Chapter 38: Fighting Power Soars

"Boom!"

Thunder suddenly sounded in the sky above the planet Vampa, scaring many monsters into fleeing in panic.

"Not bad, Broly, your fighting power is improving very quickly."

Luther stood in the void, looking at Broly opposite.

Broly had become a tall young man at this time. I don't know if it was because of the legendary Super Saiyan, but his body seemed to be developing very quickly. Sun Wukong on Earth was still the size of a child.

"Ani KI!"

Broly was very excited. He was already completely familiar with Luther, and believed from the bottom of his heart that Luther was his elder brother. Even if Luther said that he was not a Saiyan now, Broly would not be shaken.

Although Luther did not bring Broly back to Earth, he still brought Broly a lot of delicious food, which made Broly very moved.

It can only be said that the Saiyans are all foodies, which is really easy to use and deal with.

After feeding Broly and increasing his favorability, Luther took the opportunity to propose a sparring match with Broly.

Broly was reluctant at first, worried that he would beat his brother to death.

Luther patted his chest and said it was okay, come on.

Just kidding, Broly's combat power is only 15,000 now, and after the great elder improved his potential, his combat power has exceeded 42,000 of Nairu, so he would not be killed in one encounter.

Then Luther insisted that Broly become stronger through training, after all, they still have a big enemy, Frieza, whose combat power is as high as 530,000!

Broly had no choice but to agree.

Luther did this not to seek death, but to test all aspects of the data of the Kryptonian of Doomsday.

He had thought about attacking Broly directly before, but was worried that Broly would upgrade instantly and kill him in one second, so the plan of the top fighter + test subject was carried out simultaneously. Now even if Broly is really stronger than him, he will not kill him.

After a test, Broly has not yet turned into a humanoid giant ape, but his combat power has soared to more than 80,000. Luther only fought with him for a few seconds and was stunned by Broly.

Fortunately, the Kryptonian Doomsday was really powerful and did not let down Luther's previous research for so long.

Originally, the Doomsday gene alone could not match Broly's upgrade speed, but with the Kryptonian absorbing sunlight to recharge, the Doomsday gene instantly completed its evolution, and it was not much worse than the ordinary Doomsday.

Broly roared and punched Luther. Although he was loyal and a little simple, he still had the Saiyan warlike gene in his bones.

At the beginning, he was naturally suppressed by not liking to fight, but after fighting Luther on equal terms, he began to lose control of himself.

Luther did not retreat and punched him.

"Boom boom boom boom boom ---!!!"

The two fists collided hard, instantly expelling the surrounding air, forming a huge cavity, and the squeezed air became a shock wave with tens of millions of tons of impact force that spread in the sky.

The pressure of this shock wave per cubic centimeter exceeded 100 million tons, and everything turned into dust wherever it passed, and there was nothing that could intercept and resist it.

The shock wave alone was so terrifying, and it was hard to imagine how terrible the power of the two people's fists was.

Luther felt that the cells in his body were torn apart by Broly's punch, and then the Doomsday gene quickly restored these torn cells and released more powerful power at the same time!

With unlimited physical strength and unlimited energy, Luther only had to do one thing, that is, to punch out with all his strength! ! !

The fist-to-flesh battle made Broly more crazy, his hair moved without wind, and he was hit on the cheek by Luther's next punch. Even if it was not inferior to the Kryptonian, or even surpassed the Kryptonian's steel body, his cheek was slightly red and swollen, but Broly fought back more fiercely!

Luther had just become stronger, and was punched away hundreds of meters by Broly again.

"Enjoy it, come again!"

Luther's mouth was broken and bleeding, Broly's punch shattered his biological force field, steel body and Qi enhancement, but it didn't matter, the next punch was Luther was stronger than Broly!

The two of them were using a bug to increase each other's combat power, until Luther found that Broly seemed to be losing his mind and hurriedly stopped.

Just kidding, after all, it was not the real Doomsday, and Luther didn't know if he had a limit. If he really did, and Broly lost his mind again, he would probably be beaten to death.

"Stop!"

Luther gave an order and called Broly to stop.

"Brother... I, I feel that I have become much stronger!"

This has become Broly's conditioned reflex, so he stopped immediately and regained his mind, and then he felt the explosive power in his strong body!

Luther picked up a combat power detector he had researched. Since the combat power detectors in the Dragon Ball series would explode if they exceeded the upper limit, he researched a combat power detector that would not explode.

"Broly, you have reached 500,000 combat power now."

Luther sighed, worthy of being the legendary Super Saiyan, he had 500,000 combat power just by fighting casually, which made many people cry to death.

This is because Broly has not entered the humanoid giant ape state, and Luther never dared to let Broly lose his mind, otherwise the growth rate of combat power would be even more exaggerated and faster.

As for Luther himself, his combat power has reached 550,000.

His combat power detector is more detailed, because Luther took into account the technique of aura masking. Hiding combat power has deceived many people in Frieza's Legion, so he tried every means, and finally asked Bulma for help before developing it. This is a more detailed detector.

Not only can it detect the opponent's energy, but it can also detect the opponent's body density and body tissue strength, so as to make the most fair and equitable value.

After all, no matter how much Qi is hidden, it still has a strengthening effect on the body. Of course, Super Saiyan God Blue who was pushed up by the train in the later period does not count.

It must have been hidden in the microscopic realm, so it has no strengthening effect at all. If this happens, you can't blame the combat power detector.

The Kryptonian's 500,000 combat power is definitely much more powerful than the 500,000 combat power of the Sayans and Frozen Demons. In addition, Luther is still learning magic to strengthen himself, so it can be said that he has gained a lot.

In order to appease Broly, Luther brought artificial humans from the Imperial Organization from the earth to live with Broly and cook for him.

"Now my strength can be compared to anything in Marvel."

Luther was very satisfied. Five hundred and fifty thousand combat power, what a concept.
