

Kryptonian 53

Chapter 53 He Xi: My name is Wuerling

After more than a month of research, Luther has clearly studied the sun of the super seminary world, or the sun of the blue star's solar system.

Its sunlight will not cause any mutation to itself. On the contrary, this sun is full of vitality, causing the energy it brings to Luther to be very abundant.

Then it was gone.

After all, if it doesn't mutate, Luther won't pay any extra attention to it.

"Hexi is here..."

Luther immediately thought about the reason why Tianji King Hexi came to Earth. It was probably because Sumali's dark plane information was gone, which led Tianji King Hexi to change the plot and come to Earth.

"This should be a clone, right?"

Luther thought thoughtfully. Tianji King Hexi's clone technique was developed based on Sun Wukong's clone technique. However, compared with Sun Wukong's disappearing clone, Tianji King Hexi's clone technique has a physical body and can be called a battle doll. , can also be called high-tech doll.

Of course, this cannot be developed by Hexi, the king of Tianji, after seeing the clone displayed by Sun Wukong in the battle against Taotie Civilization in modern times.

No matter how talented Hexi is, he would not be able to solve the technical problems so quickly. Therefore, the most likely possibility is that the Heavenly King Hexi learned about Sun Wukong's battle with the Lieyang Civilization when he went to study at the Lieyang Civilization a long time ago.

Then he developed his own clone technology from the "conceptual theory" of Sun Wukong's clone technology.

Yes, He Xi went to Lieyang Civilization for further study. The official statement was that it was a friendly exchange, and he visited Lieyang Civilization on behalf of Angel Civilization.

But Hexi even learned the solar flare technology of Lieyang Civilization, and also developed a flare furnace technology that would not cause too much damage.

Therefore, it is difficult to imagine what level of academic exchange the original academic exchange was. It is simply outrageous.

I don't know if Hexi's clone has any technology stored in it, but if it is abducted for research, it might be possible to develop something.

Luther was very moved. If he abducted the Hexi doll to the Marvel Universe and handed it over to Galvatron, he might be able to analyze something.

Just by doing this, it's not sure whether He Xi can read anything from the dark plane information.

"It seems that He Xi didn't read my dark plane information?"

Luther used his super vision to carefully observe He Xi, who was several kilometers away. He Xi fell into confusion in Sumali's house.

Luther didn't know how effective he was in blocking information from the dark plane. Now that he saw He Xi like this, he knew that the effect might be very good.

"What happened?"

Hexi really couldn't read more information about the dark plane. She originally thought that after her clone arrived here, she would be able to find something more or less, but as a result, the information about the dark plane was extremely clean. What she saw back then, That's what it is now.

Even she didn't know who killed Sumali or how she killed Sumali.

It's very abrupt, as if a video suddenly skipped frames and lost the content of a certain frame section.

"Hello, angel."

Suddenly, a voice came into He Xi's ears.

"who?"

He Xi reacted immediately, looked in the direction of Luther, and then saw a special being.

She can't read the other party's dark plane information!

"Did you kill the people here?"

He Xi is sure of this.

"good."

Luther knew this and could not hide the past, so he admitted it frankly.

"...who are you?"

He Xi temporarily stopped asking about Sumali's situation, and instead looked at Luther curiously.

"Kryptonian civilization, Luther."

Luther briefly introduced himself.

"Kryptonian civilization? I've never heard of this civilization."

He Xi didn't even need to check the man-in-law's treasure trove of sacred knowledge and her own space-based system to know that she had never heard of or recorded this civilization.

"That's because we are dead and Krypton no longer exists."

Luther said calmly.

He Xi was unable to analyze any information from him. The dark plane information was blocked by an unknown person and could not be read. For angels and even other gods and super warriors, it would be blind.

Relying on body language and facial microexpressions?

The error rate is too high, and it is not as reliable as the dark plane information.

"Really? I'm sorry. You took the initiative to come to me. Is there something wrong?"

He Xi crossed her hands and originally wanted to find a place to sit down, but when she thought of the unsightly dark plane information, she did not sit down. Instead, she signaled to Luther and flew into the sky.

Luther also flew up.

He Xi stared at him closely, but was still confused.

There is no fluctuation of dark energy in the dark plane, and no superpower algorithm is detected. What is going on?

Superpower algorithms convert dark energy into various superpowers, such as algorithmic formulas that control thunder, fire, and storms, and super gene engine running programs.

Of course, Angel Yan's Thunder God of War has the ability to control thunder and lightning in her super gene. It does not mean that she also uses a super power algorithm to have the ability to control thunder and lightning.

Hexi was puzzled to understand what technology Luther used. His own space-based system and space-based computing group analyzed the possibility that Luther's super gene does not have the ability to use dark energy. This is his super gene. The superpowers inherent in genes...etc.

She didn't know which outcome was right.

Maintaining curiosity and enthusiasm for unknown things is a necessary psychological and thinking mode for scientific researchers. Luther knows this, so he knows how attractive these things he showed in a short period of time are to He Xi.

"Don't you know your identity yet?"

Luther did not immediately say that he had something to do, but asked He Xi's identity.

"I'm just an ordinary angel, you can call me... Wuerling."

He Xi paused, then said.

She also blocked her dark plane information. If Luther invaded and read it, her firewall and genetic system would prompt her.

In addition, not everyone has such a convenient technology as the angel's insight eye to directly read the dark plane information. If other civilizations want to read it, it will be very noisy.

Wuerling is okay...

"This angel, I heard that you angels are interested in this kind of thing?"

Luther took out the Sumali brand dark silver.

Such a large piece of dark silver really surprised He Xi.

What does a manly woman do for a living? How could she miss such a large piece of dark silver?

With a celestial-level supercomputer, everything in the universe can be calculated and detected, including the movement of atoms. Holy Kesha doesn't even need to send people to search, she can know which galaxy has the Dark Silver vein.
