

Kryptonian 511

Chapter 511 The Birth of the Venusians

At this time, No. 18 suddenly felt Saitama's anger.

If before, Saitama's energy was as calm as the earth, and his meditation was as deep as a secret, which No. 18 could not sense, then now his energy is like a volcano erupting!

It was a hot and strong force, as if it was about to burst out from his body.

Full of power and enthusiasm!

No. 18 looked at Saitama in surprise and found that his aura had changed drastically.

She felt that the power inside Saitama's body was constantly gathering and sublimating.

The power was so powerful and shocking that she couldn't ignore it.

Saitama's body seems to be wrapped in an invisible force, and every punch and kick he makes contains destructive power. His movements became more rapid and fierce, as if he wanted to swallow the entire battlefield under his attack.

Saitama took a deep breath and lunged forward.

His fist carried a strong air current, like a meteor streaking across the night sky, and blasted towards No. 18.

Seeing this, No. 18 rushed forward without showing any signs of weakness. Her fist collided with Saitama's in the air, causing a deafening bang. The shock wave of power spread instantly, plunging the entire battlefield into chaos.

The fists of the two collided with each other, and their Qi also merged together at this moment.

That kind of power eclipses everything around it.

However, at this moment, Saitama suddenly felt a strange power coming from No. 18's fist.

It was a power he had never felt before, as if it could penetrate directly into his body.

Saitama was shocked, he knew this was No. 18's special ability.

Luther knew that Esdeath took No. 18 to find Saitama, so he watched the battle between Saitama and No. 18 like a gladiator in the Colosseum.

When he saw Saitama stand up, Luther observed that Saitama's life form had transformed again.

In other words, he has grown again!

Because there is no limiter, the effect of Saitama's every exercise is fixed +1. Others will have worse and worse effects as their bodies gradually become stronger and adapt to the intensity of exercise. In this case, Saitama still keeps +1. .

Of course, Saitama still went all out to complete the exercise later. Even though the number of exercises was nothing to him, the positive feedback was too strong.

It was +1 at first, then +10, and now it may even be +100!

Even in battle, he is able to constantly break through his limits and show even more amazing strength.

“SERIOUS SERIES – CONTINUOUS SERIOUS BEATING!!!”

Saitama struck out with both hands.

After a series of serious beatings, countless terrifying punches hit his face.

No. 18 directly condenses Qigong waves.

"Super compression cannon!"

This is the qigong wave that Luther once created. By compressing the qigong wave, it generates greater air pressure and explosive power. Although it is only the size of a fist, with the power of No. 18, this blow is enough to penetrate the entire solar system.

It can be imagined how powerful it is to deliver a blow that penetrates the solar system with a force that cannot destroy it.

Although Luther originally wanted to develop Qi into a cascading storm to disintegrate the enemy's attack at the molecular level, he failed.

Because there is not enough control.

Although qi is very malleable, in theory it is not a problem to reproduce the qigong wave version of the cascading storm, but this thing requires too much control.

A super-compression cannon was fired, and Saitama's countless punches ripped apart the energy of the qigong wave, but the numerical difference between the two sides was too big.

Saitama was hit by a super-compression cannon and turned into ashes on the spot.

No. 18 gasped, even she couldn't control this blow very well.

Esdeath was even more shocked, Saitama died like this?

"Can't die."

Luther appears, and then the regional time-lapse reappears, covering the entire planet.

Saitama recovered from scratch, but he clearly remembered the result of his being destroyed by No. 18's attack.

"It's so powerful."

Saitama was not afraid of his own death at all. On the contrary, he was even more excited that No. 18 could kill him.

There is more motivation to become stronger!

It was such a blessing to suddenly have two strong men who could defeat him and kill him.

Saitama, who had been alone for so long, couldn't help but think.

"Can you be so calm when facing the fact that you were killed?"

No. 18 said he couldn't understand it. This braised egg was really weird.

Moreover, he is so powerful without learning Qi. How strong would he be if he learned Qi?

However, Luther has no interest in teaching Saitama Qi. Although Qi is nothing, it is still a good thing.

There are not many things in the universe that can compare to Qi.

More importantly, Qi is very simple to use and very easy to learn.

Saitama naturally doesn't need to be angry. He might eventually be able to reach the limit of this universe, or even surpass it!

Then Saitama left.

His injuries healed on their own, and he didn't need Luther to help him recover.

"It's thick-skinned, extremely strong, and has tenacious vitality. Otherwise, I might as well make a copy of a super earthling."

Luther looked at Saitama's leaving figure thoughtfully.

Use his superpowers to copy Saitama's state without limiters, and then create a super race of earthlings, or Venusians?

The appearance is exactly the same as that of earthlings, but the difference is very large. Venusians only need to work hard to become stronger, because they all have no limiters!

If you don't work hard to exercise, you won't become stronger. At that time, Venusians may become a terrible existence that ravages the Marvel Universe, right?

It's very interesting to think about it.

Moreover, this situation without limiters is not the super adaptability and super evolution speed of Doomsday after all, so it is not easy to get out of control, and the life form will not change because of the increase in power.

When Luther thought of this, he couldn't help it.

For this universe, the appearance of Saitama may be a miracle, but for Luther today, such a miracle is just something that can be copied, and he doesn't even need the power gem.

One hundred "Venusians" of men, women, young and old appeared under Luther's power.

The genes of one hundred locals were randomly selected for replication, but the power of no limiters was added.

Of course, the most important thing is that they have hair, which is the best choice to distinguish them from Saitama.

At the same time, there are no flaws such as pores.

"Your Majesty!"

Their memories were also written by Luther, so they called out "Your Majesty" as soon as they opened their eyes.

"Well, you are just ordinary flesh and blood now. You must train well and work hard to train yourself after you go back."

Luther then sent them to the Marvel Universe.

Chapter 512 Qigong Wave

Kryptonians' Superman and Saiyans have all experienced scenes where they were beaten and killed by villains after losing their powers.

It's as if they have become ordinary people's physical strength.

But these Venusians don't have these problems.

They only need to work hard to become stronger. Once they have achieved something, they will never regress. They will not regress because of laziness, nor will they let their physical strength disappear for any reason.

Judging from Saitama's performance, his daily life will not be affected. For example, he will not punch the earth to pieces because he is woken up by the alarm clock. Instead, he will just smash the alarm clock accurately.

It's simply a perfect universal ability!

In the following days, Esdeath concentrated on practicing with No. 18.

After seeing the strength of No. 18, Esdeath wanted to become stronger more urgently.

"Ha!"

Esdeath shouted, and a powerful aura began to gather between her hands.

As she moved, an invisible force began to flow slowly inside her body.

This power is the "qi" that has been dormant in her body for a long time.

It was dormant deep in her body like a giant dragon, waiting for the moment to be awakened. At this moment, under the guidance of Esdeath, it began to slowly wake up, like the rising dawn, dispelling the darkness.

Esdeath silently recited the trajectory of the Qi in her heart, and waved her hands gently like playing a piano. As she wished, the Qi began to flow along the trajectory she set.

It was like a flexible snake, moving through her meridians and constantly strengthening itself.

As time went by, Esdeath felt that her body began to gradually become lighter.

She seemed to be able to feel the Qi growing in her body, surging like spring water.

Her body seemed to have turned into a mountain, and the Qi was the spring water in the mountain, flowing out continuously.

In this process, Esdeath constantly adjusted her breathing and movements to ensure that the flow of Qi reached the best state. She seemed to be talking to the Qi, guiding it to flow according to her wishes, making it the source of her power.

Finally, when the energy in her body reached a peak, Esdeath suddenly opened her eyes and pushed her hands forward.

In an instant, a terrifying cold laser shot out from between her hands, like a sharp sword cutting through the sky, piercing a mountain in front.

"Boom boom boom boom ---!!!"

The deafening sound instantly spread throughout the valley, as if even the heaven and earth were shaken by this power.

The towering mountain began to shake violently under the bombardment of this cold laser.

Then, countless huge stones and soil began to roll down from the top of the mountain. In an instant, the whole mountain seemed to collapse under this terrifying power.

Esdeath stood there, feeling the vibration from the collapse of the mountain, and a satisfied smile appeared on her face.

She knew that she had successfully mastered the use of energy.

This power is no longer the sleeping dragon in her body, but a sword in her hand that can exert its powerful power at any time and anywhere.

In this process, Esdeath not only felt the powerful force of Qi, but also deeply experienced the process of mutual integration with Qi.

She seemed to become one with this Qi, and could clearly feel every subtle change of it. This feeling of integration with power made her feel extremely excited and satisfied.

This feeling made her feel unprecedentedly powerful and confident. She knew that she was no longer the Esdeath before.

One percent of Qi was enough to wipe out her previous self.

This improvement in strength is not just a hundred times as simple. Now she can almost be said to be standing at the top of this world and becoming a real strong man.

Moreover, she also found that this Qi can not only be used to launch powerful attacks, but also to strengthen her ice power. These two powers complement each other, making her means in battle more abundant and diverse.

"Not bad, but it's just the most basic Qi attack."

No. 18 clasped his hands and commented after seeing Esdeath's Qi attack.

"Thank you, No. 18."

Esdeath turned to look at No. 18 standing on the mountain not far away, with a grateful smile on her face.

"Don't thank me, this is the result of your own efforts."

No. 18 said proudly.

Of course, there is also a reason why No. 18 really feels that he has done nothing.

"Next, what you need to learn is the change of Qi."

No. 18 continued.

Being able to sense Qi, cultivate Qi, and attack with Qi are three stages.

As strong as Tao Baibai, all kinds of non-human performances are just the stage of cultivating Qi, and the only means of releasing Qi to attack is "Dongdong Wave".

The problem is that Dongdong Wave will not explode, which is the earliest type of Qigong wave.

Although Esdeath's attack seems to be very powerful, with mountains collapsing and earth cracking, and destroying the world, in fact, most of the energy is wasted.

Just like a nuclear bomb, in fact, the large-scale killing effect of a nuclear bomb is a waste of energy.

If it can be fully reacted and concentrated, it is not a problem for a little boy to sink the entire island country.

In this regard, Kamehameha does a good job. It concentrates all the energy or the energy that the practitioner wants to release to increase its power.

Don't think that it only increases the energy by several times, it is also a kind of power increase.

From the previous chapter, we know that when Sun Wukong's combat power is 416, he uses Kamehameha, and his combat power will increase to 924. The multiplier of Kamehameha is about 2.22 times.

Later, when Sun Wukong's combat power is 8000, he uses triple Kaio-ken to fight against Vegeta. At this time, his combat power is 53,280. Vegeta's afterburner can also tie with this skill. I think this thing is still very useful. It has no pre-swing and can cause great damage.

It is known that Vegeta and Sun Wukong's 3x Kaio-ken tied, so Vegeta's afterburner cannon multiplier is close to three times, which is better than Kamehameha.

Vegeta has 2.4w combat power when releasing Galick Cannon (normal 1.8w).

Esdeath's attack just now looked terrible, but 70% of the power was wasted, otherwise it would not be a mountain being blown up, but a mountain being directly opened up to fill the sea.

In this regard, it is natural to use the "super compression cannon" created by Luther, which was created by the 18th meeting.

The most basic one is the compression cannon, which can reach a magnification of 5.5 times, comparable to Sun Wukong's five times Kaio-ken, but it only has the power of one strike.

After all, it is a strike that condenses the energy of the whole body.

Chapter 513 Super Esdeath

What does the 5.5x rate increase mean? In Dragon Ball, if the difference in combat power is more than one times, you can kill with a big move, but you need to have more than five times the strength to kill with a normal attack, and you can kill with anything if you have more than ten times the strength.

So this 5.5x compression cannon is enough for Luther's men to turn the tables. If you are careless, it is normal to be killed in return.

Then there is the super compression cannon used by No. 18, which can reach a 10x rate.

In addition, Luther also taught Esdeath a technique to use Qi.

That is, it was inspired by King Fist. Luther created it when he was bored, that is, when he had not yet merged Broly's genes. At that time, Luther had not yet become a Super Saiyan, but there were concepts of Mimic Super Saiyan and King Fist, so Luther created similar techniques.

Super brains are so powerful that as long as you are willing to use your brain, you can definitely create it.

King Fist is a move that increases your combat power several times or even dozens of times in a short period of time (the tolerance can be continuously increased through practice), but it puts a great burden on the body.

This move is not a move to attack the opponent directly, but to multiply the strength, speed, attack power, and defense power of the body (in the original comic, when Sun Wukong fought Frieza, the maximum increase was only twenty times, and in the original animation movie "Super Saiyan Son Wukong", Sun Wukong used Piccolo's energy to launch a hundred times Kaio-ken).

In addition, when fighting with Pai Gu Fan, he used Super Kaio-ken in the Super Saiyan state). Similar to the Super Saiyan transformation, it can instantly increase one's strength. This move can also be used when using Kamehameha.

This move also has a great negative impact on the body. If it is used beyond the range that the body can bear, the body will collapse.

However, Luther is different. As a Kryptonian, he already has a physical fitness beyond ordinary people.

The density of his muscle fibers, bone strength, and the tolerance of his internal organs are far beyond that of ordinary people. This allows him to easily master this overloaded combat technique, and even make further innovations on this basis.

The super state he created, similar to the King Fist, can greatly increase one's strength, speed, attack power and defense in a short period of time. But unlike the King Fist, the super state focuses more on the overall strengthening of the body, not just the simple improvement of combat power.

This technique is called "Super State/Mode", which is similar to the King Fist and can greatly improve the strength of the fighter in a short period of time.

This technique is inspired by the King Fist, but Luther has innovated and transformed it on this basis to make it more suitable for his powerful and unique Kryptonian body.

Esdeath's talent and talent in combat are amazing.

She learned to sense, cultivate and release Qi in less than a month.

Now, she is practicing compression cannon and super mode. Although it has not been long, her progress is amazing.

"Double Super State!"

Esdeath shouted, and a faint light began to appear around her body.

This light is not a simple release of energy, but a sign of the surging of her internal breath and the increase of strength.

Her muscles are tense, as if she contains infinite power, and every breath drives the flow of air around her.

In this state, Esdeath's strength, speed, and defense have been comprehensively improved. Every attack of hers seems to be able to tear the air and produce a deafening sonic boom.

Her speed is also so fast that it is unpredictable, like a flash of lightning shuttling across the battlefield. And her defense is so strong that it is desperate, and any attack seems to become pale and powerless in front of her.

Her eyes become sharp and firm, as if she is ready to meet any challenge.

Her movements become more smooth and coordinated, and every attack and defense seems to have been carefully calculated and predicted. Her consciousness has also become clearer and sharper, and she can accurately capture every subtle change on the battlefield.

This super state is not only an improvement in combat power, but also a perfect fusion of mind and body.

In this state, Esdeath seems to have become a fighting machine, but without losing the flexibility and sharpness of humans.

Every move she makes is full of power and beauty, which makes people can't help but marvel at it.

However, this super state is not without cost.

Every time you enter the super state, it will put a huge burden on Esdeath's body.

Her muscles and bones need to withstand several times more force and pressure than usual, and her heart needs to beat harder to supply enough blood and oxygen.

Therefore, when using this super state, she must be very cautious and restrained to avoid irreversible damage to her body.

"—————Super Esdeath!"

Then an English word that came out of nowhere seemed to appear like a dubbing.

Esdeath was still immersed in her own strength, and she couldn't hold it back when she heard this.

"My master, are you teasing me?"

Esdeath looked at Luther speechlessly.

Super Esdeath or something, it sounds like that.

"I feel pretty good."

Luther said with a smile.

This is also the reason why he called this skill super mode. He originally wanted to call it full power, but super mode seems to be more suitable.

It is similar to the choice between Sun Wukong at full power and Super Vegeta. Luther will definitely choose Super Vegeta because it is too much of a show.

"My master, with my current strength, can I fight Saitama?"

Ask Esdeath.

She is already eager to try. After feeling her current strength, Esdeath is very self-aware and does not intend to look for No. 18 and Luther, but Saitama is different.

"Maybe he can beat Boros."

Luther said.

"Only beat Boros?"

Asteath is unbelievable.

"Boros is not as weak as you think, but if you can adapt to the double super state, you can hope to challenge Saitama."

Luther said with a smile.

His super state is not a skill like Kaio-ken that will bring load and damage, but it can be subtle, just like the "adaptability improvement" of Super Saiyan full power.

The nature of Qi will be changed, and damaged cells will be repaired and strengthened crazily to increase the strength of the body.

As long as you can adapt to this double super state, your normal combat power will definitely soar!

"It just so happens that there is an opponent who is not bad."

Luther said to Esdeath.

Chapter 514 The Beginning of the Monster Association

"who?"

Esther asked with immediate interest.

She couldn't wait to fight with someone to see how strong she was.

"Hungry Wolf is on the same level as Boros."

Luther said.

Strictly speaking, he actually didn't think Hungry Wolf could be compared with Boros.

It doesn't matter if it's the comic version or the remake.

After all, Boros's meteor burst is too buggy. Who can withstand a direct sub-light speed battle?

Saitama can only stand it if he is unreasonable.

"Where is he?"

Esdeath asked immediately after hearing what Luther said.

"Now is not the time, he hasn't grown up yet."

Luther said with a smile.

Luther also already knows the current situation of the Monster Association. It is nothing more than a reset version of Monster King Orochi. After merging with Sykes, he directly soared to the level of a dragon. It can only be said that Murata has been too mixed up in this aspect. Too much of my own personal stuff.

"You haven't grown up yet?"

Esdeath is surprised, then how do you know that he is on the same level as Boros?

Luther packed all the weirdos from the One-Punch Man world into his own Venus empire.

"Increase the diversity of species so that the Venus Empire can have the flavor of an interstellar kingdom in the universe."

Luther felt that it would be too wasteful to simply kill all of these weirdos. There were many interesting ones that could be kept.

Of course, this does not include the ugly president, he is too ugly.

It will only affect the appearance of the city.

Venusians, also called "golden humans" by Luther, have adapted very well to the Venus Empire. Because there is no limiter, they will not train themselves like Saitama. The effect is too slow. Saitama spent three It takes years to become invincible.

Golden humans choose an exercise method that completely squeezes out all their physical strength, and their growth potential is naturally amazing.

Boros was also training with his one-eyed star. After meeting the golden humans, he sparred with them. Then he watched helplessly as the golden humans changed day by day, quickly surpassing his fellow racers.

This made Boros very puzzled.

However, Boros was just depressed that his own race was not as good as Luther's "fellow race".

The Venus Empire is a multi-ethnic and multi-racial empire dominated by Venusians, also known as "golden humans". Boros naturally wants his race to perform better.

As for Boros himself, the stronger the golden human becomes, the more excited he becomes, because does this mean that he can become stronger at any time?

Moreover, I don't know where Luther found so many powerful life forms. Each of them is not much worse than the superior combatants that Boros originally searched. There are even several life forms that are comparable to the most advanced combatants.

These guys were all suppressed and subdued by Boros himself.

In addition, all the vaccine people in Hydra on Earth were transferred by Luther.

The Vaccine Man had a fight with Boros as soon as they met. As a result, the Vaccine Man was defeated, but he also became the strongest person in the Venus Empire second only to Boros.

With Boros and the Vaccine people watching the show, Luther didn't pay attention to the situation of the "Empire".

He, Esdeath, and No. 18 spent their honeymoon in the world of One Punch Man.

Originally, only Esdeath could be considered a honeymooner, but unable to stand up to Luther and Esdeath day and night, No. 18 became so angry that he joined in.

So now, like Esdeath, she is "searched and gutted" by Luther every day with the indestructible golden hoop.

...

"Quickly inform other heroes that a dragon-level monster has appeared in the city center of S!"

In the information processing team of the Hero Association's headquarters, the atmosphere was as tense as a string.

A group of high-status association cadres sat in front of a huge light screen, their faces full of seriousness and worry.

What was displayed on the light screen was a giant centipede that was over a hundred meters long and as thick as an average building.

Each of its foot segments is as big as a hill, and its body surface is covered with a hard shell, exuding a heart-stopping, terrifying aura.

"This is Elder Centipede who appeared two years ago."

A thin man wearing glasses pointed at the image on the screen and said.

"Compared to last time, its body has become larger. This size may have exceeded our expectations."

"Contact has been lost with the metal bats currently engaged."

Another woman in battle uniform reported in a deep voice, her eyes full of worry.

"A-level and above heroes have been summoned for support."

A middle-aged man responded quickly. Cold sweat broke out on his forehead. He was obviously shocked by the situation in front of him.

"The size is too different from other weirdos..."

A middle-aged man opposite sighed, his voice full of powerlessness. Such an enemy is no longer something they can easily deal with.

"Ah... if this continues, it might become a natural disaster."

A woman with short hair exclaimed, her eyes full of horror.

If such a behemoth were to wreak havoc in the city, the consequences would be disastrous.

Just like the previous giant, it directly destroyed several cities.

At this moment, the leader of the information processing team stood up, his eyes firm and decisive.

"We can't just give up."

He said in a deep voice.

"We must do everything possible to stop this monster from wreaking havoc."

As the team leader spoke, the other cadres also cheered up again. They began to urgently mobilize various resources and contact more heroes for support.

At the same time, they also began to analyze the weaknesses of the giant centipede, hoping to find a way to deal with it.

At the same time, on the battlefield in the center of S City, Metal Bat was fighting with Elder Centipede with all his strength.

Metal Bat held a special metal bat, and every swing was accompanied by a thunderous force.

However, in front of Elder Centipede's huge body, these attacks seemed insignificant.

Every time Metal Bat hit Elder Centipede's shell hard, it would raise a cloud of dust, but Elder Centipede seemed to be unscathed and continued to rush forward.

Every swing of Metal Bat was full of strength and determination.

His muscles were tense, and sweat was pouring down, soaking his combat uniform, but this did not make him retreat.

His eyes were firm and hot, as if burning with a raging fire.

He knew that he could not give up like this, otherwise the whole city would be in danger. He gritted his teeth, and tried his best with every attack, trying to find Elder Centipede's weakness.

Suddenly, Elder Centipede's fierce swing almost made the metal bat lose its grip. He cleverly avoided the attack and quickly approached Elder Centipede.

He held the bat tightly and swung it with all his strength, hitting Elder Centipede hard with a whistling sound.

Chapter 515 Elder Centipede

"Boom!" A loud noise echoed on the battlefield, and dust flew up, as if a bomb exploded on the ground.

However, when the dust gradually dispersed, people were surprised to find that Elder Centipede did not seem to be much hurt.

It just paused for a moment, then charged forward again, like an out-of-control tank, unstoppable.

The metal bat's hands were shaking and he couldn't believe his eyes.

The bat in his hand could usually easily defeat ghost-level monsters and even kill dragon-level monsters, but it seemed so powerless in front of the shell of this elder centipede.

He couldn't help but exclaimed: "So hard!"

After being stunned, he was beaten away by Elder Centipede!

If he hadn't blocked it with a bat in time, he would have been seriously injured.

I don't know what material this bat is made of, it's extremely hard.

Even this kind of terrifying attack like a landslide can be unscathed.

Just as the metal bat was rising from the ruins, a black shadow suddenly struck!

The metal bat's body reacted faster than his consciousness. He waved the alloy steel bat in his hand, trying to block the seemingly insignificant punch.

"when----!!!"

However, the moment his fist made contact with the bat, the intense tremor almost made his arm numb.

The sound of that punch was like the sound of an ancient bell echoing in the distance, shocking.

"Hey! What do you mean?"

Metal Bat clearly saw that his opponent was not a weirdo, but a strange human being.

With a hair style like a sheep's horn, the white hair looks very unconventional and unique.

His figure is very thin, but tight clothes can outline the muscles of his whole body, so he is the type that makes him look thin when he is wearing clothes, but looks fleshy when he is undressed?

The hungry wolf stood in front of the metal bat, his eyes full of excitement and provocation.

He seemed eager to start a fierce battle with the hero.

His movements were smooth and swift, as if every blow contained endless power.

"I'm a weirdo, and you're an S-class hero metal bat, right? Your opponent is me!"

Hungry Wolf shouted loudly, his voice full of confidence and arrogance.

He took a step forward and moved his fingers slightly forward.

"I'm going to hunt you!"

The metal bat reacted immediately after hearing this.

"The guy who claims he's a weirdo and goes around hunting heroes?"

Humans who call themselves weirdos behave strangely and are suspected of having anti-human mental illness. I heard that they have attacked several heroes and sent them to the hospital.

"So you are the guy who defeated the Lord of the Vest."

The metal bat had a stern expression.

"Yes, I am the weird hungry wolf, the hero hunter!"

The hungry wolf's hands moved as smoothly as flowing water, and then he said proudly and arrogantly.

I don't know what to say about metal bats. There are a lot of people who target heroes and those who hate heroes. Even heroes who save lives have their fans. This is not surprising, but I have never seen metal bats attacking heroes. Hungry Wolf is such a dangerous anti-fan.

Even the S-class hero Vest Lord was defeated, which was very difficult.

"I'm busy."

The metal bat said in a deep voice, his eyes locked on the hungry wolf, as if he wanted to see through him.

He knows that every minute now is crucial, and every delay may put more citizens in danger.

Therefore, he must return to the battlefield as soon as possible to continue fighting against Elder Centipede in order to delay time.

He had no way to deal with Elder Centipede, so he could only delay the arrival of other S-class heroes.

"If you dare to pester me again, I will blow your head off!"

The metal bat angrily yelled at the hungry wolf.

"Hey——then I really want to see it."

However, it seems that the hungry wolf does not intend to let go of the metal bat easily.

He quickly closed the distance between him and the metal bat, and then launched an attack in a weird and fast way.

His Water-Smashing Rock Fist seemed to become more mysterious and unpredictable, and the metal bat was caught off guard with every attack.

The metal bat swung the bat in his hand as hard as he could, trying to fend off the wolf's attack.

However, he always seemed to be a step slower in front of the weird boxing skills of the hungry wolf. In just a dozen breaths, he had already been punched several times in the face, and his movements began to become shaky.

Finally, a fatal straight punch attack made the metal bat completely lose its ability to resist.

Driven by the strength of his fist, he slid back nearly ten meters before barely stabilizing his body. At this moment, he was already in a state of embarrassment, and the blood stains on his face and his tired expression showed his predicament at this moment.

The hungry wolf kept his punching posture, tilting his head and staring at the metal bat, his tone full of disappointment.

"Sure enough, you are already scarred, and you have wasted so much energy from the beginning. I originally wanted to see your strength, but it seems that it will be over before that." He said.

However, at this moment, the metal bat suddenly laughed.

His laughter was full of perseverance and unyielding, as if to say: "You are wrong, I haven't lost yet!"

Hungry Wolf frowned. He didn't understand why this scarred guy could still laugh.

However, in the next moment, his doubts turned into panic.

Because the metal bat suddenly swung the bat in his hand and counterattacked him with unprecedented speed and power!

Metal Bat's every swing was full of power and determination, as if he wanted to pour out all his resentment and anger.

His attacks became more and more fierce and accurate, and each time he hit Garou's vital points accurately.

Garou was caught off guard by Metal Bat's counterattack, and he had to do his best to deal with the counterattack of the hero who was already in a desperate situation. However, no matter how hard he tried, he seemed unable to get rid of Metal Bat's attack that followed him like a shadow.

At this moment, Metal Bat suddenly shouted: "Now!"

Then, he used all his strength to smash the bat hard into the ground!

Boom——!

A loud noise spread throughout the battlefield, and a huge gap appeared on the ground under the attack of Metal Bat.

Garou was thrown out because he could not resist this huge force!

Metal Bat did not stop, he quickly grabbed the bat on the ground, and then chased after Garou who was thrown out.

He already knew that he could not deal with Garou, but it didn't matter, as long as he destroyed his foothold, he would lose his balance.

Then it was—————

Grand Slam · Home Run!!!

The wolf's pupils shrank, and his hands began to swing smoothly, trying to break the hit of the metal bat.

But this time there was no sister of the metal bat to mess up.

Luther, Esdeath and No. 18 stood on the roof next to them and watched.

Chapter 516 Life will always find its own way out

"My master, is he the hungry wolf you mentioned?"

Esdeath felt that this hungry wolf really didn't seem to have much to chew on.

There is no strong spirit or martial ethics.

"Yes, even though he is a clown, don't underestimate his obsession. In this world, obsession is a very scary thing. Some people become crab freaks because they like to eat crabs. They get With strength comparable to that of a ghost, some people become bald weirdos because of their baldness..."

Luther said with a smile.

Esdeath's expression was strange. She didn't know if it was her imagination, but she always felt that Luther was carrying personal goods.

Is Saitama a weirdo?

Esdeath followed Luther during this period and also captured many weirdos and sent them to the Venus Empire after being frozen, so she felt that Saitama was probably not a weirdo, he was just too strong.

"I'm not carrying any personal information. Human beings become weirdos. One is the emphasis on bad habits or some kind of pressure, which leads to the desire to transform or the explosion of unsatisfied desires, as well as genetic mutations caused by opportunities such as the environment. The second is the monsters created by studying this chemical power, and it is not uncommon for creatures other than humans to become monsters due to environmental pollution and other factors."

Luther heard Esdeath's thoughts and said directly.

No. 18 raised an eyebrow.

"It sounds like this world is quite ridiculous."

she said.

"Every world has its own meaning and value. Without such an absurd situation, how could there be heroes worthy of praise? As for the civilians who died before or at the hands of the heroes, they are just irrelevant backgrounds. "

Luther said with a smile.

"Backdrop?"

No. 18 feels that such a world is too sad. She cannot imagine how people in this world survive.

After all, the Dragon Ball world is still protected by Luther's legion. Aliens are captured by artificial humans and used as Dr. Gero's experimental subjects without harming the earth. Even worse, there are still Dragon Balls that can grant wishes.

It is simply incredible that people in this world can still survive. They are so tenacious.

"Life will always find a way."

Luther said facing No. 18's inner thoughts.

As they spoke, not a second had passed.

Strong people should not exchange information too quickly.

Grand Slam·Home run! ! !

The metal bat swung the sure hit.

The hungry wolf's hands danced in the air, trying to deflect the thunderous blow from the metal bat.

However, his resistance seems to be nothing more than a mantis trying to stop the enemy.

The metal bat's bat was like a meteor streaking across the sky, hitting the hungry wolf with devastating force.

As the bat fell, the air seemed to be torn apart by the force, making a sharp whistling sound. The hungry wolf's body seemed so small and fragile in front of this force, like a small boat hit by huge waves, which might be overturned at any time.

The moment the bat made contact with the hungry wolf's body, a dazzling light erupted.

In this light, the figure of the hungry wolf disappeared instantly, and was replaced by a huge shock wave, like a bomb exploding on the ground. The shock wave spread instantly, destroying all the surrounding buildings, trees, and stones and turning them into ruins.

Under the impact of this shock wave, the hungry wolf's body was violently thrown away. His figure drew a long arc in the air, and then hit the ground hard in the distance.

The force of this blow was so great that the ground trembled, as if a small earthquake had occurred.

When the hungry wolf's body hit the ground, the ground collapsed instantly, forming a huge pit.

Around the pothole, cracks spread like spider webs, as if they were about to tear the entire ground apart.

In the pit, the hungry wolf lay there quietly, motionless, seeming to have lost consciousness.

Yamu tea.jpg

In the distance, Metal Bat also watched this scene, his eyes full of shock and disbelief.

He didn't expect that his attack would be so powerful and beat the hungry wolf so badly.

However, he knew this was not the end, but a new beginning.

He must continue to fight until the hungry wolf is completely defeated.

At this moment, the hungry wolf suddenly rushed out of the pit, his eyes flashing with a crazy and fiery light.

His pupils were constricted, and his gaze was as sharp as a knife, as if he could penetrate the body of the metal bat and see into the depths of his soul.

His face was covered with dust and blood, but these could not hide his ferocious and crazy expression.

There was a sneer on his lips.

His body was shaking, not because of fear, but because of anger and unwillingness.

His clenched fists launched a final counterattack against the metal bat with thunderous momentum.

His attacks are no longer simple physical combat, but a combination of his anger, unwillingness and desperation.

Every punch seemed to pour out all the negative emotions, completely defeating the metal bat.

The metal bat faced the hungry wolf's crazy counterattack, and his reaction was also full of determination and strength.

His eyes were wide open, and there was a determined light in his eyes, as if he would not back down no matter what difficulties he faced. The corners of his mouth were pursed, showing his inner tenacity and perseverance.

Metal Bat clenched the bat in his hand, his arm muscles were tense, veins bulging, showing that all his strength was concentrated on the bat at this moment. He leaned forward slightly, like a cheetah ready to pounce on its prey.

He was not frightened or panicked by the crazy attack of the wolf, but became calmer and more focused. He stared closely at the wolf's movements, looking for the opponent's flaws and weaknesses.

He knew that only by accurately grasping the opponent's weaknesses could he kill with one blow.

When the wolf's fist swung at him fiercely, Metal Bat did not choose to dodge, but rushed towards the opponent's attack. His bat collided fiercely with the wolf's fist, making a deafening sound.

The power of Metal Bat was so strong that the wolf's attack was instantly resolved.

Metal Bat took this opportunity to smash the bat into the wolf's body. His attack was precise and powerful, as if he wanted to pour all his strength on the wolf.

The two figures collided again in the air, and their attacks were as fierce as a storm. Their figures moved quickly in the air, and each attack was full of power and determination.

Metal Bat has strong endurance, and becomes stronger with momentum. Even if he is seriously injured, he can stand up and continue to fight.

Every time he is injured in battle, his body functions will increase significantly, according to him, it is momentum.

When fighting against Garou, he split the building with one stick, and the wind force can also crush the ground.

Chapter 517: Looking for a Hungry Wolf in a Garbage Dump

one said: "Metal Bat's words "I can also be a dragon~" depend on the situation."

"If Metal Bat is on the field in the Association Arc, the situation will change a lot."

According to the official book of One Punch Man, Bat's attack power can reach infinity when in extreme anger.

What does infinity mean? Maybe he can kill the bald devil with one bat!

Let's get back to the point.

Metal Bat tightly grasped the bat, and the muscles of his whole body instantly tightened, and the veins on his skin burst out, showing his amazing strength.

He took a deep breath, then raised the bat high, ready to launch his full-strength attack.

At this moment, the entire battlefield seemed to be still. Garou also stared at Metal Bat.

He knew that this attack would be the key to winning or losing.

So he couldn't be careless, and he had to capture the trajectory of the bat, otherwise, this stick might kill him!

Just now, Garou completed the unloading of force at the critical moment and escaped. , otherwise, he would be dead or disabled now.

Metal Bat swung the bat, and the shadow of the bat drew a sharp trajectory in the air.

As his blow fell, the wall of the building seemed as fragile as paper, and was split in an instant, revealing the steel bars and concrete inside.

The remaining power of the bat did not stop, and continued to split forward until the entire building was split in two.

The power of this blow was so strong that it seemed to shake the entire battlefield.

The fragments and dust of the building flew in the air, forming a hazy dust cloud.

And in this dust cloud, the figure of Metal Bat looked even taller and more powerful.

What was even more shocking was that Metal Bat did not stop his attack.

He took advantage of the remaining momentum of splitting the building with a bat and rushed forward.

"Momentum·Angry Luo Yan Critical Hit!!! "

His bat created sharp winds in the air, as if they could tear the entire battlefield apart.

These winds were not only powerful and swift, but also had a destructive force.

They cut the ground like sharp blades, instantly smashing the ground into a mess. The cut ground seemed to be torn apart by an invisible force, revealing the soil and rocks underneath.

In this mess, Metal Bat continued to rush forward.

His figure was looming in the wind, as if a real god of war had descended on this battlefield. Each of his attacks was full of strength and determination, as if to completely defeat all enemies.

Faced with such a powerful attack from Metal Bat, Hungry Wolf had to go all out to deal with it.

He firmly believed that only by defeating Metal Bat could he truly prove his strength and invincibility.

"Hero, hunting! "

Gorilla's muscles and bones all vibrated, twisting his veins and tendons wildly, coordinating with breathing techniques, and exerting the essence of the power of flowing water that penetrates all holes!

The metal bat was hit with blood all over his face, but he was not shaken at all. At this moment, he was like an unbreakable overlord!

How is it possible!!!

Gorilla couldn't believe it. He had attacked his joints, muscles that exert force, and even parts like tendons.

Why was he still unmoved?

"Bang!"

The bat hit Garou's hands. The flowing rock-breaking fist completed hundreds of force unloading in one second, but it was useless!

The bat drew an arc in the air, like a meteorite hit hard by a giant hammer, falling to the ground with an irresistible force.

At this moment, he felt unprecedented shock and despair.

"Bang! "As the hungry wolf's body hit the ground heavily, a powerful air wave burst out instantly.

The entire ground seemed to be hit by a huge meteorite and collapsed instantly, forming a huge pit.

Around the pit, the ground cracked and spread like a spider web. The shattered soil and stones flew in the air, forming a dusty scene.

The hungry wolf's body sank deeply into the pit, and there was a mess around him.

His body was shaken and all the bones in his body seemed to be broken. He was in so much pain that he could hardly breathe. He struggled to stand up, but found that his body had lost strength and he couldn't even move a finger.

Metal Bat stood on the edge of the pit, his face was covered with sweat, a mixture of blood and mud, but his eyes were bright.

He looked at the hungry wolf in the pit, took a deep breath, and then slowly exhaled.

"Lie down obediently. "

Metal Bat carried the bat on his shoulder.

As Garou listened to Metal Bat's words, his heart was filled with anger and unwillingness.

He knew he had failed, but he was unwilling to accept this fact.

He struggled to stand up, but his body was completely out of control. He could only watch Metal Bat, his heart filled with despair and powerlessness.

After Metal Bat was sure that Garou could not stand up again, he rushed to deal with Elder Centipede.

Being delayed by Garou for so long, Elder Centipede ravaged the city and caused countless casualties and damage.

"Blast! Get out!"

Elder Centipede ignored the battle between Metal Bat and Garou. To him, other heroes were all traitors, and only Blast, the first in S-class, was his opponent.

Metal Bat was covered in blood, but he became more energetic and stronger. He roared and climbed and jumped quickly, rushing towards Elder Centipede.

Esdeath and Luther came to the edge of the pit at this time. As for Metal Bat's sister, she was sent out of the city by Luther and is now at the headquarters of the Hero Association.

"He was beaten so badly, but he is not dead yet."

No. 18 said with a sigh.

"I can sense his aura and he is getting stronger."

Esdeath said with surprise.

"His vitality is very tenacious. As long as his head is not destroyed or chopped off, he can survive and recover and become stronger."

Luther said.

This time, Garou woke up as a demon-level monster because he was beaten too hard by Metal Bat. In the original plot, he was not a match for the demon-level monsters Worm God and Bandage Monster, but Garou is the type of person who becomes stronger the more he is stimulated.

Metal Bat's blow almost smashed him to pieces, but it also made Garou stronger.

Driven by a strong obsession, his body is being reshaped.

Luther threw various monsters' body tissues into the pit for him.

In the original plot, Garou absorbed the bandages of the bandage monsters, and it is speculated that he may have the ability to fuse the body tissues of these monsters.

Luther kindly helped him.

All the body tissues that Luther could take out were dragon-level body tissues.

Garou was soon piled up like a garbage dump.

His clothes were shattered, and now his flesh and blood were directly in contact with the body tissues of these monsters.

Chapter 518 Dragon-level monster Garou is born!

Garou, who once only wandered between the boundaries of humans and monsters, has now awakened with a new attitude.

He is no longer the one who could barely compete with the demon-level monsters Bug God and Bandage Monster in the original plot, but was completely shattered by the almost fatal blow of Metal Bat, but was reborn in pain and despair.

The blow of Metal Bat was like a thunderbolt, almost smashing Garou to pieces.

But it was this near-destructive blow that stimulated the hidden power in Garou.

His consciousness struggled in the darkness, but found a new way out in the struggle.

His body, driven by a strong obsession and desire to survive, began the miracle of self-reconstruction.

At the same time, Luther threw various monster body tissues to Garou.

These body tissues are precious parts of Dragon-level monsters, containing powerful power and strange abilities.

They were thrown randomly into the pit where Garou was, like piled up building materials, providing the necessary materials for Garou's rebirth.

Garou's body began to react strangely with these monster tissues.

His flesh and blood directly contacted these tissues, as if there was a mysterious force guiding their fusion.

The muscles and bones of the dragon-level monsters all found a new home in Garou's body.

As time went on, Garou's body underwent earth-shaking changes.

His body was no longer a pure human, but a brand-new existence that integrated many monster characteristics.

A strange power began to quietly awaken in his body.

First, his skin began to change.

After the original human skin came into contact with the monster body tissue thrown by Luther, it seemed to be summoned by some mysterious force and began to have a wonderful fusion with these tissues.

His skin gradually became as hard as iron, as if he was wearing a thick layer of armor, which could not only resist external attacks, but also enhance his own strength.

Then, his muscles and bones were also changing.

The muscles and bones of those dragon-level monsters were rejuvenated in Garou's body.

His muscle fibers became tougher and stronger, as solid as steel; and his bones became stronger and more flexible, able to withstand greater impact and pressure.

At the same time, Garou's body was also undergoing earth-shaking changes.

Under the influence of mysterious power, his internal organs gradually adapted to the new body structure and became more efficient and powerful.

His heart beat more vigorously, providing the body with a steady stream of energy; and his lungs were able to absorb oxygen in the air more efficiently, providing the body with necessary nutrients.

In the process of this change, Garou's consciousness was also changing.

In that deep pit, Garou struggled to stand up from the brink of death like a phoenix reborn from the ashes.

He was no longer the weakling who was hit by the metal baseball bat before, but a reborn, brand-new beast.

Every inch of his muscle seemed to be carefully carved by iron and stone, full of strength. Under his skin flowed hot blood like lava, and every heartbeat was as shocking as thunder.

He looked down at his hands, and the fingers that were once slightly thin were now as hard as steel. He could clearly feel the vitality of every cell, as if a powerful force was surging in his body.

He clenched his fists gently, and felt the powerful force gathering at his fingertips like a torrent, as if it could tear apart all obstacles.

His bones were as hard as steel, and every movement was full of strength and determination. He waved his fists, as if he could easily smash a mountain.

His body seemed to have surpassed the limits of human beings and became a real weirdo.

His breath was as violent and cold as a storm, and every breath seemed to trigger a storm. The cold breath made people shudder, as if they were shrouded in the frost of winter.

There was a sharp light in his eyes, as if he could see through all hypocrisy and lies, and directly see into the deepest secrets of people's hearts.

The powerful aura emanating from his body made everything around him pale in comparison, like a bright light in the dark night that could not be ignored.

At this moment, Garou was no longer the one who was bound between the boundary between humans and monsters.

He crossed that boundary and became a real monster.

His body combined the characteristics of many dragon-level monsters, possessing unprecedented strength and speed.

He could easily jump over tall buildings, or disappear from sight in an instant.

"What happened? I remember that I seemed to be hit by a metal baseball bat..."

Garou looked around in confusion, with a hint of doubt in his eyes.

However, when he felt the power surging in his body, his eyes immediately became firm.

"But now, this feeling..."

He whispered to himself, as if he was savoring this new power.

"This feeling... is wonderful, as if the body, mind and soul are all liberated, and the weight of the body disappears. Every punch and kick is effortless, light and swift. Am I already... a monster?"

He looked up at the sky, with a sharp light in his eyes.

He felt the power surging in his body, a feeling he had never had before. His body seemed to have turned into a sharp sword, and every swing could tear through all obstacles. His speed also reached an unprecedented level, as if a flash of lightning broke through the sky.

He began to run, feeling the sound of the wind whistling past his ears. Every step he took seemed to make the earth tremble, and every jump made the air boil. He felt as if he had merged with the whole world and became the most powerful existence in the world.

He stopped and looked up at the sky. The sky that once made him feel extremely depressed now became so small and insignificant in his eyes.

He knew that he was no longer the weakling who was at the mercy of others, but a strong man who could overlook the world.

He gently clenched his fists and felt the powerful force gathering at his fingertips.

He knew that this power would be the most powerful weapon on his future path.

He no longer needed to worry about being defeated or looked down upon, because he already had enough power to shock the whole world.

"It's amazing that it can absorb so many dragon-level monsters' body tissues."

Luther didn't expect that his pile of garbage was now completely empty.

All of it became the nutrient and energy source of Garou.

Chapter 519: Rebirth from the Shell

Luther clearly sensed Garou's current strength.

He is probably equivalent to "Hero".

This is already a very scary improvement, after all, Hero still has some strength.

He was the champion of the first martial arts conference. When he was still a human, he challenged a monster and was defeated. Later, he was abducted and persuaded by the Monster Association, and ate monster cells to become a monster.

As the chief adviser of the Monster Association and the creator of the monster king Orochi, Big Eyes can be regarded as the behind-the-scenes controller of the Monster Association; but even he recognized the strength of Hero, and it was impossible to imagine that he would be easily killed by the hero with his strength.

Then Big Eyes, that is, Sykes, thought that Elder Centipede was less than the four S-class heroes, that is, the first S-class blast, the second Hell Tornado, the third Metal Knight, and the fourth King.

Only the four can deal with Elder Centipede, and others can't beat him. It should be the four \u003e Elder \u003e Bang \u003e Hero.

The Heroic Doll beat the Water Dragon, and now his strength far exceeds Bang, because the power of the Fist Wind Kaiyun is undeniable.

Metal Bat and the Centipede Elder continued to fight, and Garou grinned and went to find trouble with Metal Bat.

But at this moment, two strange monsters blocked his way.

"Weird?"

Garou looked at the two.

"Are you the hero hunter Garou?"

The Cutting King, who was wrapped in bandages all over his body, looked at Garou strangely, feeling different from what the big eyes showed them.

Now Garou, his body is full of traces of alienation, as if he is a monster that combines the characteristics of multiple creatures.

He lacks the bandages on the Cutting King in the original plot, but the alienated muscles are more eye-catching, which reminds people of the image of the devil Garou.

Although he has not grown the devil's horns yet, it is enough for people to feel the powerful aura emanating from him.

His body is no longer a single human skin, but is covered with layers of feathers, shells and scales.

These are not simple decorations, but perfectly integrated with his body and become a part of him.

These alienated parts, as if they are part of his body, are closely connected with his muscles, bones and blood, and together constitute his current appearance.

First, bird feathers grew on his body.

These feathers densely covered his skin, as if it were a natural armor.

Each feather shone with a faint luster, as if it was coated with a layer of mysterious oil paint.

These feathers enhanced his defense.

Secondly, his body was covered with insect carapaces.

These carapaces were dark brown or black, hard and smooth, like carefully polished handicrafts.

These carapaces not only increased his strength, but also greatly enhanced his resistance to physical attacks. Whether it was the slashing of a sword or the blows of fists and feet, it was difficult to cause real damage to him.

Finally, animal scales grew on his body.

These scales vary in size, some are only a few millimeters long, and some are tens of centimeters long.

They are tightly arranged on his skin, forming an indestructible defense layer.

The colors and textures of these scales vary, some are deep blue, some are bright red, and some are mottled brown. These scales not only increase his defense, but also make him swim more freely in the water.

It looks like an out-and-out monster.

But there is also a kind of inharmonious beauty.

"Yes, I am Garou."

Garou admitted his identity frankly.

"Come with us, we are from the Monster Association."

Before the Cutting King finished speaking, the Insect God suddenly blocked it.

"Bang!!!"

With a loud bang, the upper body of the Insect God was shattered into slag, and the blood and flesh paste all burst onto the Cutting King.

Garou grinned and kept punching and hit the Cutting King's head. The terrifying force pressed the Cutting King's head into its chest!

The Cutting King fell to the ground.

"It's vulnerable. I'm the only real monster!"

Garou shook off the dirt on his hand. He felt like he had hit tofu. He thought it would be hard, after all, the shell of the insect god was quite thick, but he didn't expect it to be easily crushed.

In the original plot, Garou would be beaten by the Cutting King and the Insect God and then taken back to the Monster Association, but now, Garou feels that the Monster Association makes him very unhappy.

"Hey, where is that Monster Association? I'm the only monster, the monster Garou!"

Garou grabbed the Cutting King.

The Cutting King was not dead yet, but he didn't expect Garou to be so strong. Not only could he kill the insect god who was best at defense with one punch, but he also beat himself to death with a punch that was not enough.

"The Monster Association is...under Z City...Garou..."

The Cutting King was shocked by Garou's strength and big eyes, and planned to let them fight each other.

Whether Garou destroys the Monster Association or the Monster Association destroys Garou, they will both suffer heavy losses!

After Garou got the address, he mercilessly punched the Slicer King.

"Hmph, I'll let you go first."

Then he looked at Metal Bat and Elder Centipede, snorted coldly, and went straight to City Z.

The fierce battle between Metal Bat and Elder Centipede continued. This was an unimaginably fierce duel.

The bat in Metal Bat's hand was originally his trusted weapon, but it became heavier and heavier at this moment. Every swing of the bat seemed to exhaust all his strength. However, he did not retreat, but became more determined to defeat Elder Centipede.

The previous blow, Metal Bat could only break Elder Centipede's shell, but now, with the increase in the weight of the bat, every blow was enough to make Elder Centipede feel unprecedented pain.

Elder Centipede could not help but feel shocked that this seemingly ordinary human could burst out such a powerful force.

"Look at me smash you!" Metal Bat roared, and he swung the Qianjun stick with all his strength and smashed it fiercely at Elder Centipede. Although Elder Centipede wanted to dodge, he was a step slower, and was directly smashed by Metal Bat.

The huge centipede fell to the ground with a deafening sound.

Metal Bat was so tired that he could hardly support his body. He sat on the ground, gasping for breath.

However, just when Metal Bat thought the battle was over, there was movement behind him.

He looked back and couldn't help but exclaimed.

It turned out that the centipede elder had broken out of his shell and was reborn!

Its body became larger and its shell became harder.

This was the terrifying part of the centipede elder, and it was also the reason why it was able to escape from the blaster.

Chapter 520: Proud Wolf

Everyone is dumbfounded by the metal bat, why the hell does it have rebirth?

Don't be too outrageous.

Elder Centipede moved his new body, then looked at the metal bat with a grin.

"What's wrong, boy, is this not going to work?"

Elder Centipede's huge head suddenly swooped down with two sharp horns that were like knives more than ten meters long. Immediately, it lowered its head and cut the top of its head with the sharp knives' horns.

The metal bat hit his hands and rubbed them.

"Don't underestimate me, you guy, I can spend the whole day with you!"

The metal bat clenched its grip and hit the charging Elder Centipede with a stick.

But the power that could smash Elder Centipede just now was knocked away by Elder Centipede again, and the force of the rebound caused the metal bat's hands to split open and blood to flow.

"Aren't you going to take action yet, my master?"

Esdeath asked Luther in surprise what was so good about this. The metal bat had obviously reached its limit and could not be the opponent of Elder Centipede.

"Someone is helping me strengthen my future subordinates for free, why should I take action?"

Luther said with a smile.

The metal bat can increase its attack power with infinite momentum, just like the Green Hulk. Elder Centipede doesn't know how many times it can break out of its shell and be reborn, but the free tempering is still very good.

Just let the two of them grind against each other for a while, and then Esdeath will take action with Elder Centipede.

Esdeath was puzzled.

But at this moment, support from the Heroes Association finally arrived.

Metal Knight!

As one of the cards of the Hero Association, Metal Knight is still very strong, but the ones he sent were only test subjects for testing his own weapons.

At the same time, the Weird Association launched a large-scale attack on human cities.

"Report, I just received a report from the branch staff that the A-level hero King Chong was defeated by a weirdo in the city..."

This news hit Jess hard in the heart like a heavy hammer. His eyes widened, looking at the report in front of him in disbelief.

King Chong, the hero known for his strength, would be defeated by a weirdo?

However, this is just the beginning.

The following reports came like a flood, and news of the heroes' defeats reached Jace's ears one after another.

"The A-class hero Raiguang Genji encountered a weirdo in D City and failed miserably..."

"There is still no news about Metal Knight and Metal Bat. It is expected that they are still fighting with Elder Centipede..."

Every piece of news was like a sharp arrow shot into Jace's heart, making him feel heavier and heavier.

Jace punched the desk, his mood seemed to be enveloped in a haze.

Since an hour or two, monsters have been pouring into major cities around the world, and all heroes under the Hero Association have attacked. However, the news of the hero's defeat came one by one, and his heart fell into darkness step by step. .

He knew that this was an unprecedented crisis and a battle concerning the survival of mankind was quietly going on.

"Report....."

Another staff member spoke.

There was a trace of hesitation and uneasiness on his face.

Jace raised his head and looked at him coldly, waiting for the next bad news.

"Which hero lost again?"

"No, according to the news from the Z City branch, the S-class hero Silver Fang defeated the weirdos who invaded Z City..."

As soon as the staff member finished speaking, Jess felt a warmth rising from the bottom of his heart.

He finally heard the good news that an S-class hero successfully defeated the monster.

"Huh, it turns out that S-class heroes are more reliable."

Jace took a breath, and the haze in his heart dissipated a little. He knew that S-class heroes were their last hope, and only they could resist the attacks of these weirdos.

"Have you contacted any other S-class heroes?"

Jace asked eagerly. He needs to know the situation of other S-class heroes and whether they can withstand the monster's attack.

"Not yet, we are trying to contact them but have not heard back yet."

Jace frowned, knowing the severity of this battle. Judging from the fact that weirdos appeared at the same time, this was a premeditated invasion, but we still don't know who is behind it?

What's the purpose?

He stood up, walked to the window, and looked at the city outside the window. The city streets were deserted, save for the occasional police car and fire truck speeding past. He knew that the city had been invaded by weirdos and people had fallen into panic and chaos.

Luther looked at the devastated city and had no interest in taking action.

No. 18 casually fired a Qigong wave to kill a running weirdo.

"The hungry wolf is actually defeating those weirdos?"

Esdeath observed the hungry wolf while bored and found that this guy was actually solving the weird people he met along the way.

"It's normal. His psychological distortion is like this."

Luther knew the hungry wolf's idea, which was to rule mankind with absolute fear. Humanity did not need heroes or weirdos. The weirdos only needed him.

So he will deal with these weirdos to test his strength or for some reason.

For a grown man to be so arrogant, I can only say it is disgusting.

"A twisted good guy?"

Esdeath looked at the hungry wolf after listening to Luther's words with interest.

If that's the case, that's pretty interesting.

...

In a dark and deserted corner of the city, Garou walked alone like a wild beast. His eyes revealed hunger and indifference, and his body seemed ready to pounce on any prey at any time. Suddenly, a group of monsters of various shapes appeared in his sight. Some of them had twisted bodies, some had hideous faces, and some held weapons, looking ferocious.

"Too weak, are you the monsters of the Monster Association?" Garou laughed sarcastically, his words full of disdain and contempt.

The monsters were angered by his attitude, they roared, waved their weapons and rushed towards Garou. However, in Garou's eyes, they were just a delicious meal. He quickly and agilely dodged the monsters' attacks, and then instantly attacked and tore one of them to pieces. He ate the other's meat mercilessly, as if it was a long-lost feast.

The other monsters were terrified by the scene before them. They had never seen such a cruel and powerful enemy. They tried to run away, but Garou was faster than them. He easily caught up with them, tore them apart one by one, and then devoured their flesh.

"You guy, we are all monsters, why do you hurt us!" A monster shouted angrily, but Garou just responded coldly: "Huh? Of course it's because the monsters have me enough!"

For Garou, he is no longer an ordinary human. He craves power and desires to become the most powerful existence. Therefore, he chose to become a monster to gain more power.