

Kryptonian 531

Chapter 531 Qigong Wave

He continued to launch fierce attacks, each punch accompanied by the creation of a storm of energy. These energy storms rage across the battlefield like angry behemoths, razing everything to the ground.

Smoke and dust filled the air, gravel flew, and the entire battlefield seemed to be swallowed up by this force.

The hungry wolf's attacks seemed to have no end, and every move was full of threat and destructive power. His eyes flashed with fanaticism, as if he wanted to pour out all his anger and power.

His figure galloped across the battlefield, and every attack was like a violent storm, making it impossible to resist.

However, Esdeath was not to be outdone.

She responded to the hungry wolf with an equally fierce attack.

Her figure shuttled rapidly through the air, as if turning into afterimages, which was dazzling. Every move she makes is full of mysterious power, as if she can control the entire battlefield. Her attacks are like a dragnet, leaving no one able to escape.

The battle between the two became more and more intense, and every attack was full of power and speed.

Their figures intertwined in the air, forming amazing energy trails that seemed to light up the entire battlefield. This battle seems to have surpassed the limits of human beings and become a true myth.

As time passed, the smoke and rubble on the battlefield had been swallowed up by the energy storm, leaving only two figures fighting fiercely in the air. Every attack they make is full of endless power and threat, as if they want to completely destroy the opponent.

The hungry wolf's eyes were full of confusion and unwillingness.

He flew around Esdeath, his eyes locked on her body, looking for the weak point for a fatal blow. However, no matter how hard he tried, he couldn't find any flaws.

"There are flaws all over the body, but there are no flaws at all... We must use something more powerful... something even more powerful..."

He muttered lowly, as if looking for a way to defeat Esdeath. His eyes shone with determination, as if he wanted to defeat her at all costs.

However, as time passed, his heart began to be filled with struggles and contradictions.

He didn't know how to defeat this powerful enemy in front of him. He kept recalling his martial arts, skills, strength, speed, and experience, but couldn't find anything that worked.

"Need something stronger...what?"

After he spoke for a while, confusion flashed in his eyes. He didn't know what he needed to be stronger to defeat Esdeath. He felt that his heart was filled with a sense of powerlessness and despair.

"Martial arts? Skills? Strength? Speed? Experience...ah!"

he roared angrily. He felt that all his efforts were in vain and that he could not defeat the powerful enemy in front of him no matter what. He began to doubt his abilities and worth, and felt that his heart was filled with endless pain and struggle.

"Ahem, how ridiculous, how ridiculous, I, I don't know how to defeat the enemy? How powerful is this guy? Is he an existence more powerful than the king? It's like a collection of all the powerful abilities of time, The strength, speed... are invulnerable, how can I defeat her? There is no way, but the answer in my heart is that there is no way? It's incredible, incredible..."

He roared in a low voice, his heart filled with endless grief, anger and unwillingness.

He began to recall his past, and those past setbacks and failures seemed to be vivid in his mind. He felt that his heart was filled with endless pain and struggle, as if he had been abandoned by the whole world.

"Why, why did you give me hope of changing the world? Another king and this woman appeared and shattered my hopes. Why on earth?"

he roared angrily. He felt that his heart was filled with endless despair and pain, as if he had been betrayed by the entire world.

However, just when he was about to give up, a strong belief and strength suddenly surged in his heart. He knew that he couldn't just give up. He had to keep fighting and keep getting stronger until he defeated the powerful enemy in front of him.

"The end? Impossible, I will not give up, I will continue to get stronger, I will continue to get stronger..."

He growled lowly, his eyes flashing with determination. He knew that he couldn't just give up. He had to keep fighting and challenge his limits until he finally won.

His heart was filled with endless grief, anger and unwillingness, but he also understood that these emotions would only make him strengthen his belief and determination.

He knew that he had to keep working hard and getting stronger before he could finally defeat this powerful enemy in front of him. He believes that as long as he doesn't give up and keeps working hard, he will eventually win.

Under this will, the hungry wolf's body changed again. His body had become very huge, like a towering mountain.

His muscles shone with a metallic sheen in the sunlight, making them appear even more powerful and powerful. On his back, the original four bone spurs evolved into a pair of flesh wings. The flesh wings flapped gently, as if they could take him flying into the sky.

His eyes shone with determination, as if he had found a way to defeat Esdeath. He took a deep breath and lunged towards Esdeath. His speed was astonishingly fast, like a bolt of lightning piercing the sky.

Esdeath looked at the hungry wolf rushing towards him, a trace of surprise flashed in his eyes.

She didn't expect that the hungry wolf could become stronger and launch such a violent attack on her.

"Same as Tyrande?"

Esdeath was a little surprised. Tyrande could evolve and become stronger. The Garou in front of her was very similar.

However, no matter how he evolved, he could never be her opponent!

She did not retreat, but rushed towards Garou's attack.

The two figures intertwined in the air, and their attacks and defenses were completed in an instant.

Every collision made a deafening sound, as if the whole world was shaking.

The demon Garou fell to the ground.

The giant wings behind him fell to the ground.

Esdeath had a lightsaber in his hand.

Luther called the move of condensing Qi into a light blade and a lightsaber "God Light Sword". The cutting ability is stronger than Qi Yuan Zhan, and the light blade condensed in the hand consumes less Qi than releasing Qi Yuan Zhan.

Esdeath's Qigong waves are all high-end versions, all skills developed by Luther.

What about Qigong waves of 100,000 degrees, 1 million degrees Celsius, etc. Because the sun can deal with many enemies in Dragon Ball, even if the power of Qigong waves can explode stars, it still takes the sun to deal with the enemies.

So Luther simply simulated the sun to create super-high temperature Qigong waves.

Chapter 532 Esdeath: I have reached 50!

The hungry wolf's figure began to undergo drastic changes, as if an irrepressible force was surging within his body.

The flesh wings on his back, those parts that were originally torn and broken, now began to recover at an incredible speed.

The black substance, as if alive, squirmed on the surface of his body. Every time it squirmed, it seemed to absorb the surrounding energy and then integrate into the hungry wolf's body.

"Recovery ability that doesn't match your strength?"

Esdeath said with interest.

The hungry wolf didn't seem to hear Esdeath's words, or he didn't care about the other party's comments at all.

His eyes were full of fanaticism, a kind of firmness and persistence in his beliefs.

"That's it. Human beings live without psychological pressure under your protection. There is no threat from weirdos, discrimination, and bullying. The war continues to expand, and the bad roots of greed, arrogance, jealousy, and lust that penetrate into the soul are quietly disappearing. breed and then create other evil deeds."

The hungry wolf's voice became deep and powerful, and every word seemed to be squeezed out from the depths of his heart.

His words were full of disappointment and anger towards human society.

In his opinion, the reason why human beings are trapped in endless battles and disputes is because of the existence of those so-called hero associations. In the name of protecting human beings, they actually become a breeding ground for human evil.

In his view, only under absolute terror and equality can human beings abandon those dark things and truly work together to survive.

And he, the hungry wolf, exists to realize this idea.

"As an absolute evil, I will never be overthrown by justice!"

The hungry wolf roared, and his voice echoed in the air, as if it wanted to penetrate everyone's heart.

As his roar fell, the black substance in his body began to surge again.

This time the surge was more intense than before, as if an uncontrollable torrent was raging inside his body.

The black matter continued to grow, build, and fill his body, and soon his body became even smaller.

The proportions of muscles, bones and even the body have been optimized and improved, and his body functions have begun to jump at a geometric level.

At this moment, the hungry wolf seemed to have truly become an invincible god-level monster.

His body exuded a heart-stopping aura, which was the absolute control and confidence in power.

After compression, the body feels even more powerful.

"I've seen through everything about you, and what's next is what will happen after Liushuiyan shatters his fist and stands up——"

The hungry wolf's voice sounded again, and he put his hands into a posture, which was a prelude to his attack.

At the same time, Esdeath also showed her great strength.

She disappeared in one step, approaching the hungry wolf at an almost imperceptible speed. Her movements were smooth and natural, as if every step perfectly matched the rhythm of the battle.

The hungry wolf also disappeared, his figure flashing rapidly in the air, and every time he appeared, he was accompanied by a black afterimage. His attacks were as fierce and fast as a storm, trying to hit Esdeath's vitals every time.

"Boom!" A muffled sound came, and the hungry wolf finally hit Esdeath's body.

Although this was only a trivial attack for Esdeath, it was a huge breakthrough for the hungry wolf.

He was finally able to hit this powerful opponent!

"That weird energy has been seen through!"

Hungry Wolf was secretly proud.

He immediately adjusted his attack method and used the power of the Monster Killing Fist to launch a drill-like attack.

He tried to use the spiral force to create enough lethality to break through Esdeath's defense.

"God Kill·Spiral Breakthrough Penetrating Attack!"

The hungry wolf shouted loudly, his attack was like a black dragon, drawing a perfect arc in the air, and then slammed into Esdeath.

However, facing the fierce attack of the hungry wolf, Esdeath just smiled contemptuously.

She relied on her own instinctive reactions to cope with the hungry wolf's changes. Her body was twisted at an almost impossible angle, easily avoiding the wolf's attack.

"Martial arts are just a summary of experience in defeating the target."

Esdeath's voice echoed in the air.

"And I have reached the most ideal state. All hostility will trigger my instinctive reaction. This most basic reaction is the most powerful martial arts!"

Her words made Hungry Wolf's heart sink. He realized that the gap between himself and Esdeath was far wider than he imagined.

But even so, he had no intention of giving up. He took a deep breath and prepared to attack again.

"Bang bang bang bang!"

As violent collisions sounded, suddenly, the figure of the hungry wolf disappeared like a ghost, and when it reappeared, it was already behind Esdeath. His fist carried the power of wind and thunder and hit Esdeath's back hard.

However, Esdeath seemed to have eyes behind her. She twisted her body at an incredible angle and easily avoided the wolf's attack.

At the same time, her palm turned into a silver meteor, hitting the hungry wolf's chest with lightning speed.

Golgo groaned, and his body flew backwards like a kite with a broken string. He fell heavily to the ground, and the dust flew. But he did not give up, and quickly rolled up and rushed towards Esdeath again.

Their figures flashed quickly in the air, and every move was full of power and skill. Although Gargoy still could not defeat Esdeath, he continued to grow in the process.

And Esdeath was not annoyed or impatient because of Gargoy's tenacious resistance.

On the contrary, she seemed to enjoy this fierce battle process and launched an unprecedented duel with Gargoy.

"God Killing Instant Strike!"

Golgo suddenly shouted, his body quickly rotated in the air, and in an instant he hit an overwhelming fist shadow.

These fist shadows seemed to form a storm, sweeping towards Esdeath.

The figures of the two intertwined in the air, and every collision burst out a powerful energy wave.

The surrounding air seemed to be distorted by this force, forming a series of amazing air waves.

Garou was defeated by Esdeath again and was knocked down from the sky.

Esdeath flew up directly and stood proudly in the void looking at him.

"Keep pleasing me."

Esdeath has released 50% of his energy, and Garou's strength is getting stronger and stronger, which makes Esdeath look forward to it.

Luther raised his eyebrows.

"Finally here, God."

Chapter 533: Luther Town God!

It is not surprising that Garou is targeted by the gods.

His obsession has supported him to this point.

In terms of strength, Garou is now Boros after the armor burst, and even stronger.

But Esdeath is no longer the same Esdeath. She has also become much stronger, and the difference is still at the dimensional level.

Esdeath with 10% output can already reach the level of the monster king Orochi.

God can be said to be the most mysterious guy in the world of One-Hit Man.

If Boros and Garou are defined as god-level monsters, there are still doubts and arguments, for example, there are no god-level monsters when there is the bald devil.

But God can be said to be a stable god-level monster!

"Shut up, I will confiscate it. Your power, your life, all confiscated."

This is what God says most often.

He is a mysterious character, suspected to come from a higher dimension, and will give some people powerful power, such as the remake of Garou and Wandering Emperor, who are called "God" by many characters.

It seems to hate humans, which can be seen from the fact that he gave Wandering Emperor the power of the light ball to let him do "what he should do" (destroy humans) and the cosmic rays that come with the "cosmic fear mode" of the remake of Garou.

The voice can only be heard by those who should hear it, that is, those who are chosen by the "God" to give power.

At the same time, it will also control the consciousness of the person who gives power to a certain extent, see the remake of Garou for details.

The disaster level is unknown, at least above the dragon level, after all, the disaster level of those who are given power by it is all at the dragon level.

Wang Dashe once found a temple deep underground, because only a small part of the mural at the altar of the temple was exposed at that time, and Wang Dashe mistakenly believed that he was the god who would be resurrected on Earth (the original words on the mural: We gods will cross the long river of time and be resurrected on the earth, and then we need to offer the most suitable living sacrifice on this altar).

After being defeated by Saitama, the murals were fully revealed because the stone walls around the temple collapsed. Orochi realized that he was the sacrifice, the sacrifice for the resurrection of the "God".

In the remake, "God" disguised as Blast appeared in front of the unconscious Tornado, trying to make Tornado accept his power, but Tornado always remembered what Blast said to her, so she refused, and God disappeared.

In the remake, he appeared in the spiritual world of Garou disguised as Bang, and stretched out his hand to make Garou, who couldn't beat Saitama, accept his power. Garou slapped the hand of Bang transformed by "God" and directly refused, but because he had already touched it, Garou still gained the power of "God".

Luther is still quite interested in God, and God can't hide from Luther's eyes.

After all, in terms of strength, Luther has become super-dimensional after his rebirth, and can cross dimensions and even the world and the universe at will, and has the power of "transcendence".

God is just the overlord of this world, and may not even be the overlord, because ONE will not let any creature or existence be stronger than Saitama.

Judging from what the gods often say and what is written on the murals, they are likely to be guys like Yhwach who have the power of sharing and then take away the capital and interest.

Esdeath also noticed something, and the air sensed that some powerful existence had descended!

"What is it?"

Esdeath frowned, what an evil air!

Garou is now trapped in the spiritual maze carefully woven by the gods.

Everything around him became blurry and blurred, as if he was in a fantasy world that was completely different from the real world. He saw a familiar figure-Bang, the kind teacher, who was reaching out to him, trying to pull him back from the abyss of darkness.

However, Garou refused.

The obsession and anger in his heart were like a blazing flame, making him unable to break free from his shackles and unable to accept anyone's salvation. He firmly believed that his path was correct, even if it was full of thorns and bumps.

Just as Garou struggled, a powerful force surged into his body. That was the power of the gods, which surged like a torrent, making Garou feel unprecedented power.

His body seemed to be reshaped by this power, becoming tougher and stronger.

However, the source of this power is a mystery.

In the original version, whether Garou has obtained the power of God has always been an unknown.

When he said "Thank you so much", it is unclear whether he was expressing gratitude to God or Saitama.

After all, Garou's personality is complex and contradictory. He has a strong sense of justice and a bottomless dark side.

As the power of God flows in Garou's body, his appearance has also changed dramatically.

The shell that was once a demon began to shatter, revealing the well-proportioned and strong body inside. His face became extremely empty, his facial features disappeared, and only a brilliant galaxy could be seen.

This galaxy seemed to be a miniature universe, full of mystery and depth.

Garou's body also changed under the influence of this power.

His body is no longer a simple flesh and blood body, but has turned into a universe with countless stars.

Each star shines with a unique light, as if telling its own story. These stars are closely connected to Garou's consciousness, allowing him to feel the pulse and breath of all things in the universe.

As Garou's body gradually merges with the universe, his strength and speed also reach unprecedented heights.

He can easily travel through time and space, and can even manipulate the stars in the universe for his own use.

This power makes him a true god, who can overlook all living beings and decide the fate of all things.

Esdeath's pupils shrank, and for the first time she felt what danger was from the hungry wolf.

At the same time, Luther's hand reached out to the "god" standing in the endless light with an extremely firm attitude. The god, originally immersed in his own glory, seemed to be above all living beings, omniscient and omnipotent.

However, under Luther's deep eyes and decisive actions, it suddenly felt unprecedented fear.

After the god noticed Luther's actions, an indescribable panic emerged in its heart. It wanted to break free from the dimension and time and space that bound it, and escape from this man who seemed to threaten its existence.

It began to vibrate its own energy, trying to tear apart the surrounding shackles, like a frightened bird, eager to escape from this dangerous sky.

However, Luther's hand was like the Buddha's kingdom in the palm of his hand. No matter how the gods struggled or resisted, they could never escape the suppression of the Five Finger Mountain.

Chapter 534: Cosmic Hungry Wolf

Luther's fingers seemed to have turned into five towering mountains, trapping the god firmly in them.

The power of the god seemed so insignificant under the Five Fingers Mountain, as if he was just a Monkey King pressed under the Five Fingers Mountain, unable to resist and could only let fate take its course.

The eyes of the god flashed with unwillingness and despair. It used to be so high above, but now it was struggling to survive in the hands of this mortal.

Luther's palm seemed to have turned into an endless world, imprisoning the god in it, making it feel the bondage and oppression it had never experienced before.

The power of the god dissipated in this palm of the Buddha Kingdom, just like Monkey King was pressed under the Five Fingers Mountain for five hundred years, and his power was lost, leaving only endless despair and pain.

And Luther, he seemed to have become the Buddha who dominated everything. There was no mercy and sympathy in his eyes, only firmness and decisiveness.

The god in his hand was like Monkey King pressed under the Five Fingers Mountain. No matter how he struggled, he could not escape the fate of repression.

The roar of the god echoed in Luther's palm, and its struggle became weaker and weaker, and finally only a weak whine remained.

Luther's palm slowly tightened, as if telling the god that no matter how glorious and powerful it had been, it was now just a plaything in his hand.

At this moment, the entire universe seemed to fall into silence, with only Luther's calm and firm eyes and the god's desperate whine intertwined.

At this moment, Luther seemed to have become Zhen Yuanzi, and there seemed to be a world hidden in his sleeves, trapping the god firmly in it.

At this moment, the entire universe seemed to be shocked, and Luther's power like that of the Tathagata Buddha amazed all living beings.

And Luther, he just stood there quietly, as if everything was under his control.

There was a deep light flashing in his eyes, as if telling all living beings that he was the real master of this universe.

Of course, it was not so exaggerated in reality. The above were all the gods' own imaginations. For Luther, he just suppressed the gods.

What effort does it take to suppress a god?

It's just a god who hasn't stepped out of his own world.

The situation of Esdeath below is worth paying attention to.

After Garou became the Cosmic Garou, when Garou showed the power of the universe for the first time, the mighty force that seemed to collapse the sky and split the earth made Esdeath feel palpitations involuntarily.

It was a feeling she had never had before, like facing an insurmountable gap, which made her deeply doubt her own strength.

However, Esdeath is Esdeath after all, and she will not give up because of a setback.

She instantly released 100% of her Qi, and the powerful force seemed to tear the entire universe apart. Her body seemed to collapse under the impact of this force, but she gritted her teeth and persisted.

At this moment, Esdeath was like a burning fireball, and her breath was as violent as a storm, making it impossible for people to look directly at her. Her strength reached its peak at this moment, as if she could rival any cosmic-level strongman.

It's like King Frieza chose to seal because his energy was too strong and his body couldn't adapt.

Qi is a very powerful energy. Luther is okay, because he is a Kryptonian. His crazy steel body and biological force field make his Qi feel powerful.

Esdeath has a lot of Qi in one step, and the strength is very high, so she also feels that her body can't bear it. Usually, she won't release her Qi with all her strength, because she hasn't practiced the way Luther taught her to strengthen her body to a great extent.

But Esdeath with 100% output is already an extremely powerful existence. It's no problem for her to be comparable to Boros with meteor burst, except that she may not be as fast as Boros.

Even if it is the attack of the Collapsing Star Roaring Cannon, Esdeath may defeat Boros!

Garou caught a punch from Esdeath in this state.

Then he punched Esdeath in return!

Boom boom boom—————

Two powerful forces collided in the air, making a deafening roar.

A white line rushed away, and the flying sand and rocks on both sides were like waves on the sea, splashed by the speeding speedboat.

Not to be outdone, Esdeath used her left hand to punch in time, swinging it with the speed of thunder, and colliding with Garou's fist.

At this moment, the whole world seemed to be still.

The powerful shock wave swept down in all directions with the two of them as the center.

Looking down from a high altitude, you can see that the circle of dust is constantly expanding, and finally it has set off an endless hurricane.

This hurricane swept everything, including the surrounding buildings and trees, forming a spectacular scene.

Esdeath and Garou maintained a fist-to-fist posture, their bodies seemed to have become the pillars supporting the universe, and the powerful force seemed to crush the entire universe.

Their physiques became tougher under the powerful force, as if they were indestructible steel bodies.

The terrifying force flowed into the ground through their bodies, tearing the rock deep underground in half, triggering an earth-shattering earthquake.

Esdeath was even quicker and punched Garou in the cheek.

The same is true for Garou. Now Garou understands the flow and operation of power in the universe. He can use various forms of energy in the universe and has developed a terrible boxing technique - "All Life Rooting Fist".

He cannot understand Esdeath's power, but he does not rule out the possibility of learning it.

Esdeath was punched in the cheek by Garou, and both of them flew out.

However, Esdeath quickly stabilized her body. After learning to fly, Esdeath did not need to adjust her center of gravity and balance, and there was no flaw to catch.

Garou flew far away like a skipping stone before stopping.

"What a powerful punch."

The galaxy on Garou's face seemed to be split.

Then he suddenly realized something and put his hands in a spinning posture.

"Then come and see this move!"

"Nuclear fission straight punch!"

Nuclear fission.

Each punch carries a huge explosion and nuclear radiation. The shock wave emitted by the fist will form several huge light balls in the sky and turn into several mushroom clouds.

Esdeath felt that this move was very childish, and there was no need to dodge it.

"Boom boom boom boom boom ---!!!"

Gargo threw hundreds of straight punches. After feeling the flow of various forces in the universe and understanding their principles, each of these punches was as powerful as a nuclear bomb explosion.

However, Esdeath walked over leisurely, which made Gargoyle's pupils shrink.

Chapter 535: Matter-Antimatter Annihilation Fist!

Through the profound meaning of the Flowing Rock Crushing Fist learned at Bang Dojo, Garou suddenly realized the laws governing the operation of all things in the universe and has become a stellar energy body.

In the original plot, Garou has two skills: the first is the nuclear fission straight punch, and the second is the supernova explosion radiation. Both are magical skills that manipulate atomic-level microscopic energy.

Facing the oppression brought by Esdeath, Garou did not feel fear or retreat.

He knew that this was the only way for him to become a truly strong man. He took a deep breath, felt the hydrogen elements in the surrounding air, and prepared to release more powerful energy.

"Nuclear fusion fist!"

Garou rushed towards Esdeath. Garou can now release energy by fissioning uranium. So it is logical that Garou must have mastered the more powerful nuclear fusion, by fusing the hydrogen elements in the air into helium and even iron elements, releasing greater energy.

What humans still need to do through various technologies and instruments can be directly mastered and released by Garou.

The power of nuclear fusion is more than a hundred times that of nuclear fission?

His body was instantly enveloped by a layer of golden light.

In his body, uranium has begun to fission, releasing amazing energy.

But this is just the beginning. What Garou wants is more powerful nuclear fusion.

Under his control, the surrounding hydrogen elements began to gather, and they slowly moved towards the center under the guidance of Garou's fist.

This is a slow and steady process, but every moment is accumulating amazing power.

Under extremely high temperature and pressure, hydrogen elements began to fuse into helium elements, and even further, into iron elements.

In this process, the energy released is so huge that the surrounding space began to distort.

The power of nuclear fusion is indeed far greater than nuclear fission. Its energy release speed and power are so fast that it is simply unimaginable.

He rushed towards Esdeath, and wherever his fist passed, the air seemed to be ignited and emitted a blazing light.

As Garou's fist hit, a huge energy gushed out of his fist, as if a star was exploding.

The surrounding air was instantly heated by this energy, forming a huge shock wave.

Garou's body was also pushed forward by this energy, and his speed was almost impossible to see clearly.

Esdeath felt this powerful energy fluctuation, and a trace of surprise flashed in her eyes.

She quickly mobilized her strength and prepared to meet Garou's attack.

When Garou's fist collided with Esdeath's power, it seemed to trigger a cosmic explosion.

The huge energy shock wave spread instantly, destroying the surrounding buildings and the ground in an instant.

The powerful airflow rolled up the dust and debris, forming a huge dust storm.

In this fierce confrontation, Garou showed his powerful strength as a stellar energy body.

Each of his attacks seemed to be able to trigger cosmic energy fluctuations, forcing Esdeath to take it seriously.

"How is it possible that nuclear fusion can't do anything to her?"

Garou became more and more frightened, and he couldn't help but start thinking about a more powerful way of attack.

At this moment, he once again sensed the changes in the microscopic particles and energy transitions in the surrounding universe.

A flash of inspiration flashed in his mind, and he thought of an energy that was more powerful than nuclear fusion - antimatter.

If there is an energy that is more powerful than nuclear fusion, it is the annihilation of matter and antimatter.

Garou began to try to cover his fist with antimatter to deal a fatal blow to the opponent.

He mobilized the energy around him and began to create antimatter elements.

This process is extremely complicated and dangerous, because once antimatter and matter come into contact, a violent annihilation reaction will occur, releasing huge energy.

But Garou seemed to be familiar with this energy. He carefully covered the antimatter on his fist, forming a thin layer of blue light.

This is his "antimatter fist"!

"Antimatter fist!"

Garou took a deep breath and rushed towards Esdeath again.

Wherever his fist passed, the air seemed to be frozen, forming ice crystals.

This is the extreme low temperature phenomenon produced when antimatter and matter come into contact, and it is also a precursor to the antimatter fist.

When Garou's fist collided with Esdeath's power, an energy greater than nuclear fusion instantly erupted.

This explosion was no longer a simple shock wave and dust storm, but it seemed to tear the entire space apart.

The surrounding buildings and the ground disappeared in an instant under this energy, leaving only a void.

Esdeath also felt this unprecedented energy fluctuation, and her eyes showed a solemn look.

She understood that Garou's attack this time had exceeded her expectations.

She quickly mobilized all her strength to prepare for this fatal blow.

However, even if she tried her best, she could not completely resist the power of this antimatter fist.

Cracks formed around her body, as if the space collapsed at this moment.

Esdeath's body was also pushed back by this energy, and her face turned extremely pale.

Garou stood in place, with a cold light flashing in his eyes.

He knew that his antimatter fist had successfully hit Esdeath.

This attack not only caused her to suffer heavy damage, but more importantly, it broke the balance between the two sides.

Now, the hungry wolf has an absolute advantage.

Of course, he is not wrong to think so. He can perform the antimatter annihilation punch, which has surpassed himself in the original plot. It is not difficult to kill the cosmic wolf with one punch.

But Esdeath has the all-powerful and omnipotent Qi!

The Qi can even withstand the Big Bang, and it is even more difficult to defend and offset the Antimatter Annihilation Fist.

Esdeath's face was pale, but he was caught off guard. He didn't expect the hungry wolf to deliver such a terrifying punch.

"It was a battle beyond imagination."

Esdeath stabilized her body and then spoke.

"Are you going to admit defeat?"

Hungry Wolf said with a sneer.

The Antimatter Annihilation Punch failed to kill Esdeath with one punch, but it probably also annihilated most of this woman's energy!

"No, we need to be serious."

Esdeath said with a smile.

Hungry Wolf doesn't know why, is he still serious?

The next moment, he felt a terrifying aura coming from Esdeath.

That feeling is probably similar to that of a mouse meeting a Tyrannosaurus rex, and the mouse's gallbladder will be scared out of its wits!

Although the hungry wolf was not in such a bad state, he still felt his pupils shrinking and his body becoming tense uncontrollably.

Chapter 536 A more powerful force!

Esdeath threw a straight punch so fast that Garou had no time to react.

This punch was like a meteor across the night sky, bright and fast, and instantly hit Garou's face.

Garou felt a flash before his eyes, and then he was struck by lightning, and the whole person was hit by the powerful force and flew out.

However, this was just the beginning of Esdeath's attack. She burst out instantly and caught up with Garou who was flying backwards. She clasped her fists together and turned them into a hammer-like bombardment, hitting Garou's back hard.

This force was so strong that Garou seemed to be hit by a giant hammer, and the whole person was smashed into the ground hard, with a dull feeling in his chest and difficulty breathing.

However, Garou was not an easy person.

He twisted his body forcefully in mid-air, and faced with the fist shadow of Esdeath pressing down like a tsunami, he chose to confront it head-on. His fist collided violently with Esdeath's fist, erupting with surging and majestic chaotic power.

This force was so strong that even time and space were obliterated, and only continuous roars could be heard echoing in the ruins.

Every time they collided, circles of white shock waves would expand and explode, which were the afterimages left after the collision between the two. These energy storms raged in the ruins, lifting up layer after layer of the ground, as if to completely overturn the ruins.

In the air, powerful energy disturbed the magnetic field, and the free ion force disturbed the celestial phenomena at high speed, making the entire sky cloudy and uncertain.

Soon, groups of black clouds covered the sky, and the running lightning snakes showed their hideous faces outside the black curtain, and burst into rumbling noises. These thunders seemed to be the roar of heaven and earth, cheering for this earth-shaking duel.

Garou was filled with shock and uneasiness.

His positive and antimatter annihilation fist was obviously powerful and could continuously annihilate Esdeath's energy. However, Esdeath seemed to have endless energy, and no matter how hard he tried, he could not see the end of her energy.

This feeling of powerlessness made Garou feel unprecedented pressure. He seemed to be facing a bottomless black abyss. No matter how hard he tried, he could not peek into its true depth.

However, even in the face of such a powerful opponent, Garou had no intention of giving up. He knew his mission and responsibility, and he knew that he could not fall here.

So he gritted his teeth and persisted, constantly swinging his fists, and launched a more intense confrontation with Esdeath.

The battle between the two became more and more intense, and every shot was full of a combination of strength and skill.

Esdeath continued to suppress Garou with her amazing speed and strength, while Garou continued to try to break Esdeath's offensive with his unique positive and antimatter annihilation fist.

They shuttled, clashed, collided, and exploded in the ruins, and every collision was terrifying.

As time went on, the battle in the ruins became more and more intense.

The figures of the two moved quickly in the storm, and every confrontation was accompanied by earth-shaking loud noises and violent energy storms. This ruin seemed to have become their battlefield and a stage for them to show their strength.

However, no matter how fierce the battle was, Esdeath remained calm and composed. She seemed to be a god who controlled the battlefield, and no matter how hard Garou tried, he could not break her defense.

Her speed and strength were always at their peak, and every move was full of confidence and strength.

In this battle, Garou constantly challenged his limits. His positive and antimatter annihilation fist became more and more powerful, and every move seemed to be able to tear through time and space.

However, no matter how hard he tried, he could not break Esdeath's seemingly impeccable defense. This made Garou feel extremely desperate and powerless.

Power!

He needed a stronger power!

Garou closed his eyes, took a deep breath, and tried to calm his inner fluctuations.

He knew that if he wanted to break Esdeath's defense, he had to find a power beyond all the power he knew.

He began to explore in his mind, trying to find the source that could bring him new power. His mind was like groping in the dark, exploring step by step.

Suddenly, he felt a new power, a power he had never felt before. It was like a bottomless abyss, attracting him to keep exploring.

Garou opened his eyes, with a firm light in his eyes. He found it, that was the power he longed for, the Black Hole Collapse Fist.

He clenched his fist, and he could feel the powerful force surging in his body. It was a power like the abyss, as if it could devour everything.

"Black Hole Collapse Fist!"

Garou shouted and punched.

This punch seemed to condense the power of the entire ruins into it, forming a huge black hole. The black hole was like a hungry beast, madly devouring everything around it.

When the black hole collided with Esdeath's defense line, a dazzling light was produced.

The light was as hot as the sun, illuminating the entire ruins.

In that light, it can be clearly seen that the black hole is constantly devouring Esdeath's defense line, tearing it into pieces bit by bit.

In the process, Garou also felt unprecedented pressure.

At the moment when Garou threw the shocking "Black Hole Collapse Fist", the entire ruins seemed to be caught in a time distortion.

An invisible force gushed out from the hungry wolf's fist, forming an expanding dark vortex.

The center of the vortex was deep and dark, as if it was swallowing everything around it, and even light could not escape its bondage.

This is the physical effect of the black hole collapse fist.

By manipulating gravity, Garou attracted the matter and energy around his fist into a miniature black hole.

The gravity of this black hole is extremely strong, enough to tear apart time and space and pull everything around it into it.

At the edge of the black hole, matter was ruthlessly torn apart and turned into the most basic particles, and even atoms could not remain intact.

This extreme physical condition makes the black hole collapse fist have the power to destroy the world.

As the black hole continues to expand, the energy around it also begins to react violently.

A series of violent energy storms raged around the black hole, as if they were going to swallow up the entire ruins.

These energy storms not only come from Garou's own power, but also include the energy attracted by the black hole in the surrounding environment.

These energies collide and merge with each other under the gravitational force of the black hole, forming a new energy form.

This energy reaction is extremely violent, as if it is going to ignite the entire ruins.

Under the attack of the Black Hole Collapse Fist, Esdeath's defense was as fragile as paper and was ruthlessly torn into pieces.

Chapter 537 Black hole collapses, Esdeath is swallowed

In that chaotic battlefield, the existence of the black hole seemed to be a cosmic disaster engine, which not only distorted the surrounding space, but also swallowed up all the matter and energy.

With the formation of the black hole, an irresistible gravitational force began to work, like a pair of invisible big hands, slowly pulling the surrounding matter to the center of the black hole.

At the edge of the black hole, these substances were extremely compressed by the strong gravitational force, forming a high-density material ring.

This material ring is like a huge metal roulette, which began to rotate at high speed under the gravitational force of the black hole.

As the rotation speed increased, this material ring gradually formed a huge material vortex, like a roaring tornado, engulfing everything around it.

The power of this vortex is so strong that it can continuously suck the surrounding matter and energy into it, causing the mass of the black hole to continue to increase.

At the same time, the collapse of the black hole also triggered a violent energy reaction in the surrounding environment. At the edge of the black hole, the sucked matter and energy began to undergo reactions such as nuclear fusion and nuclear fission under extreme pressure and temperature.

These reactions released huge energy and formed a series of hot energy flows.

These energy flows are like fire snakes, winding around the black hole, forming a huge energy field. This energy field seems to ignite the entire battlefield, bathing everything around in the fiery flames.

However, the inside of the black hole is the most extreme place. As the mass of the black hole continues to increase, the pressure and temperature inside it have reached unprecedented heights.

In this extreme environment, matter and energy have lost their original form and transformed into a new form of existence.

This form of existence transcends the traditional human understanding of matter and energy, as if it is a new and unknown force.

Under the action of this force, a series of complex physical effects begin to occur inside the black hole.

First, due to the extreme compression of the matter inside the black hole and the high temperature and high pressure environment, the matter begins to undergo quantum fluctuations.

This means that inside the black hole, particles of matter will constantly appear and disappear, releasing huge amounts of energy.

Secondly, due to the extreme compression of matter inside the black hole, the interaction between matter becomes extremely strong.

This strong interaction will cause collisions and annihilation between matter, releasing a large amount of energy and particles.

Finally, as the mass of the black hole continues to increase, the gravity inside it will become stronger and stronger.

When gravity becomes strong enough, it will trigger an unprecedented energy explosion. This explosion releases all the matter and energy inside the black hole, forming dazzling energy beams.

These beams raged on the battlefield, destroying everything around them.

In this energy explosion, Garou also felt an unprecedented impact and shock. He seemed to be in an endless ocean of energy, surrounded and swallowed by endless energy.

Esdeath's pupils shrank.

The surrounding air seemed to be swallowed by the gravity of the black hole and became extremely heavy.

Esdeath could clearly feel the invisible force, which was like a pair of huge claws, slowly and firmly pulling her into the dark abyss.

As the black hole continued to collapse, the surrounding matter began to be sucked into it, forming a huge material vortex.

Esdeath could see that the sucked matter was extremely compressed at the edge of the black hole, as if crushed by endless power.

Esdeath faced a real black hole created by the black hole collapse fist. This is not a simple energy phenomenon, but an existence that follows the real physical effects and laws of black holes in the universe.

When the power of the black hole collapse fist reaches its peak, space and time begin to distort around Esdeath. This distortion is so severe that light becomes curved when passing through, forming a series of strange beams.

These beams dance on the edge of the black hole, as if they are the work of nature, which makes people feel awe.

The edge of the black hole is an extremely distorted space-time region. According to the general theory of relativity, any matter and energy will be attracted by the powerful gravity of the black hole and cannot escape.

As the black hole continues to collapse, the pressure and temperature inside it have reached unprecedented heights.

In this extreme environment, matter and energy have lost their original form and turned into a new form of existence.

According to the theory of quantum physics, quantum fluctuations may have occurred inside the black hole, and material particles continue to appear and disappear, releasing huge energy.

When the power of the black hole collapse fist reaches its peak, a huge energy beam shoots out of the black hole and heads straight for Esdeath.

This beam not only contains the huge energy inside the black hole, but also carries material particles that have been compressed to the extreme.

These particles move at a speed close to the speed of light in the beam, forming a series of deadly energy flows.

The power of this beam is so strong that it seems to be able to destroy everything. Esdeath can feel the oppression brought by the energy beam, and she knows that this is her life and death moment.

At that moment, Esdeath used all her strength to try to resist the powerful energy beam.

However, the power of the black hole is so terrifying that her defense was defeated in an instant.

The powerful energy beam instantly swallowed her in, and her figure gradually disappeared at the edge of the black hole.

Esdeath, who was swallowed by the black hole, seemed to be in an endless dark world.

She could feel the endless gravity and distorted space around her, as if to tear her into pieces.

Her body was constantly pulled and compressed in the black hole, and the pain was almost unbearable for her.

However, Esdeath did not give up.

She knew that she had to hold on, otherwise she would sink into this dark abyss forever.

She used all her strength to try to resist the strong gravity and look for a chance to escape.

However, in this extreme environment, Esdeath's body also began to undergo some wonderful changes.

Her cells began to rearrange and reorganize under extreme pressure, and her energy began to fuse and fission under extremely high temperatures.

Then, Luther appeared beside her.

"How about it, do you need me to take you out? In fact, you have the ability to go out by yourself."

Luther folded his hands and looked at Esdeath and said.

When Esdeath saw Luther appear, she immediately felt relieved. With Luther's back, Esdeath naturally couldn't go out like this.

Chapter 538 Defeat

When Esdeath was swallowed by the black hole, the space and time around her seemed to be distorted. Her body was pulled by a huge gravitational force and continued to fall towards the center of the black hole at an accelerated speed.

The surrounding light was swallowed by the black hole, and everything became dark, with only the faint light in the center of the black hole flickering.

In the process of entering the black hole, Esdeath felt an unprecedented sense of oppression.

Her body seemed to be squeezed by endless gravity, and every cell was under tremendous pressure.

At the same time, she also felt that her time was accelerating, as if every moment was experiencing several years.

However, Esdeath did not give up.

She mobilized the Qi in her body to try to resist the gravity of the black hole.

As she continued to mobilize the Qi, the space around her began to change subtly.

The originally distorted space gradually became stable, as if there was an invisible force resisting the gravity of the black hole.

At the same time, Esdeath also felt that her time was gradually returning to normal, and the feeling of accelerated passage gradually disappeared.

As Esdeath's body was gradually swallowed by the black hole, her body began to have a violent energy reaction.

Her Qi, the mysterious power taught to her by Luther, began to fight fiercely with the gravity of the black hole.

This confrontation was not a simple power contest, but a collision between two completely different laws of the universe.

When Esdeath approached the center of the black hole, she felt an unprecedented energy reaction.

The center of the black hole seemed to be an endless source of energy, constantly devouring the surrounding matter and energy.

However, in her perception, these energies did not disappear, but were gathered by a singularity in the center of the black hole.

She understood that this was a contest between Qi and the laws of the universe. She must connect her Qi to this singularity and use its power to break free from the gravity of the black hole.

So, Esdeath injected her Qi into the singularity and connected with it.

At this moment, she felt that her Qi merged with the energy of the universe, as if she had become a part of the universe.

She felt her power growing, until finally, she felt that she had the power to break free from the gravity of the black hole.

Suddenly, a dazzling light burst out from the center of the black hole, illuminating the entire universe.

This is the energy reaction caused by the power of Esdeath to break free from the black hole.

Her body was pushed forward by this force, until finally, she finally broke free from the gravity of the black hole and returned to the material world.

In the process of breaking free from the black hole, a series of changes also occurred in the universe.

The matter and energy that were originally swallowed by the black hole returned to the universe, forming a huge energy vortex.

This vortex rotated in the air above the earth, releasing huge energy and light.

At the same time, Esdeath's body also underwent tremendous changes.

Her breath became stronger and purer, as if it had completely merged with the energy of the universe.

Her body also became lighter and more flexible, as if it had surpassed the constraints of matter.

When she stood on the land of the material world again, she felt as if she had merged with the universe.

She understood that she was no longer an ordinary warrior, but had become a part of the universe, with the power to compete with the universe.

Luther folded his hands. Akafiel could come back from the other side of the black hole. There was no reason why Esdeath, who was stronger than it and whose Qi was more advanced than Akafiel's adjustment technology, could not return to reality from the black hole.

Cosmic Wolf originally thought that he had dealt with Esdeath.

He himself did not understand the power of the black hole collapse fist. It was just the power brought by the universe mode.

The reason why the original plot only had gamma-ray bursts and nuclear fission fists was nothing more than Murata could not imagine how exaggerated the setting he boasted about was.

Theoretically, Cosmic Wolf could even do quantum interference and quantum influence of God in the quantum field like Dr. Manhattan!

After Esdeath reappeared, Cosmic Wolf was confused, and his expression was probably similar to that of Boros when he saw Saitama jumping back to the earth from the moon.

He never thought that Esdeath could return from the black hole.

That was a black hole!

"Sorry for the wait."

Esdeath felt that he had completed a transformation.

Not everyone can experience a black hole journey. Fortunately, it was not a real black hole celestial body, but a simulated black hole. It evaporated before absorbing enough mass and energy.

Obviously, Cosmic Wolf was also very aware of the danger of this move. If it continued, it would only take a moment to destroy the entire earth and even the solar system.

So after dealing with Esdeath, it let the black hole evaporate.

But I didn't expect Esdeath to be alive.

"I can't continue to play with you when you have such a dangerous move."

Esdeath said so, and appeared next to Cosmic Wolf the next moment.

Cosmic Wolf's pupils shrank. He didn't even see Esdeath's speed?

The next moment, he was punched through the body by Esdeath.

The outer shell of the universe was broken, and Cosmic Wolf fell to the ground. He wanted to struggle to get up, but was trampled on the ground by Esdeath.

Cosmic Wolf was furious, but no matter how he struggled, he couldn't shake Esdeath's high-heeled boots.

Esdeath condensed a Qigong wave and released it instantly.

"Boom boom boom——"

The ground was blown through, and Space Wolf felt the pain of dying.

This is because Esdeath controlled the output, otherwise it would not be a problem to penetrate the earth.

Space Wolf fell to the ground, he struggled, Esdeath felt that he was really a tenacious life.

But Space Wolf still lost.

Luther originally thought that he would still do such a bad job as borrowing strength.

The ultimate bad job of destroying three people's personalities in one episode.

From the beginning to the end, what Garou wanted was just to become a hero called "Weird". He does not kill people, nor will he be ruthless to those heroes who try their best to stop him.

He keeps saying that he wants to kill people and be an absolute villain, but in fact, he just wants to be the "catfish" who can activate the potential of all mankind.

However, Murata does not seem to intend to give Garou this opportunity. The Garou in his writing is the representative of absolute evil, the kind of ruthless and uncompromising evil.

He does not care about Garou's real motives, nor does he care whether he really wants to activate the potential of mankind. In Murata's painting, Garou is just an enemy that needs to be defeated, an existence that needs to be erased.

"It's over."

Esdeath looked at the unconscious Garou. Because the god had been sealed up by Luther and used as a toy, his supernatural powers were naturally not confiscated.

Chapter 539 Since ancient times, the Galaxy has been orthodox!

Luther had no intention of taking away the hungry wolf.

It is more appropriate for such people to stay in this world.

Esdeath has also gained an understanding of her own strength, and the battle with the cosmic wolf is much more troublesome and dangerous than she imagined.

Fortunately, she won in the end.

The ultimate battle that broke out here in the Monster Association has long since attracted the attention of the Heroes Association.

Hero Association Headquarters!

"Alert! Alert!! Ultra-high energy reaction found! The energy level is being confirmed...the target location is being corrected..."

"Alert! Alert!! Ultra-high energy reaction found! The energy level is being confirmed...the target location is being corrected..."

The piercing siren suddenly sounded, breaking the tranquility of the headquarters.

In the hall, rows of huge screens flashed red danger words, as if announcing to people the impending crisis.

Staff members in black suits stopped what they were doing and looked nervously at the red warning on the screen. They operated the instruments quickly, trying to find the source of this powerful energy.

"What exactly is going on and why is there such a strong energy response?"

A man who was probably at the level of a senior officer hurriedly walked to the operating table, took over the staff's position, and began to operate the instrument quickly.

His forehead was covered with sweat, and he was obviously a little confused by the sudden alarm.

"We are still exploring the specific situation, and we can only confirm that the energy area is in Z city!"

a staff member replied.

"Z City?!"

The officer's expression became more solemn.

"Damn, where are the images of the energy reaction area? Where are our satellites, and why haven't we pulled up the images yet?"

After hearing the chief's words, the staff operated the instruments more nervously. However, the worst thing happened - they were unable to form an effective image.

"We were unable to form an effective image. The magnetic field interference at the location of the energy reaction point was so strong that the satellite could not see anything."

A staff member wearing a headset called up the image on the screen, and his face instantly became extremely ugly.

Seeing this scene, the officer became even more excited.

"I don't want to hear these words. Immediately, immediately, even if I run to the reaction point, I have to create the image!"

He knew that if they could not understand the situation of the energy reaction point in time, they would not be able to take effective countermeasures.

However, even the fastest speed may not be enough to prevent the impending crisis. The staff knew this, but they still tried their best to operate the instruments, hoping to find a clue.

"For Metal Knight to take action, we need his technological power."

The commander had an idea and thought of a possible solution. Metal Knight is one of the most technologically capable heroes in their association. He possesses advanced technological equipment and powerful combat capabilities. If you can get his help, you may be able to find the truth about the energy reaction point faster.

"Yes, I'll do it right away!"

A staff member replied immediately, and then quickly left the console.

At the same time, the commander continued to issue orders: "Continue to monitor the energy reaction points, and let our satellites keep a close eye on them. If any suspicious objects come in or out, lock them on me immediately. Also, let all the S-class heroes in the headquarters rush over. ..."

He knew that this crisis was no small matter and all forces must be mobilized to deal with it.

As orders were issued one after another, the working atmosphere in the headquarters became more tense and orderly.

Everyone knows that they have a heavy responsibility, and they must find the truth about the energy reaction point as soon as possible.

The chief prayed that this was not the behavior of a weirdo. Otherwise, how strong would a weirdo with such a powerful energy response be?

Dragon level! Or god level?

Luther and Esdeath naturally left the scene.

Sykes and King Orochi hid far away. They had already run away, but they were watching the battle from a distance, and then they were almost killed by the aftermath of the battle between Hungry Wolf and Esdeath.

"I didn't expect that the hungry wolf could reach this level, and that woman."

Sikes frowned. Where did that woman come from to be so powerful?

"Damn it, the Weird Association is gone. I need to gather the weirdos again."

Sykes is very helpless. This time, she wants to gather more powerful weirdos.

After seeing the power of the Space Wolf and the power of Esdeath, Sykes realized how ridiculous his weirdo association was.

Their strength is simply vulnerable.

King, the strongest man in mankind, has not yet taken action.

On the other side, Luther had finished basking in the sun.

He felt that his strength had become much stronger, compared to Zhan! In the world of Crimson Eyes and the world of One Punch Man, the sun is undoubtedly more energetic. Of course, in other words, this universe is more powerful.

This suddenly made Luther a true single-universe-level existence, possessing the terrifying power to destroy a single universe with one blow.

He felt himself growing, feeling his strength increasing.

Luther stood at the end of the universe, overlooking this vast universe. He felt his presence and his power.

"What an easy way to upgrade."

Luther lamented that it was a pity that he could not find out earlier.

The value of the One Punch Man world has disappeared. Luther feels that it is time for him to return and go to other new worlds and universes.

Then he returned to the Marvel Universe with Esdeath and No. 18.

Venus.

Empire!

The speed of time on the One Punch Man side is proportional to this side, and the Empire has now developed.

The Saitama version of the Golden Human copied by Luther now has new offspring.

Monsters like Black Sperm were sent here by Luther in advance, and Garou only ate the body tissues of these monsters.

Of course, the Ugly President and Wandering Emperor are not.

Luther feels that the sun in the Marvel world is more powerful, but it takes much longer to absorb it than in the One Punch Man world.

Boros returned to his old job and became a space pirate with the Empire's army.

"No, no, no, we are not space pirates, we are regular troops, the Galactic Empire that has conquered the lost land of the Milky Way!"

Luther said that Boros really doesn't know how to give a name.

What space pirates? The Milky Way has been the territory of the Galactic Empire since ancient times, but they didn't have time to manage it before. Now that they have time, they naturally want to recover the lost territory!

Even if there are other civilizations in the Milky Way, facing the iron fist of the Galactic Empire, can they still resist?

Not to mention that Boros brought so many one-eyed aliens with him.

Chapter 540 New book is on the shelves today

Boros galloped across the star sea, his power was boundless, and he felt uncomfortable.

However, in this vast universe, he has not encountered a real opponent.

The aliens he encountered and the classic predators in the Marvel universe all seemed so vulnerable to his power, as if they were just a small episode in his journey.

This invincible loneliness filled Poros's heart with longing.

He hopes to meet an opponent who can truly match him so that he can go all out and show his true strength.

Boros' strength is so powerful that he can be at home anywhere.

Even facing powerful men like the Five Obsidian Generals, he could easily deal with them, as if the strength gap between them was an insurmountable chasm.

Not to mention, Boros is accompanied by his fellow One-Eyed Stars. These mutant warriors are also powerful and are Boros' right-hand assistants.

However, Boros was not complacent about his power.

He knows that there are still many unknown areas and powerful beings in the universe. Therefore, he always remains humble and alert, always ready to face new challenges.

Just as Boros was immersed in his own thoughts, the voice of a technician interrupted his contemplation.

"Warmaster Boros, we have left the empire's territory a long way away. Is it time to return?"
the technician asked cautiously.

Boros came back to his senses. He was sitting on his throne, his eyes burning.

He looked up at the technician, with a sinister smile on his lips.

"Return?"

he asked rhetorically.

"Why should I return?"

The technician was frightened by Boros's gaze, and he stammered.

"However, we have left the empire for a long time. If we continue to move forward, we may encounter unknown dangers."

Boros burst into laughter upon hearing this.

He stood up, walked to the technician, patted him on the shoulder and said.

"Danger? I'm just looking for danger! Only by constantly challenging the unknown can I become stronger!"

Hearing this, the One-Eyed Stars' eyes lit up.

"Yes, you are worthy of being the Warmaster!"

"The Warmaster is invincible!"

One-eyed star people said with admiration.

After saying that, Boros turned and returned to the throne. He looked down at the new element reactor in his hand, his eyes shining with excitement.

This new element reactor was provided to him by Luther, and its energy output was so powerful that even Boros was shocked.

The reaction of a ton of new elements can produce a terrifying energy output, which is enough to allow Boros to run rampant in the universe.

The power of the second-generation new element reactor invented by Iron Man has reached the level of outputting 10 billion joules per second. This energy output is so powerful that even Boros was amazed.

He imagined what effects this energy would have if used in battle.

Boros looked up at the starry sky, his eyes filled with anticipation and desire.

Poros had a ferocious smile on his face at the moment.

"I have heard that there is a dark cult in this universe, and their boss is called the Mad Titan Thanos."

Poros's voice echoed in the empty palace.

"Many people say that he is the overlord of this universe. I, Boros, would like to meet this so-called overlord of the universe!"

His voice was full of confidence and arrogance, as if in his eyes, the overlord of the universe was just an opponent worthy of his challenge.

Poros is a man with his own thoughts and actions, and he does not exactly follow Luther's orders.

Although Luther gave him considerable freedom, he also had his own goals and pursuits.

"Since I myself have been deprived of the addiction and idea of becoming the overlord of the universe by Luther, then I must also let others get rid of this addiction!"

Poros's eyes flashed with determination.

Boros didn't know much about the so-called Mad Titan Thanos, but he knew that this man must be a challenge in his pursuit of greater power.

He is eager to fight such an opponent to prove his strength.

Meanwhile, Luther is talking to the vaccine people.

As the current strongest player in the Galactic Empire after Boros, Vaccine Man also feels helpless about Boros' behavior.

"Your Majesty, Lord Poros..."

The vaccine man spoke hesitantly.

"What happened to him?"

Luther asked.

"He was AWOL."

The vaccine man lowered his head and answered carefully.

"AWOL?"

"Why did he do that?"

"The Warmaster said that he wants to expand his territory and spread the reputation of the Galactic Empire."

Vaccine Man continued.

"He also said that he was unhappy with the three empires in the universe and planned to make the Galactic Empire the only empire."

Luther was silent for a moment, with a complicated light shining in his eyes.

He knows Boros's character. He has his own goals and pursuits and will not be easily restrained by others.

"Vaccine man, what do you think I should do?"

Luther raised his head and looked at the vaccine man and asked.

The vaccine man was silent for a while, then slowly spoke.

"Your Majesty, Lord Boros is very powerful, and his ideas are also based on considerations for the Galactic Empire. However, his behavior may indeed cause some unnecessary trouble. I think we should send someone to communicate with him and let him understand your Majesty's thoughts and intentions."

Luther nodded, he knew that the vaccine man made sense.

"Now the Galactic Empire is just a small scoundrel, and there is no manpower."

Luther complained.

The future of the Galactic Empire must be very brilliant, but not now!

However, although Luther wanted to pull Boros back, he became interested again and wanted to see what would happen when Boros met Thanos.

Wouldn't Thanos be killed by Boros in one encounter?

It is very likely, after all, the movie version of Thanos is really not good enough.

But it is not ruled out that Thanos will be more powerful than the movie.

Movies are movies, and reality is reality.

"Forget it, ignore him for the time being."

Luther shook his head.

This time he came back, but brought back a lot of specialties from the One Punch Man world.

For example, although monsters have been sent here one after another before, the number is still too small for an empire that is determined to rule the Milky Way.

That's why talents are needed.

The monsters that Luther created by copying monster cells in the Empire Dimension can only be said to be Marvel's own monsters.

These local monsters from the One Punch Man world don't have to worry about being copied and influenced.

A diversified galactic empire requires species diversity.
