

Kryptonian 61

Chapter 61 Destroying the Demon Queen

You know, learning and data transmission are not the same thing.

Learning also includes reading comprehension, and data transmission is just copying.

Morgana was very surprised by the computing power of Luther's supercomputer and gene engine system. She transmitted so fast, and almost didn't know how many TB of data information per second, but Luther accepted it all, which showed that the computing power of his supercomputer and gene engine system was not worse than hers!

What a concept, you know, Morgana is a fourth-generation divine body, and all the configurations have been upgraded.

Even if she didn't dare to accept the overall operation of the God of Death Carl, she transformed the fourth-generation divine body technology herself, and then completed the upgrade, so she might not have as high data as the template originally given by the God of Death Carl.

But the configuration of the fourth-generation divine body is not something that any third-generation god can compare to!

This is still within Morgana's acceptable range. Maybe the Kryptonian civilization is a little special?

However, what shocked Morgana even more was that Luther would take the time to ask her a few key questions from time to time. If she didn't read and understand the previous information, she couldn't ask these questions.

It was precisely because of this that Morgana was shocked.

She had seen many powerful scientific research gods. Apart from others, the two most powerful scientific research gods in the known universe, including the missing space principal and the time god Jilan, were the most powerful.

Morgana herself was also a very high-level scientific research god, but she was sure that even He Xi and the death god Carl would not be able to understand and digest these materials so quickly when they first came into contact with them!

With this ability to understand and digest knowledge, Luther himself is also one of the top scientific research gods in the known universe.

"Where did you come from, freak?"

Morgana said tremblingly. She began to tremble because of insufficient energy, not because of fear. At this point, Morgana already knew that she had no use value to Luther.

The fourth-generation divine body was obtained by Luther, and she gave him the fourth-generation divine body technology of the big clock given by the death god Carl and her own fourth-generation divine body technology of the space-time wormhole. Facing the threat of death, Morgana had no choice.

Her idea was that Luther would not be able to understand after getting it, and he would have to beg her for help.

As a result, Luther was able to understand and digest it quickly!

"It seems that you already know your fate."

Luther looked at Morgana calmly.

"Bitch! Fuck you... Boom!!!"

Morgana wanted to scold Luther, but Luther naturally couldn't let her scold him. He was not a masochist and didn't have such a hobby and XP.

As Morgana's voice stopped abruptly, a huge pit deep into the core of Mars appeared on the spot.

Luther's Qigong wave was merciless, and he even secretly dispersed his atoms in other places on Mars because he was wary of Morgana. This wave covered hundreds of kilometers around.

Super vision observed the changes in the surrounding atoms to ensure that the Qigong wave completely destroyed everything of Morgana.

"In this case, even if Morgana is resurrected, it is not the complete resurrection of dark matter and dark data."

Luther was thoughtful. The gods in the Super Seminary were not so easy to die.

There are usually several ways to resurrect.

For example, there is [Dark Matter Information Resurrection], which means the material information of the self is retained in the dark plane.

[Pure Dark Data Resurrection without Dark Matter] does not retain dark matter, but only retains the resurrection of dark plane information data. Usually, gods will use this method to resurrect, because their dark plane information is everywhere.

Then the Holy Kesha showed a new method that frightened Morgana in the original plot, which is to completely erase the dark data and dark plane information!

That is, Morgana has forever lost the demon named "Agou" who blocked the knife for her. Of course, if she herself is hit, she will disappear completely.

[Physical Data Resurrection] means the resurrection of the data of the existing real plane without the operation of the dark plane.

It is usually a method used by a civilization to resurrect its own gods and super soldiers. Even Ajie, the clone, is almost the same, but Ajie's "resurrection" is not complete.

[Backup Data Resurrection] This is the backup data stored in the supercomputer.

The resurrection of the sub-biological engine of Angel Yan, Angel Zhixin and Angel Zhui is also similar.

Luther was decisive in killing. He killed every time he saw her. Anyway, it was hard to say that the resurrected Morgana was the original Morgana. Luther himself did not believe this.

At most, he could just treat her as Orochimaru, but the average Orochimaru was too disgusting.

More importantly, Orochimaru had a weakness. If he killed too many, his soul would die. It would be difficult to completely wipe him out in the Super Seminary, especially when a god was prepared.

You said Morgana was not prepared?

How could it be possible? She had been hunted by Holy Kesha for so many years. If she had not been prepared, she would have been destroyed by Holy Kesha long ago.

"Does she dare to come to Blue Star again?"

Luther thought about this question. Logically speaking, with such a fierce god like him on Blue Star, Morgana should have stayed away.

Maybe he changed the plot of Super Seminary.

But Morgana was behind... No, there was a licker under her crotch. It was hard to say that the God of Death Carl would give up Morgana, the fragrant bait. He had prepared for many years to make Holy Kesha bow out, and he also linked up with the Fiery Sun Civilization.

It's just that the Lieyang Civilization agreed to cooperate, but they will not appear in front of Holy Kesha.

Holy Kesha relies on her unparalleled computing power, and her Silver Wing Domain is everywhere she can see. In fact, it's even more exaggerated, because her Silver Wing Domain can actually cover the range she can observe and perceive.

Beyond visual range strikes are easy, He Xi can send a Star Fate to hunt Morgana for several years. The Star Fate is just a dark silver weapon equipped with a god-killing engine. The specific wormhole transportation and operation are all done by He Xi himself.

Facing the Silver Wing Domain, there are currently no gods and super soldiers in the known universe that can resist it.

Luther is now studying the fourth generation of divine bodies, so he temporarily puts this problem aside, but it is certain that Morgana will still come.

Then it will be fine to kill her again at that time.

At this moment, Luther's eyes suddenly looked in the direction of the blue star.

"The light of the sun... Lena."

He felt a huge breath of dark energy, full of the feeling of the rising sun, and the light was so bright that even his own cells became somewhat active.

The amount of dark energy can directly distinguish the strength. After all, others can use 100 units of dark energy at a time and store 1,000 units of dark energy, while you can only output 1 unit of dark energy at a time and store 10 units of dark energy.
