

Kryptonian 501

Chapter 501

"This crisis has been resolved, but the next crisis will come soon!"

"This crisis was caused by a single god-level weirdo. What about the next crisis? Will more god-level weirdos appear? Or will more powerful god-level weirdos appear?"

Everyone shuddered.

Xiqi's words silenced everyone.

They had to admit that Xiqi was right.

This crisis has nearly wiped out their entire army, so what about the next crisis?

Are we going to let them die?

"Xiqi, what do you mean?"

"That's right, I plan to set up a position for SS-level heroes, and then ask the savior to join us. He is the only one who can defeat god-level monsters. If the Hero Association doesn't win over him, why not wait for other organizations to win over him?"

What Xiqi said is fair.

"So I think we should find this savior as soon as possible and let him join our Heroes Association."

Xiqi looked at everyone and said.

"Yes, it's time for the Hero Association to change. Instead of putting profits first, it should put the future of mankind first."

Capitalists are all human beings, and they quickly thought of the benefits of wooing the savior.

"I believe he must be a very powerful hero. With him in charge, there will be hope for the next crisis!"

If there is still a god-level weirdo in the next crisis, then the S-class heroes of their Hero Association will have no chance of winning.

In front of god-level monsters, S-class heroes are no different from ordinary people and will still die.

This is something that has been proven by facts, but no one expected that a god-level weirdo would appear.

They had always avoided talking about the possibility of god-level weirdos, not to mention that they had been safe for so many years, but they didn't expect that a god-level weirdo actually appeared!

But if this savior can join their side, then the situation will be completely different.

This is a very perfect plan.

If this savior is really as powerful as they imagined, then he will become the Heroes Association's most powerful weapon and may even change the structure of the entire world.

But how do you convince him to join the Heroes Association?

This is a big problem.

They all know that this savior is no ordinary person. His strength is very high. It is probably not a problem to say that he is the strongest human being and the strongest hero in the world.

Therefore, there must be a very perfect plan.

"That's what we need to talk about."

Xiqi replied.

"We need to conduct a comprehensive investigation on him, understand his background, and his purpose. Then, we can extend an invitation to him and let him become part of our hero association."

"But what if he refuses?"

A rich man asked.

"There's no way we can force him to join."

"Of course not."

Xiqi shook his head and said, just kidding, with that kind of strength, how can you force him to join?

"But we can use other methods. For example, we can provide him with the most comprehensive information and resources to help him better complete his tasks. We can share our knowledge and experience and let him know that here is where he can find a place to rely on."

Discussions about the savior also began to appear on the Hero Association's website and forums.

People speculate about his identity, his abilities, and his purpose.

At the same time, some people expressed their admiration for him and their desire for him to become a member of the Heroes Association.

But Luther was naturally too lazy to pay attention.

Saitama looked at the three people who suddenly appeared in front of him.

Oh, one of them seems to be a weirdo.

Saitama is the only one who went back in time and survived, so he knows what happened.

"he?"

Esdeath looked at Saitama in confusion. With his deceptive appearance and passive "mediocre" abilities, Esdeath couldn't tell what was special about Saitama.

Boros saw powerful energy from Saitama.

In the original plot, except for Ashura and Boros, no one could see what was special about Saitama, not even Hungry Wolf and Monster King Orochi.

It's just that Asura Unicorn has danger perception, and Boros can tell that Saitama is not simple purely from the energy.

"Yes, after me, he is the strongest person on earth."

Luther nodded.

Poros became interested as soon as he heard this.

"Who are you?"

Saitama said impatiently. These three people were talking to themselves and looking at themselves with curious and surprised eyes, which made Saitama feel very uncomfortable.

"Come on, Poros."

Luther makes a cameo appearance as a trainer.

Poros punched instantly without any politeness or hesitation.

His spaceship is gone, but the huge energy reserve and Luther have restored him to the original state, so Boros is now in full condition!

Saitama did not react, or was too lazy to hide, so he was punched in the face by Boros, and then flew out, rubbing a line of fire with the ground.

"It flew away with one punch."

Boros felt something strange in his hand.

"You guys, suddenly start beating people?"

Saitama stood up angrily, seemingly unscathed except for the dust.

"Oh, I didn't expect that even a single blow from me was not hurt."

Boros got excited. If he can't defeat Luther, can he defeat you?

He attacked again without saying a word, and Saitama followed with a punch.

The punch just now had already let Saitama know the strength of Boros.

"Bang!!!"

There was a thunderclap in the air, and the air exploded, forming a regional vacuum. Boros and Saitama stood separately, and Saitama's red boxing gloves were still smoking. Boros' eyes widened, and his arm fell to the ground at this time.

Saitama broke his arm with one punch!

Esdeath was even more surprised, she felt that she couldn't see Saitama clearly.

An ordinary guy actually broke Boros' arm with one punch?

"It's really surprising."

Boros looked at his broken arm, without hesitation, and directly regenerated a complete arm.

Saitama showed a surprised expression.

"Don't be surprised, this is just my racial talent, excellent regeneration ability."

Boros grinned, able to break his arm with one punch, this Saitama has surpassed all the strong men Boros has seen-except Luther.

He charged again, punching with both fists quickly, each punch was as fast as lightning. Saitama did not choose to take it head-on this time, but to dodge. Wherever Boros's fist passed, the mountains collapsed and the ground cracked. No one could stop his attack.

"Stop it, you bastard!"

Saitama clenched his fist.

"Ordinary punch!"

Chapter 502 Boros: Another monster!

"Ordinary punch!"

Saitama did not use any fancy techniques, nor did he release a powerful energy wave, just a simple punch.

However, this punch made Boros feel unprecedented pressure.

He could feel the power of Saitama's fist, which was indescribably heavy and powerful, as if it had the power to destroy everything.

Boros did not dare to be negligent, and he punched with all his strength.

The moment the two fists collided, there was a deafening sound, as if the whole world was shaking at this moment.

Boros only felt that his fist was hit by a huge mountain, and the huge force made him unable to resist.

There was a sharp pain in his fist, as if his bones were about to be broken.

But Saitama still stood there, as if the punch just now did not consume much of his strength.

Boros was shocked, and he realized that Saitama's power was far beyond his imagination.

He hurriedly wanted to dodge, but found that it was too late.

Saitama's fist had come in front of him, and the irresistible force made it impossible for him to escape.

The air seemed to explode at this moment. Boros only felt a huge impact force coming, and his body was instantly blown away. He struggled in mid-air, trying to stabilize his body, but found that it was too late.

His body began to collapse, and the cells were destroyed in an instant. His body was like a crushed watermelon, with blood and minced meat splashing everywhere.

Saitama's fist flashed with a faint light, and with a punch, the air was squeezed out instantly, forming a vortex of air flow visible to the naked eye.

His punch seemed to have a hole in the whole world.

This vortex seemed to have the power to devour everything, and everything around it was involved.

Boros' body was involved in it in mid-air, and his struggle became weak and futile.

"What... what kind of power is this?"

Boros began to doubt his life.

Luther was fine, but how could this earthling be so powerful?

He was determined to become the overlord of the universe, but he met two such powerful guys at once.

At this moment, Boros had believed what Luther said that the earth was full of monsters.

How else to explain the two monsters Luther and Saitama?

"But, it's impossible to kill me just like that!"

Boros's flesh and blood gathered together again.

Saitama was even more surprised. It was the first time he encountered a monster that could not be killed with two punches.

You should know that Saitama's usual punching power can kill dragon-level monsters. Boros is the only one in history whose armor was only exploded when he took the first punch head-on. The boastful monster King Orochi exploded with one punch and died with two punches.

And the second punch is a dragon-level ultimate punch. Whether it is dragon-level or above, it is a ultimate punch, but Boros still didn't die!

"Saitama, try this move, meteor burst!!!"

Without any hesitation, Boros directly used meteor burst after encountering Luther.

Starting with a sub-light speed punch!

Esdeath has seen the horror of this move and hurriedly walked to Luther's side.

Then, Saitama, who was originally indifferent, showed a surprised expression.

Saitama was really surprised here, probably because it was the first time he saw such a fast guy.

This is a punch of hundreds of thousands of kilometers per second!

Boros's punch was like the hottest and brightest meteor in the universe, carrying a terrifying force of sub-light speed, and slammed towards Saitama.

The destructive power of this punch has surpassed people's conventional understanding of physical attacks. It seems to be able to tear space, penetrate time, and reach the depths of the target's soul.

At the moment when Boros's fist came into contact with the air, the surrounding air seemed to be instantly heated to the extreme, forming a series of air vortices visible to the naked eye.

These vortices twisted and rolled wildly in the air, as if they were going to swallow everything around them.

At the same time, Boros's fist flashed with dazzling light, which was an indescribable light. It was both hot and cold, both destructive and creative.

Wherever the fist passed, the space seemed to be compressed instantly, and then expanded instantly, forming a series of tiny space cracks.

These cracks spread wildly in the air, as if they were going to tear the whole world apart.

And Boros's fist was the source of this disaster, and it seemed to have the power to destroy everything and reshape everything.

At this moment, time seemed to have stopped.

Everyone's eyes were focused on Boros's fist, as if this punch was the key to determining the fate of the world.

Saitama also felt unprecedented pressure. He could feel the indescribable power on Boros's fist, a power that was enough to destroy everything.

The destructive power of this punch has surpassed any attack Saitama has ever faced.

When Boros's fist touched Saitama's face, a strong air flow shock broke out in the air, as if forming an invisible air wave.

This air wave spread at an astonishing speed, instantly tearing the surrounding buildings, trees, and even the ground.

The surrounding air instantly became hot under the power of this punch, as if it was ignited.

The high temperature made the oxygen in the air extremely active, burning a sea of fire.

The flames spread extremely quickly, instantly engulfing everything around, forming a sea of fire.

Under the attack of this punch, Saitama seemed to be instantly blown away by a huge force.

His body drew a long arc in the air, and then slammed heavily on the ground.

The ground collapsed instantly under this blow, forming a huge pit. The ground around the pit was also constantly cracking, as if it was going to swallow everything.

The surrounding buildings collapsed instantly under the aftermath of Boros's punch and turned into ruins.

The mountains in the distance also began to collapse under the power of this punch, and a large amount of rocks and soil rolled down, forming a series of mudslides.

These mudslides rushed towards the city at an alarming speed, leaving a mess wherever they went.

Boros's punch was not only an attack on Saitama, but also a devastating blow to the entire city and the entire environment.

The power of this punch has exceeded human imagination, as if a real meteor fell, destroying everything under its power.

"Crack."

However, just when everyone thought that Saitama could no longer withstand this punch, he suddenly stood up from the ground.

There was no scar on his face, as if Boros's punch had not caused any harm to him.

At most, his clothes were dirty.

Chapter 503 Boros: Envy of Earthlings

Boros was shocked when he saw this scene.

He couldn't believe that Saitama could withstand his full-strength punch. However, he didn't give up, because he knew that if he wanted to defeat an opponent like Saitama, he had to work harder than usual.

So Boros gathered his strength again and prepared to launch a more violent attack. Every cell in his body was boiling, as if he wanted to release all his strength.

This time, Boros's attack was more swift, and his fist rushed towards Saitama with a stronger air flow vibration at an even more amazing speed. The power of this punch has exceeded any previous attack, as if a real planet hit the earth.

However, Saitama did not retreat, he faced Boros's attack without fear.

His eyes flashed with passion.

This was the first time Saitama encountered such a powerful weirdo.

So he was looking forward to what else Boros could do!

Moreover, Saitama seemed to find that he could see Boros's movements clearly.

Boros flashed and appeared in front of Saitama again.

His fist once again gathered a powerful force, ready to launch the next round of attack.

Under the impact of this fist force, the air seemed to be ignited instantly, emitting a fiery light.

A violent airflow spread out radially with Boros' fist as the center, engulfing everything around it.

This force was like a hurricane, stirring up the surrounding air, as if it was going to swallow up the whole world.

But then, in Boros's eyes, he saw Saitama gradually raising his arm to block.

He actually kept up with his speed?

Boros was shocked, but after all, there was Luther as a precedent and a gem in front of him, so Boros was just shocked.

The air seemed to be ignited instantly, bursting with dazzling light.

This light was so strong that it was as dazzling as the sun, making people unable to look directly at it.

Then, a deafening roar echoed in the air, like thunder exploding, making people tremble with fear.

The power of this punch was so great that it was almost impossible to describe it in words.

Saitama only felt a huge impact from Boros's fist, as fierce as a gust of wind and waves.

His body flew backwards involuntarily under the impact of this force, like a meteorite that was hit. The surrounding ground was instantly cracked under the impact of this force, forming huge cracks. These cracks spread like spider webs, and wherever they went, whether it was buildings or trees, they were instantly destroyed and turned into ruins.

But Boros did not mean to stop attacking. His figure flashed quickly in the air, and each flash was accompanied by a dazzling light and a deafening roar.

His attack speed was so fast that people could not see his movements clearly. They could only see a series of lights passing through the air, as bright as meteors.

Under Boros' attack, Saitama kept retreating, and almost hit the ruins on the ground every time.

However, he did not mean to give up. Every time he landed, he would quickly adjust his body to prepare for the next attack.

The surrounding air seemed to be ignited under the impact of this force, forming a series of hot air currents.

These air currents intertwined in the air to form a spectacular picture, as if burning like a flame.

And Boros's figure quickly shuttled through it, and every appearance was accompanied by a dazzling light and a deafening roar.

Every attack of theirs seemed to be able to destroy everything, and every collision was frightening.

However, no matter how fierce Boros's attack was, Saitama was like a stubborn stone, and no matter how he attacked, he was not injured.

Because Luther said that the earthlings are best at indestructible bodies and indestructible power, Boros was just shocked that Saitama's body hardness was so exaggerated.

Then, Boros even envied the indestructible physical strength of the earthlings.

Then, Saitama stood firm and punched Boros out.

"Puff!"

Boros exploded.

"Continuous ordinary punches!"

Saitama threw a sky full of fist shadows, smashing every piece of Boros.

But Boros regrouped again.

"You are worthy of being an Earthling praised by the Super Earthlings, but it's not over yet!!!"

Boros decided to use the move that he didn't have time to use on Luther last time. He accelerated and dragged Saitama's cloak.

"Ah, my cloak!"

Saitama was dragged into the air before he could react, and then Boros swung Saitama wildly, at a speed of one thousand revolutions per second, even causing a strong wind.

Then he threw Saitama into the sky, and he ran wildly on the ground. Every step was like a thunderous shock, trampling the ground into dust and cracks.

This is to get enough acceleration!

In less than a second, Boros accelerated himself to the limit, reaching a terrifying speed of more than 300,000 kilometers per second!

Boros completed his amazing acceleration, and his whole body's strength and speed reached the peak.

He widened his eyes and stared at Saitama who was thrown into the sky, and then his body rushed towards Saitama like an arrow from a string.

"With this kick, I'm going to kick you to the moon!"

Boros roared, his voice vibrating in the air, as if to tear everything apart.

His right foot instantly ignited a raging flame, and that flame was not an ordinary flame, but a symbol of his strength and speed.

The temperature of the flame was so high that even the surrounding air was distorted, as if entering another dimension.

Boros's right foot was like a meteor, cutting through the sky and smashing towards Saitama.

At that moment, it seemed as if the power of the entire universe was concentrated on his toes.

He suddenly raised his foot and gave Saitama, who had already flown high in the sky, a shocking kick.

"Bang!"

With a loud bang, Boros's right foot suddenly collided with Saitama's body.

At that moment, the air seemed to be torn apart by this force, and everything around him became blurred.

Under this powerful force, Saitama's body cut through the sky like a meteor and rushed towards the moon.

Boros's power was so strong that it was enough to change the color of the sky and earth and make the stars tremble.

The power of this kick was enough to flatten a mountain in an instant, boil the ocean, and change the color of the wind and clouds.

As Saitama was kicked toward the moon, a long tail formed behind him, like a comet across the night sky, brilliant and spectacular.

This tail drew a perfect arc in the night sky and finally disappeared into the sky.

Chapter 504 was interrupted

Saitama's body was like an out-of-control meteor, passing through the atmosphere at an astonishing speed and rushing towards the moon. Behind him, a long tail cut through the night sky, brilliant and spectacular.

When Saitama's body entered the atmosphere, the surrounding air was instantly burned by the high temperature, forming a blazing flame. This flame was like a giant dragon, raging in the night sky, illuminating the whole world.

As Saitama continued to approach the moon, his speed gradually slowed down. However, even so, he still rushed to the surface of the moon at an astonishing speed.

When Saitama's body hit the surface of the moon, a deafening roar sounded instantly. A huge crater was instantly smashed into the surface of the moon, and the surrounding rocks and dust were instantly blown away by this force.

The crust of the moon began to vibrate under this force, as if it was about to collapse. The gravity of the moon was also affected, and a slight change occurred.

And the impact of this force was also felt on the earth.

The gravitational relationship between the moon and the earth changed instantly, causing the tidal phenomenon on the earth to become extremely strong. The sea water suddenly rose, forming huge waves that hit the coastline.

At the same time, the atmosphere on the earth was also affected. A powerful airflow was formed instantly and swept across the world. The storms and hurricanes brought by this airflow plunged the whole world into chaos.

The impact on the moon did not end there.

After hitting the moon, Saitama's body still maintained an amazing impact and continued to slide on the surface of the moon.

A long gully was left behind him, like a huge crack that split the moon in two.

The crust of the moon began to collapse under this force, and a large amount of rocks and dust were blown away. The surface of the moon became riddled with holes, as if it had experienced a devastating disaster.

And Saitama's body finally stopped on the other side of the moon. His body was deeply embedded in the surface of the moon, as if it had become a part of the moon.

This impact not only brought great damage to the moon, but also had a profound impact on the earth. The gravitational relationship between the earth and the moon has changed dramatically, resulting in a huge change in the climate and environment on the earth.

However, at the moment when Saitama's body was embedded in the surface of the moon, he was not hurt at all. His consciousness gradually came back to him, and he found himself on the moon.

He looked up and saw that the surface of the moon had been smashed beyond recognition. The earth was quietly suspended in the distance, like a blue gem.

Saitama took a deep breath, feeling the silence and desolation on the moon.

Then Saitama found that he couldn't breathe.

He picked up a piece of moon rock next to him, soaked it, calculated gravity and other factors, and then jumped back to the earth from the moon.

He jumped up suddenly, like a meteor, streaking through the night sky and rushing towards the earth.

At the moment Saitama jumped, the moon suffered a huge impact again.

His jumping force was strong enough to shake the entire moon, causing the surface of the moon to vibrate violently again.

New cracks spread across the surface of the moon, as if to tear the entire moon into pieces. The crust of the moon continued to collapse under this force, and a large amount of rocks and dust were blown away again, forming a spectacular dust cloud.

As Saitama's body jumped, it continued to cross the void of the universe. His speed was so fast that it seemed to have surpassed the constraints of time.

A long tail formed behind him, like a silver river drawing a perfect arc in the night sky.

As Saitama got closer and closer to the earth, the earth's atmosphere began to feel his arrival.

His speed was so fast that the surrounding air was burned by high temperature, forming a dazzling light. This light penetrated the night sky, allowing people on earth to see this spectacular sight.

When Saitama's body re-entered the earth's atmosphere, the surrounding air was burned by high temperature again, forming a blazing flame. This flame streaked through the night sky like a meteor, illuminating the entire world.

However, unlike the previous impact, Saitama's jump did not bring devastating damage to the earth this time. Although his power was strong, under his precise control, this power did not have much impact on the earth.

Despite this, the earth still felt the impact of Saitama's jump.

The earth's gravitational field changed instantly, causing tidal phenomena around the world to fluctuate again. Under the gravitational pull of the moon and Saitama, the sea water rose and fell crazily, forming huge waves.

These waves hit the coastline, causing considerable damage to coastal cities.

At the same time, Saitama's jump also triggered earthquakes and volcanic activities around the world.

The earth's crust began to vibrate under this force, and earthquakes occurred in some previously stable areas.

The volcano also began to erupt, and a large amount of magma and ash were ejected into the air, forming a spectacular volcanic cloud.

However, Saitama did not let this force last too long.

At the moment of approaching the surface of the earth, he accurately controlled his strength and speed to ensure that his landing would not cause too much damage to the earth.

His body landed steadily on the surface of the earth without causing the violent earthquakes or volcanic eruptions that people worried about.

For the moon, although Saitama's jump did not cause devastating damage, it also brought far-reaching effects to the moon.

The force of his jump changed the orbit of the moon, causing it to shift slightly in future movements.

Although this shift is small, it has a long-term impact on the earth's tides and climate.

Esdeath was really shocked that Boros kicked Saitama into the sky. With her strength, she naturally saw that Saitama had already flown to the moon, and the changes in the moon also made Esdeath see it.

As a result, the next moment, before Boros could take a breath, there was a bang behind him!

Saitama fell to the ground.

When he was close to the ground, Saitama punched and offset his impact.

"I'm back."

Saitama looked at the familiar environment and said.

Boros widened his one eye and looked at the unharmed Saitama in disbelief.

"Okay, let's stop here. You are not Saitama's opponent."

Luther knew what Boros was thinking now. He wanted to use the Collapsing Star Roaring Cannon. Anyway, Luther would go back in time.

But Luther thought it was unnecessary.

"It's really too strong."

Boros didn't insist, after all, Luther had seen his Roaring Star Cannon.

Since Luther said so, it means that Saitama is really strong.

Chapter 505: Saitama's extra training

Saitama was relieved when he saw that Boros had no intention of continuing to fight and returned to his original appearance.

He is very afraid of trouble.

Then Saitama looked at Luther. It seemed that this guy had stopped Boros from continuing to fight. Judging from Boros's reaction, this guy should be stronger than Boros.

Then Saitama looked more and more familiar.

"Luther?"

Saitama recognized Luther.

"It's not easy. You finally recognized me."

Luther complained that he had fought Saitama before and used the original ability of the Power Stone to copy Saitama's talent without a limiter. Then, it seemed that Saitama had forgotten about him.

Didn't recognize it until now.

This Saitama is an additionally trained version of Saitama, and is probably much stronger than at this point in the original plot.

Because there is a saying that I don't know if it was said by ONE himself, saying that Saitama can kill yesterday's self with one punch every day.

This is different from the Murata remake. The setting of the Murata remake is that Saitama's growth rate explodes exponentially, which is much higher than the upper limit of the hungry wolf.

"It just so happens that I've become a lot stronger recently, let's have a fight!"

Saitama said to Luther.

"It's okay, but we have to change the battlefield."

Luther had this intention, and he used Saitama to beat Boros, and then he beat Saitama to scare the tiger and kill the chicken to scare the monkeys.

Boros is naturally looking forward to seeing the battle between these two earthlings.

Luther brought Saitama and others to a desolate desert in this world.

There are only more than twenty cities in the world of One Punch Man. All other places are empty and without humans, and it is unknown how many weirdos exist.

In a place like this, Saitama can fight freely.

"Be careful!"

Saitama knows that Luther is stronger than him, but that was before, and now he has trained more!

"Normal punch!"

Saitama punched out.

Luther felt bored and planned to give Saitama strength directly, so he disappeared directly.

Saitama was startled. Luther's speed exceeded his ability to catch him. He quickly looked left and right, but he didn't find Luther's whereabouts.

At this moment, Luther appeared in front of Saitama, and he punched Saitama away.

Boros' pupils shrank because he saw Saitama, who could not be hurt even with all his strength, bleeding from the corner of his mouth!

Just one punch to make Saitama bleed?

Saitama was also unexpected. When he touched his own blood and his hot and swollen cheeks, Saitama's expression changed.

Saitama's usual silly expression disappeared and was replaced by Saitama's serious face.

From a sloppy painting style to a serious painting style, even the momentum is different.

Boros was in disbelief.

"Super Earthling?"

He had seen Luther's Super Earthman, and the color of his hair had changed, which was in line with Boros's understanding of transformation, because he himself also transformed by changing color.

But now Saitama looks like he has not changed much, but he seems to have a more invincible feeling.

And the energy aura that Boros sensed also became larger!

If Saitama's energy before was as huge and slightly undulating as the ocean, then Saitama's energy intensity now is as vast as the universe!

Boros exclaimed, yes, Saitama has no hair. Could it be that his Super Earthling transformation also won't grow hair?

This explains why he doesn't seem to have changed much.

Have you ever fought with yourself before and never transformed into a super earthling?

Poros suddenly felt defeated.

"Serious beating!"

Saitama, who has entered the serious style of painting, is not polite at all, and comes up with the serious series.

A more powerful move that is used less frequently, and as the name suggests, it is only used when Saitama is serious about his enemies.

Its power easily separated the Star-Collapse Roaring Cannon, which was enough to destroy the surface of the earth. The impact killed Boros and annihilated his lower body. The subsequent wind of the fist split the clouds above half of the earth.

It gets even scarier after additional practice.

Boros feels like a death scene from a planetary impact.

A great collision between heaven and earth!

Rudd seemingly threw a random punch.

Saitama's serious punch collided with Luther's casual punch in the air. At this moment, time seemed to have stopped, and everything around him fell into silence.

An astonishing amount of energy erupted, a dazzling light and a powerful shock wave instantly erupted, and the surrounding space began to distort. The powerful energy shock wave spread in all directions, destroying the surrounding desert instantly.

The whole world seemed to be shaking at this moment.

The endless sand and dust of the entire desert were swept into it, forming a huge storm.

Seeing this, Boros couldn't help but sigh again at the strength of these two super earthlings.

After the shock wave, Saitama's figure appeared again, and he looked a little surprised.

He didn't expect Luther to be so powerful, and his full-strength punch was easily blocked by the opponent.

However, Saitama was not discouraged, his eyes shone with more determination.

"Seriously punch continuously!"

Saitama shouted low, and his body disappeared instantly, leaving only countless afterimages.

His fists hit Luther like raindrops, each punch containing powerful power. In the fierce confrontation between the two, the desert ground was continuously torn apart by their power, forming huge cracks.

The clouds in the sky were also torn apart by their fists, revealing the blue sky.

However, Luther responded as if he was strolling in the garden, and he could avoid Saitama's attack just right every time.

Boros was stunned. He had never seen such a strange battle scene.

Saitama's attack speed was so fast that it had exceeded the limit of its capture, but Luther seemed to be able to predict the trajectory of each punch and always avoided it cleverly.

At this moment, Luther suddenly moved.

He threw a light punch, seemingly casual but containing terrifying power.

Saitama dodged quickly, but the speed of this punch was far beyond his imagination, and it hit his chest in an instant.

Saitama only felt a huge force surging into his body, and the whole person was instantly knocked out.

Saitama fell to the ground with a raging force running through his body.

The winner is decided!

Neither Esdeath nor Boros expected the outcome to be decided so quickly. Saitama got up in a panic. His endurance was beyond imagination. If the injuries caused by Luther were not too serious, he could recover quickly.

"It hurts so much..."

Saitama covered his chest and coughed up a large pool of blood, and then his internal injuries were almost healed.

However, he knew very well that he was not Luther's opponent yet. The gap was too big.

But he had a goal to pursue!

Chapter 506 Returning to Marvel with Boros

Luther is so strong!

Saitama felt that he had experienced the high enthusiasm and tension of fighting again.

Luther didn't have any idea.

"Boros, I will send you to my world now, where my men are."

Luther said to Boros.

He was a little tired of Boros. Such a big man staying by his side made Luther uncomfortable.

"Your world?"

Boros was startled. He should have heard it right.

"To be precise, it's my empire."

Luther said to Boros.

The Martian Empire and the Venus Empire have no cards of their own, and they can't be called real empires. Although Luther didn't make them too strong for their souls before, it's different now. Now Luther doesn't need it, so he has become more casual.

"Your empire?"

Boros nodded, and he didn't think it was strange. He was the overlord of his star zone and ruled more than a thousand life planets. It's just that Boros was very bored playing pirate games. Otherwise, as a ruler, he shouldn't call himself a pirate group.

From this point of view, it can be seen that Boros did not want to rule anyone at all. He just wanted opponents, so he created rebels for himself.

This is exactly the same as Esdeath.

Luther took Boros back to the Marvel world, and then he willfully placed Boros in the Venus Empire. The Mars Empire will move from Mars to Venus to become a big empire.

This is also to avoid harassment from the Earth, so that Tony Stark will not come here for no reason.

"I don't have your kind, but I can copy your genes to create your kind."

Luther said to Boros.

"Copy my kind?"

Boros did not object. For him, these things were acceptable because Luther was stronger than him, and Luther was still his master.

Anyway, Luther did whatever he wanted.

Luther did not say much. He stretched out his hand and gently touched Boros' body.

A strange power flowed out from between his fingers and slowly penetrated into Boros' body.

That was Luther's superpower, a power that could control the genes of life.

He extracted Boros' genes, and then used his superpowers to allow these genes to split and reproduce.

This is not a simple clone or copy.

Luther did not directly create a life form exactly like Boros, but created Boros's people through the recombination and mutation of genes.

Although these new life forms have similar appearances and characteristics to Boros, their strength, personality and way of thinking are unique.

Boros stared at these children of the same race created by Luther with his one eye wide open.

They are lively and full of vitality.

Although these children have just been born, their walking and movements are smooth and free, without the slightest stiffness and clumsiness.

This is in sharp contrast to the fragility and helplessness of human babies.

Now Luther can be said to have his wishes come true. He has any superpower he wants, just like Silver Superman.

Almost omnipotent, but the upper limit of strength will not change. Even omnipotence cannot beat the power of higher dimensions, so Luther still focuses on becoming stronger, and the others will be put off for later.

Boros widened his single eye, and Luther's figure was reflected in his pupil.

He originally thought that Luther was trying to copy and clone his genes. Boros had heard of this technology before, and even expected that this technology could create an evenly matched opponent for him.

After all, for a strong man like him, it is a rare thing to find an opponent who can make him go all out.

However, those "selves" who were cloned and copied always disappointed him. They did not have the powerful power that Boros himself possessed. Their power seemed to be just a shadow of Boros's power, a trivial replica.

But now Luther is creating from scratch, just because he can create a newborn of the Boros family with just a little bit of his own genes, which is incredible.

"Interesting, your energy-like life form actually has an infancy, but compared to human babies who have no self-protection ability, you are more like an animal, and you can walk freely as soon as you are born."

Luther said to Boros.

Human babies cannot walk and open their eyes as soon as they are born, but most animal babies can do this, such as elephants.

Boros nodded in agreement.

The growth period of other races is indeed different from that of humans. Their infancy is very short and they will soon enter puberty.

For them, puberty is the stage when they have completed their development and can start self-training and improvement.

Now they are still in the infancy stage, but their strength is already very strong.

"The racial value is very high. If the earthlings are 1, it is almost equivalent to nothing. If the ordinary people in Asgard are 5 and the Saiyans are 10, then at least there are 8 and 9."

Luther looked at these fellows of Boros. Their life forms and genes have been controlled by Luther.

According to Boros, their reproduction method is very unique and does not require a complicated mating process like humans.

Their reproduction is more like a kind of parthenogenesis, and only a part of the genes need to be extracted to cultivate new life forms.

This method of reproduction is undoubtedly very efficient and powerful, and it can enable the Boros family to quickly increase their strength in a short period of time.

However, Boros himself does not have this idea of reproducing offspring.

He loves fighting and enjoys the process of finding himself and improving himself in fighting.

He does not need offspring to continue his bloodline, because he believes that his power will be passed on forever through fighting.

In addition, the Boros family does not need to worry about survival.

Their vitality is very strong, as long as there is enough energy, they can survive.

This strong vitality makes the Boros family almost fearless in the universe, and they can survive in any environment.

Moreover, the Boros family has not been exterminated yet, and it is not on the verge of extinction, so why does he need to stand up and reproduce offspring?

This kind of thing can be done by Boros's people.

He just needs to enjoy fighting, after all, a mutant as special as Boros is actually rare.

Luther also noticed this. The ordinary Boros, also known as the "One-eyed Alien", probably does not have such powerful strength as Boros, so Luther retained the special part of Boros' genes and created this group of Boros isotopes.

Chapter 507 Changes

"From today on, they will be your responsibility."

Luther said to Poros.

These Cyclops who have specialized mutant genes can be called combat Cyclops.

The average person is dragon or above, and the lowest is dragon level.

"I see."

Poros had no objections either.

"By the way, let me remind you that they are different from other members of your race. They are newborns born by me specializing the mutant fragments in your genes. Like you, they are outstanding, far superior to those of your race. It can be said that they have unlimited potential. You can train them in your own way, and you might be able to come up with a strong opponent."

Luther then said to Poros.

This sentence made Poros excited.

These words made Poros' heart beat faster.

He understood that the "powerful opponent" Luther referred to was a warrior who could compete with him.

Boros longs for an opponent who can rival him, because only in this way can he continue to challenge himself and continuously improve his strength.

He looked at the group of specialized one-eyed star people in front of him, and his heart was filled with anticipation and excitement.

A mutant as special as myself?

But Boros has absolute confidence that he is the most special one!

The Venus Empire was surprised by the sudden appearance of Boros, especially since Boros was accompanied by a group of young children.

Looks like a refugee.

But soon Boros used his own force to let them know that he was not a refugee, but Luther, the Imperial Warmaster personally appointed by the Emperor - the highest power position second only to the Emperor himself, with the power to control all of the Empire. The power of vast armies.

Poros himself was not interested in such things.

In the days that followed, Boros began to train this group of specialized one-eyed people in his own way. He personally guided them to practice fighting skills, hone their will, and make them stronger and braver.

At the same time, he is always paying attention to their growth and changes, looking forward to discovering a powerful opponent who can compete with him.

This group of specialized Cyclops people are also making continuous progress under the guidance of Boros.

And Luther has returned to the world of One Punch Man.

He felt that he was being watched in the Marvel Universe. He had a similar feeling vaguely before, but he never knew what it was. Now he knew it clearly.

That's what OAA is looking at!

Luther resisted Marvel's power, and OAA could not stop him from leaving Marvel through time travel.

He used to think that the power of OAA was too strong, but now he knows that it is because OAA affects him through the power he obtained.

Without his own permission and consent, OAA has no way of affecting him. It can only destroy him and kill him, but it cannot trap him.

The same is true for the Supreme God. He was so generous and directly gave the power to the archangel, just because he wanted to retain Luther, a descendant full of miracles and possibilities.

Esdeath breathed a sigh of relief when she saw Luther back. She was also worried that Luther would become tired of the old and never return.

"My master, I want to become stronger!"

Esdeath said to Luther.

She really couldn't stand her own weakness. No matter it was Saitama, Boros, or the Hell Tornado, she couldn't deal with it. Even though the Hell Tornado seemed to be unable to defeat Esdeath's Time Freeze and Feng Shui Life and Death Fist, But the power of the Hell Tornado is too high.

Her telekinesis barrier can completely protect herself when time is frozen, and it is impossible for Esdeath to break through the defense.

Naturally, he would not be an opponent in a real fight.

The same goes for explosions with unknown means.

"Want to become stronger?"

Luther mused.

"Can."

Luther agreed.

It would be nice to make Esdeath stronger. Her current strength can no longer keep up. She may be able to shake things up in the world of One Punch Man, but in a more advanced world, she is probably just a beautiful cannon fodder. .

For this reason, Luther specially brought Android No. 18 here.

Others are afraid of the Shura field and avoid it.

But Luther is not afraid because he has enough strength to suppress it. Of course, it also has something to do with the woman's character.

If it were Qilin and the others, Luther would not do this.

"who is she?"

As soon as No. 18 came out, he saw Esdeath.

Then visible hostility emerged.

Esdeath looked at No. 18 with interest.

She has bright golden short hair and looks quite good. After all, Esdeath is also in the two-dimensional world. I don't think No. 18 is so special with such flawless delicacy. Just any passerby has it, like freckles. It's a rare thing.

There is a kind of aggression between the eyebrows and eyes that ordinary women don't have, and they look wild.

"My master, is she your slave in other worlds?"

Esdeath asked with a smile.

"That's right."

Luther nodded. Although No. 18 was set by Dr. Gro as Luther's follower, she was actually no different from a slave, except that Luther did not use her in this way.

"What a slave, I'm not..."

No. 18 resisted, but could not disobey the order.

"If you don't like slaves, you can call me my subordinates or something."

Luther then said.

"don't want!"

No. 18 was very reluctant.

"what ever."

Luther was very accommodating.

He is not a villain, so Luther is very tolerant.

"My master, I am not enough for you. Do you want to learn from those nobles and play multiplayer games?"

Esdeath leaned on Luther and asked puzzledly.

"Don't underestimate No. 18. Boros and Saitama are not her opponents. She can blow up the entire earth and the moon when she is angry. It may be a little difficult to blow up the entire solar system, but destroying a planet is as easy as killing someone."

Luther's words made Esdeath almost stumble and fall to the ground.

She couldn't believe what she heard.

Stronger than Boros and Saitama?

"At the same time, she is also the instructor I found for you. She will teach you a powerful power - Qi!"

Luther continued with a smile.

Esdeath's eyes lit up.

"How strong will I be if I practice Qi?"

This is the question that Esdeath cares about most.

As for the fact that No. 18 became her instructor, Esdeath didn't care at all.

Anyway, judging from No. 18's performance, his master might be more powerful than he saw, and could force No. 18 to obey his orders.

"Depending on your talent, it is not impossible to surpass No. 18."

Luther's words made Esdeath ecstatic. Surpass No. 18?

This is no problem for her at all. She just lacks the power and means to become stronger.

Esdeath absolutely believes in her talent and ability.

"My master, can't you teach me?"

Then Esdeath said.

Chapter 508 Friction between Esdeath and No. 18

"I'm too lazy to teach you."

Luther's frank words stunned Esdeath. She had never thought that she would be treated like this.

In her world, she has always been a top powerhouse, and no one dared to underestimate her, let alone such a direct rejection.

However, there was no trace of sarcasm or ridicule in Luther's words, but a sincere expression.

Seeing this, No. 18 couldn't help but burst out laughing.

She always felt that Luther's attitude towards her was very bad, but she didn't expect that he would say such words directly today.

After seeing that Luther's attitude towards Esdeath was not much better, No. 18 suddenly felt in a good mood.

"It's not easy to learn Qi."

Although No. 18 smiled, her words were full of provocation.

She looked at Esdeath, as if telling her that learning Qi was not a simple thing, and it required great effort and patience.

However, Esdeath was not intimidated by No. 18's words.

She looked at No. 18 coldly, with a sneer on the corner of her mouth.

"For me, no matter what it is, as long as I want to do it, I can do it!"

Esdeath's words are full of determination and confidence.

She doesn't believe that there is anything in this world that can stump her. She has quickly mastered the power of other worlds.

Hearing Esdeath's words, No. 18 couldn't help but raise her eyebrows.

"Really? If you can't learn it, I won't teach you. After all, facing a stupid disciple will waste my time."

She looked at Luther, as if asking him if he agreed with this point of view.

Luther shrugged and said with a smile.

"It's up to you. How to teach is your business. Similarly, as long as she can learn it, you can do whatever you want."

Luther's words surprised No. 18. She didn't expect Luther to let herself go like this.

No. 18 was happy when she heard Luther's words.

She knew that Luther agreed with her teaching method, which means that she can teach Esdeath as she pleases. This made her very excited and looking forward to it.

Esdeath looked at the interaction between Luther and No. 18, and she was also confused.

She didn't understand why Luther would let No. 18 go so easy on him. Wasn't he afraid that No. 18 would deliberately make things difficult for him?

However, Luther seemed to see through her thoughts. He smiled and said.

"You two should get along well. I believe No. 18 will let you learn Qi."

After that, Luther turned and left.

Esdeath and No. 18 were left looking at each other, not knowing what would happen next.

"Well, let's make it a deal. I'll teach you how to feel the changes in Qi first."

No. 18 looked at Esdeath and said.

Esdeath looked at No. 18, and a trace of vigilance flashed in her eyes.

However, she did not back down, because she believed that she could definitely learn Qi.

So she nodded and said.

"Okay, then please teach me."

No. 18 walked in front of Esdeath.

"If you want to practice Qi, you must first learn to feel the Qi in your body."

No. 18 said.

"Feeling Qi, do I have Qi?"

Esdeath asked, her voice full of doubts and curiosity.

She looked at her body, as if looking for the existence of the so-called "qi".

No. 18 looked at Esdeath, her eyes full of deep meaning.

"Of course there is, everything in the world has qi, but your qi is a little different, as cold and hard as ice, it is not easy to control it well."

She stretched out her hand and gently placed it on Esdeath's chest.

Esdeath was a little stunned by her action, but did not resist.

No. 18 gently closed her eyes and began to guide Esdeath to feel the changes in qi.

She asked Esdeath to focus on her breathing and feel the changes in her body with every breath.

At the same time, she also used her own power to guide Esdeath to feel the airflow around her.

Esdeath was a little confused at first, trying to sense the illusory qi.

Under the guidance of No. 18, she gradually began to feel the existence of qi.

She could clearly feel the flow of air around her body, as if an invisible force was caressing her.

This feeling made her very excited, and she began to invest more energy to feel and control the changes in Qi.

As time went on, Esdeath's perception of Qi became more and more acute.

She could clearly feel the flow of air in her body, and even control the direction of the air flow. This ability surprised her very much, and she realized that she had taken the first step to learn Qi.

However, this is just the beginning.

"Not bad."

No. 18 looked at Esdeath with some surprise, not expecting her to feel her own Qi so quickly.

"So that's it, this is Qi!"

Esdeath looked at her hand, and the blue air flow was as thin as hair, wrapped around her hand.

For Esdeath, this is very much like Feng Shui Life and Death Fist, but it seems to be true.

It seems to be a more powerful force.

"This is not enough, learning to feel your own Qi is just the beginning, you also have to learn to feel other people's Qi."

No. 18 said to Esdeath according to the Qi cultivation method in his memory.

As an artificial person, she naturally can master Qi without practicing, but Esdeath is different. She is strong enough, and Qi must be very powerful, but she just doesn't have the ability to master it.

"Feeling other people's anger?"

Esdeath frowned, not knowing what to do.

"It's very simple. The perception of Qi is very good. Although it is not good at sensing inanimate objects such as robots, it is still very useful in many cases."

No. 18 continued.

"Yeah?"

Esdeath nodded.

"Let's start with other people first. You should be able to sense it."

No. 18 said.

Esdeath follows the method No. 18 taught her to sense other people's energy.

"Why can't I feel your anger?"

Esdeath quickly sensed the energy of others. They were much weaker than herself, but the strange thing was that she couldn't sense the energy of No. 18 in front of her.

"Because I'm an android, of course you can't sense my energy."

No. 18 said.

"What is an android?"

Esdeath inquired deeply.

"It has nothing to do with you, you should learn to be angry first before talking."

No. 18 was vague.

Esdeath showed an interested expression.

"Hmph, just wait. When I become stronger, I will let you tell everything."

Esdeath said.

"Really? I'm looking forward to it. I hope you can do what you say."

No. 18 said with a strange expression.

She didn't think there was any possibility of Esdeath surpassing her. After all, the androids were too powerful in combat.

Chapter 509 Saitama: Here comes another fierce one!

From that day on, Esdeath began to work harder to cultivate Qi.

She constantly senses and explores, hoping to break through her own limits and sense farther and more powerful auras.

As time goes by, Esdeath's perception gradually increases.

She can sense the aura from farther away, and can even tell the strength of different people's auras. This made her feel very satisfied and strengthened her belief.

However, just when she thought she had mastered the skill of sensing qi, an unexpected discovery shocked her again.

That day, while Esdeath was practicing, she suddenly felt a powerful aura.

This aura shrouded the entire sky like a canopy, giving people an unparalleled sense of despair.

Esdeath immediately realized that this was Luther's breath!

Esdeath felt the powerful aura.

She knew there was still a big gap between herself and Luther, but she didn't back down.

On the contrary, she strengthened her belief and decided to keep working hard to narrow the gap with Luther.

"You must be scared, that's Luther's anger."

No. 18 said.

"Where's Saitama's anger?"

Esdeath was wondering why she couldn't feel Saitama's anger.

"Who is Saitama?"

No. 18 asked. She remembered that when she came, Luther said that she was stronger than Boros and Saitama. Then Esdeath showed a shocked expression. Boros had already seen it and it was not worth mentioning. .

This Saitama was mentioned repeatedly by Esdeath, which made No. 18 interested.

"Luther said that he is the most powerful being in the world, bar none. Of course, after Luther comes, he will be the strongest."

Esdeath then said.

"It's really ridiculous. You have never seen any strong people before you would say such a thing."

No. 18 said jokingly that the world she lived in could be said to be full of powerful people. The artificial humans created by Dr. Groo alone were able to sweep away all powerful enemies and never encountered any opponents.

No. 18 doesn't know what level the current artificial humans have reached, but their strength must have surpassed his own.

"Are you really that strong?"

Because she couldn't sense Qi, Esdeath was really interested in No. 18's strength, so she planned to take No. 18 to Saitama.

No. 18 glanced at her, not bothering to explain anything to her.

"I will take you to Saitama. If you can defeat him, I will admit defeat."

Esdeath said immediately.

"Not interested."

Number 18 is not interested. She is not a Saiyan monkey and is not that bellicose.

"Are you afraid?"

Esdeath then said.

"This childish provocation has no effect on me."

No. 18 said.

Esdeath couldn't help being stunned when she saw this.

She didn't expect that No. 18 would face her provocation so calmly, which surprised her.

In her opinion, strong warriors should have a strong fighting spirit and desire to win, but No. 18 seemed not to care about this.

However, Esdeath did not give up.

"No. 18, I know you are very strong. However, Saitama is more powerful than you can imagine. He has unparalleled strength and speed, and he may be able to defeat you easily."

Esdeath said seriously.

No. 18 couldn't help but frowned when he heard this.

It's not that she's not competitive, it's just that No. 18 finds it troublesome, but she feels it's necessary to let Esdeath know what it means to be strong.

"Then lead the way."

No. 18 said.

Esdeath knew where Saitama lived, or Luther said it, so she took No. 18 to find Saitama who was squeezing in a supermarket sale.

"He is the Saitama you mentioned???"

No. 18 was startled, looking at the very down-to-earth Saitama, and couldn't help but doubt Esdeath's words.

"Yes, he is Saitama. Even if you look at him like this, he is more powerful than you imagine."

Esdeath said.

"Saitama!"

Esdeath suddenly shouted.

Saitama heard someone calling him, turned around and saw that it was an acquaintance.

"I'm busy!"

Saitama had a hard time getting to this position, and he didn't want to give up.

"I'll treat you to a feast."

Esdeath obviously knows how to seduce Saitama.

The next moment, Saitama decisively appeared in front of Esdeath.

No. 18's pupils shrank.

"Really, Miss Esdeath, where is it?"

Saitama asked with uncontrollable excitement.

"Fight with her. If you can beat her, I will give you one million yen. Then you can have many big meals."

Esdeath is not short of money, no matter in which world he is.

Saitama looked at No. 18.

"If you lose, you'll have nothing."

Esdeath continued.

"What? When do we start?"

Saitama said immediately.

"Let's go find a place."

No. 18 looked Saitama up and down, then walked out with his hands in his pockets.

Saitama followed the two of them all the way to the clearing.

"Right here?"

Saitama was worried about the problem of destruction, so he offered to change places. On the 18th, they followed the rules, and then they came to the place where Saitama and Genos were sparring.

There is also a grand canyon blasted out by his punch.

"bring it on!"

Saitama thought it would be hard for him to lose, as long as he was not a monster among monsters like Luther.

No. 18 was not polite to him, and the speed of his explosion just now showed that he was not as ordinary as imagined.

So No. 18 used Qi in this punch!

You know, even if the androids don't use Qi, they can still use their flesh and blood to fight Super Saiyans.

This material technology is simply amazing, and the key is that No. 18 is still the original one. God knows how their bodies have been transformed to become so strong.

Sun Wukong had to use Qi to strengthen his fingers before he dared to catch Trunks' sword, and then the same Super Saiyan slash fell on the android, but the sword itself was destroyed.

Now that No. 18 has used Qi, it shows that she values Saitama, although she has not seen a Super Saiyan yet.

"Bang!!!"

With a loud bang, before Saitama could react, he felt a punch on his face, and it was an unimaginable heavy blow!

Saitama was knocked out by this fierce blow, and his head was buzzing.

No. 18 shook his hand.

"It's really hard."

She said with some surprise.

I thought it was a boiled egg with a hard shell, but it turned out to be a solid stone.

Saitama stood up, and his face was visibly swollen.

Esdeath knew how strong Saitama was. He was beaten by Boros, but only his clothes and skin were dirty. This kind of injury was only seen when Luther attacked.

At this moment, Saitama also became serious, knowing that No. 18 was not an ordinary opponent.

It was unknown who was stronger between her and Luther.

Chapter 510: I am still updating on New Year's Eve, please reward me generously!

No. 18, as a female android, is so powerful that it completely exceeds Saitama's imagination.

Her fist and foot attacks are supplemented with Qi, and every swing carries the power to tear the air and shake the earth.

As a fighter who can only punch and kick, Saitama's moves are simple, but they contain infinite power.

Each of his "normal punches", "continuous normal punches" and "serious beatings" seems to be able to break the world and penetrate time and space. However, when facing a strong enemy like No. 18, Saitama's moves seem a little powerless.

The battle between the two broke out instantly, and their fists and feet intersected, making a deafening noise.

Every attack seemed to be able to tear the air and distort the surrounding space.

Their speed was so fast that people could not see their figures clearly, and could only see a series of afterimages flashing in the air.

The fists of the two collided in the air, making a deafening noise.

The powerful force burst out at the moment of collision, and the surrounding air seemed to be torn apart by this force.

Saitama felt a sharp pain in his fist, but he did not retreat, but continued to push forward.

However, No. 18's strength was beyond Saitama's imagination.

The Qi condensed in her fist directly dispersed Saitama's strength, causing Saitama to step back a few steps.

Saitama did not give up because of this. He immediately adjusted his state and prepared to attack again.

At this moment, No. 18 suddenly condensed a stronger Qi.

She put her hands together and condensed a huge Qigong wave.

This Qigong wave emitted strong energy fluctuations, as if it was going to swallow everything around it.

Seeing this, Saitama immediately realized the horror of this power.

He knew that he had to show his true strength to deal with this attack.

So he took a deep breath and put on a "serious beating" posture.

The attacks of the two collided in the air, making a deafening noise.

The powerful force burst out at the moment of collision, and the entire battlefield was shrouded by this force.

Atmospherically, their fighting energy raged through the air like wildfire.

Every punch or kick was accompanied by a strong release of energy, which quickly spread into the surrounding air in the form of heat and kinetic energy.

Air molecules vibrated violently under such a strong energy impact, causing local temperatures to rise sharply, forming heat waves and air turbulence.

This turbulent airflow not only affected climate patterns, but also triggered local meteorological changes, and terrifying weather such as storms and cyclones raged.

At the same time, the energy generated by the battle also led to increased ionization in the atmosphere.

Electrons escaped from atoms under the action of energy, forming charged particles, which drifted in the atmosphere and affected the structure and function of the ionosphere.

This ionization phenomenon interfered with the propagation of radio signals and even affected satellite communications and navigation systems.

At the macro level, their fighting caused significant changes to the surface and landforms.

The strong impact not only caused the ground to crack and collapse, but also triggered earthquakes and tsunamis.

This geological activity not only changed the topography and landforms, but also had a long-term impact on groundwater resources and crustal stability.

In addition, the vibrations generated by the battle spread out like ripples, affecting the surrounding buildings and infrastructure, triggering a series of chain destructive effects.

In the microscopic field, the movement of molecules and atoms was disturbed unprecedentedly.

The huge energy generated by the battle tore the chemical bonds between molecules, making the originally stable molecular structure unstable.

These torn molecules and atoms floated in the air, reacting with other molecules in the air in complex chemical reactions to form new compounds.

These chemical reactions not only changed the composition of the air, but also produced toxic or harmful substances, posing a potential threat to the ecological environment and human health.

In addition, their battle also affected the gravitational field.

The powerful energy and momentum changed the surrounding gravitational distribution, causing the local gravitational field to distort.

This distortion not only affected the trajectory of the object, but also caused tiny space-time distortion phenomena.

Although this effect is difficult to detect at the macroscopic scale, it has a significant impact on particle motion and quantum phenomena at the microscopic scale.

The vibrations and shock waves generated by the battle also destroyed the soil structure, affecting plant growth and soil fertility.

At the same time, the torn molecules and atoms produce a lot of heat and harmful gases when they react chemically with other molecules in the air, leading to increased air pollution and greenhouse effect.

The energy fluctuations generated by their battle even affected other planets in the universe.

Their attack fluctuations spread in the universe, causing gravitational disturbances on the surrounding planets.

This disturbance not only changed the orbit of the planet, but also caused drastic changes in the climate and environment on some planets.

This change is also a disaster for the creatures on some planets.

No. 18 was surprised by Saitama's strength.

"You guys are really tough."

No. 18 recognized Saitama, he was too strong and too hard.

No matter how fiercely she attacked, he seemed to have no feeling.

It was like a piece of stone that had been hammered countless times. No matter how hard she hit him, it only increased the scars on his body, but did not really make him surrender.

Saitama's body was covered with scars, and his clothes were soaked with sweat, but his eyes were still firm.

He stood up with difficulty, and every movement seemed to be in great pain.

"What a fierce battle."

Saitama said with difficulty. Facing No. 18's attack, he felt like a small sailboat in a storm, or a raft made of trees after drifting on an isolated island. Facing such rough waves, tsunamis and storms, it could fall apart at any time.

He couldn't remember how long it had been since he had been punched so painfully.

No, it should be that he had never experienced such a painful punch in his life!

Every time No. 18's fist landed on him, he felt a sharp pain coming from deep inside his body, as if to break all his bones.

However, despite the unbearable pain, Saitama had no intention of retreating.

After all, this was a fist attack with Qi attached, which was almost the same as real damage for Saitama. His health and armor were full, but facing the critical hit + real damage, it was still not enough.

"But I won't give up!"

Saitama had been looking forward to this battle for so long, and there was a firm light in his eyes, which was his belief in himself and his expectation for the future.