Chapter 37 Broly is tricked

"elder brother?"

Broly, who was still a child, looked at Luther.

"Yes, I am your brother, Luther!"

Luther released the magic as he spoke. He has not been idle during this time and has been focusing on this magic.

Just to be able to influence and control Broly.

"Where's your tail?"

Broly didn't quite believe it and looked at Luther's butt.

"Broken."

Luther said without changing his expression.

"Broken?"

Broly was startled. It sounded reasonable. Could he really be my brother?

"Why, I haven't heard my father mention you?"

Broly continued.

"Father? What father? Our father is already dead."

Luther was stunned for a moment, then asked Broly.

Nonsense, he would not accept Paragas as his father, even if he had Broly, the top thug brother, so Luther had to make up a new life experience for himself and Broly.

"You don't know your father?"

Broly suddenly became alert again.

"...Broly, who is the father you are talking about?"

Luther asked Broly with a serious look.

"Paragas."

Broly didn't know why Luther suddenly became serious, and under the influence of magic, he subconsciously said it.

"It turns out to be this guy!"

Luther said angrily.

"You are not allowed to insult father!"

Broly almost broke free from the magic and said to Luther with a grin on his face.

"Broly, Paragas is not our father, you have been lied to!"

Luther quickly said to Broly, trying to calm him down.

"no?"

Broly was shocked by these impactful words and was at a loss for a moment. He felt something was wrong, but under the influence of magic, he felt that Luther's words were very credible.

"Our father is not this despicable man, our father is the greatest warrior!"

Luther began to talk serious nonsense.

Then Broly learned the truth from Luther!

Paragas is a member of their father's team. Saiyans usually operate in small groups to clean a planet with relatively high combat effectiveness. If the combat effectiveness is low, they will send babies there. If there is a need for Saiyan legions to be dispatched On the planet, basically most of the Saiyans will be dispatched.

Paragas took this opportunity to kidnap Broly, a promising Saiyan who was born with a combat power of 10,000 and was detected by the combat power detector!

His purpose is to train Broly to become his tool, usurp King Vegeta's status, and become the ruler of the Saiyans.

No one expected that Paragas would do this, so Paragas succeeded.

They found out what happened only after the fact.

Broly was shocked after hearing this and didn't know whether to believe Luther or not.

But, after all, Paragas has never been a good father. Broly believed that he was his father before, so he allowed him to beat and scold him. But now that he thinks about it, Paragas's various Without being trained and reprimanded by others, I felt more and more that what Luther said was the truth!

Originally, Broly had not seen much of the world and lacked common sense in life. It was impossible for Paragas to teach him this. The old man spent so many years training Broly, but in the end, Broly's own growth rate soared. It's actually a waste of Broly's time and potential.

In this case, it is really easy for Luther to fool Broly, not to mention that Planet Vegeta is gone now.

"Is everything you said true?"

Broly asked in disbelief.

"Silly boy, of course it's true."

Luther stroked Broly's prickly head.

Being able to touch Broly's head, it is obvious that Broly has believed Luther's words under the influence of magic, but he still has a little resistance. This resistance is because Luther is unfamiliar. When he gets familiar with it, Broly Lee will know he is a good brother!

Being able to conquer Broly so smoothly is very good for Luther.

"Broly, Planet Vegeta is gone."

Then Luther suddenly said sadly.

"What?"

Broly had always heard Paragas talk about Planet Vegeta. He was going to defeat King Vegeta and become the new King of Saiyans. Although Broly felt that he was actually on Planet Vampa. Not bad, but there is no way he can defeat his father.

But now, after hearing that Planet Vegeta was gone, Broly was relieved for some reason.

"Planet Vegeta is our hometown, and the person who destroyed it is the Emperor of the Universe, Frieza!"

Luther said to Broly very angry and excited.

"Emperor of the universe... Frieza?"

Broly repeated the name, not knowing what it meant, so Luther told him the whole story of how Frieza destroyed Planet Vegeta.

"Why did it destroy Planet Vegeta?"

Broly asked confused.

"It's very simple, because of fear, it chose to destroy the Saiyans on Planet Vegeta because he is afraid of the legendary warrior of our Saiyan family, the Super Saiyan."

Luther said looking at Broly.

It can only be said that King Vegeta sought his own death. If Broly had been left alive, Frieza might not have been killed when he invaded and destroyed Planet Vegeta.

"The legendary warrior...Super Saiyan?"

Broly had never heard of this legend, after all, he was thrown to the planet Vampa by King Vegeta when he was a baby.

"That's right, Super Saiyan, Broly, you are the most likely candidate, there is only one in a thousand years, and you are born with 10,000 combat power, and King Vegeta is only a little more than 10,000. When you grow up, our Saiyan race will be able to become the overlord of the universe again!"

Luther continued to fool Broly and deepen the influence of his magic.

"I am a Super Saiyan?"

Broly was fooled by Luther.

"The legendary Super Saiyan!"

Luther said.

"...I know, brother, I will avenge everyone!"

Compared to the plan and purpose that Paragus said before, which Broly felt unreal and made him feel empty, the purpose that Luther said made Broly feel real.

"Don't worry, Broly. Frieza is too powerful. His first form has a combat power of 530,000. Your current combat power is probably just over 10,000."

Luther has found Paragus's combat power detector. If he studies it, it shouldn't be a problem to create a more powerful combat power detector. Or maybe he can give it to Bulma for research?
