

Kryptonian 351

Chapter 351 Unprecedented Nuclear Bombing

If that energy falls on the earth, it will directly vaporize hundreds of millions of tons of soil and cause a major earthquake!

This unprecedented earthquake will shake the entire California, Nevada, Arizona... Most of America will be shaken by this earthquake, and then the land will sink. From then on, a huge gap will appear in the entire America forever.

What kind of April Fool's joke is this! ! !

Tony is desperate. Facing such an enemy, how can they win?

The bombers dropped hydrogen bombs, or the three most powerful hydrogen bombs in America.

Not only that, there are also hydrogen bombs and low-yield nuclear bombs launched from missile launch bases.

America is crazy, Los Angeles is gone, and the entire California is almost gone. If America doesn't go crazy again, who knows if the entire America will become history tomorrow?

Their researchers and scholars of strategic biology formed a countermeasure team and calculated that it was impossible to solve the powerful alien life of Saiyans with nuclear bombs, but if thousands or even tens of thousands of nuclear bombs were used, it would still be possible to pile up the opponent to death.

After all, no matter how powerful the Saiyans are, they are still living beings. Living beings must obey the laws of physics. There is no life that is inexhaustible, immortal, or like a perpetual motion machine!

It depends on whether America can show such courage. After the war, they will have to face the radiation everywhere and even the radiation cloud pollution that lasts for several years.

America's big man finally decided.

There is a future only when you are alive. Anyway, it is not the men who suffer, and at most they can live in another country. If the earth is gone, then they will be gone.

The number of nuclear warheads in America now is between 5,800 and 6,000. The 1,419 nuclear bombs announced are deployed. As for those that are not deployed, there is no need for them to announce them, right?

They took out more than a thousand nuclear warheads and carried out a comprehensive nuclear strike against Raditz.

This unprecedented nuclear tactic has caused Vodka and the North to express strong concern. The two nuclear giants also said that if America's nuclear warheads are insufficient, they will be happy to support it.

The North even said that they had just counted their inventory and found that there were more than 100 large-yield hydrogen bombs left, all of which were small items with an equivalent of 50 million tons.

America has deployed 662 intercontinental ballistic missiles, submarine-launched missiles and heavy bombers.

There are a total of 1,419 nuclear warheads deployed on intercontinental ballistic missiles, submarine-launched missiles and heavy bombers, and now all of them are launched!

They don't want to be caught publishing the wrong number, so these 1,419 nuclear bombs are the total number of nuclear bombs for this nuclear tactical strike.

Then they also rejected the nuclear support of Vodka and the North. They judged others by their own experience. They didn't trust the two nuclear giants. What if they launched dirty bombs and nuclear garbage? What if they aimed "wrongly" and the coordinates were off by 1 decimal point, it would be hundreds of kilometers away. They could say they made a mistake no matter where they hit.

Not only that, the old man left America directly. A gentleman should not stand under a dangerous wall. Anyway, he might as well go on vacation recently.

Raditz didn't know this. He speculated that it was probably a weapon used by the people of this planet to fight back.

If it was the original body, Raditz would still be a little worried and would dodge, but he is now a giant ape, with more than 10,000 combat power. Raditz is so inflated that how could the earth have weapons that can hurt him?

So, along with the explosion of the first large-yield hydrogen bomb, the other two hydrogen bombs exploded soon after, releasing their own light and heat. The shock wave and explosion instantly turned this area into a high-temperature and high-pressure death zone. The fleeting absolute destructive temperature also brought Raditz a little trouble, but not much.

The temperature at the center was very high, but the duration was too short. At most, Raditz's hair was permed into a curly-haired gorilla.

The thousands of nuclear warheads that followed were the biggest.

Raditz was in a mess. He had not yet adapted to the highlight of the hydrogen bomb explosion and was blinded by the light. However, the blindness of ordinary people was at most a weakened version of the sun fist on Raditz.

However, such a short time was enough for these nuclear warheads to strike.

"Boom boom boom boom boom ---!!!"

Thousands of suns created a strange scene of a thousand suns competing for the sky. The air in the entire area had disappeared and became a theoretical vacuum state. All kinds of deadly light radiation, heat radiation, and gamma rays were overwhelming. Ordinary people could not survive even for a second.

Captain Marvel relied on absorbing energy to repair her injuries. She was surprised but not angry that America used so many nuclear bombs. After all, she was defeated. If she could still fight against being bombed by nuclear bombs, she would definitely not have such a good temper.

The huge shock wave and electromagnetic wave caused the vehicles and houses on the ground to fly like pieces of paper.

The storm seemed to last forever, and the night sky lit up.

The starry sky at night disappeared, leaving only a huge, red, shining world like the sun.

An explosion that was enough to dye the night sky red like lava!

Nearly two thousand nuclear warheads were fired at the same time, and America secretly launched four hundred more nuclear warheads. After all, Raditz changed from a human form to a gorilla, and all data had to be recalculated. They didn't have time to recalculate.

Captain Marvel has been defeated, Tony is missing, and Hulk was blown to pieces. In this case, who knows whether Raditz will destroy the surface civilization after losing control. Can their nuclear strikes capture Raditz who is flying at ten times the speed of sound in human form?

I am afraid that they can't even clean up the ground. It is better to strike when he turns into a gorilla, but because there is no time to calculate the data, they can only launch 400 more nuclear warheads in the end, that is, a total of 1819 nuclear warheads!

It is indeed unprecedented... But even so, it is still far from the effect of redrawing the map.

Humans have overestimated the power of their nuclear warheads countless times. In fact, even if all the nuclear warheads on the earth are fired at the same time, the damage caused is not as good as a hurricane, a volcanic eruption or a major earthquake.

The sound of the explosion went halfway around the earth and can be observed in Brazil.

All artificial satellites have basically malfunctioned.

After such a terrifying explosion, Raditz still stands on the ground!

"What a ridiculous attack."

Raditz started his activities, and his target was still Captain Marvel.

As for the bombing with thousands of nuclear warheads?

Those attacks would only raise dust.

Chapter 352 The Earth's Water is Too Deep

Tony had no hope that the nuclear bomb would succeed from the beginning, because only he knew how terrible Raditz was now.

Raditz could not be killed by a nuclear bomb. Even if he was bombed by all the nuclear bombs of mankind, it would not hurt Raditz as much as Captain Marvel.

Captain Marvel staggered to his feet.

"Carol!"

Nick Fury already knew that Captain Marvel was no match for Raditz, not to mention that Raditz had become so exaggerated now. If he continued to fight, Carol would die!

So he wanted Carol to leave. No matter what, Carol was the hope of mankind.

There was another group of people who were very anxious.

The Skrulls.

The reason they stayed on Earth was because Nick Fury took in these alien refugees, and then Nick Fury promised to help them find a new home.

But now that the Earth was attacked by other aliens, it seemed that even Captain Marvel had no way to deal with him, and was no match for him. What should they do?

The Skrulls did not want to sit and wait for death, but they had no better way.

It would be fine if they could have taken the Martian immigrants with Emperor Luther before, but the problem is that Emperor Luther was too lazy to pay attention to them.

Loki was also anxious.

"Why have I never heard of this Saiyan?"

Loki witnessed the entire live broadcast. Although humans could not continue to observe the nuclear explosion area, excessive nuclear radiation would burn out the observation equipment, but Loki was not an ordinary person and could continue to watch with any magic.

So he could witness the horror of Raditz.

When did Midgard become so dangerous?

If Raditz did not appear, there was Captain Marvel. Loki was not sure to deal with Captain Marvel and could only rely on the Mind Scepter to control him.

"Damn, this guy is too powerful."

After Loki saw Raditz walk out of the nuclear bomb explosion unscathed and showed terrifying power, his idea of ruling Midgard had disappeared. The question now was not whether he could rule Midgard, but whether he could escape.

God knows what this Saiyan will do next?

"Sir, we at Hydra don't have a spaceship."

Sitwell said hurriedly. With Pierce and Crossbones both being raised by Captain Marvel, he became the supreme commander of Hydra. Although the other supreme leaders of the Hydra were all controlled by Loki, who made Loki use Sitwell the most easily?

He didn't know that the Quinjet of SHIELD had the ability to fly in space.

Although there was also a reason for accidentally crossing the wormhole to go to Sakaar, Thor and his team flew out of Sakaar with the Quinjet.

"Where is that guy Black Caesar?"

Loki felt very unsafe. Before that, he had to find Black Caesar to protect himself. Moreover, maybe Black Caesar had a spaceship?

Even if there was no spaceship, it would be safer than now.

Kunlun!

"The breath of destruction, the unimaginable evil demon from outer space..."

All forces on Earth felt uneasy because of the power shown by Raditz.

Even a huge monster and a great existence inside the earth had fluctuations.

The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One suppressed this fluctuation, but if Raditz continued to wreak havoc, it would only be a matter of time before the child woke up.

At the same time, in a prison in America, a man with sloppy blond hair was trembling and hiding under the bed. His "addiction" was broken.

Now that the prisoners and guards in the prison have escaped, no one will care about a drug addict.

In New York, a young working woman wearing glasses drooled at Raditz.

"It's so big, it must be delicious..."

These things can only be seen by Luther.

"My goodness, the one in the prison is a sentinel? He deleted his memory and hid in the prison because he was afraid that the personality of Nothingness would get out of control..."

"The drooling silly woman is Ganata, the daughter of the Devourer of Stars, the only two remaining Devourers of Planets who eat everything..."

Luther looked at the earth and felt that the water on the earth was too deep.

However, there should be no such characters in the movie universe, unless it was because of his appearance that the movie universe began to develop into the comic universe?

The children of the Eternals and the Celestials are not bad, at least there are such characters in the movie.

But the Sentinels and the Daughter of Galactus are not included.

His real name is Robert Reynolds. He was originally a drug addict. He broke into a professor's laboratory to get drugs and accidentally drank the secret formula invented by the professor. He gained powerful abilities, but this energy also created a negative personality in Robert's body, that is, nothingness.

In order to protect humans from the threat of nothingness, Robert had to delete and rewrite all the memories related to him, including himself.

Then he sneaked into the prison and became a criminal.

The Sentinels, whose mental will is very fragile, have been hiding their existence. Everyone, including himself, thinks that he is just a drug addict.

As for Ganata, her origin is even more bizarre. She is the daughter of Galactus, one of the five gods of the universe.

However, it is not very appropriate to say that she is the daughter of Galactus, because she was a cosmic tapeworm in Galactus' body at that time. Because Galactus absorbed a lot of pure cosmic energy after the Big Bang, she matured.

Later, the same cosmic tapeworm appeared in her body, and then she caused a series of incidents for this. Finally, she learned from her father that the cosmic tapeworm was not a parasite, but her child. In other words, she was pregnant and became a mother without a boyfriend!

Ganata's combat power is unknown. After all, there is too little about her performance. We only know that she can eat everything and has "tableware" that can turn all matter into energy and then eat. It was made for her by the Devourer of Planets.

As for Kunlun, it should be the so-called dragon Shou Lao. Anyway, Shou Lao is not a real dragon.

Today's Iron Fist inheritance should not be affected. I don't know if it is Danny, one of the only two most useless Iron Fists, or Danny's father, but it may also be Wu Fengming, the strongest female Iron Fist in history.

Luther said that the water is too deep, so he should not get involved.

"However, with these characters, can I get Vegeta, Napa, Frieza, and other characters in the future? Loss, I should have let the Taotie Army invade the earth earlier."

Luther found a new fun.

Captain Marvel couldn't hold out for long in front of Raditz, and was beaten all over by Raditz again. She fell to the ground covered with wounds, and was hit by Raditz again and again.

Chapter 353 Raditz is speechless

Nick Fury didn't care about the nuclear radiation pollution.

Seeing Captain Marvel being hit by Raditz's punch after punch, his heart was bleeding.

Being a level 10 agent doesn't mean he doesn't care about anything. Maybe Nick Fury can tear up other people's umbrellas indifferently, but his own umbrella can never be torn up.

Raditz now has a combat power of tens of thousands. Even if he doesn't use Qigong waves, the energy level generated by each punch is enough to rival the collision of heaven and earth and the asteroid impact that destroyed the dinosaurs.

Captain Marvel knew how powerful it was after taking a punch, so she didn't escape. She relied on the binary state to absorb kinetic energy with each punch.

This energy allows Captain Marvel to absorb it, but Qi can only absorb part of it, and the rest will all deal real damage.

If facing other people, Captain Marvel would naturally not have such problems and embarrassment. After all, once the binary star is opened, it can only attack but not defend, and it is unparalleled in the world.

The binary state is the strongest spear and the strongest shield of Captain Marvel, but it's just that when it encounters a visitor from the outer universe like Raditz, it suffers a great loss.

I don't know why OAA has not updated the version.

At this time, Captain Marvel desperately absorbed the kinetic energy of Raditz's fist, which prevented the human civilization on Earth from being destroyed by Raditz's casual punch.

Even so, Captain Marvel screamed again and again.

It was really sad and tearful.

Tony couldn't help but send out his nano suit to make a suicide attack, and the space fortress didn't care about exposing the danger of being locked by Raditz, and fired a plasma jet at Raditz.

But Raditz didn't care about the harassment and attack of these things at all.

"No more hesitation!"

After seeing that the nuclear bomb didn't work, the two nuclear giants Vodka and the North ignored America's protest. Their nuclear warheads were all locked on Raditz, and they were also rushing to produce hydrogen bombs with larger yields.

The current situation is very clear. The greatest weapon of mankind has been ignored by Raditz, but humans don't want to surrender. Except for America, they think they can surrender to Raditz. They can help Raditz manage humans.

Anyway, after the nuclear bomb didn't work, they have realized that humans have come to the edge of the cliff. It depends on what Raditz plans to do next.

They don't want to die.

Nuclear bombs fell around Raditz like rain, and Raditz didn't care about these nuclear bomb fireworks.

For him, dangerous radiation can't penetrate his Qi defense. Even if it can, it can be ignored with the powerful body after the giant ape transformation.

Raditz is interested in Captain Marvel's ability to hold on for so long.

"I didn't expect that there are still guys like you on Earth, but it's useless. We Saiyans are the strongest!"

Raditz raised his foot and stepped heavily.

Captain Marvel roared, absorbing a lot of kinetic energy and launched a counterattack at this moment.

Hit Raditz's chin at a sub-light speed.

"What???"

Raditz was knocked off balance, but he was not injured.

Captain Marvel quickly spun around, turning herself into a drill, using photon energy as the tip, and began to spin wildly under Raditz's chin.

Raditz punched Captain Marvel away, and several of his hairs had been drilled off. If Captain Marvel continued to drill, he might have alopecia!

Captain Marvel was very stubborn. After being punched and flying far away, she came back again. This time, Captain Marvel learned her lesson and turned into an electric drill from the sky, with a speed of one million revolutions per second, plus the tip formed by extremely condensed photon energy, I don't believe that she can't penetrate Raditz's body with one blow!

Raditz looked up at the sky and was about to open his mouth to fire a mouth cannon, when a familiar voice appeared.

"Hulk————!!!"

Raditz looked over, and before he could react, a big green guy jumped on his head and swung his fist to hit his head wildly.

The beating made Raditz...itchy and tingling.

He didn't know that this was the treatment of Surtur in the future, but Raditz was definitely much stronger than Surtur.

"You guy, you're not dead yet???"

Raditz shook his head in disbelief and threw Hulk away, and then Raditz said.

He used all his strength to send a Qigong wave, why didn't Hulk die? The difference in combat power was almost doubled.

Moreover, Raditz felt itchy and tingling just now, and the Hulk's body obviously became taller and stronger, obviously it became stronger again!

This made Raditz speechless, but it was not over yet, and the twin hammers Thor appeared with lightning and gravity wrapped around his body.

"Saiyan, here I come!!!"

Thor didn't know what happened to him at this time, but he felt like he became very fierce.

His body was full of power, and this power even broke through the divine power seal that Odin had set for him. The hellfire started burning again, but this time it was much better. It was not fueled by his soul, but by his divine power.

The blazing hellfire, the power of Thor, and gravity, these three powers made Thor's strength surge!

Seeing Thor like this, Luther wondered how powerful it would be if he taught him to rotate the magnetic field.

Thor, who had a blessing in disguise, roared and swung his double hammers to hit Raditz, and then was punched by Raditz and flew to the North Pole.

It flew all the way to the North Pole at supersonic speed before stopping.

And Hulk was hit to the ground by Raditz's mouth cannon, which penetrated the crust thousands of meters deep and buried Hulk deep underground before stopping.

Hulk blocked most of the energy, and then most of his body began to melt.

Qi is still too advanced for him.

Captain Marvel successfully drilled into Raditz's forehead because of the restraint of Hulk and Thor. Raditz's head hurt, and he stretched out his hand to try to grab Captain Marvel, but was dodged by Captain Marvel.

At the same time, a skull wearing a black leather jacket drove a motorcycle into the area full of death radiation.

Ghost Rider!

Luther found that it was Johnny Blaze, the unlucky guy. Obviously, the soul of Zatanos was in his hands, but he still couldn't get rid of the fate of becoming Ghost Rider, but it seemed right, after all, his soul was in Mephisto's hands.

"But without the soul of Zatanos, what can he do?"

Luther shook his head.

Ghost Rider drove his motorcycle and approached quickly. Raditz was busy dealing with Captain Marvel and didn't care about Ghost Rider.

Chapter 354: Raditz can't make much of a difference

Then Ghost Rider approached Raditz and threw out his chain, wrapping one of Raditz's hands.

However, Raditz could not be pulled by him. Captain Marvel saw a burning skull riding a motorcycle and rushed over. She couldn't help but start to wonder what happened to the earth after she left for so many years. Why did so many strange things appear?

"What the hell is this?"

Captain Marvel was caught by Raditz as soon as she finished speaking.

After all, the gap in strength between the two sides was too big. Raditz was just not used to this kind of situation of beating mosquitoes at the beginning. The opponents he had encountered before who needed to turn into giant apes were easily crushed.

Captain Marvel could only survive for so long by being flexible at best, but as the saying goes, I can make many mistakes, and you can only make one mistake.

Captain Marvel, this annoying mosquito, was finally caught by Raditz!

But at the moment when Raditz caught Captain Marvel, the world around him began to change.

Raditz was immediately at a loss and looked at the layers of the world around him.

"What's going on?"

Raditz had no idea how he got here, and suddenly, the Captain Marvel in his hand disappeared.

Raditz was startled. He felt like he had grabbed something, but now his hands were empty. It must be an illusion, right?

Luther looked at this scene meaningfully, and by the way, the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One smiled at him. The two were far apart, but it did not affect their communication and exchange.

The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One finally took action. After all, if Raditz continued to make trouble, the earth would probably be gone, and then the sleeping baby of the Celestial Group in the earth would also wake up.

So the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One had no choice but to use the mirror space to pull Raditz in to solve it.

This is a special space that is completely independent of the main world. Although the reality of the main universe will be projected into the mirror space exactly, people in the mirror space cannot affect the real world.

In battle, space magic also has the function of trapping the enemy. According to Marvel's setting, only space portals can be used to leave the mirror space, even the caster himself is no exception.

For the real world, this "mirror" is a higher-level latitude "reflection". This "mirror world" can be disassembled and changed by mastering the rules of space magic. The real space used here is completely meaningless.

Through this mirror space, you can find that the original space can also be folded, and the matter in the space can also change with the folding of the space. You can see that the matter is also folded with the space.

This is because the space at this time exists under different "latitudes", and the real world we think of still exists in three-dimensional space.

The ancient wizard once said that they often use this mirror space to learn magic or monitor the real world.

The main function of the mirror space is to create a home field that is conducive to the wizard's battle, so every Supreme Wizard must master it.

It can be understood that this mirror space is the "field magic" of the Supreme Wizard.

Raditz opened his mouth and spit out a mouth cannon, which directly destroyed a large number of buildings in the mirror space.

Ancient One I was slightly surprised by Raditz's destructive power, but as she continued to cast spells, the layers of mirror space filled the gaps in the buildings. Under her control, tens of millions of high-rise buildings that were copied from the same mold fell on Raditz.

Raditz caught the trace of Ancient One and fired a mouth cannon to attack Ancient One crazily.

Ancient One frowned and deflected one hand, and the mirror space also rotated, making Raditz feel dizzy and unable to distinguish up, down, left, and right. He also fell from the "sky" and fell on the "ground".

Then it fell from the "sky" again and fell on the "ground".

In this way, the whole mirror space became like a huge drum washing machine, and the new buildings that kept popping up were weapons used to attack Raditz.

But Raditz was naturally fine. He was very angry and struggled madly. Finally, he flew up and got rid of this upside-down, left-right and right-side-down situation.

Raditz gathered his energy and planned to destroy this weird place with all his strength!

"Saiyans... are really powerful. "

The Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One said with emotion, so he no longer hesitated and used the power of Dormammu.

The dark energy was absorbed by Ancient One like a tide, and then Ancient One took out the Eye of Agamotto.

Luther saw that Raditz was time-reversed by Ancient One and returned to before he became a giant ape. Then a fully restored Hulk appeared in the mirror space. It was confused and didn't know what was going on. After seeing Raditz, Hulk suddenly had a target!

"Hulk!!!"

Hulk yelled at Raditz.

Raditz looked at his body in disbelief.

What's going on? It seems that he has forgotten something important?

Time reversal does not only reversal Raditz's state. He has no sense of time, so naturally his memory is also reversal.

So before Raditz could react, he was punched in the face by Hulk and flew out.

"The Supreme Sorcerer has a good method. He reversals time and then lets Hulk deal with the Saiyans. "

Luther's voice appeared in Gu Yi's ears.

"The Saiyans have endangered the earth, and I just want to protect the earth."

Gu Yi said calmly.

That's why she didn't continue to attack, but just reversed time and put Hulk and Captain Marvel into the mirror space, so that Raditz couldn't continue to transform with the help of the moon.

With the wisdom and experience of the Supreme Sorcerer who has lived for so many years, of course, he can see that the key to Raditz's victory is the moon. She trapped Raditz in this mirror space with only one city, and Raditz couldn't transform with the help of the moon.

It's a pity that Luther originally wanted to come out to save the situation at the end, or Black Caesar to come out to save the situation.

But it doesn't seem strange?

With the Eye of Agamotto, Ancient One basically dies whoever comes, and Vegeta is no exception.

Raditz is naturally no match for Hulk and Captain Marvel, whose strength has been strengthened to more than a thousand. He created a moon for himself without saying a word.

Raditz will definitely use the trick of using Qi to create the moon, otherwise he can't stay with Vegeta and Naba, otherwise, wouldn't he be worse than a cultivator?

The reason he came to find Kakarot was because he valued Kakarot's ability to transform into a giant ape, which would have a combat power of at least several thousand by then.

Chapter 355 The most terrifying prisoner in history

Seeing that Raditz could turn into a giant ape, the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One felt that it was unexpected but reasonable.

After all, if the Saiyans knew that they had such an ability, they could not rely entirely on natural celestial bodies such as the moon. Otherwise, what if there was no moon when they were in danger?

But in front of Ancient One, Raditz had just turned into a giant ape when time went back again.

In the end, Raditz was caught by Captain Marvel and Hulk, and the Supreme Sorcerer Ancient One also released them from the mirror space.

Nick Fury rushed to the nuclear explosion site almost immediately, and then saw Captain Marvel and Hulk appear with Raditz who was like a dead dog.

He retained his memory and knew how terrible Raditz was after he turned into a giant ape, but Carol and the others actually won?

How did they win?

"Let's not talk about this matter first, we have to lock this guy up."

Captain Marvel knocked Raditz unconscious and said.

"I will arrange a place immediately!"

Nick Fury didn't say anything else, just nodded.

The place where the most terrifying monsters in history, the Saiyans, are imprisoned must be carefully considered.

Tony imprisoned Raditz in his space fortress without saying a word.

"It is far away from the earth, there is enough safe space, and the main body is made of vibranium, which is very strong. Even the Saiyans can't break free!"

Tony said to everyone confidently.

"And there are benefits to being far away from the earth. The earth is a mess now. Ultron's troubles have not been solved. After the aliens were solved before, Ultron and the group of robots disappeared."

This is a big trouble. Who knows what Ultron wants to do with those robots?

"This trouble is caused by you, Stark!"

Nick Fury said angrily. This kind of safety hazard made Nick Fury want to lock up Tony Stark, the troublemaker.

"I will solve this trouble, absolutely!"

Tony said seriously. He has already started to repair Jarvis. It just so happens that a previous brain hole now needs to be implemented.

That is a super-large space server composed entirely of nanorobots, which is used to house three artificial intelligences, Jarvis, Friday, and Veronica.

The earth is becoming more and more dangerous, and Tony can only do this.

"And Loki, we haven't caught him either. What's wrong with S.H.I.E.L.D., why are there so many Hydras?"

Then Tony pointed the finger at Nick Fury, almost saying that he was negligent.

Nick Fury's face turned black. If Carol hadn't appeared in time, he would have died under the gun of his old friend.

"I will solve the problem of Hydra. This Saiyan will be handed over to you, Tony, don't do anything to me this time!"

Nick Fury couldn't think of any good solution for a while, so he had to agree.

After all, even if he wanted to rebuild a place to imprison Raditz, it would not be so easy.

To the outside world, it was naturally announced that the Saiyans had been solved and the alien invasion was over.

Internally, the five major nuclear giants all knew that the Saiyans had not been solved, but they imprisoned the Saiyans and wanted to learn about the Saiyans from this Saiyan.

Even America, who coveted the Saiyans, didn't say anything this time. After all, most of America's territory had disappeared and turned into a ruin.

In response, other states wanted to break away from America and become independent.

America itself is just a super-large giant enterprise disguised as a country.

No matter how it disguises itself, it is a giant enterprise, but when a giant enterprise develops to a great extent, its structure will be like the class of an empire, and each institution will be filled with people from the board of directors to form control over the enterprise.

Now that the Saiyan invasion and the Chitauri invasion have caused this giant enterprise to face bankruptcy, or the risk of bankruptcy, the remaining shareholders must stop the loss in time.

These big things alone have made America overwhelmed. Anyone with a discerning eye can see that America, the world hegemon, the world police, and the world's first military power, now has the possibility of disintegration!

Ancient One is also bad. He didn't turn back the time of the real world, leaving such a big mess.

It is also possible that she did it on purpose.

Tony learned the whole process and details of the Saiyan battle from Captain Marvel, Hulk and his own records.

After the battle, Captain Marvel did not plan to leave the earth. On the one hand, she had to help Nick Fury, her friend, clean up the mess, such as looking for Hydra and Loki.

On the other hand, she had to prevent Raditz, a dangerous Saiyan, from escaping. After all, the only people who could fight him were herself, Hulk and Black Caesar in Hydra.

And Emperor Luther on Mars.

After hearing from Tony that Luther was unwilling to fight, Captain Marvel wanted to "visit" Luther.

The last aspect was that Captain Marvel was not sure whether there would be another alien invasion.

Two waves of alien invasions at once made Captain Marvel numb. If the invasion of the Kree a long time ago was counted, the earth had been invaded by aliens for the third time.

This kind of situation would only happen on those prosperous planets in this fucking universe. Why would a remote place like Earth have such a remote place?

At present, Captain Marvel's primary goal is to find Hydra and Loki, the Asgardian who opened the space channel for the Chitauri to invade!

In addition, there is Black Caesar, the leader of the dangerous elements, who is so powerful that Captain Marvel wants to see what it means to be powerful.

I have fought against Saiyans, let alone Black Caesar?

In this regard, the earthlings and Thor hit it off. Thor also needs to find his brother and the Cosmic Cube to repair the Rainbow Bridge and capture Loki and bring him home.

So Thor temporarily reached a cooperation with them.

By the way, Thor can also help deal with the current problems on Earth.

Tony looked down on Captain Marvel and Thor and did not invite them to join the Illuminati. The Illuminati is such a powerful organization. Everyone has to have both force and wisdom. Wouldn't it lower their IQ to bring them in?

Raditz has a strong vitality and wakes up soon.

Tony was a little scared when he saw Raditz wake up. After all, this alien was a monster that could destroy a city with a single blow.

"Hey, what do you think of this bedroom built especially for you?"

Tony said jokingly.

Chapter 356 Big trouble is coming

"Stupid earthlings..."

Raditz felt hurt all over his body, so he looked at Tony with a sneer.

This smile made Tony feel bad, but he had been locked in a vibranium cage by himself, and it was impossible to break out of it. Moreover, for safety reasons, and because he did not know the body functions of Saiyans and Earthlings. The difference was that Tony did not rush to treat Raditz.

It was just a matter of feeding him saline to keep him alive.

"Now it seems that you are stupid. The earth is not as simple a place as you think. I just want to say that you are looking for the wrong place, alien monkey."

Tony said sarcastically, using verbal sarcasm to cover up his inner uneasiness and guilt, while at the same time trying to stimulate Raditz to say what he wanted to know and hear.

"Feel proud...anyway, the people on this planet will not be able to escape the fate of destruction in the near future."

Raditz continued.

"What's the meaning?"

Tony asked immediately.

"Do you want to know? It doesn't matter...cough cough cough...after all, you are about to die too..."

Raditz laughed, then coughed up blood.

"Say it quickly!"

Tony was worried.

"Hahahaha, the instrument I wore on my face not only can detect life energy, but can also be used as a communication device!"

Raditz said with a sneer.

"Communication device——???"

Tony's heart skipped a beat, and he already had a very bad idea.

He originally thought that the Saiyan spaceship might have a positioning device or something. In order to prevent America from being killed by SHIELD and Hydra, he had temporarily created a lead-layered + graphite + vibranium room. I sealed the spherical spaceship and planned to study it when I have time.

But now tell yourself, that spacecraft does not have a positioning program, but the previous thing that looks like a functional detector like a radar has the function of a communication device?

How is it possible to achieve such a small size yet so many functions?

Is the energy battery technology so advanced? There is obviously no reactor in sight!

"It seems that you have already thought of it. Everything before, including the information until the combat power detector was destroyed, I have already sent all the information to my companions!"

Raditz saw Tony's reaction and knew that he had understood what he was going to say. He laughed, that's what he looked like!

He just wanted to see such an expression!

"Your companion? Are they other Saiyans? It doesn't matter. If we can defeat you, we can defeat them!"

Tony pretended to be calm and said to Raditz.

"It's really stupid. My strength is not at the same level as that of my companions. I believe that my companions will come to this planet soon, and they will come to save me then!"

Raditz said disdainfully. This man didn't even feel embarrassed at all when he laughed at himself.

"If they really come, I will kill you first!"

Tony said to Raditz with wide eyes.

"Haha! I didn't expect that a strong warrior like me would end up dead in the hands of a loser like you! In the end, you got the advantage! What a pity Kakarot, I don't know what happened to him?"

"...Earthlings, I, I, I can only say that you have done a good job. However, don't think that this is the end. In one year, two other Saiyans will come to Earth, and they are stronger than me! They will definitely avenge me."

"Anyway, you will be wiped out and become the scum of the universe! Haha! Enjoy these last moments! You cannot be their opponent, and you'd better pray right away that they won't come! Otherwise..."

...

Captain Marvel, Thor, Nick Fury, Captain America, Dr. Banner and others gathered together.

"Tony, did you learn something from the Saiyans?"

Nick Fury asked directly when he came up.

Everyone didn't know what they were looking for, but now after hearing Nick Fury's words, they immediately looked at Tony expectantly.

"Yeah, we're in big trouble."

Tony sighed, looking gloomy, and then said to the others.

Although he didn't let anyone else join the Illuminati, it was now a collaboration between the Illuminati and the Avengers, so Tony didn't care.

"What's the big trouble?"

Captain Marvel asked directly.

"Several Saiyans will come again soon! And their strength will be far more powerful and terrifying than this!"

Tony said bluntly.

"What, no! Are you sure!"

Nick Fury and Captain America were shocked by the information Tony said and replied in disbelief.

Several Saiyans? ? ?

You know, they almost blew up the earth just by fighting a Saiyan, and they still won inexplicably. Captain Marvel and Green Hulk couldn't explain how they won.

The Ancient One, the Sorcerer Supreme, didn't want to be harassed, so she turned back time along with Captain Marvel and the Green Hulk's memories.

Anyway, if it were to be recreated again, Captain Marvel and Green Hulk would have no chance of winning.

"That Saiyan has a device on his face that can be used for communication! They already know everything that happened here, and they will come to take revenge soon! I just don't know if it's been a year or a few years!"

Tony's tone was very excited, and of course he knew this, which was why he felt so anxious and hysterical.

Even Tony has been contacting Luther recently to see if he can send Pepper to him.

Accepting the asylum, Tony himself said that although he wanted to leave, he didn't know why, but he convinced himself in his heart that at the last moment, when it was irreversible, he would leave without looking back.

"Let them come, I'm not afraid of them. Midgard is Asgard's territory, and the Saiyans are Asgard's enemies!"

Thor said directly.

When it comes to fighting, Thor has never been timid, except when he faced the Green Hulk when his hammer was not in hand.

After all, that was the Hulk. Who would want to fight a beast, even without a weapon?

Although Nick Fury and the others felt unhappy about what he said about the earth being Asgard's territory, they all needed Asgard's power now, so no one had any objections.

"Instead of having time to say these words here, it's better to think about what to do. Otherwise, when the Saiyans come, you won't be able to survive it just by being so lucky today!"

Others expressed their opinions, and Black Widow and Hawkeye naturally didn't know what to do.

They are just agents and thugs, and of course they are good at dealing with the problems on Earth, but now they have to face the Saiyans!

Chapter 357 Searching for Black Caesar

"We must unite and find all the resistance forces on earth. We can win this time, but we may not win next time!"

Captain America said seriously.

"Captain, the people on Earth who are capable of handling this matter are all here now."

Captain Marvel has a feeling that Captain America is not as well-known as the one he met. Just listening to his stories will make him think that he is very tall. In fact, after meeting him, although he is still very tall, he still inevitably lags behind.

"No, there's someone else who can handle this."

Captain America shook his head.

"Who? Luther?"

Tony and Banner both thought of Luther.

Only Nick Fury thought of someone else.

"Black Caesar!"

"impossible!"

"That guy is Hydra. Don't forget, SHIELD is falling apart now. It's fragmented because Hydra is lurking in SHIELD!"

Everyone else objected excitedly, and Captain America was rarely silent. He also thought of the answer Black Caesar, but how to say it.

He is Captain America who fights against Hydra, a righteous man of God. He has almost no human flaws. Even Bucky is just a manifestation of his other side as a human being.

"Listen, if you plan to cooperate with terrorists, then I will withdraw from this war. I believe Luther will still welcome me there. Maybe I can become prime minister?"

Tony said half seriously and half jokingly.

"Of course it would be a good thing to find Luther, but now we have no choice. Luther refused to help the earth, and now it is a matter for all mankind. Tony, if Black Caesar does not stand up, we will win the battle by then. Black What if Caesar comes out to take over the world?"

Nick Fury made a simple statement.

Black Caesar is so powerful. If they don't bring him out to take the lead, what if they win with difficulty and then Black Caesar jumps out to pick up the fruits of victory?

"Black Caesar is not a fool. If he realizes this, he will not cooperate."

Tony said immediately.

"It's very simple. You find him, and then I'll convince him!"

Captain Marvel said simply and directly.

"I hate people who stab you in the back."

Thor, the God of Thunder, followed.

"If this guy named Black Caesar comes out, I will teach him a lesson!"

Captain Marvel and Thor are both confident, but Green Hulk and Tony are not so confident.

After all, they are all terrible people who have witnessed Black Caesar with their own eyes. Green Hulk was easily crushed and defeated. Except for Luther, all the strong men on their side were vulnerable to Black Caesar. of glass slag.

Not to mention that Black Caesar is surrounded by Red Tank and Bronski, a group of generals, and they are not vegetarians.

It is impossible to implement group fighting tactics. If they are singled out, they really have little confidence.

While Tony and the others were having a meeting, Rocky and the others were also having a meeting.

Hydra has been completely controlled by Loki, but they can't find the Hydra part of Black Caesar at all.

There were traces before, such as finding Bronski and the others, but now even this clue has been cut off.

Then Ultron came to the door. After all, Loki and Ultron had cooperated once, and it would not be difficult to cooperate again now.

Moreover, Ultron also sent the Ultron robot to recover a large number of Chitauri's weapons, equipment and bodies, and even mechanical Leviathan.

They don't know yet that the Saiyans will continue to invade, and they are making preparations to take control of the earth.

The cooperation between the two sides naturally has their own motives. Ultron immediately focused on Wakanda, but after several trials, it determined that Wakanda was not simple. With its power, it was very likely to overturn, so Ultron Found Loki.

"I need the power of Hydra and the power of His Majesty Loki. This place called Wakanda has a lot of vibranium, and the resource of vibranium is very beneficial to us."

Ultron has learned the hypocrisy of human beings and will take us with him no matter what. Of course, after it is done, I will be the only one left.

"Vibranium?"

Loki already knows what vibranium is. Although it is not as good as Uru metal in Loki's eyes, if vibranium can be used to build an army, it will be an invincible army.

So Loki is also interested in Wakanda, but he will definitely not give any piece of vibranium to Ultron in the end.

"You haven't even found Black Caesar, why should I cooperate with you?"

Loki said arrogantly to Ultron.

"I have monitored all places with electronic signals in the world, but I have not found Black Caesar, unless he is not on the earth, or he is not in the earth's space, but in other spaces."

Ultron said helplessly, he also wanted to find Black Caesar, but for such a powerful guy to come and go without a trace, anyone would be extremely afraid, let alone an ambitious person like Ultron.

"Not on Earth?"

Loki was startled, and then he began to think about this possibility.

It doesn't seem impossible!

If Black Caesar is not on Earth, or is on Earth, but not in the current space, then it would explain why their Hydras are spread across all walks of life and all over the world, and the artificial intelligence of electronic networks like Ultron is overwhelming. search.

As a result, not even a hair of Black Caesar was found, and Bronski and the others "disappeared" without a trace!

It is better to say that only this idea is correct.

I have actually ignored this point all along.

However, as the Cosmic Cube was forcibly taken away by Captain Marvel, the Cosmic Cube is now in Captain Marvel and his group.

Without this Key to the Worlds, even if they knew that Black Caesar might be hiding in other spaces on Earth, they would not be able to find Black Caesar.

Loki can only go back to the starting point and find a way to snatch the Cosmic Cube!

However, after experiencing the collapse of SHIELD by Hydra and the current changes, it is clear that the Cosmic Cube must be in a very safe place. This place is so safe that only a few people know about it.

Even if Loki has the Mind Scepter, he must find a few suitable targets first, otherwise, it is hard to say that Tony and his group will not be on guard.

After all, they have all seen Loki's way of controlling people, and Thor has experienced it personally, but now his hellfire has rekindled, and the effect of mind control on Thor has been greatly weakened.

Luther was very curious, is it possible for the Hellfire, which is fueled by divine power, to use the Eye of Judgment? If so, then Thor would be epically enhanced, although he is actually almost there now.

Chapter 358 Going to the New World to Purchase Goods

"So many people want to find me."

Luther looked at Captain Marvel's discussion meaningfully.

As Black Caesar, he needs to let this group of people see the horror of Black Caesar.

"Wakanda, this country has not contributed much to the Saiyan incident. However, if Ultron, Hydra and Loki join forces, it will not be difficult to capture Wakanda..."

Luther began to think about how he could have fun.

Originally, he wanted to have Black Caesar mobilize his entire army to take over Wakanda, but it seems that giving vibranium to Ultron could cause even greater trouble?

Or let Loki get it. At least Loki will have a good armed force by then, and Loki is the one who fears that the world will not be in chaos, so it is impossible for him to remain calm and not cause trouble.

Luther admires Loki even more. Not everyone can do things like this all year round.

"But don't worry, let's start a new world now."

Luther stretched himself. He had just experienced the big event of the Saiyan invasion, so he had to give them some time.

Fear, this emotion, Luther would not let go. After all, the source of fear was created by Luther.

When human beings are in constant fear, their emotions will gradually die.

Terror in the true sense does not refer to the static state without change but to the dynamic state of change, the transition from hope to despair, the terror of that moment.

This is the real aesthetics of death.

Luther is still a normal person, so he is not interested in the aesthetics of death and has no intention of pursuing it. He just plans to use this routine to harvest more negative emotions and energy.

In the DC universe, there are energies like the Seven Lantern Corps and the Emotional Spectrum, but in the Marvel Universe, only the Dimension Demon can harvest such energy and emotions.

However, the source has been scattered too much. Only by unifying the entire hell dimension and becoming the devil of Satan's dimension can we obtain all the negative energy and emotional power, a great devil at the level of the multiverse!

Therefore, chaos is what Luther needs. Whether it is negative emotions or positive emotions born in chaos, they are energy that can be harvested in the material dimension.

Compared with the soul, nature is inferior, but the advantage is to have enough.

Saiyans are still too supermodels. Luther wants new materials. Maybe DC is also a good choice. However, Luther doesn't plan to try to take anything away from DC to avoid being targeted.

The ability to travel is activated, and the figure on the throne has disappeared.

The familiar squeezing feeling, but now Luther's strength can be ignored, and the passage through is even as wide as the earth.

Such a large passage allowed Luther to observe the surroundings comfortably. He observed his own super power of time travel from his own perspective.

After receiving the original power of space integrated with the space gem, Luther became more and more confused as he gained a deeper understanding of his super power.

Is this really something space can do?

Or maybe I misunderstood that this super power of time travel is a dimensional ability?

But why can't I see any problems from the perspective of my own dimension demon?

What a headache and puzzling question.

Luther then arrived in the new world.

He landed slowly, and as soon as he came into this world, a dazzling ball of energy flew towards him.

Luther raised his eyebrows, and the energy light ball disappeared at a speed visible to the naked eye, leaving nothing behind.

This attracted the attention of the attacking being.

"Hero again?"

The other party approached at a very fast speed. Luther was startled when he saw the other party.

"Demon King Piccolo?"

Luther wonders, hasn't he already traveled through the Dragon Ball world? Could it be that this is another parallel world, Trunks's?

Then he quickly realized that there was something wrong with this Big Devil Piccolo, especially when the skin was purple. Luther remembered the character of the other party from his super brain.

"I didn't expect it to be this world...One Punch Man, Vaccine Man?"

Luther's eyes lit up. Just now he was thinking about the new world and hoping to have good fun.

Now, Luther thinks this fun is pretty good. After all, he was just thinking about buying goods, but he didn't expect that in the blink of an eye he would come to a world with abundant supplies.

One Hit Man, a world of traditional heroes and weirdos.

It's just that the weirdos here are very special, or even the heroes are very special, full of the power of my thoughts.

The appearance of the weirdo is very bizarre and funny.

1. Human beings mutate into weirdos: caused by bad habits or some kind of pressure. For example, if you like to pick your feet, congratulations, you may become a weirdo who picks your feet. People who like to take secret photos may also become a weirdo.

The crab weirdo Saitama met when he was an office worker even turned into a weirdo because he liked eating crabs.

All in all, the appearance of weirdos is very unreasonable.

Or mutated monsters caused by genetic mutations and other reasons.

2. Technology introduction: The armored gorilla and Asura Unicorn of "Evolution House" belong to this category.

3. Biological variation other than humans: variation in species other than humans caused by environmental pollution or other reasons.

4. Special intelligent creatures: underground people, sea people, etc.

5. A weirdo is someone who has given up being a human being and is completely separated from the human world.

In the original setting, due to the physical differences between species and individuals, creatures have limits that cannot be eliminated no matter how much effort is made.

The significance of the existence of this limit is to allow various creatures to grow within the scope of their own species' survival consciousness and rationality. This growth limit is called a limiter.

S-class heroes like War Terror Tornado can be considered to be born with great talents, that is, a larger range of limiters.

And when humans become monsters due to various external factors (such as the desire to transform, environmental induction, scientific transformation, etc.), they belong to the physical regeneration of creatures of other species, which is equivalent to resetting a new limiter.

The only creature in the comics who has successfully removed his own limiter while maintaining a human body is the protagonist Saitama.

If Luther came to this world when he just became a Kryptonian, he would definitely find ways to get Saitama's genes to study the ability to open the limiter.

Unfortunately, he first traveled through Dragon Ball and Super Seminary. Now, Luther doesn't need to study it, he can just copy it directly. Moreover, this ability seems to be able to grow exponentially. Theoretically, it is possible to grow into a cosmic structure or even a single universe.

The upper limit is unknown.

"Vaccine Man, it's also a good commodity."

Luther looked at the Vaccine Man.

Chapter 359 Packing

The monster's disaster level:

According to their threat level from high to low, they are divided into: gods, dragons, ghosts, tigers, and wolves. They are sometimes used to indicate the strength of monsters.

God: A crisis that could lead to the demise of humanity.

Dragon: A crisis that could lead to the destruction of several towns.

Ghost: A crisis that may lead to the paralysis or even destruction of a town.

Tiger: A crisis that may cause casualties.

Wolf: There are dangerous factors present.

...

The Vaccine Man is a "dragon-level disaster" in the Hero Association's definition.

The weirdo who appeared in City A, claiming to be born according to the will of the earth in order to prevent humans from continuing to pollute the environment, was defeated by Saitama with a punch when he was upgraded to the dragon level.

It looks ordinary in itself, but in fact its destructive power is very terrifying. When it first appeared, the power of throwing energy balls was more fierce and powerful than the Wandering Emperor and Poch later. It is speculated that it is a powerful dragon or even a "Dragon Peak".

But I heard that recently there are "Dragon Extreme" and "Dragon Above".

Later, the author himself did not say that Boros was a god-level disaster, but only said that "dragon or above" has this level. The previous dragon limit is not known.

Anyway, Luther only knows the levels of dragon-level disasters such as Uncle Long Shai Baoshan, Dragon Lower, Dragon Middle, Dragon Upper, Strong Dragon, and Dragon Top.

Among them, Qianglong and Longdian were originally one, but because of the appearance of Wang Dashen, they were separated into Qianglong and Longdian.

What I'm talking about here is the King Orochi who was killed in seconds. As for the Sei Orochi at the back, it's a dragon or above.

Don't look at the fact that the Vaccine Man is very weak after being dropped instantly. Its initial form is already a strong dragon, and after the transformation, it will most likely be a dragon. It's a pity that it encountered Saitama, otherwise it would definitely be able to show its great power.

After all, that transformation looks full of visuals and impact.

"Go to hell!"

Big Devil Piccolo... No, the Vaccine Man released more light balls towards Luther, and then one of its hands deformed, became extremely huge, and grabbed Luther.

"Yes, it can still change."

Luther still didn't make any move. The energy balls disappeared as soon as they approached, and the claws of the vaccine man stopped in front of Luther, unable to move even an inch.

The vaccine man felt an invisible force restraining his claws. Just as he was about to say something, he was knocked out of the sky by an invisible force and fell to the ground.

"Come on, let me see how good you are."

Luther floated in front of it and said expectantly.

The original plot was instantly killed, causing Luther to not even know the strength of the Vaccine Man, and he was also curious about what the Vaccine Man could do.

The vaccine man became angry, and his body quickly expanded, eventually turning into the dragon-like form in the original plot.

"Who do you think I am? I am the will of the earth, and I am a vaccine person who wants to clean up mankind!"

Vaccine Man punched Luther.

"It's become so huge and so fast. It's not bad."

Luther still didn't make any move, but the Vaccine Man felt his fist hit something that couldn't be shaken, and the pain made it grin. However, soon, the Vaccine Man blocked the pain, and continued to punch crazily, and there was still something in his mouth. Energy cannons were sprayed out.

"boom-----!!!"

Luther resisted the energy, but the explosion was not stopped.

The destructive power displayed by the Vaccine Man surprised Luther. Although it has not reached the level of the Star-Collapse Roaring Cannon and the Orochi's Cutting Earth Apple Peel, there is no problem in one cannonball to cover a city.

This is already a well-deserved Dragon Peak, and even a higher level.

"Can it still become stronger?"

As soon as Luther finished speaking, the Vaccine Man felt that its whole body was being squeezed by invisible weight. It struggled desperately, but its huge body was still inevitably compressed.

Luther didn't stop until he felt that the vaccine man was about to die. At this time, the vaccine man had been compressed into a sphere the size of a car.

"It turns out you won't get stronger."

Luther thought that the Vaccine Man could continue to evolve and become stronger like the Phoenix Man.

Therefore, his compressed power just now is only relative to the power of the vaccine man. As long as the vaccine man can transform again, he can break the compressed power by himself.

It's a pity that it can't continue to transform.

The vaccine man's recovery ability is actually good. After becoming like this, it recovered instantly. However, it had realized the huge gap between itself and Luther, and planned to escape as soon as it recovered.

"Kneel down."

Luther said with a smile.

The power of the Mind Stone instantly made the Vaccine Man kneel down obediently.

"God's attention?"

Luther's telepathy tyrannically invaded the vaccine man's memory and learned that the vaccine man was given a mission by "gods", but the gods didn't look very good and didn't even look at him. Obviously there was nothing they could do about it. Be present everywhere and be aware of the prying eyes of others.

This shows that it has not completed the closure of the timeline. As long as it is not a multiverse-level existence, Luther is not afraid.

When Luther's modifications were completed, the vaccine man became his loyal lackey.

Then the Vaccine Man sent Luther back to the Marvel Universe.

The memory in its mind told him that it was Master "Black Caesar" who gave it a new life. Originally, he was just a poor, desperate man, with his whole family dead, a blood feud, and a disease-ridden man. He was Black Caesar. The adult became the light in his life and his salvation.

For this reason, it must do everything in its power, act like a cow or a horse, work as a tiger's assistant, be loyal, loyal and courageous... and work as a lackey for Lord Black Caesar!

"Blonsky and the others should be able to get along with the Vaccine Man, but with the strength of the Vaccine Man, even Bronsky of the Chimera Beast Emperor is probably no match."

Luther found it interesting.

As for the question of what the Vaccine Man looks like, it's so simple. There are no ghosts or monsters in the Marvel universe. At most, the Vaccine Man may be thought of as the brother or relative of the Purple Man.

And this look can only show the ferocity and terror of Hydra. The previous members of Hydra were still too gentle. Except for those who could transform, the others did not have the taste of villains at all.

It feels right now.

Luther's battle with the Vaccine Man alerted the Heroes Association, and they also discovered Luther's existence, but Luther seemed to have no intention of communicating with them and left directly.

This also made the Hero Association plan to find Luther and come to ask him to become a hero.

Luther left to find the genius Dr. Kinos.

This is a man-made monster who created a dragon-level monster. If he were given other materials, he doesn't know what he would create.

Chapter 360 Kinos: Discussing the Dao? Then I'm not sleepy anymore!

City Z, the home of evolution!

Jinos looked at the experimental subjects in the culture tank in front of him.

"Failed again... Damn it, what's going on? Why are human forms incompatible with weirdos?"

The experimental subject in front of me is a slim woman with a delicate face and charming eyebrows.

But she is a monster.

Above what should have been an attractive buttocks, there was a sac-like flesh and blood organ that expanded and contracted with breathing.

The hands and feet are not those of normal humans, but arthropod-like structures.

Even the head has strange protruding sharp angles and head organs.

The experimental subject was codenamed "Mosquito Girl". Human genes were chiseled into mosquito genes, and then completed using technology that cannot be explained by science.

Luther was shocked after seeing it. He originally thought that the technology used by Dr. Kinos was similar to Dr. Lizard's "cross-species genetic technology".

But Dr. Kinos told him that you were wrong.

He simply implanted mosquito genes into cells, and then added a synthetic fluid of unknown composition, and the mosquito girl was born!

He originally thought that the scientists in the Dragon Ball world and the Marvel world were not scientific enough, but he did not expect that the scientists in the One Punch Man world were not bad at all.

"Hello, Doctor."

Luther's voice startled Genos.

Because this is a sound that appears out of thin air.

"Who are you?"

Genos stared at Luther who suddenly appeared, and secretly informed the Beast King and the others.

"You can call me Daxiuka... Black Caesar, I'm here for you. Your talent is too wasted in a place like this. I can provide you with all the materials to help human evolution, materials you haven't seen before. "

Luther said to Genos.

Luther respected talent and knowledge.

"I think you are good material."

Jinos suddenly laughed and said.

The Beast King and the Iron Gorilla have appeared around Luther.

"Is this an intruder? He doesn't look very powerful."

The beast king lion said with some disappointment, it longs for a strong person, of course, not a strong person like the one-horned fairy who crushes itself, but a strong person who is evenly matched!

"Dr. Kinos, let me teach you a lesson first."

Before Luther finished speaking, Genos impatiently ordered the Beast King to capture Luther.

As a result, the Beast King reached out and grabbed Jinos.

"Beast King! What are you doing!"

Kinos was shocked, and then scolded him very angrily.

He looked at the Steel Gorilla and found that the other party completely ignored him, while the Crystal Mantis and Earth Dragon were lying on the ground.

"——Don't share a cage with wild beasts without a gun."

Luther continued.

"?"

Genos was confused. He didn't know why the Beast King and Steel Gorilla suddenly betrayed him.

"You see, the only thing you rely on is your own wisdom, but after they betray you, you are helpless."

Luther said with a smile.

"Did you control them?"

Kinos was very smart and witty, and he guessed the answer instantly.

"No, we are Lord Black Caesar's loyal lackeys!"

The Beast King, Steel Gorilla, Crystal Mantis, and Earth Dragon all said in unison.

"Do you think you can control them?"

Kinos said.

His clone is monitoring this place. After getting the information he provided, there is no doubt that they will release that thing!

Unicorn!

"Where? Where?"

A violent sound came from far and near, and then the next moment, the alloy wall exploded, and a huge thing stood between Genos and Luther.

Unicorn!

"Is this this guy?"

The horned fairy looked at Luther.

"I have said it before, Dr. Kinos, before you have the ability to control all situations, creating things that are far beyond your control is a manifestation of the unwiseness of scientific researchers."

Luther continued.

Genos couldn't understand why Luther could remain calm and say such things in this situation, but it didn't matter. He wanted to find out what ability Luther used to control the Beast King and the others. His intuition told Genos that this relationship held hope for human evolution.

"Asura, catch him, he is a very precious material!"

Jinos quickly said to the one-horned fairy.

"Crack!"

Then he was handed over by the Beast King to the One-horned Fairy, who captured him.

Jinos was confused and looked at the One-horned Fairy in disbelief, and found that the One-horned Fairy was also looking at him with a smile.

"Are you kidding? I am Lord Black Caesar's loyal dog, doctor!"

The rhinoceros fairy's words made Genos drop his glasses.

"This is impossible!"

Jinos couldn't understand whether the One-horned Fairy could be controlled. You must know that the One-horned Fairy is his most powerful masterpiece.

"Do you understand, Dr. Kinos, all your resistance is so powerless in front of me? This is the power that a scientific researcher should have!"

Luther said.

Jinos paused.

"But this evolution is imperfect. I cannot accept such imperfections in my body. They are all failures!"

Kinos said to Luther excitedly that he had understood Luther's words and quickly understood the current situation. Judging from Luther's words and deeds, he was probably not a fellow scientific researcher who came to discuss his doctrine!

If that's the case, Kinos won't be scared, he directly said his own ideas loudly.

"No, Kinos, I also agree with imperfect evolution, but what I'm talking about is the adventurous spirit and caution of scientific researchers!"

Luther refuted Kinos. He was not talking about the problem of evolutionary technology, but Kinos's behavior of creating a father for himself and then being unable to control it.

Kinos also figured this out.

But Kinos believes that scientific researchers must have an adventurous spirit and cannot stand still!

"You still don't understand what I mean, Dr. Kinos. Since you need to apply this genetic technology, and you have such a mature and powerful cloning technology, why can't you directly use your own clones for experiments? They have the same memories and pursuits as you, and they will definitely not betray you or lose control, right?"

Luther's words made Kinos' heart skip a beat.

Yes, why didn't I think of this before? Although my clones are assistants made to help me deal with things, their memories are the same. In this case, they are completely one with me, and there is no need to worry about the out-of-control situation like the rhinoceros beetle.

"No, the experiment cannot use the same genome and materials. Only by using different variables can the experiment be meaningful. I need data!"

Kinos quickly thought of a way to refute Luther's words.