

Kryptonian 761

Chapter 761 Aizen appears in the world

Time flies, and time flies.

For a long time, Unohana Retsu has been silently accumulating murderous and fighting intentions. These emotions are boiling in her body like lava, waiting for the moment of eruption.

Now, these long-suppressed emotions have finally turned into fighting power, as violent and shocking as a volcanic eruption.

Unohana Retsu's eyes reveal an indescribable peace.

This is not ordinary calmness, but an extreme tranquility achieved in the heart after experiencing countless battles and life-and-death tests.

She seemed to have burned out, and put all her emotions and strength into the battle just now.

This state is called "burning out".

However, the "burning out" state is not without cost.

Although it can make Unohana Retsu burst out amazing power, it will also make her gradually lose her emotions.

Every time she uses Jiezhai, her emotions will decrease by one point.

To restore these emotions, it will take a longer time to adjust and recover.

But Unohana Retsu is a murderer and a slasher after all, and it is estimated that it will not take long for her to recover.

After completing his evolution, Kenpachi Zaraki became even more powerful.

He couldn't wait to find a strong opponent to challenge himself.

So he found Esdeath.

However, the result of this battle was beyond his expectations.

Esdeath's power was so strong that she could easily beat Kenpachi Zaraki with just one hand. The gap between the two sides was so big that they were simply not in the same dimension.

Ikkaku Madarame and other team members witnessed the whole process of the battle. They watched how Esdeath easily conquered Kenpachi Zaraki, a beast-like warrior.

The captain, who was originally thought to be invincible, seemed so vulnerable in front of Esdeath. This made them feel awe and fear of Esdeath's power.

However, Kenpachi Zaraki was not frustrated by this.

He laughed and said, "That woman is really strong, it's great."

He is such a person, always pursuing stronger opponents and more intense battles.

He was worried that he would become too strong and lose his opponent, but now it seems that his worries are unnecessary.

Esdeath was still like an abyss, and he couldn't look directly at or estimate her strength. Even if he defeated Esdeath, there was still the omniscient God King Luther waiting for his challenge.

This was the life he wanted.

"We have to get stronger as soon as possible!"

Ikkaku Madarame pulled out his Soul Blade and said.

"Otherwise, we won't be able to keep up with the captain."

He challenged Kenpachi Zaraki, hoping to improve his strength through fighting.

Kenpachi Zaraki gladly accepted the challenge.

Even though Ikkaku Madarame and the others were far inferior to him, he patiently let them go and gave them a chance to attack him.

Compared to the lively scene on the Death God side, the Arrancar side seemed a little deserted.

Stark, as the strongest Arrancar in theory, had no ambition to make progress, and only knew to enjoy life leisurely all day long.

After witnessing the battle between Kenpachi Zaraki and Esdeath, Bylergan fell into silence.

He realized that there was still a big gap between his strength and those strong men, so he began to work hard to practice and pursue a stronger power.

Other members of the Arrancar were also influenced by him and began to practice hard, hoping to become stronger.

In the chaotic world, Aizen Sosuke embarked on an unknown journey like a lonely explorer. He escaped from the world that once made him glorious but full of constraints, came to this new world, and began a new journey.

The world is a new starting point for Aizen, and he quickly locked his goal-the Fullbringer.

The Fullbringer, a little-known group in the world, is full of attraction to Aizen.

They are born with some special abilities, which are both mysterious and powerful. In Aizen's eyes, the Fullbringer is like an undiscovered treasure, waiting for him to discover the secrets.

Aizen did not rush to act, he first began to study the Fullbringer in depth.

It turns out that the Fullbringer does not have special abilities because of being attacked by the Hollow, but because they themselves have some special souls or soul characteristics, which will attract the attention of the Hollow.

The reason why the Hollows attack the Fullbringers is that they can feel that they can get some benefits after devouring the Fullbringers.

This benefit may be an increase in strength or other unknown factors.

After learning this truth, Aizen couldn't help but develop a strong interest in the Fullbringers.

He began to take the initiative to contact these special humans, trying to understand their inner world and the source of their power.

He used his outstanding personality charm and speech skills to successfully attract the attention of the Fullbringers and make them his fans.

Under Aizen's guidance, the Fullbringers began to believe in his ideas and were willing to work for him.

They followed Aizen's footsteps.

However, Aizen was not satisfied with this.

With a deeper understanding of the Fullbringers, Aizen gradually discovered the secrets in their bodies.

It turns out that the special abilities of the Fullbringers did not come out of thin air, but from a special substance in their souls.

This substance exists in the souls of the Fullbringers and gives them special abilities.

However, when this substance is extracted, the special abilities of the Fullbringers will disappear and they will become ordinary people.

After discovering this secret, Aizen began to conduct more in-depth research on the Fullbringers.

He used the technology of Urahara Kisuke's past research, which he investigated in the Great Spirit Book Corridor, to directly intervene in the soul to extract foreign substances, and successfully extracted this special substance from the soul of the Fullbringer.

After these substances were extracted, they were immediately absorbed by the Hogyoku.

After absorbing these substances, the Hogyoku became more active and powerful.

However, this also means that the Fullbringers have lost their original special abilities.

They have become ordinary people and can no longer use the Fullbring.

Aizen did not feel the slightest guilt or pity for this.

In his view, these Fullbringers are just tools for him to achieve his goals. Their value has been squeezed out, so naturally there is no need for them to exist.

"It is their honor to contribute to the Hogyoku, and from now on they will not be attacked by Hollows."

At this time, Aizen has embedded the Hogyoku in himself and has the ability to regenerate.

Because of the effect of the "Hengyu", the "soul combination exchange" began, and it has almost completed the combination with the Hengyu.

The spiritual pressure has exceeded the limit of the god of death.

Chapter 762 Automatic Pathfinding and Aizen Suppression Team

However, Aizen Sosuke knew that his current strength was far from his ultimate goal.

The pressure brought by the omniscient God King and the God of Destruction Esdeath, like two insurmountable mountains, weighed heavily on his heart.

But he understood that this was just the beginning of his journey to the top, and he was destined to surpass them, it was just a matter of time.

There was no satisfaction in Aizen's eyes. He looked at the sky outside the window, as if he could penetrate the endless void and see farther.

"Omniscient God King, are you really unsurpassable?"

Aizen whispered to himself, his voice full of firmness and persistence.

There was a light flashing in Aizen's eyes, which was the desire for power and the pursuit of transcendence.

He understood that his strength was far from enough, and he needed more power and more evolution.

At this time, Esdeath found Luther and confided to him her recent boredom. Although she had great power, she could not find an opponent who could match her. She longed for stronger challenges and more intense battles.

Hearing Esdeath's words, Luther smiled slightly.

He understood Esdeath's mood and what she needed.

So, he made a suggestion to Esdeath: "In that case, you should go to the real world to find Aizen Sosuke."

"Aizen Sosuke?"

Esdeath frowned.

"He has begun to fuse the Hogyoku, and in terms of power, he has surpassed the God of Death."

Luther continued.

Luther felt that it was not bad for Esdeath to put pressure on Aizen Sosuke to evolve.

He just observed and knew that Aizen Sosuke was currently in the Hogyoku awakening period.

What was different was that this time the Hogyoku absorbed a large amount of Soul King fragments.

Almost all the fullbringers in the real world were caught by Aizen Sosuke, and all the Soul King fragments in their bodies were taken out to feed the Hogyoku, making this Hogyoku condense a very exaggerated Soul King power.

Maybe it can evolve to the anniversary form in the official game, that is, the Hogyoku 6 form.

It's too boring to wait for the slow fusion of Hougyoku and Aizen. It's better to let Esdeath stimulate Aizen directly.

Aizen can evolve because he has the potential to evolve to Hougyoku V, but this doesn't mean that Aizen can evolve infinitely and become stronger.

First of all, the official book says that Hougyoku V is the final form of Hougyoku and Aizen. This is the upper limit of Aizen's evolution in Hougyoku. The bloody battle later was Aizen's gradual strengthening of his basic body with Hougyoku V.

Now that Hougyoku has become stronger, Aizen may surpass Hougyoku V.

Esdeath listened to Luther's words, and a glimmer of excitement flashed in her eyes. She was eager for a challenge and a fight, and Aizen Sosuke was exactly the opponent she needed.

So, she agreed to Luther's proposal without hesitation.

However, Esdeath also faced a problem-she didn't know where Aizen Sosuke was.

Hueco Mundo does have a clear destination, as long as she knows where the Hueco Mundo is, but the real world is a strange world for her.

Luther saw Esdeath's confusion, and he snapped his fingers lightly, and Esdeath felt as if there was something in her eyes.

It was a special ability - automatic pathfinding, and the target was Aizen Sosuke.

Hearing that Esdeath was going to the real world to find Aizen, the Arrancar and Kenpachi Zaraki did not let go of the Death God.

It's just that both the Soul City and the God World need someone to guard, so in the end, only the strongest few people were gathered to form the "Aizen Crusade Team" to go to the real world.

The God World then has another God Gate, and the God Gate leading to the real world will transform everyone's body into a "God Body".

"God Body" can be understood as a kind of artificial body but a body that surpasses the artificial body.

It does not need to be separated like the artificial body to use the power of the soul and spirit body, and the spiritual pressure is completely gathered in the body, which will not have any impact on the surrounding souls.

So there is no need to perform a limited seal like the Death God.

It can be said to be very convenient, and the divine body can be seen by humans.

Esdeath naturally would not feel any difference, she was originally a living person, but others such as Kenpachi Zaraki and Bylergan felt it very clearly.

This time, Bylergan was the Arrancar who took the initiative to come to the Aizen crusade team, and the other Arrancars did not move.

Black Hollow also came, and the black hollow after the Arrancar fought with Bylergan to decide who would be the leader of the Arrancar.

In this battle, Bylergan lost miserably. The black hollow after the Arrancar was able to devour his corrosive power, even if the black hollow did not have the ability to return to the blade.

But the devouring power of the black hollow is stronger than the ancient great hollow that Bylergan had seen, "Yi Ji Si Ji Ba" whose name had been erased by Ichibei Hyoshubu!

This ancient great hollow is an Achukas-level great hollow. He does not accept Vastode, and thinks that Vastode is not what a hollow should be like, so he has always maintained the appearance of Achukas.

As the saying goes, there can't be two tigers in one mountain, unless one is male and one is female.

His presence naturally attracted the presence of Bylergan, the overlord of Hueco Mundo, and the two inevitably fought.

However, the two were equally strong, and there was no clear winner, so they did not interfere with each other afterwards.

Think about this ancient Hollow who could fight Bylergan, who had the power of aging and death, to a draw. This strength should not be underestimated.

Black Hollow is more terrifying. No matter how strong the devouring ability of Jijijiba is, it is just a mouth. Black Hollow can summon countless dust-sized "biting mouths" with huge teeth to eat up the enemy.

These dust-sized "biting mouths" formed a black smoke-like fog, confronting Bylergan's power of decay head-on, and Bylergan lost.

Since then, Bylergan has been more eager to become stronger, but unfortunately, he has not been able to pull out his soul blade until now.

Then there is Kenpachi Zaraki, and there is no one else.

But the quality is also terrifyingly high. The three of them together are enough to sweep the Zero Division. If Hyoshubu Ichibei does not take action, the Zero Division together is not their opponent.

This is without Esdeath.

After all, Esdeath alone exceeds the total combat power of the Zero Division, and there are only a few people in the entire Death God world who can threaten Esdeath.

She is just as powerful as Captain-General Yamamoto in terms of simple panel strength.

"Let's go, we've found Aizen's location."

Esdeath glanced around, and the automatic navigation system showed a clear blue arrow in her eyes, pointing in a certain direction.

Esdeath smiled immediately.

Chapter 763: Soul King Power Ulquiorra!

No. 7 Ulquiorra!

Aizen Sosuke, the one known for his wisdom and strength, frowned at this moment, and there was an indescribable uneasiness in his eyes.

He was not the kind of person who was easily swayed by emotions, but at this moment, his heart was full of doubts and vigilance.

He suddenly felt a whim, and a strong intuition told him that something was wrong and something bad was about to happen.

However, this premonition was like a fog, making him elusive and unable to find its source.

He looked around, trying to find the source of this uneasiness.

Could it be that Urahara Kisuke and the Masked Corps in the real world were planning to deal with him?

This idea flashed through his mind, but he was quickly denied by himself.

He knew clearly that although Urahara Kisuke and the Masked Corps were strong enemies, they did not have enough power to threaten him.

What's more, he had already sent people to garrison and explore in the real world, and he knew their movements very well.

He recalled his plan to evacuate from Hueco Mundo to the real world, and every detail had been carefully considered.

He was confident that his plan was perfect and there could be no omissions.

However, this sudden sense of uneasiness was like a sharp sword hanging over his heart, making him unable to rest assured.

"So, what is the reason?"

Aizen Sosuke whispered to himself, his eyes wandering in the void, trying to find the answer.

At this moment, his eyes suddenly shrank.

Four people appeared in his sight at some point.

They were Bylergan, Kenpachi Zaraki, and a black hollow he had never seen before.

Standing in front of them was a woman with a rebellious face and aloofness - the God of Destruction Esdeath.

Their appearance shocked Aizen Sosuke.

He asked himself that he had a strong perception, but he didn't even notice their arrival.

This feeling of being approached silently made him feel an unprecedented crisis.

"When did they appear?"

Aizen Sosuke was secretly surprised.

He tried to sense their spiritual pressure, but strangely, even though they were standing in front of him, he still didn't feel any spiritual pressure fluctuations.

"Artificial body? No, this is impossible..."

A thought flashed through Aizen Sosuke's mind. He guessed that they might have used something similar to artificial body to hide their breath and spiritual pressure.

However, he quickly denied this guess.

Because even the most advanced artificial body cannot completely isolate the fluctuation of spiritual pressure. And these people can do this, obviously what they use is more advanced and mysterious than artificial body.

Aizen Sosuke's brows were furrowed deeper.

"Welcome to my present world."

Aizen Sosuke then said with a smile.

However, Esdeath just glanced at him coldly, then turned his head and said to Bylergan and Zarak Kenpachi: "Let's start."

"Aizen!"

Bylergan's hatred for Aizen was very great, so he rushed over directly.

"Byregan, it seems you have become a God of Destruction too."

Aizen sat firmly on the throne, seemingly not caring about Byregan's attack at all.

Byregan grinned, swung the double-edged giant axe, and was about to chop at Aizen's body when a black figure flashed by and Byregan was knocked away.

"Boom————"

With a loud bang, the figure revealed its true face.

Ulquiorra!

A loyal Arrancar under Aizen.

But at this moment, Ulquiorra has become different from before.

The bat wings behind him turned into two pairs of black wings, his whole body was pale, and the original hollow in his chest was filled with green and black bright substances. The green and black light continued to shine, and even the double horns on his head turned into green and black flame-shaped double horns.

"Ulquiorra?"

Byregan was surprised when he saw Ulquiorra like this.

He remembered that Ulquiorra's return to the blade form was not like this.

"Byregan? If you want to offend Lord Aizen, please come to me first."

The spiritual pressure released by Ulquiorra at this time is terrifying.

Byregan did not expect Ulquiorra to be so powerful.

This is the result of Aizen Sosuke's experiment with Hollows and Shinigami to see what the unknown substance in the body of the Fullbringer is.

The Hollows are Ulquiorra and Yammy, and the Shinigami are naturally Tosen Kaname and Ichimaru Gin.

After all, Aizen Sosuke will not rashly use such unknown substances. He will meet the needs of the Hogyoku and let it absorb these unknown substances after the experiment is successful.

Ulquiorra himself is the only Arrancar who can return to the second stage of the Blade. After absorbing the fragments of the Soul King, although he did not become the "Hougyoku Fusion·Ulquiorra" in the game, he also exceeded his own limit.

The current state can even be called the third stage of the Blade, and even the bat-like bat wings have become the black wings of a crow.

It is equivalent to reshaping the spirit body.

"Hmph, Ulquiorra, I didn't expect you to be so loyal to Aizen, but I will make you realize that I am the strongest."

Byregan said disdainfully.

Even though Ulquiorra's current spiritual pressure strength far exceeds his, Byregan does not think that he cannot defeat Ulquiorra.

Then Byregan returned to the blade and turned into a skeleton again.

"Come on, I won't let you get close to Aizen-sama!"

Ulquiorra was not afraid at all.

He had gained new power and had a way to fight against Bylergan's corrupt power.

The next moment, before Bylergan could react, Ulquiorra's fist had already landed on him.

This unimaginable speed was completely unexpected by Bylergan, and Esdeath's pupils shrank.

Because even she couldn't see Ulquiorra's speed clearly just now.

How is this possible?

Esdeath's mouth corners rose, and she realized that Ulquiorra was not simply too fast.

There must be something wrong.

Bylergan didn't realize this, he just thought Ulquiorra was too fast.

This is not a strange thing, because Ulquiorra's speed was very fast before.

"Do you think you are fast enough to defeat me?"

Bylergan said disdainfully.

He immediately covered himself with the power of decay, so that if Ulquiorra wanted to attack him, he would have to come into contact with his own power of decay first.

However, Ulquiorra did not stop him from doing so, he just looked at Bylergan coldly.

"Are you ready?"

He asked after Bylergan had finished everything he had done.

Bylergan did not know where Ulquiorra's confidence came from.

Chapter 764 Ulquiorra, Pure Power

"Are you asking me if I'm ready?"

Byregan's voice echoed in the empty hall, with a hint of sarcasm and disdain.

His eyes were like knives, piercing Ulquiorra across from him.

"I should ask you this question, are you ready, Ulquiorra!"

Byregan asked back.

Ulquiorra, a warrior known for his silence and calmness, did not react at all at this moment.

There was no expression on his face, and he didn't care about Byregan's provocation and confidence.

"Then don't blink, because the battle will be over in an instant."

Ulquiorra said.

At this moment, the air was filled with a tense and solemn atmosphere.

Everyone held their breath, as if even their heartbeats had stopped.

Ulquiorra's figure flashed before everyone's eyes, like a black lightning streaking through the night sky. His speed was so fast that people couldn't see his movements clearly.

In this brief moment, Bylergan's power of decay was torn apart by an invisible hand, creating a shocking hole.

That was the mark left by Ulquiorra, a perfect embodiment of his speed and strength.

Then, a loud noise shook the entire space.

The sound was like thunder, making people's ears tremble.

Bylergan's huge body was hit by a huge force and was hit hard like a kite with a broken string.

His body drew a long arc in the air, accompanied by broken walls and flying dust, which looked extremely tragic.

The scene was like the arrival of a disaster, which made people marvel.

Bylergan's body penetrated several walls in succession and finally stopped in a corner.

He lay in the ruins and couldn't get up for a while.

The crown on his skull had been broken, and the skull also cracked with shocking cracks.

His heart was full of disbelief and despair.

His originally confident power of decay seemed to have lost its effectiveness at this moment.

He couldn't believe that his power would be easily defeated by Ulquiorra at this moment.

His heart was full of doubts and confusion, and he didn't understand why such a result occurred.

At this time, Aizen Sosuke's voice sounded at the right time.

He supported his cheek with one hand, looked at Bylergan with a smile, and began to explain to him: "The power of decay is indeed very strong, Bylergan. However, any power has its limitations. Although your power of decay is strong, it takes a certain amount of time to work. Even a femtosecond is enough for Ulquiorra now."

Aizen Sosuke's words were full of confidence and calmness.

He continued: "In the face of a speed that is almost time stopping, the power of decay that you are proud of has not had time to work, and Ulquiorra has already broken through your defense. This is the perfect combination of speed and strength, and it is also the key to Ulquiorra's victory over you."

Hearing this, Bylergan finally understood the reason for his failure.

His original confidence vanished at this moment. He couldn't accept that he would be defeated by Ulquiorra, and he couldn't accept that his power of decay would be ineffective.

Losing to the devouring power of the black void was fine, but now even Ulquiorra's speed power exceeded his power of decay?

"Your power is indeed very strong, Bylergan."

Ulquiorra's voice was calm and indifferent.

There was no sympathy or pity in his words, because he was just stating a fact.

"But, in this world, nothing is absolutely invincible."

Ulquiorra continued.

"Except, Lord Aizen."

His words were full of respect and faith for Aizen Sosuke.

He knew that only Aizen Sosuke was truly invincible. Although his speed and strength were powerful, they seemed insignificant in front of Aizen Sosuke.

Aizen Sosuke smiled and nodded, as if he was very satisfied with Ulquiorra's admiration.

He continued, "The speed is so fast that time almost stops. In a sense, this is absolute power. Everyone will inevitably be as still as if in front of Ulquiorra. This is pure power."

Hearing this, everyone couldn't help but take a deep breath.

They didn't expect Ulquiorra to be able to obtain such a powerful power, and they didn't expect Aizen Sosuke to be able to control this power so easily.

What did he do to allow Ulquiorra to obtain such power?

What is that posture that surpasses the Reincarnation?

Has Ulquiorra surpassed the Arrancar and the Hollow?

Ulquiorra, who merged with the Soul King fragment, obtained this absolute speed power.

In addition, Ulquiorra's current super-speed regeneration is stronger than the period of the second stage of Reincarnation.

Even the brain and heart can be regenerated and restored instantly if they are destroyed.

There is no weakness or weakness in the literal sense.

"Absolute speed?"

Esdeath understood. No wonder even she couldn't see Ulquiorra's speed clearly.

It turned out to be this speed that was like a rule.

If it is a speed defined by physics, so fast that time almost stops, then the impact brought by Ulquiorra is enough to kill them.

Because even superluminal speed cannot almost stop time.

First of all, we need to understand the relativity and theoretical limit of the concept of "time stop".

In physics, time stopping is a purely hypothetical concept, because according to our current understanding of the universe, there is no object or force that can actually stop time.

However, in literature and anime, this concept is used to describe an extreme speed state that makes an object or creature almost stationary relative to an observer.

To understand the impact of speed on the perception of time.

According to the special theory of relativity, when an object moves at a speed close to the speed of light, the passage of time inside it slows down relative to a stationary observer.

This is called the time dilation effect.

However, even if an object moves at the speed of light, time does not stop completely, it just passes more slowly relative to a stationary observer.

To be fast enough to almost stop time, theoretically a speed close to the speed of light is required. However, according to existing physics theories, any object with mass cannot reach the speed of light, but can only get infinitely close.

This is because energy is required when an object is accelerated, and as the speed approaches the speed of light, the required energy tends to infinity, which is impossible to achieve in reality.

From a physics point of view, there is no speed that can be "fast enough to almost stop time" because this requires reaching or exceeding the speed of light, which is impossible.

Chapter 765: Battle

The duel between Ulquiorra and Esdeath is as dramatic and unpredictable as Wonder Woman facing the Flash and Hulk facing Quicksilver.

However, in this battle, even the strongest opponent cannot get any advantage from Ulquiorra.

After all, Esdeath can't hit Ulquiorra, and Ulquiorra can't hurt Esdeath.

Kenpachi Zaraki also seemed a little impatient at this moment.

He waved the Soul Blade in his hand, roared deafeningly, and rushed towards Ulquiorra.

"Kenpachi Zaraki..."

Aizen Sosuke whispered the name.

He still couldn't feel Kenpachi Zaraki's spiritual pressure, and he was more curious about the Soul Blade.

Could it be that the weapon of the legendary world of God?

However, Ulquiorra disappeared out of thin air like a ghost, and when he appeared again, he had appeared behind Kenpachi Zaraki and knocked him out with a heavy blow.

Ulquiorra did not give Kenpachi Zaraki any chance to breathe. He condensed a hollow flash mixed with the power of the Soul King. This hollow flash showed a green and black dual-color light, as if it could devour everything.

He fired this hollow flash without hesitation, razing Kenpachi Zaraki and the place where he was.

"Boom boom boom————"

The huge explosion shook the entire battlefield, and dust and gravel flew everywhere.

Everyone looked at this scene in amazement, unable to believe their eyes.

Kenpachi Zaraki was so vulnerable in front of Ulquiorra.

Aizen Sosuke stood aside, smiling.

He seemed to have expected all this. Although he also hoped to solve the problem quietly, the power of Esdeath and others was indeed too strong to be solved casually.

As the explosion gradually dissipated, Yami, Tosen Kaname and Ichimaru Gin also appeared one after another.

The three of them looked a little changed, but Yami was the most eye-catching.

He changed a lot at this time, with lines like hot lava all over his body, and his body size shrunk to normal size.

This change made him look more terrifying and dangerous.

Yami's ability was also greatly improved.

He could become stronger as his anger accumulated, increasing his spiritual pressure and the temperature of his anger.

His attacks could create scenes like hell and purgatory, and his large-scale attacks left people with nowhere to escape.

His flames were invisible anger, which did not have the properties of natural fire, but could burn everything, even non-flammable things.

Tosen Kaname and Ichimaru Gin didn't see any changes.

After all, there were examples before, such as Ukitake Jushiro who merged with the Soul King's Hand, Mimihaji-sama, and Matsumoto Rangiku who once had Soul King fragments in her body.

They didn't show any obvious changes, and Tosen Kaname and Ichimaru Gin naturally wouldn't have any either, at most their abilities were improved.

This also made Aizen Sosuke realize something special about the unknown substance.

There are such big changes for Hollows and humans, but not for Shinigami. Although Tosen Kaname and Ichimaru Gin have achieved breakthroughs in their spiritual pressure, it is just so-so in the eyes of Aizen Sosuke.

I just don't know how effective it is against the Quincies.

The current situation on the battlefield is that Ulquiorra can't do anything to Esdeath, and Esdeath can't do anything to him, but Esdeath is very excited. This is her first time to meet a speedster and she wants to play for a while.

Yami, Tosen Kaname and Ichimaru Gin are just helping.

Of course, Yami is still working hard. Tosen Kaname also found Kenpachi Zaraki and vowed to avenge the defeat in the previous battle. It's a pity that he doesn't know how much stronger Kenpachi Zaraki has become now.

Even if he has experienced the improvement of Hollowization and Soul King Fragments, for the current Kenpachi Zaraki, he is just a thing that can be killed in one blow.

Ichimaru Gin is naturally slacking off as usual. The appearance of the God of Destruction can be said to have given Ichimaru Gin hope, making him feel that it is entirely possible to deal with Aizen Sosuke.

So Ichimaru Gin didn't look for Esdeath. He didn't want to die yet, so he found Bylergan, who knew him well.

There was no way. Black Hollow looked like he was not easy to mess with, and Bylergan was seriously injured by Ulquiorra. Ichimaru Gin was a professional in picking up leaks.

Black Hollow faced Yami.

"Die!"

Yami roared, his voice exploded like thunder, shaking the air around him.

His anger broke out at this moment, forming an invisible and colorless flame, sweeping towards Black Hollow.

Black Hollow felt the heat of the flame, and his skin began to become hot, as if burned by a raging fire.

However, he did not retreat, but faced the flame more calmly.

So, Black Hollow slowly opened his hands, and a large number of black dust-sized "biting mouths" poured out from his hands and began to bite the invisible flame.

These "biting mouths" flew in the air, constantly devouring the flames and converting them into their own power.

Yami was shocked when he saw this.

He thought his anger was enough to turn Hei Xu into ashes in an instant, but he didn't expect that the opponent's devouring power was so strong.

Hei Xu smiled. His mouth that could bite everything could even devour Bylergan's decaying power that could decay everything, let alone anger?

He felt that his anger was constantly being consumed, while Hei Xu's devouring power seemed to be endless.

However, Yami did not give up. He continued to increase the output of his anger, trying to use stronger flames to fight against the devouring power of the Black Void.

But no matter how hard he tried, the flames could not break through the devouring mouth of the Black Void. On the contrary, as the flames were consumed, his strength was constantly weakening.

"Go, eat it."

The Black Void said to his mouth that bit everything.

These mouths were just like the mouths in the Hungry Corridor, and then they rushed towards Yami in an overwhelming manner.

Aizen noticed these mouths, or rather, he was most concerned about the Black Void.

Because the identity of the Black Void was unknown, Aizen naturally paid great attention to him without knowing the Black Void.

But now it seems that it's okay. Aizen also knew that there was a similar guy before this kind of mouth that bit everything.

Yami became more angry, and the temperature of his anger became higher, trying to burn the mouths that approached.

However, these mouths continued to fall one after another, and there were new ones after the ones that were burned in front. As long as the Black Void still had spiritual pressure, these mouths could be continuously generated, not to mention that the anger they devoured Yami could also be converted into spiritual pressure to feed back to the Black Void.

Seeing that the anger was constantly breaking through, these mouths were about to bite Yami.

At the critical moment, Ulquiorra took action.

Chapter 766: Mouth of the Abyss

Heixu was also caught off guard and sent flying by Ulquiorra.

Ulquiorra's speed was like lightning, so fast that it was almost impossible to catch him.

His figure passed before everyone's eyes, leaving behind afterimages, as if time had stopped at his feet.

His speed is not only fast, but also so fast that it is unimaginable.

However, just when he was about to attack again, Esdeath suddenly launched an attack on Sosuke Aizen.

"The Flash of the God of Destruction!"

With a tap of her finger, violent energy burst out instantly, like a blue beam of light, shooting straight into the sky.

Wherever this beam of light passed, everything was dyed an icy blue, and even the air seemed to be frozen.

The space was distorted and deformed by the impact of this energy, and the cold blue light shone in the sky, as if even the light of the sun was covered by it.

Shock waves swept away one after another, sweeping across the entire battlefield like a devastating hurricane.

This energy carries an extremely depressing aura, making the world tremble.

The rampaging energy shock waves were like sharp blades, easily tearing apart the void and creating spreading ripples.

Facing this energy, Aizen Sosuke's face changed slightly, and he could clearly feel the threat of death.

Even though he hadn't been hit yet, the terrifying energy had already stimulated the broken jade embedded in his flesh and blood on his chest.

Bengyu lit up under the stimulation of this energy, as if preparing for the coming crisis.

Ulquiorra's pupils shrank. Although his speed was so fast that time almost stopped, he still seemed powerless in the face of this terrifying energy.

He was able to divert Sosuke Aizen before the flash of the God of Destruction arrived, but he failed to do so.

His admiration for Lord Aizen made him choose to use his body as a shield to resist this terrible attack.

Lord Aizen is the supreme being in his heart, a belief that he is willing to do anything to protect.

Therefore, when he saw Master Aizen facing danger, his heart was filled with unspeakable anxiety and anger.

Ulquiorra felt that he might not be able to withstand the blow, but he still chose to stand up.

He did not rush towards the enemy blindly, but used all his spiritual pressure to condense a green and black virtual flash.

This was the attack of the thunder spear after he surpassed the second stage of returning to the sword, and it was also the only way he could resist this energy.

He understands that he must try his best to gain a chance for himself.

The two energies met in the air, and a violent collision broke out instantly.

The loud "boom, boom, boom" sound seemed to tear the entire sky apart.

The flashes of the Void Flash and the God of Destruction collided in the air, causing an endless hurricane.

The lightning and thunder below combined with the hurricane, turning the originally blue and clear sky into dark clouds.

The dark cloud was like a huge black curtain, covering the entire sky, plunging the entire battlefield into darkness.

Even the sun couldn't penetrate the dark clouds, and the whole world seemed to be swallowed up by the darkness.

However, the collision did not last long.

Soon, the dark clouds were torn apart by the flash of the God of Destruction, and the hurricane descended on the earth.

The strong wind whipped up dust into the sky, intertwined with the dark clouds, forming a chaotic scene.

Under the impact of this energy, the entire battlefield seemed to be leveled to the ground.

Both the mountains and the trees were turned into powder by this force.

The God of Destruction's flash overwhelmingly defeated Ulquiorra's false flash, and rushed straight towards Aizen.

Ulquiorra's expression changed greatly, but he did not flinch.

He stood in front of the God of Destruction's flash, using his own body to withstand the terrifying power.

He knew that he might not be able to withstand this blow, but he still chose to use his life to protect Lord Aizen.

"boom----"

With an earth-shattering explosion, Ulquiorra's figure disappeared into the explosion.

The powerful energy tore his body apart instantly and turned it into a bloody mist.

"Ulquiorra..."

Aizen Sosuke looked at the center of the explosion and frowned.

He knew that Ulquiorra did this to protect him, but he could not accept that he had become a burden to his men.

Esdeath felt bad.

Attack the enemy to save him, this is the method Esdeath came up with to deal with Ulquiorra's uncontrollable speed.

However, after Ulquiorra was actually hit as expected, Esdeath was not so satisfied.

She still prefers to be able to truly defeat her opponents in battle.

Instead of this way, it would be okay if Esdeath didn't feel like such a victory.

"Ulquiorra!"

Yami yelled when he saw Ulquiorra's miserable condition.

Yami's heart felt like it was being torn apart, and he couldn't accept this fact.

His eyes flashed with a crazy light that wanted to burn away all the injustice and pain in the world.

He ignored everything around him, including the Heixu who was staring at him coldly.

He roared, his voice roaring like a beast, full of endless grief and anger.

He rushed towards Esdeath, intending to pour out all his anger on this ruthless enemy.

However, just as he was about to approach Esdeath, a black figure suddenly appeared in front of him.

That was Heixu, his eyes flashed with indifference, as if he were looking at a creature as small as an ant.

"I'm so underestimated."

Heixu mocked coldly.

His voice was low and hoarse, like an echo coming from deep underground.

He recovered quickly after being knocked away, and his injury didn't seem to be a big deal to him.

Heixu's body suddenly underwent huge changes.

His body gradually became blurry and then disappeared into the air.

Immediately afterwards, a huge black mouth of nothingness appeared in front of Yami.

This mouth seems to grow out of space, without any other organs, only endless darkness and depth.

This is the true power gained after the Black Hollow Arrancar - Nakyu.

Unlike those dust-sized mouths that bite everything, this "mouth of the abyss" incarnated in his body can swallow everything and eat everything.

Neither matter nor energy can escape its devouring.

Its edges are blurred and it seems to merge with the space.

Yami was shocked by this huge mouth of nothingness.

He has never seen such terrifying power.

He felt as if his body was bound by an invisible force, unable to move.

Chapter 767 Aizen: Begins to show his true power

Yami was struggling, his hands clenched into fists and his muscles tense, trying to break free from the force that restrained him.

However, no matter how hard he tried, the force was like an iron hoop, tightly binding him in place, preventing him from moving.

The power of Heixu is raging around, and this power does not simply swallow everything.

It seems to have a life of its own, able to sense everything around it and then convert it into its own energy.

The huge mouth of nothingness is like an endless abyss, swallowing up everything around it, including Yami's powerful spiritual pressure and life force.

Yami could feel his life force draining away, and the panic in his heart gradually increased. However, in despair, he still did not give up resistance, roaring and trying to fight back.

However, his attack seemed so weak in front of the Mouth of Nothingness, like a mud cow entering the sea, disappearing into the darkness without causing even the slightest wave.

In the end, Yami also disappeared into the mouth of nothingness.

His final roar echoed in the darkness, then faded away. After devouring Yami, the mouth of nothingness slowly closed and then disappeared.

"It tastes good."

Heixu reappeared on the spot, and he licked his lips, as if he was savoring the taste of the Yami he had just devoured.

A satisfied smile appeared on his face, and then he turned his eyes to the other guys who were still fighting.

Ichimaru Gin stood next to Aizen Sosuke and looked at the battlefield with squinted eyes.

Ulquiorra and Yami have been defeated, and now only he and Tosen Kaname are still fighting.

However, judging from the current situation, it seems that they cannot sustain it for long.

"Lord Aizen, this is not good."

Ichimaru Gin said, with a hint of worry in his tone.

Aizen Sosuke nodded slightly and looked at the battlefield with deep eyes.

There was still a smile on his face, but there was a sharp glint in his eyes.

"Silver, there's no need to panic."

Aizen said calmly.

"We have anticipated this situation. The most important thing now is to deal with it calmly."

However, as soon as he finished speaking, bad news came from Dongxian Yao.

Kenpachi Zarakī killed Tosen Kaname with one strike. His increased power seemed so vulnerable in front of Kenpachi Zarakī.

Even if Zarakī Kenpachi hadn't wanted to play for a while, Tōsen would have died long ago.

"Did you even fail?"

Aizen frowned slightly, with a hint of regret in his tone.

Ichimaru Gin looked at Aizen's face.

"Lord Aizen, should we retreat?"

There was a hint of temptation in Ichimaru Gin's voice. Although he knew Aizen's character well, he couldn't help but make this suggestion.

Because he wanted to block Aizen's retreat in advance.

When Aizen heard this, a faint smile appeared on his lips, as if he didn't care about Ichimaru Gin's proposal.

From Soul Society to Hueco Mundo, every step of Aizen's retreat was for one goal - to study Bengyu's true power and wait for Bengyu to wake up.

Bengyu, this mysterious gem that contains infinite possibilities, has always been Aizen's pursuit. He firmly believes that only by mastering the power of Bengyu can he truly stand on the top of the world.

However, retreating from Hueco Mundo to the present world was a choice Aizen had to make.

Esdeath and others were stronger than he expected, and their power made him feel unprecedented pressure.

However, Aizen did not give up because of this. He was always looking for opportunities, waiting for the moment to counterattack.

At this moment, facing the siege of Zaraki Kenpachi and others, Aizen didn't feel the slightest panic in his heart.

He understood that there was no place for them to retreat.

Whether it is hell, the broken world, or the Spiritual King's Palace, they are not areas that they can easily set foot in.

Moreover, even if they can really retreat to those places, there is no guarantee that they can escape the pursuit of Esdeath and others.

"Silver, we have no place to retreat."

Aizen said slowly.

Ichimaru Gin was silent for a moment, then nodded.

He understood what Aizen meant and understood their current situation. They really had nowhere to retreat and could only face the enemy in front of them.

"So, what do we do next?"

Ichimaru Gin asked, a hint of anticipation and nervousness in his voice.

Aizen smiled slightly, his eyes shining with confidence.

He stretched out his palm and gently touched the Bengyu on his chest. The gem seemed to sense his thoughts and began to glow faintly.

"Next, it's time for us to show our true strength."

Aizen's voice echoed in the air, carrying an indescribable confidence and calmness.

Zaraki Kenpachi never knew what fear was.

He was tall and muscular. At this moment, he was holding the sword tightly, his muscles all over his body were tense, and a majestic momentum burst out from him, trying to tear apart everything around him.

Then he rampaged towards Aizen.

Facing Zaraki Kenpachi's attack, Aizen did not panic at all.

His figure flashed and appeared in front of Zaraki Kenpachi instantly like a ghost.

He waved his palm gently, as if he was playing an elegant piece of music, but that gentle movement contained enough power to shake the world.

"Clang!" With a loud noise, Aizen's Zanpakuto accurately caught Zaraki Kenpachi's sword.

The huge impact force exploded from the point where the two swords collided, as violent as a volcanic eruption.

The surrounding space seemed to be distorted by this force, and powerful air waves swept around like a strong wind.

The surrounding buildings collapsed instantly under the impact of this force and turned into ruins.

The rubble and dust flew in the air, forming a chaotic scene.

However, in this chaos, Aizen stood like a rock.

Aizen looked up at Kenpachi Zaraki, and a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

His voice was still calm and confident: "Kenpachi Zaraki, your strength has increased. Has it surpassed the limit of the god of death?"

Kenpachi Zaraki did not answer, he just snorted coldly.

He did not use too much force, because he was worried that if he went all out, he might hurt Aizen.

But now he is relieved, because he knows that Aizen has caught his sword, which is enough to prove Aizen's strength.

So, Kenpachi Zaraki retracted his sword and chopped it again with great force. This time, he used more strength, wanting to see where Aizen's limit was.

Aizen did not dodge, he swung his sword to block Kenpachi Zaraki's attack. This collision was more intense than the last time, and the shock waves swept away one after another, like a hurricane that destroyed the world.

This force bombarded the surface, as if it was going to overturn the whole world.

Chapter 768: Evolved Aizen

"Bang!" There was a deafening loud noise, like thunder exploding in the air. Under the impact of this majestic force, the ground collapsed and fractured layer by layer like fragile ice.

The billowing dust and smoke were like ocean waves rolled up by the strong wind, one wave higher than the other, spreading rapidly around.

This was not just a puff of smoke, but more like gunpowder smoke on a battlefield, foreshadowing the more intense battle to come.

In the smoke and dust, various fragments and stones flew everywhere like bullets, making a sharp whistling sound that made people shudder.

In the center of this chaos, Aizen's figure was wrapped in smoke and dust, and he was forced to retreat hundreds of meters before barely standing still.

His figure was looming in the smoke, but he was still as tall as a pine tree, like a pine tree standing in the storm, tough and unyielding.

He lightly patted the dust on his body, as if he was cleaning up debris on the battlefield.

Then, he raised his head and looked at Zaraki Kenpachi in the distance.

His eyes were full of admiration and expectation, as if he was appreciating a rare opponent.

"Nice power."

Aizen said calmly. Although his voice was calm, it carried an indescribable majesty.

"The evolution of Bengyu has begun."

He continued, a mysterious tone in his voice.

As he finished speaking, his spiritual pressure began to fluctuate rapidly.

This spiritual pressure is like waves in a strong wind, surging and constantly impacting the surrounding air.

Suddenly, a white substance secreted from the broken jade on his chest, wrapped around his body like filaments, and quickly covered his whole body.

This white substance exudes a faint light, like a sacred protective film.

As it covered him, Aizen's spiritual pressure gradually became calmer, as if he had been completely absorbed by this substance.

His figure was gradually completely wrapped by the white substance, leaving only a pair of shining eyes.

As the layer of white substance covered him, Aizen's spiritual pressure disappeared into the air like a gradually extinguishing flame.

However, this does not mean that he has lost all his power, but that his spiritual pressure is tightly wrapped by the mysterious white solid spiritual pressure on the surface of his body, like a tight seal, without leaking even a trace.

At this moment, Aizen seemed to have turned into a butterfly wrapped in a white chrysalis, waiting for the moment of transformation.

His face was still stern, but there was a trace of imperceptible expectation in his deep eyes.

"I want to thank you for the pressure you put on me."

Aizen's voice became low and hoarse, but it was full of magnetism, as if it could penetrate people's hearts.

His voice echoed in the empty battlefield, giving people an inexplicable sense of oppression.

He continued: "Only the pressure of the environment and the pressure of life can produce evolution. And you gave me this kind of pressure. Your attacks, your resistance, your anger... have all become the catalyst for my evolution."

Aizen began to talk about his thoughts and actions.

He believes that the power of Death is not infinite, but is limited by the strength of the soul.

When the strength of the soul reaches a certain level, the power of Death will no longer increase. This is the shackles of life, the limit that death cannot cross.

However, Aizen was unwilling to accept such a fate.

He longs for stronger power and breaks through the shackles of life.

So, he began to look for ways to break through, just to find the possibility of a breakthrough.

In the process, he discovered the secret of Bengyu.

Bengyu is a mysterious source of power with endless energy and potential. It can allow the power of Death to evolve and improve, and even break through the shackles of life.

Aizen was deeply attracted by Bengyu's power, and he knew he had found the key to a breakthrough.

So, he began to use Bengyu's power to evolve.

"Generally speaking, the Shinigami is affected by the strength of the soul. Once it reaches a certain level, it will no longer become stronger. Everyone has limits. This is the shackles of life."

Aizen said calmly.

"And the God of Death who has reached his limit must reorganize his soul if he wants to go further."

However, these words meant nothing to Zarakī Kenpachi.

He is a pure warrior who only believes in his own strength and sword.

He was too lazy to listen to Aizen's nonsense and directly swung the knife in his hand to strike at Aizen.

His sword was extremely powerful, as if it was going to split all obstacles in its way in half.

However, Aizen shook his head slightly, as if he didn't care about Zarakī Kenpachi's attack.

The Zanpakuto in his hand was just a horizontal movement, blocking Zarakī Kenpachi's sword like a "sky chasm".

Although Kenpachi Zarakī's sword was powerful, it was unable to break through Aizen's defense.

"It seems wrong to try to tell your thoughts and actions to a wild beast."

Aizen sighed softly, with an indescribable sadness in his voice.

He was not angry or angry because of Zaraki Kenpachi's attack, but instead became more calm and calm.

He knew that although Zaraki Kenpachi was powerful, he could not understand his thoughts and actions.

The gap between them is so big, it's like the sky and the earth.

"By becoming the God of Destruction, you reorganized your soul and gained the power to be close to God."

Aizen looked at Zaraki Kenpachi calmly, without a trace of fluctuation in his voice.

His words were like a sharp sword, piercing Zaraki Kenpachi's heart.

Kenpachi Zaraki only believes in his own strength and sword, while Aizen pursues a higher level of strength and realm.

This gap naturally formed a "chicken talking to the duck" scene.

"Stop talking so much. If you want to prove something, then chop me down!"

Kenpachi Zaraki roared, and then the skills he learned from Unohana Retsu were fully utilized at this moment.

His attack became more fierce and swift, and each knife attacked Aizen like a storm.

"Dang!!" The two swords collided in the air, making a deafening sound.

Aizen's body was shaken and flew backwards, while Kenpachi Zaraki took advantage of the situation and chopped at Aizen with one knife after another.

Aizen could only barely resist Kenpachi Zaraki's attack, and at the same time he was looking for an opportunity to counterattack.

However, Kenpachi Zaraki's attack was too fierce, and Aizen gradually felt powerless.

A trace of astonishment flashed in Aizen's eyes.

He originally thought that Kenpachi Zaraki had already used up all his strength, but now it seemed that the opponent still had a stronger power that had not been released.

An inexplicable sense of crisis surged in his heart, and an invisible hand was tightly squeezing his heart.

Although Aizen was still a Shinigami, his spiritual pressure, slashing, speed, defense, and recovery ability far exceeded his own before he merged with the Hogyoku.

Chapter 769: Rebirth from the cocoon

Aizen's current strength has far exceeded the captain level, and can even be on par with Captain-General Yamamoto.

However, facing an opponent like Kenpachi Zaraki, he still felt an unprecedented pressure.

Kenpachi Zarakī's eyes became more fierce, and he no longer had any reservations and launched an attack with all his strength.

He stepped on the ground, and a crack instantly appeared on the ground, and he appeared in front of Aizen like an arrow from a string.

He raised the Soul Blade high and slashed at Aizen's shoulder fiercely!

This attack gathered all the strength and skills of Kenpachi Zarakī.

He vented all his anger and dissatisfaction on this attack, letting Aizen taste his power.

In the face of the sudden attack, Aizen's eyes showed obvious panic for the first time.

His pupils shrank sharply, as if facing an unprecedented threat.

Kenpachi Zarakī was swinging the Soul Blade at this moment, with an irresistible gust of wind, slashing at him fiercely.

Aizen did not retreat, he knew that escaping at this moment would only put himself in deeper danger.

He gritted his teeth and used all his strength to block with his sword, trying to block the attack of Kenpachi Zarakī with his own blade.

However, he soon realized that this was almost an impossible task.

Kenpachi Zarakī's power was too strong. When his blade touched Aizen's blade, it made a deafening roar.

A huge force came from the blade, like a landslide and tsunami, violently impacting Aizen's body.

Aizen felt as if his arm was about to be broken by this force, and it was extremely painful.

Boom!!!

A loud noise echoed on the battlefield, as if even the surrounding air was torn apart by this force.

Aizen's body was shaken backwards by the huge force, and the ground behind him was washed down into a big pit under this blow.

Aizen struggled to stand firm, but his knees had already sunk halfway into the mud, and he had obviously suffered a lot of damage.

He looked down at his arm that was numb from the shock, and a sense of powerlessness rose in his heart. He had never thought that he would be so embarrassed under such an attack.

"This is the first time I have been so eager for power!"

Aizen muttered to himself, his voice full of desire for power.

At this moment, the Houyu on his chest seemed to have sensed the desire of its master and began to emit a faint glow.

Under the guidance of the Houyu, Aizen's soul began to reorganize.

A mysterious aura permeated around his body, as if something was gestating in his body.

As the brilliance of the Houyu became more and more prosperous, Aizen's aura became stronger and stronger. He could feel that his power was constantly increasing, as if he had broken through some kind of limit.

However, he did not relax his vigilance because of this.

He knew that Kenpachi Zarakī's attack would not stop because of this. He had to recover his strength as soon as possible, otherwise he would fall into a more dangerous situation.

Aizen struggled to kneel on one knee and supported his body with his Zanpakuto. His two arms were crushed by the heavy pressure of the Soul Blade's blade, and the white material on the surface had some cracks.

However, he did not retreat because of this. The aura he exuded became even stronger, as if an invisible force was supporting him.

Facing Aizen's increasingly strong momentum, Kenpachi Zarakī's face showed no strange color.

He knew that Aizen was undergoing some kind of change, and this change would probably make him stronger.

However, he was not afraid of this.

On the contrary, he was more looking forward to the contest with Aizen.

"Come on, let me see your strength! Let me see how strong you are!"

Kenpachi Zarakī waved the Soul Blade in his hand, his eyes full of expectation and fighting spirit.

His attacks were as intensive as a storm.

On Aizen's chest, the mysterious Collapsing Jade suddenly burst into a dazzling light.

The light was dazzling, as if it contained endless power. As the light spread, a majestic purple-black spiritual pressure burst out from Aizen's body, sweeping across the battlefield like a frenzy.

The surrounding ground was instantly blown away by the impact of this spiritual pressure, and broken stones and dust were thrown into the air, forming a chaotic scene.

However, Kenpachi Zarakī's blade was not hindered at all. He slashed straight at Aizen like thunder that broke through the air.

Clang!

A crisp sound of metal collision echoed on the battlefield.

Kenpachi Zarakī's blade slashed fiercely on the white substance on Aizen's neck.

The white substance seemed to be a tough defense layer, but under Kenpachi Zarakī's blade, it was finally broken.

Kenpachi Zarakī's blade continued to penetrate deeper, as if to cut off Aizen's spine.

However, at the moment when the blade was about to touch Aizen's spine, an invisible force suddenly burst out from Aizen's body, forming an invisible spiritual pressure wall.

The spiritual pressure wall was indestructible and firmly blocked Kenpachi Zarakī's blade outside.

At the same time, the spiritual pressure wall also emitted a powerful impact force, forcing Kenpachi Zarakī to retreat again and again.

Aizen's body shook slightly under the impact force, but soon returned to calm.

He raised his head and looked at Kenpachi Zarakī, a smug smile on his face.

"Thank you, Kenpachi Zarakī. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have reached this stage so quickly."

Aizen's tone was filled with arrogance and pride.

Although his words were humble, his eyes revealed a rebellious temperament.

As Aizen's words fell, an invisible wall of spiritual pressure appeared around his body.

The spiritual pressure wall was like a solid barrier, protecting Aizen firmly.

At the same time, the spiritual pressure wall continued to radiate powerful spiritual pressure outward, pushing away the surrounding hurricanes.

Aizen raised the Zanpakutō in his hand, and the blade flashed with cold light.

He swung the sword fiercely, and a bright sword light burst out from his hand.

The sword light was like a flash of lightning that cut through the night sky, rushing towards Kenpachi Zarakī with the momentum of destroying the world.

Kenpachi Zarakī sneered at this, and he swung his arm lightly and used his palm to swat away the sword pressure that was coming towards him like slapping a fly.

The straight sword pressure turned to the side at a right angle after encountering a setback, splitting everything along the way.

"It's amazing."

Aizen was also stunned when he saw this scene.

He didn't expect that after he was reborn from his cocoon, he surpassed the God of Death, but there was still a certain gap between him and Kenpachi Zarakī.

After becoming the God of Destruction, the reorganized soul seemed to be more powerful than expected.

However, it didn't matter. Aizen was confident that he would be able to surpass Kenpachi Zarakī next, because his soul had its limits.

Chapter 770: Constantly Refreshing Perspectives

"The God of Destruction also has its limits, Kenpachi Zarakī, and you are destined to be surpassed by me."

The voice of Aizen Sosuke echoed in the empty battlefield.

His eyes looked straight ahead, as if he could see through all obstacles and reach Kenpachi Zarakī's heart.

Kenpachi Zaraki stood opposite him. He did not answer Aizen's words, but just held the knife in his hand tightly, with a cold light flashing on the blade.

The two people's sight met in mid-air, instantly stimulating a strong airflow, and the wind whistled and raged on the battlefield, rolling up pieces of dust and gravel.

Their figures were looming in the wind, as if they had become two ethereal ghosts.

"Stop talking nonsense!"

Kenpachi Zaraki suddenly shouted, breaking the silence.

His figure flashed, and turned into a residual shadow and rushed towards Aizen.

His speed was extremely fast, leaving only a faint track in the air.

Aizen smiled slightly, with a hint of admiration in his eyes.

He did not move, but just waved the knife in his hand lightly, and a sword energy met the attack of Kenpachi Zaraki. The sword energy and the blade collided in the air, making a deafening roar.

The attacks of the two people kept colliding with each other, and each collision erupted with powerful energy fluctuations.

These fluctuations spread in the air, forming shock waves, rolling up all the dust and gravel around.

The entire battlefield turned into a huge vortex, attracting everyone's attention.

Others watching from a distance could no longer keep up with the speed of the two.

Their spiritual pressure was too huge, forming an invisible barrier that isolated the battlefield from the outside world.

People could only rely on the shock waves and turbulent winds that kept erupting in the air to search for the movement trajectory of the two.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom—————

Deafening roars continued to sound, and each collision was terrifying. Those unclear afterimages were scattered in the vast sky, forming a huge pattern.

The energy shock left by each collision created ripples in the air, tearing the whole world apart.

The nearby trees, rocks, and buildings were all destroyed into powder by this powerful force, and scattered in the air with the wind.

The wind became more and more violent, and lightning and thunder continued to sound in the sky.

The originally clear blue sky had now become overcast, swallowing up all the light.

The entire surface of the earth was shaking violently, as if it was about to crack.

However, at this moment, clang!!!

A crisp sound of swords touching suddenly sounded, and a thunder broke the silence of the sky.

This sound resounded throughout the sky and attracted everyone's attention.

I saw that Kenpachi Zarakī and Aizen suddenly separated and stood in a corner of the battlefield. They all exuded strong spiritual pressure fluctuations, which were about to swallow up the whole world.

And in the position between them, a huge energy fluctuation suddenly exploded, sweeping away all the dust all over the sky.

The sun shone again, and the sky became clear.

The originally dark sky has now become brighter and returned to daytime.

In this bright sunlight, the figures of Kenpachi Zarakī and Aizen have become clearer.

"It's a wonderful battle. I haven't felt this kind of evenly matched feeling for a long time."

Aizen stood in the air, looking at Kenpachi Zarakī in front of him, with excitement in his eyes.

His voice was full of joy. For him, this battle itself was a kind of enjoyment.

He was about to surpass Kenpachi Zarakī, the opponent who was now on par with him.

Once surpassed, the experience of being evenly matched and exciting would disappear, so he cherished every moment of the present.

He knew that such an opportunity would not come often, and he had to go all out without regrets.

"Really? Then I'll try harder to chop you down!"

Kenpachi Zarakī's voice echoed in the air like thunder, and his eyes were full of disdain.

In his opinion, Aizen's words were just a useless bluff.

However, Aizen didn't seem to buy it.

He shook his head gently, with a look of almost pity in his eyes.

He spoke slowly, his voice low and firm: "Kenpachi Zarakī, you have reached your current height by becoming the God of Destruction, and you do have the capital to be arrogant. However, that is only for ordinary people. For me, you are about to become a thing of the past. So, I advise you to put away your arrogance."

Kenpachi Zarakī then proved that what he said was true. He took a step forward and his figure disappeared instantly.

The next moment, Kenpachi Zarakī appeared beside Aizen, his blade was as sharp as lightning, without any signs or omen, he slashed directly at Aizen.

Aizen only had time to slightly turn sideways, but was still hit by the blade, and the whole person was thrown to the ground by the huge impact force like a cannonball.

However, Kenpachi Zarakī did not stop there.

He leaped and shot down rapidly like a meteor.

His figure drew a graceful arc in the air, and the long sword in his hand swung out again, slashing down again before Aizen landed.

The two swords intersected, and a sharp and piercing golden sound was heard immediately.

This sound was like the collapse of the sky and the crack of the earth, shaking the space and twisting it.

The whole space was trembling because of their collision, and it could be blown up at any time.

Boom!

There was another loud noise, and the two intersecting long swords bounced away.

Then, a circle of deep pits suddenly exploded on the ground below the two of them.

The bottomless cracks spread out like spider webs, extending to the distance.

At this moment, even if they lightly waved their swords, they had the powerful power to change the terrain.

Aizen landed steadily on the ground, his face was a little pale but his eyes were shining with excitement.

He took a deep breath, adjusted his state, and prepared to face more fierce attacks.

He knew that this battle had just begun, and the real contest was about to begin.

Zaraki Kenpachi fell from the sky, and his sword "Mountain Collapse and Earth Splitting Slash" was caught by Aizen.

However, the impact of this blow was like the waves of the sea, causing the ground to fluctuate.

Every collision of swords was accompanied by the roar of gas explosions, and the two figures fought fiercely between the sky and the ground.

Their speed and strength were amazing.

Every collision would burst out amazing energy, which exploded in the air to form gorgeous sparks.

To outsiders, this was a battle of equal strength, but Aizen didn't think so.

He was surprised to find that his evolution speed had increased again, and it was getting faster and faster.

His evolution speed was slowing down just now, which meant that the pressure from Kenpachi Zaraki was gradually decreasing.
