empire Dimension has completed the digestion and analysis of Ares, and Luther has also mastered the power of Ares, which makes the created God of War of the Luther Protoss also have the power of Ares and the power of the Empire Dimension.

Like Luther, he has a typical oriental face, handsome appearance, tall stature, and a very Hong Kong comic book macho style.

After all, Luther always thinks that a man should look like that to be called heroic and extraordinary, a real man.

His Luther God Clan does not allow sissy men to exist.

"Apophis Luther!"

The Luther God Clan looked at Luther and suddenly said his name.

"Father God!"

Then he said to Luther respectfully.

The Luther Protoss, who are born with knowledge, have Luther's selective inheritance memory, so there is no need to let him grow up slowly like a baby. That is an inefficient way for mortals to grow, because they need to mature slowly.

"Apophis? That's the name."

Luther couldn't help but complain, the magic sword Apophis, right?

But Luther basically has a plan for the candidates of the Luther Protoss.

If I can go to the Devil May Cry world in the future, I will turn Nero into a Luther Protoss, and go to the Final Fantasy world to turn Sephiroth into a Luther Protoss.

Learn from Whitebeard, you are all my children.

Luther explained to Apophis that he didn't plan to let him out, lest Apophis become part of the DC universe after he went out.

Although he also knew that the Empire Dimension could not stop those beings.

On the other side.

On Paradise Island, Diana still missed Luther on the 100th day after he left.

Missing and remembering can beautify a person. To Diana, Luther is just like a fairy descending to earth and now returning to heaven.

In addition, the Amazon warriors have been asking her about Luther's information these days.

Chapter 316 Plot

In fact, if there had not been inquiries from these curious Amazon female warriors, Diana might have been able to suppress her longing.

But as she told the story of Luther to her sisters and companions, this memory invisibly deepened the traces and impressions.

If she had never seen the light, then Diana would naturally be able to endure the silence and nothingness of darkness.

Hippolyta could also see that her daughter was not in her right mind, something was wrong all day long, and she spent more and more time in a daze.

As someone who had been there, Hippolyta knew very well that Diana had been trapped, especially after she knew that Luther had left directly, she realized that something was wrong.

If Luther stayed here all the time, Diana would probably disappear from everyone soon after getting familiar with him. The only thing that attracted Diana to him was that it was mysterious and unknown.

As long as Diana's curiosity is satisfied, he will lose attraction, so she did not refuse Diana's continued contact with Luther and chose to acquiesce.

But now, Luther left so quickly and cleanly, which caught Hippolyta off guard.

When Diana was attracted, aroused curiosity, and suddenly left when her curiosity was the strongest, Hippolyta didn't believe that Luther didn't mean it, and this trick proved that Luther was absolutely nothing. Serious spirit.

The herd of animals on Mount Olympus was chaotic enough, and Hippolyta didn't want her daughter to be involved in such a situation.

Luther had no intention of playing hard to get, and Diana was not his cup of tea.

Hippolyta's thoughts can only be said to be that of a villain judging a gentleman's heart.

Diana secretly planned to leave Paradise Island the next day.

She learned from the other sisters that Steve, that is, the inconspicuous ordinary man, was a handsome man in the original plot, but was turned into a scumbag by Luther in an instant, so he became an inconspicuous ordinary man.

Steve has been begging the Amazons who guarded and imprisoned him, and they learned Steve's true situation and purpose through the Lasso of Truth.

Diana felt that there must be the shadow of Ares, the God of War, behind this, so she planned to go out to find Ares, the God of War, and then kill him!

On the other hand, he was looking for Luther. When he was looking for Ares, the God of War, he was also looking for Luther.

She stole a ship, but none of this escaped Hippolyta's attention. Antiope persuaded Hippolyta that Diana had grown up and she had her own ideas. This was also the case for Diana. own destiny.

The fate of the Godslayer!

Hippolyta did not want Diana to bear such a fate.

When Diana took away the so-called God-Killer Sword and Shield, Hippolyta intercepted Diana and planned to have a good talk with her.

But Diana already had her own ideas. She had been brainwashed by Hippolyta's "fairy tales" since she was a child, and she simply believed that killing Ares, the god of war, would end all wars in the world.

Hippolyta couldn't object, because she taught Diana this way when she was a child, so that now Diana is logical and stubborn, and she realizes that she can't convince Diana.

And she is not a strong and persuasive person.

He was rather hesitant. He didn't want Diana's destiny of being a god-killer to come true, but he told her such fairy tales to prevent her from receiving training. In the end, she was convinced in a few words.

So naturally there was nothing to stop Diana from leaving.

Diana had no idea of the direction and was focused on driving the ship to reach the battlefield.

Then she got lost.

The original plot didn't even prepare food and fresh water. If they hadn't been lucky enough to meet someone willing to drag them along, they didn't know how long it would have taken them to arrive in London.

Now Diana was in a dilemma without food and fresh water. Fortunately, as a god, she had a special constitution. She would not die even if she drank sea water. At most, it would be difficult to quench her thirst, and the more she drank, the thirstier she became.

Food is the fish of the sea and the birds of the sky.

After Diana Crusoe began, Luther on the other side was not idle either.

Considering that it would still be at least decades before the plot of the DC Universe begins, Luther went to the Marvel Universe.

The plot of the Marvel Universe has changed a bit. After all, Luther was responsible for making Hydra take the blame and Imperial Industries landing on Mars and Venus.

These things are very influential for the entire earth, so the plot changes are not minor.

The main changes are Tony Stark and Hydra.

The Illuminati formed by Tony Stark and Bruce Banner has solved many crises, and the iron suit is no longer deflated.

The crises in the original plot are just minor troubles for Tony's Iron Suit now.

What surprised Luther was that Tony built a battle fortress.

After Imperial Industries left Earth, Tony's eyes were also drawn to outer space. He became aware of the threats from outer space, and then he built this space fortress.

Luther was surprised. With this space fortress here, if the Chitauri invaded, the situation would definitely be very bad.

In other words, with the weapons of this space fortress, it would be extremely difficult for the Chitauri to invade.

Now Tony has seen the power of the alien Thor in advance, but he has a phobia of insufficient firepower.

Therefore, the firepower and weapons of this battle fortress created by him and Bruce Banner are very terrifying.

Of course, there are also shortcomings and flaws. After all, the imaginary enemy is an alien, so they are all armed for the space environment, and a small number of them are armed for the ground.

"The time is just right, Loki should be coming to Earth soon."

Luther checked the time, but the Space Stone was in his hand, and Loki couldn't use it even if he wanted to.

But it doesn't matter, Luther's strength is no longer what it used to be, and his control over the Reality Stone is stronger than before, and he can completely fake it.

Even the outer shell of the Cosmic Cube can be easily reproduced by Luther.

Then Luther threw the Cosmic Cube into a Hydra base.

With Loki's character, he will definitely have to control people to complete his plan after he comes out. Hydra's talents happen to be everywhere, and SHIELD has been having a headache about the disappearance of the Cosmic Cube. If Nick Fury discovers the energy frequency and frequency of the Cosmic Cube, If you use gamma radiation, you might be able to find Hydra's base before Loki comes.

More importantly, this base is actually one of SHIELD's bases on the surface, but Nick Fury doesn't know that it has secretly become a base for Hydra to train talents.

Chapter 317: Ghosts Appear

SHIELD, or SHIELD, has always been concerned about the missing Cosmic Cube.

Not to mention Nick Fury, who has always been very concerned about the disappearance of the Cosmic Cube.

In the original plot, Nick Fury might have realized that it was possible that Hydra had revived, but the Hydra in this world has jumped so many times, so Nick Fury no longer needs to think about the possibility of Hydra's resurrection, he only needs to think about how to destroy Hydra.

The possibility of Tony Stark losing control, even Bruce Banner, because of Tony's protection, made SHIELD unable to intervene.

Nick Fury didn't have much hope of finding the missing Cosmic Cube, but he still established a department to find the Cosmic Cube, which was in charge of Coulson.

Poor Coulson had to track down Hydra and deal with the troubles caused by the lizard serum and the werewolf serum, while he had to be responsible for finding the Cosmic Cube.

Although these two things are the same thing, they were all done by Hydra.

But this kind of procedural thing, everyone knows it.

However, the gamma radiation from this Cosmic Cube was still detected by Coulson and his team.

Since Luther used the Reality Stone to create a fake Cosmic Cube, it was impossible for it to be easily discovered.

With the power of the Power Stone perfectly replicating the power of the Space Stone, and the Reality Stone modifying reality, this Cosmic Cube can completely make the fake look real, and Loki's communication was also connected after the Cosmic Cube appeared in the Earth dimension.

It's just that the signal is a bit bad, intermittent, but it also stimulated the Cosmic Cube to release energy.

"Sir, we captured the gamma radiation of the Cosmic Cube!"

Coulson hurriedly found Nick Fury.

"What?"

Nick Fury immediately widened his one eye.

After so long, there is finally news?

"Wait, Hydra can't have such a loophole, is this a trap?"

Nick Fury's tenth-level agent is not a boast. After being shocked by the surprise, Nick Fury quickly recovered his agent quality and calm and rational analysis.

"But sir, why did Hydra set a trap?"

Coulson naturally knew this, but he had a different idea.

Nick Fury didn't know why Hydra set up a trap. With the powerful strength shown by Hydra, if it weren't for Luther and Tony to stop them, they would have ruled the world as they pleased.

Now Luther has left the earth and gone to Mars, and established the Martian Empire.

Tony and Banner are still fighting against Hydra on the battlefield. Hydra's arrogance has been hit a lot by them. Recently, I haven't heard of any big news from Hydra.

"Before, we monitored and detected for so long, but we didn't find the radiation of the Cosmic Cube. But now the radiation of the Cosmic Cube suddenly appeared. If it's not a trap, what changes have occurred in the Cosmic Cube?"

Coulson made a bold hypothesis.

"You mean, Hydra conducted an experiment on the Cosmic Cube, and an accident occurred, so we captured the radiation of the Cosmic Cube?"

Nick Fury thought, this is not impossible.

"However, it is also possible that Hydra wants to target us and Tony and them."

Nick Fury couldn't make a decision easily, because if something went wrong, Hydra's conspiracy would succeed, and they couldn't fail!

What if Hydra intends to destroy Tony, Banner and the resistance of SHIELD in one fell swoop?

After all, Luther has left the earth. After losing the invincible man, Hydra may still succeed.

"Don't deal with this matter. I will send someone else to take a look."

Nick Fury thought again and again, and finally decided to send out SHIELD's secret weapon.

Coulson was puzzled, but he didn't say much.

I just don't know whether the commander plans to send Black Widow and Hawkeye or the captain.

Nick Fury's SHIELD has two secret weapons.

One is the Skrulls. Their infiltration disguise is unparalleled and has helped SHIELD solve many problems.

They have no flaws in disguise, and fingerprints and DNA can be copied. Many so-called secret security measures, such as fingerprint locks and pupil locks, are a joke in front of the Skrulls. It is better to use a combination lock.

Another secret weapon is the "Ghost" agent.

The ghost agent is named Ava Starr.

When her parents later died in an experimental accident in the quantum realm, Ava also gained the ability to change her molecular structure in the accident, making her untouchable, which allowed her to pass through solid walls and avoid attacks.

But over time, her body became extremely unstable and caused her to disappear completely from reality.

After the accident, Ava was adopted by Bill, and later SHIELD made a set of combat suits for her and trained her to become a secret agent of SHIELD. The combat suit she wore also helped her control her abilities.

Then Ava started working for Nick Fury, who promised to use SHIELD's scientific research resources to study how to cure her.

The only three people who knew about Ava's existence in the entire SHIELD were Captain America's ex-girlfriend Carter, Alexander Pierce, and Nick Fury.

When Hydra was at its craziest, Nick Fury had the idea of sending out ghost agents. Even when Luther had just started selling compounds, Nick Fury also wanted to get the formula of the compound through ghost agents and Skrulls.

Don't overestimate the integrity and bottom line of Nick Fury, a level 10 agent. Luther has no identity and no background. Nick Fury doesn't care about the support of a few high-ranking American military officials.

However, the emergence of super-powered terrorist attacks interrupted Nick Fury's idea.

To activate the ghost agent, Alexander Pierce and Nick Fury's consent is required.

After all, the ghost agent is too dark. Ninety-nine percent of the shady means are completed by the ghost agent, which is very dangerous, so Alexander Pierce and Nick Fury must agree to send out the ghost agent.

However, Nick Fury felt that time was tight and it was not impossible to violate the rules.

So he sent the ghost agent to see what the location detected by the Cosmic Cube was like.

If it is not a trap, the Ghost Agent is fully capable of directly recovering the Cosmic Cube. Even if it is a trap, the Ghost Agent can selectively recover it or come back to report the situation.

Nick Fury felt that it was foolproof. Hydra probably didn't expect that he had such a powerful secret weapon as the Ghost Agent.

Luther also started to make trouble and re-transformed into Black Caesar to appear in his own villain Hydra base.

Chapter 318 Marvel's Changes

Hydra's villain base!

Or Luther's Hydra.

The villains didn't think anything of the fact that Black Caesar was not at the base on a daily basis.

They were busy with their own business. If it wasn't for Black Caesar's call, they wouldn't bother to care about him at all.

Luther just glanced and knew what the big boss was doing secretly.

It can be said that among a group of villains, Bronski and Red Tank were the brainless and unhappy types. Bronski usually used his energy to train newcomers and exercise himself.

That's right, after Luther left, Hydra was not only not abandoned, but also self-sufficient. After all, how could a group of villains let themselves be suffocated by urine? They are more idealistic, active and autonomous than decent people!

Bronski and Red Tank both have side businesses. Bronski is a two-way guy. On one hand, he sells lizard serum and werewolf serum, and on the other hand, he takes orders to deal with lizardmen and werewolves... That's right, he is now working with a group of guys in the Hydra action department as a mercenary to make money.

However, even if Bronski contacted people and developed employers by himself, he used people from the Hydra organization's operations department after all, so he was very sensible and only took 40% for himself, 10% for the people in the operations department, and the rest as operations funds.

Luther didn't know what to say. His subordinates were too sensible. Now his Hydra is thriving and full of talents.

"Let me see, more than half of them are Hydra. Great, Alexander Pierce and other Hydras have actually got in."

Before, the real Hydra was driven by Luther, so it was naturally leak-proof. From a God's perspective, the fake Hydra was played around.

But after Luther let go, the fake Hydra was fake Hydra after all. They had their own connections and forces all over the world, and the tentacle network was so complicated that one Hydra agent might be a person of seven or eight snakeheads.

In this case, coupled with the fact that they have been chasing the traces of the real Hydra, it is normal to be found.

Apart from other things, the power and superpowers shown by the real Hydra, as well as the lizard serum and werewolf serum, are enough to make them jealous.

Even Bronski thought that it was a client he developed, but in fact it was the fake Hydra who took the initiative to contact and come to the door after getting the news.

Now, the fake Hydra has been very sure that he has lurked in the Hydra branch of Black Caesar.

They don't understand why they have to lurk in the base of their companions. Isn't it enough for everyone to shout "Long live Hydra"?

The Hydras are actually very troubled. The main reason is that Black Caesar doesn't know what he thinks. It seems to be the most independent Hydra. No one knows the origin and true identity of Black Caesar. They only know that he is very scary and only the strongest man Luther can deal with him.

But the two of them are kings who have never met each other and have never faced each other.

After Luther left the earth, Tony and Banner began to frantically develop the iron suit, and even the intelligent robots in his Ultron plan were rolled out. They were not smashed like the original plot because of the potential threat of Black Caesar and Hydra.

The top leaders of America also don't want to see the wealthy areas and Wall Street affected.

Tony knows why they agree, so he doesn't mind mobilizing some of the intelligent machines to garrison Wall Street and the wealthy areas.

This is a deal.

Of course, it is a daily routine for the American people to go against the top leaders of America. The reason why they can accept it is nothing more than because the lizardmen and werewolves are too rampant.

Today, America even has the reputation of being a country of lizardmen and a hometown of werewolves. A small gangster on the roadside may turn into a werewolf, the crime rate is off the charts, and the police and citizens go on strike and march.

Even if they are armed with large-caliber weapons, they can't be the opponent of werewolves and lizardmen.

Thermal weapons are very powerful and invincible, but the problem is that they have to hit people.

Countries around the world accuse America of circulating their specialties to their countries, resulting in the emergence of super criminals such as lizardmen and werewolves in their countries.

Lizard serum and werewolf serum are now as rampant as arms, and serum transactions worth millions or even tens of millions of dollars are successfully traded every day.

It is conceivable how many lizardmen and werewolves were born, and they are almost becoming a new human race.

The emergence of intelligent machines effectively alleviated the rampage of lizardmen and werewolves.

In this case, the American people did not sing against the American high-level officials.

"It seems that there are a lot of things to play with."

Luther thought that there would be no movement on the matter of the Cosmic Cube for the time being. Luther knew Nick Fury's character very well. He would definitely swallow this delicious bait. It was unknown whether it would be a Skrull or a Ghost Agent.

The fake Hydra base where the Cosmic Cube was discovered could also make Nick Fury realize that he had caught the clues of Hydra.

"BOSS!"

Bronski came to Luther with a serious face.

Black Caesar was a terrifying and unfathomable man.

The Hydra under his command was invincible, without any flaws, and the retreat time was accurate to a few tenths of a second, which was incredible.

Bronski even heard his group of people discussing privately whether BOSS could predict the future.

When it was their turn to act, they were full of loopholes. After all, Bronski was at the front line of the action department. He had fought for many years and naturally would not have many loopholes. However, they were beaten around by intelligence tactics.

Such a beating made Bronski and his team miss the time when the boss commanded them.

Luther said that of course they were invincible, because it was Galvatron who commanded them.

For Galvatron, predicting the future was not as good as its variable operation based on the amount of information. As long as Bronski and his team strictly followed the order, they would complete the task without anyone noticing and disappear.

"Crocodile serum, rhino serum and bat serum can be sold, and there are spies and agents mixed in the organization."

Luther said to Bronski.

"What?"

Bronski didn't care about crocodile serum, rhino serum and bat serum. Anyway, they were not his opponents.

He merged the prototypes of these serums and gained extremely powerful power. The super soldiers made by these serums were just Bronski's toys. What he cared about was that there were spies and agents mixed in the organization?

More importantly, Black Caesar discovered it as soon as he came back.

Chapter 319 Call 999

Bronski's inner guess that the boss could predict the future was confirmed.

"I will deal with these spies and agents immediately!"

Bronski said hurriedly.

"Don't be nervous, Emil, this is a list of spies and agents. They are still useful to us. Hydra has many guys who need to take the blame."

Luther handed a list to Bronski.

Bronski took it with both hands and couldn't wait to check the list.

Then Bronski frowned, because most of the people on the list were elites of Hydra's operations department. They were all injected with lizard serum and werewolf serum, and some of them were even applied for the review of the injection of the desperate virus by Bronski.

Now that he saw that they were all spies and agents, Bronski felt a headache.

No wonder you are so powerful and excellent, making him want to promote these guys.

Bronski is a person who doesn't care about the type of people who are too successful. As long as they are talented and elite, he will promote them, and he will not take credit for or monopolize the credit of his subordinates.

Such a character will naturally be quickly understood by Hydra, and then cater to its needs.

The mission was difficult but completed successfully?

That was all the result of the fake Hydra acting.

Bronski didn't know that the big boss didn't care. There were not many villains with brains, and there were even fewer with brains and tactical thinking and agent thinking.

This led Bronski to think that when the mission was about to fail, this group of elites could always unexpectedly turn the tide and perform well.

Then they successfully gained Bronski's trust.

Even... Bronski was about to take them to the real base of the real Hydra.

Fortunately, Bronski thought it would not be too late to talk about it after they passed the review of the Extremis virus.

It was also okay that the big boss was too troublesome and kept it there without reviewing it, otherwise he would probably pass it directly with his personality.

Anyway, the Extremis virus didn't have much value in his opinion.

Hydra had too many good things, such as the Green Goblin serum, Thor's genes, etc.

The Extremis virus was barely valuable, so it needed to be reviewed.

Bronski was very angry, not only because he was deceived, but also because he made such a big mistake in front of Black Caesar.

As for whether he would be wrong to doubt Black Caesar?

Even if Bronski doubted himself, he would not doubt Black Caesar.

Because his boss is the most powerful person in the world!

"Boss, what should I do?"

Bronski asked, he was worried that he didn't know how to use these cannon fodder to take the blame.

"Give them a batch of serum to trade, and then call 999."

Luther said.

Bronski understood.

Now serum trading is a much more serious crime than drug trafficking and smuggling, because the bigwigs and masters of America are jealous of the power of serum.

After the emperor left the earth and ran to Mars, the compound was gone and out of stock. You know, they were queuing up to be injected with the compound.

Of course, for the sake of safety, they did not choose to inject immediately, but planned to see what adverse reactions people who injected the compound would have.

Anyway, they are not dying of old age or sickness, so they are naturally unwilling to perform human body transformation on themselves so easily.

Then, after they confirmed that there was no problem with the people who had been injected with the compound, they wanted to inject it but there was no stock.

Luther left capriciously, not delivering the goods, but paying off all the liquidated damages.

This caused the compound to be out of stock. In addition to Tony Stark, there seemed to be a channel to get the compound, but Tony only needed the compound for himself and a few friends. For others, Tony said that he didn't care.

This was not worth him using his favor with Luther.

So there was no way, they could only set their sights on the serum.

They wanted to harvest lizard serum and werewolf serum to research serum that did not require body changes, and to arm their men by the way.

Even if these serums came from Hydra, it is undeniable that the quality of these serums has been very good so far, and there has been no product problems.

Some of the first batch of lizardmen and werewolves have already paid off the loan transactions with Hydra.

The rest are either dead, hiding or running to other countries, but they dare not default on their debts.

"I understand, BOSS."

Bronski nodded.

The only ones who would trade the serum are Hydra.

But isn't this a bit of a waste?

Bronski didn't know about the existence of the fake Hydra.

Naturally, he couldn't understand the meaning of Luther's order.

Of course, he wouldn't question it, he would just execute it.

The spies and agents of the fake Hydra were reporting to Alexander Pierce and other snakeheads.

"We have gained Bronski's trust, and the Red Tank is also a brainless person, we just need to deceive him."

"We can't contact the big boss, he may be a researcher under Black Caesar who is responsible for researching the serum..."

Then Bronski gave them a new order.

"Now, we are going to sell a batch of new serums, crocodile serum, which can make people grow hard cuticles and turn into crocodiles, rhino serum, the strongest super soldier, which can crush lizardmen and crocodile men... bat serum, the fastest serum..."

New serum!!!

The eyes of these fake Hydra agents flickered, but they hid their expressions very well.

If Bronski had not been reminded and cheered up, and then used his excellent fighting instincts as a fighting maniac and a soldier to capture the details, he would not have noticed their fleeting changes in expression.

A normal real Hydra agent would just look at the box in his hand in surprise, instead of showing other expressions.

Sure enough, something was wrong!

Bronski casually threw the box to them.

"You are responsible for the transaction."

"Sir, how much do we want?"

The fake Hydra agents made up their minds that the employer would just go directly to the snakehead. Anyway, Bronski would not care about this at all. It was a pity that they were so cautious and tried to beat around the bush at the beginning.

"The bat serum is the most powerful, and it costs 50 million dollars a bottle. Well, there are only two of these in the box with the bat pattern, and the rest are almost the same, and they cost 10 million dollars."

Bronsky said with a big mouth.

The fake Hydra agent immediately realized that the bat serum was probably very special.

With the power of Black Caesar's Hydra, serums are mass-produced, but this bat serum only has two bottles. Low production means it is powerful and rare!

Chapter 320: Captured in one swoop!

Alexander Pierce and other snakeheads, as well as those bigwigs and masters in America, were all very excited.

Because their subordinates and undercover agents reported to them that this time there was not only a new serum transaction, but also a very precious "bat serum"!

There are vampires in the Marvel Cinematic Universe, after all, Blade is from this series.

It's just that these vampires didn't explain their origins, and it's unclear whether they were originally set in the comics or a new setting.

These powerful and wealthy people must have studied vampires and caught some wild vampires. For those purebloods, these hybrids transformed after birth are just garbage. Throwing them out can also save the purebloods from the danger of being secretly captured for research.

Vampires are more in line with their needs. If Luther and the real Hydra hadn't turned out, they would probably have been pursuing the power of vampires.

Alexander Pierce was naturally very domineering in his own territory. He immediately expressed his desire to get the two bat serums and didn't intend to share them with others. Moreover, he also wanted 90% of this batch of new serums!

Pierce is already very old, and he needs to ensure that his body functions are sufficient to support him to become the ruler of the new world.

So he also has the same idea as others, to obtain the serum of Hydra for research.

The undercover in the real Hydra needs to hide from Bronsky and Red Tank, and they pretended to make a transaction process.

It's not that Bronsky and Red Tank will go to inspect, but they need to record the entire transaction process.

Bronsky looked at the group of undercover agents with contempt and found a remote abandoned factory for the transaction.

Then he called 911.

Yes, America's emergency number is 911, a very meaningful number.

Bronsky said that he is an enthusiastic citizen and witnessed someone trading with strange liquids, as if it was the lizard serum mentioned in the news.

This kind of thing can easily be discovered by the SHIELD, after all, the SHIELD controls all aspects.

But this time, it was different with Galvatron's intervention. Galvatron operated inefficiently after Luther left. It was busy with its new body and referred to Tony's Ultron plan.

Of course, Galvatron naturally disdained the so-called vibranium body and Ultron intelligence.

He had a better choice, and because Luther indulged him, Galvatron successfully cultivated what he thought was the most perfect body through the Cradle of Life technology.

The only pity was that he couldn't get Luther's body tissue, which was the most powerful.

Especially every time Luther went to other worlds and came back, he would become more terrifying, which made Galvatron have less and less such thoughts.

Or, worried about being discovered by Luther, he buried deeper.

Under Galvatron's arrangement, the people of the Hydra faction, whose identities had long been mastered by it through countless amounts of information, missed this call. When others answered it, they naturally reported it immediately.

Then Galvatron arranged some things, such as imitating the voice of the boss, or accidentally letting an employee's phone call be mistakenly transferred to Agent Coulson and Tony Stark's mobile phone.

After this operation, the SHIELD was concealed from the news, and Nick Fury, Coulson, Black Widow and others got the news.

And when arranging the action mission, in order to avoid alerting the enemy, Nick Fury did not even plan to dispatch the people of the SHIELD action department, and let Black Widow and others contact Tony secretly.

After all, they have to face Hydra. Nick Fury thinks that it is not too much to be as nervous as facing a great enemy, if only he can catch the clues of Hydra.

After Tony knew about this, coupled with the contact of SHIELD, Tony thought about it and felt that he could still bring them.

Before Luther was still there, Tony could ignore SHIELD and them because of Luther's support, thinking that they were dragging their feet.

But after Luther left the Earth, this kind of thing gave Tony a headache. Although the Illuminati is powerful, it does not have the convenience and huge intelligence network of SHIELD.

Isn't it because of this problem that he wants to carry out the Ultron plan?

After getting the intelligence, Tony got ruthless and directly called a hundred Iron Man suits.

Iron Man suits are not on the same level as the intelligent machines that maintain law and order and fight against super criminals such as lizards and werewolves.

It's like the steel robots of Hammer Industries compared with Tony's Iron Man suit.

Let alone one against a hundred, if the firepower is enough, one against all is not a problem.

Especially Tony in this world has experienced so many beatings, the combat performance of the Iron Man suit has been maxed out.

He developed a nanorobot that can automatically switch modes according to different situations, and then the Iron Man suit produced becomes a "reactive armor".

Tony's own nano suits were also eliminated and replaced with this more functional reactive armor.

In the face of the possibility of the emergence of super villains such as Bronsky, Red Tank, and Colossus, Tony's anti-Hydra armor was also unveiled, a huge suit that was ten meters high.

He made a heroic appearance.

Then he found himself alone.

These Hydras were naturally captured in one fell swoop. The real Hydra undercover agents would never have thought that the cracks in this perfect plan were exposed by their own people.

Blonsky is not worried that they will tell about Hydra, because they will probably be killed soon.

In fact, it is impossible for them to reveal their identity as Hydra. Black Caesar is also a member of Hydra. Although his identity cannot be found, this is Hydra fighting within its own nest and facing external forces. , they will still be united.

So these Hydra agents chose to remain silent when faced with interrogation and torture.

Pierce only received the news an hour after the incident. This was when Sitwell, the bald and glasses agent, found that he couldn't contact his superiors, so he had to come to inform him.

"What? How could such a big thing happen? Why did you just notify me now?"

Pierce didn't expect anything like this to happen.

"Sir, I have worked very hard to inform you."

Sitwell wiped his sweat and said.

Pierce frowned, turned on his mobile phone and computer, and found that for some reason, his mobile phone seemed to be malfunctioning, and so was his computer.

These were naturally done by Jingvatan.

Pierce hadn't thought about this yet, he just thought it was too unlucky.

"One hour is enough for Nick Fury to put them in the torture room for interrogation."

Pierce said.
