

Kryptonian 94

Chapter 94 The King is Unreasonable

The God of Death, Carl, looked helplessly at the disappearing projection and Snow.

This was the first time... Fortunately, he had always been cautious and did not leave the Death Song Academy to discuss it, otherwise he would not have been erased.

"Void energy strike? Void energy information and reaction cannot be detected..."

The God of Death, Karl, began to detect various situations of Luther's actions, and at the same time resurrected the erased Snow.

Fortunately, Snow has a dark data backup, plus the genes and dark matter left in advance. Although the resurrected Snow is no longer the previous Snow, he is still Snow.

Snow himself would not feel that such a resurrection would no longer be him.

The resurrected Snow was still a little frightened. It was resurrected by the God of Death, Carl, using the dark data of the previous Snow. The previous Snow had always been connected to the Death Song Academy, so its dark data was also updated to the last moment.

So he knew what it felt like to be destroyed.

"The power of killing gods?"

By combining Snow's dark data, Death God Karl knew what power Luther used to destroy them at that time.

The power of killing gods!

That is anti-dark matter energy.

This is an energy that is more advanced than stellar energy and dark energy. Before the void energy comes out, the God-killing power is the most advanced energy that gods and super warriors can master!

"A war-god-level super gene, a god-killing super gene?"

The God of Death, Karl, breathed a sigh of relief. Through this, he could deduce the type of Luther's super gene and then conduct targeted research.

It's just that the power of killing gods is really unparalleled in terms of destructive power. It is very difficult to restrain the impact on super genes and the physical destructive ability, unless the god of death, Carl, is equipped with a void warrior.

After all, it is not like stellar energy, which requires time to start, nor is it like dark energy, which completely depends on the amount and intensity of driving dark energy.

"It's also possible that the void engine is hidden..."

The God of Death, Karl, was not careless and carefully analyzed all of Luther's possibilities.

Luther doesn't seem to need to use all his strength to deal with Snow. That would be too underestimated for a king.

"Oh my god, this god-king of the Kryptonian civilization is too domineering!"

Snow had a problem with Luther, mainly due to fear.

Carl, the god of death, glanced at him.

"Well, it's really hard for him to communicate."

He has always had a headache that Holy Kesha is very overbearing in prohibiting his behavior of blowing up black holes, but now there is no harm without comparison. Death God Karl feels that Holy Kesha is not very domineering in fact?

Luther seems very outrageous. He has only been in the known universe for a short time, and he has already killed a lot of super soldiers and gods. Even Morgana, a king-level existence, died once.

Although it is not that Morgana has never died. Holy Kesha has killed her several times, and Hexi's star has also chased her for countless light years. However, Morgana has been resurrected by her own dark data backup. .

This was the first time that Morgana was resurrected by his own hands, which made the God of Death, Karl, feel different, as if she was sad.

But he is already a phantom, and this feeling of paradox does not remain much.

After being resurrected, Morgana was still very energetic, cursing and cursing, which quickly dispelled the specious feeling of Death Karl.

"Hahahaha, Karl, I heard that your grandson was killed by that guy Luther?"

Then Morgana's dark communication came.

"It wasn't me who was killed, it was Snow who was killed."

Carl, the God of Death, replied gently.

"Tch, it turns out you weren't killed."

Morgana complained that she thought they were both from the same world.

"If you want me to experience the same feeling as you, you don't have to do this, Liang Bing."

Death Carl said.

"Shut up, you told me to call me Queen Morgana!"

Morgana ignites at a moment's notice, explodes as soon as she burns, and curses.

But she stopped after scolding for a few minutes. After all, she called mainly about Luther.

Like Holy Kesa, she wants to understand the purpose of Luther and the Kryptonian civilization.

The current situation is very complicated. Demons are raging on the Blue Star. Only the people of Earth are fighting back. The counterattacks of the Super Seminary, Deno Civilization and Super Soldiers are not taken lightly by Morgana.

Maybe they have a bright future, but for now, the devil civilization and the gluttonous civilization have the final say.

The problem is that now there is an additional Kryptonian civilization, and the angel civilization is also isolated.

As a king who has personally experienced being destroyed by Luther, Morgana knows how terrifying Luther is. Even if she now has the bonus of Demon No. 1, she does not want to provoke Luther.

"His Majesty the God King is not so easy to communicate with."

The god of death, Carl, faced Morgana's inquiry and said to her.

"Nonsense, why should I know that he is not easy to communicate with?"

Morgana felt that Karl, the God of Death, had said nonsense.

"I mean, he's not easy to communicate with, so don't worry, Ms. Morgana, if he wants to attack you, he won't choose to communicate."

Death God Carl shook his head and said.

"You mean he's not touching me now, just because he's too lazy to care about me?"

Naturally, Morgana was not an elder who had lived for such a long time in vain, and she immediately understood what the God of Death, Carl, meant.

"His Majesty the God King prefers to speak with force rather than words, which is in line with his status as a God of War super gene."

Death Carl said.

"Damn, I've been worrying about the queen for so long in vain!"

Morgana thought of Luther's insistence on what he said, and he would not negotiate with her at all, and said that he would destroy it if he said so, and she said speechlessly.

"You were misled because you were too scared. After all, he killed you so casually."

Death Karl explained.

"I am not afraid, Queen!"

Morgana said loudly with bluffing.

"Yes, Ms. Morgana."

Death Karl followed suit.

Of course, this was just his judgment. Who knows whether Luther will do anything unexpected.

No one can restrict a true king.

Death Karl finally knew the difference between Holy Kesha and God King Luther. Holy Kesha can be restricted, reasoned with, and used.

God King Luther does whatever he wants. He talks to you when he wants to talk, and he kills you when he doesn't want to talk.

He is moody and hard to guess. Death Karl feels that he can't see the situation of the known universe clearly now.

"God King Luther is too variable. If Holy Kesha goes offline, what will God King Luther do?"

Death God Carl realized the danger of Luther.

Even the possibility of the future calculated by the big clock is not optimistic.

However, Death God Carl still did not waver in his plan to destroy Holy Kesha. Holy Kesha is still there, and the possibility of the opening of the Void Age is too low. If Holy Kesha goes offline, it is possible that the Void Age will open anyway!
