Chapter 44 Things Got Out of Hand

"Get him out!"

Laurain was not in a good mood, but it was not fatal.

At this moment, the car in front suddenly made a deafening roar, and then flew up and hit the car in front of their car!

This almost scared Laurain out of his wits.

"It's an attack!"

"Shoot!"

"No, he's a monster! Ah!"

"We need heavy weapons!"

"Fire cover!"

Laurain's face turned pale when he heard the chaotic voices. You know, he is very careful about his life. He will arrange five cars to escort him when he travels. He will randomly sit in one of them every day, and there are 300 armed bodyguards accompanying him, all of whom have been through the battlefield.

The five cars are all bulletproof armor, the kind that even rockets can't blow up. Of course, C4 can still blow up. Everything has an upper limit and metal fatigue.

"Back off! Get out of here!"

Laurin felt his heartbeat quicken, making him feel physically uncomfortable and dizzy. He held on to his body and angrily scolded the driver and bodyguard.

But the car behind him also flew into the sky with a bang and fell heavily to the ground.

The quality was good, the car frame was not deformed, and the glass was cracked into a spider web, but the people inside were probably all killed by the shock.

Who the hell could have thought that these cars would fall from a high altitude!

Without the shock absorption technology of Iron Man's black technology, even with seat belts and airbags, it would be a life-or-death situation!

Not to mention that the guns carried by the bodyguards in the car could become deadly metal objects. Even if they did not turn on the safety and there was no possibility of accidental discharge, the fall plus various metal hard objects would kill people in just one go.

Laureen saw two people killing all his bodyguards at a terrifying speed. They laughed loudly. One ignored the bullet attack and punched through the bodyguard's body. The other was very fast and dodged before his men opened fire, and then blew their heads with a pistol.

These are two different types of artificial people created by Luther with consideration of details. One is good at strength and defense and likes to fight hard, and the other is very fast and relies on weapons to output.

If they are exactly the same mutants, then it is human body enhancement technology, which can easily be associated with the Emperor Company.

Even if they are just suspicious, judging from the hearings of these guys against Tony Stark, Luther obviously cannot avoid such a trouble.

So he simply synthesized two different artificial people, and even in order to make them more distinct and distinctive, so that they would not be mistaken for the same mutants, the skin of the one who likes to fight hard is a metal-like material structure, which can ignore the direct fire of a 7.62mm caliber automatic rifle.

But the sniper rifle can break through the defense. The fast one is just fast. Other aspects are the limit of ordinary people. But it is also deadly enough. With the large-caliber pistol, for ordinary people, they can kill as many as they come.

Then they came to Laureen's car, and Laureen clearly saw the metal-skinned freak looking at them.

The bodyguards had witnessed what happened outside the car just now. Even though they knew that the guns in their hands were futile, they still clenched them tightly.

Because this is the only thing they can do to resist the monster.

"Listen, I can give you anything you want, a billion dollars? Supermodel? Hollywood star?"

Laureen took a deep breath and said to the metal freak through the glass.

The other party just grinned, and the big gold teeth left a deep impression on Laureen. Then he punched the glass and pulled Laureen out of the car roughly.

Laureen screamed as the glass shards pierced his body, but it wasn't over yet. The fast-moving android threw three high-explosive grenades into the broken glass of the car!

The bodyguards in the car panicked and wanted to unbuckle their seat belts and open the car door, but the fuses of the three high-explosive grenades were too short to be imagined, and they exploded as soon as they were thrown in!

"Boom!"

The interior of the car was severely deformed and swollen, and the people inside probably couldn't find complete body parts.

"If you cut off one head, two heads will grow. Hi, Hydra!"

The metal freak laughed and hung Laureen on the street lamp. Well, he pressed his body directly into the street lamp post. When the street lamp pierced his body, Laureen was still alive, but he didn't last long before he died.

"Capitalists should hang on street lamps! Oh, I'm talking about the black-hearted ones!"

Hearing that there were gunshots and explosions, the American police quickly rushed to the scene after the incident, but they only saw a mess.

The police chief felt his scalp tingling when he saw the scene. It was not until his men found out the identity of the body "hanging" on the street lamp that he shot himself.

Just kidding, he couldn't handle such a big thing. If he didn't commit suicide now, it would be difficult to die after he was responsible.

Then the incident spread quickly, alarming the men in America, and then SHIELD was also alarmed.

Hei Pi Lu Dan was called out of bed in the middle of the night. The agents knew his rest time, so they would not disturb him. But if they disturbed him, it meant that something urgent had happened. Hei Pi Lu Dan was a little grumpy when he got up, and then he returned to normal.

"Director, two mutants attacked a big shot. This matter has become a big deal."

Colson quickly said to the black-skinned braised egg concisely.

The black-skinned braised egg's one-eyed pupil shrank, and he quickly took the notebook handed over by Coulson, which played what was captured by the driving recorder that SHIELD found at the scene.

A metal freak, a person who looked unchanged, and then two people slaughtered more than 300 gun-toting bodyguards, and finally hung Laurent cruelly on a street lamp and walked away!

"We are already checking the identities of these two mutants, and America has no record of them."

The black-skinned braised egg then fell into thinking. Laurine's identity was revealed later in the video. He was the head of a large chaebol. Now that he is dead, he died in an important city like New York. It is not difficult to imagine that Ami How violent will be the reaction of those big chaebols in Lika?

Even if S.H.I.E.L.D. has changed from a scientific strategic force created by America herself to a global organization united by multiple countries, it is difficult to ignore America's reaction now.
