

Kryptonian 67

Chapter 67 Chopping melons and vegetables

Luther didn't expect that he would encounter a peak beast body delivered to his door just by walking down the street.

There are also Atuo, a group of demons and gluttons.

"No, there is no problem in Huangcun...could it be resurrected using energy and matter?"

Luther was thoughtful. He paid attention to Qilin and Huangcun, just waiting for Morgana to appear again and kill her again.

But Morgana and her subordinates all showed up, and there were no large-scale disappearances in the Celestial Empire.

"It's impossible. Morgana is so poor. How can she get the resources to play like this? She probably found a scapegoat from another country."

Luther shook his head and joked, if Morgana was so rich, her demon army would be more than just these people.

Just resurrecting these subordinates consumes enough resources for Morgana to add hundreds of new second-generation demon warriors.

Coupled with the fact that there is a cheaper technology to resurrect the scapegoat, how could Morgana not do this.

However, since he is not resurrected by someone from the Geng Dynasty, Luther seems to have no reason to target Morgana and the others.

That's weird!

Luther appeared instantly, and before Atuo and the others could react or say anything, Luther raised his hand and fired a bolt of lightning!

Qi can be transformed into the electric attribute of the Ten Thousand Kingdoms Shocking Palm, and naturally it can also be transformed into flames, ice, etc. After some research, Luther developed Qi with electrical effects.

Atuo, who was struck by this lightning, exploded on the spot due to the electric heating and current effects. His body was carbonized or even scorched to varying degrees. Moreover, this lightning also caused a chain reaction, and nearby demons and Taotie were all affected by this. A winding bolt struck.

"Chain lightning!"

It was only at this moment that the creepy crackling sound of lightning penetrating the air reached everyone's ears.

Luther, who instantly killed the demon and the glutton with a bolt of lightning, appeared in front of the crocodile god Thorton at some point.

While Crocodile God Thorton was still stunned, Luther had already raised his sword finger, and his energy formed a lightsaber on the sword finger.

"Swish, swish, swish!"

The lightsaber, which was so fast that Crocodile God Thorton couldn't even see it, easily cut the Crocodile God Thorton into dozens of pieces, and then Luther packed them away.

The whole process takes no more than one minute.

Kryptonians with super speed are so perverted. Super speed, which is similar to the Speed Force, may not be as good as the Speed Force in other aspects, but in terms of speed alone, it can be said that the Speed Force is only a little stronger than the Super Speed.

Luther has no interest in Crocodile God Thorton, but he is interested in the peak beast body.

And he is just studying the structure of the peak beast body. Currently, there are no super genes that Luther can use. He is too lazy to find any super genes to research and then use transformation magic to mass-produce them.

It's not like just any cat or dog can be his subordinate. His subordinates must at least be strong enough to stand on their own. After all, he created them for the sake of cards, competition, and solving troubles, not to protect them himself.

Of course, Luther is not like Aizen and Yhwach, who just solve the problem if their subordinates can't solve it.

At present, there are not many choices of super genes that can stand alone. The second generation super genes are basically scum, and the third generation super genes can barely make a splash.

Whether it is the God of War of Nuoxing or the Power of the Galaxy, these three generations of super genes need permission to be unlocked in order to exert the performance of the real super genes. Without the permission to unlock, their performance is as seen in the original plot.

Then there is the peak beast body that can be shaken.

There is no super gene, but he is very strong and powerful. Apart from the fact that the whiteboard does not have as many abilities as Sun Wukong, he is just a super soldier. There are not many who can stop the crocodile god Thorton.

Luther would naturally not let it go if he came across such a big gift. Even if he didn't build it, there was nothing wrong with studying it.

Rudd will not use primitive super genes like Saiyan genes and Kryptonian genes to build his subordinates, because they do not have the ability to block their own dark plane information, and there is no gene lock, so these can easily leak out. Super genes.

Based on the research on genes in the super seminary world, there is no guarantee that anything will be mutated.

"Atuo and the others all showed up. It seems that Morgana has returned to Blue Star. Taotie didn't respond at all. They didn't send anyone to test Blue Star. They probably know my existence and are not sure whether I left Blue Star or not. , so you don't want to cause losses?"

Luther quickly analyzed a host of possibilities based on what happened today.

Di Leina came to Earth and activated all the super genes. The super genes were awakened when Ge Xiaolun and Liu Chuang were fighting each other, and then Taotie came to test them the next night.

But now these are gone. Ge Xiaolun and Liu Chuang have entered the Super Seminary for training. Taotie did not make a tentative attack, but directly released Crocodile God Thorton.

There are also two versions of the development of the crocodile god Thorton. The first version is that Taotie liberates himself, and the second version is that the devil follows Snow, the gravedigger of the Styx civilization, to conquer the crocodile god Thorton, and Morgana personally takes action. Easily defeat Crocodile God Thorton.

Seeing the devil and Taotie go out together this time, Luther was a little confused.

It seems that the dominance and command of the Taotie civilization were acquired later by the demon civilization from Karl, the god of death, right?

Then, because he violated the fact that demonic civilization does not allow the use of weapons above nuclear weapons, Atuo took a watermelon knife and chopped him from bow to stern.

"Is it my fault that led to their deep cooperation?"

Luther meant something profound. He was looking forward to what Morgana would do if she knew one of his men had been killed by him again.

"FAK!!!"

"Bichi!!! Carl, your grandson!!!"

Inside Demon One, there was a deafening roar.

Jean did not pursue the crocodile god Thorton and stayed on the Devil No. 1, so the devils who survived were a little embarrassed.

This was the first time in so many years that they had seen their queen so angry. One could imagine how stimulated their queen was.

However, Luther's terror also frightened them. This terror was different from that of Holy Kesha.

At the very least, Holy Kesha will not bully the small, but will only target her own queen, so they are desperate, but they still have the ability to resist.

Luther's words, he doesn't pay attention to this, he kills when he should, and he has no dignity at the level of a king!

They had witnessed with their own eyes how terrifying a king-level person without scruples could be.

The God of Death, Karl, did not expect that Luther would chop up the melons and vegetables of Morgana's men.

This person has no martial ethics!

It's fine now, and the peak beast body is gone.
