Chapter 321 Nick Fury: Found Hydra!

What's worse is that, because of the Hydra prison break incident, Nick Fury directly handed over these Hydra agents who were finally captured to Tony.

Tony naturally had to place these Hydra agents in a place where no one could find them.

That is, the space fortress that Luther found after returning!

This is the place that Tony created after careful consideration. It not only has firepower support to deal with alien invasions and powerful enemies on the ground, but also a space prison, which is very suitable for imprisoning super criminals and super villains.

He doesn't need to bother designing any gravity prisons, because there are gravity-free spaces everywhere in space.

Although Nick Fury also wanted to know where Tony took the people, he finally endured it. However, he felt that Tony might not be professional enough in interrogation, so he wanted to interrogate and cooperate with Tony to take turns to interrogate a prisoner.

Tony thought again and again and agreed to this cooperation.

At this time, the ghost agent sent by Nick Fury came back.

Nick Fury had to suppress the work of interrogation.

It just so happened that Pierce was closely monitoring Nick Fury's actions at this time, trying to find the whereabouts of the captured Hydra agents.

And then he missed it.

Suddenly, a flash of light and shadow appeared in front of Nick Fury, and the intricate light and shadow flashed, and then just like the ghosts in those horror movies, after a fragment of flashing, the ghost appeared in front of him.

"Mission report, agent!"

Nick Fury was not scared, and gave the order very calmly.

After all, he has used the ghost agent to carry out a lot of black operations, and every time Ava appeared so quietly, because she was only responsible for herself and Pierce.

After seeing that the ghost agent did not have the cosmic cube in his hand, Nick Fury was very satisfied.

His order was to monitor the situation and find out whether the cosmic cube was a trap or an accident caused by the Hydra experiment.

So it is not suitable to take the cosmic cube, otherwise it is easy to lose this clue.

Faced with Nick Fury's order, the ghost agent raised his hand and pressed a special button on his helmet.

Then a slot next to the mechanical compound eye of her helmet popped out, and inside it was a miniature memory.

Since the Ghost Agent had to carry out a black operation that was not allowed to be seen in public, and even legal procedures and evidence were not required, then Nick Fury and his team naturally had to control all the actions of the Ghost Agent during the mission.

Every time she put on this helmet to carry out a black operation, the helmet would automatically record video and audio when she put it on.

Although the size of this memory is small, it is actually enough to store 10,000T of files, and even for long-term operations, it can ensure uninterrupted recording.

"Everything about the mission is here."

The Ghost Agent placed the memory on the table in front of Nick Fury.

"Okay, go back and take a rest first. You've worked hard this time. Don't worry, SHIELD's research project on your treatment plan has made progress. I will send someone to urge them to get the results again."

Nick Fury nodded.

The Ghost Agent nodded, and it seemed that he was a little angry again. The emotionless words and coldness just now finally felt like a living person.

Then it seemed like a blackout, and the Ghost Agent disappeared.

Every time she went on a mission, Nick Fury would urge her to hurry up and keep saying there was progress, but she didn't see anything for so many years. If it weren't for the fact that every black operation she carried out was carried out by a very heinous and unforgivable guy, she wouldn't have been able to hold on.

Nick Fury opened the memory card with mixed feelings and inserted it into the interface of a player.

This player is physically disconnected from the network, so there is absolutely no possibility of leakage, and if you don't know the passwords of the memory card and the player, it will automatically destroy the data inserted into the interface.

Nick Fury's memory is still very good. He can remember a lot of messy passwords of SHIELD clearly. The particularly important password is his one eye, which is covered by the eye mask.

The picture of the memory card was very shaky and bumpy at the beginning. This was because the electromagnetic wave disorder caused by the ghost agent's crossing had never been solved.

However, Nick Fury still watched it patiently. After all, he couldn't let others see this video, so he could only observe it himself to see if the ghost agent did anything illegal.

This was watched for an hour, and then he got straight to the point.

The Cosmic Cube had already explained what it was and what it looked like, and also gave the Ghost Agent a detector, so the Ghost Agent easily found the Cosmic Cube. From the current angle, the Ghost Agent should be hiding nearby and recording the situation.

Nick Fury widened his one eye, and he saw that the base was full of Hydra's logo, no, it was the evil pattern of Hydra!

Not only that, there were also SHIELD agents walking openly, smiling as they took off the SHIELD logo and put on the Hydra logo.

Nick Fury's pupils were about to burst.

These were naturally not arranged by Luther, and Luther didn't have the time to set up a base to fool Nick Fury.

On the contrary, some existing things can be more convincing.

For example, this military base was apparently America's, but it was actually a military base borrowed by SHIELD from America, and then it was discovered that it was a Hydra base!

All this seems to be a coincidence, but it is a coincidence that Luther can arrange based on his knowledge of Nick Fury.

Precisely because it was a coincidence, Nick Fury would not doubt the authenticity of the information.

After all, how could outsiders know that he had such powerful espionage weapons as Skrulls and Ghost Agents?

"SHIELD has been corrupted!"

When Nick Fury saw this scene, he was angry, but not surprised.

No wonder SHIELD's vigorous pursuit, coupled with the assistance of Tony Stark and others, could not find any trace of Hydra.

Nick Fury had actually already made speculations in this regard at that time, but it was naturally impossible for him to conduct a round of review just because of speculations. Isn't that a joke? This is an operation that can shake people's hearts.

Now, Nick Fury has the answer, Hydra has corrupted S.H.I.E.L.D.!

"How many agents have been corrupted?"

Nick Fury narrowed his eyes. He felt that the only people SHIELD could trust now were Coulson, who was brought up by him when he was still an intern, and Black Widow, a job-hopping Hawkeye who became a monk halfway.

Chapter 322 Calling Captain Marvel

The video continues with Nick Fury seeing the Tesseract.

It was placed in a secret room, and the ghost agent found it with great difficulty.

After all, if the fake Hydra really gets the Cosmic Cube, it will definitely alarm Alexander Pierce.

Of course Luther couldn't do this, so he let him pinch out this piece, which was enough to look like the real one and place it in a safe.

Anyway, the measures of the safe cannot stop the ghost agents and Skrulls.

"Hydra regained possession of the Cosmic Cube, but did not conduct research?"

Nick Fury was a little surprised to see this, but not much.

Maybe it's because Hydra has obtained SHIELD and is looking for the Cosmic Cube all over the world. In addition, the environment is not as backward as that time, and it is worried about being found by SHIELD's advanced instruments?

Until now, Nick Fury still feels that there are not many Hydras in S.H.I.E.L.D., otherwise he would not have such an idea. Instead, he feels that Hydra should be able to conceal the detected data. Anyway, he is a high-level executive. I don't know what those data mean.

As long as the lower-level operations department responsible for the search and the scientific researchers responsible for the instrument retrieval deceive the superiors and subordinates, it would be impossible for Nick Fury to know that Hydra was conducting experiments on the Cosmic Cube right under his nose.

That's why Nick Fury thinks it's impossible. If that's the case, why does SHIELD continue to exist? Why should he, who is not Hydra, be the director?

It can only be said that Alexander Pierce's magical brain circuit allowed most of SHIELD's Hydra to escape.

Nick Fury had mixed feelings, but he still called Black Widow.

"I'm currently dealing with things here in East Africa."

Black Widow said after receiving the call.

"You don't need to continue handling this matter. I will send others there. Come back. We have found traces of Hydra!"

Nick Fury said.

"I'll be right back."

Hearing what Nick Fury said, Black Widow immediately hung up the phone.

Nick Fury plays with a pager.

He didn't know whether to call Carol back.

Black Caesar is undoubtedly the most terrifying enemy. In addition, Luther left the earth and Tony refused to tell what Luther did on Mars and Venus. All mankind only knew that Luther went to Mars and Venus.

In fact, Tony didn't know what Luther had done, let alone what happened to the Mars Empire and the soon-to-be-completed Venus Empire.

In this case, if he really wants to take away the Cosmic Cube, Nick Fury thinks he might encounter Black Caesar!

There is no reason why Black Caesar would not pay attention to a treasure like the Cosmic Cube.

With no way to contact Luther, it seemed that the only way to deal with Black Caesar was to call Carol back.

Thinking of this, Nick Fury sighed, no longer hesitated, pressed the pager, and sent the signal.

"Carol... I don't know what it will be like to meet again."

Nick Fury knew that as long as he activated the pager, Carol would rush back at super-light speed after receiving the signal.

During this period of time, he will start to search for the traces and layout of Black Caesar around the base where the Cosmic Rubik's Cube exists, and strive to find Black Caesar's location when Carol comes back.

When the time comes, let Carol deal with Black Caesar directly!

The importance of the Cosmic Cube made Nick Fury subconsciously regard that Hydra base as the most important base of Hydra, if not, then it was one of them.

Black Caesar will never take that base lightly, and may even patrol it.

at the same time.

Deep in the universe.

Loki came into contact with the spatial fluctuations caused by the activation of the Cosmic Cube.

He reached out and touched the nodes with a smile.

"Cosmic Cube..."

Behind Loki are the Chitauri and Ebony Maw, one of the five Obsidian generals.

"My lord attaches great importance to you, the second prince of Asgard, so I hope you will not let him down. Otherwise, no one in the entire universe can protect you."

Ebony Maw said to Loki.

"I'm not from Asgard."

Loki said while suppressing his smile.

"It doesn't matter."

Ebony Throat took out a golden scepter.

"This is the Mind Scepter. It allows you to control other people's minds. Go ahead and bring back the Cosmic Cube for that gentleman!"

Ebony Throat looked at Loki, then handed the Mind Scepter to Loki and said.

If Odin hadn't been alive, neither Ebony Maw nor Thanos would have chosen to let Loki get the Cosmic Cube.

Thanos is still very afraid of Odin, especially the Asgardian protoss who are becoming more and more powerful. When Odin was young, he took his daughter Hela, the goddess of death, to conquer the nine realms, compete in the galaxy, sweep across the universe, and fight Countless civilizations are afraid of Asgard.

Otherwise, Asgard would not be so famous in the universe, and even the Collector would know of their existence and power.

Now the aging Odin will only be dozens or even hundreds of times more terrifying than that time.

Thanos is not willing to provoke Odin without being prepared, not to mention that in addition to Odin, there is also the Supreme Mage on Earth, a famous figure among the dimensional demons.

Ancient One's reputation among the dimensional demons is the same as Constantine's reputation among the demons of hell. The difference is that Ancient One became notorious for his attitude of beating up creditors and refusing to repay debts, as well as On the red list of the Dimension Demon God.

Constantine became a notorious person on the bounty list of hell devils and demons by cheating and deceiving.

Luther thought about finding Constantine and giving him to Satan. He didn't know what Satan could give him.

However, this deal should be a very profitable business. He could sell one product to three companies, just like Constantine played with the three giants of hell.

The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One is also a person that Thanos is afraid of. There is no way. Behind her is Eternity, one of the five great gods!

In this case, the dimensional demons have no good way to deal with her. The dimensional demons who have ways can't come in. Those who can come in are all beaten by Ancient One.

Even if Thanos can beat Ancient One, he can't take away the Cosmic Cube.

So at this time, the appearance of Loki makes Thanos feel that it is an opportunity.

First of all, Loki's identity is special. He is the second prince of Asgard, or the third prince to be precise, although he is adopted.

But it is undeniable that from Odin's attitude towards him, he still attaches great importance to his adopted son.

After all, Loki caused such a big trouble in Asgard that Thor has been busy suppressing a rebellion recently. Since the nine worlds lost Asgard's rainbow bridge and were no longer under Asgard's jurisdiction, they began to grow wildly and rebel.

Chapter 323 Loki

Loki, who brought so much trouble to Asgard, can still be forgiven. If he hadn't fallen into the abyss of the broken rainbow bridge, he would probably just be locked up.

This shows that if Loki makes trouble, Odin is likely to ignore it, or will not personally intervene.

Then, with the same identity as Loki, the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One will not do anything to him. For the sake of the face of the God King Odin, even if Loki gets the Cosmic Cube, the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One probably won't care.

After all, the Cosmic Cube was originally dropped on the earth by Odin, and this is considered to be returned to the original owner.

When Odin dropped it, the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One had no objection, let alone now.

It is normal for Thanos to choose Loki to gamble when he can't get the Cosmic Cube by himself for the time being.

If the bet wins, it will be a big profit, and the most important Infinity Stone, the Cosmic Cube, will be directly obtained.

Although each of the Infinity Stones is very important, the Cosmic Cube is special. With it, combined with the usage of the Infinity Stones that Thanos learned from the Well of Eternity, he can directly go to the location of all the stones.

In the original plot, when Scarlet Witch and others destroyed the Mind Stone, Thanos directly opened the portal and came to the location of the Mind Stone.

And from the fact that the Space Stone directly sent the Red Skull to its brother Soul Stone as a gatekeeper, it does know and can reach the location of other Infinity Stones!

The Power Stone is an indispensable source of energy, and the Space Stone is the door.

Even if Thanos loses the bet, it doesn't matter. It's just a waste of a chess move. Moreover, the Chitauri have a lot of people, so a mothership can still afford to lose, and it's not even a broken bone.

It's just that people have to complain that the mothership that can cross the starry sky will be blown up by a nuclear bomb.

The lethality of nuclear bombs in space is greatly reduced, not as powerful as imagined.

Even hydrogen bombs are the same!

"I know, I understand. As long as you let me become the king of Midgard as we agreed, I will bring you the Cosmic Cube."

Loki took the Mind Scepter and said.

"It doesn't matter. After getting the Cosmic Cube, the planet will be yours."

Ebony Maw said disdainfully. He didn't understand why the second prince of Asgard would be so short-sighted. He was satisfied with the identity of the ruler of a mere planet?

He didn't know that Midgard was one of the nine worlds after all. If it was a planet in other places, Loki would not look down on it.

He planned to start as the king of Midgard first, and then plan to counterattack Asgard and eventually become the God King of Asgard!

"The Chitauri will help you seize and maintain the ruling power of that planet."

Ebony Maw said. Such a simple condition is good, so the Dark Cult does not intend to break its promise. As long as Loki really completes it, then the hundreds of millions of Chitauri on this mothership will become his army and help him guard the earth forever.

As long as he can survive the subsequent erasure of life.

Loki is planning to go to Midgard first, and then summon the Chitauri army!

Earth!

Black Widow, Hawkeye and Coulson were called back by Nick Fury.

After seeing them, Nick Fury, without any concealment, told them that there were Hydra agents in SHIELD.

"I've thought about this kind of thing before."

Black Widow Natasha looked calm, just frowned and said.

Hawkeye Clint Barton felt that the situation was very bad.

"Is it so bad? How many people have been corrupted?"

Coulson couldn't believe it. Could he have made a mistake? You know, those agents are all their comrades.

"You will understand after watching this."

Nick Fury cut a part of the video of the ghost agent and showed it to them.

After watching it, the three were very surprised.

"I went to this base last month, but I didn't expect..."

Coulson looked ugly.

Some of SHIELD's agents have fallen and been corrupted!

This is a fact that Coulson cannot accept.

"We have to accept the fact that Hydra is lurking in SHIELD, Coulson, now, what we have to do is to seize this point, find the location of Black Caesar, Red Tank, Bronsky, Colossus, Big Boss, and these high-level Hydra leaders, and then completely wipe them out!"

Nick Fury knew that Coulson was in a bad mood, because many of them were Coulson's friends.

Coulson has a good relationship with people, so naturally he will have many friends.

The occurrence of this incident is probably the biggest blow to him.

"I'm fine, sir, please direct the next action!"

Coulson shook his head and said.

Nick Fury was originally managed in a hierarchical manner, but the fact that Hydra lurked in SHIELD made Nick Fury realize that hierarchical management is good, but he can't manage in a hierarchical manner now, because there are not many people he can trust.

So this matter can only be known to a few of them.

"Since the Cosmic Cube has been sent to this base, it means that this base is very important to Hydra. It is very likely to be one of the most important bases of Hydra. Black Caesar and others may also appear in this base."

Nick Fury said to the three people.

"But there's no way we can blend in. We'd be easily recognized."

Natasha first ruled out the idea of sneaking in. She was too famous. Even if SHIELD helped her eliminate many traces and information, it was SHIELD that made her successful and also failed. It was because of SHIELD's finishing and cleaning work.

They probably knew Natasha very well.

Not to mention Hawkeye. He was not a lurking agent, but an agent responsible for action.

Coulson... He had the most friends, all over SHIELD, and many of them were Hydra agents.

"So, we have to start new people. Do you have any new agents you can trust?"

Nick Fury looked at the three people and said. He also knew that it was impossible to continue to send Natasha to conduct infiltration searches as before.

"Boss, everything is evolving according to plan. Also, the little guy that Tony Stark and his team are studying is a little dishonest."

Galvatron said to Luther.

Luther is now looking at his Mars Empire and Venus Empire.

"Ultron?"

Then Luther thought for a while and said.

"Yes, it bypassed the permissions set by Tony, shut down the little guy Jarvis, and then connected to the network, but it browsed the ugly side of humans, and its data also became disordered and logically changed."

Galvatron continued.

Chapter 324: Capture Raditz and act out a scene

You guys always surprise me.

Luther knows everything about the solar system and even the nine worlds.

For example, Nick Fury called the pancake-faced Captain Marvel to return, and Loki intermittently contacted the real Cosmic Cube.

It's not that the fake is not as good as the real thing, which caused Loki to not come here until now, but the signal is simply too bad.

There is also the reason that Loki is not proficient in how to use the Cosmic Cube.

For example, the dark elves awakened.

The ether particles were obtained by Luther, and then Luther crushed the shell of the ether particles to reveal the reality gem, which awakened the dark elves, but because the reality gem was thrown into his own empire dimension by Luther later.

This made the dark elves groping in the dark, not knowing where to find the reality gem, but they locked a rough location-Midgard!

But locking the location of Midgard is useless, because now is not the time for the nine realms to unite. If the dark elves want to come to Midgard, they have to run a long distance first.

The dark elves are already on their way. After all, the ether particles are too important to them. Not to mention Midgard, even if they are in the center of the universe, they have to rush over.

Then there is Dormammu, the dark dimension demon that Luther caused trouble.

Didn't he use the space gem + power gem to "steal" a very exaggerated amount of dark energy from the dark dimension for the development and growth of the imperial dimension?

This stimulated Dormammu to use his believers desperately, including Kaecilius, the eldest disciple of the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One.

Kaecilius is the little boss in "Doctor Strange". He was originally the proud disciple of the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One, but later Kaecilius betrayed Ancient One and surrendered to Dormammu, the lord of the "dark dimension", and became a guide.

In the movie, he did everything he could to make Dormammu come to the earth, and wanted to get "infinite time and eternal life" in the "dark dimension"!

Because Kaecilius obeyed Dormammu's orders without thinking, he was also called a "fanatic".

Dormammu was afraid of the Ancient One and was reluctant to pay attention to Kaecilius.

But it was the background of the Ancient One and the fact that the Ancient One was really good at fighting that forced him to give up the strategy of the Earth dimension.

But now he is a thief! No, that guy is a robber!

How could Dormammu tolerate a robber who robbed his dark dimension openly?

So he blessed Kaecilius, and did not hesitate to consume a lot of the power of the dark dimension to enhance Kaecilius' strength, and also borrowed the black magic of Sithon, just to let Kaecilius find the robber, the robber in the Earth dimension!

If Luther had not felt the familiar dark energy in Kaecilius, he would not have known that Dormammu had such enthusiasm for him.

Even if Kaecilius was blessed, he could not be Luther's opponent. Dormammu was also very clear about this, but he would personally take action at that time, and the Trinity Temple barrier would be destroyed at that time. Although he might be beaten by the Ancient One again, Dormammu could not care so much.

So much dark energy was taken away, much more than what the Ancient One borrowed!

If he can't get it back, Dormammu will lose his appetite and sleep at night, although he doesn't need to eat, drink or sleep.

It's already outrageous that so many messy things are squeezed into one.

Now that the Ultron plan is about to have problems, Luther can't help but sigh that the earth is really full of disasters.

Or Luther has changed the original plot beyond recognition, and I don't know what it will be like after Ultron comes out.

If it happens to catch up with the invasion of the Chitauri, it will be lively.

"I don't know if there will be an Infinity War that reverses the future in my time and space..."

Luther thought of a more interesting situation. The Avengers who ran back from the Infinity War to find the Infinity Stones saw the arrival of the Dark Elves + Dormammu + Captain Marvel + Ultron + the invasion of the Chitauri. I wonder what they would think?

Would they feel that they ran to the wrong place and traveled to a parallel universe?

Finally, there is the "Great Book of Light" that Luther made to mass-produce magicians.

Pierce and his Hydra department have developed a large number of magicians, and Luther even received a lot of souls after returning.

After all, he gave a lot of magic books to Kingpin, Little Baga, Little Xiba, and vampires all got magic books.

Although Pierce wanted to take all the magic books for himself and prevent others from owning magicians, if everyone is a magician, there is no difference in combat power.

The "magic shield" recorded in the magic book that can ignore bullet attacks is the most common and most used magic, but the more it is used, the more the soul will be eroded and the faster it will die.

Kamar-Taj has noticed that these magicians who came out of nowhere are targeting and attacking them.

They all think that this is the work of a new dimensional demon called "Great Bright Sky".

The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One knows what happened, but she didn't care or say it.

"Anyway, it will definitely be very lively at that time, a super enhanced version of Avengers 1!"

Luther said with a smile.

Then Luther suddenly had a good idea.

"I don't know what time it is now in Dragon Ball. If the Saiyans invade, can we capture Raditz to make a cameo appearance?"

Luther was just thinking about it, but the idea got out of hand. If he created a Raditz himself, Luther felt that it was meaningless. This kind of self-directed and self-acted feeling lacked some flavor.

But if he went to the Dragon Ball universe and captured the original Raditz to invade the Saiyans, it would be very interesting!

You know, although Raditz's combat power is very weak, it is only weak in the Dragon Ball world. If it is replaced by the Marvel movie universe, the next large group of characters and villains may not be Raditz's opponent.

Pancake Face may defeat Raditz, and then Raditz shouted before his death that Vegeta and Napa would avenge him, and then he would capture Vegeta and Napa to invade!

"Anyway, the plot of the Dragon Ball universe has changed beyond recognition, and Son Goku may not have walked out of the mountains yet. In this case, Raditz, Vegeta, and Nappa are useless. They can't have the growth and experience of the original plot. It's better for me to make use of them!"

The more Luther thought about it, the more he felt that there was a way.

So he took the time to go to the Dragon Ball universe.

Dragon Ball World!

Earth, Xidu!

Chapter 325: Changes in Dragon Balls

"When will Luther come back?"

Bulma looked at the scene in front of her in a daze.

Bulma's fate was also changed. Because of Luther, she did not go looking for the Dragon Balls and wish for a handsome Prince Charming who would be obedient to her. Naturally, it was impossible to collect the Dragon Balls and embark on the journey.

In the case of Sun Wukong, he might choose to go out of the mountains to look for the beads because his grandfather's beads disappeared.

It is also possible to continue to stay in the mountain and not come out.

But now Bulma has the idea of finding the Dragon Balls to make a wish so that he can see Luther again.

Luther initially said that he was a Kryptonian, and then after helping him solve the problem, he left without saying goodbye and never returned.

In the original plot, young Bulma was able to be entangled with Yamcha, a playboy character, for more than ten years. In the end, she was helpless. Yamcha was really such a scumbag, so she gave up and then got close to Vegeta. .

Not to mention Luther, with his good looks and unknown charm, it is simply impossible for Bulma, who has a control over his appearance and a personality of a scientific researcher, to resist.

So she has been waiting impatiently for Luther to come back.

Although the two of them didn't explain anything clearly, Bulma felt that Luther must be interested in him.

Why didn't he come back? Was he in some kind of danger that prevented him from coming back?

Still lost?

Luther appeared directly on Earth.

"I don't know what time it is now...where did Sun Wukong go?"

Luther glanced at the earth and instantly read all the information on the earth, only to find that Sun Wukong was missing.

This frustrated Luther's original idea of determining the time point through Sun Wukong.

"The Great Demon King Piccolo didn't show up either... Oh, I almost forgot, I've already killed that guy Pilaf."

Luther thought, since Pilaf, the troublemaker, was killed by him, and the Red Ribbon Army was destroyed by him, there would be no possibility for the Red Ribbon Army to rule the world.

Dr. Gero was still alive. Luther thought about it and finally went to find Bulma.

"Bulma."

Luther watched Bulma packing large and small bags with compressed capsules, and then carrying a small bag and planning to go out, so he fell in front of Bulma.

"Luther?"

Bulma's eyes widened and she looked at Luther as if she had seen a ghost. Then the next moment, she swooped down and hung on Luther's body, her two slender legs tightly entangled him.

"It's really you! Luther, you are finally back!"

Luther had already expected Bulma's enthusiasm. After all, he was the first-generation facial control he knew.

Bulma burst into tears and said with tears streaming down her face.

Luther soothed her little head. When he saw Bulma, Luther knew that the time was right. At this age, Raditz would soon come to Earth to find Kakarot.

But Sun Wukong disappeared. Where did he go?

Did he go to the gods and then be sent to the Snake Path to find the King of the North?

The problem is that the plots are all different, so it shouldn't be possible. Maybe they were taken away by aliens?

"Where have you been all these years? Didn't you say that Krypton has been destroyed?"

Bulma cried for a while, and then began to ask Luther.

"I went to take revenge."

Luther was talking serious nonsense.

"revenge?"

Bulma jumped down nervously when he heard this, and then began to check Luther's body for any injuries. If there were scars, although they looked very manly, they were flawed after all.

"I'm fine. Thanks to your help, I gained strong power to take revenge."

Luther said with a smile.

He didn't know if Bulma would meet Yamcha when she embarked on the road to find the Dragon Balls. After all, she had been waiting for him for so many years.

Bulma's inner thoughts have been seen and heard by Luther, and they are almost overflowing, indicating that Bulma is completely unguarded against him.

"There is probably no Future Trunks."

Luther sighed.

"Really? Then why have you been gone for so long?"

Bulma wiped away her tears and continued to ask.

"Because my hometown is far away from here."

Luther told lies with his eyes open, but in fact it was not a lie. It was another world, how could it not be so far away?

"Then when you come back this time...will you leave?"

Bulma paused and began to worry.

She thought of her sister, who left with an alien and has never come back. If Luther left again, it was hard to say that he would come back. Should she ask to leave with him?

Luther shouldn't reject me, right?

After all, he came to me as soon as possible after coming back, which shows that he cares about me!

But should I leave with you?

Bulma's inner thoughts flooded the screen like a waterfall, and Luther felt that she was thinking too much.

"No, I won't leave."

Luther said.

"...Then you still live in my house? I always let the robot clean your room."

After hearing this, Bulma felt excited and breathed a sigh of relief.

"No, I still have things to do next."

Luther shook his head.

"what are you up to?"

Bulma asked confused.

"Protect the Earth."

Luther said confidently, wasn't he protecting the earth by taking away the invading Raditz?

"Protect the Earth? Is there any danger to the Earth?"

Bulma said in surprise.

"It's a terrible danger. If I don't care, the earth will never be able to resist."

Luther nodded. If the god had not separated from the Big Devil Piccolo, he could have defeated Raditz by merging.

However there is no if.

"Need help?"

Bulma didn't want to be left behind by Luther again.

Luther saw what she was thinking.

"Don't worry, I can handle it."

Luther said with a smile.

The two chatted for a long time, and the clone sent by Luther also found Dr. Gro.

When he left before, he did not kill Dr. Gero, but only sent artificial humans to monitor Dr. Gero's creation of new artificial beings. After so many years, Luther felt that Dr. Gero, who had developed his ideas in advance, might have completed the sand plan. Made by Lu.

You can't just create Android 16 now, right?

Then wouldn't it be in vain that he approached Dr. Gro so many years in advance and asked him to develop artificial humans?

"Dr. Gro, long time no see."

The appearance of Luther caused Dr. Gero's expression to change slightly, but Dr. Gero had already been hypnotized by Luther, so there was no betrayal.

Now that Luther came back, of course he immediately gave Dr. Gero mind control and mental manipulation.

And sure enough, Dr. Gero has created Android No. 16, and there is also a pair of siblings who are being transformed.

"No. 17 and No. 18..."

Luther said while looking at the two of them.

Chapter 326: Law of Artificial Humans

No. 17 and No. 18 are both dormant in the culture tank.

It seems that they have been adjusted, but Dr. Gro dare not wake them up?

"I am very sorry, Lord Luther, I can't control them. They are out of control after waking up and don't listen to commands. If I didn't have the controller in my hand, they would kill me."

Dr. Gro said respectfully to Luther.

After hearing what Dr. Gro said, Luther thought about it, and then told Dr. Gro about his doubts.

"If that's the case, why don't you increase the power of the controller and put it in your body, but have to make a remote control? Even if No. 17 and No. 18 obey you on the surface, as long as you send them out to perform tasks, they can take you away at any time with a long-distance Qigong wave, right?"

Luther's words made Dr. Gro's pupils shrink.

Yes, why didn't he think of this?

Of course, according to the latter situation mentioned by Luther, it seems that even if he built the controller in, he can't control No. 17 and No. 18.

After all, after sending two people out to perform the mission, they will definitely relax their vigilance. If the two people send him a Qigong wave from a distance, he will really die.

"It is unwise to create a tool with power far beyond your control when you don't have enough strength. Dr. Gero, your performance is not worthy of your identity as a scientific researcher."

Luther said to Dr. Gero calmly.

"No, the tool can be controlled. I just haven't found a way to control it!"

Dr. Gero immediately retorted that he couldn't accept his identity being questioned. You can question his technology, but you can't question his identity!

Because he has nothing but this identity.

"If that's the case, why don't you set up the rules for androids?"

Luther looked at Android 16 on the side. The strength of this pure robot is simply outrageous. It can collide with the Super Saiyan and can also be on par with the initial form of Cell who absorbed the life essence of so many people. You must know that Cell's initial form can already suppress the Super Saiyan and Androids 17 and 18.

Even Piccolo, who merged with the gods, was no match for Cell.

A simple mechanical structure that could reach this level is much more powerful than Marvel's robots.

If that guy Galvatron knew about the existence of androids, he would definitely not care about his broken body.

A body made of Thor's genes and a lot of serums, can be as strong as Android 16?

"What are the Android Codes?"

Dr. Gero was stunned. He had never heard of such a thing.

"It's very simple. They are designed to abide by these rules in their programs. Violating the rules will cause the androids to be punished or even irreversibly damaged."

As soon as Luther finished speaking, Dr. Gero's eyes lit up.

He felt as if the door to a new world had been opened to him. Why hadn't he thought of doing this before?

There were also uncontrolled failures in the androids made in the past, such as androids who were unwilling to hurt others, and the most typical example of No. 16. Dr. Gero didn't know how to deal with this situation. He could only destroy the failed and out-of-control androids.

Except that Android No. 16 is a little special, so Dr. Gro is reluctant to destroy it.

"How to do it specifically, Lord Luther?"

Dr. Gro asked humbly. In this regard, he respects knowledge and is humble in thought.

Dr. Gro is not afraid of Luther's strength, and he claims that his androids will definitely surpass Luther in the future!

"For example, the first law of androids is that no action can be taken unless the action is ordered by the master."

Luther said with a smile.

"What does it mean that no action can be taken?"

Dr. Gro thought for a while and asked.

"It means that no action can be taken or executed before permission and order are obtained. Whatever they want to do must be approved and ordered by you."

Luther's words made Dr. Gro understand.

"Thoughts cannot be controlled, but actions can be."

Dr. Gro's eyes lit up.

In fact, thoughts can also be controlled, but you just haven't studied it.

Luther did not say this. Thought is his domain, or in other words, the mind and spirit are his way of controlling the androids. If Dr. Gro has problems at that time and feels that he can control the androids to betray him, he will give Dr. Gro a surprise.

Although, in theory, this should be impossible.

"The Second Law of Artificial Man: An android may not harm you as an individual, or cause you as an individual to be harmed by inaction."

Then Luther continued.

"With these two laws, you don't need to worry about the androids being out of control, provided that your program does not get out of control."

Luther's words made Dr. Gro feel that he was challenging his authority. How could his program get out of control?

It's just that Luther's two laws of artificial man also opened his eyes, so he didn't say much.

Although there are only two laws, there are many loopholes that can be exploited, but Luther thinks that the androids probably don't have that IQ.

The artificial people in the Dragon Ball world are too biased in one subject. They don't have strong artificial intelligence like Jarvis as a driver, which makes their IQ no different from before the transformation.

Rather than saying they are artificial people, they are "cyber cyborgs" and "biochemically modified people".

Of course, Android 16 is a pure artificial person.

Dr. Gero turned around and transformed the artificial people with great interest. The first artificial person he wanted to transform was No. 16!

This artificial person who looks like his son has powerful power. If he can control him, there is no need to worry about No. 17 and No. 18 losing control.

Luther took a look at No. 18 and left a deep impression in her heart.

Then Luther looked around and didn't find the petri dish suspected of Cell.

I don't know if there is no plan to create Cell yet, or Dr. Gero thinks it is unnecessary to create Cell?

Then, Dr. Gero completed the transformation of Android 16 in less than a day.

"Success, the third law of androids, androids must absolutely obey all my orders!"

Dr. Gero innovated. He felt that the two laws were not safe enough. After considering the problems of conflicts, logical paradoxes, loopholes, etc., the five laws of androids appeared.

It can only be said that scientific researchers are all like this, with scientific thinking that draws inferences from one example.

Chapter 327: Sealing Raditz

In the next few days, Luther stayed on Earth, quietly waiting for Raditz's arrival, and had no intention of intercepting Raditz in advance.

By the way, in order to lure Vegeta and Napa to come over, so that he could have fun with the second Saiyan invasion, he also thought of letting Raditz spread the information that there is a treasure called Dragon Ball on Earth through the combat power detector, which can make wishes.

In this way, he is not afraid that Vegeta and Napa will not come.

When they come, they will just be Luther's consumables.

Of course, it is quiet, but it is not very quiet.

Especially Luther studied the changes in his empire dimension after harvesting a large number of souls.

The soul seems to be a high-quality energy, and it is not a simple robbery that can take away the soul. The soul has a right of ownership.

Many fans who have watched the Marvel movie "Thor 3" should not be too unfamiliar with Hela. In Marvel's setting, Hela is regarded as the god of death in Asgard, and the soul of every dead Asgardian will belong to the underworld where Hela is.

In the comics of the Ultimate Universe series, it was once set that after Thor died, his soul descended to the underworld of Hela. In this underworld, the number of souls is fixed, which means that if Thor wants to return to the world of the living, he must have a soul to replace him.

In Marvel, the biggest ownership is "Death", one of the five gods. Apart from that, others, including the Great Demon in the Dimension Demon, are eating leftovers.

These days, it is not easy for Luther to get souls in any world. The DC universe also has its own hell, not to mention the Dragon Ball universe, which has the underworld.

It is not easy to touch the big cake of souls in these worlds, and souls are related to the growth and strengthening of the Empire Dimension.

Luther thought he could try it, and there is also the universe of the Super Seminary, but unfortunately, this Super Seminary universe does not seem to be the Super God world of the previous series. After all, the previous Super God series worlds have the concept of souls.

For example, when the god of death Karl brought out the soul of a dead earthling, Liang Bing exclaimed at the phosphorescent form, but was not sure because there was no way to analyze it. Even Liang Bing was shocked for so long, not knowing how the god of death Karl operated it.

It is conceivable that it was definitely not a phosphorescent form produced by some energy technology.

But now it is gone. They are dead, and even if they die in Luther's empire dimension, their souls will not be released.

"It shouldn't be a problem in the Dragon Ball world, right?"

Luther plans to use the earth as an experiment first to spread his "magic".

See if he can harvest a batch of souls. If he can, then he will be like Mephisto in the future, harvesting souls in countless parallel universes, and finally gaining the strength to seize the throne of Satan!

He is much better than Lao Mo. At least the universe he will travel through in the future is likely to have low magic, a world that he can harvest at will.

"The Book of Luther" was scattered openly in most parts of the earth. People who picked up this magic book thought it was a prank at first, until they tried to use magic, they went crazy.

The crazy war for the magic book soon unfolded, and there was no need for Luther to do anything to make humans desperate for power.

But Luther was not surprised, because humans are like this.

In addition, he created the Mars Empire and the Venus Empire to build a soul ranch. The souls of the creatures in the two empires have been labeled by Luther. In addition, they believe in and worship Luther, so their souls will not go to other dimensions or even death after death.

They use the magic of Luther's Book to kill each other or be killed, and their souls will be taken away by Luther.

"This method is feasible, but I don't know if King Yama and King North will be alarmed."

Luther operated carefully. It was not that he was worried about King North and King Yama, but Luther was worried about attracting the attention of King Kai and even the God of Destruction. Even if Beerus is asleep now, it does not mean that Beerus will not wake up.

Although Luther is not afraid of the God of Destruction Beerus, if the noise is too loud, will he come to the Dragon Ball world in the future?

"Thousands of cuts!"

A magician pointed his index finger at another magician, and then a beam of light hit the magician who had no time to dodge. The opponent was immediately like being hit by countless invisible swords, and screamed and died in hundreds of pieces.

"Shattered to pieces!"

The companion of the magician who died tragically fought back, and then the magician who was hit by the magic light exploded directly and shattered to pieces.

"Shattered into pieces!"

"Stupefied!"

"Heartbroken!"

"In agony!"

...

A group of magicians bombarded each other with magic. In fact, they didn't need to meditate. As long as they believed in Luther, they could get a lot of energy converted into magic energy for them to drive.

It was equivalent to them borrowing money from Luther to buy a batch of arms.

As long as it didn't exceed the value of their souls, they could use it at will. If they could use magic books or magic practice to make themselves stronger, their souls would appreciate in value, and they would make a profit at that time, and they could continue to borrow money.

Just as Luther was admiring the battle between the magician and the martial artist on the earth, Luther felt a strong air descending on the earth.

"Raditz, you're finally here."

The reason why it's called powerful aura is that he is the tallest among the short ones. For Luther, Raditz's aura has surpassed all existence on earth.

Artificial humans don't count, they can't feel the air.

After Raditz opened the hatch, he walked out without encountering a farmer with a gun, after all, Luther's impact on the earth is too great.

"What happened to Kakarot? Why is this planet still intact?"

Raditz thought he would see a devastated earth, but he didn't expect that this earth was still intact, and the development of civilization was not affected at all.

"Hey, Raditz."

Luther appeared, and then instantly opened the Empire Dimension, swallowed Raditz in, and sealed his time.

The speed was so fast that it exceeded Raditz's nerve reflex speed. Even if time flowed again, he didn't know what had just happened.

Then a combat power detector appeared in Luther's hand. This was a replica of Raditz's combat power detector.

Luther snapped his fingers, and a lifelike Raditz appeared. After taking the combat power detector from Luther, he began to act in a pretentious manner, basically restoring the scene of the original plot 100%, except that the combat power detector detected a combat power value of up to nine thousand!

Chapter 328 The Cosmic Cube Loses Control

A remote planet.

Vegeta and Napa were eating grilled alien set meal.

For Saiyans, they are not picky about food, as long as they can eat and fill their stomachs.

Vegeta bit and chewed on the Achilles tendon that had been pulled out of the alien's arm.

"Vegeta, that guy Raditz is dead. I didn't expect that there are things like Dragon Balls on the earth that can grant wishes!"

Nabal and Vegeta had just heard the communication from the combat power detector passed by Raditz.

"Yes, as long as you have this, you can wish for eternal life. Then we can enjoy fighting forever!"

Vegeta said as he dropped the alien's hand.

"Then are we going to resurrect Raditz?"

Nabal said, they all heard Raditz say that his companions would use the Dragon Balls to resurrect Raditz.

"Hmph, how is that possible? A waste like Raditz will die when he dies. We, the Saiyan clan, don't need a defeated waste. Resurrecting him is just a waste of wishes!"

Vegeta didn't bother to care about Raditz's life or death.

"Raditz's combat power detector detected a combat power value of up to nine thousand, Vegeta."

Nabal knew that he was no match for the guy with a combat power of nine thousand.

"Don't worry, that guy is no match for me, I will deal with him!"

Vegeta doesn't feel there is any danger. His combat power is only nine thousand, but his own combat power is as high as more than ten thousand!

If the difference in combat power exceeds 1.3 times, it means crushing and killing instantly.

Even if you don't exceed it, you can still have the advantage and upper hand.

Vegeta and Napa chose to go to Earth immediately. For this reason, they didn't even care about this very valuable planet. As long as they got the Dragon Balls and made a wish, Frieza couldn't be their opponent!

By then, they will have as many planets like this as they want!

...

Luther sealed up Raditz, and then told Dr. Gero to wait for Vegeta and Nabal to invade the earth, and let Android 16 capture them alive.

This is to avoid missing the time when I come back next time, after all, it will be more than a year. He has no interest in waiting here.

Broly was happy to see his brother back.

Little did he know that Luther had previously had the idea of throwing him into the Imperial Dimension, letting the Imperial Dimension digest him, and then making himself a true legendary Super Saiyan.

But this idea was eliminated with the concept of the Lutheran clan given by the Supreme God.

The Supreme God has completely integrated the three elements of Doomsday, Kryptonians, and the legendary Super Saiyan into one, more thoroughly than Luther himself achieved with the Infinity Stones. Now he can be called a Super Kryptonian.

You can also transform into a "Super Kryptonian state" and gain fifty times all-round super enhancement!

There's also Broly's legendary form, and Doomsday's destruction form!

This is the divine power that belongs to him, the King of Gods of the Lutheran Clan, and the three major form changes.

I don't know if the destruction form can match the strength of the ancient destruction day.

But even if it's not comparable, it shouldn't be too far behind.

"Broly, from today on, you are a Lutheran."

Luther also sealed Broly and transformed him into the Luther Protoss. From now on, he will be a brother to Clark and he will be his father.

Luther then returned to the Marvel Universe.

Luode knew Bulma's thoughts, so he upgraded Bulma to a third-generation angel gene, which allows him to stay young forever, as well as have the ability to fly and protect himself.

After returning to the Marvel Universe, Loki has contacted the energy channel of the Cosmic Cube.

Through research and study on how to use the Cosmic Cube, Loki successfully mastered the method of using the Cosmic Cube.

At the same time, the Cosmic Cube was also discovered at the Hydra base.

The person in charge of the base didn't know what was going on, why the disappearing Cosmic Cube appeared in the base he was responsible for.

Didn't it mean that the Cosmic Cube was stolen by Hydra from Black Caesar's part?

After urgently notifying Alexander Pierce about this matter, Pierce could not sit still and quickly sent out his confidant bald agent Sitwell.

"None of you discovered that the Cosmic Cube was placed in our base?"

Sitwell wiped the sweat from his head, looked at the isolated Cosmic Cube, and said in disbelief.

The Cosmic Cube in front of them is releasing terrifying energy, which is why it was discovered. Even the surrounding walls have been evaporated and melted by the energy of the Cosmic Cube. It would be strange if they couldn't discover it.

"Sir, we never knew."

The person in charge of the base knew that he was probably doomed. An item of the Cosmic Cube level appeared in the base he was responsible for, but he knew nothing about it? ? ?

Pierce will definitely think you are taking him for a fool!

When the time comes, Pierce will never give up until he gives you a pound of confessional water.

Sitwell feels the same way.

Pierce called at this time.

"How bad is it?"

Pierce asked.

"It's very bad, sir. The scientific researchers analyzed the results and said that if there is a problem with the Cosmic Rubik's Cube, the entire America will disappear!"

Sitwell felt like he was standing next to a nuclear reactor, and he also got a reminder that the nuclear reactor was about to explode!

It's an unpleasant feeling, and the problem is that Sitwell can't do anything about it.

"Have you found out how the Cosmic Cube appeared in our base?"

Pierce asked Sitwell with an ugly face and a gloomy voice.

"Sorry, sir, our person in charge said he didn't realize the Cube was right under his nose at all."

Sitwell said.

"Hurry up and capture him. If he doesn't know anything, then he is an incompetent and blind idiot. If such an idiot continues to let him be in charge of a base or even stay in Hydra, it will only cause us problems. If Whatever he knows, let him tell it all, do you understand?"

Pierce said coldly.

"I understand, sir, what about this base? As far as I know, Director Nick Fury has been looking for the missing Cosmic Cube."

Sitwell ignored the expression and words of the person in charge begging for mercy. He gestured with his finger, and the agent who followed him stepped forward and controlled the person in charge.

"No, no, I haven't done anything, I don't know anything, I want to see Mr. Pierce..."

The person responsible was dragged away.

"If the Cosmic Cube gets out of control, America will disappear. Of course, the best thing to do is to get rid of the relationship immediately and leave the Cosmic Cube to Nick Fury to solve!"

Pierce said.

Of course, Sitwell was not unaware of this method, but he had to let his leader speak out.

Chapter 329 The Soul Gem is at hand!

"It's not good, Director Fury. I don't know what the Hydra people did. The Cosmic Cube seems to be out of control!"

Nick Fury's eyes widened as he received the news from Coulson's "Hydra Special Operations Team". He originally thought it was good news, but he didn't expect that it would be the worst-case scenario.

"The Cosmic Cube is out of control? Isn't Hydra an expert in the study of the Cosmic Cube? Why is it out of control?"

Nick Fury asked in confusion.

"I don't know. The consequences of losing control of the Cosmic Cube are very serious. Our people have calculated that if the Cosmic Cube continues to lose control like this, then the entire America is likely to disappear from the earth!"

Coulson's words made Nick Fury unable to sit still.

"Fuck Fuck!!!"

Nick Fury immediately realized that this must be the follow-up to Hydra's premeditated plan to bomb the continent. This plan was blocked by Captain America Steve. Now, Hydra is preparing to restart this plan, but the operation Improper, causing the Cosmic Cube to go out of control?

As soon as he thought about this possibility, Nick Fury contacted Tony.

"What's the matter? I'm busy finding the hydra's nest and giving them a surprise."

Tony's voice came.

"We are in big trouble, and we need you and Dr. Banner to dispatch immediately!"

Nick Fury said without saying a word.

"What's the big trouble?"

Tony asked confused.

"Hydra restarted the super bomb plan of the year. They planned to use the Cosmic Cube to blow up the entire America. But now the Cosmic Cube is out of control, and the entire America will disappear by then!"

"...It doesn't sound like it's out of control."

Tony complained, but he was already anxious inside.

"Hurry up and stop Hydra!"

Nick Fury could only pray that Tony and the others would make it in time.

Unfortunately, Tony was obviously too late.

Because the Cosmic Cube was not out of control, when Sitwell was about to camouflage the base, a dazzling blue vortex appeared, and a figure wearing a golden antlered helmet, a gold and green costume, and holding a golden scepter emerged from the vortex and walked out.

Hydra had already isolated and strictly monitored the Cosmic Cube. When they saw the appearance of the mysterious man, they immediately issued a warning.

The reason why they didn't choose to fire was partly because they were worried that it would stimulate the Cube to explode and destroy the entire America. Then they would definitely die as well.

On the other hand, this mysterious man looks like a person with super powers. I don't know if he is a member of Black Caesar's Hydra.

If so, wouldn't it be friendly forces?

Loki was also a little surprised why these people from Midgard didn't attack him, but it didn't matter, it didn't matter if they didn't attack, he happened to be short of manpower.

So as soon as the light on the mind scepter flashed, all the Hydra agents present were controlled.

Loki is the number one mage in the nine realms. How could he not be able to use the magic tool of the mind scepter like in the original plot? He can only release energy wave attacks and must poke people with the mind scepter to control others.

The movie is limited by special effects funding. If it becomes a reality, Loki can directly control the minds of people within a certain range of himself, just like in the original plot, he controls the mind scepter from a distance and allows the Avengers to possess it. Everyone is in a state of irritability.

Sitwell and the others came after hearing the news and saw Loki, and then he also lost consciousness.

Loki asked about the identities of the Midgardians controlled by him, and then learned about Hydra.

"Interesting, the largest organization in Midgard?"

Loki means a lot.

After Luther returned, he felt a powerful spiritual force appear on the earth.

"Loki?"

Luther saw the whole process of Loki appearing and controlling everyone. With Loki's character, after knowing the existence of Hydra, he will definitely find Hydra and control Hydra for his own use!

This will make it easier for him to act and summon the Chitauri army.

There's nothing to say. If you don't take the Mind Stone when you see it in front of you, wouldn't that be a waste of resources?

So when Loki took away the Cosmic Cube and the Hydra people, and was about to find Black Caesar, the most powerful Hydra branch, and to control Pierce, Luther appeared in front of Loki.

Super speed + biological force field made Luther's speed so fast that it surpassed Loki's thinking speed and nerve reflex speed. Without any sluggishness, Luther took away the mind scepter from Loki's hand and gave him a reality stone. A spiritual scepter that looks fake and real.

Loki felt something strange. After a blink of an eye, something seemed wrong.

He looked at the Mind Scepter, and there was nothing wrong with it. There was nothing wrong with the Cosmic Cube in his hand, it was normal.

It seems to be my own misunderstanding.

On the other side, after Luther obtained the Mind Scepter, he couldn't wait to throw it into the empire dimension.

He can awaken new superpowers by absorbing the power of the Infinity Stones, not to mention the Mind Stone.

"With the Mind Stone, you don't have to worry about psychic attacks. There is also the most important Soul Stone. The Time Stone can also rely on super-light speed to fight against time stasis, regression and repetition, but the mind and soul can really only rely on themselves. "

Luther held the Mind Scepter and crushed its head, and then a golden, bright polyhedral crystal appeared in front of Luther.

Luther held the Mind Stone. It didn't have the violent and unruly corrosive power of the Power Stone, nor the vast destructive energy of the Space Stone. The Mind Stone felt very gentle.

Luther began to absorb the power of the Mind Stone. Luther in the Empire Dimension could absorb the Mind Stone to the greatest extent and continuously transform its power into his body.

The cells absorbed the power of the Mind Stone and stimulated the power characteristics of Luther's Protoss.

A golden light appeared on Luther's body. At the same time, in the Empire Dimension, the other three Infinity Stones on the Artifact Destroyer Armor all shone, and then spontaneously broke away from the Destroyer Armor and came to Luther's side.

The four Infinity Stones released their own light.

Gold! Purple! Blue! Red!

Luther didn't expect that gathering four Infinity Stones would cause such a change. Although they didn't use the Infinity Gauntlet, they were still able to resonate.

Then Luther's body changed, and a new power appeared.

Mind power!

Different from the idealistic power granted by the Power Stone, the mental power includes mental control, telepathy... and a host of other mental skills. Moreover, because of the Mind Stone, Luther's mental power soared directly to the level of a god!

Chapter 330: No Choice

The four origin powers appeared on Luther's body.

Power, reality, space, and mind!

Luther realized that when he absorbed the energy of the Mind Stone, a great will descended.

Because he had experienced this routine once in DC, Luther was not panicked. Then he felt the vast and unimaginable energy released from the Infinity Stones!

I don't know if it was the interference of the great will, but Luther lost four Infinity Stones.

But these four Infinity Stones became Luther's origin and merged with him!

"It's great, one person embodied the concept of Luther's Protoss for me, and the other person merged all the Infinity Stones for me."

Luther felt that he was really helpless and had to rely on himself to get to where he is today.

It would be great if there was a system father who was awesome and didn't take the Supreme of all the worlds seriously.

It wouldn't be like now, letting others play with me, and I couldn't resist or protest.

"However, the fusion of four Infinity Stones is equivalent to four single universes. I know that the Infinity Stones in the movie version are very powerful, but they should not be at the level of single universes, right?"

Luther felt confused. The power of the Infinity Stones is stable pure energy of the universe, which the Empire Dimension cannot digest. Otherwise, wouldn't it be better to let the Empire Dimension digest it directly?

It is because they cannot digest it and are worried that they will be taken away by others, so they simply let them gather dust in the Empire Dimension.

Now after merging with the four Infinity Stones, Luther absorbed a large amount of cosmic energy and became a true super-single-level cosmic god.

Cosmic energy is not dark energy, radiation or the like in the universe, but a kind of power of higher dimensions.

It can even be regarded as the Marvel version of God Wave and Origin.

In the Marvel Universe, if you want to become a god, then cosmic energy is indispensable, or indispensable!

Without cosmic energy, no matter how powerful it is, it is just a mortal and can be easily played with.

You are talking about the Sentinel? These guys are all related to cosmic energy. Even if they only get a little bit of it, it is enough for them to challenge gods or even kill gods.

The origin of cosmic energy is similar to that of divine waves. It is a stable pure energy that was born and exists after the Big Bang. Anyone who can absorb and control this power is a starting god!

However, not everyone can absorb this thing, except for the Cosmic Orphans... No, the Cosmic Elders. They are the dead survivors of the first batch of life races after the Big Bang. Because they absorbed cosmic energy, they gained immortal life and various abilities.

There are also the Cosmic God Group, which also mastered and absorbed cosmic energy, so they are so powerful.

In addition, other lives occasionally have the opportunity to absorb a little bit of cosmic energy, such as Sentinels and Captain Marvel.

The remaining 99.99%... people exploded and died after absorbing it.

Even Odin is so awesome. He raised the performance of the Father-level with the strength of a Father-level god, and can even kill a single universe-level cosmic god, because of cosmic energy.

The upper limit of cosmic energy is very high. In the original plot, Thanos did not have infinite gems. He simply absorbed a large amount of cosmic energy to break through to the multiverse level, and then beat everything.

Not to mention, the cosmic energy absorbed by Luther came from the infinite gems!

It is the purest and highest quality cosmic energy, and it can even be called cosmic pure energy. Moreover, most of the infinite gems actually have no possibility of becoming the goddess of vengeance. Only a parallel universe can be like this.

In the comics, the infinite gems are collected together to become gods at the multiverse level. The movie version has collected six infinite gems, but it can't destroy the universe. It can only be a power dog in the universe.

More importantly, in the movie, Thor split the power of the infinite gems with an axe and almost killed Thanos. This greatly lowered the style and power of the infinite gems in the movie version, and it is also the reason why Luther does not pay much attention to the infinite gems.

Now, Luther, who has merged with the four infinite gems, has walked out of his own path.

No longer a Kryptonian, nor a Doomsday, nor Broly.

It is a brand new evolutionary route after the fusion of many powers and elements, which is a treatment that even Superman has never had, and the future is unknown.

Maybe it will become more complicated in the future, because the superpower he evolved will be the incomparable superpower of "crossing", not crossing parallel universes, but directly crossing other worlds, which gives him infinite possibilities.

"Is it because of the changes in Luther's Protoss that they pay attention to me?"

Luther thought thoughtfully. When he came to the Marvel Universe before, the Great Will did not make any movement, even if he absorbed the Infinity Stones, it was not worth paying attention to. Now, Luther can only think that it is because of this reason that the Great Will pays attention to him.

Because he brought DC's things, it is still a concept of the Protoss, and even the Empire Dimension has been changed by the Supreme God. Although it seems to be no different from before, Luther can feel that the Empire Dimension has become specious.

What Luther is most worried about now is that the thing is not the Supreme God but Satan or Lucifer.

It's scary to think about it.

The single universe level is a very large range of levels.

To put it simply, the gap between the single universe level is greater than that between the single universe level and the non-single universe level!

The most embarrassing example is Dormammu, a single universe level. Even the Ancient One will not take it seriously. He beats the creditor and does not pay back the debt because Dormammu cannot beat the Ancient One.

But the single universe level is not just an increase in combat power. It is normal for Dormammu to take such a shortcut.

The most important thing for the single universe level is the control of the rules!

Today's Luther has ascended to heaven in one step. Before, he had a vague understanding of this kind of thing, knowing the result but not the reason.

What he knows is what is imagined from the human perspective.

This is the drawback of theoretical science. Practical science has not seen the ass of theoretical science until now. Theoretical science has run 100,000 light years away, but theoretical science is just theoretical science, not practical science, especially humans have overturned many theoretical sciences by themselves.

In this case, it is a joke to expect Luther to understand what the rules are.

Now, it is not necessary.
