

Kryptonian 91

Chapter 91: Sit in the Well and See the Sky

Instead of the stereotyped dark plane, super genes, supercomputers and other technologies.

But if the Kryptonian civilization is also a super god civilization born under the influence of Shenhe Star Network and Super Seminary, then what is their purpose?

Why didn't they appear before and have been hiding themselves, why did they suddenly appear now?

"If the Kryptonian civilization is really a super god civilization born under the influence of the Super Seminary, there should be information about them in the Super Seminary's data, right, Lianfeng?"

Dukao then looked at Lianfeng.

"Sorry, sir, I can't find any information about the Kryptonian civilization in the database."

Lianfeng replied quickly.

"Is there no information about them in the Super Seminary's database?"

Dukao was a little unbelievable. Even the angel civilization has information records, but this Kryptonian civilization that can make the Holy Kesha retreat can't be found at all?

Is the Kryptonian civilization too special?

No, it is also possible that they changed their name?

Just like the Tiandao civilization became the Lieyang civilization.

"It's a troubled time. First, the Taotie civilization invaded Blue Star on a large scale. Then the Neon broke out the demon gene virus, and the demon civilization also invaded. Now the angel civilization is chasing the demons, and they have encountered a Kryptonian civilization of unknown origin..."

Dukao was very troubled. He didn't expect that such a small Chiwu star system could gather so many exaggerated forces.

There are three super god civilizations alone. If you count the forces behind them, such as the Lieyang civilization represented by Dilena and the Styx civilization represented by the Taotie civilization, that's five super god civilizations.

Damn, how can Blue Star gather so many super god civilizations?

"They all came for the super genes of the Super God Academy!"

Dukao judged this point. After all, the most valuable things in the entire Blue Star are these things. It can't be said that the Kryptonian civilization came just for the land of Blue Star, right?

A place without any resources can attract a super god civilization?

What a joke.

"Anyway, the Blue Star and Chiwu star systems are too small to withstand the tossing of these great gods."

The representative of the official high-level of the Hua Dynasty said this, and then looked at Dukao.

"The super soldiers of the Xiongbinglian have not grown up yet. We are not their opponents. We can only protect ourselves."

Dukao shook his head and said.

The gap between civilizations is not so easy to close.

It is already a good thing that they can persist in not being invaded.

"Next, I will let them continue to deal with the invading demons, so that they can also get the best training."

Dukao said.

"I know."

The high-level officials of the Hua Dynasty knew that they could defend the Hua Dynasty now because of the credit of the Xiongbinglian.

If ordinary troops deal with those demons, the casualties will be too great.

But they don't know that the growth of super gene warriors is not enough to fight, but also requires learning.

If it was the German Star Spear, the No Star Blade, or other super genes with limited potential or combat types, it would be fine. The problem is that the two most promising super genes, the Spacetime Rose and the Galaxy Power, are currently being thrown into battle with demons, with no intention of letting them learn and grow.

In this case, even if another ten thousand years pass, they will not be able to grow up.

"Fortunately, I didn't let my Qilin repeat the same mistake."

Luther listened to the meeting completely, and then said with emotion.

He knew Qilin's character very well. If she awakened her super gene, she would definitely devote herself to serving the motherland. Now she is just an ordinary person, so she is so active and hardworking, so Luther will not let her awaken her super gene.

At the same time, he did not intend to let Qilin know his true identity, so as to prevent Qilin from mixing some impurities such as interests with him for the sake of Blue Star and affecting their relationship.

Anyway, Luther can ensure that Qilin and her parents are safe and sound.

Besides, the loss of a sniper will not affect their war, and it can also stimulate their potential, so why not?

After Dukao finished the meeting, he actually held a small meeting with Lianfeng.

"Do you think we can use Ge Xiaolun and others to attract Kryptonian civilization?"

Dukao's words were shocking, which made Lianfeng's eyes widen.

"General Du, what do you want to do?"

Lianfeng said in disbelief.

"The emergence of angel civilization and demon civilization has caused the situation to get out of control..."

Dukao said with a grim face.

"It was not time for us to awaken the super gene, but because of the invasion of Taotie civilization, we had to awaken the super gene. The current Blue Star does not give them the time to awaken and the environment to tap their potential, not to mention that there are now demon civilizations, angel civilizations and Kryptonian civilizations."

Dukao felt under great pressure. From the perspective of the original plot, Dukao did not have any conspiracy theories. After all, it was not reasonable for him to want to attract angels to join. When Taotie civilization invaded, he asked Dilena to come to Blue Star to activate the super gene to fight against Taotie civilization.

The angel came to Blue Star purely because he found traces of Morgana.

That's why Dukao and the others were caught off guard in the original plot. In addition, they were narrow-minded and didn't know the gap between the Angel Civilization and the Denor Civilization. They thought that the Denor Civilization had mastered the three major god-making projects and was the most advanced civilization.

At least the technology gap is not big, but he doesn't know that the technology of the known universe has been updated and iterated to a point that he can't understand and imagine.

This led to the so-called war maniac being solved by a god-killing bullet, but Morgana also complained that Dukao died like a game, so easily killed.

Naturally, it is not ruled out that Dukao will have a clone to die in his place like Ajie, or be resurrected through a clone.

"But we don't know the situation of Krypton civilization, General, is this too risky..."

Lianfeng already knew Dukao's idea, which is to use the Galaxy Power and other super genes to attract Krypton civilization to enter and help them.

Just like the Lieyang civilization that provided a lot of resources and helped activate super genes.

"Krypton civilization, at least it should be more trustworthy than Lieyang civilization, right?"

Dukao said calmly.

Lieyang civilization provided a lot of resources for training super soldiers and the support of a main god. Their purpose is self-evident, but Dukao did not want Lieyang civilization to get the Galaxy Power.

The demon civilization is notorious, and it is even more impossible to cooperate with the demon civilization. The angel civilization is too powerful and too domineering, which is not good for Blue Star and Super Gene.

Krypton civilization can compete with the angel civilization, and they suddenly appear now, so they must have some ideas.
