Chapter 571: Destruction of Heaven and Earth

Steve and the others' fighting experience with Raditz gave them a deep understanding of Saiyan's energy attacks.

Therefore, before Tony even shouted, they had already sensed the danger and quickly took action to avoid it. However, the Qigong wave released by Vegeta was too powerful. Even if they avoided it, they were still affected by the indiscriminate energy.

Once the Qigong wave is released, it is like a huge energy ball, rapidly expanding in the air.

Its color quickly changed from an initial light blue to a deep purple, as if it absorbed all the surrounding light, darkening the entire sky. The terrifying energy released by this purple energy ball makes people's hearts palpitate.

According to the law of conservation of energy in physics, the energy released by Qigong waves is actually converted from the high-density energy in Vegeta's body.

When this energy is released to the outside world, they propagate in the form of waves and collide with surrounding air molecules, causing the air molecules to be rapidly heated and expanded, forming a huge vacuum area.

Immediately afterwards, a powerful shock wave centered on the Qigong wave and spread crazily in all directions.

This shock wave is powerful enough to destroy all obstacles.

According to the principle of fluid mechanics, during the propagation process of the shock wave, the air in front will be compressed to form a high-pressure area, and the air in the high-pressure area will quickly spread to the surroundings to form a low-pressure area. This alternation between high and low pressure causes the shock wave to move forward at an alarming speed.

Under the action of the shock wave, all obstacles such as soil, stones, and trees are instantly vaporized.

This is because the energy carried by the shock wave is extremely high, enough to destroy the molecular structure of the substance and convert it into a gaseous state. This gasification phenomenon is called "pyrolysis" in physics and is a natural reaction of substances under high temperature and pressure.

In addition to the gasification of matter, Qigong waves also cause strong geological vibrations.

This is because the energy released by Qigong waves not only acts on the surface of the earth, but also penetrates deep into the underground rock formations. When energy waves impact rock formations, the rock formations will deform due to tremendous pressure, causing earthquakes.

As the geological shaking intensified, the ground seemed to be torn apart by an invisible giant hand, forming huge cracks.

These cracks quickly expanded and eventually converged into a huge rift valley.

The formation of this rift valley is the result of the fracture of the crustal plates under the energy impact of Qigong waves. According to the plate tectonics theory, the earth's crust is composed of multiple plates. When these plates are acted upon by external forces, they will move or break, forming geological phenomena such as rift valleys or mountains.

The edges of the chasm were steep and rugged, as if they had been split by a giant axe. This is because during the formation of rift valleys, the crustal plates experienced violent fractures and dislocations, causing huge changes in the surface morphology.

The entire battlefield seemed to have turned into a purgatory on earth at this moment.

Fires shot into the sky, smoke and dust billowed, and air waves surged into the sky. Fire is produced by the violent reaction between the high-temperature gas released by Qigong waves and the surrounding air; smoke is formed by gasified substances; air waves are the phenomenon produced when shock waves propagate in the air.

There was a loud rumbling sound from the depths of the rift valley, as if it was the roar of the earth. This loud noise is actually the sound wave produced when the geological structure undergoes drastic changes.

When a rift forms, the rocks underground make sounds as they break and shift. These sounds travel through the earth to the surface, causing the loud noises you hear.

Vegeta stood on the edge of the rift valley, his eyes as cold as ice. He looked at everything on America as if he were looking at a tiny toy.

His Qigong wave had just ravaged the land, leaving behind not only the destruction of the enemy, but also a huge rift, like a huge wound, tearing the land deeply.

The edge of the rift valley seemed to have been burnt by fire and was scorched black, while the depths of the rift valley were filled with darkness, as if leading to another world.

This rift is undoubtedly a symbol of Vegeta's power and the deep mark he left in this battle.

Steve could only watch this happen.

His pupils were bursting with shock and anger.

The expressions of his comrades were no better, with fear and despair written all over their faces.

They knew that under this blow, those in the city who had not yet had time to evacuate would have been reduced to nothingness.

They couldn't imagine that the power of the Saiyans was so terrifying, and they couldn't even resist that devastating blow.

"I'm so sorry. Your planet is too fragile and cannot control its power well."

Vegeta said coldly, his tone full of mockery and contempt.

He didn't seem to care about the damage he had just caused, but instead seemed to be admiring his handiwork.

"Well done, Vegeta, destroy them all like this!"

When Nabal saw this, he immediately started shouting excitedly.

He seemed to be infected by Vegeta's power and wanted to follow his example and release his own energy to destroy these nasty guys.

They don't seem to be able to use Qi or attacks like Qigong waves. They even seem to be quite vulnerable to Qi attacks.

Steve took a deep breath and lunged towards Nabal.

His speed was so fast that he almost turned into an afterimage.

His eyes shone with determination, and his heart was filled with determination.

"Bang!"

Steve's punch hit Naba's face hard, severely deforming his face.

Naba screamed in pain, then flew out and fell heavily to the ground.

At this moment, Steve's power finally surpassed Naba.

He was no longer the warrior who could only passively defend. He became proactive and began to fight back against the Saiyans.

His heart was full of anger and hatred for the Saiyans. He could no longer let the Saiyans continue to destroy the planet.

He had to stand up and protect the planet and his home.

"Damn it!"

"Fuck!"

Venom, Eddie and others were also scared. They were newcomers who were pulled into the Illuminati and had never experienced such a scene.

They looked at the Saiyans' destructive power and were filled with fear.

They knew that if the Saiyans were not stopped, the entire America and even the entire earth would be in danger of destruction.

So they also began to take action and began to fight the Saiyans.

Although their power was insignificant compared to the Saiyans, they still stood up bravely.

They knew that if even they gave up, then the planet would be truly doomed.

Chapter 572: Total Annihilation

The Illuminati has almost pulled all the superheroes and even super criminals who can fight into the Illuminati in order to fight against the Saiyans.

However, the power of the Saiyans is so strong that they can hardly resist.

Vegeta's move just now has turned many super criminals and super heroes into nothingness, leaving no body and bones, and turning into ashes!

However, even in the face of such a powerful enemy, they did not give up.

They knew that if they gave up, then the planet would really be over. They must hold on until the last moment.

Steve looked at those brave warriors with gratitude and respect in his heart.

He knew that they were all fighting to protect the planet. He also knew that they were not fighting alone, they were a team, a team fighting for a common goal.

He took a deep breath and felt the power surging in his body.

He knew that this was a battle of life and death, and he had to do his best to have a chance of winning.

So he rushed towards Vegeta again, and every step seemed to be on solid rock, with firm determination and faith.

Vegeta, looking at Steve rushing over, curled up a sneer at the corner of his mouth.

In his opinion, this blue big guy is not much different from the green big guy he just defeated easily. Their strength, in his eyes, is just like the existence of ants, and can not pose any threat to him at all.

And from the appearance, this blue big guy is probably of the same race as the green big guy he just killed.

So, is he angry because his fellow tribesmen were killed?

Steve's arms exerted force, and his veins bulged, as if winding rivers were running through his body.

His arm muscles swelled like inflated air, as if they contained endless power. He hit with all his strength, trying to break Vegeta's seemingly indestructible defense.

However, when he rushed towards Vegeta, he felt a strong aura coming at him.

That aura was like a violent storm, wrapping him in it, as if an invisible mountain pressed on his chest, making it difficult for him to breathe.

He felt that his power was so small in front of that aura, as if an ant was trying to shake a tree.

Boom!

Steve's fists collided with Vegeta's palms, making a deafening noise.

The sound seemed to be able to tear apart space and shatter people's eardrums. However, for Vegeta, it was just the power of his casual wave.

The ground collapsed instantly under the impact of the two people's power, as if it was torn apart by an invisible force. The surrounding buildings were also crumbling under the impact of this force, as if they would collapse at any time.

In the blink of an eye, cracks were all over the ground, spreading around like a spider web. Thick smoke billowed out of those cracks, as if the lava under the ground was awakened by this force and was about to burst out.

The shock wave plowed a deep gully in the ground, rushing out hundreds of meters away, and only stopped when it collapsed a towering building.

The surrounding dust was rolled up, forming a misty smoke, making it difficult to see the scene inside.

However, in the face of this destructive force, Vegeta's figure did not even shake. He stood there like a towering mountain, standing firm despite the wind and rain.

He looked at Steve coldly, as if he was looking at an insignificant opponent. His eyes were full of disdain and contempt, as if Steve's existence was just a boring pastime for him.

He waved his arm lightly, as if he was just waving away an annoying fly.

However, the power of that light wave was like a violent tornado, coming towards him and knocking Steve out heavily.

Steve's body drew a parabola in the air and then fell heavily to the ground.

He felt a sharp pain spread throughout his body, as if every cell was trembling. His chest seemed to be hit by a powerful force, making him almost unable to breathe.

However, Steve did not give up. He struggled to stand up and rushed towards Vegeta again. There was an unyielding light in his eyes, which was a desire for victory and a response to the challenge.

However, this time, Vegeta did not give him any more chances.

He stretched out a hand and waved it lightly, and a dazzling light shot out from the palm of his hand. The light seemed to be able to tear the space apart, and it came straight to Steve with the power to destroy everything.

Steve wanted to dodge, but it was too late. The light instantly penetrated his body and smashed him to pieces. His body dissipated in the light and turned into nothingness.

Everyone was stunned, as if they were hit by an invisible hammer, and ripples were rippling in the depths of their hearts. At this moment, time seemed to freeze, and the air was filled with indescribable astonishment and shock.

Steve, the hero who had led them to fight countless times and saved the world countless times, just died like this?

His body, under Vegeta's fatal blow, was scattered all over the ground like broken ceramics. The muscles that were once full of strength now became pale and weak, and the eyes that were once firm and unyielding now lost focus.

People couldn't believe their eyes, let alone this cruel reality. Steve, the invincible warrior in their hearts, actually fell down like this.

Captain Marvel also looked incredulous. She looked at the broken body on the ground, and her shock was beyond words.

"Woman, what are you looking at?" A cold voice sounded in Captain Marvel's ears. She looked up suddenly and saw Naba staring at her coldly, his eyes full of cruelty and disdain.

Naba's figure quickly enlarged in Captain Marvel's eyes. She only had time to turn her head and felt a huge force hitting her cheek. Her body was like being hit by a heavy hammer, and she flew backwards in an instant and hit the wall in the distance.

The severe pain came from her cheek, and Captain Marvel felt that her eyes were black and she almost fainted. She raised her head with difficulty and saw Naba walking towards her step by step, and every step seemed to step on her heart.

"Your companion has fallen, and next, it's your turn." Naba said coldly, and a powerful energy began to condense in his palm.

Captain Marvel struggled to stand up, she knew she couldn't give up just like that. Steve had already sacrificed, and she couldn't let him sacrifice in vain. She had to stand up and continue fighting.

However, Naba's strength was far beyond her imagination. His Qigong waves condensed faster and faster, and the energy became stronger and stronger. Captain Marvel tried to use photon energy to counteract this energy, but found that it was of no use.

Chapter 573 Wandering Earth?

The Qigong wave condensed in Naba's palm, like a star about to explode, its light was blazing and dazzling, illuminating everything around it like daylight. The light contained endless destructive power, making people dare not look directly at it.

Naba's eyes were cold and firm, like a beast staring at its prey, waiting for the opportunity to give a fatal blow. His figure was as steady as a mountain, his feet rooted in the ground, as if integrated with the earth.

Captain Marvel felt the strong pressure emitted by the Qigong wave, her heart seemed to be tightly grasped by an invisible big hand, making her breathless. She knew that this Qigong wave was not ordinary, and if she was not careful, she would suffer a serious injury.

She clenched her teeth, and the photon energy in her body surged wildly, like boiling water. A solid barrier gradually formed between her hands, and the barrier was like a transparent wall, trying to resist the coming storm.

However, the power of the Qigong wave was far beyond her imagination. When the huge ball of light came whistling and hit the barrier, the whole space seemed to tremble. The ball of light emitted a blazing light, as if it was going to burn everything to ashes.

The barrier quickly collapsed under the impact of the Qigong wave, making a harsh cracking sound. The sound was like a sharp blade, piercing Captain Marvel's ears, making her heart palpitate.

She only had time to scream before she was hit by the Qigong wave. At that moment, she felt a powerful force coming from her chest, as if to tear her body apart. Her body was thrown out like a cannonball, drawing a long arc in the air.

In the end, she fell heavily to the ground, and the ground shook. She lay there, her whole body was in pain, and her consciousness began to gradually blur. She tried hard to stand up, but her body seemed to be out of control and unable to move.

Naba looked at Captain Marvel lying on the ground coldly, with a cruel smile on his lips. He seemed to have seen the dawn of victory, and he no longer had any concerns about the opponent in front of him.

On the other side, Tony's pupils were about to burst, and his eyes were full of fear and anger. He controlled the Jarvis clone army to try to resist the Saiyan attack. However, facing the powerful Qigong wave of Naba, the Jarvis clone army seemed so fragile.

Those clones collapsed and dissipated under the impact of the Qigong wave, turning into streams of data that dissipated in the air. Tony looked at the decreasing number of Jarvis clones on the screen, and his despair deepened.

He knew that the two Saiyans who attacked this time were far more powerful than he imagined. He used Raditz as a model and created various Saiyan models through data calculations to try to predict their strength and fighting methods. However, reality slapped him in the face.

The strength of Naba and Vegeta was far beyond what he could imagine. They had not even turned into that huge ape gorilla form, but they had already shown such amazing strength.

Tony took a deep breath and tried to calm his panic. He knew that at this time, he had to stay calm in order to find a way to deal with it.

He quickly adjusted his tactics, dispersed the remaining JARVIS clones, and tried to attack the Saiyans from multiple directions. He hoped that this way could distract the Saiyans and find their flaws.

However, the Saiyans were too powerful, and their attack methods were extremely strange. Those scattered JARVIS clones were quickly defeated by the Saiyans one by one.

Their attacks seemed to be able to penetrate all defenses, so Tony's tactical adjustments did not have much effect.

"Damn it!"

Tony Stark couldn't help cursing, his eyes full of anger and despair.

The battle situation in front of him had completely exceeded his expectations. He originally thought that with the power of the Illuminati and his own carefully prepared weapons, he would be able to fight against those enemies from the universe.

But now it seems that the power gap between them and those Saiyans is as big as that between an ant and an elephant.

And the other members of the Illuminati had no power to fight back.

Their attacks seemed to be child's play in front of the Saiyans, and were directly defeated by the powerful energy waves and turned into nothing.

They tried to join forces to launch an attack, but it was in vain. The power of the Saiyans was beyond their imagination.

Tony's heart was filled with a sense of powerlessness. He looked at the battle in front of him and knew that he was powerless.

He originally thought that he was a genius who could invent all kinds of advanced weapons, but now he found that facing this power beyond the limits of human beings, his wisdom and technology seemed so pale and powerless.

And Loki and Ultron, the two guys who originally planned to reap the benefits of the fishermen, were so scared that they dared not show their heads at this moment.

They originally thought that they could take advantage of the chaos to seize some benefits, or join forces with the Illuminati to fight against the Saiyans. But they never expected that the battle would be decided so quickly.

Loki shrank in the dark, her face full of horror.

She was once a ruler, but in front of the Saiyans, she felt like an insignificant ant.

Even though Raditz was beside her, Loki didn't know that Raditz's strength had greatly increased. She felt that with the strength Raditz had shown before, he could never be a match for Vegeta and Napal.

Ultron hid in his Saiyan body, constantly analyzing the battle situation and trying to find the Saiyan's weaknesses, but no matter how hard he tried, he couldn't find any flaws.

The entire battlefield seemed to be shrouded by the power of the Saiyans, and the powerful and terrifying aura was suffocating. Tony Stark stood there, his heart filled with despair.

He knew that this time, they really lost.

"Aren't you coming out yet?"

Vegeta was a little bored. That guy with a combat power of 6,000, was so patient?

If it weren't for the material of Raditz's combat suit and vibranium and the structure of Captain America's shield, Tony's Nano Suit Corps would not have been able to hold out for so long. It would take a lot of energy for Naba and Vegeta to destroy these clones.

They are annoying flies and mosquitoes.

Tony was also waiting, but he was waiting for Black Caesar.

Black Caesar couldn't just sit there and watch. The Saiyans were so powerful. Wouldn't he come out now and think about dealing with two Saiyans by himself later?

The rich people in America are afraid of death. After the Saiyan invasion, they were ready to run away.

Tony also knew their plan to run away, but he didn't care because it was also a way to escape.

Chapter 574 Escape from Earth!

The current situation is indeed worrying, as if a storm is coming, and the destructive power of this storm seems to be enough to sweep the entire earth.

In this context, the rich people with wealth and status, their Ark plan, which was formulated in advance, was like the last straw, and was quickly and decisively launched.

The Ark, a term that represents salvation and hope in legend, is now given a new meaning.

These rich people, with their wealth and influence, have built huge spaceships, which are like steel behemoths, quietly waiting for the order to set sail.

They have prepared sufficient supplies for their families, from food to daily necessities, all carefully selected to ensure that they can survive in the unknown journey.

However, their Ark plan did not take into account those who could not afford such a high price.

Those who live at the bottom of society and suffer from poverty and suffering, their fate seems to be destined to stay on Earth and face the upcoming unknown dangers.

"Sorry, the ship of the master does not take the poor." This is the indifference and selfishness of the rich. They only care about the safety of themselves and their families, but ignore those who also live on this land.

If they take other people, what if those mud legs make trouble? This worry actually stems from distrust and discrimination against the poor. They are afraid that the poor will make trouble because of the change in their living environment and destroy their plans.

They don't want any possibility of instability and unrest. This pursuit of stability is actually the maintenance of power and interests.

They are afraid that social unrest will threaten their status and wealth, so they choose to escape instead of facing and solving problems.

The departure point was chosen on Mars, a planet that was once considered to be the twin brother of the earth.

In people's imagination, Mars should have a climate and environment similar to that of the earth, suitable for human habitation.

However, these rich people don't know that the Martian Empire has moved. They only know that Luther went to Mars, and they know nothing about the specific situation of the Martian Empire.

The Illuminati have been to Mars and brought back some videos about Mars.

These videos were used to boost the confidence of the Earthlings in their fight against the Saiyans, making people believe that the Mars Empire was their ally.

However, the truth is often much more complicated than people imagine.

Although Luther had promised to establish diplomatic relations with the Earth, and even trade and travel, he soon lost interest and chose to move without notifying anyone.

Tony Stark soon discovered the secret.

He knew what consequences would be triggered if the news got out.

The stability of society would be severely impacted, and the number of various dangers and crimes would surge.

He couldn't let this happen, he had to find a way to maintain the status quo and make people believe that the Mars Empire still existed and was their ally.

So Tony began his actions.

He used his influence to conceal the truth about the Mars Empire's move from the public. He continued to release videos and information about Mars to make people believe that it was still a place full of hope and possibilities.

At the same time, he also strengthened the supervision of the rich man's Ark Plan to ensure that they would not use the plan to create chaos and panic.

Although his regulatory measures were strict, they could not stop the rich from taking actions for their own interests.

Moreover, Tony himself prepared the Ark Plan.

Faced with the uncertainty and danger of the future, humans need to have an alternative plan.

Bring as many civilians and elites as possible. Tony did not hide this plan from other members of the Illuminati, so they still knew it.

It's just that they know more, so the Ark is more prepared.

The new element reactor provides sufficient energy for their spacecraft. They only need to prepare enough supplies and recyclable ecosystems to fly directly out of the solar system and find a new home.

Tony has asked Jarvis to prepare for the launch of the Ark spacecraft. He hopes to leave this earth full of dangers and uncertainties as soon as possible.

Each Ark spacecraft is carefully designed to accommodate one million people.

This number is carefully calculated, taking into account the limits of each spacecraft's life support system and ecological cycle to the greatest extent.

Although they have the ability to build larger spacecraft, this is already the best choice. They cannot ignore the stability and safety of the spacecraft in pursuit of greater capacity.

With Captain Marvel, they can go to the universe.

This decision was made by Tony Stark after careful consideration. He knew that the Earth was no longer safe, and the threat of the Saiyans was everywhere. They had to find a new home.

Mars, the red planet that had been explored, was relatively close to the Earth.

Perhaps there was still a comfortable environment that Luther's Martian Empire had created, but that was no longer their first choice. Instead of looking for a new living space, they were forced to flee, fleeing the terror and despair brought by the Saiyans.

With Tony's order, the Ark spacecraft's launch program was officially launched.

This huge steel beast began to vibrate slowly, as if telling of the heavy responsibility it was about to bear. The outer shell of the spacecraft flashed a cold metallic luster in the afterglow of the sunset, like a cosmic giant ship ready to set sail.

Inside the spacecraft, people were in a complex and excited mood.

Some people's eyes were full of longing for the future, while others were hugging their families tightly, reluctant to leave. More people were solemn, full of anxiety and uneasiness about the unknown journey they were about to face.

However, no matter how many doubts and worries they had in their hearts, at this moment, everyone's eyes were focused on the huge porthole in front. There was the earth, where they once lived, and the hometown in their hearts.

The once familiar blue planet now seemed so small and fragile in their eyes.

What they were escaping from was not just a planet, but also an era, the end of a civilization. They embarked on this journey full of unknowns and dangers with hope and dreams.

"Jarvis, start the engine, full speed ahead."

Tony ordered. His voice was firm and powerful, as if to penetrate every corner of the spacecraft and bring confidence to everyone.

"Yes, sir. The engine has started and the spacecraft is accelerating."

Jarvis' voice sounded in the command room, calm and firm.

As the roar of the engine became louder and louder, the spacecraft began to slowly rise into the air, gradually breaking away from the gravitational bondage of the earth.

Chapter 575 Ark Interception Battle

However, just as the Ark spacecraft was about to break away from the shackles of the earth's gravity and fly into the vast universe, a powerful and violent energy wave suddenly struck from the ground.

This energy fluctuation was like a violent storm, unstoppable, as if it was going to tear the entire spacecraft apart.

The staff inside the spacecraft were terrified. The alarms blaring from the surrounding instruments made them feel an unprecedented crisis.

"It seems someone wants to escape."

A cold voice echoed through the Earth's atmosphere.

That was Vegeta, the prince of the Saiyans. With a sinister smile and contemptuous eyes, he stared at the Ark spaceship that was taking off.

His companion Nabal also showed a ferocious smile, as if they had anticipated this moment. They are preparing to release powerful Qigong waves to destroy these Ark spaceships trying to escape the earth.

Tony Stark had anticipated the Saiyan's move.

He did not board the spacecraft with everyone, but chose to stay in the atmosphere to carry out this life-and-death interception operation.

Similarly, Captain Marvel Carol Danvers, who was recovering from a serious injury, also woke up.

Without any hesitation, she immediately rushed to Tony's side, preparing to intercept him.

Carol knows that the Saiyans are extremely powerful, but she also believes that as long as they work together, they will be able to withstand the Saiyan attack.

At the same time, Tony also asked Jarvis to activate the spacecraft's defense system.

This is a complex energy field that can withstand a certain degree of attack.

However, it is still unknown whether these defense systems can withstand the powerful Qigong waves released by the Saiyans.

Vegeta and Napa stood on the ground, their eyes like cold blades, full of determination and killing intent. They were wearing Saiyan battle uniforms, with clear muscle lines, as perfect as sculptures.

The two put their hands together and began to gather energy. A faint blue light began to glow around their bodies. As the energy gathered, the light became stronger and stronger, as if it was about to ignite the surrounding air.

In their hands, two huge light balls gradually condensed. The light balls contained terrifying energy and seemed to explode at any time.

"Go to hell!"

Nabal roared, his voice as shocking as thunder. He pushed his hands forward violently, and two huge balls of light streaked across the sky like meteors, roaring towards the Ark spaceship in the sky.

These two Qigong waves carry the power to destroy everything. Wherever they pass, the air seems to be torn apart, making a sharp whistling sound.

Tony and Captain Marvel stood on the top of the Ark spaceship, their eyes firm and calm.

They know that this battle is related to the life and death of countless people, and they must go all out.

Carol took a deep breath and her body began to glow with a dazzling light.

Her eyes became piercing, as if she could see through all illusions.

She clasped her hands together and began to gather photon energy. Dazzling beams of light began to appear around her body, and these beams of light intertwined into a huge light network in the air, as if to cover the entire sky.

Tony activated the weapon system on the Ark spacecraft.

Laser beams shot out from all corners of the spacecraft, heading towards the Saiyan's Qigong wave. The laser beam and Qigong wave collided in the air, causing a deafening explosion.

However, the power displayed by Saiyan's Qigong waves is frightening. They are like violent giant dragons, tumbling wantonly in the air, releasing energy that destroys the world.

Those laser beams emitted from the Ark spaceship looked so pale in front of the Qigong waves. They are like candles swept by strong winds, easily swallowed up by the Qigong waves and broken into countless tiny points of light.

The Qigong waves continued to attack the Ark spaceship unstoppably, and every impact made people's hearts beat faster and their blood surge. The Ark spaceship was swaying under the impact of the Qigong waves, as if it would crash at any time.

At this moment, Carol's photon energy blast was finally ready to go. She closed her eyes tightly, took a deep breath, and concentrated all her strength on her hands. Then, she pushed forward suddenly, and a dazzling beam of light instantly shot out of her hand, meeting the Saiyan's Qigong wave.

The two forces collided fiercely in the air, like the collision of two stars, bursting out with dazzling light. The entire sky seemed to be illuminated by this power, and the dazzling light made it impossible to look directly. A huge explosion sounded, deafening, as if it was going to tear the whole world apart.

Where the Qigong wave collided with the photon energy impact, a huge energy vortex was created. The vortex spins wildly, swallowing everything around it. The atmosphere seemed to be sucked in by this force, forming a huge vacuum zone.

However, the Saiyan attacks did not stop. They seemed to be going crazy and continued to release Qigong waves crazily. Waves of qigong waves flew towards the Ark spaceship like raindrops, making people overwhelmed.

Tony and Captain Marvel tried their best to intercept, their laser beams and photon energy blasts and qigong waves colliding in the air again and again. Every collision is accompanied by huge energy fluctuations and deafening explosions, which is frightening.

The Ark spaceship was teetering in the air, as if it would crash at any time.

Tony and Captain Marvel tried their best to barely stabilize the flight trajectory of the spacecraft. Their faces were full of solemnity and tension, and they knew that this battle was far more difficult than they imagined.

But the Ark spaceships of those gentlemen did not receive such good treatment.

Tony felt that since they were so selfish, refused to help others, and only cared about themselves, then they should not expect to get help from others.

Their spaceship had neither the energy protection field of the Illuminati's Ark spaceship nor the protection of the vibranium shell. They could only watch the Saiyans' Qigong waves flying towards them, their hearts filled with fear and despair.

When the Qigong wave hit their spaceship, it was like a huge meteorite hitting the ground, and a brilliant light burst out instantly. The Ark spaceship disintegrated instantly under the impact of the Qigong wave, turning into a series of brilliant lights and disappearing in the sky.

The energy fluctuations generated by the explosion swept across the sky, as if to swallow up the whole world. The surrounding air seemed to be drained by this force, forming a vacuum zone.

And those rich people who were originally in the ship had disappeared without a trace at this moment, leaving only screams of fear and despair echoing in the air.

The Saiyans' attack did not stop because they destroyed a spaceship.

As if driven by some force, they continued to release Qigong waves frantically.

Chapter 576: Pursuit

The Qigong waves intertwined in the air, like countless silver dragons tumbling in the air, forming a dense barrage, rushing towards the Ark spaceship with a thunderous force. Each Qigong wave contained a powerful force, enough to destroy all obstacles in front of them.

Tony and Captain Marvel fought side by side, their eyes full of determination and indomitable spirit.

They tried their best to launch various attack methods such as laser beams, photon energy shocks, and energy fists to try to intercept these deadly Qigong waves. However, the strength of the Saiyans far exceeded their imagination, and the Qigong waves surged like a tide, making them overwhelmed.

The Ark spaceship shook violently under the impact of the Qigong waves, as if it would crash at any time. The passengers on the ship were terrified, and they held on to the objects around them tightly, fearing that they would be thrown out of the spaceship.

However, at this critical moment, Tony and Captain Marvel did not retreat at all. They knew that they were responsible for protecting the Ark spaceship and innocent lives, and they must do their best not to let any Qigong waves hit the spaceship.

Laser beams, photon energy shocks, energy fists...all kinds of attack methods were used together, colliding with the Saiyan's Qigong waves in the air.

This collision was more intense than any previous one.

The huge energy fluctuations and explosions were unbearable.

The entire sky seemed to be torn apart by this force, revealing a huge black hole.

In this fierce battle, the Ark spacecraft miraculously stabilized its flight trajectory.

Originally, in the face of the Saiyan's unparalleled power, these spacecraft seemed destined to be destroyed, but it seemed that there was some mysterious power guarding it.

Tony and Captain Marvel's efforts were not in vain. They tried their best to use all the resources on the Ark spacecraft to fight against the powerful external force.

Their sweat and tears intertwined and turned into a firm belief, and finally successfully protected the Ark spacecraft and those innocent lives.

At the same time, Loki and Ultron also noticed this dangerous situation.

They originally planned to launch an attack in the chaos, but the strength of the Saiyans was far beyond their imagination.

They knew that their strength was far inferior to that of the Saiyans, and staying here would only make them prey. So, they began to run away secretly, hoping to escape from this dangerous place.

Vegeta and Naba's combat power detectors immediately captured the actions of Loki and Ultron.

They noticed that the target, who was originally stationary and had a combat power of 6000, suddenly began to move, and was moving away from them.

This surprised them a little, because they originally thought that the other party would take the opportunity to attack, but unexpectedly chose to escape.

"Want to escape?"

Vegeta stared coldly at the data of the combat power detector, with a mocking arc at the corner of his mouth.

There was a trace of disdain in his eyes, as if these earthlings who tried to escape were just insignificant ants in his eyes.

"It's ridiculous, do they think they can escape our pursuit like this?"

Naba also sneered, and he shook his head mockingly, as if he found the earthlings' escape behavior very ridiculous.

In the Saiyans' concept, the weak should accept the rule of the strong, and any resistance and escape are futile.

They think they are the most powerful warrior race in the universe, and are full of contempt and ridicule for any behavior that dares to challenge their authority.

"They should have realized the huge gap between them and us."

Vegeta said coldly, his eyes revealing a sense of superiority.

He did not think that these earthlings could pose any threat to them, even if they escaped, it would be in vain.

However, for the Saiyans, beating the fallen dog is what they like most.

Especially this situation where the opponent's combat power is higher than his own, but he is obviously afraid of him, which makes Naba excited. He can't wait to catch up with Loki and Ultron and defeat them completely to show the strength and majesty of the Saiyans.

"Don't worry, let them escape."

Vegeta did not rush to act, he calmly observed the data changes on the combat power detector.

He stared at the combat power detector in his hand, looking at the combat power values of Loki and Ultron displayed on it, and a sneer appeared at the corner of his mouth.

"Although their combat power is high, their escape speed is very slow. We just need to chase them slowly and we can catch up with them."

Even if there is no Raditz, Vegeta and Naba will not let Loki and Ultron go, because they have gathered a lot of targets with high combat power, basically with combat power in the double digits, and it is speculated that they may be the core combat power and elites of this group of earthlings.

The Ark spacecraft that Tony and Captain Marvel desperately protect has only 1~2 points of combat power, or even no combat power. It is undoubtedly more valuable to Loki and Ultron.

Vegeta even thinks that this is a trick of the earthlings to deceive them and then protect more valuable earthlings.

"Vegeta, your plan is really good, bring them despair!"

Naba calmed down after hearing Vegeta's words.

He nodded, indicating that he agreed with Vegeta's plan.

So, Vegeta and Naba began to slowly chase Loki and Ultron.

They did not rush for success, but kept a certain distance to ensure that they could catch up with them at any time.

However, just as Vegeta and Napa prepared to give chase, Tony and Captain Marvel also discovered their movements.

They watched as Vegeta and Napa left as if they were in danger, chasing in the direction where Rocky and Ultron escaped.

"What the hell is going on?"

Tony asked confused, his brows knitted together.

Why did the Saiyans who were so aggressive about destroying them just now give up attacking them and start chasing others?

"Not sure."

Captain Marvel shook her head, her eyes equally confused. As an experienced warrior, she also felt that the Saiyans' behavior was a bit abnormal and did not seem to be in line with their style of conduct.

"But it seems like they've really given up on attacking us."

Tony confirmed again, feeling relieved in his heart.

Although they successfully stabilized the Ark spaceship, they still felt powerless in the face of the powerful Saiyans. If the Saiyans really gave up attacking them, that would be good news.

"Is it because we gave up on the Earth that they didn't bother to pursue us? After all, Raditz said that he came for the Earth."

Tony guessed.

"Maybe so."

Captain Marvel thinks it's very possible.

Chapter 577 Vibranium Raditz!

"But the most important thing now is to stabilize the flight trajectory of the Ark spacecraft and ensure that it can reach its destination safely."

Captain Marvel reminded her, her eyes revealing a firmness and determination.

She knew that although the Saiyans had left temporarily, the danger was not completely eliminated. Only by ensuring the safety of the Ark spacecraft can we protect those innocent lives.

As a result, the two once again devoted themselves to the work of stabilizing the spacecraft.

They used their professional knowledge and technology to carefully inspect various systems of the spacecraft, trying to find damaged parts and repair them. Although the task is daunting, they have no intention of giving up.

During the repair process, they also often pay attention to data changes. They know that the Saiyans may come back at any time, and they must remain vigilant and ready to deal with it at any time.

However, as time passed, they discovered that the Saiyans seemed to have really left.

There was no sign of the Saiyans on the detector anymore, as if they had really given up the pursuit.

This made both Tony and Captain Marvel feel a little incredible.

They didn't understand why the Saiyans suddenly changed their minds and gave up the pursuit of them. But regardless, this is good news. At least they were safe for the time being and could concentrate on repairing the ship.

Although their hearts are still full of confusion and confusion, they know that now is not the time to investigate the cause. They must seize the time to repair the spacecraft and ensure that it can reach its destination safely. Only in this way can those innocent lives be protected to the greatest extent from the Saiyans.

However, the damage to the Ark spacecraft was much more serious than they imagined. After careful inspection, Tony found that many key components of the spacecraft were severely damaged and almost beyond repair.

"No, the damage is too serious and there is no way to repair it."

Tony shook his head helplessly, his face full of disappointment and anxiety.

He knew that if the ship could not be repaired, all of their lives would be in great danger.

"We can only land."

Tony continued.

Time was running out, and they didn't dare to relax at all. Under Tony's command, everyone began to get busy. They divided the work and worked together. Some were responsible for repairing the damaged engine, some were responsible for adjusting the flight trajectory, and some were responsible for monitoring the status of the spacecraft.

Although their hearts were full of fear and uneasiness, they did not shrink back because they knew that only by persevering could hope come.

However, while they were trying to stabilize the ship, Vegeta and Napa caught up with Loki and Ultron.

Although Loki and Ultron's escape speed is very fast, it is still too slow compared to the Saiyans.

They were soon caught up by Vegeta and Napa.

"You guys run pretty fast."

Vegeta said with a sneer.

"It's a pity that this can't change your fate."

Nabal also added.

"How did they catch up?"

Luo Ji's pupils suddenly shrank, and her voice was full of confusion and incomprehension.

This question echoed repeatedly in her mind. Obviously they had taken so many precautionary measures, such as anti-radar coating and vibranium shell, which should have made their whereabouts traceless, but why, the two Saiyan warriors were still able to Hot pursuit?

Ultron was also lost in thought, and the flashing lights on his mechanical face seemed to be frantically calculating various possibilities. He couldn't understand that even though they had tried their best to hide their whereabouts, the results seemed not to be satisfactory.

"It's impossible to run away."

There was a hint of helplessness and despair in Ultron's tone. He understood that no matter how hard they tried, facing the two powerful Saiyan warriors, they seemed to have no chance of escaping.

"Get ready to fight!"

Ultron said to Luo Ji. Although his voice was calm, there was a trace of determination in it. They knew that what they were going to face next was a life and death battle.

Ultron, on the other hand, began to quickly analyze the situation. His mind was running very fast, trying to find out the weaknesses of his opponent. He knew that only by finding the opponent's flaws could they win this battle.

Facing two powerful Saiyan warriors, both Luo Ji and Ultron felt tremendous pressure. They knew that they were no match for these two guys.

However, they did not give up the idea of resistance. Rocky took a deep breath and prepared to fight the two Saiyans to the death.

"Let Raditz fight!"

Ultron said to Loki.

"Give me a chance, maybe I can control these two Saiyans."

Luo Ji still held the fake spiritual scepter that Luther had created in the past.

Even though Luther had separated the power of the Infinity Stones, the Mind Stone was not on Loki's scepter.

Ultron glanced at the Mind Scepter fearfully.

He had always been worried that he would be controlled by Luo Ji, so even if he transplanted the memory into the Saiyan body, Ultron also prepared an insurance measure for himself, a chip.

Once something is wrong with the data, it will be restarted directly and the memory will be formatted.

In this case, Luo Ji naturally couldn't do anything to Ultron.

The appearance of Raditz stunned both Vegeta and Napa.

They never expected that they would meet their former companion Raditz here.

"Raditz?"

Vegeta and Nabal shouted the name almost at the same time.

They couldn't believe their eyes that this useless person they had once looked down upon would actually appear here.

Shouldn't he be killed by the people on earth?

Raditz is wearing a brand new suit, which is made of sound-absorbing steel. It is not only extremely strong, but also able to absorb sound, making him even more difficult to detect in battle.

His eyes were full of determination and confidence, completely different from his previous self.

His injured body was repaired using the Cradle of Life technology, which also gave him vibranium cells, greatly increasing his physical strength.

"6000 combat power?"

Nabal's combat power detector showed Raditz's combat power value, which made him feel unbelievable. Raditz's combat power actually reached 6,000, which was simply an astronomical number.

"Vegeta, what's going on?"

Nabal couldn't help but ask, his heart filled with jealousy and doubt.

Vegeta folded his hands and frowned, he couldn't explain all this. Raditz's changes were so great that he couldn't understand what was going on.

"Vegeta, Nabal, it's been a long time no see."

Raditz spoke coldly, his voice full of sarcasm and provocation.

"Raditz, did you betray us?"

Vegeta asked in a deep voice, a cold light flashing in his eyes.

Chapter 578 Raditz VS Nabal

"betray?"

Raditz's voice was filled with disdain, as if the word was just a joke to him.

"No, you are wrong. I did not betray anyone, I just found my true destination, fell into the arms of my master, and became my master's warrior!"

Raditz's words stunned Vegeta and Napa, they couldn't believe their ears.

Raditz actually said that he was a warrior from Earth? How is this possible?

Vegeta and Napa are both elite warriors among the Saiyans. They have received strict training since childhood, and their hearts are filled with the desire for power.

In their minds, the Saiyans should be the most powerful warriors in the universe. How could they be controlled by these weak earthlings?

However, the facts are before our eyes, and Raditz's changes have already explained everything.

His strength, his suit, and his confidence were all unprecedented.

There must be some secret behind this.

"What a waste, actually controlled by people on earth."

Nabal said dissatisfiedly, his heart filled with contempt for Raditz.

This is an insult to them and a provocation.

There was a chill in Vegeta's eyes, and he stared at Raditz closely, as if he wanted to penetrate him with his gaze.

As a Saiyan prince, he has received strict training since he was a child, and his heart is full of desire for power and disdain for the weak.

He couldn't tolerate anyone's insults to the Saiyans, and he couldn't accept a former compatriot becoming a lackey of the people on Earth.

"However, what have the people on earth done to allow a loser like Raditz to gain such powerful power?"

A trace of greed flashed in Nabal's eyes, and he began to take a keen interest in the people on Earth.

Vegeta said nothing, but the same light shone in his eyes.

Vegeta and Napa looked at each other, seeing shock and greed in each other's eyes.

They begin to realize that these Earthlings may be more valuable than they thought.

If they can master the secret of this power increase, their combat effectiveness will be greatly improved.

"You don't understand. The power my master has given me is beyond your imagination."

Raditz said proudly.

"Master? Who is the master you are talking about?"

Vegeta asked in a deep voice, his heart filled with doubts and curiosity.

"Haha, you don't need to know the identity of the master, because soon you will become the master's slaves!"

Raditz laughed, his voice full of confidence and arrogance.

Vegeta and Napa looked at each other, and both saw anger and murderous intent in each other's eyes. They could not accept this insult and provocation, and decided to teach Raditz a lesson for betraying the Saiyans.

"I haven't seen you for so long. I didn't expect you to be the same."

Raditz said looking at the two of them with disdain.

"It seems that you have been carried away by your own strength and are not aware of the huge gap between us. Raditz, I am a superior soldier! I am different from this waste!"

Nabal said with a sneer.

His words were full of disdain and ridicule for Raditz, as if he had seen the misery of the opponent's defeat.

"Stop talking nonsense, Nabal, let's do it!"

Vegeta said impatiently.

His words were full of murderous intent, as if he wanted to tear Raditz into pieces.

Naba nodded. Naba was very confident. So what if Raditz had a combat power of 6,000? In other words, Naba was still a little wary of the existence of this 6,000 combat power before, but after discovering that the other party was actually Raditz, Naba I relaxed immediately.

Even if you only have 4,000 combat power, you can still win against a loser like Raditz!

His figure disappeared instantly, leaving only an afterimage.

His speed was extremely fast, like a bolt of lightning piercing the sky, and he was in front of Raditz in an instant.

He punched out fiercely, and the fist contained astonishing power, as if he was going to blow Raditz into pieces.

However, Raditz seemed to have been prepared. He smiled slightly and moved his body to easily avoid Nabal's attack.

"The speed is good, but the power is far from it."

Raditz said contemptuously, his eyes full of disdain for Nabal.

When Nabal saw this, he was shocked.

He didn't expect Raditz to be so fast, and that he could easily dodge his attack.

But he did not give up and continued his attack. His body flashed, his fists and kicks were added, and every attack was full of power and killing intent.

However, no matter how he attacks, Raditz can easily dodge and counterattack from time to time, making Naba very troublesome.

"It seems that this is all you really have, Nabal."

Raditz mocked.

His words angered Nabal again, and he roared suddenly and rushed towards Raditz with all his strength.

This time, he was faster and more powerful, as if he was going to tear Raditz into pieces.

"Bang!"

There was a loud bang and the blast of air was like a heavy bomb exploding, and a street-wide shock wave instantly shattered everything.

Nabal's pupils shrank, and his fist was grabbed by Raditz with one hand, and it was as steady as a mountain, as solid as a rock, and could not move even an inch!

"Is this your power? What a weak fist."

The corners of Raditz's evil and savage mouth rose.

"Arrogant!"

Nabal roared angrily and attacked again unwillingly.

The two figures crossed in the air, punching each other and kicking each other.

Each of their attacks was as powerful as thunder.

"Bang!"

Nabbah's fist hit Raditz's chest hard, but it seemed to hit a hard stone, and the rebounding force made his arm feel sore and numb.

"What?"

Nabbah was shocked.

He felt that his punch was like a drop in the ocean, and did not cause any trouble to Raditz at all. On the contrary, after the sound-absorbing steel suit absorbed the kinetic energy, it directly released a shock wave, allowing Nabbah to bear the power of his attack.

The double defense of Raditz's sound-absorbing steel suit and the vibranium cells in his body made Nabbah's punch no different from tickling Raditz in the case of a huge gap in combat power.

Then, Raditz seemed to be prepared. He moved his body and easily dodged Nabbah's attack, and instantly appeared behind him.

"What?"

Nabas was shocked. He didn't expect Raditz to be so fast that he couldn't even see his figure clearly.

At this moment, Raditz suddenly launched a counterattack.

His fist slammed into Nabas' back, and the powerful force made Nabas feel a sharp pain.

"Ah!"

Nabas screamed, and the whole person flew backwards like a kite with a broken string, and hit a building heavily, smashing it to pieces.

Chapter 579 Vegeta takes action

Dust rose up and gravel flew. The aftermath of the battle continuously impacted the surrounding ground, making the entire battlefield devastated. Naba was lying in the ruins, his face as pale as paper, and his breath was so weak that it was almost unnoticeable. His eyes were full of unwillingness and anger, as if he could not accept that he would be defeated so miserably.

In the distance, Raditz stood quietly, his eyes full of disdain and ridicule. He looked at Naba coldly, as if he had regarded this former opponent as an insignificant loser.

"Is this your strength? It's so weak." Raditz sneered, his voice full of contempt and ridicule.

Hearing this, Naba's anger was ignited again. He struggled to get up from the ground and roared: "Don't underestimate me! I haven't lost yet!" His voice was full of unyielding and firmness, as if he wanted to prove his strength with his actions.

However, Raditz just sneered, his figure disappeared instantly, and when he appeared again, he had come to Naba. His movements were swift and accurate, like a flash of lightning across the sky.

This time, Raditz didn't give Naba any chance. His fist hit Naba's chest hard, and a powerful force burst out instantly.

"Bang!"

With a deafening noise, Naba's chest instantly caved in, and a mouthful of blood gushed out. His body flew backwards like a kite with a broken string, and fell heavily to the ground.

This time, Naba never got up again. He lay on the ground, staring at the sky with his eyes blankly, as if he had seen his doomsday. His heart was full of reluctance and despair, and he couldn't accept that he had lost to Raditz like this.

Raditz looked at him coldly, as if he was looking at a dead person. His eyes were full of indifference and ruthlessness, as if he had already put Naba's life and death aside.

"What a waste!"

Vegeta, who was far away, saw this scene, and his face instantly became ugly.

He originally thought that Naba could defeat Raditz, but he didn't expect that Naba was so vulnerable and was severely injured by Raditz.

Vegeta's heart was full of anger and disappointment.

Even though the difference in combat power between the two was two thousand, this was not the result of Naba, a superior warrior, losing.

He felt that Naba, a waste, was not worthy of being his companion, let alone being a member of the Saiyans.

Vegeta wanted to kill Naba, a waste, but he still held back this idea. After all, it was different from the situation of Dragon Ball. Vegeta still needed Naba, a Saiyan, to help him deal with many things and fight.

In the original plot, Vegeta would kill Naba, simply because he felt that he didn't need Naba anymore. As long as he killed the earthlings and got the Dragon Balls to make a wish, he could get immortality, so there was no need to keep Naba.

"Vegeta, save me..." Naba asked Vegeta for help, his voice weak and trembling.

"Waste, get out of the way!"

Vegeta said dissatisfiedly.

He took a deep breath, suppressed the anger in his heart, and turned his eyes to Raditz.

Loki and Ultron were very excited.

Loki didn't say anything, but her eyes were full of expectation and excitement.

She watched Raditz wreak havoc on the battlefield, as if she saw the future in which she controlled everything.

"Radiz is so powerful?"

Ultron said in disbelief. He and Loki thought that Raditz was no match for the two Saiyans. After all, the power displayed by these two Saiyans was too powerful.

Unexpectedly, Raditz actually defeated one of the Saiyans. Would the other Saiyan be defeated by Raditz?

Even if it doesn't work, it should be possible with her own Saiyan army, right?

Loki pretended to be profound and said nothing, but her heart was turbulent.

She understood that all this was the result of her plan working.

She successfully used the power of Raditz to defeat the powerful Saiyan warrior. This made her full of confidence in her plan.

"It seems that our plan is about to succeed."

Loki thought to herself. She had already planned everything, including using Raditz to defeat Vegeta and Napa, and then using her Saiyan army to completely control the earth.

Now, everything is going according to her plan.

She only needs to wait for Raditz to defeat Vegeta, and then she can declare her victory.

Ultron sent out his Saiyan army to help Raditz defeat the remaining Vegeta.

Vegeta was very surprised to see a large number of Saiyans appear, especially these Saiyans looked like mass-produced.

The lower-level warriors of the Saiyan race are almost the same as copy and paste, and they look basically the same, so Vegeta thought they were a group of lower-level warriors, but he quickly reacted.

Vegeta looked at the large number of Saiyans in front of him, and his heart was full of shock and anger.

He couldn't accept the fact that these earthlings dared to clone Saiyans, which was an insult and provocation to the Saiyan race. The anger in his heart burned fiercely, as if he wanted to swallow up the whole world.

"You Earthlings are so arrogant!"

Vegeta roared, his voice echoing in the empty ruins, seeming particularly terrifying and majestic.

However, facing his roar, Loki and Ultron were not afraid at all.

They knew that their plan was half successful. As long as they could defeat the remaining Vegeta, they would be able to control the entire situation and achieve their goals.

The battle broke out again, and Raditz and the Saiyan Corps joined forces to attack Vegeta.

Raditz said it easily, but in fact he was still very aware of Vegeta's horror.

Under the command of Ultron, the Saiyan Corps rushed towards Vegeta like a tide.

Although they were not strong individually, they were numerous and cooperated well.

Seeing this, Vegeta sneered. He did not take these cloned Saiyans seriously, but just regarded them as a group of rabble. He gathered a powerful energy and prepared to defeat these enemies in one fell swoop.

"Go to hell!"

Vegeta roared, and a powerful Qigong wave came out of his hand and blasted towards the cloned Saiyan Corps.

The Qigong wave exploded instantly, and the cloned Saiyan Corps was hit by this powerful energy wave.

Although they had bodies made of vibranium, they still seemed vulnerable in front of Vegeta's powerful force. They fell from the sky one after another, landing on the ground like dumplings.

This was because their bodies were all made of vibranium cells, otherwise, Vegeta's blow would be enough to turn them into ashes and leave nothing behind.

Chapter 580 Control

Loki and Ultron looked at the scene in front of them in disbelief, which overturned their expectations.

The Saiyan army they carefully prepared should have swept everything like a storm, completely crushing Vegeta, the so-called powerful enemy.

However, the reality is that those mass-produced Saiyan warriors seemed so vulnerable in front of Vegeta, as if they were just insignificant grains of sand, which were blown away by a gust of wind.

Although the mass-produced Saiyan warriors did not die, they were lying on the ground at this moment, unable to move.

Their eyes were full of fear and confusion, and they didn't understand why their strength was so weak in front of Vegeta.

And at this moment, Raditz saw an opportunity.

As a leader among the Saiyans, he was naturally unwilling to just watch Vegeta show off his power. He took a deep breath, and his figure instantly turned into a residual shadow and rushed towards Vegeta.

However, Vegeta just sneered.

His eyes revealed a kind of disdain and contempt.

"You want to challenge me?"

His fighting power is as high as 18,000!

It is three times that of Raditz.

The next moment, Vegeta's figure suddenly disappeared.

He was so fast that even Loki and Ultron could not catch him. When they found Vegeta again, he had already appeared in front of Raditz.

I saw Vegeta punching out, and the wind of the fist was whistling, with an unmatched force.

Although Raditz reacted quickly, he was still a step slower.

He could only watch Vegeta's fist hit his face.

"Bang!"

A loud noise sounded, and Raditz was hit by Vegeta's punch and flew back, falling heavily to the ground.

Blood flowed from the corners of his mouth, and a painful expression appeared on his face.

By observing the battle between Napa and Raditz just now, Vegeta had realized that Raditz's battle suit seemed to be wrong. He aimed at the part of Raditz exposed outside the battle suit-the head and the joints of his hands and feet.

These places are Raditz's weaknesses, and they are also the places where he cannot protect with his battle suit.

Vegeta flashed and appeared behind Raditz again, punching him hard on the back of his head.

Raditz only felt a huge force coming, and the whole person was like being hit by a heavy hammer, his eyes went black, and he almost fell to the ground. He barely stabilized his body and wanted to fight back, but Vegeta had already launched an attack again.

This time, Vegeta did not give Raditz any chance.

He punched continuously, and each punch hit Raditz's weakness accurately. Raditz could only passively withstand Vegeta's attack. His battle suit was already broken and his body was covered with scars.

Seeing this, Loki and Ultron were shocked.

They did not expect that Vegeta's strength would be so strong.

Even Raditz, who had just defeated another Saiyan, seemed so vulnerable in front of Vegeta.

Vegeta looked coldly at Raditz who was lying on the ground, as if he was looking at an insignificant ant.

A mocking smile appeared on his face.

"Is this what you call the Saiyan Army? It's ridiculous!"

Loki and Ultron were targeted by Vegeta, and they had no way to escape.

"There's no other way, we can only try to control him by force!"

Loki raised the Mind Staff and released the power of telepathy.

However, facing a strong man like Vegeta, Loki was not completely sure.

She could only try her best, hoping to find a chance.

Vegeta did not give them too much time. He moved and rushed towards Loki and Ultron in an instant.

His speed was very fast, like a flash of lightning that broke through the sky.

Then, his hand passed through Loki's head.

"Huh?"

Vegeta was deceived by Loki's phantom magic. Before he could find Loki's existence, the Mind Staff touched his chest.

Originally, Luther's revised version of the Mind Scepter did not need to be touched to produce an effect, and it was a large-scale group control effect, but Vegeta was too strong, and Loki was worried that the long-distance control was not stable enough.

So she chose close contact.

An invisible force surged out of the Mind Scepter and quickly invaded Vegeta's brain.

Loki felt that her mental power had a subtle connection with Vegeta's consciousness, and she tried to control Vegeta's actions through this connection.

However, Vegeta's strength was far beyond that of ordinary people. He soon noticed Loki's intention and tried to resist this control force.

A trace of anger and unwillingness flashed in his eyes, but he was eventually suppressed by Loki's mental power.

Loki felt that her mental power was gradually consuming, but she did not give up. She knew that she had to hold on, otherwise once she lost control of Vegeta, the consequences would be disastrous.

Ultron attacked Vegeta. Although his attack was not even as good as dust for Vegeta, it could distract Vegeta!

Especially at this time.

Vegeta didn't struggle for long before he was controlled.

"Master!"

He said respectfully to Loki.

"Not bad, not bad."

Loki was very excited.

"Vegeta!"

Naba's pupils shrank, and he looked at Vegeta in disbelief. He was controlled just like that?

"There is another one. Although he is not a match for Raditz, we can't waste it."

Loki was overjoyed and asked Vegeta to subdue Naba, and then she could control Naba.

In the distance, a girl who had just changed into her appearance costume saw this scene.

"Hey, it seems that I don't need to appear?"

Ganata looked at this scene with some surprise.

She was still thinking about her own appearance, and then eating Vegeta and Naba, two Saiyans who looked delicious.

As a result, it ended so quickly, and Vegeta and Naba were also controlled.

Ganata actually cares about what the future of the earth will be like. First of all, it cannot affect her "life".

As an "ordinary person", Ganata still enjoys her other identity.

Therefore, as long as the order and civilization do not change too much, Ganata is too lazy to intervene.

Her power is too strong. For many superheroes, the enemies who are a headache for Ganata can be solved by just opening her mouth.

However, she will not be so rude, but will use the "tableware" prepared by her father for her very elegantly.

Ganata does not know that Loki wants to rule the world because she is not interested.

"Saiyan!!!"

Just then, there was a loud bang in the sky, and Thor appeared in a flash!

After receiving the signal sent by Tony before, Thor could only go to Earth when he couldn't find the Dark Elves.
