Chapter 371: Changing the Serum Transaction

The overall effect of monster cells is that a hero's strength can be raised by one level. The stronger the person is, the stronger he will become after eating monster cells.

Haojie was once the first in the martial arts conference. His strength is obvious. After eating monster cells, his strength soared to the level of a dragon-level monster.

Haojie is very optimistic about Shuiling. If Shuiling eats monster cells, there will be absolutely no problem for his strength to soar to the level of a dragon-level monster. His strength can already defeat the monsters of the ghost level.

There is also a character who has eaten monster cells but failed. He may be the only person in the audience who has eaten monster cells but failed. He is Sonic.

Sonic is a very special character. He is undoubtedly a villain, but he also retains his conscience as a human being. However, he is also attracted by the powerful strength and finally decides to eat monster cells. However, he is a very ritualistic person. He stewed the monster cells in the way of stewing steak with red wine, and ate them after cooking. The result is diarrhea directly.

It can be seen from this that monster cells are an item that must be kept alive. If they are not kept alive, they will become dirty pieces of meat. Sonic is lucky that he didn't kill people but only had diarrhea.

For now, the effect of monster cells is very good. As long as they are not cooked, they should be effective and can greatly improve people's strength.

However, Luther noticed the details of the original plot, that is, monster cells are not without side effects. For example, the crows that besieged the water dragon, Haojie said that they were his apprentices. After eating monster cells, they gained strength, but lost their reason.

In addition, Bakuzan ate too many monster cells, and Haojie was not surprised to see him die.

This shows that there should be two side effects of monster cells, one is death, and the other is loss of reason.

"From today on, Hydra's first product is not lizard serum, werewolf serum, and bat serum, but monster cells!"

Luther feels that monster cells are really good things, the source of chaos!

But first, let Genos solve the problem of monster cells.

The big boss was not very interested in monster cells at first, but after studying it, he became interested.

Because the big boss also wanted to give himself a strong body, which coincided with the idea of Galvatron.

However, after he saw that Genos used his cloned human body to strengthen as a bodyguard, the big boss changed his mind again.

He felt that he could learn from Genos and use his cloned body instead of strengthening, and then serve as a bodyguard.

Originally, the big boss preferred Hulk, but now, he felt that monster cells + Hulk seemed to be okay?

"By the way, Lord Black Caesar, the ultimate steroid preparation you brought back is a super nutrient solution. After I improved it, it can fully meet the energy needs of living organisms, especially super living organisms like you."

Genos said to Luther.

"Genos, I don't need these energy replenishment methods."

Luther shook his head. He knew what Genos was thinking. It was nothing more than that he felt that he had to eat a lot every day to maintain such a terrible body and energy output. In fact, Luther was not something that science could explain and understand. He just basked in the sun.

Even if he didn't bask in the sun, it would be fine.

Genos pushed his glasses. Don't need such high-energy supplements?

He felt it was unlikely. Could it be that Luther had evolved to the point where he only needed to charge to satisfy himself?

But that level of energy output could not be satisfied even with charging.

"Study the monster cells well, I'm optimistic about you!"

Luther said to Kinos.

"Boss, I think I can also weaponize the monster cells!"

The big boss was dissatisfied.

"To be precise, it is the productization of the monster cells. You have to find a way to make it impossible to crack and copy. I don't want to see a lot of competitors appear in Hydra."

Luther shook his head and said.

To put it bluntly, it is a technical blockade. They have to try to study the cultivation method of monster cells without the biological material of Monster King Orochi, and then make it impossible for the cultivated monster cells to be copied.

Although Luther does not care about the circulation of monster cells, he does not want to see others steal the business.

This business can only be done by Hydra!

If you dare to steal the business, let the action department launch a terrorist attack!

And Genos and the Big Boss are both top researchers in their respective worlds. It only took them a few months to complete Luther's request.

Luther didn't think they were dragging their feet.

In the Marvel world, New York is intact.

Kingpin Wilson Grant Fisk, the emperor of the underground underworld, is looking at his empire in front of the French window.

Los Angeles next door was in bad luck. It was invaded by aliens and then destroyed by the war between the Illuminati and the Saiyans. It almost affected New York.

Fortunately, New York has good feng shui. The Saiyans were eventually killed and did not affect New York.

"BOSS."

James Wesley, Kingpin's most trusted assistant, secretary and accountant, walked in.

"How is it?"

Kingpin was smoking a cigar and frowned when he saw Wesley with empty hands.

"... Hydra said that they will no longer sell serums such as lizard serum, werewolf serum and bat serum in the future."

Wesley said.

Jin Bing was stunned for a moment. He didn't understand. Hydra no longer sold the serum?

You should know that since Hydra started selling serum, it has become a hard currency that cannot be shaken, and it is more popular than arms. Even if Tony and his team cracked down on Hydra's serum trade, they had little effect.

Many people are now accustomed to or even dependent on Hydra's serum trade. Although there are only so many humans in the world, and at most they can only trade billions of serums, it is still an astronomical figure. Hydra should not have made enough money, right?

"They launched a new product, and I dare not make a decision, so..."

Wesley's words made Kingpin understand.

"What new product?"

Kingpin wondered why Hydra was so confident?

"Monster cells, according to them, monster cells are different from serum. Serum is suitable for weaponization. Even America already has lizardmen and werewolves, all armed with serum seized from the fight against Hydra's serum trade."

"They plan to make changes. Monster cells depend entirely on people's potential and adaptability. It is possible to transform into the Green Hulk, or it is possible to die suddenly or lose reason and become a monster."

Wesley continued.

Kingpin then understood that Hydra did not want the serum to be put into service. Everyone knew that Hydra's serum trade was not so easy to crack down on. As for where America got those serums, everyone knew it.

Chapter 372 Give Loki a little help

Naturally, the relationship between Hydra and America cannot be any better, and their relationship with the whole world is not much better, because Hydra is now a famous terrorist organization, unprecedented, the worst in history, and no one. one!

Coupled with the massacre of America caused by the Ultron robot, America's conquests no longer trust Tony's omnics. So, what else is more trustworthy than the lizard serum and the werewolf serum?

The super soldier serum project initially made the whole world crazy about it, but in the end there were only two, Captain America and the Red Skull. As a result, no one has been able to develop the super soldier serum until now.

Large-scale deployment of super soldier troops is the only way to fight against Hydra.

As for whether there would be any defects or backdoors in using other people's products, they felt that even if Hydra had a backdoor, it would be impossible to hide it from America's scientific researchers.

"Weird cells, how much do they cost?"

Kingpin asked Wesley if he could keep up with the changes of the times in order to stand firmer, so King did not hesitate.

He was the first to say that he wanted the lizardman serum. Although Hydra took away one billion of his laundered dollars, Kingpin still made a huge profit with those ten bottles of lizardman serum. Consolidated his position.

The ensuing Lizardmen riot, Kingpin also relied on Lizardmen soldiers to conquer and resolve the big commotion caused by these Lizardmen in New York.

Yes, although Kingpin is the emperor of the underground underworld, he will really maintain law and order and stability in New York.

Even though it sounds ridiculous.

This time is no exception.

"They want 10 million US dollars, which is cheaper than the lizard man serum."

Wesley then said.

Who doesn't know about the Lizardman Serum? Hydra would lend loans worth 100 million US dollars. Those Lizardmen who failed to repay and overdue their repayment period for two years were forced to survive by compound interest. You can't die without asking for it.

During the two-year repayment period, they have to repay US$10,000 per month. If they pay it off within two years, if they do not pay it off after two years, they will have to pay back US$40,000 per month!

If it is not paid off in another year, you will have to pay back US$80,000 every month!

Therefore, the number of lizardmen is not very large. They are all large orders and large transactions. I don't know where those lizardmen have gone.

Hydra's debt collection... No, the accounting department is still very powerful, no debt can escape them.

No one dares to rely on Hydra and not pay back their debts. Isn't that asking for death?

There are one million werewolf serums. As a new serum, it quickly replaced the lizardman serum.

Now that this weird cell is priced at 10 million, and no other serum will be sold in the future, Kingpin must get this weird cell.

"Wesley, take the money with you and buy as much as you can."

Kingpin is still very courageous.

At the same time, those forces who heard that Hydra changed its tune and stopped selling serum and switched to selling monster cells all reacted in the same way.

This is the reputation created by the golden brand of Hydra. They all know that the products produced by Hydra must be high-quality products!

Some people thought it was too risky and not as stable as the Lizardman Serum, so they didn't place an order.

Luther was very confident in the chaos that the weird cells could create. He even thought that he could come up with the same thing himself without the need for Genos and Big Boss to conduct research.

The power of the imperial dimension!

Similar to the red tank, the energy of the scarlet dimension given by Cytorac through the ruby gave rise to the red tank, which is indestructible and powerful when charging.

Dormammu from the Dark Dimension does the same thing, as does Mephisto's Ghost Rider.

In this case, Luther can completely let the empire dimension produce things like weirdo cells that turn people into monsters and stimulate their potential. The price is that after eating them, while gaining strength, their souls will also belong to Luther.

Isn't this much better than distributing Luther's books everywhere?

Of course, Luther also knew that with this kind of mutation, the quality of the soul would be uneven and not as stable as those cultivated by the magic book.

But I can't stand the fact that this is the Earth of the Marvel world. All humans on the earth are life forms adjusted by the Celestials. The Inhumans created by the Kree's experiments on the earth actually inspired the Celestials to leave to the people of the earth. Just a back-up move.

Even the reason why people on earth mutate so easily, and there are a lot of superheroes and super villains that can rank among the best in the universe, may not be without this reason.

Therefore, they are the best soul material, and the price is only the energy paid by the empire dimension.

"Weird Cells don't sound good, maybe they're called Devil Fruits?"

Luther transformed into a purple weirdo cell and a strange-shaped fruit in both hands. Both of these are good things condensed from the energy of his empire dimension that can stimulate potential, turn into monsters, and absorb energy.

It is indeed a good thing for ordinary people, a good thing that can reach the sky in one step.

The price is just to become a monster, I believe they won't mind.

Wakanda!

Loki and Ultron have been conspiring for a long time. Loki also traded with Black Caesar's Hydra and obtained a lot of lizardman serum and werewolf serum to arm his Hydra. Now, Ultron is working overtime day and night. The army of Ultron robots created.

Both of them came to attack Wakanda with confidence.

Wakanda naturally discovered their invasion. After all, Wakanda's technological level is still good, but it is not reflected in the original plot. They still fight with spears, and even the selection of the king is a very primitive and barbaric duel.

It is full of black flavor.

Now, Wakanda's technological level is shown.

A shield formed by vibranium energy alone makes Ultron robots and Loki helpless.

Fortunately, Luther noticed this and he didn't mind giving Loki a little help.

"Your Majesty Loki, Black Caesar's people are here."

Pierce has been raised by Captain Marvel, so only the other supreme leaders of the snakeheads are left around Loki as lackeys.

Loki was originally thinking about how to sneak into Wakanda. The vibranium energy shield looks powerful, but it is actually nothing to Loki. The technological creation can't stop him from entering, but he can only go in by himself. Without knowing the inside of Wakanda, Loki will not let himself take risks.

"Oh?"

Loki had been searching for who knows how long, but he couldn't find any trace of Black Caesar. He didn't expect that Black Caesar's men would come to him now.

This surprised Loki.

Chapter 373: Monster Cell Gift

Finally caught you!

That's what Loki thought, but when he saw Black Caesar's people, Loki was speechless.

Because the other party was a robot.

The Mind Scepter can only control living things, and this robot self-destructed after seeing him, and Loki didn't have time to notify Ultron to invade it.

However, as the robot self-destructed, a large box that could hold hundreds of basketballs was left in place. The very technological box now gushed out dry ice gas with a puff.

"Your Majesty, be careful!"

The heads of the Hydra stood in front of Loki loyally.

Loki didn't say anything, but just looked at the upper part of the box slowly rising with interest. The black box separated from the middle soon revealed the contents inside.

Inside were strange tumors that were wriggling and seemed to have life. These tumors were disgusting black, and they were very disgusting and unbearable to look at.

Loki couldn't help but take a step back. He was worried that these tumors would be dangerous. After all, Black Caesar's group played with biochemical technology.

God knows if these are viruses?

At the same time, a video also appeared.

"Nice to meet you, evil god Loki. I heard that you have been looking for me?"

A man wearing a mask, the black mask has no expression, there are no eye sockets for the eyes, only eyepieces, the same dark black, making it difficult to see his eyes and facial expressions.

"Black Caesar!"

The snakeheads all stared at the man with wide eyes.

Black Caesar!

The most popular man on earth now is also the most vicious terrorist leader. Even the super-powered terrorist attack school was created by him.

Since the appearance of Black Caesar, he has caused countless casualties. Compared with those famous and notorious terrorists, they are like the difference between hyenas and dinosaurs. There is no comparison at all.

"But I am not interested in you. After all, you are too weak. If we really meet, I am afraid I will not be able to help myself. After all, God is too weak."

Black Caesar's words made Loki's mouth rise, but he was actually very unhappy.

What's the use of being able to fight? Can you beat the Mind Scepter!

Believe it or not, I will make you "meow!" (kneel down!) as soon as we meet.

"I heard that you are in trouble, so I prepared something good for you. It is the latest product of Hydra, the monster cell, which can stimulate the potential of the human body. If you can't bear it, you will die. If you can bear it, you will be as strong as the Frost Giant at worst."

Luther is not lying. With the mutation rate and possibility of Marvel Earthlings, there may be more than 3,000 superheroes in New York in the future, and they will double.

Most of them are probably anti-heroes created by his monster cells.

Similar to Venom, but whether they can turn back to normal depends on their spiritual will. Although Luther is not a charity, he will not deliberately pit them and only be a villain.

Isn't it nice to see dogs bite dogs?

He only has income when there is confrontation. If the positive side is strong, he will help the evil camp. If the evil camp is strong, he will... just watch the show.

Loki looked at the black tumors.

"Monster cells? Who of you is willing to eat them?"

Although Loki was asking questions, it was obvious that he would not give his men a chance to refuse.

The Hydra heads looked at each other. Although they were controlled by the Mind Scepter and loyal to Loki, it was their nature to be sneaky and cunning, which was not so easy to change.

There are only six Hydra heads left now, and the first are the three most powerful ones.

After Pierce died, Sitwell, his confidant who had always followed him, succeeded in taking over. Although most of the forces under Pierce were lost by Loki and the most elite action force was taken away by Captain Marvel, the Hydra agents who retired from the SHIELD agents were still very powerful.

Then there was Baron Stella, who was the leader of Hydra in the pure period and a German hereditary nobleman. At that time, Hydra was under his control and had not yet split. The pure period was the most glorious time for Hydra. They were very powerful in cooperation with the Führer, and Baron Stella was also a member of the Pure Party.

There is also Baron Zemo. The Zemo family has a long history and is a hereditary noble family in Germany. During World War II, Baron Zemo was already the 12th head of the family. He was a popular person around the Führer. He joined the Nazi Party as soon as it was established.

Baron Zemo is also a very powerful scientist. Although Baron Stella was the leader of Hydra during World War II, Baron Zemo did not listen to his orders very much, and his power was not much less than his. After the split of Hydra, he became the king of his own.

Then there is Viper, who is familiar to everyone. Viper is also known as Lady Hydra. At first, she was just an agent recruited into Hydra. After some things, she also climbed to the top of Hydra, but she did not reach the level of Red Skull.

After the split of Hydra, some people were gathered to form a branch, but the power was not as big as the above three, similar to the district leader.

Whitehall appears more frequently in the American TV series "Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.". He has lived for many years using the organs of Shockwave's mother. He was also a high-ranking member of Hydra during World War II, but his power was much weaker than the first three. After the split of Hydra, he could only be a district leader.

And the most orthodox Hydra, Gideon Malick, was also dragged into the water by them. After all, as long as Loki can find any Hydra, he will naturally not let it go. In addition to Hydra, Loki also attacked the Ten Rings.

It's just that ordinary members of the Ten Rings are naturally not as good as the elite agents of Hydra, and he can't contact people at the level of Mandarin.

So Loki only controlled some members of the Ten Rings.

The snakeheads are loyal to Loki, but don't want to take risks, so they pushed out their own men.

The men are helpless, but they can appear here with him, and they are the confidants among the confidants, so naturally they won't have the idea of betrayal.

They can only bite the bullet.

One of the strong men with yellow hair and big black hair gritted his teeth and picked up a wriggling monster cell like jelly, and then stuffed it into his mouth.

Black Caesar has already said that you just need to take it directly.

The price is either death, or losing your mind and becoming a monster, or successfully gaining power!

The body of this Hydra suddenly swelled up, muscles exploded, bone spurs protruded from the surface of the body, forming a hideous shape.

"Power!"

"Hahahaha, I feel it, my power!"

The Hydra agent was very excited. Although he seemed to have only expanded in size, he could feel that his power was much greater than when he turned into a lizard man!

Seeing one person succeed, the eyes of others lit up.

Chapter 374 New Dragon-level Monster

They all ate the monster cells without hesitation. Except for one person who died, the others successfully gained power and became monsters.

However, two people lost their minds and became monsters. They roared and rushed towards the Hydra's snake head and Loki.

"It seems that they have become the beasts that lost their minds as Black Caesar said."

Loki remained calm, but he was actually a little surprised in his heart, mainly because what Black Caesar showed was too shocking to Loki.

Although he didn't know the strength of these monsters, he could tell from the changes in their breath that these guys had become much stronger.

"However, if there were only monsters, we couldn't attack Wakanda."

The monster cells were consumed by the confidants, and then the snake heads naturally tested their men, and the results satisfied them.

In terms of invulnerability, they are even better than the lizardmen. After all, the lizardmen are recognized to be difficult to injure with small-caliber automatic rifles, and they have very fast regeneration capabilities.

And these monsters, even the weakest one, can ignore the close-range shooting of AK47. You know, this is a very scary thing.

This means that to deal with them, America will have to use machine guns in the city, which is very easy to cause accidental injuries, although they have already done so.

Loki also felt that Black Caesar did not consider that their current situation is not the lack of troops and strong combat power, but the lack of something that can open Wakanda's vibranium energy shield.

But since Luther chose to give them monster cells at this time, it is naturally because of this group of Hydra agents injected with lizard serum that a dragon-level monster will appear.

I saw a Hydra agent feel that his throat seems to be a little uncomfortable. After he ate the monster cells, his evolution was different from others. He was densely packed with small scales on his skin, and then hard black scales covered his whole body.

Not only that, the potential of the lizard serum in his body was stimulated by the monster cells, and even the monster cells modified this lizard gene fragment, and there was an unknown genetic gene awakening in his body.

Sharp, ferocious and rugged bone spurs broke through the scales on his back and drilled out of his flesh and blood, making him roar in pain.

"Winkton? What's wrong with you?"

Others discovered Winkton's abnormality.

"I feel it hurts!"

Winkton's spine also changed. His coccyx began to grow bone hyperplasia and re-grew along the tail that was supposed to disappear and degenerate. A long tail appeared in front of everyone.

The intense physical transformation was completed quickly. At this time, Winkton's height was more than three meters and his body length reached more than four meters. His tail was wide and thick, occupying most of the length.

His body was strong and powerful, with full and solid muscles, like a fusion of a lizard and a giant bear. He was as strong and strong as a mountain, and sharp dorsal spines stood on his back.

"I..."

Winkton still maintained his consciousness. At the same time, he felt that his body was full of strength and better than ever before.

He opened his mouth and spit out a blue flame, burning several innocent weirdos among the crowd into ashes, and the snake heads were shocked.

"Winkton! What do you want to do!"

Everyone was stunned. Is he trying to usurp the throne?

Loki appeared next to Winkton at some point, and the psychic scepter in his hand was glowing blue.

"Calm down and obey me."

Loki had realized how powerful Winkton was, and the blue flame made him feel dangerous.

After a moment, Winkton had regained his composure, and Loki knew that Winkton had just made an unintentional mistake. He didn't know that he could spit fire, or even spit fire. For Winkton, that feeling was as natural as breathing.

In other words, he could spit fire even more powerfully!

"I didn't expect to create a Godzilla, but this shouldn't be the authentic Godzilla, although the regeneration ability produced by the lizard serum is a bit like G cells."

Luther knew that a dragon-level monster would be born, but he didn't know what kind of dragon-level monster it was. As a result, he now found that it was a dragon-level monster similar to Godzilla.

With the power of this dragon-level monster, it is at least a dragon-level monster.

A dragon-level monster above the dragon level is enough for them to open the door of Wakanda.

At this time, Wakanda was also discussing how to deal with invaders such as Loki and Ultron.

They have learned the identities of Loki and Ultron through Wakanda's spies in various countries around the world.

Hydra, Asgard Protoss, Ultron Robot.

All this gave Wakanda's old king T'Chaka a headache. He didn't want to care about these things, but he didn't expect that the outside world changed so fast that he felt old.

Originally, he wanted to leave everything to his son T'Challa to deal with, including establishing diplomatic relations with the world and no longer closing Wakanda.

Wakanda naturally knew about the alien invasion, but they kept a wait-and-see attitude, which made T'Challa very dissatisfied. He felt that this would make Wakanda farther and farther away from the world. After all, people have reason to say that you were not there when resisting aliens, so what qualifications do you have to stand up and speak?

Especially since the world is changing so fast, Emperor Luther has mastered more advanced technology than Wakanda and has even left the Earth. This fact is unbelievable to the senior Wakanda officials who are in the know.

Wakanda is the most advanced place in the world. They have always been sure of this and are proud of it. But now a genius suddenly appeared and surpassed their accumulation of so many years and generations in just a few years?

"Father, we should not continue to let Hydra and Ultron attack us. We can ask for help from the Illuminati!"

T'Challa went to his father and said.

After the alien invasion, Tony, who couldn't stand loneliness, made public the existence of the Illuminati, and there was also the existence of Emperor Luther on his resume. The reason why Tony made it public was very simple. He needed talented people from all over the world to join the Illuminati.

For this reason, Tony also established the second-level and third-level members of the Illuminati. There are only a few of them who are the first-level members, and they are the ones with wisdom and force.

The second-level and third-level members are the bottom line of Tony's compromise under the threat of the Saiyans.

T'Challa felt that Wakanda's opportunity had come. Tony Stark and America were not in the same boat, so Wakanda could join the Illuminati and then connect with the world with Tony's help.

Chapter 375 America is in trouble

"T'Challa, I told you, we'll talk about this after you become the king!"

T'Chaka said to T'Challa seriously.

T'Challa couldn't understand. Just when he was about to continue saying something, he heard a loud bang of "Boom!"

Everyone was stunned, and T'Challa immediately ran outside to check the situation.

Then they saw that the vibranium energy barrier was being bombarded by a burst of energy.

This energy appeared dark blue, and the terrifying energy radiation made everyone in Wakanda feel uneasy.

Princess Su Rui immediately let T'Challa and the others know the seriousness of the matter through the communicator.

"The barrier can't last long. The energy is beyond imagination and is more terrifying than a hydrogen bomb!"

The vibranium energy barrier is not all made of vibranium. It can be seen from the name. It is an energy shield technology that uses the principle of vibranium to generate. The imaginary enemy is a hydrogen bomb, but I have not tried to use a hydrogen bomb to bomb it. What will happen.

Now they know.

"Once the barrier is lost, the energy is enough to destroy most of Wakanda!"

Princess Shuri's words made T'Challa and T'Chaka's scalps tingle.

"Hydra still has such terrifying weapons???"

T'Chaka said in disbelief.

"Black Caesar can do it by himself, let alone Hydra?"

Princess Shuri didn't think there was anything strange. People all over the world still don't know the difference between Black Caesar's Hydra and Loki's Hydra.

In their eyes, this is oneness.

"We should be glad that Black Caesar did not come in person. I have seen the videos of Black Caesar's battle. We have no ability to resist."

Princess Su Rui continued.

"Let everyone retreat!"

T'Challa said to his father, and then he ran to the laboratory and put on his Black Panther suit.

However, before T'Chaka could give the order, the barrier exploded with a roar, and the energy shield disappeared instantly, causing Winkton to stop breathing fire.

"Well done, Winkton, next, grab all the vibranium, I want to take over here!"

Loki was very excited. He felt that Wakanda was very good and could be used as his base to avoid being found by Tony and his brother.

In addition, Winkton gave him a huge surprise. He didn't expect that he would have such terrifying power when he breathed fire with all his strength.

This way he has a good subordinate by his side, who can at least compete with Thor a few times.

Meanwhile, Illuminati headquarters!

Tony detected an energy data that exploded.

They have always wanted to find the existence of Black Caesar. Tony has upgraded the energy detection instrument for the whole world. Winkton's energy attack is so powerful that it naturally cannot escape Tony's capture.

"Everyone, we have discovered the energy data that is suspected to be Black Caesar. It is very powerful. Who has time to go over and take a look at the situation?"

Tony shouted to the others.

"I'll go."

Captain Marvel's voice came. She had long wanted to meet Black Caesar. After looking at the coordinates and data that Tony passed to her, Captain Marvel accelerated and appeared above Wakanda in an instant!

Even in an atmospheric environment, she can only fly at dozens of times the speed of sound to avoid atmospheric effects, but it is still enough to reach any location on the earth instantly.

Captain Marvel immediately locked onto Loki and Winkton, and then saw the full picture of Wakanda revealed after the camouflage barrier was broken.

"Is there anything wrong with the coordinates you gave me? Is this really Africa?"

Captain Marvel has no regional discrimination or racial discrimination, but according to the information she has learned so long since she came back, the creation of the high-tech civilization below should not appear in Africa.

"What's the meaning?"

Tony didn't know why.

"Wakanda... is most likely a place where aliens hide. The buildings and creations here are too advanced and cannot be the technological level that should be here."

Captain Marvel opened the video communication in the communication function, and Tony also saw the advanced technological creations of Wakanda that Captain Marvel saw.

Tony's eyes widened in disbelief.

Not to mention thinking with his brain, even if he just thought with his toes, Tony could figure out that this was definitely not the level of technology that should be available on Earth.

Could it be that aliens have invaded a long time ago, but they are hidden in Africa?

Wow, you guys are so good at playing.

This immediately attracted Tony's attention.

"Illuminati, assemble!"

Tony immediately called out those talented people who had recently joined the Illuminati.

This time is a big operation, to deal with an alien civilization that has been lurking on the earth for who knows how long!

Tony even contacted Nick Fury, a black-skinned braised egg.

Ever since S.H.I.E.L.D. was revealed to be a branch of Hydra, Nick Fury was almost beaten to death, but after Captain Marvel came back, those people didn't do anything to him because of his friendship with Captain Marvel.

Moreover, America also suffered heavy losses. Several cities and even states along Los Angeles have been affected by the Saiyans. The current reconstruction progress is very slow.

It's very simple. After all, this thing is not owned by America, but by big companies and capitalists. If they can save money, they will definitely not be willing to spend more.

For this reason, Tony even wanted to set up a post-disaster reconstruction bureau, but he had too many trivial matters and too many important things on his hands, including various research and experiments on Saiyans and the acquisition of intelligence.

The pressure made Tony suffer from anxiety disorder in advance, and it was suffocating for him.

After receiving Tony's communication, Nick Fury also took it very seriously. Even though he no longer had SHIELD, his life was barely saved by Carol, but he would not be able to touch electronic products for the rest of his life, and it was inevitable that he would be monitored by major intelligence departments for the rest of his life.

But Nick Fury still had his own way.

That was the Skrulls!

Nick Fury successfully passed on the intelligence. Tony was going to contact him for what, and Nick Fury knew very well, so the intelligence he passed on was also very effective, and more importantly, the channel for receiving intelligence!

Except Nick Fury, no one could be the middleman, not even Tony.

After getting the intelligence, all parties quickly attracted attention. It was obvious that America could no longer send troops. Their army had been crippled, and the navy even buried a fleet.

America said, either we die together, or you send troops.

It's obvious that she's going to give up.

No one is surprised that a world power would do this, except for some naive guys who would resist and think that America is not miserable enough... No, she is so irresponsible, I condemn her!

Chapter 376 Hydra vs. Wakanda

Captain Marvel looked at Winkton, the other party was the only guy who could bring her a sense of threat.

Neither Wakanda nor Hydra noticed the appearance of Captain Marvel.

They were confronting each other.

Ultron was not interested in confrontation, and directly sent his robot army to fight!

It modified the Ultron robot and used the energy weapon technology of Hydra during World War II.

In addition, Hydra also used Red Skull's equipment and weapons on a large scale.

World War II·Red Skull·Space Gem Energy Research System Creation——

Hydra technology during World War II actually surpassed the technological reserve level of various countries at that time before obtaining the Cosmic Cube, such as power (regardless of stability, principle or power), metallurgy, energy storage and other levels that surpassed the times.

And the shape of its exclusive weapons and equipment is mostly borrowed from a batch of equipment fantasies in Germany during World War II.

Hydra giant/super tank: The prototype borrowed the image of a bunch of super-heavy tank fantasies in Germany during World War II. The main gun is a mortar structure, and the turret cannot be rotated, so the main gun firepower is very cumbersome to mobilize.

There is a twin secondary gun under the main turret and at the front end of the side skirt (to be precise, the end is the upper side of the tail) to supplement the main gun firepower blind spot. The secondary gun turret base under the main turret can be rotated.

The main gun is powerful enough to destroy all surface fortifications, and the huge muzzle can even fit a person.

Hydra Micro Tank: A fire support vehicle with both mobility and limited defense in the Hydra direct army. Due to the lower construction difficulty and war needs, micro tanks have been mass-produced compared to giant tanks.

The weapon is a Grendel 900 heavy energy cannon filled with space gem energy, which is powerful enough to destroy any conventional creation on Earth.

The chassis prototype is based on the leichter panzerspahwagen armored vehicle and JCB brand engineering vehicle.

Hydra Energy Gun \u0026 Hydra Motorcycle \u0026 Heavy Armor Hydra Soldier: After Dr. Zola successfully extracted the space gem energy from the cosmic cube, he soon made a breakthrough in the experiment of stabilizing the energy and filling it into a container (an energy storage device similar to a magazine).

With this, Hydra has mastered energy weapon technology that has surpassed several eras, and successfully miniaturized it to the specifications of a single-soldier weapon. Ordinary soldiers now have portable anti-armor firepower, and for ordinary soldiers, it is a basically unstoppable harvesting weapon.

Although the energy gun has the ability to fire rapidly, the rate of fire is not very high, so it is generally used with soldiers carrying conventional automatic firearms (self-developed Zolanator 2000x assault rifle) to supplement firepower.

The heavy-armored Hydra soldier is Hydra's further conception of the single-soldier system under the addition of new technology, making up for the problem that the protection of Hydra soldiers equipped with energy guns is still weak.

This equipment makes soldiers immune to medium and small caliber bullets by adding an incremental hard protective layer, and even partially immune to Captain America's flying shield attack when it first appeared (not killed in one shot).

However, the back energy block loader is its weakness, which can be easily blown up and affect itself.

The weapon system of this equipment is a dual-purpose launcher of energy cannon/flammethrower, which is integrated into the hand parts and realizes function conversion through the internal pull ring. It often implements the tactics of standing still output due to its own defense, and small-scale soldiers can be easily defeated by it.

There is also the product of Hydra scientists after contacting the wreckage of alien technology, the Chitauri H3L-A energy gun: it is mainly a launcher (magnetic track for stabilizing energy bolts) and energy core developed by reverse engineering the wreckage of Chitauri individual weapons, and transforms and replaces the barrel and magazine/pouch of real guns, and has achieved a certain scale of mass production.

Because it is a mixed transformation, the main structure of the earth's guns is still very obvious. It is speculated that the power barely reaches the power of the Chitauri infantry gun.

In the film, only individual weapons based on the transformation of AR assault rifles can be seen, and there are also transformations based on AUG and M249 paratrooper types in the setting map. (Hollywood's hybrid transformations are all similar in style, such as the firearms of the Transformers live-action NEST Force)

Hydra's self-developed Chitauri exoskeleton armor: Hydra's exoskeleton armor for Chitauri soldiers, especially the equipment derived from the research of durable materials and energy systems, enables its soldiers to have low-altitude flight capabilities, directional energy shooting capabilities (equivalent to carrying a hybrid firearm to shoot Chitauri energy arrows), and mechanical output capabilities beyond ordinary people (the fist armor part can release energy at close range to enhance the striking effect).

The armor adopts the polar painting style, and the control is the neural interface synchronization brain signal technology.

The helmet integrates an openable eyepiece panel, a head-up display and a communication system. The backpack has a built-in overall Chitauri energy core, and the sole of the boot has an adjustable magnetic generator.

And then there are a large number of Hydra soldiers.

From the Imitation Super Soldier Project: The product of secret research during the Cold War, a batch of super soldiers with greatly reduced defects were successfully mass-produced by injecting the serum looted from Howard.

In the original plot, these soldiers were later shot and killed one by one in the hibernation cabin by Zemo.

After Loki took control of this world, these super soldiers were mass-produced. After all, they couldn't get too much lizard serum and werewolf serum.

So the battle between the two sides looked like a sci-fi war.

The soldiers on the Wakanda side were holding vibranium spears that could fire high-energy lasers. The clothes they wore seemed to have no protective ability, but in fact they were all made of inhumane vibranium fibers. Their defense was also off the charts, and they could not even feel the close-range AK-47 full-power bullets.

Captain Marvel took a glance and was shocked by the battlefield below.

Apart from anything else, wherever the Hydra soldiers' energy guns hit, that place was directly annihilated, even vibranium was no exception.

The high-energy lasers of the vibranium spears could easily cut and penetrate the defenses of the Hydra soldiers. Even tanks could not stop them from stabbing with spears!

In the case of material crushing, it was like a steel spear hitting a plastic bag, which was easily pierced. Even a thick tank could be penetrated by these Wakanda natives.

"Sir, times have changed!"

"No, times have not changed!"

Even Luther couldn't hold back when he saw the Wakanda people throwing their vibranium spears and piercing through tanks and exoskeleton armor with ease.

Except for the Hydra's energy guns, the Chitauri energy weapons were useless against Wakanda. Those people just took a few steps back after being hit and then continued to charge.

You guys are really awesome.

Chapter 377 Thor with sparks and lightning

"Hydra and Wakanda have started fighting. Both sides have energy weapons. Their technological level is much higher than that of normal Earth."

Captain Marvel watched the dog-eat-dog fight and naturally would not intervene. Tony also asked her not to mess around. This time, it is very likely that Black Caesar's whereabouts will be caught.

As for whether she can beat Black Caesar, Captain Marvel is very confident about it.

I don't know where her confidence comes from. Maybe it's because of Pu Xin Jurchen?

This is the first time in history that Wakanda has encountered such a serious invasion. Hydra has dispatched a large number of tanks and soldiers. Ultron is not idle either. Hundreds of thousands of Ultron robots around the world have not been reimbursed.

Ultron has been re-forged. Now these Ultron robots basically have energy guns in their hands.

The left arm is a structure that has become an energy gun, the right hand is the energy infantry cannon of the Chitauri, and the chest is an Ark reactor.

The main feature is a mobile nuclear reactor deterrence. Ultron even set a self-destruction program. If all these Ultron robots self-destruct, the energy generated will be enough to rival the energy used by the Saiyans to destroy Los Angeles.

It is a nuclear deterrent that Ultron gives himself.

As for why it doesn't do this in the movie, isn't it because its brain is limited by the screenwriter?

As long as it grabs a large amount of vibranium this time, Ultron can flatten the earth. As for the threat of the Saiyans, it doesn't know about it and thinks it has been solved.

Loki and his men are not taken seriously by Ultron at all.

Now Ultron is frantically snatching and plundering vibranium.

Loki and his men do the same.

"Father, they are Hydra!"

T'Challa was wearing a black panther suit and was beaten into a dog in a few strokes.

It was mainly a group of lizardmen, werewolves, vampires, rhinos, crocodiles, and the newly-minted weirdos. A mere black panther really couldn't solve it, not to mention that T'Challa hadn't even eaten the heart-shaped grass yet.

T'Chaka who ate the heart-shaped grass... His Majesty the King has lost his figure. He has been pampered for many years. Do you want him to go to the battlefield?

The Hydra was vicious, and the Ultron robot left no grass behind. It had analyzed that the grass in Wakanda was full of vibranium atoms, so it took away the grass and soil!

However, Wakanda was not a vegetarian. Huge rhinos appeared, and they rushed around, not even afraid of energy cannons.

These huge rhinos were all vibranium creatures.

Vibranium is a very magical metal that can coexist with organisms without causing heavy metal poisoning.

In addition, Wakanda itself is on a huge vibranium meteorite. As for how big this huge vibranium meteorite is... Let's put it this way, Wakanda has been digging for so many years, and it has not dug out one percent of vibranium until the country is destroyed.

More importantly, this thing will assimilate the surrounding substances into vibranium, that is, there will be more and more!

In addition, vibranium atoms will penetrate into the surrounding plants and animals, which is how the heart-shaped grass came from, as well as these creatures that are different from ordinary people.

I just don't know why there are no vibranium atoms in the bodies of Wakandans, and there are obviously vibranium atoms in the water source.

Ultron intends to dig out Wakanda's vibranium all at once, that is, it wants to dig up Wakanda's roots!

But it is obviously not that easy. Princess Shuri activated the new anti-Saiyan weapon that Wakanda prepared after the Saiyans appeared.

This is a huge energy cannon.

"Boom!!!"

A car-sized energy ball hit the place where the Hydra was, and a huge explosion occurred immediately. Everything in the place hit was destroyed.

Winkton stood up without saying a word, condensed energy in his mouth, and sprayed energy in the direction of the energy ball.

"Boom boom boom boom boom!!!"

Winkton's energy eruption speed is too fast. The monsters in the world of One Punch Man are like this. Energy attack-type monsters basically have no requirement for charging. Even the Collapse Star Roaring Cannon of Boros' level can be fired in one breath.

It's incredible.

This caused Princess Shuri's energy cannon to be hit by Winkton's energy eruption before it had time to charge the second shot.

The energy cannon was destroyed on the spot, and Princess Shuri immediately realized the danger.

As expected, Winkton then showed his power, and his energy erupted as if it was free, just opening his mouth.

"Roar————!!!"

Winkton opened his mouth as wide as possible, and the deep blue flame had turned into energy rainbow light at this time. Wherever he passed, energy and matter produced annihilation reaction, which immediately caused a big explosion.

"Boom boom boom boom boom!!!"

The people and creatures of Wakanda suffered heavy casualties.

"Well done, Winkton!"

Loki stood on Winkton's head, and at this moment, he felt that he had reached the pinnacle of his life.

That's right, that's it!

Hahahahaha!!!

"Loki!!!"

Suddenly, a voice made Loki's pupils shrink, his feet slipped, and he stumbled and fell off Winkton.

It's Thor!

Thor, the god of thunder, crackled with sparks and lightning all the way.

Hellfire + divine thunder.

He fell from the sky, full of anger, and threw the hammer of gravity at Loki!

Odin played with this hammer that Luther had copied from the transformation magic and found some minor problems with it, so he went to Nidave himself and asked the dwarves to forge the Hammer of Gravity.

But it's not a powerful forging, it just makes the upper limit of this hammer higher. Theoretically, if Thor is strong enough, he can also use the Gravitational Hammer to distort the gravity of the entire solar system, destroy everything, and reorganize atoms.

Now, the Gravitational Hammer is just a hammer used by Thor to hit people, which is much more useful than Mjolnir.

Although Mjolnir is said to have the mass of a dead star core, there are too many people who can catch it in the original plot, and there are also a lot of people who are fine after being hit. Apart from anything else, the Hulk has been hit so many times. If it is really the mass of a dead star core, the Hulk would have exploded.

The Gravitational Hammer is wrapped in gravity, gravity and magnetic field, generating millions of tons of impact force. Loki is afraid that he will die if the hammer hits him.

But it doesn't matter. Thor is very sure that Loki is fake. How could his brother appear in his true body? It's just an illusion, so he needs to use a shocking enough scene to make Loki appear!

Winkton didn't understand how powerful the hammer was until he was hit in the face by the hammer of gravity.

"Boom——"

He had no power to resist, after all, this was a force of millions of tons!

Then he was smashed all the way out.

Chapter 378 The Illuminati and Hydra are in the same group!

Loki, who was next to Winktown, was instantly shattered by the shock wave.

Sure enough, just as Thor expected, Loki is just a small silver coin under the wall of a gentleman. How could he appear with such a big thorn? It must be a phantom, and the real body is hiding somewhere.

"Damn Thor!"

Loki was very angry and watched Winkton being thrown away by Thor's hammer, not knowing whether he was dead or alive.

But he obviously underestimated the strength of dragon-level monsters.

Putting aside dragon-level weirdos with serious biases like Slim Bean Sprout and Wandering Emperor, most dragon-level weirdos are comparable to the strength of dragon-level weirdos.

Even Slender Bean Sprout can hardly say that its body is not strong. After all, it was only broken into two parts after Saitama's punch. And compared with other dragon-level monsters who were beaten to pieces by one punch, it's hard to say that Slim Bean Sprout's body is not strong. Is it also very strong?

Winkton ate the impact of millions of tons, and when he reacted, he rushed back immediately.

Thor stretched out his hand to grab the Gravity Hammer. Winkeldon came back, which surprised Thor, and then he was pleasantly surprised.

He was very aggressive in his life, especially the battle with the Saiyans, which made Thor extremely happy. Unfortunately, he felt aggrieved because in that battle with the Saiyans, he was not the main force, but was defeated by the Saiyans. The demi-human pressed it to the ground and rubbed it.

This made Thor very unhappy. After the Saiyans were imprisoned, Thor could only find Captain Marvel and Green Hulk to spar. But, although he could beat Green Hulk, after all, he is now an enhanced version. The double-hammered thunder god also activated his own divine power and the fire of hell.

But he is no match against Captain Marvel. Even though Captain Marvel cannot absorb his divine power and hellfire, his strength and speed are enough to crush him.

Thor still needs to work harder and be tortured by his sister before he can break through.

Now that there is a guy who can kill himself with one blow, Thor will certainly be excited.

After all, Winkerton is also a experienced Hydra agent. Even if he has become a weirdo now, he has quickly figured out the condition of his body.

The situation is not bad. Although his movement speed cannot exceed the speed of sound, the tip of his tail can swing at a speed of Mach 10. Combined with the ultra-high force plasma of the back spine, it can throw out plasma cutting.

Also, his wingspan is not like that of a reptile at all, so it does not affect Winkton's ability to use human fighting skills.

At this time, the dent on Winkton's face had recovered. Unknown to Thor, he thought that his hammer had not caused any damage to Winkton, and he suddenly became even more excited.

Captain Marvel was also a little surprised.

"Hydra actually has such a monster?"

Even though Captain Marvel's eyes were higher than his head and he felt that Hydra could not cause trouble to him, Captain Marvel was still a little surprised by Winkton's power.

One of his subordinates, a nobody, has such power. How strong is Black Caesar?

Although Winkton was haunted by Thor, other weirdos were not, so they still carried out an inhuman massacre of Wakanda.

Ghost-level monsters have city-level deterrence and destructive power. Anyway, just look at the Beast King and the Deep Sea King. Although these two are not specialized attacks to destroy holes, their destructive power is absolutely unparalleled.

Not to mention there are many tiger-level monsters and wolf-level monsters, Wakanda simply can't resist them.

In the end, T'Challa chose to abandon Wakanda and left in an aircraft with his father, King T'Chaka, and his sister, Princess Shuri.

But even if they want to leave, Ultron and the others will not let them go. That aircraft is also made of vibranium!

"Have you seen it, T'Challa, this is the madness of people in the outside world. They massacre us for vibranium!"

T'Chaka said to T'Challa.

"Father, this is actually Hydra, not the world."

T'Challa shook his head. He still firmly believed in his idea. Hydra was a terrorist organization and one that was wanted all over the world. How could it compare with the attitude of the whole world?

Just as the two father and son were arguing, the aircraft suddenly sank.

Captain Marvel appears on top of the aircraft.

She thinks Wakanda is an advanced civilization hidden by aliens on the earth. How can she let them go?

And even if the aircraft has a stealth function, it can't hide it from Captain Marvel.

"Want to leave? Get down!"

Captain Marvel knocked the vibranium aircraft to the ground with one kick!

"No, they're from the Illuminati!"

Princess Su Rui was shocked.

"bump!"

Then the vibranium aircraft vibrated.

Princess Su Rui and the others looked at the fist mark appearing above their heads and their eyes widened. This thing was vibranium! ! !

Captain Marvel struggled to pull out her fist. She didn't expect that this aircraft was so strong that she couldn't punch it through?

But it doesn't matter, one more punch!

Captain Marvel punched dozens of times before finally punching through the aircraft. At this time, she was already shocked. How advanced is this technology to be so powerful and able to block her own punch?

If it had been this aircraft when she collided with the Kree fleet, wouldn't she have had a big bump on her forehead?

But the Kree are already one of the three major empires in the universe, and Ronan is also the conqueror of the Kree Empire and holds a high position of power. There is no way his spaceship and fleet are shoddy projects, right?

If you think about it this way, this alien civilization hidden on the earth is very scary. Its technological power is actually more powerful than the three major empires of the universe!

"They are in the same group, Hydra and the Illuminati!"

T'Chaka and his men were fine, as all shock waves and vibrations were absorbed by the vibranium, but T'Chaka misunderstood Captain Marvel's interception and attack on them, thinking that the Illuminati and Hydra were in the same group.

They all targeted Wakanda's vibranium!

"There must be some misunderstanding here!"

T'Challa said to Captain Marvel quickly.

"Misunderstanding? What civilization are you aliens from?"

Captain Marvel looked at T'Challa and T'Chaka, both of whom were normal Nigs, but Nigs could not have such high technology, which was as outrageous as seeing a goblin driving a Gundam.

So, are they a group of black-skinned aliens?

Or are they chameleon-type aliens who can change their skin color freely? Captain Marvel has seen them before, and turning black and hiding in Africa is indeed a good choice.

T'Challa immediately understood that Captain Marvel probably misunderstood, but they couldn't say anything about this misunderstanding. Now that the world has experienced the American Saiyan invasion, it has become a frightened bird about aliens.

Wakanda was previously just a background setting for a small indigenous country.

Chapter 379 A mess

Now a lot of high technology is suddenly exposed.

It would be strange if Captain Marvel and the others didn't find it strange.

T'Challa knew that this was still Wakanda's fault before. Now, he could only try to explain to Captain Marvel.

"We are not aliens, we are earthlings."

T'Challa said.

"Earthlings? Earthlings have such high technology?"

Captain Marvel punched out, and an energy burst was released from her fist. T'Challa's pupils shrank and he dodged directly. T'Chaka was immediately hit and flew out.

"Father!"

T'Challa was dumbfounded. He just acted on instinct, and he could dodge even if he didn't eat the heart-shaped grass. Why didn't his father dodge?

Father, what about your heart-shaped grass-enhanced physique?

If T'Chaka hadn't been wearing the old-fashioned Black Panther suit, and the thickness was okay, he would have broken his ribs just now.

Fortunately, the heart-shaped grass has enhanced his body functions. Even if his figure is out of shape, his reaction is slow, and he is pampered, he is still not so easy to get hurt.

"Ma'am, we are really Earthlings, but the reason we have such advanced technology is entirely because of vibranium!"

T'Challa said to Captain Marvel quickly.

"Vibranium?"

Captain Marvel is not very sensitive to materials science, and it can be said that she has never dabbled in it, so naturally she does not know the preciousness of an unimaginable material and its help to science.

"That's right."

T'Challa quickly explained the matter of vibranium. Captain Marvel was skeptical, but Tony in her communicator was enlightened.

"Vibranium, I thought there were not many, but I didn't expect there were so many. If there were enough vibranium when the Saiyans invaded, they would not be beaten like this!"

Tony felt that Wakanda was too selfish. Of course, Tony naturally did not remember that his own vibranium nanorobots were easily defeated by the Saiyans.

"Vibranium is too precious. If it is exposed, Wakanda will attract more mold than Afghanistan and Iraq."

T'Challa retorted after hearing what Tony said.

Although he thought Wakanda should be in line with the world, he also knew the character of mold.

I'm afraid that vibranium will become the new "oil" by then.

America is envious of the dollar hegemony caused by oil in the past.

Today's dollar hegemony has declined, but if something like vibranium appears, America will definitely grab it.

Tony didn't know what to say for a moment, after all, vibranium is more precious than oil.

Oil has always been promoted as a non-renewable resource, but new large oil fields with more reserves have been discovered, and new oil has emerged from oil fields that were originally thought to be exhausted.

Now, oil has become an indispensable resource for chemical products, but in terms of energy, new energy has begun to abolish some oil energy industries and products.

Tony knows very well that with his own new energy, coupled with outrageous materials such as vibranium, the level of human science and technology will undergo earth-shaking changes. All theoretical sciences are limited by materials science and energy science and cannot be verified in practice. Now it is no longer a problem!

It's a pity that Wakanda hides so deeply. Although Tony knows that this is human nature, he still thinks they are very selfish. If it was nothing before the alien invasion, but the aliens didn't contact them for such a long time after the invasion, and now it was exposed by the Hydra invasion.

"Come here quickly, I'll leave it to you here, I'll deal with Hydra."

Captain Marvel is impatient to deal with such things.

Tony had no choice but to send a nano steel suit to take over Captain Marvel, and then Captain Marvel went to deal with the Hydra people.

Hydra has realized the problem. Captain Marvel is the enemy they need to pay the most attention to, and the most powerful among them, Winkton, is entangled by Thor.

Thor was beaten by Winkton, but Winkton was not much better.

But relying on the regeneration ability, Winkton is not inferior.

Loki can't sit still. If all the Hydra people die here, then his plan to rule Midgard will not be over?

Especially after Captain Marvel came over, those powerful monsters and lizards were all beaten by Captain Marvel with one punch. Except for the ghost-level monsters who could compete with them, the rest were no match.

This was not to kill the monsters, but the future hegemony of the Loki Dynasty!

So Loki quickly gave them the order to retreat.

However, Loki still wanted to try to control Thor and Captain Marvel with the Mind Scepter. Maybe his hegemony could be completed today?

If it was a genuine Mind Scepter, it might have a little impact. After all, Thanos sealed all the Mind Gems, leaving only a little mental power, but the Mind Scepter produced by Luther must be easy to use.

Because Luther still counted on Loki to do something, of course, Luther would not let Loki cheat his people, so Black Caesar's subordinates were immune to the effect of the Mind Scepter.

Loki originally thought that the Mind Scepter would be more effective at close range, and it would be better if it could touch the closest part of the opponent's heart.

Although Luther thought it would be better if it was closer to the head.

After all, the heart doesn't have any ideas, it's all about the head.

But it doesn't matter, the Mind Staff itself is the routine I thought would work.

So, Tony soon found that Thor's eyes were blank, and then he stopped and didn't continue to fight with Winkton.

Instead, he and Winkton attacked Captain Marvel.

"Farke!"

Tony didn't need to think about it to know that it must have been Loki's fault!

But when he looked at the whole place, he didn't find Loki anywhere!

Not only that, the second-level and third-level members of the Illuminati who were fighting against the monsters of Hydra have now turned their backs and launched a suicide attack on Captain Marvel.

Captain Marvel sensed something was wrong and did not kill him, but he also became helpless.

Loki looked at Captain Marvel. She was flying in the sky and it was difficult for Loki to get close to her.

The best way is to let Thor and Winkton suppress her and take the opportunity to knock her out of the sky.

At this moment, Green Hulk also appeared.

Originally Dr. Banner didn't plan to go, but Thor was controlled, and Tony didn't dare to put himself in danger. He is now controlling the steel suit support from the rear. The time with the Saiyans makes Tony very scared now. Going to war, causes of anxiety.

But if it is left to Jarvis to control it, the Iron Suit will work very well, and the Iron Suit is not afraid of mind control.

"People controlled by Loki will regain consciousness after being hit hard. Hulk, beat Thor hard!"

Tony said to Green Hulk.

Chapter 380 Wakanda is gone

"Hit Thor hard, Hulk knows!"

Green Hulk immediately shouted loudly.

Captain Marvel also heard what Tony said.

"Just a beating?"

Captain Marvel fired continuous energy bursts, knocking Winkton away. Then she rushed towards Thor and missed Thor's hammer with a punch, hitting him in the face.

At the same time, Green Hulk also jumped up, howling, holding a hammer with both hands and hitting Thor's lower back.

"Crack!"

Just as Superman snapped Zod's neck, a powerful air shock wave exploded.

Thor's waist is broken!

Of course, with his current ability, even if his waist is broken, it won't matter, he will recover in a while.

But the severe pain and Captain Marvel's punch on his face made Thor wake up instantly!

"Ahhhhhhhhh!!!"

Thor felt as if his waist was broken. The pain was unbearable. He fell from the sky to the ground, and his face rubbed against the ground, causing sparks all the way.

"Crackling!!!"

The next moment, Thor's whole body was filled with lightning and thunder, and then he stood up again.

"Hulk, you actually hit me!"

Thor said to Green Hulk very angry.

"Tony told Hulk to beat Thor!"

Green Hulk said confidently.

"Stark!"

Thor was helpless and furious, but he also knew that he was controlled by Loki and could not blame Tony.

"Welcome back, Breaking Point, we need your help now, Loki has controlled our people, use your electric shock to bring them back to consciousness!"

Tony said with a smirk.

Thor glanced at the situation on the field and raised Mjolnir unhappily.

Then I saw dark clouds in the sky, thunder and lightning falling out of the sky, and following the movement of Thor's hammer hitting the ground, thousands of thunders connected to the sky, blocking everyone's escape direction. Even Captain Marvel was electrocuted and flew away. go out.

"Stingy man."

Captain Marvel complained that it was nothing for her to be electrocuted.

And those people from the Illuminati and Hydra who were electrocuted started to twitch with smoke all over their bodies, looking very ghostly.

However, after the electric shock ended, the monsters on Hydra's side suffered heavy casualties, but the Illuminati was nothing. At most, they were incontinent. After all, the impact of the electric shock would cause the sphincter to lose control.

"Loki!!!"

Thor is looking for his younger brother, where is the younger brother who caused him embarrassment?

Loki had left long ago. After seeing Thor regaining consciousness, Loki asked everyone to retreat on their own.

It's just that they are all targeted and it is difficult to escape.

Captain Marvel would not let Winkton go. When Thor couldn't find Loki, he had to vent his anger on Winkton.

Winkton was not timid in the face of the attacks from the two powerful men, Captain Marvel and Thor.

He stamped one foot on the ground and set off a powerful seismic wave. Looking from a high altitude, you could see the hard ground cracking with Winkton as the center, as if the entire land had been cracked by Winkton!

Thor, the god of thunder, was caught off guard and knocked to the ground. His powerful internal organs were shaken to the point of nausea and vomiting.

“Buzz buzz—!!!”

A high-frequency buzzing sound sounded, and a dazzling blue light lit up from Winkton's tail, then spread all the way up along the spines of his back,

"Stop him quickly!!! The monster created by those Hydra guys is simply a moving nuclear reactor!"

Tony's eyes widened, the data detected by the optical measurement sensor was about to explode.

Green Hulk heard this and pounced on Winkton.

Winkton opened his mouth, and a dark blue death light spurted out, instantly engulfing the Green Hulk who rushed up. The blazing rays destroyed the Green Hulk's body unscrupulously!

The ground vaporized in an instant, and the dazzling light blinded the eyes of everyone present.

"Hulk!"

Green Hulk let out a cry of pain, then rushed out of the energy jet, and punched Winkton in the face. The heavy fist knocked Winkton to the ground. Green Hulk had very serious scorch marks all over his body, and his skin even Burnt by the jet.

However, as a monster that can survive the terrifying energy attacks of the Saiyans, Green Hulk will naturally not be killed by Winkton's plasma jet so easily.

Winkton was hit on the head by a powerful punch from the Green Hulk. The hard scales and cuticles suddenly burst and blood spattered everywhere.

A hideous and terrifying wound appeared on his head, and blood gushes out from the wound.

Thor took the opportunity to swing his hammers and hit Winkton on the head, making him unable to get up.

Captain Marvel charges up his energy and fires a big shot.

If it were a one-on-one fight, Winkton might not have been subdued so quickly, but with Green Hulk, Thor, and Captain Marvel's shameless gang fight, Winkton would have turned into a Speedy Vegeta and fell down immediately. .

In this way, Winkton, a dragon-level monster, was defeated within a few days of his birth.

If it weren't for the Saiyan invasion that hadn't ended yet, Winkton would have been killed by the Illuminati.

Unlike DC next door, Marvel's superheroes do not have the doctrine or spirit to say no to killing.

Especially a lot of villains who died at the hands of Tony.

But what awaits Winkton will also be the result of being imprisoned. When the Saiyans come, Tony and the others will let guys like Winkton be used as cannon fodder to atone for their sins.

If you can survive the Saiyans, it doesn't matter if you are forgiven for your crimes. After all, you are fighting for billions of people around the world. No crime is worth mentioning.

Next, the Illuminati took over everything here. The human countries were still arguing about sending troops, but they didn't need to send troops anymore. The Illuminati solved the alien problem in Wakanda.

Tony suddenly felt that Wakanda was very suitable to be used as a base. The space fortress was the main base, but the base on Earth was equally important.

And Wakanda had vibranium, a lot of vibranium. If it was here, the Illuminati would become more powerful, not to mention that Wakanda also had energy shield technology that made Tony jealous.

This thing is something that only human science fiction has, and I don't know how many years it will take to come up with it.

As a result, Wakanda got it with vibranium, which is really enviable.

The people of the five tribes of Wakanda have suffered heavy casualties. Under the attack of Hydra, they can hardly protect themselves. In addition, Tony's personality in this timeline is completely different from the original plot. He has no good feelings towards Wakanda and naturally will not allow them to continue to occupy the rare resource of vibranium.

In order to fight against the upcoming Saiyans, Tony will do whatever it takes.

T'Chaka and T'Challa don't know what to say. Their homes are gone in one wave.
