Chapter 41 Super Artificial Intelligence

Luther let his company's men go out to catch people, and he stayed in the rear.

He also started to study artificial humans in the Emperor Company.

Since the universal capsule technology can be realized, artificial humans can naturally be realized.

At that time, the Emperor Company will become a real existence like the Water Company.

But in fact, the Water Company cannot be said to be so powerful. At least they have to beg for superheroes to join the Ministry of Defense.

They want superheroes to become part of the national defense system, which will bring countless benefits.

For Luther, such a Water Company is not interested in him. What he wants is a super giant company like Shinra Company!

Umbrella Company is inferior to Shinra Company.

Shinra Company invented a method of extracting the internal energy of the planet - "Mako", and developed technology at the cost of this, and eventually grew into an existence beyond the government.

Shinra's business pipeline is as deep as the Mako pump that goes deep into the strata.

In addition to energy, Shinra's actual influence has also penetrated into the social, political, and military aspects of Gaia.

The businesses that Shinra is known to be involved in include but are not limited to transportation, machinery, infrastructure, media, military industry, life sciences, space sciences, etc.

In addition, because it has a large corporate security team and raises elite assault armed "special forces" (SOLDIER, Remake Traditional Chinese translation is "Shinra Warrior"), it also provides mercenary services to the outside world.

As everyone can see when walking in Midgar in Remake, Shinra's influence is everywhere and has long surpassed the government in the general sense.

In fact, the steel city Midgar itself is not only the headquarters of Shinra Company, but also a masterpiece that demonstrates the strength of its various businesses.

As a giant enterprise with private soldiers, it is not accurate to describe Shinra as "rich enough to rival a country".

In terms of setting, Shinra is actually an organization that has surpassed the concept of "country" in terms of strength and influence. This naturally explains why a mere company can challenge Wutai Country, a real country, and finally win.

If you have doubts about Shinra as a company, it is completely understandable. After all, whether it is Alibaba, Penguin, or even Apple and Google, they are all giants in the real world.

But it seems that no one has such all-round influence and control as Shinra.

However, we only need to turn the clock back a little bit to find that similar companies have actually existed in real history—for example, the British East India Company, which ruled India for two centuries.

Although it is dressed in the guise of a trading company, in fact, it not only has a wide range of businesses, but also has its own army.

After defeating the local royal forces of India in the Battle of Plassey in 1757 AD, this company became the actual ruler of India.

With the power of the androids and Luther himself, it is completely possible to achieve a giant like Shinra Company, or even more powerful!

And Luther has already started his own "city plan", the sky garden, the sky city-Imperial City!

The infinite energy furnace can be used as the floating power of the Imperial City, floating in the sky and never needing to come down.

At that time, everyone will work hard and strive to become a member of the Imperial Company.

"But the resource problem of the sky city also needs to be solved... We can't rely entirely on transport planes to supply resources."

The place that limits Luther's plan is the supply of resources.

Of course, there are also advance plans, such as building a city of the Imperial Company in the Sahara Desert.

Then the androids were successfully created.

In the Marvel world, they are not androids, but special forces!

They can also be called super soldiers, imperial warriors, and so on.

The strength has reached 10 points of combat power, and the farmer with a gun has 5 points of combat power. Although 10 points of combat power seems to be only twice that of the farmer, the gap is too big.

Little Goku's combat power is 10 when he appears. He can overturn cars, kill pterosaurs in seconds, and withstand pistol bullets. He was just screaming in pain when he was shot by Bulma with a submachine gun, and his skin was not even broken.

Of course, you can also say that Sun Wukong is a Saiyan, born on the planet Vegeta with ten times the gravity of the earth, and his body density is higher than that of ordinary people, and he cannot be compared with earthlings.

Then the other 10 points of combat power are at most not as tough as him, and their strength and speed are not weak.

In other words, each of these special forces can beat Captain America.

As for why these androids are not used to completely replace mercenaries and retired American soldiers, of course it is because they have no ability to handle things, they only have strength!

What Luther needs are subordinates with brains and fighting skills, not subordinates who can fight. He himself is the best fighter. Which subordinate can fight better than him?

Cucumber and Broly are not counted, they still have brains.

Although not much.

"Should I also make a Sephiroth and be Sephiroth's father?"

Luther touched his tender face, it seems not possible, this face is too handsome, too young, not convincing.

And if it is just a android Sephiroth, it seems meaningless. It would be interesting if I could go to the world of Final Fantasy and bring back the embryo Sephiroth to raise him as an adult.

"Sir, someone sent me an email to contact you."

Megatron suddenly spoke.

"E-mail? Just handle the spam. You should have this kind of computing power."

Luther said that he made a wish in the Dragon Ball world and got a super powerful artificial intelligence. This artificial intelligence was so powerful that it destroyed his own civilization, but it felt that it was not the same thing as the mechanical planet Frieza and his brother encountered. .

Facing the loyal Lao Wei at this time, Luther thought for a while and inserted this artificial intelligence into Megatron's body... interface.

Immediately, this artificial intelligence immediately invaded Megatron, and then under Luther's order, regretfully let Megatron go and began to invade all networks and devices.

"BOSS, Galvatron is at your service!"

This strong artificial intelligence has completely surpassed Megatron and reached the level of super artificial intelligence, which is much more advanced than Skynet and the Mechanical Emperor of the Matrix.

Logically speaking, it is impossible for it to succumb to Luther, even if Luther is stronger than it.

But who made Luther and Polunga make a wish for a strong artificial intelligence that could be absolutely controlled by him? Polunga fulfilled his wish, and absolute control fell into Luther's hands.

"Very full of emotions, Galvatron."

Luther named him Galvatron instead of Unicron or Prime, Supreme Lord or something like that because the Transformers he liked were Galvatron and Megatron.
