Chapter 391: Equal Diplomacy

Those small spaceships are just transport ships and have little combat effectiveness. Of course, there are also combat ships.

The space fighter is the Megatron space fighter, which can cruise and fight at very fast speeds in the universe. It also has the ability to transform into a giant robot.

When the camera zooms in, countless Martians can be seen maintaining order and working in the port.

Even Tony was stunned by this scene.

"What's that?"

Tony asked the Martian.

"That is the Mars fleet prepared by the emperor, preparing to leave the solar system. The resources of the solar system are too scarce, but the resources of the universe are unlimited."

The Martian replied casually.

Everyone's expressions changed slightly.

"Leaving the solar system? Luther is moving again?"

Banner said in surprise.

They came to establish diplomatic relations with Luther, but Luther was about to leave the solar system?

Your development speed is too fast. How long have you been on Mars and you are leaving the solar system so soon?

Coach, someone is cheating!

"It's not a move, it's just that the fleet goes out to explore. If we find resource planets, we will report back. Then we will start mining the resources."

said the Martian.

"The universe is not as simple as you think."

Carol remained silent. After seeing the Martian fleet, she showed an unexpected expression.

Judging from Carol's years of experience in the galaxy, the strength of the Mars fleet is not invincible in the galaxy, but it is very likely to be ranked among the top.

This shows that Luther's level of technology and genius are beyond imagination.

However, Carroll felt that although the strength of the Mars fleet was good, its way of doing things was very problematic.

"We have investigated it beforehand."

Everyone then entered a huge palace, and they saw a huge booth with a very simple and rough-looking machine on it.

"Pathfinder!"

Tony and others looked at this machine very excitedly.

This is something of great collectible value and significance. It can be said that all the sports cars, expensive cars and properties under Tony's name combined are not as good as the Pathfinder.

"We found it on Mars. All its parts were scrapped, but Emperor reassembled it and now preserves it in a dust-free and gas-free environment."

The Martian introduced.

"This is human property, not his."

Carol said again.

"No, if it's on Mars, it belongs to the emperor!"

the Martian retorted.

Carol wanted to say something else, but Natasha stopped her.

Now that we are on someone else's territory, it's better not to be too presumptuous.

Then they saw Luther. To their surprise, Luther did not greet them in the palace hall.

"I thought you would be sitting on the throne looking down at us."

Tony smiled and hugged Luther, and then said.

"I'm not you, Tony, but you'd probably do that and surround yourself with a bunch of women."

Luther said.

Dr. Banner and the others felt that Luther was really good at judging people, and that this was indeed something Tony could do.

"Long time no see, Luther."

Banner greeted him, and then turned directly into the Green Hulk, who also reached out and hugged Luther.

Luther slapped the Green Hulk's huge back, and the Green Hulk slapped Luther's back, and the average person was probably rotten.

"Are you Luther?"

Carol said very rudely at this time.

"she is?"

Luther naturally doesn't know what's going on on Earth. After all, he has previously stated that he doesn't pay attention to that side of Earth. He doesn't even know about the Saiyan invasion. How could he know about Carol?

"She is the most powerful woman on the planet right now."

Tony said funny.

"I think men are also the strongest."

Carroll said.

"No, there's Black Caesar in Man."

Thor followed.

Carol paused for a moment. You can't say that Black Caesar's gender is unknown. What if Black Caesar's gender recognition is that of an armed helicopter?

"Thor, Asgardian protoss, son of Odin."

Thor then introduced himself.

"Nice to meet you, but this lady seems to have a problem with me and wants to have a fist-level exchange with me?"

Luther nodded, then pointed out Carol's expression.

There is no way, Big Pie Face deserves a beating, Luther feels it is necessary to let Big Pie Face see what power is!

The so-called power is used to describe this kind of thing.

"Yes, do you dare, His Majesty the Emperor?"

Carol was not deliberately provoking, she just wanted to fight for the right to speak and tell Luther that the earth had changed and no longer needed his power as before.

They are in a relationship of equal dialogue!

"Do you really want to start a fight as soon as we meet?"

Dr. Banner scratched his head, he wanted to stop it.

"This is a good thing, Banner. Carol is a very stubborn guy, and I understand why she did this."

Tony was very calm and didn't stop him.

Diplomacy, what is diplomacy?

Of course, only when the strength is equal can it be called diplomacy. If the strength is unbalanced, it is not diplomacy, but colonization!

"no problem."

Luther then led everyone to a room.

"The alloys in the rooms here are specially made. Even if a nuclear bomb explodes here, there will be no deformation."

Luther said.

Tony was surprised after hearing this. You know, the power of nuclear bombs or bomb effects is the greatest in a closed environment. If even a nuclear bomb explosion can't cause the alloys here to deform, doesn't that mean the strength of the alloys here is beyond imagination?

It may even be inferior to vibranium!

"Then let's start. Do you need to warm up, Your Majesty?"

Carol said.

What warm-up? Isn't it just asking if you want to let go.

"No need."

Luther said.

Carol thought she could see Luther's unhappy expression, but Luther looked calm. That feeling made her unhappy, because Luther's performance was like a lion watching a monkey fooling around in front of him.

I think I am the king of beasts, is she a monkey?

Carol snorted coldly.

"Pay attention, Emperor! King! Your Majesty!"

Carol warned, then accelerated to supersonic speed in an instant, punching Luther in the face.

Luther did not move, and Carol punched through his head, but the feeling of weakness made Carol's pupils shrink.

"A bit slow..."

Luther's voice sounded behind him, but Carol felt the pain of her abdomen exploding in advance and fell to the ground.

The opponent easily avoided her attack and counterattacked as fast as lightning, and then got behind her!

Chapter 392: Wiping the Floor with Your Face

"Do you want to continue, Ms. Carroll?"

Luther used words to tease Carol, not wanting it to end so soon.

As expected, Carol was irritated. She would not give in so easily. After all, she was Carol!

"Our battle has just begun, Your Majesty!"

Carol didn't give up, thinking that she was just careless and didn't expect Luther to be so fast.

"As you wish, you should attack first."

Luther nodded and said in a gentlemanly manner.

But this made Carol almost furious. He raised his hand and hit the ground with a burst of energy.

"I've already attacked first!"

Carroll said that he was not willing to take any advantage.

"Okay, then, be careful."

From the moment Luther started to appear in front of Carol, it was so fast that Carol couldn't react. He pressed Carol's big face with one hand and "carried" her to the wall!

The moving company's surefire move!

The giant kills!

"Boom!"

Carol's big face made a passionate move with the wall, flicking each other's lips with her tongue.

Almost knocked off Carol's tongue.

Carol, who was starry-eyed, didn't resist yet, and was carried to the other wall by Luther with a maniacal laugh.

"bump!"

"Boom!"

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"

Everyone just watched in silence as Carol was knocked back and forth against the wall by Luther.

"Luther, is he angry?"

Dr. Banner muttered.

After all, he had never seen Luther like this.

Steve couldn't see clearly such a high-speed battle. As for why he could keep up with Thanos' movements in the movie... Well, that's how it was in the movie.

But judging from the light and shadow, it seems that Carol is at the disadvantage?

In the end, Luther stopped playing the giant-killing game and directly pressed Carol's head against the ground to rub it. At his speed, the wall and the ground were flat, and gravity could not capture him at all.

Carol even created sparks.

"Enough!"

Carol broke into a double-star state, and after being rubbed back and forth by Luther for thousands of kilometers, she finally succeeded in resisting.

Luther let go.

"This end is really iron. It has been rubbed for so long without even a hair falling out."

Luther looked at his palms, and Carol looked at Luther with blood on her face.

This bastard actually pressed his face to the ground and rubbed it! ! !

Carol has never been humiliated like this. After all, no one can do such a thing to her. Raditz and Black Caesar who can do it will not do it.

Luther can be said to be the only person who did this, and Carol will definitely remember him forever.

But it's not love but hate.

So after Carol broke out into the binary state, her power soared to the limit. She also had to wipe the floor and ceiling with Luther's face!

In the comics, Carol Danvers is a hybrid of Kree and Earth humans.

Carol's mother is a Kree, and the Kree blood still contains strong power, but this power is difficult to inspire.

I don't know if there is this setting in the movie, but Carol is indeed stronger than when she just returned to Earth, because she has encountered opponents who are powerful enough to crush her, instead of being tortured in the Milky Way on a cosmic scale. .

After being a bad guy for so many years, he has become a bad guy, so naturally he cannot be a match for a strong person.

Things were different now. She was crushed by Raditz, almost died in Raditz's hands, and was crushed by Black Caesar again.

After recovering, Carol found that she had gained new superpowers, and her binary star form seemed to become more powerful! ! !

"Binary star" mode (partially translated as binary state).

In the setting of the comics, Captain Marvel in the "double star form" will be connected to the "white hole" that has not been confirmed in the real world of science.

A "white hole" is a special celestial body whose properties are exactly opposite to those of a "black hole" predicted by the general theory of relativity. In the imagination, the "white hole" is an ejection source in the universe. The "white hole" will continuously release energy and matter to the outside. But it will not absorb any energy or matter, so the "white hole" is exactly the opposite of the "black hole" that continuously absorbs.

Captain Marvel, who is connected to the "White Hole", can absorb the huge energy released by the "White Hole", thus greatly increasing his strength.

At this time, Captain Marvel is enough to destroy hundreds of spaceships with one blow like the living planet Ego in "Guardians of the Galaxy 2". There is no need to hit them one by one like in the movie. In the comic "Ms. Marvel v2", open Captain Marvel in the "double star" state also destroyed a planet with one blow, and the evil Bruder Zerg lived on that planet.

She can now control every form of electromagnetic spectrum and gravitational field energy on a cosmic level.

Carol's long golden hair floated, and her whole body lit up with golden light. She looked radiant, like a Super Saiyan.

She felt that even Raditz could hold him down and rub him on the ground. Even if Raditz turned into a gorilla, he would be able to fight!

The energy released from the white hole gave Carol greater strength and speed!

She just took one step, and she was already in front of Luther.

"boom----!!!"

The impact of the air wave caused everyone watching the battle to be thrown away. Thor was frightened. He did not expect that the gap between himself and Carol was already so big.

After some of the light and heat from the explosion caused by the impact dissipated, everyone saw it.

Carol's fist was stepped on by one of Luther's feet. At this time, there was an endless burst of energy. Human nuclear bombs were vulnerable to the power of tens of millions of tons of hydrogen energy released per second, but Luther It seemed as stable as a mountain, as solid as a rock. No matter how much Carroll exploded, he could not retract his fist or move forward.

An invisible barrier intercepted the maximum impact of the released energy on everyone, but there was still a shock wave that allowed them to experience what it means to be immersed in the scene.

"Luther is actually so strong?"

Thor originally thought that no matter how strong Emperor Luther was, he couldn't be that strong, but now he knew that Emperor Luther was really strong.

Carol's burst of power frightened Thor, who felt that she was no match, and then she was stepped on by Luther.

Carroll\u003eSaul, Luther\u003eCarroll.

Thor felt that he was originally the face of the Illuminati, but now he suddenly became the Green Hulk's comrade.

"I don't know that he is so powerful now. What kind of transformation has he made to himself? This guy is really..."

Tony was very envious of Luther's transformation technology. Compound No. 2 was the product of Luther's elimination. Luther used the most advanced things on himself, and even he couldn't get it.

Chapter 393: The Emperor Angel, the Jedi Knight

Otherwise, Tony would not continue to study nanorobots. He felt that this was his way out.

Carol roared angrily and used more powerful force to finally make Luther retreat, but then Luther used more powerful force to suppress her and kicked her in the face.

Carol's teeth were broken from the intimate kiss with the boots, and she swallowed them whole!

Carol spit out a large mouthful of blood with a cry, and then she felt her hair being grabbed by a strong hand.

etc!

Carol felt a pain in her scalp, and her whole body was pulled up. Luther punched her in the abdomen, and she suddenly felt a sharp pain like an explosion in her abdomen. You are in great pain.

If she hadn't pooped cleanly, Luther would have punched out all her shit and piss!

The second punch hit her in the face, and her nose was visibly swollen. At the same time, Carol also flew out, and a large amount of her hair was pulled off by Luther.

Carroll hit the wall and bounced back. The human body is elastic, and Carroll is strong enough, so it became a very good baseball.

Luther's third punch hit Carol's iron plate. The iron-bone Carol was dented by Luther's punch. All her ribs were broken and pierced into her lungs and internal organs, causing a jam. Rolle suffered severe internal bleeding.

"That's enough, Luther!"

When Thor saw this scene, he immediately stopped it. After all, he was the only one who could react at the scene. Others had not yet seen clearly what happened.

Luther sided to avoid Thor's hammer, and Carol bounced back and forth a few times before falling to the ground.

She was bleeding profusely from her mouth and nose, frightening everyone.

"You won't be beaten to death by Luther, right?"

"Luther, why are you so harsh?"

Tony's heart tightened, and he quickly went up to check on Carol's condition.

"She's fine. The energy in her body is quickly repairing her body. As long as she still has energy, she will be immortal."

Luther said.

At this time, everyone remembered that Carol was like this before. He was beaten so badly by Raditz and Black Caesar, but he recovered quickly.

But seeing Carol's current miserable condition, and then looking at Luther with his hands behind his back, I couldn't help but feel that Luther had really changed.

Become stronger!

While Tony was proud of it, he also felt that the next words might not be easy to say.

They are proud that Luther, their friend, did not disappoint them and defeated Carol, who had always doubted and questioned.

And Luther, who has shown such great strength, will undoubtedly occupy a dominant position in the subsequent diplomacy.

Although they will not lose their power and humiliate the country, they are only a little better.

Tony and the others were arranged by Luther to stay first, and they would discuss anything the next day.

Then Tony and the others saw a group of Martians practicing wielding a lightsaber.

"Lightsaber???"

Tony and the others looked at this group of Martians with wide eyes.

"Do you know our weapons from Mars?"

Accompanying them was a Martian named Sturgis, who was very tall and handsome.

It is said that Martians do not have a fat mechanism, so they will not gain weight no matter how much they eat. The price is that if they have no fat storage, it will be difficult for them to survive without food.

But it doesn't matter, as Luther's subordinate, you have to be beautiful, even if you die, you must die in style.

"How could you not recognize it? Isn't that the Jedi Knight's lightsaber?"

Tony complained, he felt like he wanted to say something, but when he thought that Luther did it, it seemed very reasonable.

Natasha had heard about Star Wars, but she had never been clear about the combat effectiveness of the Martians. Now that she saw that the Martians were actually using lightsabers, Natasha's pupils shrank.

Could it be that every one of the Martians is a Jedi Knight? What a joke. The Earth can just surrender, even though they can only choose to surrender in the face of the Martian fleet.

But if the individual soldiers are so powerful, they are no match at all.

The number of Jedi Knights in the original Star Wars series did not exceed 10,000. Even if Sith warriors and the like were added, there would not be this number.

"Is it possible that you Martians can still use the Force?"

Except for Steve who didn't know anything yet, everyone else was amazed. Tony even wanted to study their lightsabers.

"What Force?"

Sturges asked confused.

"It's the power that can control people and crush them to pieces!"

Tony said quickly.

"No, the lightsaber is indestructible. What special power is needed?"

"Then how do you protect yourselves? No one will fight you hand-to-hand against hot weapons such as live ammunition weapons and energy weapons, right?"

Dr. Banner asked curiously.

"We have an AT field."

Sturgess said.

"What's that?"

Everyone was confused again, it was something they had never heard of.

"That is the power of our soul, also called the wall of the heart. The resistance of the soul can resist and resist mental attacks, physical attacks and energy attacks. The stronger the mind, the thicker the wall of the heart. "

Sturgess said.

Luther's operation was very simple. Originally, he planned to give the Martians of the Martian Empire the ability to become Martian Manhunters like Uncle Jon, or to give them all the power to transform into the Red Hulk.

But because of the situation in the Empire dimension, Luther changed his mind.

If it is too difficult to die, the soul will be a long-term debt, which is not very cost-effective for Luther. Moreover, Luther is very tolerant and generous to his own people. He will take away the soul of the other party only if they die naturally or die in battle.

For this reason, Luther thought about it and finally decided to start from the mind, which is closely related to the soul. The stronger the soul, the higher the benefit!

So he gave the Martians the strongest spear-the indestructible "light sword", and the strongest shield "heart wall" (if you are not familiar with it, don't get close to me.). As long as the mind is strong enough, it can resist and deny attacks. If it is not the strongest shield, what is it?

The guy who said who is stronger by using the lightsaber to cut the heart wall, drag him out, Aruba, until he dies!

The lightsaber is not an ordinary lightsaber. It is an unreal product rubbed by Luther's hands. It uses the will of the mind as energy and can collide and block with entities. The stronger the will of the mind, the stronger the lightsaber!

And the warrior who can become a mature light sword and use the heart wall is-"Emperor's Angel"!

The shape of the lightsaber is not like a light tube, but is similar to the dark sword with a blade shape, which looks more handsome.

Chapter 394 The Strongest of the Martian Empire

And these lightsabers don't just look like this. The more powerful the Martians are, the more unique their lightsabers will look.

For example, it became the lightsaber in Dropped City and Weak Warrior. The lightsabers there have different shapes, some are particularly handsome, and there are also lightsabers that make people confused as to why they look like this.

It can be roughly understood that the lightsabers of miscellaneous soldiers have ordinary general shapes, and the lightsabers of elite and heroic units have their own shapes.

And it can even launch a "light saber slash" long-range flying attack with the blade, and can also extend the lightsaber to achieve the effect of directly slashing people with a 40-meter sword.

As for Martians who cannot activate the lightsaber and the wall of the heart, they can only be equipped with blasters and energy guns. The energy rays shot by the former will explode, while the energy rays shot by the latter have the killing effect of melting and penetrating. .

Originally, Luther wanted them to wear the armor of the Imperial Stormtroopers, but seeing that each of them had an average height of more than two meters, it seemed that they were not suitable for wearing it.

So I got them a set of power armor of the same style as the Master Chief, and even wore their helmets.

It just felt right.

"The changes here are really great. I can't even recognize this place as Mars anymore."

Tony said with a smile to Luther.

He lamented that on Mars, Luther could even control the weather, and now he made the moon appear above everyone's heads. A huge full moon replaced the lights, and there were stars in the sky.

"I'll apply to bring Boz here next time. She will definitely like the scenery here."

Even Natasha was a little surprised. She looked up at the huge disc in the sky that seemed so close and dotted with colorful stars. It was so dreamy that they were not in a palace, but in the wild. Open air environment.

Without the nuisance of mosquitoes, everything is so beautiful that it's mesmerizing.

"welcome."

Luther nodded without refusing.

Carol sat there very unhappy, and she couldn't understand why Luther was able to defeat her.

He is not a person with special superpowers like Black Caesar. According to Tony, Luther modified his own body and then gained such powerful power.

But the fact that he is so powerful shows that he is not an ordinary human body modification technology. Carol has been with the Kree Empire's Marvel Team. He knows very well that even the three major empires in the universe such as the Kree Empire do not have such human body modification technology. technology.

The reason why she was born was just because of an accident, but Luther was not!

He transformed himself into this by himself. What does this mean?

Luther has mastered human body modification technology that surpasses the Kree Empire, and it is mature and can be mass-produced!

Even if the number is limited, just one Luther can sweep everything. What if there is one more Luther?

The rise of the Martian Empire is already unstoppable.

The problem is that even if Carol wants to stop it, she can't. Not only is she unable to defeat Emperor Luther, but the earth now needs Luther. The stronger he is, the better.

After all, there are threats like the Saiyans, and there are also internal threats like Black Caesar.

"Luther, besides those Martian warriors like Jedi Knights, do you have anyone strong?"

Tony couldn't hold back and asked Luther directly.

He was very curious about this question. After all, Luther was already the emperor of a mature empire.

When Thor heard this, he was immediately very interested.

Asgard is not a closed country. When Thor was young, he went to the universe through the Rainbow Bridge. And judging from the Collector's familiarity with Asgard, Asgard might also go to the Collector often. territory.

So the Martian Empire is nothing to Thor. He can sweep it all by himself. The problem is that when he encounters Luther, he himself is swept away.

The Marvel Universe is a world of heroes and villains. In this world, no army, technology, or fleet developed can compare to the superheroes and supervillains created through a single mutation.

Otherwise, Asgard would not have abandoned its own fleet and was easily invaded by the dark elves, leaving it unable to fight back.

"Of course, why, do you want to see it?"

Luther said naturally. He knew why Tony asked this. He just wanted to know the strength of the Mars Empire.

Both the Martian fleet and the Jedi Knights have made the earth feel desperate. They can only rely on the top powerful men of the Martian Empire now.

In this case, it would definitely not be possible for Luther alone to be invincible.

It can barely be regarded as a self-deceiving and satisfying hope for the people on earth.

"I want to see it!"

Sol became interested and said directly.

He knew that he could not defeat Luther, so he always felt depressed. Now that he heard that there were strong men in the Martian Empire, Thor immediately became interested.

Meeting all kinds of powerful people is simply his lifelong pursuit for him.

"Struggs, let's play with them."

Luther nodded, and then said to the Martian on the side.

"Yes, Your Majesty."

Sturges stepped up.

"So you are a strong person!"

Neither Tony nor the others expected that Sturges, the Martian who served as a guide, turned out to be a strong man in the Martian Empire, but they didn't know how strong he was.

Thor and Sturges came to the open space, and an energy barrier was raised where everyone was. The nearly transparent energy barrier would not affect their sight.

"Be careful."

Sturgess said to Saul.

"It doesn't matter, just let your horse come over."

Saul is looking forward to Sturges' power.

Tony and the others are also very concerned.

"roar!"

Sturges' body expanded rapidly, eventually turning into a large red-skinned man.

A strong, tall, muscular man, twelve feet tall, with four eyes and four strong arms.

"Hulk?"

Dr. Banner said in surprise, Luther achieved the duplication of Hulk?

"It's not the Hulk, it's the Four-Handed Overlord, one of the pinnacle works of my transformation technology. But because it will become like this, I gave up on carrying out such transformation on myself."

Luther said slowly.

"The Four-Handed Overlord?"

The name is quite appropriate, but I don't know what the strength and combat capability are like.

Looks similar to Hulk.

Thor looked at the Four-Handed Overlord. He was very pleased to see such a manly appearance. But like the Hulk, he was a big man, so he was a powerful one?

"bring it on!"

Thor swung the hammer, but he learned the lesson and didn't throw it away.

Sturges, who has become a four-handed overlord, is not afraid of anyone except His Majesty the Emperor, even a strong man like Captain Marvel!

Chapter 395 Four-Handed Overlord

Thor and the Four-Handed Overlord collided head-on, immediately arousing air waves, and the terrifying air waves swept everything around them.

Thor's hammer was grabbed by the Four-Handed Overlord with two arms, and the other two arms hit him hard on the face and abdomen. Thor was so beaten that he almost vomited the drink he just drank. came out.

Before this was over, the Four-Handed Overlord grabbed Thor's shoulders and arms, lifted him up, smashed him to the ground, and then smashed him randomly.

"Thor doesn't have the ability to resist at all?"

Tony was stunned.

Thor's strength is at least among the top three in the Illuminati. Even the Green Hulk has to be angry before he can fight or crush him.

Now they saw Sol being pressed to the ground and rubbed by Sturges, so they were so surprised.

Carol also frowned. Although Sturgis was nothing to her, if Thor couldn't deal with it, then the Martian Empire's combat effectiveness would surpass most civilizations except for the three major empires. .

It is not a good thing for such a powerful alien empire to be a neighbor to the earth.

Thor was stunned at this time, but he quickly reacted and threw the Meow Hammer.

The Meowth Hammer split directly, forming the Thousand Pieces of Magic Hammer to attack the Four-Handed Overlord.

The Four-Handed Overlord was not afraid in the face of danger, waving his arms to fly away the broken pieces. The broken pieces that could not be taken care of could not attack it, and were blocked by the diamond-shaped light shield on his body.

"The wall of the heart? It's so strong, but it actually has an energy shield?"

Dr. Banner was surprised and said that he remembered the wall of the heart. The stronger the mind, the more indestructible the wall of the heart. The Four-Handed Overlord is powerful enough on its own. How can we deal with it if the wall of the heart is added to it?

Hulk is probably no match either!

As if sensing what Dr. Banner was thinking, Green Hulk couldn't help but plan to come out. Half of Dr. Banner's face turned green and he yelled.

"Hulk is the strongest!!!"

Dr. Banner quickly comforted Hulk. Although he said it would be okay even if he came out, it would depend on the situation.

Thor also noticed this, and suddenly felt a headache. If the Four-Handed Overlord was as strong, defensive, and not slow as Hulk, he wouldn't be unable to deal with it. But with this energy shield, Thor It feels like the other party is cheating.

However, Thor still tried, burning the Four-Handed Overlord with hellfire.

The fire of hell looks very domineering and can melt anything. In fact, the most powerful thing about it is the real damage it cannot withstand, that is, it directly burns the soul. Most people really can't bear it. It can be said that now Thor is Thor who has done real damage.

In addition, his thunder god power is close to awakening. With the double blessing, hitting people is like twice the damage through defense.

The fire of hell spread to the body of the Four-Handed Overlord, and the surface of the Four-Handed Overlord lit up with a diamond-shaped light shield. The wall of the heart firmly resisted the invasion of the hellfire, and the Four-Handed Overlord also felt that the wall of the heart was actually visible to the naked eye. The visible speed of consumption shows that the damage of this kind of flame is beyond imagination!

This made the Four-Handed Overlord dare not continue to neglect, and he quickly punched Thor wildly. Thor swung his hammers tightly and dodged left and right, and he barely managed to survive.

But everyone can see that it is only a matter of time before Sol loses.

"Okay, Sturgess, stop it."

Luther spoke at this time.

Sturges immediately jumped back, distanced himself from Thor, and then changed back to his original human appearance.

He retreated and gave up the fight so decisively, and Thor could not continue to fight with others.

"If Prince Thor doesn't have all the fun, he still has it."

Luther was addicted to killing people and killing people. How could he let Saul go so easily? He said this just to put Saul up and prevent him from getting off the stage.

And Saul agreed immediately.

"Thor, why don't you take a break and let Hulk come on?"

Steve said, "You can't continue to watch Thor being beaten with scars. The injuries that the Four-Handed Overlord just left on Thor are not light."

If it weren't for his own lack of strength, Steve would have wanted to play in Sol's place.

"No, it's just a minor injury."

How could Thor admit defeat? He waved his hand and said directly.

"Then, Pedrosaping, come on."

The corners of Luther's mouth rose.

Then a Martian stood up.

"Yes, Your Majesty!"

Thor looked at the other party, they looked ordinary, but after experiencing the Four-Handed Overlord, he would no longer underestimate these Martians.

"You can't transform, can you?"

Thor said.

"yes."

Pedrosaping nodded, and then he turned into a giant with light green crystals all over his body and four sharp crystal spikes on his back.

"What is this???"

Everyone feels that a trip to Mars will refresh their outlook.

"The Diamond God of War is a silicon-based life, and its whole body is made of hard silicon. It can manipulate molecular reorganization to turn part of itself into various weapons, shoot crystal missiles from its hands, and even make its own crystals grow rapidly. This gives it limited regeneration capacity."

"You can make a solid wall by making crystals, or use crystals to trap enemies, or you can make crystals of various shapes and launch attacks. Its body can refract laser attacks, making them useless, or directly absorb energy. Flame attacks have no effect on it, and hard crystals can resist powerful physical attacks. Diamond War God can survive in space."

Luther introduced it as if he was displaying a product.

"Is the name Diamond War God not suitable?"

Dr. Banner said with emotion that converting carbon-based life into silicon-based life is simply an unimaginable technology. He doesn't know how Luther did it.

Is this technology still human body transformation technology?

"It's like Tony's nickname is Iron Man. In fact, he should be called Gold Titanium Man."

Luther said with a smile.

"I think so too."

Tony laughed.

But Natasha and Steve were not in such a good mood. The Martian Empire actually had such a powerful strongman, Emperor Luther, the Four-Handed Overlord, plus this obviously not weak Diamond War God, these three people alone are invincible.

Who knows how many such strong people there are among the Martians around?

It's a pity that Luther was originally from Earth, but was forcibly excluded and left. As a result, he has now grown stronger and accomplished miracles and feats that surpass the entire Earth. Now the Earth has become a poor relative and has to come to him for help.

Chapter 396 Alien Heroes vs. the Illuminati

Everyone was chatting happily, and then Thor was beaten.

It is hard to say who is stronger between the Diamond God of War and the Four-Handed Overlord. If they are both controlled by Xiaoban, it may be a 50-50 match, but for the original body, it depends on their quality.

However, the Diamond God of War is both tanky and has output, probably stronger than the Four-Handed Overlord.

Thor was defeated quickly, and Hulk couldn't wait to go on the court.

"Thor, Hulk is the strongest!"

The Green Hulk mocked Thor.

Thor was immediately furious.

"Hulk, I'll see if you can still laugh later!"

Thor waited to see Hulk's joke, and the two of them were like naughty children.

The Green Hulk said disdainfully that Thor should wait to see how powerful he is.

Everyone looked at Luther, no way, there won't be any strong people on Mars!

Then the Green Hulk fought with Thunderbolt.

Of course, Luther would not let the little warriors, big steel teeth, fire man, shapeshifter, flash star, glider, ghost and other aliens appear. They are not suitable for dealing with the tough and thick-skinned Hulk.

Thunderbolt is good.

The Martians transformed into thunderbolts directly gathered together into a ball to hit the Hulk. The Hulk had never encountered this type of enemy before, and suddenly felt like a mouse pulling a turtle and had nowhere to start.

The Hulk and Thunderbolt tied, and then the Mighty Tyrannosaurus appeared.

The Mighty Tyrannosaurus was extremely powerful and could lift a truck horizontally. Moreover, he could change his body shape. The larger his body was, the greater his strength was.

Then the Mighty Tyrannosaurus lost to the Hulk, who became stronger the angrier he was. However, although he lost, Tony and the others still looked solemn.

After all, that was the Hulk. Who really thought that anyone could be intact in the hands of the Hulk or even compete with the Hulk!

"Volgax, you go."

Luther said.

Now that the alien heroes have been created, there is no way Vilgax will be spared.

Vilgax immediately responded respectfully, and then went on stage to fight the Green Hulk.

His transformation naturally took the form of Vilgax, who looked like an octopus, and his prototype was Cthulhu.

Vilgax has tremendous strength and near-invulnerability, allowing him to easily jump over skyscrapers and survive in space.

His arms are equipped with enhanced steroids, allowing him to increase his strength and anger at will to the maximum extent.

Although this causes him great pain, it gives him enough strength to smash mountains with his bare hands.

Vilgax has super strength, and is able to easily defeat the Four-Armed Tyrannosaurus, and even knock out the Mighty Tyrannosaurus with a single punch, leaving a huge crater in the ground.

He can also break through the slime binding of the Glider.

Vilgax has enhanced durability, allowing him to easily withstand the lasers of the Crystal Man, the flames of the Swampfire, and even the most powerful heat waves of the Flame Man cannot cause significant damage to him.

Diamond Wars was unable to break through his defense even after breaking his own hands in close combat. Vilgax can recover from a Psychotron explosion in a matter of seconds.

Vilgax has enhanced reflexes, as he once caught and defeated Flashstar while he was moving and attacking at high speed.

Another interesting thing is that Vilgax can shoot red laser beams from his eyes, and can create arc lasers that can turn and swerve to track the target.

These lasers are very fast, as they can catch up to Helen. They can also burn Ziska.

It feels very familiar, Darkseid said, isn't this my Omega Effect?

It can be said that Vilgax alone is comparable to most alien heroes and crushes them.

So now facing the Hulk, Vilgax is also crushing them.

The Hulk and Vilgax launched a thrilling battle, with fists and feet flying and imposing.

The Hulk is huge, and his fists are like hammers, and every swing brings up strong winds and huge waves.

Vilgax is agile and swift, kicking out with both legs in a row, and each kick carries the power of destroying the world.

The two figures crossed in mid-air, and their fists and feet collided with a deafening sound.

Hulk punched Vilgax's chest hard, and Vilgax was knocked out.

But he quickly stood up again and hit Hulk's chin hard with a series of punches.

Hulk took a few steps back, then his eyes flashed and he released his true power.

"Hulk!!!"

He turned quickly and slammed his fists into the ground. The ground cracked instantly, and huge cracks spread from the ground to Vilgax's feet.

Vilgax was caught off guard and stumbled to the ground.

Hulk didn't give Vilgax a chance to breathe. He roared and rushed towards Vilgax, and his huge fists hit him directly.

Vilgax raised his hand to block, and Hulk stepped hard on his abdomen. Vilgax bent over and punched Hulk with his backhand. The two forces collided, and the air was full of explosions and flashes.

The Hulk punched Vilgax. Vilgax took a step back and dodged the punch. He used the moment to counterattack with a fatal kick on the Hulk's ribs.

The Hulk spat out a mouthful of blood on the spot. When he recovered, Vilgax attacked him again.

Vilgax launched a series of skills at the Hulk. In the blink of an eye, under his punches, the Hulk had several more wounds on his body.

The Hulk couldn't help but let out a loud roar, like a storm.

He rushed towards Vilgax as fast as a cheetah and knocked him to the ground.

However, Vilgax quickly rolled on the spot and got up.

Hulk, who wanted to chase him, stopped.

Hulk and Vilgax looked at each other, and their breath gushed out with the changes in their muscles.

Suddenly, Hulk punched Vilgax's head, but Vilgax's heavy body was as stable as a mountain, and he just took a step back.

Then, Vilgax punched out quickly, and Hulk couldn't dodge and was immediately knocked out.

Hulk fell to the ground hard, and he felt that Vilgax was like a huge mountain, pressing down on him directly.

He immediately stood up and hit Vilgax with a series of punches and kicks, but Vilgax was so huge that he was blocked by him without any damage.

Then Vilgax punched Hulk in the chest.

Hulk felt a sharp pain in his ribs, followed by a thick voice, and he fell to the ground, spitting blood.

Hulk roared, stood up and punched Vilgax with both fists, bursting out with amazing power in an instant, shaking the ground.

Vilgax dodged to the side, easily avoided Hulk's attack, and hit back.

Hulk punched Vilgax in the face, Vilgax blocked it with both hands, his body trembled slightly, and immediately fought back.

Chapter 397: Hulk Bottom Line

Tony and the others were a little surprised and surprised when they saw Morjas crushing the Green Hulk who became stronger in his angry state.

Forget about the Four-Handed Overlord and the Diamond God of War, this Martian who looks so strange is actually so powerful?

"Luther, is this Mojas the strongest person on Mars besides you?"

Tony asked Luther tentatively.

"If you want to say that, it's actually true. Currently, Mojas is the strongest."

Luther nodded. On the Hydra side are the weirdos from the One-Punch Man world. In the future, the entire Weird Association will be moved here. On the Mars side, there are only various classic villains made by Luther himself.

"For now?"

Tony and the others knew what Luther meant by what he said. It was simply that Luther might create more powerful Martians in the future.

But this alone is already beyond their reach at the moment.

Anyway, after watching it, they were all very stressed and forced to smile.

The Hulk roared again and again, exerting his amazing physical strength and power, but Mojas was more flexible, coming and going like the wind, causing the Hulk's attacks to make mistakes.

As time went by, the gasping sounds from both sides gradually became louder.

The Hulk was brave and fearless, and the strength in his hands increased again. He clenched his fist and punched Morjas in the chest.

Mojas's body suddenly flew back and landed heavily on the ground. Mud flew and the armor on his body was instantly destroyed.

But he got up resolutely, clenched his fists, and prepared to attack again.

The Hulk didn't show any signs of weakness, striding forward and waving his arms as if to deliver the final blow.

Morjas showed no sign of weakness and rushed towards the Hulk, preparing to fight back fiercely.

As the battle continued, the two superheroes formed fist and foot shadows all over the sky, and they continued to stage thrilling fights.

Like a black leopard, Mojas instantly rushed under the Hulk, who had become stronger and taller than him, and swung his left and right fists at him fiercely.

The Hulk did not slow down at all, raising his fists to collide with Morjas.

The earth-shaking sound spread throughout the city.

As Morgas attacked, Green Hulk's fists also began to boom like thunder!

The collision of light and darkness filled the air with a burnt smell.

The speed of the fight between the two sides is getting faster and faster, and the momentum is becoming more and more turbulent.

Their bodies are strong and powerful, and every punch and kick carries unparalleled power.

The Hulk hit Morjas directly in the neck with force, and Morjas was knocked several meters away. However, Morjath only blinked back and fought back.

The Hulk was hit on the head by Mojas' fist before he could dodge, and a large amount of green blood surged out from the Hulk's head.

Morjas took the opportunity to jump up from the ground and pounced on the Hulk to attack.

The Hulk immediately pulled away.

Morjas waved his dark fist, and Green Hulk showed no sign of weakness, and his fists collided violently.

There was a loud noise throughout the city, and the fire from the explosion turned the entire sky red.

The power of Morjas caused his fists to flash with black electricity, and with one blow, the earth trembled.

However, Green Hulk's muscles are as solid as stone, and his fists carry huge power to constantly meet Morjath's offensive.

The strength of the two was so huge that every collision brought up a violent storm of air.

Morgath roared angrily, his heavy footsteps echoing.

The Green Hulk roared ferociously. He jumped up without fear and crashed into Morjas at an alarming speed.

With a loud noise, the two figures collided in the air. In the violent fight between the two sides, their bodies became more and more indestructible, filled with infinite energy and strength. Every time they clashed head-on, shock waves were set off and strong winds were blowing.

Green Hulk and Morjath face each other in the wind.

The moonlight reflected on the two of them.

Mojas raised his hand and made a deafening roar.

Green Hulk became even more violent, jumped up, and slapped Morjas's chest hard with both hands.

Mojas dodged and escaped the attack. Instead, he grabbed Green Hulk's arm and violently threw him away.

The Green Hulk hit the ground hard, kicking up billowing dust.

Mojas frowned slightly, a little surprised by Green Hulk's powerful body.

Deciding not to waste any more time, he lunged at the Green Hulk.

But Green Hulk was equally unambiguous, standing up quickly and letting out a thundering roar.

The two bodies collided with each other. The Green Hulk's body became stronger and more indestructible. Mojas felt helpless and could only keep attacking the Green Hulk's waist and abdomen, trying to slow down his offensive.

But the Green Hulk was not repelled by these attacks. On the contrary, he reacted faster and attacked Morjath with more ferocity.

The fists and kicks of the two people continued one after another, and the sounds of destruction could be heard endlessly.

Morjath's powerful strength and speed were too much for the Green Hulk, but he still kept attacking like a beast.

Green Hulk's body was violently hit by Mojas, and flew out like a meteor, hitting the mountain in the distance. The mountain peak was shattered and rubble was scattered everywhere.

Mojas stood there with his hands indifferently by his side, as if the action just now was just an exercise. Only the slight trembling showed that Mojas was not actually that relaxed.

Green Hulk was already galloping back from the mountains at this time, like a huge boulder, smashing trees and turning over earth and rocks along the way, with great momentum.

The Hulk's huge fist hit Vilgax, Vilgax moved instantly to avoid it, and then punched back vigorously, but the Hulk raised his arm as a shield and blocked the move.

Then, in the battle that lasted for ten minutes, the two sides were evenly matched, and the fight was hard.

The Hulk endured Vilgax's attacks again and again, but never fell. Vilgax only retreated slightly from the Hulk's blows, but could not turn the situation around.

"Hulk is going to win!"

Tony said with a tut. After all, no one knew the Hulk's strength better than them. As long as they couldn't kill the beast in one go, its fangs would be able to reach you!

You said Thanos?

Can you stop talking about things that are not related to the topic!

"I didn't expect Hulk to become so much stronger."

Luther nodded. The Hulk was probably the kind of subordinate he hated the most. It was difficult to kill and difficult to die, but it made people feel very proud.

The Hulk's lower limit is also constantly improving. It is not static. Every time, he can only rely on infinite anger to increase his strength.

It has strong growth potential. It only needs reasonable training, such as using a gravity room to adapt to gravity, to significantly improve the Hulk's lower limit.

Chapter 398: Vigour Shock

Because of the looming threat from the Saiyans, Dr. Banner spent most of the day letting the Green Hulk out for exercise in the gravity chamber.

Today's Green Hulk is probably not able to kill or cripple his former self with one punch!

The reason why the lower limit has been raised but still looks so weak is simply because the enemy is too powerful.

Whether it's Raditz, the Saiyan, Black Caesar, the strongest human on Earth, or Emperor Luther, Green Hulk is unable to deal with and compete with them.

Mojas was just right, not too supermodel, so he was pestered by Green Hulk until they were evenly matched.

The huge figures of Green Hulk and Morjath intertwined in the air, and each impact made a deafening sound.

The Green Hulk's impact was astonishing, his body broke away from the constraints of space gravity, and he slammed into Mojas like a million-ton weight.

Mojas dodged easily, and his fist struck Green Hulk's face like lightning, with the power of crushing power.

The Green Hulk roared, chasing the shadow of Morjas with his violent body, waving his arms lightly, smashing the steel-like building that had just been crushed into a piece of trivial rubble.

But he was still unable to catch Morgas. Morgas's figure was looming and quickly shuttled around him, leaving him unable to make a move.

Mojas did not stop, his body jumped continuously, and his blade-like nails slashed at the Green Hulk's body like a sharp weapon.

Even though the Green Hulk's skin is now able to keep his hairstyle intact in the center of a nuclear bomb explosion, his body is still fragile under the domination of Morjas.

During the fight, Green Hulk was attacked by countless people.

Visible cracks slowly appeared on his body.

Green Hulk's body is gradually smeared with green energy, which is the gamma ray radiation in his body!

The Green Hulk in the original plot could not do this, but Dr. Banner developed a high-concentration and high-intensity gamma ray radiation device, allowing the Green Hulk to absorb it every day, making the Green Hulk stronger.

Now this burst of gamma radiation is the Green Hulk's rage state.

Mojas, on the other hand, exudes black energy. He does not rely solely on his body. Energy is what Mojias is best at, especially using energy to strengthen his body.

Green Hulk and Mojias are extremely fast. They only pause for a moment between each move, and then immediately attack with the next move.

"This guy really has some strength."

Mojias thought to himself as he felt his energy being offset by the Green Hulk again and again.

He compared the Four-Handed Overlord and the Diamond God of War with the Green Hulk, and found that they were no longer opponents of the much taller Green Hulk.

At first, Mojias didn't get completely serious. It wasn't until he discovered that the Green Hulk was getting stronger and stronger that he realized that the opponent was more troublesome than Thor, the God of Thunder. At least Thor couldn't get stronger in the battle.

Not to be outdone, Green Hulk gritted his teeth and let out a roar, suddenly pouring out more green energy and regaining the initiative in the battle.

The wind howled, Green Hulk roared wildly, and flew towards Mojias. Green Hulk charged up and punched out, and a green energy rushed straight towards Mojias.

Mojias immediately dodged and struck Green Hulk in the abdomen with a palm strike.

Green Hulk relied on the tenacity of his skin to resist Morgias' attack. At the same time, he stretched out his strong arms and grabbed Morgias' chest.

Mojias yelled, black energy hit Green Hulk's face, and Green Hulk's head tilted momentarily.

Then, the Green Hulk kicked the ground with his toes, let out a roar, and exerted force again. His legs suddenly jumped up like springs, and his body rushed towards Mojas like flying. His fists suddenly hit Mojas with a strong green airflow. face.

However, Mojas was already prepared and jumped away from the Green Hulk's attack. Black energy erupted from his palm and turned into dozens of black flying knives, which struck the Green Hulk in the back. on the back.

Amid the screams, Green Hulk struggled wildly, trying to escape from Morjath's attack.

Mojas' attack became more fierce, and the black energy was like a solid body, attacking Green Hulk non-stop, and the earth-shattering explosions continued. The Green Hulk had a painful expression on his face, and was attacked by Morjath's energy until his flesh and blood were mutilated.

Mojas was fierce this time, condensing the most powerful energy and bombarding the Green Hulk.

This time Green Hulk finally fell to the ground helpless.

"Hulk!"

Tony and the others hurriedly stepped forward to check on the Green Hulk, while Morjas returned to his original state.

"How does it feel?"

Luther asked Morjas.

"It's very difficult. No one should be his opponent except me, Your Majesty."

Mojas said to Luther respectfully. He felt that the Green Hulk was a big problem. The opponent's power that seemed to have bottomed out made Mojas frightened.

He didn't dare to delay any longer, so he could only use all his strength to knock him down, otherwise, Mojas felt that he might overturn.

"Its power comes from its anger. As long as his anger continues, it will become stronger, taller and more powerful."

Luther nodded and said.

"Like the Tyrannosaurus?"

Moja immediately understood what Green Hulk was capable of.

"Are there any limits to his abilities?"

Mojas asked, no matter how angry you are, there is a threshold, and you cannot stay angry forever.

"No, what unlimited anger brings is infinite strengthening. Theoretically, he can be powerful enough to crush Mars with one punch."

Luther shook his head. It's hard to tell about the movie version. After all, Dr. Banner has been integrated with the Green Hulk. The Dr. Green he has become can only be said to have average combat power, not even as good as Abomination and She-Hulk.

But now this Green Hulk has obviously gone astray. It not only exercises its lower limit in the gravity chamber, but also absorbs gamma ray radiation to strengthen its strength. Dr. Banner has completely given up enjoying the days with Betty.

The concentration of gamma ray radiation in his body fluids now exceeded the standard. The end result of Betty exchanging saliva with him was like Mr. Stan Lee, a friendly guest star who drank the Green Hulk blood mixed drink. His stomach was perforated and all his organs failed.

For the future of the earth, Dr. Banner has no choice.

“How is that possible???”

Mojas was shocked. That big green guy actually had such power?

Infinite anger can be infinitely strengthened?

Is there such a creature?

"Everything is possible. What you think is impossible is just because you have too little experience."

Luther said casually that he can now create an existence like the Green Hulk, but there is no need.

Chapter 399 Loki and Ultron

When Tony and his team temporarily left the Earth for Mars.

Loki was also preparing to leave with Hydra. Although some Hydra had regained their sanity and tried to leave Loki's control, Loki still easily controlled them with the scepter of mind.

The Hydra tied to the sunken ship had no choice but to obey Loki and planned to go to other planets and leave the Earth.

If the Saiyans attacked again, it might not be a good thing for them to stay on Earth.

Loki planned to go to Jotunheim through the special passage on Midgard, then go to Asgard from Jotunheim, and finally go to other planets through other branches of the World Tree.

The World Tree is not only the connection of the nine worlds, but also other space passages, but even Loki only mastered a very small part of them.

For Loki, no matter what he did now, he had to run away first.

The Earth was too dangerous, whether it was the upcoming Saiyans or Black Caesar.

However, when Loki and his team were about to leave, a man appeared in front of them.

Loki was almost scared to death when he saw the other party.

"Black Caesar!!!"

Loki looked at the man opposite him as if he was facing a great enemy, and sat on his throne.

"The third princess of Asgard, haven't you always wanted to see me? Here I come."

Black Caesar said with a smile.

"What third princess of Asgard? I'm not an Asgardian, I'm Loki!"

Loki was almost confused by Black Caesar's words. He is a man, not a woman. Can't he see it at all?

"That's right, Black Caesar, I have always wanted to see you. Since you have come to me, I will not be polite and surrender to me!"

Loki quickly reacted. He could use the Mind Scepter to control Black Caesar. With Black Caesar's power, he would be a top powerhouse even in the universe!

When he got a general like Black Caesar, he would not be afraid to go anywhere. He just needed to avoid Asgard and Saiyans.

So he attacked Black Caesar directly. Under Loki's magic control, the Mind Scepter lit up with blue light, covering the whole place.

"Mind attack, not bad, it feels quite comfortable."

Black Caesar said jokingly.

Loki's eyes widened. How could it be possible? How could the Mind Scepter have no effect?

The feedback from the Mind Scepter was that Black Caesar was like a black hole, and all the mental power that approached was absorbed by Black Caesar.

Naturally, there was no way to control Black Caesar, and he absorbed all the mental power.

"You are too dependent on this thing, Your Highness the Third Princess."

Black Caesar waved his hand, and Loki flew out uncontrollably and hit the wall hard.

With his body that was fine after being hit by the Hulk, he was naturally not afraid of this, but Loki was confused again.

"I've said it before, I'm not a princess, even if I'm an Asgardian, I'm a prince!"

Loki couldn't help but say.

And why is she the third princess? Even if Black Caesar heard the unofficial history from somewhere, she should be the second princess!

"Really? But in the legend, Loki is the god of fraud, so maybe you are really a woman, and the man's appearance is just your disguise."

Black Caesar said confidently.

Loki was speechless. His words seemed to ask Loki to prove that he was not lying. The question is, will anyone believe the "truth" of the god of lies?

Black Caesar looked at Loki and suddenly had a bold idea. What would happen if Thor knew that his brother Loki was actually his sister Loki?

As long as the insider died, in Thor's eyes, it was probably Loki who had been hiding him from her brother since childhood?

It's interesting to think about it.

And Black Caesar was very decisive. As soon as this funny idea came up, he implemented it. It distorted Loki's gender, appearance, and even Loki's perception of himself!

Now, Loki has become the real Loki. She has been pretending to be a man since she was a child. Her mother and Odin know her real gender, but Thor doesn't know. This is her biggest lie to Thor!

"Strange, why should I leave Midgard? I have a magic weapon like the Mind Scepter, which can completely control the Saiyans!"

Loki looked at her subordinates, and the idea in her mind was not to run away quickly, but to think that this was an opportunity!

Although she didn't know that the Illuminati had left the earth, the Illuminati was now taken care of by Black Caesar and all of them were injured.

And she had a magic weapon like the Mind Scepter in her hand, but she never thought of finding the imprisoned Saiyan and controlling him for her own use!

Loki didn't know that Raditz was not dead, but when Black Caesar distorted her cognition, he let her know this important information.

And it catalyzed Loki's ambition to control the Saiyans who would come next, so that she would be invincible.

With multiple Saiyans as subordinates, Loki even dared to attack Asgard!

"The biggest problem now is to find where the Illuminati are holding the injured Saiyans."

Loki began to think about what to do next.

On the other hand, Ultron's spaceship was also nearly completed. After all, there was no need to consider the life support system, so much meaningless space, so much food and water, and Ultron had tens of thousands of sleepless workers.

As well as the pressure from the Saiyan invasion, the Ultron spaceship was naturally built very quickly.

Luther knew that the two guys were planning to run away, but he came to give them instructions. Otherwise, if they ran away, who would the Illuminati play with, and who would they find to have fun?

Loki's side has been taken care of. Next, Loki will do everything possible to find Raditz's location, and it is not a problem to control Raditz with the Mind Scepter. Then he can make a big event.

As for Ultron, Luther plans to share Dr. Gero's android technology with him!

Of course, it is not the supermodel technology starting from Android 16, but the early technology of the androids that can compete with Goku in the period of looking for Dragon Ball.

Although it looks weak and vulnerable, it is already awesome compared to Ultron's robots now.

More importantly, Ultron has the possibility of developing and improving these technologies, so it is just right to give this level of information.

"Maybe G5 Mecha God can also be brought over, as well as Metal Knight and so on."

Luther began to think about strengthening Ultron.

Ultron was unaware that his information had been rewritten by Galvatron, and the construction of the spacecraft was stopped, and he started producing more advanced Ultron robots instead!

Chapter 400 Foreign Exchange and Trading

Tony and the others met Luther again the next day, and Tony proposed establishing friendly exchanges between Earth and Mars. Both sides had the same origin, and they should help each other instead of remaining unknown.

"Luther, a new resource has appeared on Earth. I think it should be very helpful to Mars."

Tony originally planned to use vibranium as his final trump card, but he had been shocked countless times after coming to Mars for only one day. Now Tony is no longer as optimistic as before.

Especially the food on Mars. It is said that each food is the ultimate in human body elements that Martians need. They can be satisfied by eating as much as they need every day. Moreover, the taste of Martians has been adjusted by Luther. They have a very good experience with these foods. Humans Surprisingly, I also found Martian food very delicious.

After all, they are all molecular-level cuisine, so it is not a problem to crush all kinds of delicacies on the earth. In addition, as humans grow older, their sense of smell will become more degraded, so Tony and the others have actually not eaten real delicacies for a long time.

Now, they are all conquered.

The advantages of the earth are too few, let alone compared with the resource-rich Mars.

So Tony could only take out vibranium from the beginning.

"Vibranium? Didn't I remember that I already had it?"

Luther said.

"Yes, my father got part of the vibranium, and then he got Captain America's shield."

Tony nodded, and Steve looked at his shield. Originally, he didn't plan to bring his shield, but in the end he passed the security check of Mars. In other words, Mars didn't value his shield and the people of Earth that much at all. Possible threats to Mars from weapons.

"We have now found a vibranium ore. You may not be able to imagine how big that vibranium ore is."

Tony gave a piece of information data projection, which showed the various properties and data of vibranium. The Martians next to him were a little surprised when they saw it. In such a backward place on earth, there is such a good thing?

Although it is not as good as the super alloy "Krypton Gold" that they produce and sell on Mars, we can study the possibility of Krypton Gold and this vibranium becoming a new alloy.

Even with krypton gold, we will pursue better alloys and materials, because this is the ladder of scientific progress.

"It's indeed a good thing, but what are you planning to trade with Mars?"

Luther nodded and then asked.

"Foreign exchange trading is inevitable. Regarding the currency of Mars, I think most sovereign countries on earth will not let it go."

Tony said directly.

Foreign exchange is still very important. It is still unknown whether the Martians recognize the earth's currency, but if they want to get things from Mars, they have to use the Martian currency.

"Mars has no currency. We don't use backward physical currency. We all use electronic currency."

Luther shook his head and said.

"Electronic money?"

Tony and the others didn't expect Mars to be so advanced. The earth had just begun to see the emergence of electronic currency, and the value of those electronic currencies was still questioned.

"That's right, the name of the electronic currency is Electronic Mars Standard Credit Transaction Point, or "Credit Point" for short."

"Credits can be used to trade, sell, and buy items."

Luther said.

“Is this the nationalization of coinage?”

Tony noticed this very sensitively.

“Why not use physical currency?”

"Old people" like Captain America and Natasha are not very accepting of new things.

"Although gold and silver are scarce resources in the entire universe and must be produced by supernova explosions or neutron star collisions, for advanced civilizations, synthesizing gold is not a difficult matter. A simple collision with a cyclotron would be very heavy for a civilization of this level. The elements are not the same as playing."

Luther shook his head and said.

"Synthesizing gold for interstellar civilizations is not just for fun, and although the modern earth is short of heavy metal elements, the reserves are not much for the billions of planets in the entire galaxy. Even if a currency equivalent is really needed, it should at least be a vibration weapon. Real precious things like gold are much scarcer."

It can be said that Luther's words made both Tony and Dr. Banner feel very reasonable. They just felt that it was difficult for humans to synthesize gold, and they felt that gold was a scarce commodity in the universe. However, they ignored the significance of the universe's gold reserves and even the synthetic gold. It is not difficult at all for advanced civilizations.

From this perspective, electronic currency may be the mainstream.

"Then if there is a hacker, how will you solve it?"

Tony was very good at finding loopholes and said it directly.

Electronic currency is not bad, but it is too easy to be hacked.

"Increase the cost of crime. If a hacker steals credit points or creates credit points, he will be sentenced to death or exile."

Luther said.

Tony felt that this was not a good idea, it was too inhumane, but this was their territory and they couldn't say anything.

"If we want this credit, how do we get it?"

Tony asked, is it necessary to open an account in a Swiss bank and similar operations?

Their Illuminati will create an account in the bank of Mars, and then store all the credit points they get into it, and then use it?

This seems to be good, as it prevents selfish people from squandering credits.

"We don't have a bank, every Martian has his own terminal."

Luther asked a Martian to flash his wrist computer.

"You can think of it as a personal terminal. Each Martian has only one account in his life, from birth to death. Their personal numbers, identity numbers, etc. are all the same number."

Luther said.

"It's not impossible for Earth to want credit points. Just register a terminal."

Luther said.

The wrist computers of these personal terminals are krypton gold shells. They will not wear out much even if they are used until death. They can be put into the coffin with you.

This inspiration comes from the arm computer of the Predator.

In addition to foreign exchange, Tony and his team also want Martian technology and resources, such as the new Martian alloy introduced by Luther, krypton gold!

This is a super alloy that completely beats the performance of vibranium. In terms of heat resistance, it can even withstand a high temperature of 100 million degrees. Of course, it will deform at a temperature exceeding 100 million degrees, so the processing difficulty is extremely high. This is also a way for Luther to prevent Earthlings from studying krypton gold.

Although Earthlings have been able to create hundreds of millions of degrees Celsius in the laboratory, they are still far from controlling such temperatures, not to mention processing krypton gold.

In comparison, vibranium cannot withstand such high temperatures.
