Chapter 42: Jing Potian shock

"BOSS, the emotional component is something that has already been researched for me."

Galvatron said happily.

"There is an artificial intelligence in this universe that is more powerful than you."

Luther said with a smile.

Galvatron was silent for a moment. It was not fear or disbelief, but excitement.

What this guy does is to devour the technology of other technological civilizations. The more high-tech a civilization is, the more it will be attracted to it.

"The parameters of this universe are indeed very different from the universe I live in..."

Galvatron said after some investigation.

"I will not restrain you, Jingvatron. As long as you are obedient, whatever you do secretly will be a surprise to me."

Luther said with a smile, then looked at the table in front of him.

"Become Thundersteel!"

Majin Buu's transformation magic!

Immediately afterwards, he saw the table in front of him change his atomic structure instantly with the light emitted from Luther's fingertips, turning into genuine thunder steel!

This scene shocked Galvatron and was completely incomprehensible.

"I'm keeping your core program safe. Maybe I can let you experience what it's like to be a pet or an intelligent creature."

Luther was very satisfied with the progress of his transformation magic.

He took great pains to practice this transformation magic, because he felt that this transformation magic might subvert the existence of material science.

The result is now really achieved this effect.

"But if you want to change something into what you want, you have to know that thing very well. If it's specious, you can't change it at all... So how does Majin Buu know about things like chocolate and coffee candy? Yes, did these things exist thousands of years ago?"

Luther mused.

"Or is it that Majin Buu's transformation magic level is higher than mine?"

Therefore, Luther could not conjure vibranium and Adamantium out of thin air unless there was a physical object for him to refer to and study.

The reason why he was able to conjure thunderbolt steel was only because he mastered the atomic structure of thunderbolt steel.

"Transformation magic is actually an alternative atomic arranger or atomic aggregation and ordering technology. It is even more convenient. I have been thinking about it to the extreme. The power of idealism."

After Galvatron heard what Luther said to him, he didn't say anything.

The core program is actually its biggest weakness, the so-called absolute control. No one thought that there would be such a force that could take him away from the core of a mechanical planet armed to the teeth out of thin air!

This damn thing has been developed for so many years in vain. If it had known that the universe was on the mysterious and fantasy side, it would not have been on the technological side.

Luther didn't expect Bo Lunga to be so powerful, or were technological creations just playthings in front of it?

In short, after getting Galvatron's core program device, which was another chip for some reason, Luther engraved whatever control he wanted on this chip.

Galvatron also knows that Luther only needs to snap his fingers now, and it will be formatted directly. This is still good, but if it is serious, it will explode directly.

The latter is a magical method, and Galvatron has no solution at all, because Luther brought it to the Marvel Universe where Dragon Ball magic does not exist.

Maybe there are powers in the Marvel Universe that can solve this problem, but Galvatron has no way of accessing those powers.

So it could only obey Luther's orders.

"I don't need you to do anything. You just need to help me supervise the entire online world and the human world. The backward restrictions of the local area network shouldn't trouble you, right?"

Luther said with a smile.

"I understand, BOSS, don't worry, I promise that there will be absolutely no secrets on the Internet in front of you in the future!"

Galvatron said immediately.

"Well, in that case, then you can teach me the things you know."

Luther asked Galvatron to teach him knowledge such as network programming. Naturally, it is best to have these things in his own hands.

Anyway, I have a super brain, and if I don't learn, I won't learn in vain.

"By the way, package up all your knowledge and send it to Megatron."

By the way, the knowledge that Galvatron mastered about the pinnacle of technology in the Dragon Ball world is also what Luther needs.

As mentioned before, Luther is accustomed to taking things into his own hands instead of relying on others.

"I understand, BOSS."

Of course Galvatron would not disagree. After all, it was already like this. Luther would get those technologies as long as they got them.

But after all, it has accumulated technology for a long time, and Megatron's speed of receiving files is not that fast. In other words, compared to the huge database of interstellar civilization, Megatron can no longer keep up with the performance.

Luther thought that he would have to upgrade Megatron in a while.

Emperor Company's vigorous operation to arrest hackers actually did not alarm many people. It was said to be a secret operation, so it was naturally impossible for everyone to make a fuss. Moreover, most hackers were weaklings, and they would go soft at the point of a gun. , some even peed.

Only a few stubborn elements were attacked. Of course, the so-called attack was just to knock them unconscious with a rifle butt and take them away.

So this action did not alarm many people.

All the hackers who were captured were brainwashed by Luther. Compared to the mild mental control magic used on Broly, Qinggua, and important members of Dragon Ball Earth's Emperor Organization, Luther was not so polite to them. Go directly to the enhanced version of brainwashing magic.

The brainwashing magic of Dragon Ball is very scary. Even a powerful demon king Dabura, who is a Super Saiyan 2, was controlled and obeyed Babidi, who was far inferior to him. You should know that Dabura was in the Dark Demon World and must have a deep understanding of black magic. Even so, he couldn't resist.

Vegeta was able to resist because he hid part of his strength, which made Babidi underestimate him, which led to Vegeta's opportunity to resist.

Dragon Ball magic is divided into white magic used by the gods and most people, special magic, and black magic used in places like the Dark Demon World. Luther is sure that the magic encyclopedia that Porunga gave him could not record all the magic.

In the case of insufficient strength, Porunga did not even have the ability to obtain Frieza's sample gene.

Of course, Luther's purpose of wishing for this magic is actually very simple. He wants to create his own Dragon Ball!

The origin of Namek Dragon Ball is the fragments of Super Dragon Ball, or insignificant debris, and the Earth Dragon Ball is completely developed by the gods themselves.

This definitely falls into the category of magic. Luther made this wish in order to conceal his purpose and to obtain all the magic.

It doesn't make sense that the Namekians can make dragon balls, but he can't.
