

Kryptonian 84

Chapter 84 Unbridled

That's the Demon Queen Morgana, the biggest enemy of the Angel Civilization.

In the known universe, except for the Death Song Academy of the Styx Civilization, the Lieyang Civilization dares not easily provoke the Demon Civilization, right?

So what did Angel Leng hear now?

Someone robbed the Demon Queen?

Such a crazy thing, could it be that she heard it wrong?

"The main god of the Kryptonian civilization seems to be from the unknown universe of the marginal space."

Saint Kesha smiled and said to her subordinates.

"The main god of the Kryptonian civilization in the marginal space robbed the Demon Queen?"

Except for Angel Yan, who had seen the Kryptonian civilization with the Sky King Hexi and roughly knew what the Kryptonian civilization was, the other angels didn't know the Kryptonian civilization, but after hearing that it was from the unknown universe of the marginal space, they understood it.

Saint Kesha was also very emotional. The object of the old goblin's transaction with Dark Suyin was unexpectedly so powerful that he could rob Morgana and destroy Morgana.

But now Morgana has appeared again, probably resurrected through dark data.

It's a pity. Is Morgana still Morgana after resurrection?

"Can such a powerful civilization be born in a place like the edge space?"

Angel Moi was puzzled.

The unknown universe in the edge space is not as convenient as the known universe. They can rely on supercomputers to calculate various resources and energy, and can easily reach any corner of the known universe through wormholes.

As for the edge space, it is simply opening a blind box. It is shrouded in the fog of war all year round, and there is no way to dispel it. You don't know whether the planet you arrive at will be the outpost of the super-god civilization.

Wormhole navigation technology is estimated to be unable to develop, but wormhole transportation technology is not affected.

As a scientific researcher, Angel Moi naturally finds it difficult to imagine how abnormal the super-god civilization in the edge space must be to become a super-god civilization under such unfavorable environmental factors, or that the super-god civilization born in that place is probably not a little bit crooked compared to the known universe.

"Being able to grow in such a harsh environment, the strength of Krypton civilization should not be underestimated."

Holy Kesha nodded and said.

Although she was surprised, existence is reasonable, so she would not be as entangled as Angel Moyi.

Such a super-god civilization that emerged from the marginal space has now come to the known universe. No one knows what their purpose is, and their strength is even more disturbing. Although Holy Kesha does not have this feeling, she is also more cautious.

"This small blue star has gathered the attention of so many top civilizations in the known universe and marginal space. Tens of thousands of years ago, the God of Death Carl had already built the Great Worm Bridge Station here. Did he calculate something through the big clock at that time and make a layout?"

Holy Kesha was thoughtful, and the result calculated by the Holy Knowledge Treasure House was very vague.

The gap between the Holy Knowledge Treasure House and the Big Clock is still too big. Even if the God of Death Carl does not have all the authority of the Big Clock and cannot use all the computing power and functions of the Big Clock, he can still suppress the Holy Knowledge Treasure House.

You must know that the Holy Knowledge Treasure House of the Angel Civilization is connected to countless celestial-level supercomputers and combat celestial bodies, which are the assets accumulated by the Angel Civilization over the years.

"However, it is also possible that I am missing some key information..."

Holy Kesha looked at the blue star.

She didn't know that the death god Carl targeted the Blue Star because of Pangu civilization, nor did she know what information the death god Carl's operation 20,000 years ago was based on. 20,000 years ago, Sun Wukong had not yet appeared, not to mention the large number of super genes that appeared now.

"Yan, you have seen people from Krypton civilization, what do you think?"

Saint Kesha asked Angel Yan. Although the old goblin also passed Luther's information to her, Saint Kesha intended to listen to Angel Yan's opinion.

"Yan, when have you seen people from Krypton civilization?"

Angel Leng asked curiously. She didn't know that such a thing had happened?

"I met it when I came to Earth before."

Angel Yan said.

"I think people from Krypton civilization may need guidance."

Then Angel Yan said to Saint Kesha.

"Need guidance?"

Saint Kesha didn't expect Angel Yan to come to such a conclusion.

"Why?"

She asked with interest. The old goblin just said that Krypton civilization was probably not easy to mess with, and the main god of Krypton civilization was very handsome. After all, the old goblin was a pure face control.

"If we don't guide them, there is a high probability that a new war will occur in the known universe."

Angel Yan said quickly.

The Kryptonian civilization she saw at the beginning was not bad, but a little too straightforward.

Now after hearing Holy Kesha say that the Lord of Kryptonian civilization robbed the Demon Queen, Angel Yan felt that Kryptonian civilization was a little too unscrupulous.

"Will it trigger a new war..."

Holy Kesha naturally knew this problem and realized it earlier than Angel Yan. The Holy Knowledge Treasury had calculated this possibility, and it was very likely.

Judging from the performance of the Lord of Krypton, they don't care about the power of the super-god civilization in the known universe at all.

In Holy Kesha's opinion, the Lord of Krypton's behavior of looking for Morgana might be an experiment.

Testing their position in the food chain of the known universe, then, the Demon Queen was sunk by one blow, so it is estimated that the Kryptonian civilization will not have a high evaluation of the super-god civilization of the known universe.

The Demon Queen is so weak, and the Angel Civilization, which has been fighting with the Demon Queen for so many years, will not be that strong even if it is strong.

This is of course a wrong perception. It can be said that Morgana has lowered the strength of the known universe by her own strength.

"Morgana is really disappointing and ridiculous in all aspects."

Holy Kesha thought.

Once the Kryptonian civilization has such a wrong perception, it is self-evident what they will do next.

The better one is to occupy a place and declare it as the territory of the Kryptonian civilization.

The worse one is to think that he is invincible and attack major civilizations unscrupulously.

Holy Kesha is naturally not afraid. She swept across and suppressed the entire known universe. What she is least afraid of is various challenges. Even if the main god of the Kryptonian civilization can destroy Morgana, it is not necessarily stronger than herself.

But this behavior of the other party will definitely lead to a series of problems in the known universe.

"Let's respect the opinion of the Earth Super Seminary first. As for the Kryptonian civilization, Yan, do you think they have left the Chihu star system?"

Saint Kesha asked the angel Yan.

She planned to find the Kryptonian civilization and then talk to their gods.
