

Kryptonian 341

Chapter 341 Avengers vs. Saiyans

"Who are you?"

Captain Marvel asked directly, she wanted to confirm whether the other party was kind or malicious.

"Hmph, you low-level civilizations who can't even leave their home planet, listen up. Let me tell you, I was born on Planet Vegeta, a Saiyan who is known as the strongest fighting nation in the universe!"

Raditz slowly rose from the large crater created by the impact of the spacecraft, and then came to the ground.

"The strongest in the universe?"

"Saiyan?"

Everyone was surprised.

Captain Marvel wonders about the strongest person in the universe, why hasn't she heard of him?

With such a big name, he must be famous, why didn't he know it?

"Thank you for taking care of my good-for-nothing brother."

Raditz said.

"Good-for-nothing brother?"

Thor answered instinctively, are everyone the ones who control the soul?

"You haven't seen Kakarot? He was sent by us Saiyans to conquer the earth. Don't you know?"

Raditz said in confusion. Judging from the reactions of several people, it seems that they don't know the existence of Kakarot?

But how is this possible? No matter how good Kakarot is, he is still a Saiyan. He can transform into a giant ape, and his combat power will increase tenfold.

"have no idea."

"If there is, it will definitely be discovered."

Tony interjected.

After a Saiyan baby is born, its combat prowess will be measured immediately.

If the value is higher than the base value, he will be regarded as a superior warrior and will be raised directly as a combatant candidate.

Those who still have low combat effectiveness after a period of time are regarded as lower-level warriors and either become technicians or are put into a spaceship and sent to a certain planet.

If you can grow strong enough to conquer that planet, you can return to your hometown as a combatant.

However, the survival rate of distributed children is not high.

Therefore, Raditz was very calm about Kakarot's death. They came here just to find helpers to improve efficiency.

As for not having a cultivator?

A cultivator can't just casually cultivate 1,200 units of combat power. It depends on the soil for cultivation. Therefore, when Raditz came to Kakarot, he felt that even after so many years, Kakarot could not compare with him. , also has a combat power of 1,000, and after turning into a giant ape, it will have a combat power of 10,000, which is better than a cultivator.

The Cultivator is one of the traditional weapons of the Saiyans.

But that was not an invention of the Saiyans, it was a creature they had discovered on a certain planet before.

The cultivator can fight on his own, which is a convenient tool, but it is difficult to pick the bulbs for cultivation. They are very rare and expensive, so not everyone can use them.

Moreover, the cultivator has a violent personality and may attack his own side, so only selected warriors can possess it.

Luther had thought about getting cultivator seeds from Nabal and the others after they came to Earth. He was very interested in this kind of biological soldier that could defeat the Green Hulk and Thor with a little training.

Cultivators can be said to be very practical biological weapons, as long as they can solve the problem of the scarcity of cultivated bulbs and the problem of soil.

"Did you just say that your brother came to conquer the earth?"

Captain Marvel is very upright and just wants to confirm this matter, and now is not the time to chat.

"good."

Raditz nodded.

"Then there's no need to talk nonsense, the enemy, fight!"

Captain Marvel takes action directly.

Captain Marvel rushed towards Raditz.

"You must be the most powerful warriors on this planet. It just so happens that what Kakarot failed to do, let me, my brother, do it!"

Raditz grabbed Captain Marvel's fist, and then slapped Captain Marvel away with his backhand.

This scene shocked Tony. He watched Captain Marvel fight all the way to the Chitauri's base camp, and then went straight to Huanglong and succeeded.

Such a terrifying woman was actually knocked down?

"Midgard is Asgard's territory, Saiyan, you have crossed the line!"

Thor threw out Mjolnir, then jumped up high with the hammer of gravity, ready to hit Raditz.

"Has the combat effectiveness changed?"

Raditz looked at his combat power detector in surprise.

Tony also took action and fired high-energy beam pulses. Raditz snorted and did not dodge, allowing these energy pulses to hit him.

Then he raised his hand to grab Mjolnir without any damage, and at the same time, he grabbed the Gravity Hammer that fell from the sky with his other hand!

"Boom!"

Thor was surprised.

"How is that possible!"

Ever since he got the Gravity Hammer, the invincible God of War with two hammers has never met anyone who can take his two hammers. As for the fire of hell, God King Odin is not just a free man, he directly gives it to Thor, God of Thunder. The suppression sealed it.

However, Thor, the God of Thunder, does not care about the power of Hellfire, but prefers the Gravity Hammer and Mjolnir.

The two hammers are exactly the same, but have different abilities. When combined, it will be a mad battle between the two hammers.

"Your attacks only raise dust."

Raditz said with a sneer after grabbing the two hammers, and then moved his tail.

"Bang!"

Thor, the God of Thunder, was immediately knocked away by Raditz's tail.

His face was in burning pain, and a red whip mark was marked on his face.

Raditz felt his hands sink, and couldn't help but let go of his hands. He couldn't hold the two hammers.

"Boom!"

The two hammers hit the ground, making a dull sound.

Hulk couldn't help but rush up.

"Veronica, suppress fire!!!"

Tony was shocked and said quickly.

Hulk ran wildly, and Raditz raised his hand.

A large amount of surging airflow gushed outward with him as the center, and the pressure in the air suddenly increased.

"Boom---!!!"

A dazzling light was released from the palm of Raditz's hand, and Hulk was instantly engulfed by the energy. This terrifying energy directly penetrated thousands of meters away, almost cutting a trench in Los Angeles!

Raditz was a little strange, as if the destructive power of his own energy had become stronger?

Is it because the material of the earth is too fragile?

"Hulk!!!"

Tony couldn't believe it, and at this moment, a stream of light fell from the sky!

Plasma jet, the strategic-level energy output fired by the space fortress, is equivalent to the energy of a small nuclear bomb being concentrated.

Raditz raised his head, and when the plasma jet was about to reach his face, he raised his hand disdainfully.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"

A Qigong wave shot up into the sky, directly piercing through the plasma jet and shooting into the atmosphere. If the Space Fortress had not activated all its propulsion force to change its trajectory in time, it would have been completely destroyed by this Qigong wave!

"What a joke, the explosive energy of a living organism is actually higher than that of a hydrogen bomb!"

Tony's eyes widened.

Chapter 342 The Terror of Raditz

Tony felt that the world had become dangerous.

It was just a small fight on Earth before, but now with the invasion of aliens, is the world finally entering the universe age?

This alien called Saiyan is really terrible.

The energy that just exploded exceeded the largest nuclear bomb in human history, hundreds of times more than the Tsar bomb!

The energy output that went straight into the sky burned out the photosensitive components and thermal energy detectors of most human detection devices.

It is an unprecedented and undetectable energy value in human history!

Although Nick Fury didn't know how terrible this energy explosion was, he saw Carol being knocked away, and then Hulk and Thor were knocked to the ground.

This newly appeared alien is so powerful.

The title of the strongest fighting nation in the universe is well deserved!

Captain Marvel crashed into Raditz at sub-light speed.

"Huh? The combat power has increased?"

Raditz's reaction speed is very fast. After all, Qi is very omnipotent and mysterious. With the blessing of Qi, the nerve reflex speed is ridiculously fast, and sensing the speed of light is not a problem.

So Raditz raised his hand to block Captain Marvel's iron head. On the other side, Hulk stood up again. His anger made his body stronger and more powerful, and his combat power soared to 500 points in Raditz's detector!

"What's going on? Why can the combat power of earthlings change so much?"

Raditz was a little strange and puzzled. He had never seen such a thing in the universe before.

In comparison, Captain Marvel's combat power increased by only a few dozen points, which was insignificant to Raditz.

Thor, the twin hammers, also showed their power. When Raditz was about to free up one hand to hit Hulk, he raised Mjolnir and aimed the hammer of gravity at Raditz.

Raditz suddenly felt that he was as heavy as a thousand pounds, and a gravity bound his body.

"What?"

Raditz was shocked. This sudden gravity almost made Raditz kneel down, but the gravity applied was just a momentary discomfort for Raditz. He grew up living on Planet Vegeta, which has ten times the gravity of the earth.

For Vegeta, this discomfort may be adjusted quickly.

But for Raditz, who neglected to exercise, it was very fatal.

Hulk's fists hit Raditz hard and knocked him to the ground!

Then Thor's double hammers successfully attracted lightning, and the lightning pulled by Mjolnir fell from the sky and poured into Raditz's body!

"Crackle!!!"

Hulk had already jumped away, and then Raditz was hit by lightning, and he didn't know what happened.

Captain Marvel ignored the lightning until the opponent's strength was not so easy to be defeated by lightning, so he didn't give Raditz a chance to breathe, and he just beat Raditz madly! ! !

"Boom boom boom boom!!!"

Each punch was comparable to a million tons of kinetic energy impact, and Captain Marvel hit a new crater on the ground.

After taking more than a hundred punches, Raditz finally came to his senses. Fortunately, the battle suit on his body was fine after taking the ultimate attacks of Piccolo and Sun Wukong in the original plot, and the Magic Light Cannon could break the defense later, so all the attacks of Captain Marvel were blocked by the battle suit.

"Asshole!!!"

Raditz felt unforgivable anger, and he was furious. He raised his hand and fired dozens of energy bombs!

"Boom—————"

Having seen the terrible destructive power of the energy released by Raditz, Captain Marvel turned on the binary star state without saying a word, absorbing the bombardment of the oncoming energy bombs, but there were also scattered energy bombs falling in other places.

These scattered energy bombs came into contact with other substances, and instantly erupted in a huge explosion that shook the earth and mountains!

Along with the earthquake, dust and smoke blocked everyone's sight.

Tony quickly turned on the infrared mode, and by the way, the support of the space fortress finally came!

A huge alloy box fell from the sky and hit Tony in front of him. Tony's palm armor separated and he pressed one hand on the box.

After the box was scanned, it disintegrated into tens of thousands of tons of nanorobots. These nanorobots quickly climbed onto Tony's body, and then combined and arranged, eventually forming a huge robot ten meters high!

Nanosuit Titan!

Tony's highest masterpiece, the original imaginary enemy was Black Caesar, now seeing that Raditz, the alien, is so powerful, he has to use it!

The coordination of tens of thousands of tons of nanorobots is stronger than that of a simple mechanical structure, and there will be no situation where they can't move if a part is removed. The force-bearing structure is also complete.

The smoke dissipated, and the places touched by the energy bomb were blown to pieces. The annihilation effect of the gas was very outrageous, even surpassing antimatter. All you can see are huge cracks in the ground.

"You low-level creatures, barbarians who can't even leave the planet, actually made me so embarrassed!"

Raditz saw Captain Marvel absorbing his energy, and he was not surprised at all, but even more angry.

As for Captain Marvel's combat power that soared to 955 points, for Raditz, it was still within his ability to crush him.

Raditz was angry that he was beaten by a group of earthlings and became so embarrassed. At this moment, the energy around him was swirling like a hurricane.

Captain Marvel was very surprised. She had never absorbed Raditz's type of energy. It felt very special. Captain Marvel was directly injured. Even though the binary stars could absorb all energy, they still suffered from not understanding the power outside the world.

In short, it was similar to Accelerator facing the unreal matter.

It was impossible to calculate. Although it could still be absorbed, there were also some that could not be absorbed, and this part accounted for the majority.

Although Saiyans were often ridiculed as glass cannons, if Saiyans' abilities were converted to the Marvel Universe, their main abilities were super strength, super speed, flight, and energy output.

Among them, energy output accounted for the majority. Moreover, Saiyans who lived in ten times the gravity of the earth had a stronger body density than earthlings. When Sun Wukong was a child, he was shot by Bulma with a submachine gun and only felt pain, and even his skin was not broken.

Not to mention Raditz, who stayed on Planet Vegeta and was trained as a fighter.

So Raditz was still very scary. He was just a moment of effort, and the speed he burst out made Captain Marvel unable to see his trace.

The next moment, Captain Marvel was punched in the face!

Chapter 343: A devastating battle

This punch made Captain Marvel dizzy and see stars.

There were even two blood lines flowing out of her nose.

Captain Marvel found it hard to accept. Since she gained such power, she has never been injured, nor has she experienced the taste of injury again.

After being blown away by Raditz's strange power, Raditz disappeared in the blink of an eye. Thor's hammer missed. The next moment, Thor instinctively turned his head and swung a hammer, but Raditz got there first and stepped on Thor's wrist, knocking Thor to the ground!

Tony controlled the huge nano suit and punched Raditz. Raditz looked up at him with contempt, then raised his hand and sent a qigong wave to hit the Titan giant, causing sparks to fly.

"Huh?"

Raditz was a little surprised. This thing is much harder than he imagined.

After all, Tony almost bought all the vibranium that Ultron used to make his body and the huge vibranium foundation for himself.

The destructive power of Qi is very strong, but it is still a little short of such a large amount of vibranium and energy shield.

After Tony, a researcher, knew about the universal material of vibranium, how could he only use vibranium to make spears and armor?

Wouldn't that be a huge waste? So Tony studied it and found the superiority of vibranium as a material. He even pointed out the energy shield technology and installed it on his Titan and nano suit. In addition, there is a huge reactor for energy supply. The Titan has a full thousand micro-arc reactors all over his body.

The energy generated by a micro-arc reactor is enough for a small city.

And the Titan is actually not that easy to control.

When running at full speed, the Titan armor can easily break the speed of sound and stop instantly.

But rapid acceleration and deceleration will bring great pressure to the body. This pressure is usually called G value. Ordinary people can withstand up to 6G, and the trained astronauts can withstand the limit of about 8G.

But the G value generated by the Titan armor at the moment of acceleration or deceleration has far exceeded the human body's tolerance limit.

So Tony used huge energy to create a very strong force field inside the armor, locking all the atoms in the body, so that the body is not affected by acceleration and deceleration.

All thrusters are Hall-like thrusters.

The volume of the Hall thruster can be very small, and it uses electricity as energy to ionize gases such as hydrogen and argon into ions. After being accelerated by the electric field, the plasma jet ejects the thruster at a speed of 80 kilometers per second.

The tail flame ejected by traditional rockets is only two to four kilometers per second.

But the thrust of the Hall thruster is very small, and it can only push the weight equivalent to two eggs on Earth.

So after Tony studied the theory and knowledge of the Hall thruster, he developed the "Stark thruster" himself. Although it is not as fast as the plasma jet of the Hall thruster, the thrust generated is enough to push the Titan weighing tens of thousands of tons!

Any action of the Titan is achieved by the densely packed thrusters on its body, which allows it to easily exert power and kinetic energy equal to its own weight!

Raditz snorted coldly, and disappeared on the spot with a charge. Thor, who was kneeling on the ground and trampled by Raditz, watched the huge Titan fist fall.

"Shit!"

Thor just shouted, but the next moment he found that the fist stopped on his face, but the strong wind brought by the fist twisted his face.

It was not that Tony stopped in time, but that he was hit by Raditz's punch and his whole body stopped for a while before flying out!

Raditz gathered his energy.

"Stupid primitive people, let you see, the Saiyan..."

Before Raditz finished speaking, he was knocked aside by the Green Hulk from the air with a big jump.

The Green Hulk knew that Raditz was very fast, so it made up its mind not to let go!

"Hulk Hulk Hulk Hulk Hulk Hulk!!!"

The Green Hulk punched wildly, using his own name as a source of power.

Such a demonic scene was naturally taught to him by Luther. There were Ola Ola and Muda Muda, Ali Ali, why can't there be Hulk Hulk?

Look at it now, how exciting is it?

"Get out of here, you beast!"

Raditz grabbed the fist of the Hulk. With only more than 500 combat power, it was not a problem for Raditz at all.

So he kicked deeply into the body of the Hulk, almost kicking the Hulk through!

Then the Hulk wailed and flew out, spitting out a lot of green blood with high concentration of gamma ray radiation.

"Well done, big guy!"

Thor seized the opportunity, and the hammer of gravity captured Raditz. This time he directly bound Raditz with the maximum gravity!

Otherwise, Raditz burst out that annoying speed, and Thor could only passively take the beating.

After all, he did not have the ability of super speed, but he did have super strength.

Raditz's body sank suddenly!

He almost half-knelt on the ground, but fortunately, because he had just been beaten by Captain Marvel, he had been using Qi to strengthen his body, so he could not kneel on the ground this time.

However, the terrible gravity also made Raditz unable to move, and he could not continue to burst out the high speed just now.

At this time, the American Air Force arrived, and the bombers directly dropped bombs and machine guns on Raditz, Thor, Captain Marvel and others indiscriminately.

"Da da da da da!!!"

The bullets of the machine gun easily completed the work of loosening the soil on the concrete floor, plowing out a large deep pit, but they hit Raditz without any damage, and the impact force was not even enough to make Raditz shake.

However, the heavy bombs dropped later directly bombed a street!

"Boom—————!!!"

The flames rising into the sky and the rapidly spreading shock waves razed several nearby streets to the ground. The buildings were like fragile cardboard houses in front of these heavy bombs, and were torn apart and destroyed in an instant.

Raditz was fine, and threw out dozens of energy waves with his backhand. Seeing this, Captain Marvel also shot out dozens of energy pulses to intercept Raditz's Qigong waves.

"Boom boom boom boom!!!"

But the Qigong waves fired by Raditz were too destructive. Even if they were intercepted halfway, the terrifying airflow generated by the explosion was comparable to a typhoon.

The bombers and Warthog gunboats all malfunctioned and exploded and disintegrated in mid-air.

The Hulk came back again, and Raditz looked at the Hulk with some surprise.

This green beast has become stronger again!

At this time, the combat power has exceeded 500 and reached 788!

Although Captain Marvel also fluctuated, she failed to continue to improve, which made Raditz pay more attention to the Hulk than others.

Chapter 344 Hydra captured Kakarot?

Green Hulk roared and punched.

Raditz raised his hand and punched him as well!

Strengthened and propelled by Qi, his fists were like cannons being ejected from the barrel, tearing apart the surrounding air. The speed of his heavy fists reached a terrifying level.

Boom! ! !

The big crater that had originally been created collapsed again. In the blink of an eye, most of Los Angeles was destroyed by the aftermath of the two's fist, which was like a collision of heaven and earth. The surrounding high-rise buildings collapsed.

Green Hulk's fist and arm were shattered by Raditz's punch!

"Hulk————!!!"

The shattered arms and the pain he had never experienced before made Green Hulk howl in agony, flew backwards, and crashed through several tall buildings before stopping.

"Is that the only extent?"

Raditz said with a sneer.

Then I saw Captain Marvel charging towards him with an angry look on his face, punching straight out with both fists, completely unorganized, just projecting a powerful brick and it was done.

Raditz grabbed Captain Marvel's fist with disdainful hands. Captain Marvel burst out with more powerful force, but could not shake Raditz's hands at all. This made Captain Marvel's face full of incredible expressions.

Raditz had a calm expression on his face, with the corners of his mouth raised, a real mocking look on his face.

"It's useless. You primitive people are all vulnerable to us Saiyans!"

Raditz kicked him straight, and Captain Marvel, who had his fists caught by him, could not avoid it. He felt that his internal organs were displaced by this kick, and there was overwhelming pain in his stomach.

Captain Marvel was rough-skinned and strong-willed. After taking this kick, she showed a cruel look on her face and pulled hard with both hands. Raditz did not expect it. After all, he had neglected to exercise and could only crush the game. Being pulled by Captain Marvel like this, I couldn't help but get closer to Captain Marvel.

Before Raditz could react to what Captain Marvel wanted to do, he saw Captain Marvel's palm-sized smooth and shiny forehead hit him hard!

"Boom, boom, boom!!!"

If the fist fight between Raditz and Green Hulk is comparable to the collision of heaven and earth, then this time it will be an explosion of heaven and earth.

The hurricane exploded, and everything around it was shaken, collapsed, exploded, and blown away uncontrollably, covering the sky and the sun in an instant.

A large crater was opened where Raditz was originally standing, and behind it was a deep and spacious trench that was comparable to the depth and width of a trench.

The earth trembled, and the strong airflow visible to the naked eye was like an air knife, cutting everything around it with thousands of cuts, and spread and continued to explode with explosions!

Captain Marvel used a rocket headbutt, and the effect was outstanding!

Raditz lay dizzy in a crater. He was in a daze for a long time, only feeling a buzzing in his head.

Who am I, where am I, what am I going to do?

However, Saiyans' life strength is extraordinary, and their life mechanism soon adjusted back.

Captain Marvel began to gather photon energy, preparing to make a big attempt to send Raditz away. If she couldn't send Raditz away, then she would have to fight with him to see who fell first!

Luther felt that Raditz was unexpectedly strong. Of course, this was also related to the high strength of the Dragon Ball system. Even if Raditz neglected training and was not a normal and qualified warrior, he could still defeat the Avengers with the help of the panel.

After Raditz came back to his senses, he felt that Captain Marvel was condensing energy, and his combat power detector also detected that Captain Marvel's combat power was soaring.

"The combat effectiveness has also changed?"

Raditz was a little surprised, but of course he would not foolishly give Captain Marvel time to accumulate power and disappear instantly without saying a word.

Captain Marvel's pupils shrank when she discovered that Raditz had exploded at super speed again. The next moment, she was punched and kicked by Raditz. Finally, Raditz did a tomahawk split and hit her heavily on the left shoulder. At this moment, Captain Marvel's left arm suffered comminuted fractures from the scapula to the phalanges!

Captain Marvel screamed, was knocked out of the sky, and his body hit the ground hard.

"boom!!!"

A large pit was instantly sunk into the ground. Captain Marvel rolled his eyes and his body bounced up again uncontrollably.

Raditz had already expected Captain Marvel to bounce up, so he gathered a lot of energy in his right hand and punched Captain Marvel hard on the back!

With this punch, Captain Marvel's cervical vertebrae and vertebrae almost bent ninety degrees, and the vertebrae cracked under the strong shock!

With such a ferocious attack, Captain Marvel fell to the ground.

"Carol!!!"

When Nick Fury saw this scene, his one eye widened, and his pupil was about to burst.

He never expected that Carol would lose!

How is it possible, isn't Carol enforcing justice in the universe? After so many years, the invincible Carol would lose to a Saiyan?

When Nick Fury thought of this, he no longer had the slightest doubt about the Saiyans' nickname as the strongest fighting nation in the universe.

Just one of the Saiyans can beat Carol. It's unimaginable how strong the entire Saiyan family is!

As for whether Raditz would be the strongest Saiyan, Nick Fury had such an idea, but he quickly rejected his conjecture because the idea was illogical.

"Raditz also has a younger brother, Kakarot, who came to Earth early, but why is there no movement at all?"

Nick Fury thought about this question.

Nick Fury's intuition told him that this must be complicated, but it didn't seem to be complicated. Didn't the aliens come to Earth to invade? Just look at Raditz's style of doing things to know what the Saiyans' style is like.

Although there may be differences, the two are brothers, so they shouldn't be much different.

Therefore, Kakarot must have planned to conquer the Earth by force, but I don't know why there was no movement at all.

As for the situation where Kakarot was dead, Nick Fury didn't think about it at all.

Isn't this nonsense? The Saiyans are so powerful, how could they be killed so easily without any movement?

"Could it be... Black Caesar?"

Nick Fury had a bold guess.

He speculated that Black Caesar was very likely to be Kakarot. Even if not, it was possible that Hydra had captured Kakarot!

Normally, Nick Fury's speculation was naturally based on logic and possibility.

If Black Caesar was really Kakarot, it would be impossible for him to not react when he saw his brother coming, so the biggest possibility was that Hydra had secretly captured Kakarot!

After all, Hydra has a new and extremely powerful leader, Black Caesar.

Chapter 345 Complete Defeat

After Tony was punched away by Raditz, it took a while before Tony stood up again.

Raditz's punch was so terrifying that it shattered the Titan's structure.

But fortunately, it was a nanorobot, and the reorganization was quickly completed.

Then Tony received a communication from Nick Fury.

Although he didn't want to pay attention to this black-skinned braised egg, Tony finally got through.

"What's the matter? Didn't you see that I'm busy saving the world?"

Tony complained.

"Tony, at this time, please contact Luther!"

Nick Fury said to Tony.

"What?"

Tony was a little surprised. Contact Luther?

"Carol is no match for the Saiyan, and neither is Hulk. Thor, including you, is no match for him. Are you going to watch him destroy Los Angeles, even the entire America, and even the Earth?"

Nick Fury said seriously.

Tony was silent.

"Now their battle has destroyed most of Los Angeles, then the nearby city, and finally the entire America. I have been informed that the Security Council and the United Nations have decided to launch nuclear bombs to deal with the Saiyans!"

Nick Fury continued.

"Launching a nuclear bomb? Are they crazy?"

Tony was shocked.

"They are really going crazy. That's half of Los Angeles. If the Saiyans continue to destroy it, it won't just be Los Angeles."

Nick Fury knew that Tony must understand this truth, he just couldn't accept the backstab from his own people.

But indeed, in their eyes, nuclear bombs are the best solution.

"The energy output of that Saiyan has exceeded the energy of mankind's largest hydrogen bomb. I don't think a nuclear bomb can kill him. It will only kill us, and then no one can resist the Saiyan."

Tony said impatiently.

"So now I ask you to contact Luther. He is equally powerful. If he takes action..."

Nick Fury said.

"Impossible, Luther won't take action. He has already unilaterally cut off from the earth. Do you still expect him to come back?"

"Fighting for those guys? I think I'd better book some tickets to go to Mars first."

Tony said.

Nick Fury immediately became excited.

"Tony, are you going to run away and leave billions of people on Earth alone?"

Nick Fury denounced Tony and asked if he could also get a ticket.

The earth is too dangerous, I want to immigrate to Mars!

That's what he said, but naturally he didn't say it in the end.

Tony was silent.

"I will try, but before that, let us Earthlings solve this matter ourselves."

Tony began to regroup in place, forming a cannon.

This cannon was originally the Space Fortress's space defense laser cannon. Naturally, there is no need to say much about its power and energy output. The only problem is that its power will be greatly reduced in the atmospheric environment.

But it should be feasible to use such a terrifying weapon against living creatures, right?

Captain Marvel was knocked down by Raditz, and Green Hulk and Thor rushed over shortly after.

Raditz discovered that Green Hulk's arms had actually recovered. Not only that, but his height had also soared from more than two meters to five meters, with explosive muscles and a stronger body.

The combat power number has reached 958 in Raditz's eyes!

"How is it possible? What on earth is this guy?"

Raditz was shocked. This was the first time he saw such an unreasonable way to improve combat effectiveness.

Thor swung his hammers wildly and used the cloak hammering technique. Raditz snorted and parried and blocked the Green Hulk's attack while avoiding Thor's hammers.

Tony inputted all the energy of the entire Titan into the laser cannon. The energy of the laser cannon, which condensed terrifying and huge energy, has transformed from dark blue to dazzling red.

Then Tony did not notify Green Hulk and Thor, because with Raditz's super speed, he could only use sneak attack.

Thor used the maximum gravity to restrain Raditz's movements, but after experiencing it twice, Raditz learned to avoid it even if he was a waste.

Thor is not given a chance to capture him at all, and Thor's gravity hammer has not yet reached the level of a large-scale gravitational field, so naturally it cannot capture Raditz.

Instead, he was kicked in the chin by Raditz and flew out. Green Hulk was also punched through the abdomen and chest by Raditz's Qigong wave, and his flesh and blood were vaporized by the Qigong wave!

At this moment, Tony seized the opportunity and a laser cannon shot out from a distance! ! !

Raditz's pupils shrank, and before he could react, huge energy overwhelmed him!

Expansion and a big explosion occurred instantly!

The loud rumbling sound shattered everything nearby. The decibels of the sound waves increased, and the destructive power was also very terrifying.

The energy that destroyed the world penetrated the city next door and spread wantonly, burning and melting human creations, leaving only magma and high-temperature crystals.

The dazzling light that blinded people's eyes raised a sun on the ground. The infinite light was filled with dangerous light radiation and thermal radiation.

Raditz disappeared into the shock wave. When everything disappeared and the dust settled, all everyone saw was a piece of charred earth.

Nick Fury couldn't understand what weapon Tony used. This was even more terrible than a nuclear bomb. Although the destructive range was not as large as that of a nuclear bomb, the destructive power was more concentrated.

Tony had no choice, otherwise he would not use such a dangerous alien weapon.

This was a weapon of the imaginary enemy, the alien fleet. The power was greatly reduced in the atmosphere, otherwise it would not leave an infinitely extended trench, like a natural gas explosion.

Even Southern California would probably be wiped off the map by this shot.

"Did he destroy him?"

Tony analyzed that this energy cannon only shot a "ground-grazing" distance of a thousand meters because he adjusted the angle, and then went to the sky, escaping the capture of the earth's gravity.

Raditz was completely covered in the attack range, and theoretically it should be impossible to avoid it.

But Tony's pupils shrank and he saw Raditz.

"Asshole!"

The combat suit on Raditz was damaged, but the main body was still intact, but Raditz had scratches and burns where the combat suit was not covered.

The Saiyans' bodies were not that strong, and they were only better than the Asgardians, but with Chi, they could withstand even the Big Bang.

Raditz had just used Chi to offset 99.9999999% of the energy, and the rest penetrated his scattered but uncondensed Chi, injuring his body.

Chapter 346 Raditz is jealous

Saiyans who grew up on Planet Vegeta, which has ten times the gravity of the Earth, have a body density ten times that of an Earthling, while an Asgardian's body density is only several times that of an Earthling.

Therefore, there is no problem in completely destroying the physical fitness of the Asgardians.

The metabolism of Saiyans is unknown, but it is most likely similar to that of Earthlings. Sun Wukong has been injured many times, and it takes a period of time to recover.

After Raditz took a cannon shot, he aimed his hand in the direction of the laser cannon.

Tony was so frightened that he quickly reorganized and wanted to escape, but the speed of Raditz's qigong wave was much faster than he imagined. Just as the structure started to reorganize, the qigong wave had already bombarded the laser cannon!

"boom!!!"

Tony held his head and crouched on defense, and performed a tactical roll. There were endless roars behind him, and the overflowing energy left a wave of flying sand and rocks. He was blown away by the shock wave and could not continue the tactical roll. He lost control in mid-air for a moment, and then he was seriously injured. It smashed through the ruins.

"Fake, I feel like I'm fighting with a launcher that's launching nuclear bombs all the time!"

Tony couldn't help but complain.

After all, this is not the DC universe. Batman relies on the speed of human nerve reflexes to launch cables to move at subsonic speeds, and he can navigate all kinds of destructive scenes with ease, constantly making assists.

If Tony ran slower, he would be blown into powder just like his own laser cannon.

Even so, under the vibration and coercion of the shock wave, the nano-suit on his body inevitably shifted. Even if the force structure is special and the vibranium absorbs kinetic energy, it will inevitably wear out in the face of such terrifying energy.

Vibranium also has an upper limit.

Captain Marvel concentrated his photon energy, rushed in front of Raditz again, and punched the unsuspecting Raditz in the back.

Raditz was beaten so hard that he rubbed his face against the ground and was ejected like water.

Each ejection was hundreds of meters away, and it took seven times before it stopped!

Raditz sighed and spat out the mud and gravel in his mouth.

Most of this sneak attack was blocked by the battle suit, and the rest was just a push to Raditz. It didn't matter at all. At most, it just lost a hair.

Captain Marvel struck again and kicked Raditz.

Raditz raised his hand to block Captain Marvel's long-leg kick without moving his body. Raditz was not afraid of a head-on confrontation when he was prepared.

He raised his other hand, and Qi instantly covered his fist. Captain Marvel had experienced hundreds of battles and had more experience than Raditz. He had long noticed that Raditz seemed to be poor at perception.

In fact, she didn't know that Raditz relied heavily on combat power detectors. If she could destroy the combat power detectors, Raditz would be blind and would have no advantage in high-speed battles. After all, he was not a Z fighter. Good at using Qi to sense enemies.

For example, her sneak attack just now passed the combat power detector, and Raditz was completely unable to react.

It's a pity that her rocket headbutts were all aimed at Raditz's head, which was still some distance away from the combat power detector. Moreover, even the old version of the combat power detector produced by Frieza Legion is very strong. For example, Even when he was attacked by the Flute Demon Boy at close range, he calmly said that it was just dust.

Raditz even pretended not to cover the combat power detector with his hands, but only covered his mouth and nose.

This shows that the combat effectiveness detector is not afraid of the shock wave of ordinary explosions. As for why it explodes easily, I don't know.

At this moment, facing Raditz's fist, she directly chose to avoid it. Unexpectedly, Raditz grabbed the long leg she just kicked with his backhand, rounded her up and smashed it to the ground!

With this kind of speed and force, the ground would be many times harder than steel in an instant. When it hit him, Captain Marvel couldn't help but scream.

Fortunately, she hit the ground head first, and her head was no joke, and she suffered most of the damage.

Captain Marvel then fought back in pain. With the support of Raditz's grip on his leg, his powerful core strength and photon energy exploded, twisting his body, twisting his waist and abdomen, and the other long leg was drawn out like a long whip. A perfect arc kick hit Raditz.

Raditz snorted coldly, and the fist that had just been covered with qi met the whip leg again.

The photon energy and qi collided, and Raditz was slightly better. Captain Marvel felt that his ankle was in excruciating pain as if it was shattered.

In the central area where the energy hedging is the most intense, destructive lightning spreads rapidly.

The intense pain did not make Captain Marvel flinch, but instead aroused her iron head... No, her unyielding will!

Overloaded with mental willpower, Raditz absorbed the surrounding energy and converted it into photon energy. Raditz felt speechless when he saw Captain Marvel's combat effectiveness increase again.

What's going on with your fighting power? If it keeps fluctuating like this, he, a Saiyan, will be jealous.

But it doesn't matter. Raditz doesn't think they can continue to get stronger. Just kidding, how can they do something that even Saiyans can't do?

But Raditz is also greedy. He thinks this is a special ability of people on Earth. If he can understand what it is and how it is done, can his 1,500 combat power soar to 2,000 combat power like theirs?

Even 3000 combat power?

Therefore, Raditz's mentality has changed, and he plans to capture the most powerful people on earth alive and force them to learn how to improve their combat effectiveness.

Captain Marvel desperately released photon energy, and Raditz raised his hand and fired a Qigong wave.

Boom! ! !

The light column shot up into the sky, and the boiling energy frenzy turned into a straight lightning pulse. The straight lightning pulse jumped out of the atmosphere, causing the earth's magnetic field to become disordered, affecting the operation of Tony's space fortress.

The aftermath of the terrifying energy explosion formed a destructive super-strong wind pressure, stirring up countless dense and terrifying air currents, whizzing through like a razor, cutting off the undestroyed houses on the ground and the surrounding new areas one by one!

Captain Marvel was about to despair. What was wrong with this Saiyan? His overloaded photon energy was actually defeated by him with a stronger energy! ! !

It was like the stronger the fight, the stronger the resistance would be. The stronger the force of suppression.

Raditz's casual attack was Captain Marvel's upper limit, and a more serious one was Captain Marvel's over limit.

The gap between the two sides was too big.

"Hulk!!!"

Just when Captain Marvel was wavering, the Hulk attacked again.

Captain Marvel was surprised to see the Hulk still full of fighting spirit.

Chapter 347 Seeking Help

What's up with this green hunk?

Captain Marvel witnessed the Hulk being defeated and defeated so many times, but every time when he thought it had died down and was silent, it would always appear again.

Even Raditz felt that the Hulk was too difficult to deal with.

However, inspired by the Hulk, Captain Marvel regained his fighting spirit.

How could she lose to a thing that was not sure whether it was an alien or something else, which could fight and fight for the earth?

So, Captain Marvel resolutely entered a state of burning white all over her body and turned into a flash man. The shining light blinded Raditz, making Raditz unable to look directly.

This was Captain Marvel overloading the photon energy. Compared with the overload just now, it was more dangerous now!

Here it was said that she was dangerous.

"Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom————"

Captain Marvel disappeared in an instant, and when she appeared again, she was already in front of Raditz. There was no gap in the connection between her punches and kicks, which made Raditz feel a little dazzled.

However, Raditz also gained experience. Relying on the extremely high panel value, the next second, a stronger and more violent Qi exploded from Raditz, and the shock wave swept in all directions without any dead corners.

Since the shadow of the fist and foot could not be captured, just clear the field!

Anyway, Raditz is not short of Qi, and his strength is so great that bricks can fly, and one force can break all methods.

Captain Marvel was bombarded by the powerful Qi explosion, and her skin and flesh were blown to pieces on the spot. This was thanks to the overloaded operation of photon energy and the absorption of energy by the binary stars, otherwise, Raditz would have smashed her to pieces!

But the Green Hulk disappeared!

Raditz knew very well that the big explosion he just made could not make the Green Hulk disappear into ashes, and then he seemed to have noticed it and raised his head, and saw a green casserole-sized fist enlarged in front of him!

Raditz's eyes suddenly shrank to the size of a needle tip!

Boom————!!!

The punch hit Raditz's face hard, covering his entire face. The combat detector finally couldn't bear the weight and exploded under this punch!

Raditz felt an unimaginable force crushing his face and head, and then his head tilted to one side without resistance, and his neck was almost stretched to a broken angle.

If you slow down the time a hundred times, you can clearly see that Raditz's face was severely deformed under this punch, his facial features were squeezed together, his facial muscles were twisted and deformed, and his neck muscles were tightened.

The surging power poured into Raditz's body.

Then Raditz fell to the ground and was knocked over by Hulk's punch!

"Hulk is————"

"The strongest!!!"

Hulk roared and used the "Must-kill Hell Angel Combo" with murderous intent on every punch against Raditz!

Raditz began to vomit blood, which made him feel terrified. He quickly exploded and blasted Hulk out with his Qi.

He easily blew the five-meter-tall, hundreds-ton-heavy Hulk thousands of meters away.

"Damn it!!!"

Raditz condensed his Qi, but he only knew how to release the Qi in a superficial way. Vegeta had a booster cannon that could improve his combat effectiveness. Apart from that, the Saiyans didn't have any moves to improve their combat effectiveness, which was why Raditz was so surprised that the Earthlings could improve their combat effectiveness.

The greatest power of the Qigong wave was its own combat effectiveness, so how could it improve its combat effectiveness?

He didn't plan to hold back any more. If he hurt his beast, he would destroy it completely
————!!!

This Qigong wave was his full-strength attack. The Hulk, who was blown to the horizon, hadn't landed yet. The Qigong wave with an astonishing energy value shot out from Raditz's palm, and the friction with the air produced a sharp explosion and explosion.

"Boom!!!"

The Hulk was hit by this attack without being able to avoid it.

The sky suddenly shone, and a dazzling bright spot rose up. At this moment, even the brilliance of the sun lost to this light that was countless times brighter than the sun!

"Hulk!!!"

Tony looked at the Green Hulk in disbelief as he was bombarded by such terrifying energy. No matter how much he believed in Hulk's strength and vitality, this was already an enemy they could not defeat.

He trembled and dialed an interstellar communication.

Over there, Luther was holding his cheek with one hand, watching the battle on Earth. He knew that the guys watching the battle included God King Odin and Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One.

The Saiyan Raditz was so powerful that both of them were shocked, but that was it. If Odin took out all his divine power, it would be easy to kill Raditz, but Thor couldn't do it now, and his true power had not yet been stimulated.

Now Thor is still the God of Hammers, or the God of Hammers with two copies. Unless his hammer is destroyed, he will never realize his true power.

It was like forgetting his account password. If he could remember it, Thor could blow up the entire arena with one punch and knock down the Hulk, so he was fully capable of fighting Raditz.

Not to mention the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One. She was really surprised at the strength of the Saiyans. She had no idea where such a powerful Saiyan came from, and she couldn't see the future of the Saiyans.

The Eye of Agamotto had limitations, but the Time Stone did not.

Luther saw Tony's communication request. The line that Galvatron was in charge of had zero delay.

"Hello, Tony?"

Luther answered the call.

"...Luther, I'm sorry, we don't have any countermeasures or solutions anymore, so I hope you can help me, help us, and help the earth for the sake of the Illuminati!"

Tony said to Luther in a serious tone.

"What happened?"

Luther asked.

"Didn't you observe it?"

Tony said confused.

"I have no observation plan for the Earth. My goal is the world outside the solar system."

Luther said calmly, and by the way, he also let Tony know that he no longer paid attention to the earth.

The meaning he expressed will be conveyed by Tony to the people on earth, letting them know that you poor relatives in the countryside are not worthy of his attention, and don't get close to him.

Tony was very surprised, but he also realized that Luther might not have completely cut off the earth. He was actually able to do it so thoroughly, which surprised Tony.

It's just that he has no solution now. The Saiyans are too powerful and have crushed all his pride and prepared plans.

"The earth was invaded by a group of aliens, and then came a Saiyan who claimed to be the strongest fighting nation in the universe..."

Tony sighed, and then immediately explained the current situation to Luther.

Chapter 348 Let the world burn, let the world feel pain

"The strongest fighting nation in the universe, Tony, I can't possibly do anything."

Luther said to Tony.

He didn't plan to do anything now, at least he had to wait until Raditz became a giant ape and bring them despair.

Besides, what benefits could the Earth have for him?

Soul?

Luther's own Great Book of Light and Heaven saw that the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One seemed to be unwilling to intervene. After all, Ancient One only cared about major events such as the invasion of dimensional demons, and even the invasion of aliens and the plan of Hydra to clear out a billion people did not intervene.

Although it is possible that the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One foresaw the future and saw a future that could be prevented without his intervention, it also shows that Ancient One really wouldn't care about such things.

He was not interested in eating the Earth dimension, mainly because he knew that the water in the Earth dimension was too deep, and he lied... No, the souls he legally obtained were the souls of sinners. Even if he didn't take these souls, they would eventually be cheap for devils or demons like Mephisto.

There are a lot of souls in the universe. Most of the dimensional demons are in the energy dimension, so they have a great demand for souls. Luther is different. His is the material dimension, and he needs a lot more souls to match the progress of the energy dimension.

The advantage is that even if the energy dimension is ten times larger, the power of the dimensional demons is not as good as the demons in the material dimension. The disadvantage is that it is too difficult for the material dimension to expand.

It takes a vast ocean of souls to transform into matter and space to expand the material dimension.

Luther actually planned to make a deal with Odin, for example, to help him suppress the goddess of death Hela, and the price was to swallow up the material dimension of the underworld where Hela was imprisoned.

Even after Odin died, he could release Hela and save Asgard at a critical moment... and swallow Asgard.

Do you think the loss of two of the nine worlds will affect the balance of the world tree system?

What does that have to do with Luther? He has been doing legal transactions all the time!

It would be strange if any dimensional demon was not tempted by the special material dimension of the nine worlds.

Apart from the soul, the earth has no value to Luther.

It doesn't matter whether he takes action or not, but for more fun in the future, Luther will still take action, but not now.

He wants to see the world burn, and wants the world to feel pain, so that humans will know how to be grateful!

By the way, isn't it for Raditz to come to America to let Raditz slaughter America indiscriminately?

"Why?"

Tony did not blame Luther immediately, but asked.

"I am now the emperor of the Martian Empire. I have to be responsible for my people. The strongest fighting nation in the universe, do you think I can afford to provoke it?"

Luther said as a matter of course.

"But will the Saiyans only focus on the earth?"

Tony said hurriedly, what if the Saiyans take action on the earth and then focus on Mars? You know, the atmosphere of Mars has been changed by Luther, so that they cannot observe it, but the Saiyans are aliens, and their technological level must be very high. Maybe they can observe the specialness of Mars.

Will the Martian Empire still suffer at that time?

"...I can't take risks with my people."

Luther was silent for a while, and seemed to be shaken, but finally said.

"Aren't your people just the people and clones of your company?"

Tony couldn't help but say.

"No, they are new humans, Martians, synthetic humans created with human DNA, Asgardian genes, and Hulk genes. They have the ability to reproduce naturally, and they don't need to change species. Each of them can transform into a red Hulk."

Luther said.

"How is this possible... Is it magic?"

Tony was about to say that it was impossible for current science to do this, and then he remembered that Luther had shown him his magic.

If it was that kind of magical magic, it would make sense.

But, if everyone was the Hulk's empire, how terrifying would that be?

There were only a thousand Martians at the beginning, and when Luther came back, the number had become more than ten thousand.

Of course, because the adulthood of Martians is similar to that of Earthlings, except for puberty and a longer lifespan, after all, the Extremis virus has well integrated the various genes given to it by Luther, including the long lifespan of Asgardians.

So only the thousand Martians can fight now. Although the rest can fight, no one will let babies and children go to the battlefield, even if they can tear the earthlings apart with their bare hands without transformation, and they can tear the dinosaurs apart with their bare hands after transformation.

The buildings on Mars are all built with vibranium created by Luther's original transformation magic, so that they can withstand the daily wear and tear caused by the physical strength of the Martians.

In addition, the clothes of the Martians are woven with vibranium fibers, and there are also "Mars super soldiers" who have undergone human body transformation technology and have been vibranium-fused into their whole body cells.

Because their whole body cells are fused with vibranium atoms, their physical strength is far superior to other Martians, and they belong to the level of warriors and generals of the Martian Empire.

But these are in the past. Luther is now just letting the Martians grow wildly. After all, how can he reasonably harvest the souls of his brothers who are too invincible to die?

He announced that his place is the place of death. Luther is both the emperor and their god.

There are part-time creators, death gods, sun gods, and so on. Anyway, as long as they believe in themselves, their souls are theirs.

Mars and Venus are now more like a pasture.

Luther has recently been thinking about whether he should switch to Khorne, Nurgle, Tzeentch, Slaanesh, and Emperor.

Because these five are all ways to get souls quickly, provided that believers use his power.

"In terms of soul quantity, 100 million souls are not as good as one high-quality soul, but high-quality souls are not so easy to harvest."

Luther hung up the communication with Tony.

The stronger the strength, the stronger the soul. The body and soul complement each other and affect each other.

Then the problem comes. A high-quality soul means strong strength. The stronger it is, the less likely it is to die.

Of course, you can also play dirty and kill the other party.

But Luther believes that he is still the nemesis of justice... no, the nemesis of sin, so he will not do this.

That is an illegal trade of souls, something that even devils like Mephisto disdain to do.

The souls of billions of people on Earth are not worth mentioning to Luther. They are probably only comparable to a few high-quality souls, such as Captain Marvel and Green Hulk.

Chapter 349 Tony: I want to be an alien emperor

"How's it going, Tony?"

Nick Fury asked hopefully.

"He refused."

Tony said seriously.

"What?"

Nick Fury's one eye widened, why would he refuse?

"He has established an empire on Mars and created synthetic humans who are completely different from the people on Earth as his citizens. Each of those synthetic humans can turn into a Hulk, and there is also the stupid big Asgard. With the same power as a human being, what need does he have to remember the earth?"

As Tony talked, his heart moved.

He suddenly realized that he was short-sighted and should not continue to stay on Earth. Wouldn't it be more realistic to be an alien emperor like Luther and look into the deep space of the universe?

I just don't know if biology and genetics are difficult, and how long will it take to learn them from scratch?

Tony plans to build his own alien empire, 99% of which will be made of beautiful synthetic women.

When the time comes, synthetic humans can adjust their own genes. Without the flaws and shortcomings of Earthlings' genes, their skin will be smooth, delicate and shiny, eliminating all kinds of parasites. Even more extreme, create a synthetic human who only needs photosynthesis. The need for excretion is gone.

What's more important is the issue of resource sharing. Even though he is the top person on earth, 99.9% of the resources are enjoyed by 0.01% of the people, and the remaining people enjoy the remaining bit. Trivial resources.

But this is also recycling resources. Billions of sardines are crowded together, dirty and sloppy, without any advantages.

The king of billions of monkeys is just one monkey!

It doesn't matter if the vision was not opened up before, but now the vision has been forcibly expanded by Luther and the aliens. More importantly, Luther, a guy younger than himself, has set an example and accomplished such a great feat.

One person can monopolize the resources of a planet, or even have an entire empire serve himself!

This is what he deserves and what he works for!

But Tony also knew that the biggest problem he was limited by was resources.

Exploiting an alien planet is not just about finding a random planet and creating a synthetic human. It needs resources. It doesn't take too many resources to make a synthetic human perform photosynthesis, so if he wants to enjoy it, he also needs a lot of resources to satisfy himself!

Otherwise, when Luther wanted to immigrate to Mars, why were those high-level officials so calm?

Because they are convinced that Luther cannot get around resource limitations. Almost all the resources in the world are in their hands. They are the most powerful group of people in the world. As long as they don't nod, Luther will Don't even think about taking away any of the earth's resources!

It's a pity that they didn't expect Luther to overtake him in a curve, not taking the usual road, and he threw them so hard that the taillights of the car were no longer visible.

Luther was able to accomplish this incredible miracle because that guy mastered magical magic!

Mud can be turned into food, so what resources are there missing?

People themselves can synthesize all kinds of needed resources unlimitedly.

Tony couldn't do it anymore, so after just fantasizing, Tony regained consciousness.

"Hey, let's clean up this burned garbage pile first."

Tony said.

Even though the earth has been regarded by him as a garbage dump that is constantly recycled, he still has to rely on this garbage dump to live, and he cannot let this garbage dump be sent to an "incineration station" by Raditz, a Saiyan.

"Veronica, capture the Hulk!"

Tony said to Battlestar.

The Green Hulk was bombarded by such a terrifying blow. Logically speaking, it should be impossible for him to survive, but Tony still had a possibility.

On the other side, Captain Marvel stood up again, Raditz looked down at her from above.

"Can you still move, Earthling?"

Raditz said arrogantly. If you ignore his messy combat uniform and the cheek injured by the combat power detector, he is quite impressive.

The problem was that his combat uniform was in tatters.

Captain Marvel sneered.

"What are you so proud of, Saiyan? You will also be injured and you will bleed. That's enough!"

Captain Marvel stands out as a tough and reckless man who doesn't even know what it means to be afraid.

Raditz suddenly couldn't hold himself any longer.

"It seems that the pain I gave you is too little!"

As soon as Raditz finished speaking, his figure flashed and appeared next to Captain Marvel.

Captain Marvel blocked Raditz's direct punch with her backhand, but Raditz's insidious knee hit her chin, which almost knocked out her teeth.

It wasn't over yet. Raditz punched her at lightning speed, hitting her apple muscles and pectoralis major muscles.

Captain Marvel was hit hard, mainly because she had never been hit so hard in these areas before.

But Captain Marvel, who is a pure man and is even more manly than a man, gritted his teeth and fought back. His palms were connected with the knife, and the photon energy was like a hot knife cutting butter, leaving a bloody mark on Raditz's body!

Raditz screamed when he was injured. Even the fat man could cut Vegeta with his knife, let alone Raditz who lost the protection of his battle suit.

He hasn't lost much energy since the battle.

More importantly, Raditz didn't expect Captain Marvel to be able to fight back in this situation!

After all, Raditz would only put himself in that situation and feel that he would be too painful to move. How could he fight back immediately?

It can be said that Captain Marvel taught him another lesson. Raditz benefited a lot from coming to Earth, and he also grew rapidly from the battle. If he recovered from his injuries, his combat power would probably increase to about 1800~1900.

As a born superior warrior, Raditz's potential is not weak, but he wasted it.

Captain Marvel saw the opportunity, and the photon energy continued to turn into a hot knife to chop Raditz.

She didn't know that this was the most effective means for the Qi mage in the Dragon Ball world. Qi was generally resistant to highly concentrated and highly penetrating attacks, such as "Killing God Strike·Qi Yuan Slash", one of the most outrageous moves back then, Krillin almost completed the operation of killing the god.

After all, Frieza had no regeneration ability, and he would be dead if he was split in two by Qi Yuan Slash, and Qi Yuan Slash could cut off its tail, so it could naturally cut its body.

Facing this kind of attack, Raditz was stretched to the limit for a while, and had no idea how to deal with it. He gradually had several more deep wounds on his body that could be seen to the bone.

"Asshole!"

Raditz got angry and exploded again, blowing Captain Marvel away.

Then Raditz flew into the sky.

"Is he going to escape?"

Captain Marvel fell to the ground and saw what Raditz did.

Raditz looked at the moon!

They had been fighting until dark, and the moon was just in its full moon period!

Chapter 350 Raditz the Gorilla

When Saiyans see the moon on a full moon night, they will turn into giant apes (to be more precise, they evolve into giant apes because of the Bulz light emitted by the moon), but they must have a tail.

After the transformation, the combat power is about 10 times that of the normal state. The lower and middle-level Saiyan warriors will lose their minds after the transformation. Only Saiyans with royal blood and senior warriors can maintain their will after the transformation.

The weakness is the tail. If the tail is caught, the whole body will be weak. If the tail is cut off, it will return to normal.

Raditz has the potential of a senior warrior, so naturally he will not lose his will.

At this time, his eyes received the Bulz light from the full moon, and then his body swelled up rapidly!

The battle suit with only one sling left finally broke helplessly.

After seeing this scene, Tony asked Veronica to capture the location of the battle suit fragments. This material is very strong. Tony cannot ignore such materials. Although he has collected a lot of battle suit fragments, it is an unknown element that has never been seen on Earth.

In the case of uncertainty whether it can be synthesized, the more the better.

Then, he was stunned to see Raditz transformed from a human into a giant gorilla!

"Oh my god!"

Tony couldn't help but swear.

"Oh my god!"

Captain Marvel was also shocked.

"Oh my god!"

Nick Fury was stunned, his expression extremely distorted.

From a human to such a huge gorilla?

There is no definitive answer to how tall the gorilla transformed by the Saiyan is.

When the giant ape Vegeta pinched Goku, his hand was not as long as Goku's body. It is estimated that his hand is less than 1.5 meters long. According to the proportion, his height is only about 30 meters. The gorilla's hand is bigger than that of a human, so his actual height is estimated to be 20 meters.

But in the Bardock chapter, the giant apes transformed by Bardock and others are taller than high-rise buildings. How big is it?

It is estimated that it depends entirely on the combat power of the Saiyans.

However, the gorilla transformed by Raditz is at least 18 meters tall, which is completely a behemoth.

No wonder Tony and others were so surprised, mainly because they had never seen such a transformation.

Although the Hulk is a classic example, it is still within their acceptable range, but what about the Saiyans?

What about the law of conservation of mass?

Has the mass-energy conversion achieved biological transformation technology?

Tony's mind is full of the Saiyan biological transformation technology that has broken through the sky, so that the mass-energy conversion can be achieved in individual life.

The question is, what's the use of becoming so big?

Captain Marvel also thinks so. It's not like she hasn't encountered huge creatures on alien planets, but these creatures are limited by their weight, gravity and their own nerve reflex speed, and their movements are extremely slow.

Although they are thick-skinned, after all, their own weight + gravity, if their bodies are not strong enough, they will be crushed to pieces if they move.

However, for Captain Marvel, if you are a little slower, he can kill you.

This is the situation of Raditz in Captain Marvel's view now.

However, she doesn't know how terrible Raditz is at this time.

What is the concept of increasing combat power tenfold?

Raditz's current combat power is 15,000!!!

Many people don't have a concept of a combat power of 10,000, but it has been shown in the Dragon Ball animation. King Vegeta, who has a combat power of 10,000, flicked his cape and directly blasted three planets of different sizes and not close to each other from a long distance with his Qi!

There was no attacking action throughout the whole process, just flicking his cape.

In the original TV version, Vegeta, who has a combat power of more than 10,000, blasted two planets that were still fighting with two Qigong waves with one hand before going to the earth!

At this moment, Raditz has a combat power of 15,000, which is really destroying the earth and the moon at will. Considering the distance, it may not threaten other planets in the solar system, but the Qi will not be exhausted. This is the most outrageous point.

The Qi emitted can even push Broly all the way to the sun. You know, it takes more than eight minutes for light to travel, not to mention the Qigong wave that was just casually fired when destroying a star.

Before destroying something, the Qi will keep flying, so there are often jokes about Qigong waves that shoot into the air randomly picking a lucky planet to explode or a series of lucky planets to explode.

Captain Marvel, who has not yet realized the seriousness of the matter, intends to use her speed advantage to beat and kill Raditz.

But unexpectedly, Raditz reached out and grabbed her.

Under the blessing of Qi, even the nerve reflex speed and movement speed of the giant ape will not be much slower. At most, it is not as fast as the other guy with similar combat power.

But Captain Marvel and Raditz are now far behind.

So it is not surprising that he was caught by Raditz.

"What???"

Captain Marvel couldn't believe it. Raditz's speed was so fast that she couldn't see it clearly. She only saw a huge black shadow flashing, and then she was caught.

Raditz's hand exerted a little force, and Captain Marvel felt the pain of comminuted fractures of both arms and legs, and even the ribs were squeezed and broken, piercing into her lungs, causing Captain Marvel to cough up blood and bleed from her mouth, nose and respiratory organs.

If an ordinary person suffered this degree of injury, their lungs would be filled with a large amount of blood flowing back into their arteries, causing suffocation and death in a short while. However,

Captain Marvel had a strong vitality, so this kind of injury only made her have difficulty breathing, feel suffocated, and easily go into shock.

Even if left alone, it can recover by itself.

Raditz, as a Saiyan, was overwhelmed by his easy-going personality. He did not intend to kill Captain Marvel. He wanted to torture her and let her know that Saiyans are the strongest, and there is also a way for Earthlings to increase their combat effectiveness.

After a while, Captain Marvel was tortured to death by Raditz.

"See, we Saiyans are the strongest, hahahaha!!!"

Raditz was excited.

At this moment, a bomber passed over his head and a black dot fell from the sky.

However, Raditz's nerve reflex speed at this time was so fast that an ordinary person's perception of one second was as long as an hour in his perception. Although the bomber was fast, it was easily counterattacked by Raditz.

A mouth cannon turned the bomber and the pilot who did not have time to parachute into ashes!

Tony's eyes widened as he looked at the energy data that was off the charts again. He had just rebuilt the energy detection, and the result was off the charts again. The energy that Raditz had just released was millions of times greater than the total energy produced by humans from the Stone Age to today!

How could there be such an outrageous creature!

Tony had already calculated what the consequences would be if that shot had landed on Earth
